IN EXTRA SESSION.

The Second Legislature for the Consideration of Appropriation Bills.

THE HOUSE—FIFTY SECOND DAY.

(AFTERNOON SESSION)

Immediately upon order being called, it was announced that there was a message from the Governor and Secretary Hawes delivered the same to the Speaker. On being read, it was a veto of the Kona Orphanage item of $1,000 in Senate Bill 10 [Six Months Current Account Bill]. His objections are as follows: "It is generally understood that the Kona Orphanage is a school. The provision of the bill in relation to this item, in requiring a quarterly statement of the number of pupils in the Kona Orphanage to be forwarded to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, recognizes the orphanage as a school. It is not a government school nor is it under the exclusive or any control of the government; it is clear therefore that, as a private school, it is excluded from government assistance by the limitations of legislative power set forth in the Organic Act, Section 55, as follows: "Nor shall any public money be appropriated for the support or benefit of any sectarian, denominational or private school, or any school not under the exclusive control of the government."

As soon as read, Harris moved to sustain the Governor's veto, but the Chair ruled him out, saying that it must first be spread on the journal. Harris said that the reading of the message was as good as such, and again moved to sustain, which was done by a vote of 19 to 4, the latter being Fernandez, Kauhi, Paele and Wright. Wright moved reconsideration and failed.

Senate Bill 3 [Eighteen Months Salary Bill] came up and was considered item by item.

Everything went smoothly till it came to the Department of the Attorney General when the item of "salary of Assistant to Attorney General, $3,600" was struck out. On motion of Keliinoi, "salary of Deputy Jailor, Oahu Prison, $2,250" was inserted, and the "pay of Jailors and Guards of Prisoners" was increased, on Vida's motion, from $20,000 to $26,730.

The "Territorial Detectives' Service, $8,400" was, also on motion of Vida, apportioned as follows: Oahu, $4,200; Hawaii, $2,100; Maui, $1,050, and Kauai, $1,050 This, he said, was made to conform to the six months bill.

Under the "Treasury Department," the "salary of Registrar of Public Accounts" was, on Harris' motion, raised to $4,500 from $4,050, to conform to the increase in the six months bill. Keliinoi moved to raise the "salary of Deputy Registrar of Public Accounts and Bookkeeper" from $3,150 to $4,050, but failed. And the "salary of Corporation Clerk" was, on motion of Harris, reduced to $1,800 from $2,250. Necessary amendments were made to the items pertaining to the Torrens Act, to make it read "Land Registration Court" or "Act," wherever it may appear proper instead of Torrens Act.

At this point, Vida said that when the County Act should go into effect the work of officials will be reduced and suggested that a 20 percent reduction should be made all around. Kalama moved to raise the "salary of Civil Engineer under Land Registration Act" from $2,250 to $3,000 and lost, but that of the stenographer, on motion of Harris, got $3,000 instead of $2,350. Harris also moved to raise the "salary for Deputy Insurance Commissioner" from $2,700 to $3,150, but failed, he

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The American, like the English public, has never yet learned to mind its own business. It is forever meddling with the purely domestic affairs of foreign countries.—Advertiser.

"That's what we thought."

There is a kind of "don't-care-much" streak in our present disposition in regard to the prospective resignation of Superintendent Cooper a few months hence for the purpose of letting Marston Campbell into his boots. Either way it means more votes on our side.

The Young Hotel is employing white help Yesterday it received a consignment of bellboys, chambermaids and elevator boys from the Coast.—Advertiser.

They ought to present their cards to the Assistant Superintendent of Public Works. He recently came from the same place and in a kindred way, from all accounts.

John Barrett made himself popular in Siam by standing in with the American, British and French missions. He is an exceedingly meddlesome and autocratic piece of flesh, however, a fact well known in the Orient and which was the reason Japan turned him down. If he does not wind up in a nest of enraged and excited hornets in Argentina it will be more than President Roosevelt has any reason to expect.

Unless appearances woefully deceive, Senator Aoni wilfully misunderstands those members of the conference committee who fight in and out of season against the elimination of the word "County" from the revenue bills. County government is demanded by nine out of every ten men in these Islands, and county government they intend to have and will have. The bills rightly refer to counties as a fact, and they should also tie up every dollar they carry should county government fail on January 4 next, to remain tied up until the system is allowed to go into effect. If the law, or any part of the law, is illegal there is a way to remedy it A majority of the Legislature would be willing to tackle the job and that majority has the people behind it.

Now that the bouquets have been freely and fully passed around in the Cooper case, let's get down to business. As Cooper has received the endorsement of everybody from Governor Dole to George Carter, we insist that he remain in the office to the end of the period. Everybody, except most of the people, wants him to hold the place and we hope he will start out as if he had everything to do and little time to do it in.

An item for the salary of the Assistant Superintendent of Public Works reads in the Eighteen Months Salary Bill as "Supervising Engineer." It passed yesterday without being noticed when the bill was being considered, but was later on seen to be intended for the one and the same position, whose present incumbent is very unpopular with the House. The House would do well to take notice of it when it should turn up again on third reading.

When Grert Britain and the United States (the latter since March 4, 1896) have not troubles of their own they go out looking for it, their victims usually being the small and defenseless nations of the earth. The United States in this Kichenoff affair has run up against something she was not looking for, however. When Roosevelt presents his "righteous indignation" protest to Russia, the Czar is apt to remark: 'Uncle Samuel, you are a blankety blank good fellow; but just straighten out that burning affair at Wilmington, Del., and the triple lynching at Gainesville, Ga., which occurred in this moon, and I will talk business with you in regard to the Jews. See?"

The native Hawaiian was a Royalist in the past, is one at present and will be one until Mother Earth claims the last of his present generation. Born with him, the principle will stay with him, and nothing can erase or modify it. The principle, however, does not figure as a potent political factor to the extreme apparently feared by some of our friends, for the reason that the enforced conditions of the new era have brought other tools to work with. Royalistic impulses will remain as a glowing sentiment and a reserved force, but only to be used when forced out by the oppression of the sugar planters and the "missionary" Republicans of these Islands.

We are surprised and pained at the inconsistency of the Advertiser. As a rule it ardently supports its kith, but this morning unceremoniously Tillmanizes (pitchforks) "Missionary" George Davis. How ungrateful the world is! Think of how Judge Davis has fought, bled and died for the Advertiser crowd! Think of the years of toil by day and anxious thoughts by night in their behalf! And, now, simply because Judge Davis wants to imprison a lot of Porto Rican women without fair trial or due process of law, he is jumped upon and abused. Ungrateful Advertiser! Shame on you!

With the withdrawal—or rather the announcement that he will not run—of Mr Cleveland from the Presidential race, and practical endorsement of Mr Hearst by Mr Bryan, the Democratic candidate for the White House is perhaps plainly in sight. And with the labor vote, the Cleveland vote and the Bryan support consolidated the chances of Mr Hearst would seem to be several per cent above par. Then where will D[illegible] and our county government obstructors be? Echo answers—"Where?"

LITTLE TRICK OF THE PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, June 12:

A little trick of the President's during his "swing around the circle" was to give to the Associated Press representative accompanying him type-written copies of his address to be delivered at any given point, to be sent out broadcast over the country as the speech he delivered there. That speech, as sent out, was carefully built and edited. It was not the speech he delivered, however, by a long shot. Mr Roosevelt said many things in his speeches that did not reach the people of the country, and things he did not want the country at large to hear. He was caught at his little game by the Butte, Montana, Miner. That paper sent a stenographer to hear Mr Roosevelt and took his speech down verbatim, and it differed materially from the type-written copy sent to that office early in the evening. He said many things of a radical nature, and they were things he would not want the business interests of the country to get hold of, for fear that there would not be the same unanimity in endorsing him for nomination as there seems to have been lately. If this isn't saying things on the stump that he does not say off of it, what would you call it? If this isn't approaching the game of the fakir who sells soap from the tail gate of a wagon, name it? That sort of work has neither the color nor the odor of statesmanship. It is the mere trick of a politicastro. If this be lese majeste, make the most of it.

Since the return of the President to his little cheese-box office he has had several interviews with his Postmaster General and he has told him to "get off the lid" and let the stink come out. The latter is going to obey him by getting out of town and allowing his subordinates to stand the stench. It is well known that Mr Payne suffers with acute indigestion and his stomach is not strong enough to stand this thing any longer. Those of us who are compelled to live in close proximity to the rottenness and corruption emanating from the Postoffice Department do not blame him. The investigation goes "bravely on," so it is said, but it is remarked here that after all the replies to Mr Tulloch's charges are boiled down to the last analysis, the only way in which they have refuted anything he has charged has been by calling him "another."

It is a noteworthy fact to be borne in mind that all the replies to Mr Tulloch's charges have been given to the public with the exception of the reply of Mr Britow, the Assistant Postmaster General. The reason, it is believed here, is because Mr Britow has corroborated Mr Tulloch's charges in almost every important particular. It will take a democratic spade to get to the bottom of this muck heap.

IN EXTRA SESSION.

The Second Legislature for the Consideration of Appropriation Bills.

THE SENATE—FIFTY THIRD DAY.

After the usual preliminaries, the Governor's veto message on the Kona Orphanage item was received and read. On motion of Dickey, it was ordered spread on the journal and the item reconsidered. Dickey again moved to postpone consideration to Monday, but soon withdrew it.

On motion of Isenberg, the veto was sustained by a vote of 11 ayes.

A communication from the Attorney General was read, relating to appropriating compensation in the Osaka Mankichi case, the same as in the House. Referred to Ways and Means.

A communication from the House was then read that the House had concurred in Senate amendments made to House Bill 6 and begs that the former communication on the subject be returned. On motion of Dickey, the conference committee already appointed on this bill was discharged.

Adjourned at 10:23 o'clock.

THE HOUSE—FIFTY THIRD DAY.

Disposing of the regular routine business in the usual manner, the Vice Speaker presiding, a letter from the Attorney General was read asking for an appropriation of $1,000 to pay the attorney in the Osaka Mankichi case, which will enable him "to close this matter at a total cost to the Territory of only $1,500, an insignificant sum compared with the result obtained," the sum now asked being agreed upon immediately he took office, "in accordance with arrangements made by the previous administration." On motion of Kaniho, it was ordered spread upon the journal.

Kealawa presented a resolution that the Sergeant-at-Arms be instructed to bring in absent members and, if need be, arrest them. Ruled out of order.

House Bill 7, to compensate E P Dole in the Osaka Mankichi case, was taken up on second reading. After being read through, Kaniho asked if any assurance that Dole did the work on the request of the Territory, and Andrade assured him that it was so, then, on suspension of the rules, the bill passed second reading.

House Bill 8, to pay travelling expenses of the band for six months, was also taken up on second reading and passed after suspension of the rules.

The Senate Bill 9 [Eighteen Months Current Expense Account] was taken up on third reading. After being read through, Puiss moved to insert an item of $8,000 under the Judiciary for translating the laws from English into Hawaiian, Greenwell amended it to $6,000, but the $8,000 was put and carried.

Kalilinoi moved to increase the item of "support of Lahainaluna" from $7,500 to $12,000. He said the title to the land was perfect now, the Hawaiian Board having conveyed it to the Board of Education. Much discussion was aroused over this item, Lewis, Pali and Kaniho joining, the latter moving to pass as in the bill.

Harris called attention that the 18 months salary bill appropriates a total of $1,074,457 and the 18 months current account $1,455,335, making a total of $2,529,792. The estimated revenue of the Territory is $1,000,000, and here we are appropriating more.

Kalama said that the money is derived from all the current receipts of the general revenue. If no money, the figures can remain as they are. Then Greenwell, speaking in Hawaiian, said it was useless to appropriate money when there was nothing in sight.

Keliinoi said he was not a Lahainaluna graduate, but there were 10 or 12 in this House who received education there. He had feelings for this institution, where the poor may be educated. It is the highest institution of learning of the Hawaiians in this Territory. At present there are 40 scholars, but the intention is to make the support sufficient for 60. Paele believed in creating a university. Many others spoke in support of the item, and was finally disposed of in passing it by a vote of 18 to 5.

Vida moved to insert an item for subsidy to periodical called the Paradise of the Pacific, provided, however, that said monthly periodical distribute free of cost to the Territory 6,000 copies per month at St Louis and 750 copies per month to different libraries and other public institutions as may be selected by the Secretary of the Territory, $3,750." Greenwell raised a point of order that this was the same item refused yesterday and can only be reconsidered. Ruled that point not well taken, this being the third reading, yesterday being on second reading. Many spoke against it, and while being discussed with Greenwell on the floor, Kaniho moved a recess. After Greenwell had finished speaking, the motion was put by the Speaker and recess taken at noon.

Loan Act Items.

The following items in the Loan Act have been agreed upon by the conference committee;

Hilo wharf, instead of Honokaa, $20,000; Armory, Honolulu, $20,000; Road, Nahiku to Kailua, $40,000; Road, Paehi to Kailua, $13,000; High Lift pump, $23,000; School street extension from Liliha street to Kamehameha IV road at Markham lane; Kauai road machinery, $6000; road, Nawiliwili landing to Lihue, $10,700; road Kolos, $6,000.

Governor Dole yesterday tossed the following bouquet over to Superintendent Cooper:

Executive Chamber, Territory of Hawaii,

Hon H E Cooper, Superintendent of Public Works, Territory of Hawaii.

Sir: It is with great satisfaction that I have received your letter of today requesting permission to withdraw your letter of resignation. I cheerfully grant your request, for your resignation was received by me with sincere regret.

I have felt that your performance of the duties of the Department of Public Works during the short time which has elapsed since your appointment has fully justified my selection of yourself for that position; and with the extensive public improvements that are planned by the Government and which are vitally necessary to the public welfare, and with the complications which must arise in the near future in the carrying into effect of the County Act, I am confident that your continuance in the office is of great importance to the public interests.

I congratulate you upon the endorsement you have received from the Legislature.

Very Respectfully,
SANFORD B DOLE.

IN EXTRA SESSION.

The Second Legislature for the Consideration of Appropriation Bills.

THE HOUSE—FIFTY-THIRD DAY.

(AFTERNOON SESSION)

On order being called by the Speaker, the first matter taken up was the Vida amendment relative to a subsidy to the Paradise of the Pacific. The Speaker called attention that the Organic Act says that no subsidies be granted, upon which Greenwell moved to indefinitely postpone. On being informed by Wright that the introducer and seconder of the motion were attending other public business, Greenwell withdrew his motion. And on motion, consideration was deferred.

Nakaleka moved to strike out "Honouli-maloo" in the item relative to the weekly passenger service for Molokai. Carried.

Greenwell moved to strike out the item of "Rent Waiakamilo Camp." He contended it was a County item. Harris said it was purely Territorial. Lost.

Vida amended his motion of a subsidy to the Paradise of the Pacific to read "Expenses for printing," etc. Chillingworth supported it, and Paele pointed out that it was against Section 55 of the Organic Act, but Greenwell moved to reject it. Fernandez objected. Kumalae also opposed it strongly, saying that enough had already been given and now another is sought for. On being put to vote, the item failed to pass.

Keliinoi moved to insert an item for "advertising the advantages and resources of this Territory, $15,000." This created much argument, during which Greenwell moved to reduce to $5,000, and disposed of by its being lost—12 to 13.

Vida moved to insert an item for "incidentals Board of Pharmacy, $250." This was to prepare certain needed blanks. A law was passed for such a board during the regular session, but nothing has been provided for its expenses. Carried, after others had asked and made short explanations.

Chillingworth asked how about the motion to pass the bill as amended on third reading, and the Chair said that an amendment had been offered and the bill was therefore still open for amendments.

Kaniho moved to insert an item "transfering and erecting the statue of Kamehameha in the Court House yard at Kohala, $500." He said this was to remove the statue from its present location to a place where people may see it and on Government land and not on land belonging to others. The item was lost by 12 ayes and 13 noes.

On motion of Greenwell, the advertising item was reconsidered and he moved to make it $5,000. Kaniho moved to reject and much discussion was raised. Kumalae moved to amend to make it $3,600, as incidentals for the Commissioner of Immigration and who had nothing to work upon, only to hold the position. Beckley called Harris to the Chair and then he strongly opposed it on the floor. The amendment finally passed by a vote of 17 to 9.

The word "contract" in Section 2 was, on motion of Harris, amended to "expenditure," and then the bill as amended passed third reading, 23 to 3.

On motion of Nakaleka, adjournment was taken at 4:30 o'clock.

FRIDAY, JULY 3, 1903.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Oh, well; perhaps Judge Davis is merely in training for the tail-pulling event of tomorrow. When he spoke of shooting, his mind was doubtless on the little cap pistol with which he slaughtered people years ago on Boston Common.

If a subsidy to the Paradise of the Pacific is contrary to Section 55 of the Organic Act in the eighteen months expense bill, why is it not likewise contrary to law in the six months bill, which was signed by the Governor yesterday? In the latter bill it is distinctly that the appropriation is a subsidy.

The appointment of P L Weaver to be judge of the court under the Torrens land act is satisfactory, for the reason at least that he is the father of the law and he has made an exhaustive study of the system. In most respects Judge Weaver is politically objectionable, but otherwise he will perhaps prove satisfactory.

Tomorrow will be the Glorious Fourth, the joy of the small boy and the dealer in pyrotechnics. What is lost in the program of the day will doubtless be made up in enthusiasm. The Hawaiian Islands have always made much of the Fourth and it may be depended upon that the ordinary features of the occasion, as usually obtains, will be carried outy.

There is one sad vein in present day Fourth of July ceremonies. The Declaration of Independence is a great document and an everlasting monument to its framers. But on each anniversary of its promulgation comes the humiliating reflection that this great nation is now doing in the Philippines precisely what the Declaration of Independence holds out to the world as England's great crime. Historians of the future will find it hard to harmonize the Declaration with the present policy of the United States as administered by the Republican party.

Charles R Bishop's donation of $50,000 to Oahu college must be regarded as the tribute of a worthy man to a worthy—although not necessarily needy—cause. It will be a great help to the school, and as it will be invested its benefits will be continuous through a period of many years. This is Mr Bishop's second large gift to Oahu college.

Marston Campbell is to be sustained by the Legislature in the office of Assistant Superintendent of Public Works. Mr Cooper has asked for it and has promised to see to it that no more "breaks" are made. With this understanding, and that the House completed its just criticism of the office, the appropriation will be allowed and the present incumbent will continue on.

There is an easy way to have an efficient and satisfactory district court at the Molokai settlement if Governor Dole can be persuaded to act in the matter. Judge Nathaniel, who is notoriously an ignoramus, was a pet and protege of E P Dole. There are good men at the Settlement. William Notley is one of them, and there are others. Governor Dole and the Attorney-General are solely to blame for the condition of the court.

The Chinese storekeeper who rang up "Central" this morning and asked if he could get connection with Hongkong yet will have to wait awhile. Such is still impossible, but science is moving in the direction of wireless telephony and the day may come when the air between here and Hongkong will be seething with Chinese monosyllables. In the meanwhile, however, the cable is the most servicable agency it is our fortune to possess.

The death of Prof. J H Amme last evening of ptomaine poisoning brings up a question of where the Food Commissioner spends his working hours. In a small and insular market like Honolulu it would not be a difficult matter to hold up and thoroughly inspect every shipment of canned goods, and to keep up with the goods until they reach the consumer. There are probably far more deaths from ptomaine poisoning than are ever known to our happy-go-lucky Board of Health and the public.

The House properly raised the appropriation for Lahainaluna school from $7,500 to $12,000. A good deal of money is being spent on this institution, but the school fills a unique and important place. It is now in order for the Commissioners of Education to revise the courses of study, eliminating instruction in type-setting and other dead arts. A good start in the right direction has been made by firing all the old teachers, and with Representative Kalilnoi in charge of the school next year there will likely be something doing there.

Yesterday afternoon in the House, while arguing on a motion to insert another item for advertising the advantages and resources of the country, Representative Kumalae took occasion to mention all our more ponderous contemporaries, including a monthly periodical, but forgot to even mention this mite of a paper. Why such forgetfulness on his part? Is it on account of size or of race prejudice again? Or is it because THE INDEPENDENT is too small, and owned, controlled and conducted by a countryman of his? Which is it, pray?

Anglia at Waikiki.

The health of the whole body depends upon the blood and nerves. Therefore the medicine that expels impurities from the blood and supplies the necessary materials for rapidly rebuilding wasted nerve tissues, reaches the root of many serious diseases. It is these virtues that have given their wonderful power to conquer disease, and caused the miraculous cures that have startled the scientific world. Thousands of cases have demonstrated that this remedy is an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after-effects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, all forms of weakness either in male or female.

Frank Tucker, is a prominent farmer, of Versailles, Indiana. His daughter, Lucy, is now fifteen years old; three years ago she was dying. The rosy color in her cheeks gave way to a paleness, and she became ghastly thin. As she grew weaker she became the victim of nervous prostration. Most of the time she was confined to the bed and was almost on the verge of going into St. Vitus' dance.

"Finally the doctor told us to give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Said he was treating a similar case with them and they were curing the patient. We began giving the pills at once, and the next day we could see a change for the better in her. The doctor told us to keep giving her the medicine. We gave her one pill after each meal until she was well. We began giving her the medicine last August, and she took the last dose in October, having used eight boxes. She is now entirely well and has not been sick a day since. We think the cure almost miraculous."

FRANK TUCKER, Mrs. FRANK TUCKER.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 28th day of April, 1897.

HUGH JOHNSON, Justice of the Peace.

Versailles, Indiana, April 28th, 1897.—From the Republican, Versailles, Ind.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all druggists or sent, postpaid, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, 6 boxes, $2.50.

IN EXTRA SESSION.

The Second Legislature for the Consideration of Appropriation Bills.

THE SENATE—FIFTY FOURTH DAY.

After the usual preliminaries, a message came from the Governor making several nominations, viz: On Board of Pharmacy, W L Moore, M D, in place of W E Taylor M D, who declined appointment; on Commission of Public Instruction, Mrs Alice Clark Jordan and Mr Heinrich Martens von Holt; Board of Registration, 2d Representative District, J K Kekaula, and 6th Representative District, W J Sheldon; Court of Land Registration, Philip L Weaver, Judge; and the different Tax Appeal Courts, viz: First Circuit, Oahu—E C Winston, J F Brown and S K Kane; Second Circuit, Maui, &c—George Weight, Chas Copp and W L Decoto; Third Circuit, West Hawaii—G P Tulloch, L S Aungst and Chas G Macomber; Fourth Circuit, East Hawaii—E W Barnard, L Severance and C R Blacow; Fifth Circuit, Kauai—Prince L Topie, L Kahibaum and H K Kahele. On motion of Achi, these nominations were all confirmed.

The House returned Senate Bill 2 (Six Months Salary Bill) with all the House amendments, and after being read through, the Senate failed to concur. And on motion of Isenberg, a conference committee will be appointed on Monday.

Adjourned at 10:45 o'clock to Monday morning.

THE HOUSE—FIFTY FOURTH DAY.

After disposing of the usual routine business, House Bill 7, to compensate E P Dole in the Osaka Mankichi case, was taken up on third reading and passed, 28 ayes, there being 7 absentees.

Then House Bill 8, relating to the travelling expense of the band for six months, was taken up and passed on third reading, 22 ayes and 1 no (Greenwell).

On suspension of the rules, Lewis, on special committee relating to the disappearance of certain barrels of cement, presented a report on the same. The committee finds another diversion of appropriations and only by the mere "say so" of the officials the cement was used on different public works. Marston Campbell claims freedom from all responsibility, as the warehouses storing the cement being under the control of a Mr Edwards, resident engineer in charge of sewer construction. All bills being approved by Campbell, this claim falls to the ground, but it was plain to be the duty of the Road Supervisor to keep a sharp lookout for it and safeguard the interests of his department. The same responsibility is also upon the other officials concerned. It considers the diversion of funds specifically appropriated by the Legislature reprehensible in the highest degree and a violation of the duties of officers and therefore recommends that this practice be discontinued and that hereafter funds in all departments are strictly applied as appropriated. Adopted and ordered spread upon the journal, on motion of Vida.

Unfinished business was then called up, being the further consideration of Senate Bill 3 (Eighteen Months Salary Bill). The "salary of Ranger, 3rd Land District, $540" was taken up on reconsideration, and a motion made to amend by adding "Kau $360, N & S Kona $540, $900" After discussion, wherein Fernandez said that there were hardly any Government lands in Kau and N & S Kona, most being owned by the Bishop Estate and W C Achi, and that there were more Government lands in all Kohala than in the others put together, the item failed, 9 to 13.

Greenwell moved the same item with "Kau $180, N & S Kona $360," and after some talk, it passed.

Under the "Board of Health," the "salary of Chief Health Officer, $4,500," Greenwell moved to reduce to $3,000, and, after a little discussion, it carried.

On the "salary of Clerk, $1,800," Oili moved to strike out, but after a discussion, Kumalae supporting the item, the motion was withdrawn.

Fernandez moved to strike out "Milk and Poi Inspector, Honolulu, $1,800," saying that Kohala was refused an inspector. Later on he moved to strike out "$90," leaving it "milk inspector." Motion failed, and the item passed as in the bill.

Kalama amended "Fish Inspector, Honolulu, $1,170" to read "2 Fish Inspectors, Honolulu, $2,160" Carried.

Pali moved to insert a new item of "Fish and Food Inspector, Lahaina, $900" and carried. Kalama also moved one for Wailuku, the same amount, and carried.

Kealawaa said that in order to express ourselves as Americans, tomorrow being a day dear to Americans as their chief national holiday, he moved adjournment to Monday morning. This was opposed by Kalama and Oili, but the Chair ruled them out, as the motion could not be argued. The motion was voted down.

Recess was taken a little before noon.

FARMERS AND THE TARIFF.

WASHINGTON, June 12:

The American Society of Equity of Indianapolis has issued a bulletin to the farmers of the United States demanding an increase in the price of wheat, arging that the minimum price of wheat should be $1 a bushel and urging the farmers not to sell for less than $1. The Society was organized a year ago, with that city as national headquarters, to maintain higher prices for farm products by co-operation of the farmers of the country, and this is the first formal demand for increase in prices. The bulletin reasons that because of the low visible supply of the wheat and the high cost of production, owing to high prices for most other commodities, $1 at Chicago is only an equitable price for wheat.

It may be heresy, but I would like to suggest to the Equity Society that there is another and easier and a more certain way for the farmers to accomplish the result aimed at, and it does not involve the risk and almost certain failure of attempting to imitate the manufacturing trusts. In the first place the price of wheat is fixed in Liverpool and not in Chicago, and if we ceased entirely to export the chances are that the price in Chicago would not go to one dollar. There are too many farmers and they are too widely scattered to form a trust, and even if they were not they are not protected by the tariff rates, as are the manufacturers. The latter can get together, form a trust and force the prices as high as the tariff will at any time they choose. The farmers can do no such thing. The manufacturers have thus forced up the prices that the farmer must pay for manufactured goods an average of about 40 per cent. since the Dingley tariff bill became a law. The prices of many articles, such as barb wire, wire nails, tin plate, window glass, etc, have been forced up 100, 200 or 300 per cent. in our markets, though sold at very low prices to foreigners.

If tariff duties on trust products were taken off, manufactured goods which now sell for $1 would sell for 60 cents. The farmer could then buy as much with his bushel of wheat selling at 75 cents in Chicago as he would get if he could force the price of wheat up to $1 while paying the present high trust prices for his goods.

It is entirely feasible for the farmers, by voting for no tariff on trust goods, to reduce the cost of what they have to buy. It is not at all feasible for them to get together long enough to artificially raise the price of wheat 30 or 40 per cent. The farmers are the backbone of protection in this country, although as a leading republican—the late Ben Butterworth—said in 1890: "The manufacturers and the trusts get the protection and the profits of the tariff; the farmer gets the husks and the humbug." How much longer will the farmer continue to buy republican gold bricks?

MONDAY, JULY 6, 1903.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The Advertiser remarks, anent conditions in Hawaii, that a wise generation is just now devoting time and attention to a "super structure." Our experience has been, however, that the wheels of this self same "wise generation" have been soclogged up by selfishness that little good has ever come of what might have been worthy endeavors.

Hilo feels remarkably well satisfied with herself this Fourth of July. —Hilo Tribune.

You ought to, you tadpole. You captured the band, the best horses, the distinguished guests and about everything else in the boom line that was going. About all we had left down here was Dole, Carter and the Advertiser, and we suppose the reason they were not there is that they were not wanted.

The death of Pope Leo XIII. will remove from the world one of the greatest powers in it. Pope Leo has been a peace mar, and not one large nation has cared to strike in many years before laying its case squarely before the Pope and receiving his opinion regarding the same. He has been a wonderful power for religious advancement and the prosecution of Christ-like mission work in the dark places of the earth. His death will be sincerely deplored by people outs de as well as in the Catholic church.

Napoleon truly said that the Lord usually fights on the side of the heaviest battalions. That was the case at Pearl harbor Saturday. The Healanis won because they had the best crews. In both races the crews rowed neck and neck for about a half mile and then separated, the Healanis taking the lead at almost the same place and in the same way. Racing was fair, square and clean in both events, the blues winning in each by a distance of nearly 200 yards. The crowd was the smallest seen at Pearl harbor in many years.

The Advertiser "has 'em" again. When we said that the native Hawaiian was, is and will be a Royalist, we meant exactly what we said; and did not imagine that there was a mind on this beach so dense or prejudiced as to question the truth of it, and, more than all, spasmodically ram its nut against the stone wall of a condition fashioned by the Most High and not amenable to the antics of the Republican administration. The Hawaiian is the best sort of an American citizen. He gave up everything when he became one, which is a good deal more than some other people can say.

We understand that Wailuku people are congratulating each other on the immense amount of hospitality shown to their Honolulu visitors on July 4. Except for a few of the older homes, Wailuku hospitality could be bundled bag and baggage into a crevice in a gnat's heel and it would have plenty of room to move around in. Hospitality that charges fifty cents to cross a wire fence, fifty cents to enter an enclosure, a dollar to get into the grand-stand, two bits for a bottle of soda water or ginger ale and anywhere from fifty cents to two dollars for a sandwich and cup of coffee is not the kind people usually go out hunting for.

We agree with Judge Estee that the time has come to even use the court rooms in which to teach Americanism and we trust that in teaching it the fact will not be overlocked that the Territory, by an Act of Congress, has been put in the power of men with whom hatred of things American as well as love of things monarchical is a "glowing sentiment."—Advertiser.

And we hope that in teaching Americanism Judge Estee will dispense his own brand. The Estee brand of Americanism is what the natives want and what the banes should most desire. On the other hand if Americanism were put up in cans the Advertiser's brand would be in the hands of the Food Commissioner and the police before 6 o'clock.

The cat is out of the bag at last. Superintendent Cooper now coolly inform the Executive that he is the man to make expenditures under the Loan Act, and that the counties must get their money through him and be run by him. That is what Cooper has been working for all the time. He has wanted the counties under his thumb. Attorney General Andrews and Superintendent Atkinson have taken issue with Mr Poobah, and declare that he is attempting to act contrary to the intentions of the Legislature. There should be no question on the point. It should be settled instanter, and forever. Let the Legislature pass a joint resolution declaring it as its intention that the counties should be sole custodians of their finances and affairs, and that Cooper must keep his fingers out of it.

The barkentine Coronado and W H Dimond, from San Francisco, and the J H Lunsmann, from Laysan Island arrived in port Saturday and yesterday.

The pretty little Chapel of our Lady of the Mount was formally dedicated by Bishop Libert yesterday. In the afternoon there was a big luau, participated in by several hundreds of people.

The Claudine's Trip.

The Wilder's S S Co's steamship Claudine left port last Friday evening shortly after 7:30 o'clock, the time set for her leaving on a special excursion to Kahului for the Fourth of July races at Spreckel's Park. Touched Lahaina about 2 o'clock the next morning, only to land the mail, leaving it shortly and arrived at Kahului at 5:30 o'clock. Before arrival, a slight passing shower of rain was met off Waibee.

On landing, several of the "immigrants" wended their way, by invitation of Judge-Treasurer Kepoikai, also a passenger, towards the Fishery and were welcomed by Mrs Kepoikai. After a wash and a little wait, some taking a dip while others prospected, they broke their fast by being entertained to a bounteous table which the hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs Weight, and their two nieces, with Mrs T B Lyons and others, had had prepared for the hungry and weary immigrants, among them being your writer, Mr Editor. The next event was "to the races," where a good day's sport was enjoyed by all, the grandstand being literally filled with people from all over Maui. But, of course, the events were slow and far between. In the evening, these particular "immigrants" were feasted by "mine host" the Judge, all later on leaving for Wailuku, your writer being left alone to his "lonely" to enjoy the cool sea breeze of Kahului.

The round trip was most pleasant and enjoyable. Among those who went up, other than those already mentioned, was noticed S C Dwight, A McGuru, M T Lyons, Frank J Kruger, G S Harris, Jr, Senator S E Kaiue, F J Testa, E P Keala, Mrs Kibling and many others. The return was made last evening after 7 o'clock and met the Kinau at Lahaina, got some band music from there, docking in port at 4:30 this morning, the Kinau arriving an hour later.

There were between 80 to 100 passengers going up and there were more on the return trip. Those who came down were Mrs A N Kepoikai, Misses Daniels [2], Miss Rogers, Miss Ivy Richardson, Dr G H Huddy and many others.

Before going to the baseball grounds at Wailuku yesterday afternoon, this same "immigrant" crew was entertained by Mr and Mrs "Ben" Lyons at their residence, where two bounteous tables accommodated all those invited to do justice to the many good things provided, "Tim" Lyons being the guest of honor.

The Billy Woods—Joe Millet fight will take place next Saturday evening. A feature of the program will be a go between two Chinese, Officer C Apana and Ah Sam, the latter a scrapper of the Kapiolani Athletic club.

Company A, N G H, attended the funeral of their late comrade, Sergeant Emil Fetter, at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Rev Alex Mackintosh conducted the religious services. Interment was in Nuuanu cemetery.

The cable was kept hot Saturday afternoon with congratulatory messages between the mainland and the various Pacific Islands. It is not expected that the line will be thrown open to public business in two weeks more.

Sergeant-at-Arms Kaiso, of the House, gave a splendid luau to a large party of friends at his home on upper Fort street Saturday afternoon. Several government officials, attorneys and business men were among those present.

Officer McDuffie closed the Chinese theater in Liliha street yesterday afternoon. It claimed to be running a charity show and the fake was tolerated for a while, but the High Sheriff finally discovered that it was purely a money-making enterprise.

The Kamehamehas defeated the All-Maui team, at Wells' Park yesterday afternoon by a score of 4 to 3. An immense crowd witnessed the game. A total of $137.75 was realized, of which $125 went to the Kamehamehas, being enough to pay their expenses.

IN EXTRA SESSION.

The Second Legislature for the Consideration of Appropriation Bills.

THE SENATE—FIFTY-FIFTH DAY.

After disposing of the usual preliminaries, a notification from Secretary Carter was read that the Governor had signed Act 11.

The House transmitted Bills 7 and 8. They were taken up and passed first reading respectively.

The House also returned Senate Bill 9 as amended and was not concurred in. On motion of Dickey, a conference committee of five members each was decided upon.

Under suspension of the rules, Paris, from Ways and Means, reported on the request of the Attorney General asking for $1,000 to pay E P Dole in the Osaka Mankichi case. As the bill has passed second reading in the House and will soon be before the Senate, it recommends the tabling of the letter.

Isenberg moved adjournment and McCandless to take a recess. The latter motion prevailed and recess taken at 10:30 o'clock.

THE HOUSE—FIFTY-FIFTH DAY.

The regular routine business being disposed of as usual. Secretary Carter notified that the Governor signed Act 11 [Unpaid Bills] on the 2nd instant.

The Senate informed the House that it has declined to concur in the amendments made to Senate Bill 2 [Six Months Salary Bill].

Long gave notice to introduce a bill to pay the unpaid bills of the Board of Health to July 1, 1903, and on suspension of the rules, the bill was introduced and passed first reading.

House Bill 9 [Pantalus Road Purchase Bill] was taken up on second reading. Nakaleka moved to pass it and Chillingworth to commit.

Aylett opposed committing, saying how long will it take the committee to make a report. The committee may never report it and thereby kill it. The amount of money asked [$12 000] is left open and discretionary with the Superintendent of Public Works to pay what may be agreed upon and deemed as sufficient. Chillingworth then asked to withdraw his motion, should his second consent. Thereupon, Harris, the seconder, said that the request to commit was not unreasonable. He would like to know, and if committed, to limit the time to report tomorrow morning and would be willing to work all night on it. If this claim was found to be just, he's in it and would give his vote, but not otherwise. Aylett seconded Nakaleka's motion, Harris withdrawing his objection.

Kellinoi, from conference committee on House Bill 2 [Loan Appropriation Bill], presented the report as agreed upon, Oili and Kaniho not concurring for the reason the word "or" is inserted before the word "County." After being read, Fernandez moved to adopt and Aylett to take it up on immediate consideration. He said that the word "or" in the report still has a doubt as to the outcome of County Government. The measure was a Republican one and as a Republican I promised to the people with a solemn pledge for this measure together with a pension to the Queen. I am not here as a Home Ruler and a royalist, but as a Republican I promised and voted for the measure which received the Governor's approval. [Taking up the Advertiser, he read an article from Saturday's issue relating to the Executive Council meeting of the day before.] When a county is organized, it will be given a house unfurnished, which may be similar to a haunted house and who likes to live in a haunted house?

Kaniho supported Aylett. Fernandez spoke at some length in answer to Aylett. On motion of Paele, recess was taken a little after the noon hour.

(AFTERNOON SESSION)

The first business taken up on reassembling was to pass Senate Bill 3 (Eighteen Months Salary Bill) on second reading.

Aylett, on suspension of the rules, gave notice to introduce an act and introduced it later, it being "An Act making an appropriation for the purchase by the Government of the Territory of Hawaii of the right of way on the land of the County Estate, Tantalus Ridge (Kalawahine). The amount asked for is $12,000 and left optional with the Superintendent of Public Works. Passed first reading after being read through, and set for the special order of the day on Monday (today.)

On motion of Kalama, adjournment was taken at 2:30 o'clock to this (Monday) morning.

Emil Fetter Suicides.

IN EXTRA SESSION.

The Second Legislature for the Consideration of Appropriation Bills.

THE SENATE—FIFTY FIFTH DAY.

(AFTERNOON SESSION)

At 2 p m Senator Achi presented the report of the conference committee on the loan appropriation act which was adopted. The following conference committees were appointed:

Senate bill No 2, the six months' salaries appropriation—Achi, Kalauokalani, McCandless, Woods, Paris, Nakapaahu and Baldwin.

On eighteen month's general expenses bill, House bill No 9—Dickey, Achi, Kaohi, Woods and Isenberg.

THE HOUSE—FIFTY-FIFTH DAY.

Argument on the conference committee's reports on the Loan Bill was resumed on reassembling. After many had spoken, expressing their views, the previous question was moved and carried, then the vote on the adoption of the report was put and failed, 15 ayes to 11 noes, the Speaker announcing the failure. Keliinoi insisted that the Speaker should vote, he again announced failure, in which case, he had cast his vote in the negative.

Kumalae moved to refer the report back to the committee, but Harris said that that could not be. Aylett moved to appoint a new conference committee, and Andrade to adjourn.

Before putting the motion to adjourn, the Speaker announced the conference committees on Senate Bills 9 and 2.

On Senate Bill 9—Chillingworth, Long, Fernandez, Kaniho and Haia. Fernandez resigned in favor of Aylett and accepted.

On Senate Bill 2—Lewis, Greenwell, Nakaleka, Andrade, Paele, Vida and Knudsen. Andrade resigned in favor of Kumalae, but not accepted and Paele in favor of Kupihea, accepted.

Adjournment was then put and carried after 3:30 o'clock.

Officers Installed.

The following were last evening installed officers of Harmony Lodge No 3, I O O F:

TUESDAY, JULY 7, 1903.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Lam Che, or Lam Ching Wa, who has been captured by pirates in China, was a citizen of Hawaii and as such became an American citizen. The despatch of the gunboat Callao to the rescue would seem to indicate that the United States has more confidence in its ships than in either Chinese ability or honesty of purpose.

As mosquitoes have been found guilty of spreading dengue fever and other diseases, it seems to us that the Board of Health should inaugerate and vigorously prosecute a campaign against them. Could not the gentleman who killed so many rats a few years ago not fix up some kind of cheese that the mosquitoes would like?

Volcano Marshall must certainly be getting in his deadly work at Peking. A short time ago we had assurance that the Empress Dowager had sent for several Bow Wong leaders with a view to discussing reforms. Now the Empress has a concert by a haole band on the lawn of the court and a flock of Princes and Princesses dance the lancers and minuet to Yankee music in the palace. Next we will expect to hear that the Chinese government has made a public holiday of July Fourth.

Some years ago the owner of the morning paper, while a member of the Legislature, won the sobriquent of "The Guava Jelly Statesman." He saw in the guava industry the salvation of the country in case of a serious depression in the price of sugar, and urged the importance of taking it up. "The Guava Jelly Statesman" has shifted his allegiance of late years to sisal, green corn, cucumbers and the like, but his small farming ideas remain much the same and are as absurd as in the days when he pictured a period at which the only use for Hawaiian sugar would be as sweetening for guava jelly.

It is a significent fact that the Legislators singled out by the Advertiser and charged with waning fealty to the Republican party are the very men who have fought tooth and nail to carry out the pledges of that party made to the voters last November. It is safe to say that had the Advertiser and its friends secured a working majority in the Legislature, no important plank in the Republican platform would have been carried out and there would have been no attempt by that side to pass a county law.

The Kumalae resolution fixing the minimum wage of laborers in the Public Works department at $1 50 a day will come up again in a form to make it legal. The effect of the resolution will be to fix the lowest man or men at $1 50, but gives all the lee-way desirable for the advancement of the figures in proper cases. As only citizens can be employed we think the regulation a just and reasonable one, and a proper protection of the laboring classes from the merciless and overpowering competition of Asiatics.

R Schellens again takes the floor to say that he is not a farmer but a bookkeeper for the Kona-Kau railroad. He says he had some experience in farming in the east, however, and has been here long enough "to see what the ocuntry needs and what the chances for the small farmer would be." Mr Schellens has been in this country three months which is about the usual time required by a young man to persuade himself that he knows all about it, and not long enough to find out what an awfully big jack-ass he is.

The people most liable to flop should a Democratic president be elected next year are the ones who are now shouting the loudest for the Republican party. They were Republicans for several years after the ratification of the Reciprocity Treaty, Democrats in 1892 and weak or strong Republicans since, just as it affected their pocket-books. The cat will jump in the case precisely as the National vote goes, and it will be done in that easy and cold-blooded way that causes one to wonder if Benedict Arnold was really the worst American that ever happened.

There can be no reasonable objection to the Rapid Transit following the beach road as far as it pleases; in fact it would be desirable if it could follow it to Waikiki, for the convenience of the public as well as the good it would do in opening up new residence sites and enhancing property values. But under no circumstances should the track be allowed to run on the roadway. It was the intention of the Legislature that Ala Moana should be kept clear, an unobstructed shore-line boulevard; and it was never its idea or intention that the Rapid Transit should operate upon it, but that the track should parallel the road, on the mauka side.

For striving so hard for the Governorship, George R Carter is losing followers every day. His friends are now reduced to the small "family compact" and even that set is badly divided on the question. Mr Carter's eagerness for the office has shattered the confidence of his native friends, and most naturally so. It has disclosed to them that his purpose in seeking the place is to save the administration to the Dole crowd. The idea of a continuance of present conditions is so repugnant to them that, however friendly some natives may feel toward Mr Carter, they would turn him down, if possible, to save the country from further compact rule and abuses.

"If trained teachers who have worked considerably wish to visit abroad, they may find greater advantages than at the summer school, in the study of methods in the schools of their own territory. We are only too glad to have the old teachers go away and improve their time in the States. For the younger teachers it is thought wise that they should have a thorough understanding of the work here and we want them to attend. To make the work stronger and wider we always have some one from abroad who has broad views, where we ourselves may be narrow."—Supt. Atkinson.

That's the stuff. Let the older teachers go away to Chicago and other places where they can learn something practical and up-to-date in methods of teaching; and provide good instructors in the Summer School here for the unfledged pedagogues.

Stray Maui Notes.

A street in Wailuku, that running alongside (mauka) of the residences of Judge Kepoikai and Ben Lyons, was christened by Frank Kruger, our future supervisor at large for Oahu, as "Hana-waki" street. "Billy Othello" took a snap-shot of some of the "immigrants" present at the christening. The name means "Watch-maker" after himself.

All Wailuku was a-gog with the visitors from the Capital, many being new to the place. But they discovered of their friends there who had paid Hana a visit, Col. Jno. D Holt and "Doc" Huddy, the latter finally turning up Sunday via Makawao.

Among some of those who boarded the Claudine at Kahului were Dr and Mrs Dinegar, J Kirkland, G B Robertson, Col Holt, Chas Galt and many others.

To hear the Band music at Lahaina was most enervating and exhilarating. It made many of the returning "immigrants" think of Honolulu.

Frank Kruger was surprised to see the catcher of the All-Maui baseball team with long hairs, and he asked for his name. He was told that he was another of the Kruger family, he asked how the long haired fellow spelled his name, as he spelled his with "two little spots over the 'oo.'" He flatly refused to accept the other Kruger (the All-Maui battery being brothers) as a member of his family, nor of that of the Beer family.

"Billy" Cuelho, otherwise dubbed as "Othello," the interrupter of the House of Representatives, brought home a billy-goat from Judge Kalua's ranch for Mr Magoon, and he smelled so! The billy-goat gave a box of grapes as well as a tin of mangoes that he brought down with him, for the goat smell prvented the boys from going near him. The billy-boat has been named Ahgoon.

IN EXTRA SESSION.

The Second Legislature for the Consideration of Appropriation Bills.

THE SENATE—FIFTY-SIXTH DAY.

After the preliminaries had been disposed of as usual, a communication from the House was read informing it of the appointment of a conference committee on Senate Bill 2, also another on Senate Bill 9.

House Bill 7 was then taken up and passed on second reading. House Bill 8 was also taken up and an amendment offered by Dickey, but on motion of Isenberg, the bill was tabled.

McCandless moved to adjourn and Woods to take a recess, and on being accepted, recess prevailed at 10:19 o'clock.

THE HOUSE—FIFTY SIXTH DAY.

After disposing of the regular routine business in the usual manner, a communication from the Senate was read informing that Achi, Kalauokalani, McCandless, Woods, Paris, Nakapaahu and Baldwin were appointed as a conference committee on Senate Bill 2; and also another giving the information that Dickey, Achi, Kaohi, Woods and Isenberg have been appointed as a conference committee on Senate Bill 9, it not concurring in the amendments made; and still another that the conference committee report on House Bill 2 was adopted yesterday.

Kumalae presented a joint resolution "that the laborers working under the Road Department be paid henceforth at the rate of not less than One Dollar and Fifty Cents per day."

Kupihea moved to adopt, and Paele moved the previous question. Several members wanted to speak but were shut out, and on the previous question being put, it failed. Greenwell said that those living in the outer districts can live cheaper than those here in the city, and moved to table, and on being put, it failed.

Kumalae, in defense, said that he perfectly agrees with Greenwell, but clothes cannot be bought cheaper than in Honolulu. Laborers would like to eat cakes, puddings, &c, and how can they get it if poorly paid. Men now working on the docks are being forced to work elsewhere because Japanese are being employed much cheaper, and therefore, it is our duty to protect our fellows.

Harris quoted Section 300 of the Civil Code and asked what effect it will have upon the joint resolution. Kumalae said that it will compel the Road Boards to pay at the rate of $1.50 per day, but it will not conflict with the law as it now stands.

Kellinoi raised a point of order that the joint resolution will have the force of law and is in direct conflict with the purpose for which this extra session was called. Kumalae held that it has a bearing upon appropriations and is the same as any other item of appropriation.

The Speaker said the resolution was not properly drawn. If advanced and sent to the Senate, it will be ruled out of order. He therefore sustained the point of order. Paele appealed on the ruling of the Chair and the Chair sustained.

Bill 9 was then taken up on third reading. A question was asked by Fernandez whether this land of the Coney Estate on Tantalus was under lease at the time the road was opened. Other questions came on from others, and Superintendent Cooper just then came in with the Clerk, who had been sent for by the Speaker. Various questions were then asked of him by Andrade, Harris, Greenwell, Kumalae and Paele and much information was gleaned from his answers. As soon as Superintendent Cooper left, promising to send in certain documents, Paele moved to pass the bill on third reading and carried by a vote of 22 ayes and 4 noes.

Bill 10 was then taken up on third reading, and after being read through, recess was taken at 11:55 o'clock.

The Corrected Kahului Races.

The following is the corrected results of the races held at Spreckels' Park, Kahului, on the Fourth:

First race—Trotting and pacing to harness, 1 mile heats, best two in three, free for all. Won by Billy Lamps; time, 1st heat 2:47 1-5, 2nd heat, 2:34.

Second race—Same as the above for Maui horses. Won by McKinley, Kit Carson second, and Grandpa third. Time, 1st heat, 2:32 2-5, 2nd heat, 2:34 3-5.

Third race—Hawaiian bred, running race, half mile and repeat. Jennie E won. Time, 1st heat, 55 3-5, 2nd heat, 55.

Fifth race—Trotting and pacing, 1 mile heats, best 2 in 3, for 2:30 class. Won by Billy Lamps, Denny Healy second, Pualani third, and Madeline distanced. Time, 1st heat, 2:36; 2nd heat, 2:33 with a protest.

Eleventh race—Trotting and pacing, 1 mile heats, best 2 in 3, for named horses. Won by Denny Healy, Kit Carson second, Bill Lemps third and McKinley distanced.

The last race was the best and prettiest race of the day. Kit Carson won the first heat in 2:31, the best time made during the day, and Denny Healy the second heat in 2:33, then excitement ran high. On the final heat, Denny Healy and Kit Carson both arrived under the wire in about the same time, but a foul was claimed and sustained, and the judges awarded the heat to Denny Healy, time 2:37.

The most interesting race was the relay race between two cowboys, Kauwila had about won the race on the second round, but he could not hold his horse in at the wire. His turned and went as far as the eighth stretch before being stopped and when he came back to change, his opponent was way ahead, and he spurted his horse without changing and thereby lost the race, being distanced.

Electric Road Wanted.

The Bishop Estate, Captain Rodman and the Honolulu Iron Works have petitioned the Rapid Transit Company to extend its line from Alakea street to the Iron Works. Manager Ballentyne has accordingly addressed the following communication to the government respecting the matterr:

The Hon Sanford B Dole, Governor, Territory of Hawaii, Honolulu.

Sir: I have the honor to enclose herewith a petition signed by a majority of the property owners on Allen street and Ala Moana, between Alakea street and the Honolulu Iron Works, requesting the Honolulu Rapid Transit and Land Company to lay its tracks and operate its cars over said Allen street and Ala Moana between said points.

I respectfully request that your consent be given to the prayer of said petition, in accordance with the requirements of sub section 11 of section 2, of Act 69, 1893.

Yours respectfully,

(Signed) C G BALLENTYNE, Manager H R T & L Co.

IN EXTRA SESSION.

The Second Legislature for the Consideration of Appropriation Bills.

THE SENATE—FIFTY-SIXTH DAY.

(AFTERNOON SESSION)

The Senate met at 2 p m and passed the bill to indemnify the Coney Estate, $12,000, on first reading. An effort was made to knock the bill out but this failed. Nothing else was done.

In the evening the Senate was called together, but there being no business adjournment was promptly taken.

THE HOUSE—FIFTY SIXTH DAY.

On reassembling, Senate Bill 3 (Eighteen Months Salary Bill) was taken up. Fernandez moved to strike out the "salary of Supervising Engineer, $4,000," under the Department of Public Works. Much discussion was aroused on this item, and after some time had elapsed in attacks upon Marston Campbell, Chillingworth said that Superintendent Cooper was ready and willing to come in and give information on this matter. On motion of Aylett, Superintendent Cooper was sent for, the Clerk going out after him.

Mr Cooper, on coming in, explained what was wanted with a supervising engineer. He felt that he was not competent in that technical line of work and he therefore needed some one directly under him. Then began questionings from members all over the House and he gave much valuable information.

As soon as he left the hall, Kumalae moved to amend the item by adding the following proviso: "provided, it is not Marston Campbell." This was put and lost, 7 ayes and 22 noes. And the motion to strike out also failed by a vote of 12 ayes to 18 noes.

On motion of Keliinoi, the further consideration of the bill was deferred till tomorrow (today.)

Long moved to reconsider the vote taken on House Bill 2 (Loan Bill) and carried. Paele moved to indefinitely postpone, Nakaleka to adopt the majority report, and Harris to defer consideration to 7:30 o'clock this evening and Keliinoi amended this last motion to 10:30 a m tomorrow. The latter motion prevailed.

On motion of Nakaleka, adjournment taken at 3:40 o'clock.

Excelsior's Officers.

The following new officers of Excelsior Lodge, Odd Fellows, were installed last evening:

The residence of O C Swain on Beretania street near Punchbowl was burglarized Monday night or Tuesday. Some small articles and furniture were stolen.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 8, 1903.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Superintendent Cooper is quoted as saying that he will work in harmony with the county supervisors in the matter of public expenditures. Why, of course he will—willingly or otherwise. The people still have a say in this little matter.

"Talk about your hard times." Lots of it was seen on the Kahului race track and a great deal of it changed hands during the course of the day on the Fourth. The same it may be supposed happened at Hilo, similar to what occurred here on the Eleventh of June last, and then "you talk about your hard times." It is nit, as it may be only a phantom to some who have saved some for a rainy day as well as for pleasure.

While Representative Andrade attempted to have inserted certain Circuit Court items in the Eighteen Months Salary Bill, Representative Vida remarked that this was being done to save the Circuit Court employees, as the County Act was in the air, and he therefore believed in leaving the salary items in the air in order to have the Counties, without which there will be no Circuit Courts. Mr Vida hit the nail on the head,—no County Act, no Circuit Courts.

We view with considerable disfavor the establishment of a beer saloon at the corner of Richards and Merchant street, but purely as a matter of sentiment. The site is in the immediate vicinity of the government buildings and the swellest opera house of the city. It borders also upon a locality hallowed by historic events of the past and the scene of the memorable activities of people that will ever be dear to the Hawaiian heart. The fact that a tennis court is near by makes no impression upon us. We suppose that most of the players enjoy their beer and pretzels anyhow, and their objection to the presence of the saloon is that someone else, inside, might be enjoying the same privilege and pleasure. The place is a little too close to the Palace and Palace square. That's all.

The House this morning passed the item for supervising engineer in the Public Works department with the proviso that the encumbent be not Marston Campbell. This is an unusual act but it seemed the only certain way around the difficulty. What the conference committee will do remains to be seen, but there are fairly good reasons to believe that the amendment will pass. Governor Dole may veto the item, but—well, if he does so much the worse for Mr Dole and the Republican party.

"America is here as well as there," wires Fredrick O'Brien from Manila. Yes, America is "very much" in the Philippines. America is there against the wishes of 10,000,000 people, who wanted and still pray for independence with a protectorate, and remains there only by force of gunboats and armies of soldiery. America is also in the Philippines, in the present manner, against the wishes of a majority of the people of the United States, as represented by the solid Democratic party and the believers in the Declaration of Independence of the Republican party.

If the waterfront crimps would manage to shanghai Porto Rican vagrants, all might be forgiven.—Advertiser.

Who are responsible for Porto Rican vagrants being on the town or ever in the country? The sugar planters, represented by the Advertiser. These people were lured into the country by pie crust promises. They are disappointed and even desperate. It is admitted that they are no good, and are not and never will be desirable residents. It is a duty the planters owe, both to the country and to the Porto Ricans, to return these unfortunate human cattle to their home and the mercies of their friends.

Russia may have seemed a friend of the United States in the exciting days following the Trent affair and at other periods when the relations between the American government and Great Britain seemed to be overstrained; but the object in view is easily open to question. There is as yet no substantial circumstance to show that Russia has not on every occasion in the past used the United States as a catspaw in its own aggressions against England, and it is to be hoped that American sentiment and judgment are not to be so easily misled. When it comes to a matter of fidelity, as between Great Britain and Russia on the one hand and the United States on the other, we would greatly prefer to train with the first named.

In a somewhat rambling but newsy and interesting communication to an afternoon paper, Jules Dudoit suggests that an assistant be allowed to Dr Goodhue at the Molokai settlement. It is pointed out that with assistance in the administrative section of the work there the physician would be enabled to make extensive and important bacteriological investigations and experiments. We believe that to be a fact. A thousand people, most of whom are actual and constant patients, manifestly are too great a charge upon any one man. Even if one physician were able to care for all the sick he would certainly not have time to pursue essential bacteriological analyses and study. The subject is one that the Board of Health may well take up.

A Chicago correspondent says that President Roosevelt has notified Wall street that he doesn't want any of its contributions to assist in securing his election. As Roosevelt is not a millionaire in his own right he may have cause later in the game to wonder whether he has not more courage than judgment.—Evening Bulletin.

That reminds one of Roosevelt's statement in California that he had not asked for Ohio's support when, at the moment, a message to Mark Hanna most urgently soliciting the endorsement of that State was being given out by the chairman of the National Committee. The average citizen will rather suspect the President of going on his knees to Wall street in place of refusing its contribution to the campaign fund. By the way, is there not a remarkable similarity in the campaign of Mr Roosevelt for the Presidency and the "strenuousness" of George R Carter for the Governor's sandals? Surely they must have gone to school together and been in the same class.

Judge Wilcox's Condition.

Dr Hoffman states today that Judge Wilcox is getting along very well, although it will be fourteen days before a difinite improvement could be declared. He must remain in the meanwhile in a critical state at the Queen's hospital. Judge Wilcox's leg was cut off yesterday which, the doctors believe, will stop the gangrene which started with blood poison in the foot.

Argument Begun.

Argument in the Humphreys-Thompson disbarment case was begun this morning. Attorney General Andrews took the floor for the government and will be followed this afternoon by Mr Thompson.

The Second Legislature for the Consideration of Appropriation Bills.

THE SENATE—FIFTY-SEVENTH DAY.

After disposing of the usual preliminaries, Dickey stated that the House erred in appointing a conference committee on Senate Bill 9.

On motion of Isenberg, House Bill 8 was taken off the table and then passed on second reading, third reading tomorrow.

House Bill 7 was then taken up on third reading, and after a short recess of 10 minutes, it passed.

House Bill 9 was called up on second reading and referred to Public Lands Committee, to report tomorrow.

The House transmitted Bill 10, and after being read, it passed first reading, for second reading tomorrow.

On motion of Isenberg, recess was taken at 10:24 o'clock to 3 o'clock p m.

THE HOUSE—FIFTY-SEVENTH DAY.

After prayers, House Bill 10 was taken up on third reading and passed, 22 ayes to 1 no. Then the minutes were read and approved.

Senate Bill 3 was then ordered up on third reading. Harris moved to amend item of "salary of Ranger, 3rd Land District," by adding "[Kau $360, N & S Kona $540]," the whole making $900. Carried.

Lewis moved to insert a new item of "salary of Ranger, 1st Land District, $900." After some talk, it passed. The next item of "salary of Clerk and Ranger, 1st Land District, $720" was struck out.

Andrade moved to insert "salary of Supreme Court Bailiffs, $1,800." He also moved to insert another item for "pay of Interpreters in all Courts not otherwise specially provided for, $2,435." After many had asked for information, the amendment failed to carry. He again moved another insertion for "salary of 1st Deputy Clerk, to be appointed by the Chief Justice, $2,700." This also failed to pass.

While still on his feet, he moved another insertion for "salary of Assistant to Attorney General, $3,600." After some talk, it failed to pass.

Lewis moved to amend the "salary of Clerk and Bookkeeper, $1,800" to $2,700. He said in the 6 months bill, the salary passed at $900. Harris held that a good bookkeeper cannot be got at $100 a month when there are about 1000 accounts to keep. Lost.

Fernandez moved to reconsider the vote taken on the "salary of Supervising Engineer," with Kumalae's amendment. Harris raised a point of order that Fernandez voted in the minority, and the Chair ruled the motion out. Kupihea moved to amend the item as amended yesterday by Kumalae and was also ruled out. Various points of order were then raised by Greenwell, Harris and Kumalae, and while being discussed the Speaker took the Chair and sustained all points raised.

Then the Speaker said that as the time of this session is nearing the end, time must be given the different conference committees to get to work and finish all the different appropriation bills in time to get before the Governor. Then he called Harris to the Chair, and on taking the floor, he moved to amend the item to read "salary of Assistant Superintendent and Supervising Engineer [providing it is not Marston Campbell], $4,500." He claimed this was a proper amendment to the item as it now stands in the bill. Andrade asked him if he thought the salary would not be paid to Marston Campbell, and answered that the Auditor cannot issue a warrant to Marston Campbell if he is the man. On being voted upon, it carried by a vote of 18 ayes to 10 noes.

Paele moved to strike out the item of "Bacteriologist and Pathologist, $3,600." He said that this official was now cutting up people while yet alive at the Settlement, and the easiest way to remove the office is to wipe out the salary. Kumalae made a strong appeal against the item and Aylett in favor of it. On motion of Keliinoi, the previous question prevailed, and on the motion being put, a tie vote of 14 each way was registered, the Chair then declared the motion lost.

Long moved to amend the "salary of Deputy Registrar of Public Accounts and Bookkeeper" from $3,150 to $4,050 to conform to the Six Months Bill. Carried.

Chillingworth moved to take consideration of the Loan Bill deferred from yesterday. Aylett to take a recess and Kumalae to adjourn, in order to give the conference committees time to get through. The latter motion prevailed and adjournment taken at 11:59 o'clock.

Maui For August 12.

Judge G B Robertson, editor of the Maui News, on being introduced to the Governor yesterday afternoon by Treasurer Kepoikai, asked that the Governor spend a day in Wailuku on his proposed trip to Lanai, and also asked for the band for the races on August 12th, and we understand both requests were granted by the Governor. Bully for the judge. It takes a malihini and an up-turned gold Democrat to have the sufficient gall to ask for certain boons and then get them in return, which is yet to be seen.

THURSDAY, JULY 9, 1903.

EXTEND THE SESSION.

It cannot be rated as in the public interest for the Legislature to get into a sweat for adjournment in the last days of the session, and thereby go off half-cocked on numerous items that require the most careful consideration. That the Legislators are weary after nearly 120 days of labor and are anxious to get home is a fact and is natural. The public is also willing that the session should come to an end in order that government business may settle into its normal groove.

Some dissatisfaction is expressed in the community over the length of the session, and there is a disposition in many quarters to criticize what is assumed to be inertia in the law-making bodies. It is not our intention or desire to pose as apologist for the Legislature, which is controlled by our loathsome friends, the Republicans; but we do wish to drop one hint in the camp, and that is this: The extra session has had to consider, not only the bills for running the government, but one of the most important and sweeping loan bills it has ever been the duty of a local Legislative body to tack'e. That bill in almost every page runs amuck of the brow-beaten, and to—be brow-beaten—although valiant, determined and solid—County Act. Every provision in the bill, and in fact every line of it, was important and called for earnest consideration. Every bill was important, and every item in every bill carried an importance and directed an influence at some point. All these multitudinous details consumed time, and thus the session was strung out.

There now remains on hand the "clean-up" of the session. Not only are the loan bill, Senate Bill 2 and House Bill 9 (all carrying large sums of money) still hung up and subject to snap judgment or imprudent compromises at the last but other matters are pending that are too important for hasty consideration and adjustment. In the closing hours of a session, which has been burdensome and is fraught at the end with many duties and remnants of responsibilities, is the time legislatures make mistakes. Hawaii is not in position to pay the penalty of forced judgment by the Legislature on the matters now pending in it. The time of the Legislators and the expense of further deliberation would be found to compose a mere bagatelle alongside of snap enactments that might prove inappropriate or illegal.

There should be an extension of the extra session in order to give ample time for consideration of the numerous details now in hand. A good precedent for the act is found in the proceedings of the last Legislature when, on July 18, 1901, Acting Governor Cooper ordered an extension for fourteen days, or until August 4, for the reason that the appropriation bills had not been fully considered and completed. We submit that in view of the incompleted work and the fact that it cannot be intelligently completed in the short time remaining, there should be an extension of the session.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Speaker Beckley stated in the House today that if the House sat longer than Saturday, he would resign from the Speakership. Is that so? Too-too!

Representative Kumalae said today that the House could have thirty-two days more to sit, according to the Organic Act. He's now the authority, and Representative Andrade has dubbed him the "Chief Justice." If that is so, then, too-too!

The House this morning properly adopted the Kumalae resolution fixing the minimum salary of Public Works laborers at $1 50 a day, and it is expected that the Senate will do the same. There is no discount on the justice of the proposition, for the work is worth the money. At the same time it will place a little extra cash in the hands of a class that will spend and enjoy it.

If Maui'es attempt to repeat their Fourth of July program on August 12 they will, we opine, find most of the enthusiasm gone from it. While August 12 is an anniversary of the day when Old Glory was hoisted over these Islands, it is also an anniversary of the death of Hawaiian independence and the hauling down of the Hawaiian flag. The latter fact is responsible for a sentiment that will not facilitate considerable movements in the direction of race-tracks or other places of celebration on that day.

In view of the opposition of the Legislature and general public to the retention in office of Chester Doyle as Japanese interpreter, it would seem highly expedient, politically and in other ways, for High Sheriff Brown to give the gentleman his "passports." We have never inquired into the case, deeming it too small and—if you please—"beneath our dignity." But where there is smoke there is most-times fire; and when the condemnation of an understrapper, public and puts periods in the deliberations of a Legislative body, it is about time to relieve the horizon of that man. As we understand it this man Doyle is a grafter on High Sheriff Brown much as Campbell is on Governor Dole.

It would seem that for the salary paid, the Board of Health could get a veterinary surgeon who could stamp out the tuberculosis among cattle. In no spot on earth is there more tuberculosis—no, not one-tenth as much—as here. In Texas, Kansas and the Dakotas, whose hundreds of thousands of cattle roam together tuberculosis is practically unknown. It is unknown East and South, a competent veterinary being on hand to squelch in a rational manner any outbreak that might occur. Any man with the ordinary capabilities of a veterinary surgeon could stamp out tuberculosis in cattle in these Islands inside of eighteen months, and not keep busy half of his working time.

The Advertiser wallowed all over itself in the O C Swain robbery affair. It had everything stolen out of the cottage on Beretania street near Punchbowl, and the next night the burglars were to call around for the house and lot. They were then to set up an auction business in opposition to Jimmie Morgan, with Swain's jewelry, furniture, house-and-lot, chicken coop, good-will, etc, to "the highest bidder for cash." But Swain has looked around again and found that he lost only two chairs. We would suggest to the Advertiser that Mr Swain be prevented from looking around once more, for if he did he might find the two chairs, and then the sensational story would appear, like—well, as Pope might say, a "kind of rape" on the public's good nature.

Committee Disagrees.

The Legislature's conference committee this afternoon practically "broke up in a row" over Senate Bill 2. The fact of a disagreement will be reported back to the two houses and the appointment of new committee will be requested. Nine items were disagreed upon, although the principal fight was on the appropriations for Marston Campbell and Chester Doyle. The Senate committee agreed to strike out Doyle if the House would accept Campbell, but the "inferior" half of the committee refused to provide for either leech. Adjournment was taken at 2:30 o'clock.

A reception will be held on board the cable ship Anglia between the hours of 3:30 and 7 p m tomorrow. Dancing will be a feature.

H M Dow has received news that his daughter, Abbie, has graduated with honors from the Portland, Me., high school. She will go from there to Vassar College.

Treasurer Kepoikai personally sounded some of the members of the Planters Association and others in the business community, requesting them to prescribe the duties of the proposed office of Commissioner of Immigration. When he finds out the duties of such an official, then the appointment may follow.

BY AUTHORITY.

NOTICE.

Any Bills against the Senate must be presented to the Clerk of the Senate not latter than 12 m. Friday July 10:h, 1903.

The barkentine Olympic, which arrived yesterday from Iquiqui with a cargo of nitre, has been placed in quarantine owing to the prevalence of plague at her last port. She is in the stream in charge of the Federal health authorities.

The following have been elected members of the Chamber of Commerce: C Hedemann, of the Honolulu Iron Works; E D Tenney, of Castle & Cooke; J R Galt, of the Hawaiian Trust Company, and E A Berndt, of W W Dimond & Company.

A meeting of Kamalo stockholders will be held next Wednesday evening at which a proposal to reduce the capital stock from a million to $500,000 will be discussed. If this plan is not followed it is likely that the property of the company will be sold and the estate abandoned.

Stephen Lake, a young man now in prison for burglarizing the Kamehameha school, has confessed to Detective David Kaapa, that he burglarized Charles Girdlar's store. He stole about $200 worth of dress goods to give to his sweetheart, a Portuguese girl. The property has been recovered.

IN EXTRA SESSION.

The Second Legislature for the Consideration of Appropriation Bills.

THE SENATE—FIFTY-EIGHTH DAY.

After the usual preliminaries, McCandless, from Public Lands, reported on House Bill 9, the Coney Estate road damage claim, recommending its being tabled. To be considered with the bill.

Dickey, from conference committee on Senate Bill 9, reported on items agreed upon. Crabbe moved adoption, and Dickey to table until action is taken by the House. The latter motion prevailed.

House Bill 8 was then taken up and passed third reading by a vote of 10 ayes to 1 no (Knohi).

House Bill 10, after an amendment had been made, passed second reading. Then House Bill 9 was amended by adding at the end of Section 1 the following, by Achi: "subject to a decision of the Supreme Court on agreed statements of facts or other proceedings of the Court." Finally the bill passed second reading, the motion to adopt the report on it being lost.

The House sent information that it adopted the report of the conference committee on Senate Bill 9. It also transmitted House concurrent resolution by Kumalae on the pay of laborers in the Road Department. Consideration, on motion of Achi, was deferred to Saturday.

Recess was taken at 11:10 o'clock to 3 o'clock.

THE HOUSE—FIFTY EIGHTH DAY.

After the disposal of the regular routine business in the usual manner, a communication from the Senate was read returning communication of the 3rd instant, setting forth the amendments made to Senate Bill 9, for correction. Also another returning House Bill 7, to compensate E P Dole in arguing the case of the Territory of Hawaii versus Oaki Mankichi as having passed third reading (yesterday).

Kumalae presented the following concurrent resolution: "Whereas, the Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii has appropriated different large sums of money to be expended by the Road Department; therefore, be it resolved and expressed by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring, that it was their intention in making said appropriations that the laborers working under the said Road Department be paid henceforth from said appropriations at the rate of not less then One Dollar and Fifty Cents per day." Adopted. 19 ayes to 4 noes.

Chillingworth, from conference committee on Senate Bill 9 (Eighteen Months Current Account Bill), reported the amendments agreed upon. Adopted, 22 ayes to 1 no.

Kealawaa presented a resolution that the Attorney General instruct the different Sheriffs and Deputy Sheriffs that persons engaging in any athletic sports on Sundays be not prosecuted. Keliinoi raised a point of order to refer back to the introducer, because it was not written on the regulation paper. Point sustained.

Unfinished business was ordered taken up on the further consideration of Senate Bill 3 on third reading. Harris moved to raise the "salary of Civil Engineer, Land Registration Court" from $2,250 to $3,600. Carried.

Aylett moved to amend "salaries of Guards for Public Buildings, $3,600" to read "salaries of 4 Guards for Public Buildings, at $60 each per month, $4,320." Vida to raise "salary for Deputy Insurance Commissioner" from $2,700 to $3,600. Carried. Aylett to raise "salary of Clerk and Bookkeeper," under the Public Works Department, from $3,150 to $3,600. Carried.

Kumalae moved to amend item of "Pay Roll, Thomas and Emma Square, $2,883" by specifying "4 men at $40 each per month." Carried. Keliinoi moved to increase the "salary of Secretary of the Board of Health from $3,000 to $3,600. Carried. Chillingworth to raise the "salary of Chief Health Officer" from $3,000 to $4,500. After some discussion, it carried by a close standing vote of 13 to 12. Kumalae moved to specify "Pay Roll, Pilot Boys, $8,647" by adding "8 boat boys at $65 each per month," leaving the amount the same. Carried.

Harris moved to insert "salary of Pilot, Kahului, without fees, $3,600." Carried. Keliinoi moved to insert a new item of "Pay Roll, Pilot Boats, Kahului, 4 boat boys at $65 each per month, $4,680," and Harris amended it to "4 boat boys at $30 each, $2,160." The Keliinoi motion carried.

Paele moved to reduce "Bacteriologist and Pathologist" from $3,600 $1,800. Lost. Lewis moved to insert a new item for "Pay Roll, Pilot Boat, Hilo, 4 boat boys at $65 each per month, $4,680." Carried.

Andrade asked to temporarily defer consideration of the bill, so that he might introduce a joint resolution so as to pass it in time to catch the Senate before noon. It is a resolution to Congress and affects us all, and is one upon which there need be no argument. Request granted. He then read the joint resolution elsewhere reproduced. After reading it through, Paele raised a point of order that it has no bearing on the purpose of this extra session and moved to table it, but the Chair did not sustain the point raised. On motion, the resolution was adopted by 23 ayes to 4 noes.

Knudsen moved to pass Senate Bill 3 on third reading as amended. Fernandez moved the previous question and prevailed.

The bill finally passed by a vote of 22 ayes to 5 noes.

House Joint Resolution.

To the Hon. Senate and House of Representatives of the United States.

Your petitioners, the Senate and House of Representatives of the Second Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii, respectfully represent:

1—That the cost and expense of the maintenance and care of the several harbors and lighthouses in the Territory of Hawaii, now and at all times heretofore borne by the Territory, should be borne by the Federal Government.

2—That the building of a breakwater at Hilo, on the Island of Hawaii, is very necessary for the better protection of shipping, but is of such magnitude as to be impossible to be built by the Territory.

3—That public buildings are necessary to accommodate the Federal Courts, Post-offices and Custom Houses, United States District Attorney, Marshal, Collector and other Federal offices, in Honolulu and in Hilo.

4—That the establishment and construction of the Naval Station at Pearl Harbor, and of a Military Post upon the lands selected for that purpose by the Government, is of supreme importance for the protection of the Islands, and for the safe guarding of the mainland.

5—That favorable consideration by Congress be given to the claim of the late Queen Liliuokalani, now a loyal, private citizen of the United States, and suitable provision be made for her.

6—That for the purpose of encouraging and assisting the production of coffee, a bounty of four cents a pound for all coffee produced in the Territory of Hawaii, for the ensuing ten years be authorized to be paid to the producers thereof.

Resolved, that Congress appropriate sufficient money for the purposes hereinabove stated, and that the Secretary of the Territory be instructed to send copies of this resolution, properly certified, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and that a suitable number of copies be given to the Hon Jonah K Kalaniauaole, the Delegate-elect for his use.

The Second Legislature for the Consideration of Appropriation Bills.

THE SENATE—FIFTY-SEVENTH DAY.

(AFTERNOON SESSION)

At the afternoon session of the Senate, House Bill 10, making appropriations for unpaid bills, was finally passed, with the following additions:

Expenses of Supreme and Circuit Courts	$ 375 00
Expenses of 24 Circuit Court trial jurors	1,138 90
Expenses of same, grand jurors	231 25
Expenses of same, Jas. A. Thompson	24 50

The Senate then adjourned.

Conference Agreements.

The Conference Committee on Senate bill 2 wrestled yesterday afternoon and last evening with the various items in the bill. On most of them concurrence was easy, the House, as a rule, winning its points. When the item of Japanese interpreter was reached there was a pronounced and stubborn kick against the present incumbent of the office, Mr Doyle. A majority of the committee seemed willing to pass the appropriation with the proviso that Mr Doyle not be employed in the office.

Agreements were easy on Senate bill 9, eighteen months salaries, the House carrying most of its points.

Hilo Kicker Tells of Fourth's Races.

Editor INDEPENDENT:

The Fourth of July was celebrated in grand style. The weather was simply perfect. Thousands of men, women, and children crowded the streets of Hilo all day and late into the night.

The race track was a sight to behold. The grand stand was crowded at fifty cents per head, and Berger's band discoursed elegant rag-time music. The Portuguese band of Hilo did not appear, their nose being put out of joint by the Kamehameha boys' band.

What shall we say of the Congress of Cowboys, roping and tying steers for the championship of the Territory? The first wild steer that was let out of the pen was a two months old calf. They had choked the poor thing to death before they let it out of the pen. It was captured by a cowboy before it had got its nose out. There was loud cheering at the cattle pen, but nobody on the grand stand knew what it was all about, and so it was throughout. No wild cattle were in sight, but sick cows from Olaa and Hamakua. As for the riding and breaking of broncos, the least said of it the better. They were easily recognized by parties from 'Frisco as having done duty many a year with their stunt of running to Lone Mountain Cemetery as carriage horses. The oration at the fish market by Attorney Le Blond was masterly. The old Bowery Theatre, N Y, never made "Rome howl," or twisted the British lion's tail as his nibs did. Mr Peck made his little address on breaking ground for the Kohala-Hilo Railway. It was very nice and so on. Everything passed off nice, and we think we all got the worth of our money. The only thing to mar the occasion was the action of the jockeys at the race course. The waits were very long. It seemed impossible for the judge on the grand stand to get them out. When they did appear it was a long time before they made the start. It means simply this: Any one betting on the Hilo races will get left, and it has been this way for years, or ever since a track was built in Hilo.

There were large crowds at the Elks show, and it was a perfect success.

Great credit is due to Mr Lambert of the Hilo & Olaa Railroad Co for the way he handled the crowd to and from the race track, and only twenty-five cents for the round trip.

All in all, after all, it was a red letter day for Hilo.

COOPER WANTS CAMPBELL.

During the discussion on the salary of the Supervising Engineer day before yesterday in the House of Representatives, which we deem to be the same as that of the Assistant Superintendent, previously struck out of the Six Months Salary Bill, and from the answers given by Superintendent Cooper in the grilling he received from members, it was plain to anyone with sufficient foresight and insight into the trend events are leading us to, that Marston Campbell was to be the man of the hour to help Poobah expend the money to be derived from the Loan Act. The attempt of some of the members to probe him, so as to get him to give a direct answer that he wanted Campbell, was unnecessary, and we think that when he refused to answer a direct question on that point, he was perfectly within his right, because it was a leading question, and others had a right to make and arrive at conclusions opposite to what he intended to convey, and in not conveying what what was desired, he submerged the real desire aimed at.

There need be no gainsaying that he evaded the giving of any direct answer which will mislead the House members. He says he needs a technical man and that there are just as good men as Campbell to be got, but inwardly he wants Campbell, and no other need apply. We have it upon the best of inside information, brought to us by our dickey bird, that as soon as Mr Cooper had tendered his resignation, he immediately suggested, and even nominated Mr Campbell to be appointed in his stead. And it is also known that he insisted on it and that the first choice of the Governor for the position, so 'tis said, fell upon the mantel of his "fraternal" friend Campbell, who since fell into disrepute and disfavor with the cohorts of the lower House.

Our dickey bird (not the Senator nor the Judge by that name) has brought us another information that Mr Cooper stated openly yesterday at a semi-public hostelry that if Mr Campbell tendered his resignation, he would accept it, but he would not ask for his resignation as requested by resolution of the House. Then, if such is the case, Mr Campbell is the man of Mr Cooper's choice as well as that of Governor Dole's.

In our opinion, if Mr Campbell is the man we think him to be, he should by all means resign, as he is not in odor with the people's representatives, and knowing it only too well, he should, in all decency, immediately tender his resignation. But if Mr Cooper should retain him in office, it would then clearly be a case of disregarding the wishes of the masses as expressed by resolution in the House. For the rest, we leave to the future and to posterity.

THOSE DISAGREEMENTS.

The cause of difference in the conference committee yesterday afternoon was over the items of salaries of the Japanese Interpreter and the Assistant Superintendent of Public Works in the Six Months Salary Bills. A compromise was moved and failed to be adopted, which is that the Senate give way to the House on the matter of the salary of the Japanese Intepreter which it had attempted to arrive at an agreement in an increased pay, and that the House give way to the Senate in the matter of inserting the salary of the Assistant Superintendent, which the lower body had struck out. But in both instances, the House would not recede from either item.

Those of the House attended to the business in a manner after our own heart. It is claimed that the "superior" crew gave way to many amendments by the "inferior" lot. Yes, it is all very true, but we are given to understand that most of them are inconsequential and hardly worth fighting over; and now, in the more important items, particularly in the above, over which much time was thrown away in fighting over the present incumbents, both of whom are unpopular, and it is these that the "superior" fellows want those "inferior" ones to make way to their better and "superior" judgment, but those of the lower strata cannot see it in such an "inferior" way. And another item these "superior" beings want is to increase the salary of the Superintendent of Public Instruction to that of an executive departmental head. We think this is both outwardly and inwardly wrong, when that branch of the Government service is purely a bureaucracy, and not a department, although called so for convenience sake. In the days that have gone beyond recall, it was always considered as a bureau and is so still today, a board of commissioners being in control, and the Superintendent is only its executive officer to carry out whatever the board decides upon to be done and to have done. And today, the duties of the Superintendent are not much above that of the former Inspector General of Schools, but they want to increase the pay, and this with three Normal Inspectors besides, who are virtually assistants to the present chief of the bureau of today. The office now appears to be a mere sinecure from what it used to be formerly, and it seems to be only to provide a handsome living for one who spends nearly all his time at headquarters, and who has highly paid assistants; these latter we think might as well be safely dispensed with, as in our opinion, they are unnecessary and too cumbersome, and are impositions upon the taxpayers.

By giving the native a taste of the Pierean spring—that "little knowledge" which wise men hold dangerous,—have we helped him and helped the country? Is he a better citizen; is he likely to be a better citizen? Under other circumstances would he not have realized his destiny as a contented laborer? Does he not use such education as he is qualified to absorb for his own harm and the disadvantage of the Territory? Can he assimilate enough knowledge to give him an equal chance with the white man or as useful a purpose in life? Is he able to get wisdom out of it all?—Advertiser.

The above appear, on their face, as mere questions, but they indicate an impulse if not an established intention. In other words, the Advertiser would suggest that the native Hawaiian is incapable of mental development beyond a certain limited scope, and that thereafter knowledge finds a false field in which to operate. It might just as well have said: "The natives were born to be hewers of wood and drawers of water. They have no intellect, no ambition, no hero worship, no goal; and they are incapable of possessing these noble qualities of 'our crowd.'"

We will not discuss the questions raised, for the facts too plainly negative them. It is just such utterances, however, that inflame the prejudices of the two races that control in these islands. No one outside of the Advertiser's clique desires race feeling. In fact the average kamaaina white would shun it as studiously as would Hawaiian. However, if the owner of the Advertiser wishes to press the matter to an issue it is reasonable to expect that he can be accommodated, although we do wish to suggest that he will have very few trumps to go in on and those trumps will be mighty, mitey small.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Of course "Cousin" Dole would readily sign a bill to compensate "Cousin" Dole, which he did wikiwiki as soon as received.

T Thomas Fortune does not like Honolulu. It is fortunate for unfortunate Hawaii that Fortune finds fickle fortune feasible in fertile foreign fields.

Officer McDuffie is making himself very unpopular in certain quarters. An officer who is working almost day and night to catch up with and punish crime is apt to make himself unpopular with criminals.

The Loan Appropriation bill is now up to the House. An impression has got abroad that if it is passed, a move would be quickly made by the "superior" body to adjourn sine die, irrespective of any salaries appropriations, as the Government may then fall back on the last Acts of 1901. But the House does not see it in that light and the Loan Bill is being held up till the others are passed upon in conference.

The Hawaiian Star gets a bad liver over the work of the Legislature, and morosely affirms that little good has been accomplished. Cheer up, "Twinkie," dear. Another election is coming, and if we all go damphool we may elect a Legislature to suit you.

We rise to a point of order again and claim that the rules of public interest demand the ownership of the Rapid Transit lines by the government. This concern is one of the most important of public utilities, and the control of it should be in the hands of the people and the enormous profits which must come in time should accrue to the people.

IN EXTRA SESSION.

The Second Legislature for the Consideration of Appropriation Bills.

THE SENATE—FIFTY-NINTH DAY.

After the usual preliminaries had been disposed of, House Bill 9 was taken up on third reading. McCandless moved to lay on table and lost. It also failed to pass third reading by a vote of 7 ayes to 3 noes.

House Bill 10, also on third reading, was passed by a vote of 10 ayes.

Secretary Carter informed the Senate that the Governor yesterday signed Act 12, to compensate E P Dole.

On motion of Dickey, a recess of ten minutes was taken at 10:18, but it reconvened at 11:25 o'clock.

A letter signed by Philip L Weaver, Assistant Attorney General, was then read, giving an expression of opinion on the construction of Section 54 of the Organic Act, on the question "whether or not the Governor must call another extra or special session of the Legislature, in order that the Legislature may pass Appropriation Bills in case the session fails to pass either Appropriation Bills?" After giving the opinion, the conclusion is arrived at "that the Governor has fulfilled all the requirements of the law in calling this extra session, and is not required to call a special session under any section of the Organic Act, although he may do so in his discretion." Received and filed.

On motion of McCandless, recess was taken at 11:40 to 2 p m.

THE HOUSE—FIFTY-NINTH DAY.

After disposing of the usual preliminaries, Secretary Carter, by communication, notified that the Governor had signed Act 12, to compensate Edmund P Dole for services rendered in the Oaaki Mankichi case before the U S Supreme Court.

A communication from Circuit Judges De Bolt and Gear was read, which is reproduced elsewhere, and accepted without a word.

The Senate sent information that the report of the conference committee on Senate Bill 9 was adopted yesterday. It also returned House Bill 8, relating to appropriations for the use of the Government Band, as having yesterday passed third reading.

Unfinished business was ordered taken up, the consideration of the report of the conference committee on the Loan Bill. On motion of Long, consideration was deferred to 2 p m today.

And again, on his motion, recess was taken at 10:45 o'clock.

CIRCUIT COURT OFFICIALS.

The Judges Hold Them to be Territorial, Not County Officials.

The following communication was read in the House of Representatives this morning:

The Circuit Court,
Honolulu, July 9th, 1903.

To the House of Representatives, Territory of Hawaii.

Gentlemen:—We respectfully submit that the Judges of the Circuit Courts and all officials of such Courts, to wit, the clerk, interpreters, stenographers and bailiffs, are Territorial officials and are not County officials. They certainly are not part of the machinery of the County Government, and without such officials the Courts are not complete. The salaries of all such officials (except the Judges, whose salaries are provided for by Congress) should be a Territorial charge and paid out of the Territorial Treasury. However, should your Honorable body not take that view of the source from which the salaries should be paid, and consider that the salaries should be paid out of the County Treasuries, which we submit would be wrong, still in that event we request that the salaries to be received by such officials from whatever source, be fixed by the Legislature, which is the Territorial law making body, and the body which should fix the compensation to be received by all Territorial officials. We believe that if the salaries are not fixed by your Honorable body, the door will thus be left open to the wrongful exercise of power and favoritism, and the pure administration of justice menaced.

We have the honor to be,
Your obedient servants,
J T DeBolt,
1st Judge, 1st Circuit Court,
Geo D Gear,
2nd Judge, 1st Circuit Court.

THE SENATE—FIFTY-EIGHTH DAY.

(AFTERNOON SESSION)

The Senate met again at 3 o'clock with nine members present. The conference committee reported the agreements on the eighteen months salary bill. Without debate the report was adopted and the bill passed third reading. The Andrade resolution to Congress in regard to improvements, subsidy on coffee, etc., was reported but President Crabbe asked that it be deferred as Mr Baldwin had been requested to interview the Governor regarding it.

Senator Achi reported that the conference committee had failed absolutely to agree on Senate bill 2. He was requested to put his report in writing, after which the matter of discharging the committee and asking for a new conference will be considered.

IN EXTRA SESSION.

The Second Legislature for the Consideration of Appropriation Bills.

(AFTERNOON SESSION)

Senate bill 3, providing salaries for the eighteen months beginning with January 1 next, was referred back by the House with amendments. The amended bill carried the old Marston Campbell rider, one one of the items that tied up the six months bill in conference.

Senator Baldwin moved not to concur, which was the signal for discussion and numerous suggestions. Finally the motion prevailed and Achi, Kalaukalani, Dickey, Woods and Nakapaahu were appointed on the conference committee.

The following veto message from the Governor was read:

I am unable to approve of the following item of Act XIII of the extra session of the Legislature in 1903, entitled "An Act making special appropriations for the departmental use of the Territory during the period commencing with the first day of January, 1904, and ending with the thirtieth day of June 1905."

"Kona Orphanage, providing a semi-annual financial statement of all receipts and disbursements made to the Board of Health, $3,000."

My objections are as follows:

The Kona Orphanage is a private school. If it should be urged that under government assistance and the condition of reporting semi-annually to the government its money receipts and disbursements, it becomes a quasi public school; it is still within the class of schools excluded by Section 55 of the Organic Act from government assistance, in that it is "not under the exclusive control of the government."

I therefore return the act above referred to for your reconsideration of this item.

SANFORD B DOLE.
Governor.

Executive Chamber, Territory of Hawaii, July 10, 1903.

After some discussion as to the real character of the institution, Senator Dickey was appointed a committee to examine its charter, which is on file in the Treasury office, and recess was taken to 7:30 p m.

THE HOUSE—FIFTY-NINTH DAY.

Order was called by the Speaker at 4 o'clock, and a communication from the Senate was read, that it fails to concur in the amendments made to Senate Bill 3 and that it has appointed a conference committee of five to meet a like committee from the House. On motion of Kumalae, a conference committee was appointed, composed of Kalama, Harris, Wright, Koudsen and Kou, and announced that it will meet at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

Another communication from the Senate was also read, returning House Bill 10, supplementary bill on Unpaid Bills, and its amend-

THE SENATE—FIFTY-EIGHTH DAY.

(AFTERNOON SESSION)

The Senate met again at 3 o'clock with nine members present. The conference committee reported the agreements on the eighteen months salary bill. Without debate the report was adopted and the bill passed third reading. The Andrade resolution to Congress in regard to improvements, subsidy on coffee, etc., was reported but President Crabbe asked that it be deferred as Mr Baldwin had been requested to interview the Governor regarding it.

Senator Achi reported that the conference committee had failed absolutely to agree on Senate bill 2. He was requested to put his report in writing, after which the matter of discharging the committee and asking for a new conference will be considered.

IN EXTRA SESSION.

The Second Legislature for the Consideration of Appropriation Bills.

(AFTERNOON SESSION)

Senate bill 3, providing salaries for the eighteen months beginning with January 1 next, was referred back by the House with amendments. The amended bill carried the old Marston Campbell rider, one one of the items that tied up the six months bill in conference.

Senator Baldwin moved not to concur, which was the signal for discussion and numerous suggestions. Finally the motion prevailed and Achi, Kalauokalani, Dickey, Woods and Nakapaahu were appointed on the conference committee.

The following veto message from the Governor was read:

I am unable to approve of the following item of Act XIII of the extra session of the Legislature in 1903, entitled "An Act making special appropriations for the departmental use of the Territory during the period commencing with the first day of January, 1904, and ending with the thirtieth day of June 1905."

"Kona Orphanage, providing a semi-annual financial statement of all receipts and disbursements made to the Board of Health, $3,000."

My objections are as follows:

The Kona Orphanage is a private school. If it should be urged that under government assistance and the condition of reporting semi-annually to the government its money receipts and disbursements, it becomes a quasi public school; it is still within the class of schools excluded by Section 55 of the Organic Act from government assistance, in that it is "not under the exclusive control of the government."

I therefore return the act above referred to for your reconsideration of this item.

SANFORD B DOLE.
Governor.

Executive Chamber, Territory of Hawaii, July 10, 1903.

After some discussion as to the real character of the institution, Senator Dickey was appointed a committee to examine its charter, which is on file in the Treasury office, and recess was taken to 7:30 p m.

THE HOUSE—FIFTY-NINTH DAY.

Order was called by the Speaker at 4 o'clock, and a communication from the Senate was read, that it fails to concur in the amendments made to Senate Bill 3 and that it has appointed a conference committee of five to meet a like committee from the House. On motion of Kumalae, a conference committee was appointed, composed of Kalama, Harris, Wright, Knudsen and Kou, and announced that it will meet at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

Another communication from the Senate was also read, returning House Bill 10, supplementary bill on Unpaid Bills, and its amend-

SATURDAY, JULY 11, 1903.

IS QUEEN LILIUOKALANI.

Representative Andrade, in his joint resolution introduced in the House the day before yesterday with much gusto, says in the fifth representation "that favorable consideration by Congress be given to the claim of the late Queen Liliuokalani." (Italics ours.) Here we are again. Since when has Queen Liliuokalani become "late?" When did she die to become so "late," pray? The truth of the matter is, a fact that cannot be denied by any amount of Republican resolutions for political grand stand play and show-off that their motive is love and respect for her, that she is still in the land of the living and has not yet become as late as they would want her to be. This is not the first time this allusion has been made since the coming together of the present body of lawmakers, for if we rightly remember, it first occurred during the late regular session in a resolution introduced in the Senate by Senator Crabbe. But now, it crept into the House and missed the sight, scent and hearing of the "royalists" among both the majority Republicans and the minority Home Rulers. From our conception of things, they all seem eager to kill Her Majesty, whom they like to call as ex-Queen, but now it is the "late" Queen. Which is the correct thing, pray, may we ask? She may be dead to them all, but she is still alive in the hearts of her people and is likely yet to outlive many of her detractors and defamers. All this show of some consideration is all a make believe and a sham in the eyes of the people, as the controlling majority expect to catch more native votes in less than two years from now. The thing is—will they then be believed by them, the masses? It's a matter

SHOULD BE CHANGES.

It is not too early to begin discussion of the new men for the next Senate; nor is it too late to express opinions in regard to the four-year, or 1901, men who are now leaving the Senate, nor too early to show reasons why some of them should be invited to "go way back," etc., next time. We will have something to say on this matter in a few days. In the meanwhile we desire to say that there are some Senators who have absolutely outlived their usefulness—i. e., if they ever had any. Cecil Brown and W C Achi are conspicuous among the number. Brown made the boast in the Senate in 1901 that he could not be defeated at the polls. Maybe not, but after Mr Brown's record (a record in the interest of Brown and his business friends) is it not about time for the voter to listen less to bluster and Brown and more to sense and self?

Mr Brown has been in the Legislature since 1878. And how did he get there? By native votes, every-time. How did he get the native votes? By a pretense of friendship and soft soap during the few months preceding elections. There is nothing on record or elsewhere to show that Mr Brown has ever completely and heartily lived up to a campaign pledge, except in cases where the adaptation of such pledge served to line his own pockets or otherwise better the interests of himself and his friends. He has been adroit enough—by keeping his mouth shut at times and making grand-stand plays at others—to create an impression among voters that he had done something for them, and that, together with a little taffy, bluff and manipulation has always served to bring him up serenely at the succeeding elections.

Mr Achi was also elected by native votes, and what has he done for them? He and Mr Brown have been leaders in almost every instance of opposition in the Senate to measures arrising in the House and supported by Hawaiian members of the House. Mr Achi is the man who dubbed the House "the inferior body," manifestly intending it to be a slur on the Hawaiians who compose a large majority of it. In their opposition to the Hawaiians, who elected them, and to Hawaiian interests Brown and Achi have pulled together like a yoke of oxen. The fact should be carefully impressed and remembered for the next election.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

If Queen Liliuokalani has become "late," how about Mrs Dominis? There was once a time, within the present decade, that she was not Her Majesty nor the Queen, but plain Mrs Dominis. What has come over their dreams and why this change of heart and of front? Politics and vote fishing, isn't it? But where does the ex Queen come in?

Small yachts, heavy weather and the absence of life-saving facilities is a combination unfavorable to pleasure sailing on ordinary occasions. The swamping of Henry Walker's yacht Lotus, dumping four men into the swell off Waikiki yesterday, came near ending in fatalities. The risk taken by Honolulu yachtsmen in rough weather at sea seems to a landsman as far outweighing the imaginary pleasure there is in the thing.

The establishment of a home for Hawaiian girls by Mrs Henry Waterhouse and other ladies is the fruit of a laudable ambition. We are sure that much good will come of it if properly managed and kept up. A shade of hypocrisy in earlier attempts along the same line caused their failure, but we do not anticipate anything of the sort this time.

Frank Woodbridge is, of course, the man referred to in the cable despatch as being the "defaulting treasurer of Hawaii" in Manila. The author of the message had mixed him up with Mr Wright. It will be remembered that both embezzlements and fly-by-nights came along about the same time, and both were more or less known of in Manila and the Orient.

F M Hatch was informed in the columns of the Advertiser at his office this morning that he was "seriously ill of lung trouble." The morning paper was correct in its statement excepting that Mr Hatch is not "seriously ill of lung trouble" nor of anything else. The gentleman's friends who were alarmed over the rumor may rest easy about the matter.

Tonight's Fistic Battles.

There is plenty of Millett money in town this afternoon, but the showing of Woods at his training quarters in the past week has brought his stock up remarkably. Both men are in the pink of condition. It is believed to be Millett's intention to rush the fight from the start.

Huihui was never in better shape than now, while it is reported that Latham is off in condition. Huihui is extremely quick and hits a wicked blow.

Ah Sam's bad knuckles are in fairly good shape. He is a quick fighter. In this fight it is understood to be Ah Sam's intention to "study" his man in the first round.

The favorite in the big fight is Millett, two to one. In the soldier-native go, Huihui is the favorite, ten to eight. Ah Sam is the favorite in the Chinese fight, even money, although odds would probably not be hard to get.

will be the woman of to-morrow. She does not know it, perhaps her mother does not fully understand it, but between the "to-day" when she is a girl and the "to-morrow" when she will be a woman, her life's happiness and health are in the balance. If she is to be a full-breasted, strong, healthy woman she must develop rightly now. She is at a crisis. She needs more strength, more blood to tide it over. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are the one medicine that will give her the strength and make the new blood.

Our new book, PLAIN TALKS TO WOMEN, explains why these pills are of special benefit to growing girls. A copy will be sent to any address, FREE on request.

Miss Frankie Hathaway, of Sixteenth Street, Holland, Mich., said: "I am 21 years old, at 16 I was pale and weak and did not gain under the doctor's care. Other treatment brought no better result and by the time I was nineteen years old I was so weak I could not walk across the floor. I was terribly emaciated and my skin had lost all color. The doctor pronounced the disease anemia. Once my friends advised me to try Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People. I bought a box and before I had taken all of the pills I found that they were doing me good. Appetite increased and the healthy color began to show in my cheeks and lips. I continued to use the pills until I had taken fifteen boxes and found myself permanently cured. Since then I have had no return of my old trouble and cannot remember when I was so strong and healthy as now. I know that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People saved my life, and I believe that no other medicine could have done it."—FRANKIE HATHAWAY, Ottawa Times, Holland, Mich.

The Humphreys-Thompson disbarment hearing was concluded yesterday and when briefs are filed the case will be taken under consideration by the Supreme court.

There promises to be some red hot games at the baseball park this afternoon. The contest between the Kamehamehas and Punahous began at 1:45. At 3:30 the Honolulus and Mailes will play.

The yacht Lotus capsized off Diamond Head yesterday afternoon, dumping Charles and Henry Walker, Herbert Honshaw and a Portuguese named Manuel into the water. The men were rescued from their peril by the steam launch Waterwitch.

Reception on Anglia.

Officers and men of the Anglia royally entertained Honolulu's smart set on board the cable ship yesterday afternoon. For the occasion the vessel was handsomely decorated. Dancing was a feature of the afternoon, the music being furnished by Ellis Bros' quintette. Refreshments were served throughout the receiving hours and an excellent collation was prepared by Steward Cady. Everybody had a chance to inspect the ship and had a most enjoyable time.

IN EXISA SESSION.

The Second Legislature for the Consideration of Appropriation Bills.

THE SENATE—SIXTIETH DAY.

After the usual preliminaries, on motion of Kaoni, Senate Bill 9 was taken up on reconsideration.

Dickey presented a report on the nature of the charter of the Kona Orphanage, the proper title of the institution being "The Hawaiian Orphanage and Industrial Schools Association," incorporated on February 28, 1902. Tabled to be considered with the Governor's veto.

And on motion of Achi, the veto was taken up for consideration and sustained by a unanimous vote of 12 noes.

Dickey presented a resolution that the President be authorized to approve all bills and vouchers which he may find correct [after the adjournment sine die], calling for the payment of any monies for epenses of the Senate. The payment to the Clerk of the Senate for 20 days extra is also authorized. Adopted.

House Bill 9 was then taken up and passed third reading by a vote of 8 ayes to 4 noes.

Recess was taken at 11:45 o'clock

THE HOUSE—SIXTIETH DAY

The preliminaries being disposed of as usual, Knudsen, from conference committee on Senate Bill 2 (Six Months Salary Bill), presented a report on the bill, and while being read, Kumalae raised a point of order that two items, those of salaries of Superintendent of Public Instruction and Auditor had been reconsidered in conference and carried, and then a fight ensued when a motion to adjourn was made and prevailed, and these items are now in the air. The Chair did not sustain the point made, as the Chair is not supposed to know of whatever the committee did in conference other than the report presented and ruled the point out.

The Clerk then continued the reading, and after being read through, Kupihea moved adoption and Kumalae to defer consideration till this afternoon. On the latter motion being put, it failed to pass, and on the adoption, it carried by a vote of 25 ayes to 4 noes.

Before the disposal of the above, a message arrived from the Governor at 10:45 o'clock.

Kalama, from conference committee on Senate Bill 3 (Eighteen Months Salary Bill), presented a report on the bill, and after being read through, on motion the report was adopted by a vote of 24 ayes and 5 noes.

Vida moved to take up the conference committee report on the Loan Bill (House Bill 2), but the Speaker said that a veto from the Governor must first be disposed of. It was a veto of the Kona Orphanage item in Senate Bill 9. Lewis moved to sustain and Wright to override the veto. The veto was sustained by a unanimous vote of 29 ayes.

Fernandez then asked to take up the Loan Bill. Aylett asked to be allowed to say a few words before passing the measure, and on being allowed, he said that we have now launched two canoes, only one yet remains to be launched. He had opposed it, but for the good of the Territory and the benefit of the people, he would withdraw his opposition to the word "or," and asked all to vote unanimously to pass the bill, and in so doing, take hold of the paddle and launch the last of the three canoes.

Oili said that he had based his opposition on the word "or," and he was of the same opinion still. While on his way, some one said to him from behind his back that he was one of those who would deprive the people of the Loan Bill, and he feels that his constituents of the Fifth District are behind him to do away with that objectionable word, even if that would be the means of defeating these proposed benefits. But he is surprised to find the member from the Fourth, who made such a stand the other day, turn tail on the proposition and now asks us to sustain the bill. It is simply preposterous.

Kaoiho said he was one of the two warriors sent to battle on the battlefield of Waterloo with the Senate, and he with Oili have reported in the minority. He believed in remaining with his conviction.

Pase said that with that word in, the money to be gotten on the loan may be misapplied should an epidemic arise, and made allusion to the plague days. He believed that the money should be spent where intended.

Fernandez asked him certain questions when the Speaker said that members had a certain misapprehension, but he would say to them that the Loan Bill is the most important bill of the session. Every item in it is specific and must be spent in the places intended. There need be no fear that the money will be misapplied, as the Territorial officials will have to account to the next Legislature.

Fernandez, continuing, said that it was wrong to blame the Senate for that amendment by inserting the word "or." He said, in all sincerity, that he made the amendment in conference and was carried.

On the motion to adopt being put, it was carried by a vote of 27 ayes to 2 noes.

Chillingworth presented a resolution empowering the Clerk to prepare the journal of the extra session and to have at least 500 copies printed—200 in English and 300 in Hawaiian; also giving him 60 days within which to complete the work, and also to take charge of all furniture and writing materials and turn them over to the Superintendent of Public Works; and further to distribute copies of the journal, 5 copies of each version to each member, 1 copy each to Senators, 1 copy to the several heads of Departments and Bureaus, 1 copy to the several libraries and public institutions in this Territory, and 40 copies of each version to be reserved by the Clerk for the use of the members of the next Legislature, and to turn the balance, if any, to the Secretary of the Territory for distribution as he may think best. On motion of Harris, the 60 days allowance was reduced to 40, and then the resolution was adopted.

On motion of Kumalae, recess was taken at 12:15 to 8 this evening.

IN EXTRA SESSION.

The Second Legislature for the Consideration of Appropriation Bills.

THE SENATE—SIXTIETH DAY.

[EVENING SESSION]

Two important things were done in the early part of the evening session. One was the killing of the Kumalae resolution making the minimum wages of laborers in the Public Work department $1 50 per day. The reason advanced for knocking it out was that it would work a disadvantage in place of an advantage to labor. A stated sum is appropriated for labor and if wages are raised it would be necessary to cut down the number of men employed. The other was the killing of the Andrade resolution relating to Pearl harbor, pension to the Queen, coffee, etc., it being ruled out of order as not referring to the object for which the special session was called.

The following veto message from Governor Dole was read, and in all the items except that of the Koloa road the vetoes were sustained:

I am unable to approve of the following items of Act 18 being "An Act Making Special Appropriations for the Use of the Government of the Territory of Hawaii during the two years which will end with the 30th day of June, A D 1905:"

Wharf and Landing, Hilo, Hawaii	$20,000.00
Homestead Road, Pololu to Honokane	2,000 00
Purchase Police Patrol Wagon and Equipment.	1,000 00
Re-locating and re-constructing road, Lahaina to Ukumehame	6,000.00
Road Machinery	6,000 00
Re-constructing and re-locating road, Molona to Kalihiwai	5,000.00
Re-constructing road, Nawiliwili Landing to Lihue Post Office	10,000.00
Re-constructing and re-locating road, Nawiliwili Landing to Lihue Mill via Court House	6,500.00
Re constructing and re-locating roads from Koloa town, including road to Koloa Landing	6,000.00

My objections are as follows:

The wharf and landing at Hilo are not necessary at the present time, there being now one good wharf there belonging to the government at which ships can lie, and another wharf being under construction by the Hilo Railroad Company of a very large size, which, by agreement with the Government will be open to the public.

As to the rest of the items objected to, it appears to me to be an unsound policy for the Government to borrow money for its running expenses for repair work and for objects not of a somewhat permanent character; for instance, repairing and improving roads already constructed, purchasing road machinery, harness, wagons or horses.

As our successors fifteen years hence will have to pay for this loan, it is just to them that the work for which it is expended should be lasting enough to be of permanent, or at least, of long continued benefit to them.

I therefore return the said Act for

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

How about Speaker Fred. W. Beckley for Governor?

Now gentleman of the Executive, you're got all you asked for, get busy.

Russia has held 250 men for trial at Kishineff on account of the murder of Jews. We shall now expect to hear from the United States on the Willington, Del., and other hanging bees.

It is sincerely to be hoped that Representative Andrade will have better success raising frogs than did Joe Marsden. The latter brought the varmints here to kill mosquitoes but the morquitoes apparently got the best of them.

Joe Millett is undoubtedly the best fighter that has visited Honolulu since the time of the Sharkey-"Rough" Thompson bout in the Summer of 1894. He is quick, a powerful hitter and a clean fighter. Outside of the ring he is a gentleman of a clear-cut type, which also counts for much in his favor.

The death of Judge W Luther Wilcox last evening, while not unexpected, was a shock to the community and the cause of genuine regrets at all hands. Deceased was in every respect a good and valuable citizen, one that the Islands could ill afford to lose, and had endeared himself to far more hearts than would ordinarily be expected of one of his unassuming and retiring disposition. He was loved by his acquaintances and respected by those who may have differed from him. As a Judge on the bench his record bears no cause for criticism, and he was a magistrate in whom prosecutor and defendant invariably had the utmost and equal confidence. Judge Wilcox will long be remembered and it will be hard to fill his place in the life of this city.

It is not always the ill that need a physician, but sometimes the well, who would keep so and progress. The time has come when Hawaii is in need of advice and it will not be unwise to get it from the best source. The Territory is today in the market as a seller of bonds. There are several questions with regard to local securities that must be settled, as to expenditures under counties and for them and an expert should be consulted at once.—Advertiser.

Can it be that the gentleman who had so many horses shot under him in the battle of Nuuanu valley wants another fat job?

Five baseball teams were too many anyhow for a small city like this. Inasmuch as the Mailes haven't the ghost of a show of winning, or even of making a reasonably fair record, it would seem the proper caper for the other four clubs to absorb its best players and break up the team. Such a move would be in the interest of good baseball, the only quality of the article the public requires. We hope Mr Kiley will take up the subject in his lectures on "The rise and fall of the Mailes."

The Midway Islands was taken possession of by Captain Wm Reynolds, sailing in the U S S Lackawanna, in 1867, for the purpose of establishing there a coaling base for the Pacific Mail S S Company. Coal was landed on Sand island by the Company in 1869 and formal possession of the property was taken. On account of the difficulty in transferring coal from the island to steamers, however, the project was abandoned before anything had been made of it, the Company establishing its mid-Pacific coaling base at Honolulu.

The Advertiser (Republican) is dissatisfied with the work of the Legislature. Considering the fact that it was a Republican Legislature in a Democratic country we think that very good work has been done. That "hind sight is better than foresight" is as true in the case of Legislatures as in that of the individual, and the only way we know of to avoid mistakes is for a Legislature to begin at the end of the session and work back gradually to the Governor's message at the beginning. If patent politicians, cranks and men with personal axes to grind could be eliminated from the Legislature of the future, a great step in advance would be made.

Millet Again Wins.

Joe Millet was given the decision over Billy Woods at the Orpheum Saturday evening at the beginning of the sixth round, although he really had his man beaten in the fourth and could have knock him out then had he so desired.

Madeira was an easy victor over Joe Mattox.

The Chinese fight was little more than a clinching match, resulting in a draw.

The Huihui-Soldier Latham resulted in a draw, the native losing his head, as it was feared he would do.

The house was an immense one and big money was taken in.

Saturday's Baseball.

Kamehameha won from Punahou in Saturday's baseball game by a score of 8 to 2. The contest was a lively one from start to finish and was settled only in the eleventh. The second game, between the Honolulus and Mailes, was a bit one-sided, ending in a score of 13 to 7 in favor of the former.

Judge Wilcox Gone.

Judge W L Wilcox died at the Queen's hospital at 8 o'clock last evening of blood poisoning and other minor disorders. At the bedside were most of the relatives now in the country, Governor Dole and other close friends. The funeral will take place from Kawaiahao church this afternoon.

Judge Wilcox was born on Kauai fifty years ago and completed a limited education at Oahu college. In 1869 he entered the employ of the Government as Hawaiian interpreter in the courts, a position he held until appointed district magistrate in 1897. In every capacity he was considered an honest, prudent and valuable man. As a side business venture he operated the large poi factory in Kalihi, an institution of great importance to the natives and other people of the district.

A widow survives the deceased, but there are no children. Not a very large amount of property was left, Judge Wilcox having lived pretty close up to his income and being liberal to the poor and unfortunate. In his demise the country has lost a valuable citizen and many people a true friend.

to wait upon the Governor and to inform him that this House was ready to adjourn and to ask him whether he had any further business. Just at this point, a committee from the Senate, consisting of Baldwin, Kalauokalani and Pare, was led up to the Speaker's dais by the Sergeant at-Arms. Baldwin, on behalf of the committee, said that the Senate was ready to adjourn and wanted to know whether the House had any further business that needed its concurrence. The Speaker informed him that the House had no further business other than a concurrent resolution just passed, upon which the Clerk said he was preparing a communication to the Senate, and that a committee had just been appointed to wait and inform the Senate of its readiness to adjourn.

On motion, a recess was taken at 9:10, subject to the call of the Chair.

Order was called at 10:40, and after a little wait, a message arrived from the Governor vetoing certain items in the Loan Bill. On motion of Harris, it was ordered spread upon the journal, and Kumalae moved to sustain the veto. Paele asked to consider each item vetoed, but Aylett said what is the use, the Governor's objections being on old works, and it's only waste of time to consider item by item. On the motion to sustain being put, it prevailed by a vote of 21 ayes.

Secretary Carter gave notification that the Governor signed Acts 16 and 17, being respectively, the Six and Eighteen Months Salary Bills.

Another message from the Governor was also read, congratulating the Legislature for coming to a close of its labors and for the liberal appropriations made.

The minutes of the day's session were then read and approved.

Speaker Beckley then congratulated all, before adjourning, for the work accomplished and the results achieved. He said that the House may have occupied more time than was necessary, but they have before them the Governor's words of congratulation, thanking the legislators for their labors. The record was one to be proud of despite the adverse comments of newspapers. All the improvements asked for by constituents are provided. By the vote of the day, all racial differences and petty schemes have been put aside and the interests of the people regarded as being above all. He thanked the members for their expression of confidence in him, which he deemed a most priceless tribute, and that what success he had attained was alike due to all. They differed in political beliefs, but in their work they have sunk all such differences and worked for the people. And wherever they may be, rest assured that the aloha of their Speaker will always be with them.

Calling upon the Chaplain, every one in the hall rising, he offered up his final legislative benediction, at the end of which, Interpreter Coelho led the finale by singing "Aloha Oe" and closed with "Hawaii Ponoi," concluding at 11:40 o'clock.

Next came the following congratulatory message from the Governor.

I have no further public business to recommend for your consideration at this session of the Legislature.

Permit me to congratulate you upon the completion of the work of the session and to thank you for the liberal appropriations you have made for the administration of the public affairs of the Territory.

SANFORD B DOLE,
Governor.

Executive Chamber, July 11, 1903.

McCandless introduced resolutions thanking President Crabbe for services and Baldwin another of the same tenor in respect to the officers. Both passed unanimously. The minutes were read and approved and, after prayer by the Chaplain, adjournment sine die was taken.

THE HOUSE—SIXTIETH DAY.

Order was called by the Speaker at 8:50 o'clock and a communication from the Senate was read, informing that the conference committee report on Senate Bill 3 had been adopted. Also another conveying like information on Senate Bill 2.

It also transmitted the following concurrent resolution "that the Governor and Secretary of the Territory are hereby requested and authorized to issue one-fourth or more of the amount to be borrowed under the Loan Act, in bonds of the denomination of one hundred dollars." Keliinoi moved to take up consideration and also to adopt the same. Adopted by a vote of 20 ayes.

Kalama, on suspension of the rules, offered a resolution to allow the stenographer 30 days extra within which to prepare the journal at full pay. Adopted, on motion of Paele.

Vida also presented the following resolution: "Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Second Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii express their high appreciation of the fair, temperate and able manner with which Hon Fred W Beckley, Speaker of the House, has presided over the deliberations of the session now closing. His strict integrity to his important trust as a representative of the whole people, his nonpartisan spirit and his thoughtful and timely counsels in dealing with the issues of popular and competent government have inspired the confidence of his associates in this House, materially advanced the best interest of the Territory and established a more harmonious sentiment among all reputable American citizens of these Islands.

"Resolved, That we as representatives of the people extend to Speaker Beckley our congratulations for his success and our thanks for the courteous consideration shown all members of this House irrespective of party or class." On motion of Keliiioi, the Clerk putting the motion, it was unanimously adopted.

There being no further business, the Speaker appointed Harris, Kumalae and Keliiioi as a committee

IOWA IDEA IS STILL TO FRONT.

WASHINGTON, June 27:

The republicans of Iowa are still shouting that the "Iowa idea" is not dead, and that it will be incorporated in the platform adopted by the republican state convention.

If the republicans who believe as does Gov. Cummins concerning the revision of the tariff covering the schedules that shelter the trusts and monopolies want real tariff revision and reduction they can get it. Instead of howling about it in their state platforms, why not put it in the platforms on which their members of Congress are nominated and elected and compel those candidates to stand for tariff revision and reduction or get out of the race. Tariff schedules are changed by the Congress and not by state conventions or legislatures. If they are going to put tariff revision and reduction in their state platform, why not put it in in the shape of positive instructions to their delegation in Congress to vote for it? It is a well-known fact that the delegation in Congress from Iowa is bitterly opposed to any tariff legislation that will lower the tariff wall in any way. If the "Iowa idea" is to have any weight or bear any fruit it must be adopted by the Iowa delegation in Congress. If only sixteen republicans in the next House will vote with the democrats we will have a bill passed by the House shortly after Congress meets in regular session that will take the shelter tents off many of the worst monopolies and trusts in the country. Of course such a bill could never get through the republican Senate, but it would prove the sincerity of those republicans who are howling about tariff revision and reform.

The truth of the matter is that they are not sincere. They are getting up this howl about the "Iowa idea" in order to fool the people in a state where their representatives in Congress come here and continuously vote to retain the schedules that will shelter monopoly. The "Iowa idea" is a gold brick.

Democrats and republicans alike have always denounced the English policy of the opium monopoly in India and the opening of the Chinese Empire to the opium trade, but our present administration appears to now approve it for even a worse opium system is to be forced on the Philippines. The exclusive right to run opium joints in those islands is to be sold at auction, a law for that purpose having been prepared, and is now before the Philippine Commission. This bill is coated so that the American people will be able to swallow it. In order to prepare the American public for the proposal, the War Department lately has been giving out vague information to the correspondents about new opium laws designed to "restrict the use of

TUESDAY, JULY 14, 1903.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

If Uncle Sam desires that his employees belong to the National Guard, he should see to it that they are either given ample time to attend to their military duties or are protected from courts martial.

W R Hearst, being a native of California and well acquainted in the Islands, comes nearer to us and would likely do more for this Territory than any Presidential possibility in sight. Besides having the confidence of business men of the east, he has been generally endorsed by labor unions and various farmer organizations in the West and South. We feel certain, at this time, that the Democrats of Hawaii could not do better than to instruct their delegates to the National Convention to vote for Mr Hearst.

So the County Act case will not be taken up by the Supreme Court until the October term. Why not? Is that another scheme to delay the application of the law? It looks very much like it. If the matter is not taken up until October it is pretty certain that a conclusion will not be reached before January 4, the day the law should go into effect, causing confusion if not seriously crippling or retarding the establishment of county systems. We say take this case up at once. It is more important than vacations, and the people want an early settlement of it.

"Much has been said" about Governor Dole appearing yesterday at the funeral services of the late Judge Wilcox, in the funeral procession and at the grave in "white togs" from top to bottom, and particularly among the gentler sex. They (the women) all thought it was something "awful" that one who is supposed to have thought much of the late judge and the head official of the Territory to appear in white, while others who are not in official life appeared in belongings befitting the occasion. We think it was, at most, bad, and very poor, taste on the Chief Executive's part to so appear on a most solemn occasion, but his appreciation for the worth of the man dead may be covered up in his white dress "where moth and rust do not corrupt."

Wailuku is fairly bursting with pride over her achievements and distinctions of the Summer. First she got the court house of Maui County and enough money in the appropriation bills to run a city. Then came along the Fourth of July with horse races, baseball and visitors galore, and now another grand time is being fixed up for August 12. Besides these things she has had a visit from Queen Liliuokalani and party, and this week is to be visited by Governor Dole, Captain Redman and others. In the boom line Wailuku is surely giving St Louis a close race for first place, according to last report.

If the new loan bonds can be placed in New York and other mainland centers, it would hardly be good business to prevent it, in that the placing of the bonds abroad would mean the bringing of just that much new money into the country. The claim has been made that there is not now enough money in the Islands to properly protect and develop our business enterprises, and that money will for a long time be worth a great deal more than the bonds will pay. Eastern capital does not yet understand Hawaiian plantation securities; and when we do have something to offer that it can understand and wants for heaven's sake let our local men, who cannot afford the investment anyhow, stay out.

The high esteem in which the late Judge W Luther Wilcox was held by the public was evidenced yesterday in the immense throng that attend the funeral from Kawaiahao, and the deluge of floral tributes sent in from every quarter and coming from every nationality. There was also the mute testimonial of faces upon which the evidences of a profound regret were distinctly marked, and in the hundreds that made up the procession in the long journey to the cemetery was shown a loyalty out of the ordinary. It was noticed that a large majority of those present were Hawaiians, illustrating the important place the late jurist held in the hearts of the sons of the soil.

It is not proper to comment on a court matter in process of trial, but we have to say that in the case of the Portuguese boy run over by the bus driver, Makaio, at the junction of Wyllie and Nuuanu streets the authorities will have little difficulty in discovering two sides. As we understand it the boy is one of the gang of hoodlums that has infested that corner for years. They shoot craps for money in the middle of the street and in the yard back of the Chinese store; curse and use foul epithets when ladies are passing, and are the terror of passing rigs, jumping on and off of them and insulting the drivers when whipped away. This boy had jumped on the bus in that way and was lashed off. In landing he accidently fell, striking under the wheel. That is as we get the story.

The Last Rites.

The funeral of the late Judge W L Wilcox took place from Kawaiahao church yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and was attended by a concourse of Territorial, Federal and court officials, attorneys and sorrowing friends. Services were brief but impressive. The procession to Nuuanu cemetery was headed by a squad of police. At the grave yard the Hawaiian band discoursed appropiate dirges. The pall bearers were W O Smith, High Sheriff Brown, Wm Henry, Henry Smith, J L Kaulukou, W R Castle, David Dayton and Charles Luce.

Sergeant Court-Martialled.

Sergeant J H Miller, of Company C, N G H, a letter carrier in the postoffice department, was court-martialled at military headquarters last night on the charge of absenting himself from the recent encampment at Kapiolani park for three days without proper excuse. The court consisted of Lieutent-Colonel Ziegler, Major Riley and Captain Gus Rose. Captain J A Thompson appeared as Judge-Advocate and the defendant handled his own case. The decision will have to be passed upon by Colonel Jones before being made public.

A Portuguese boy named Juanita de Avila was run over by the Nuuanu valley bus at Nuuanu and Wylie streets yesterday and sustained a badly crushed leg. Makaio, the driver, was arrested but was allowed to go under $100 bonds. The boy is in the Queen's hospital.

Hiddie Bakker has filed a libel in the Federal court against the schooner Susie M Plummer for $25,000 damages, alleged to be due for the drowning of Douive Bakker who was lost overboard from the vessel. It is claimed that a rotten foot rope was responsible for the accident and that no effort was made to save the man.

A compromise has been reached between the navy department and Honolulu plantation in regard to land bordering on Pearl harbor. The plantation is to receive $75,000 for the property and is allowed to occupy it for six years more.

The Executive has authorized Superintendent Cooper to proceed with the extension of Bishop street from Hotel to Beretania. This will mean a big slice off of the Oregon block and the condemnation of a wide continuation of valuable property up to Beretania street. Union street, Garden Lane and perhaps Adams Lane will be permanently closed.

HOUSE PLEASANTRIES.

Resolutions Introduced Before the Declaration to Adjourn Sine Die Had Been Made.

After the reading and approval of the minutes of the last day's session of the extra session of the House of Representatives, on last Saturday night, the following freak resolutions were read by Stenographer Thielen, creating merriment and laughter as they were being read, as being the last pleasantry of the term, in the order following:

Resolved, that the Hon S K Oili be requested to present to the Hon R W Aylett the "or" (osr) of the Conference Committee on House Bill No 2, commonly known as the Loan Bill, with which to paddle his canoe at the next election.

M K KEALAWAA.

Resolved, that the sum of $5,000 be appropriated for removing the statue of Kamehameha from the Courthouse yard at Kohala and that the same be replaced by the statue of the Hon H M Kaniho.

M K KEALAWAA.

Whereas, the Legislative Session of 1903 is about to close, and the honorable members of said session are to retire and rest from the arduous labors of this session; and

Whereas, the plaster ceiling is now caving in the hall of the House of Representatives, and Weary Willie is and has been in danger of departing this world from such cavingi g; and

Whereas, such caving in has been caused by the hot air from the side of the hall, occupied by the Honorable Jonah from the Fourth District; and

Whereas, it has been a long session; and

Whereas, Kupihea has explained, explored and examined the Organic Act to the dissatisfaction of every member of this House; and

Whereas, Wm J Wright, from Kona, is the wrong man in the right place; and

Whereas, the Hon H C Vida is to employ Marston Campbell as bartender at the Halemaumau; and

Whereas, the Hon R W Aylett is to resign from his Legislative duties, and take to paddling canoes with the "or" in the Loan Bill; and

Whereas, the Hon Frank R Greenwell from the slopes of Huslalai has rendered his opinion more than once during the regular and extra session that we have had enough "expense" and

Whereas, the Honorable Pay Day (Purdy) has only 15c left in the Treasury and his right hand has gone to sleep signing warrants; and

Whereas, the Hon J D Lewie, the Hilo Kicker, tried to insert in the Loan Bill an item for a patrol wagon for Hilo; and

Whereas, the Hon Kou, from the otherside of the Pali, has only opened his mouth twice during this session, and

Whereas, the Hon Sam Keliinoi, from Maui, otherwise known as the "Begging Chief," has swiped more than he ought to for Maui; and

Whereas, the Hon H M Kaniho has fought and in every way attempted to kill the Sunday Baseball Bill, so that he would have a full house at church on Sunday; and

Whereas, the Hon S F Chilling worth, Irish like, always answered a question by asking another one; and

Whereas, Frank Andrade, of the Bar Association, has requested the introducer of this resolution to invite all of the members of this house, after the session is over, to step up to the bar; and

Whereas, Knudsen, the Vice Speaker, has been sustained several times in his ruling from the chair, and as such rulings have been contrary to the Organic Act, according to Kupihea; and

Whereas, Jaeger has joined the Turkish army; and

Whereas, Kealawaa should introduce this resolution; and

Whereas, Paele is likely to "not concur;" and

Whereas, Pulaa will wish to have this resolution made a part of the Laws of this Territory, and have it translated; and

Whereas, Kaili of Kauai wants to make Hanalei the Metropolis of this Territory; and

Whereas, Haia of Hana, Maui, wants to make the salary of the Government Physicians higher (Haia), although they do not have much hanahana; and

Whereas, Kalama of Maui, and Nakaleka of Molokai, have invariably controlled the vote of poor Damiens, who has been as a Rose among two Thorns; and

Whereas, Oili has swallowed the (oar) "or" in the Loan Bill; and

Whereas, Fernandez has been the hardest worked man in the House, being on five different committees, and being always next to the press, he is likely to have been squeezed too hard; and

Whereas, John Gandall, the silver tongue from Kauai, at the first few days of the session was commonly known as Golden John, owing to his silence; therefore, be it

Resolved, that the Speaker of this House, the Honorable F W Beckley, be requested to tell us all our faults in a speech at this the close of the Session of the Legislature of 1903.

"Side-Lights," Mr Clement's interesting monthly paper, published at Hilo, has been received. The articles in the June number are particularly attractive, entertaining and valuable, and the paper is all worthy of conspicuous in the important field of advertising the Islands.

Messrs Bigelow, Cathcart and Hemenway have been appointed a committee to draft a resolution to Congress recommending that the Organic Act be so amended that there may be five in place of three judges of the Supreme court.

Officer Hart Kawaauhau is again a lieutenant of police. He held this office once before but, leaving the service for awhile, had to go on a beat upon his return. He has made a good officer and has many friends who will wish him well.

RESOLUTIONS ON JUDGE WILCOX.

The following self-explanatory resolutions were offered in the district court yesterday and adopted:

To the Hon Geo A Davis, District Magistrate of the District Court of Honolulu.

We, your committee, appointed by Your Honor to prepare resolutions to be spread upon the records of your court in memory of the late Hon William Luther Wilcox, First District Magistrate, beg leave to report the following:

Resolved: First, That an irreparable loss has been suffered in the death of Hon William Luther Wilcox, late First District Magistrate of the District Court of Honolulu.

Second, That his unexpected death was a shock to the whole community, and the news of it carried sorrow into every household. He was a true man in all the relations of life, with honor untarnished, with character unimpeached, with reputation steadily enlarging, and with influence constantly increasing.

Third, That as Judge, he was honest and careful, independent of passion, prejudice or favor, doing his duty under his oath of office and in the fear of God. His knowledge of human nature was keen, his ability to deal with it suitably unquestioned, and his sympathy with mankind was so broad that in his presence all humanity whether a prisoner or a freeman, of whatever nation or race, felt that it saw in the genial, kindly Judge a warm-hearted friend; and, usually, even his punishment was without sting, because those receiving it realized that it was deserved.

Fourth, That we bow with resignation to this mysterious dispensation of Divine Providence, which removes from his family and from this community, a husband, a brother, a citizen, a Judge who was but in the prime of his life with the strong elements of his manly character just ripening with his sturdy intellect just settling upon the bedrock of experience, and with all his capabilities just attuned to administer complete justice with tender mercy.

Fifth, That we hereby tender our heart-felt sympathy to the bereaved wife and brothers, at the same time cherishing the feeling that the memory of our beloved judge will long remain to cheer, to comfort and to inspire.

"The actions of the just Smell sweet and blossom in the dust."

COUNTY LAW HEARING.

The Star says that the County Act case will not come before the Supreme Court until the next term and that in the meanwhile the law will have been put into effect. If that be so, it is just the situation that is not wanted. We are to understand that the law is to be put into effect in a half hearted manner, on a speculative basis, but at very great expense. Then if the Supreme Court decides against parts of it, or the whole, the system goes a glimmering for two years.

Our idea is this: The County Act case should be taken up at once by the Supreme Court. There is no reason why it should not, save that the Judges wish to retire to their Summer homes for the warm-day outings. If the Judges are really running short of sap and their brains are weary from the arduous work of the year, we would vote them a vacation. But such is manifestly not the case. Let them stay by their work, for which they are well paid, until the County bill matter is out of the way, then their vacations may be extended indefinitely into the Autumn so far as we care.

If the case is passed upon this Summer it will afford the only chance of the Legislature meeting again and remedying any defects that may be pointed out. Let the court not consent to this, and then decide in the last of the year against the Act, and County law will be pau for two years.

Secretary Carter has informed the Joint Tourist Committee of local commercial bodies that the $15,000 appropriated to promote tourist travel is now available. Work of the committee will likely be gotten under way the last of the week.

MONEY MAKES DIFFERENCE

Certain of the quarantine regulations affecting passengers leaving this port for San Francisco are extremely faulty. A young man, an employee of Catton, Neill & Co, and head of the local trades federation, bought a steerage ticket for San Francisco in the Alameda for which he paid $25. He was told that he must undergo a physical examination and must have his baggage fumigated before leaving. Not caring to risk damage to his baggage, he changed his pass for a first-class ticket, paying $75 for it. This saved him from an examination and his luggage was passed without question.

What difference did the extra $50 make in the situation from a sanitary point of view? None, of course. It was simply a case of $25 and bacilli or $75 and no microbes. Under the system a steerage passenger from the biggest and cleanest hotel in town will have to run the gauntlet of this regulation, while a man from the most insanitary quarters of Chinatown would go through flying if he had a $75 ticket in his pocket. So far as Honolulu is concerned the stringent application of the regulation is unnecessary and absurd. We can readily understand the need of it in Japan and China but here conditions are altogether different. The regulation was intended in the first place to reach immigrants from unhealthy localities of Europe, China and Japan. The mere payment of $50 will not rid a man of dangerous bacilli; and it is a pretty big price to pay for saving one's wardrobe from the damaging effects of sulphur fumes.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Decent plantation wages would keep the Portuguese laborers here, as would fair treatment have kept the army of mechanics of 1901 in the country. But as a matter of fact the planters do not want either. After bleeding them for everything they had there was no further use for them, and they were as good as invited to "get." The effort to get new mechanics and new laborers and new small farmers appears, in the light of past events, to be merely a conspiracy to lure other unfortunate working men out here to be "skinned."

The fool Portuguese mail driver who ran his dray into Prof Berger at the Kinau wharf yesterday should be severely dealt with by the authorities. There was no excuse for the accident. He came into the densely crowded shed at a high rate of speed and wheeled around to the steamer like an automobilist with half of France to turn in. In jamming upon the crowd he almost drove several members of the band and others into the bay. Although he made every effort to escape, Captain Berger was caught by one of the wheels. The horse knew his business but the driver did not.

Establishing the hospital for incurables so far out of town has had the effect of annulling one of its most important features of work. A principal object of the hospital was the care of Hawaiian consumptives, the disease having reached a point where it was dealing havoc among them, and for the most part on account of a lack of attention. But the hospital was set away so far that the Hawaiian patient was isolated from his loved ones, and neither he nor they would stand for that. The result is that the splendid endeavors of the most worthy institution are lost to the natives. The completion of the Rapid Transits system to Kaimuki will bring the hospital nearer but it will never have the Hawaiian patronage that it might have claimed had it been located in the vicinity of the larger native settlements.

Honolulu would probably give ample support just now to a standard opera company, playing a season of four to six weeks. It has been a long while since the city was treated to really enjoyable opera, and there is a notable thirst for something good in that line. Only the best on the big-city circuits, however, could make money here. An inferior aggregation would go on the rocks quicker in Honolulu than in any other city of the United States. People here want music and are expert on its quality when they get it. A good company would coin money here; a poor company would "uncoin" it.

Considering the size of Honolulu and the absence in it of numerous advantages of larger cities, rents are still entirely too high. Although one would expect higher prices in San Francisco, rents there in the ordinary residence localities are only about half so great, comparatively, as here. The reason for the difference is a lingering anticipation that a boom is still waiting off Diamond Head to be towed in; and the habit of property owners of reaping enormous returns from their investments. The time will yet come when a $50 house of two years ago will be available at $20 a month.

County Act Tenders.

Tenders for printing 5,000 copies of the County Act in English and 2,500 in Hawaiian were opened today and showed the following results: Home Rule Press, $5 25 per page, of Hawaiian, and delivered in forty days; Hawaiian Gazette Co—English, $4.25 per page, in 14 days; Hawaiian, $3.25 per page, 24 days; er, English, $3 15 per page, no time limit, and Hawaiian, $2.80 per page, no time limit. Evening Bulletin—English, $3.66 2-3 per page, 14 days; Hawaiian, $2.73 per page, 14 days —first thousand of each in seven days if desired.

ROOSEVELT AS A TRUST BUSTER.

WASHINGTON, June 27:

Some very shrewd, if unscrupulous, newspaper work is being done by the press agents who are booming President Roosevelt for the 1904 republican nomination. They are portraying him as a heavyweight trust fighter who is smashing the trusts right and left. They tell the people that Wall Street is dead against Roosevelt, and is hatching all kinds of schemes to prevent his nomination. They are even inventing ingenious stories about the post-office frauds, scandals and corruptions, which they hope will not only divert well-deserved blame for this state of affairs from the President, who has permitted it to go on for two years, but will try to make political capital out of it for him. They now say that some of the principal rascals of the many who were plundering the postoffice were conspiring to prevent the President's nomination next year.

In these simple and absurd ways they expect to beguile the voting population of the country, and, according to their own assurances, they are succeeding.

Let us see what kind of fights the President has been making against the criminal trusts of the country and in the interest of the "plain people," about which his touters are so loudly prating at present. The President's reputation as a trust smasher rests largely on two court decisions obtained last year. The Beef Trust was enjoined by the courts and the Northern Securities Co., a railroad combination, was declared illegal in the United States Circuit Court. In neither case can any benefit to the "plain people" be detected, even by the aid of the most powerful microscope. Both of these trusts are continuing to fix prices and rates that the people must pay, and it may be said right here, that no decision under the Sherman law has resulted in permanent benefit to the people. The net result has been that the trusts have changed their form but not their substance. No court decision has permanently lowered prices or rates, or taken the hands of the trusts out of the pockets of the people. Nor is it probable that court decisions will ever remedy the evils of trusts while we have high tariffs and other special privileges which give monopolies powers and encourage combinations and trusts. We must somewhat overcome these monopoly privileges before we can hope to get rid of the evils of the trusts. But the President has set his face against any change in the trust-fattening tariff. He even stopped off, on his recent stumping tour, to help strangle the poor little "Iowa idea" which feebly declared that tariffs which shelter trusts should come off. If the people call this strenuous trust busting, they are easily satisfied.

WILLIAMS THE COMING LEADER.

WASHINGTON, June 27:

Some time ago I told the readers of this correspondence that I would give them a few sketches of some of the public men of the nation, whose names are seen in print almost every day, and I will begin by saying a few words concerning the Hon John Sharp Williams, of Mississipoi. Mr Williams will be the next floor leader of the democratic party in the national House of Representatives, and it is well that the democrats of the country should know something of him.

Mr Williams has been in Congress for the past ten years, but not until the past four years has he asserted himself and obtained the standing in that body that he deserves to occupy. His brilliant intellect might not then have flashed across the horizon of the House, being a modest man, had it not been for the extremely poor leadership suffered by the democracy during that period. The leader of the minority party in the House is always the man who receives the caucus nomination for Speaker by that party. That distinction for, the past four years, has been enjoyed by the Hon James D Richardson, of Tennessee. Mr Richardson is a good man and one of the very best parliamentarians in the House, but he is a weak leader. He lacks political courage. When the republicans would hit the democrats over the head with a club, instead of hurling back a brick and scabbing some one's head, Mr Richardson invariably would apologize for being on the face of the earth. This disgusted and disheartened the democrats, and we invariably got the worst of it until De Armond, of Missouri, or John Sharp Williams came to the rescue and poured some hot shot into the ranks of the enemy when they usually were willing enough to retire from the field. It was just by such spurts as this that John Sharp Williams came to be known and appreciated as one of the ablest on the floor of the House, loved and admired by the democrats and feared and respected by the republicans. It was therefore, with great pleasure that the majority of democrats greeted his announcement last winter that he would be a candidate for the democratic caucus nomination for Speaker when the 58th Congress assembled. It did not take long for enough members to enroll themselves under his banner to assure his nomination, and thereby make him the titular floor leader of the democrats during the life of that Congress. His leadership will put snap and vim and go into the democrats from the very outset. They will have confidence in their leader who will always confer with his colleagues. They know that when he hews out a line of policy that he seldom will make a mistake. They also know that when he gets after the republicans the latter will be very chary in their attacks on the democratic party. They have tested the steel of Mr Williams more than once and they have no appetite for it. When in debate with him they know that their statements must be photographic in their accuracy or they will be badly tripped before he gets through with them.

THOSE VOUCHERS.

The Legislature came to an end without the vouchers of expenditure by the House being filed with the Secretary of the Territory or given to the public. In all probability these tell-tale documents were burned. It is known that the House was a hot-bed of jobs and steals; but precisely what they were and who were the guilty principals, it needed the vouchers to disclose. But the explanatory data cannot be found. To all appearances they are beyond the reach of the press, the public and the grand jury.

The Advertiser trusts that all the ascertainable facts about this corrupt procedure will be laid before the President and Congress along with the legislative action taken against American settlers. It will contribute to a proper understanding of matters there when the business interests of the country apply for relief from the system of misrule and plunder which a past Congress unwittingly set up in these islands. —Advertiser.

While not desirous of defending the Republican Legislature, which has just closed its session, we wish to say as a matter of fairness that there is every reason to believe that the vouchers of the House have not been burned nor will they be. As a rule vouchers are regarded as mere memorandas, the warrants being the material contemplated by the Organic Act as a part of the archives of the Legislature. The vouchers of the House are in the hands of Assistant Clerk J. P. Makainai where they will very probably remain until a good cause for their exploitation is shown.

"Did we buy a gold brick of the Spaniards."—Advertiser.

No; we did not. The Republican party bought about a thousand gold bricks of the Spaniards, the bricks infested by some 10,000,000 microbes; but the people of the United States were not in on that deal, according to the best of our "information and belief."

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Liang Chih-chao (Leong Chi-tao) and Sun Yat-sen (Dr Sun Yet Sin), the two Chinese reform leaders mentioned in a dispatch from the China Gazette published elsewhere, are both Hawaiian men. They have for a long time been recognized as leaders of the Bow Woogs, or reformers, and as such have had the support of all the prominent Chinese in Honolulu.

The beer saloons did not prove the gold mine that some people thought they would. Several of them are already mortgaged, arms, legs and neck to the breweries and others would like to be to save them from a worse fate. It is only a question of time until the rule of the "survival of the fittest" will leave only the most respectable of them in the field. Probably not more than one half of them will survive their year's license.

It was plainly the intention of the Legislature to have the expenses of the immigration commissioner for the first six months paid out of the $15,000 appropriated for advertising, etc. This was well understood at the time the appropriations were made. If the establishment of an immigration office is held up on account of this far fetched technicality the community may properly charge the consequences to Secretary George R Carter.

Of all the members of the House the Advertiser has singled out alone for its praises Representative Harris. We are sorry for this, as we have admired very greatly the fidelity of Mr Harris to his party and his stubborn efforts to lead the majority—a majority, however, that had a mind and inclinations of its own. The endorsement of the Advertiser would kill a goat. It would nip in the bud the chances of the most promising candidate. We are sorry to see the opportunities of Mr Harris sacrificed upon any such altar.

The Advertiser and its crowd are already figuring on candidates for County offices, and, of course, all of them belong to that particular clique. That is well. Let the Advertiser and its crowd break away and form its battalions. We will then see where and what they are. Oahu County, however, will be in the hands of the people, despite the ravings of our Morning Grandmother. The days of "minority rule" are mingled in the dust heaps of an unmourned past, and the taxpayer and voter will now have a say.

The Advertiser and Star are desperately trying to prove that the House vouchers were burned to hide what these papers would have the public believe to be some crooked business. An impression at Washington, again, ye gads! As a matter of fact the vouchers have not been destroyed, and there was never any intention of making way with them. They are not public property, however, any more than they are in any other State or Territory. They are not Legislative archives, but are merely incidental memoranda. The warrants tell all that any honest man may wish to know in regard to expenses.

Let the County Act go into effect. If the people vote in the November election for officers, that will put it into effect and no court will go against the vox populi then and therein expressed." Thus expatiates a good citizen. That is exactly what the anti-county people want. They want the County Act to go into effect with as many vulnerable points as possible, in order that it may be attacked, impeded and knocked out. Let us have the weaknesses of the law, if any, pointed out and established now, in order that proper connections, if any, may be properly made and the law be a sticker when it does go into effect.

The erection of a building at St. Louis by the Territory would indeed be putting a $100 saddle on a $20 horse. The Legislature appropriated $30,000 for the Territorial exhibit. Of the amount it is proposed to expend $21,000 for a building, leaving only $9,000 for the exhibit and expenses. We do not think that the expense of a separate building was contemplated by the Legislature. It was intended that the entire amount of $30,000 (which is none too much) should be expended on the exhibit, the show to go into one of the United States government buildings where it belongs.

Real estate like some of our sugar plantation propositions, is so full of water that it cannot contain nor safely carry itself. Lease and rent figures have, in the past, been out of all reason, and they are still double what they should be. An influx of new people would have the effect of raising rents abnormally. This would benefit the land-lords but would come hard on the large majority who have to pay rents. There is a normal rate of income from any investment, depending in volume upon numerous circumstances. That the income from rentable property on Oahu has been and is far above normal, even in this season of depression, can hardly be gain-said.

The Kamalo proposition is still running neck and neck with the Sumner case as a scandal producer, and some of the principal actors in the one bob up serenely in the other. Factions in the company are as thick as spokes in a bicycle's wheels. No good can come of that, surely, either to the stockholders or to the valuable estate held by them. What is most required is the selection by the stockholders of a competent and progressive set of officers, with L H Dee at the head, and a "work together" spirit. Kamalo is a splendid proposition. All that is required for it is intelligent management and a little money—both of which may easily be acquired.

Immigration Agent.

Treasurer Kapoikai is considering the advisability of postponing the appointment of an immigration commissioner until January 1 for the reason that money for the expenses of same will not be available until then. It was understood that the salary of commissioner would be paid out of the $15,000 appropriated for advertising, in the intervening six months, but Secretary Carter apparently disagrees with this view and seems to obstruct the plan. The appropriation is made available in his department in place of that of the treasurer.

A private letter says that Wailuku is making big preparations for the reception of Governor Dole on Saturday. One of the features will be a dinner and reception, attended by the most prominent people of Maui.

S Kelilnoi and P Pali have been awarded the contract for furnishing palai to the Molokai settlement at the rate of 80 cents per 25 pounds, under bonds in the sum of $10,000.

The steamer contract between Honolulu and the Molokai settlement has been awarded to the Wilder Steamship Co for six months. The Company will put the new steamer Likelike on the route.

There was not a meeting of the Board of Agriculture yesterday afternoon on account of the absence of a quorem. Dr Jared Smith was present, however, and showed to the three members in the room a sample of very fine green wrapper tobacco which he had grown at the experimental station.

At a meeting of the Exposition Association held yesterday afternoon Superintendent Cooper was authorized to appoint an exposition commissioner and to take under his department the business of the project. The appropriation is divided between the public works office and the office of the Secretary.

Stockholders of Kamalo plantation held a meeting in Elks hall last evening which was afterward declared to be illegal and adjournment taken to August 1. Discussion in the meeting, which was quite warm, indicated spicy developments but probably a satisfactory adjustment of the company's affairs.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Judge Davis is indisposed with the dengue fever.

Lieutenant Merle Johnson is the new treasurer of the jewelry house of Wichman & Co.

There are now 285 men employed in the Honolulu Iron Works, an increase of nearly 200 in three months.

A reception will be given in Central Union church this evening to Rev and Mrs E C Maserve and Rev John P Erdman.

Bishop Libert, who left yesterday for San Francisco to arrange for his consecration, was accompanied by Father Sylvester.

The extension of the Rapid Transit track around the naval station and Honolulu Iron Works will terminate at South street.

Dr Jared G Smith's fourth bulletin is devoted exclusively to sisal in Hawaii. It is a well edited and interesting number.

The Hawaiian Pineapple Company canned its first fruit at Wahiawa on July 13. It is expected that a large shipment will soon be made to San Francisco.

Colonel Jones plans to have the new military armory erected at the corner of Hotel and Likelike streets on the site of the old National Guard dining room.

At the meeting of the Board of Health yesterday afternoon reports from numerous doctors were read showing that dengue fever is prevalent in all the islands.

Mrs Belmore, keeper of the Belmore lodging house on Beretania street, was fined $5 yesterday for disturbing the quiet. A Knack, with whom she had the "row" was discharged.

Judge Dickey, Judge Davis, Gardner K Wilder, C F Peterson and J L Kaulukou are leading candidates for the office of first district magistrate. All are or have been judges on the bench.

Judge De Bolt has approved the accounts of George R Carter as administrator of the estate of I N Hayden. He will not be discharged, however, until the heirs have decided upon their pro ratas.

Rev E S Ufford, the Evangelist, began his campaign last night with a lecture in the Christian church, during which he sung his famous hymn "Throw out the Lifeline." Several other engagements have been made for him in this city.

C Bolte has made an alarming report to the Board of Health concerning the ravages of tuberculosis among cattle at his ranch on the east side of this island. The matter is to be thoroughly investigated upon the return of Dr Pratt from Kona.

A farewell dance was given at Ewa mill on the evening of July 11 in honor of D B Murdoch and wife and others who are shortly to leave the plantation. Mr Murdoch will become auditor for the plantations controlled by Alexander & Baldwin.

Other than A Barnes, Fred T P Waterhouse, Henry Davis and Charles Girdler, mentioned for the new office of Deputy Insurance Commissioner, under the Treasury Department, the name of J M Riggs is also mentioned in connection with it as an applicant. It is also understood that J H Boyd and G E Smithies are propable candidates for the same position.

It is understood that E M Boyd and C R Buckland are applicants for the new office of Commissioner of Immigration and Advertising Agent under the Treasury Department. W H Coney is also in the race for it, his name being largely endorsed by several Representatives, whose dictates in the matter should have some weight with the appointing power, it decidedly being a House created office. Wm Blaisdell is also another after the place.

Insane Asylum Changes.

At the meeting of the Board of Health yesterday Dr Mays presented a report on the condition of the Insane Asylum in which he made a number of important recommendations. The following action in respect to them was taken:

"1. That the present arrangement of eight-hour shifts for attendants be abolished at the end of the present month, and that a system of day and night service be substituted therefor."

Referred to Dr Mclster, superintendent.

"2. That the attendants be no longer required to provide a substitute for temporary absences, that duty belonging to the superintendent."

Adopted.

"3. That the superintendent shall see that the pay roll fully sets forth the names of every person employed, with the amount due to each person."

As the law requires this, no action was deemed necessary.

"4. That a matron be appointed, if any way can possibly be found to do so, preferably one who has had experience in insane asylum work."

Carried.

"5. That a six foot board fence be erected, enclosing the female department and the female recreation ground."

Deferred till next meeting.

"6. That bars be placed on all the windows of the female wards and dormitories."

Adopted.

Commissioner J F Brown has filed his report on the Wailuku water controversy, giving the facts so far as he has found them but making no recommendations. His report discloses a tangle that will be very hard to straighten out.

Exclusion in Portland.

A case is recorded in the American papers which reads somewhat strangely after the good-will America shows the Chinese Government in the matter of payment of the indemnity. Su See, a young Chinaman about 20 years old, arrived at Portland, Oregon, on the Indrasama from Hongkong. He said that he was born in Portland and lived there until he was 8 years of age, when he returned to China, and remained there until the time he took passage. He said his father desired him to go there and secure an education, but did not accompany him. Chinese testimony was offered to prove that the young man was born in Portland, but the Judge before whom Su See was brought deemed the evidence insufficient and directed that he be ordered back to China. It is evident that the admission of Chinese into the United States is to be made as difficult as possible. The Kobe Chronicle wonders what would be said if the Chinese determined to bundle an American missionary back to his own country!—Hongkong Telegraph.

The Bow Wongs.

The cause of "Reform" China at the moment is suffering somewhat from a set-back, and many former sympathisers are more or less disgusted at the utter humbug of sueh individuals as Kang Yu-wei, Liang Chih-chao, and Sen Yat-sen and their enthusiastic but misguided visionary advisers from the missionary societies, who do not seem to see that Kang and his associates are simply making money out of a movement which they watch from a safe distance, while leaving their wretched dupes [like the converts when times of trouble come and the shepherds directly seek some safe and distant fold] to bear the brunt of the storm in Kwangtung and Kwangsi. But the young men in Shanghai around whom the reactionary party are striving to draw the net, belong to a very different category. There are now not violent or armed revolutionists but respectable, sensible men who only indulge in proper methods of expressing their condemnation of the obvious faults of their rulers, and they must be protected at all costs.—China Gazette.

WILLIAMS THE COMING LEADER.

WASHINGTON, June 27:

In a professional beauty contest Mr Williams would be a sellingplater. He would not be a good hundred-to-one shot. His personal pulchritude is absolutely nil, but there is no discount on the quality of gray matter under his hat. He has a fine, well-shaped head, covered with bushy curling brown hair, a fine eye and a scraggy mustache, but his body is small and as thin as a stepchild's bread and butter. But where he defaults in comeliness of person, he makes good in intellectual brilliancy. One forgets all about the fact that he is not a physical giant when he is on his feet, and you are listening to that well-modulated and penetrating voice and watching that long index finger which he persistently throws at the enemy. From his mouth roll chunks of wisdom and eloquence fashioned in the most exquisite English ever heard on the floor of the House. It is an intellectual treat to hear him. When he rises he can always count on a full press gallery and the cloak rooms always empty themselves into the House, and that is the greatest compliment any member of the House can receive. In short, John Sharp Williams is an able debater, a finished orator, as true a democrat as ever marked the earth, as brave as a lion, and as relentless as fate when he goes after a republican juggler with facts and figures. When he gets in action next winter there will be more republican hair sailing around the atmosphere of the House than one has seen since the days of Ben Hill, Lamar, Alex Stephens, Sunset Cox, John Carlisle and Bill Morrison. The democracy is playing in luck this time.

The denial by former President Grover Cleveland of an interview with him written by Mr George M Bailey, the Washington correspondent of the Galveston Dallas News, has created widespread interest here, and has been one of the chief topics of conversation in the public buildings and the hotel lobbies. I have known Mr Bailey for fifteen years, and I know he would not wilfully misquote or misrepresent any man, and especially a man for whom he had the high admiration that he had for Mr Cleveland. I saw the letter to Mr Bailey written by Mr Cleveland making the appointment for this interview, and in which he said he would be glad to see Mr Bailey "in behalf of his paper." What else, then, could he have thought of Mr Bailey's visit, except that it was to get a letter for his paper? When the former President told Mr Bailey unequivocally that he was not a candidate for the fourth nomination at the hands of the democratic party, Mr Bailey took him seriously, and frankly said so in his article which he prepared here for his paper. I saw the article before it went to the Galveston News by wire, and it was as kindly in tone as any man on earth could have desired. The direct quotation of Mr Cleveland was very short, but it was unmistakable and took him out of the running as a possible candidate. The general consensus of opinion here is that Mr Bailey told the truth, and that Mr Cleveland never would have denied the interview had he not received instructions from some man in his select coterie of friends to do

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The Advertiser quotes Ward-healer Birbe as authority for the statement that the House's vouchers were burned. We thought the source of our contemporary's information was about that size.

Our Mr Testa is not an applicant for any office in the gift of any one in the Government nor has he ever been known to be a job chaser. He believes that the office should seek the man and not the man the office. Yet he thanks the Star for mentioning him in connection with the District Magistracy made vacant by the death of the late Judge Wilcox, although unsought for by him.

The paisi contract for furnishing the Leper Settlement has been awarded by the Board of Health to two Republican members of the last Legislature. Can members of the Legislature become contractors under the Government? We understand the Attorney General holds that they can, but we think otherwise, for if such is the case, then it is a case of pure evasiveness of the intent of the law in the matter.

The Advertiser again declares that certain important House vouchers have been burned. We do not put ourselves up as sponsors for the Republican Legislature, but, in the interest of fair-play and for the proper enlightenment of the community, declare that they have not been destroyed. Now let the Advertiser produce its case and we will volunteer to present the facts as they are in reply. Now, "put up or shut up."

This was not "the year our olives failed" with J F Brown,even though he was not Commissioner of Public Lands. As expert in the Wailuku water case he has turned in a bill for $2,040, or $20 a day for 102 days work, less than one-third of a year. In addition there is an expense bill of $963 90, a total of nearly $3,000 and an average of nearly $10,000 a year. That beats being Commissioner of Agriculture all hollow and almost reaches the Advertiser's estimate of profits in small farming.

The Advertiser declares that the vouchers of the House—or a part of them—have been destroyed. We demand the proof. This matter has been toyed with by the Advertiser and its afternoon mimic for some time, and now we want something in the way of facts. If the vouchers, or any number of them, have been destroyed, and these two papers know it, let them produce evidence of the fact; otherwise they are dishonest, and are leading themselves to a low and mean political expediency.

The illegal retention in office of Marston Campbell by Superintendent Cooper has aroused a feeling of disgust in town seldom equalled. It has had, and will have, the effect of solidifying the honest government forces of all parties against the administration. Some of the hardest workers of the House, who had decided to retire from active politics this year, have reconsidered their plans on this account and will probably enter the arena again. If they do it is safe to say that the fur will fly in the public works office next session.

The silent campaign being carried on by the Home Rule-Democrats for complete success in the county elections should very soon assume an open and aggressive character. There is no time to lose. Let field work begin. Let the aim be to acquire every office on every island. The solid forces of the present should be made more solid as election day approaches. With men in county offices, a Democratic President and a people's Governor, and the thing would be trimmed to perfectly satisfy the voters of this country.

The morning paper gives assurance that the Exposition Association will not waste $21,000 on a Hawaii building at St Louis. We are happy to confirm the assurance, although yesterday morning there were those who still clung to the absurd building idea. The sensible conclusion finally reached will give the Territory $30,000 to spend on an exhibit in place of $9,000 the other way. Now let's "get busy" and make the exhibit the biggest and best ever sent out of the Islands. There is money enough to do it with if everybody will lend a hand.

That the tendency of the United States to interfere in the purely domestic affairs of other nations will lead to trouble is a manifest sequence of recurring instances of that kind. If Uncle Sam presumes to be the policeman of the world,well and good; but it will take mighty armies and mightier fleets to uphold the inclinations,good or bad. After all, however, these occasional outbreaks of world phobia and international impertinence are largely the work of cranks and yellow newspapers. They really extend to no great depth into the mass of public opinion, and the vast conservative mind of the country stands unmoved, although occasionally jarred, before it. Other nations are wise enough to comprehend this, and charitable enough to bundle the bluster into the same box with the Fourth of July fireworks. It is a satisfaction that the puerile and impertinent Kishenoff petitions were pigeon-holed, and it might not be out of place to give their authors a little rest in an insane asylum.

Judge Estee's broad construction of the law exempting farmers from involuntary bankruptcy has set wholesale merchants to guessing. If the court's reasoning in regard to the Kauai rice planter and miller is sound, it would seem that a merchant, with a potato patch in his back yard at home, would also be exempt from involuntary bankruptcy. Our idea of the law was that it applied to men who relied solely and absolutely upon farming for a living, and not to persons who relied upon rice milling, or some other enterprise, in connection with farming for an income.

It stands to reason that there is not in all the world a more suitable spot for the profitable cultivation of tobacco and cotton than the Hawaiian Islands, barring one thing, i. e.: The cost of land. Both of these important staples grow wild throughout the group. There are few flower yards of any size that have not, away over in some corner, stalks of finely developed tobacco and most of them have cotton. Numerous experiments in both have proved successful, and the possibilities of either as a profitable crop are established. What is wanted in the Islands is the assistance of experts in planting and maturing.

An insane asylum should not be near the sea, nor on low and miasmatic land, nor in a hot locality, nor where mosquitoes abound. The Herbert place at Kalihi possesses all of these disadvantages, and has only the advantage of being out of town. A high, dry, cool, healthy place, away from the noise and turmoil of the city and free from mosquitoes is what should be sought. There are several reaches of tableland in Kalihi and above Waialae that would probably fill the bill admirably. By the way, however,the idea of moving the asylum from its present location is faddish, if not absurd. The location is about as good as any other that may be found and any shortcomings thus far pointed out would not be hard to remedy.

The retention of Marston Campbell in office by Superintendent Cooper, effected by a fluke, is the most powerful lever yet placed in the hands of the Home Rule-Democratic party. Mr Campbell was condemned time after time, day after day and week after week by the Legislature,supported by the people. The office he held was finally obliterated, and for the principal purpose of getting rid of the incubus. Now Cooper manifests the intention of retaining him under the eighteen months salary bill after January 1 as consulting engineer. All right; go ahead; kokua, here. It means that the Republicans will be swept from the boards in the coming elections, and that the next Legislature will be as short of Republicans as the Republican party in these Islands is of honesty and virtue.

Princess Kalaninaole will give the last "At home" of the season at Pualeilani, Waikiki, next Tuesday afternoon.

The Advertiser wants to know whether "Bro Testa is willing to bow the knee for the approval of the Republican Central Committee." Nay, nay, Bro. Smith; not on your life. That's left to you to do.

After the game tomorrow afternoon it will be decided finally what is to become of the Maile Ilima club. If it loses the game to the Elks it will probably resign and retire from the League for the season.

Altogether nine material men's liens has been placed upon the new Swanzy Mansion to satisfy claims against Contractor Redward. It is reliably stated, however, that the matters will be satisfactorily adjusted.

The name of C L Hopkins, now one of the Hawaiian interpreters of the First Circuit Judge, is mentioned as one of the probabilities for the position of District Magistrate. He held the office formerly under the Monarchy.

The Kapiolani Estate is contemplating taking possession of certain premises out Kamoiliili way, to which certain parties are claiming by adverse possession. A force of two (John H Wise and "Bart Colburn) were sent out this afternoon for the purpose.

Papers in the suit of Emma Spreckels Watson against Claus Spreckels, seeking possession of valuable property in Honolulu, have been served on W M Giffard, who holds defendant's power of attorney. The case will come up at the next Circuit term and will probably necessitate the presence of Col Claus and others of the Spreckels family here.

Tourists and Taxes.

The Merchant's Association devoted most of its time yesterday afternoon to discussion of the tourist travel and tax proposition. Preliminaries for advertising the country were formulated, and the committee will get to work at once upon the matter. A contest of the merchandise tax law was decided upon, the Association to bear the expense. Catton, Neill & Co and the Wilder Steamship Co were selected as the concerns to make the contest.

Moanalua Paralyzed.

Moanalua, the half-witted character, familiar about town, who is serving a six-months sentence for larceny, was stricken with paralysis while at work in the Makiki rock quarry early this afternoon. The police patrol wagon was summoned and the chap was taken to the prison hospital for treatment.

The Young Hotel.

Berrey's commercial report contains the following information in regard to the new Young hotel:

The Honolulu business event of this month will be the opening of the Alexander Young Hotel on the 31st inst. Few citizens of the place appreciate this enterprise. The total of the investment must be approaching the mark of $2,000,000 and here is a business block equal in every way to almost any metropolitan structure. It would seem that the Young building will be the center of the city for some years. It has such features as tropical roof garden, 700 miles of electric wiring and modern elevator service. The office section is filling up in a manner that must be encouraging to the enterprising owner. The hotel is to have suburban annexes at Waikiki and Kalihi and there is talk of a branch house in the mountains back of Honolulu.

Child Badly Hurt.

While playing on a dray on Liliha street at the head of Vineyard yesterday afternoon a little Japanese girl, about 5 years of age, met with an accident that may cost her her life. The horses took fright at something and started up, throwing the child out and under one of the wheels. The wheel passed over the body at the hips, inflicting serious injuries.

so, in order to hold all the power that a prospective candidacy would give him in the next national convention. Evidently they believe that his name will carry more weight with the element that left the party in 1896 and 1900, make them more active in participating in the conventions next year and more potent in the selection of some candidate acceptable to them. They are simply using the name of Cleveland to conjure with. The simple truth as told by Mr Bailey has forced their hand.

Also Want Transports.

At its meeting held last evening the Builders and Traders Exchange adopted the following, relating to army transports and addressed to Elihu Root, Secretary of War:

Sir: The Builders and Traders Exchange of Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii, would respectfully petition that the United States transport service continue to forward its steamers via the Honolulu route to and from the Philippine Islands and the Orient.

The inducements to the Department in evidence are, the favorable weather conditions by this route, cable communication at three Pacific island stations, free harbor and dock facilities, ample depth of water and safety, ample facilities for repairs, coal supplies and particularly the upbuilding and maintaining of resources for repairs and supplies in this most strategic point in the Pacific and by retention here in time of peace of the skilled mechanics and labor necessary to serve the needs of the United States in time of war.

In turn we, citizens of Honolulu, employ ninety per cent of the skilled labor, and believe we should be entitled to all possible governmental support in maintaining an aggressive up to date community, such as will enable us to strengthen the position of the United States to a far greater degree than any other city of its size under the American flag. Certainly the patronage of the government may be of more than temporary benefit to both itself and the citizens of Honolulu in continuing the transport service via the Honolulu route.

CHAMP CLARK A COMING LEADER.

WASHINGTON, June 27:

Last week I told the readers of this correspondence about the Hon John Sharp Williams, of Mississipi, the man who will be the next floor leader of the democracy in the national House of Representatives. I will now tell them about the man who will be his chief opponent in the democratic caucus, and who, though he is still an avowed candidate for the honor, practically concedes his defeat, and that is the Hon Champ Clark, of Missouri. The most of the people of the country know Champ Clark, not alone because of his work in the Congress of the nation, and he has been in that body about ten or twelve years, but because of his work in the press of the country and the contributor of a weekly letter anent current political events always written in a reminiscent manner and very entertaining. Champ Clark is one of the most picturesque figures in political life to-day. He leads the democratic anvil chorus. He is the knocker-in-chief of the democratic minority in the national House of Represetatives and when he gets to his feet he does hit the republicans some of the hardest blows ever administered to them by any speaker on the democratic side of the House. He has a way of telling the truth on the republican party that is very attractive to the democrats of the country. It is homespun truth told in an old-fashioned homefolksy manner that is decidedly refreshing because it is so seldom we hear it. When in action, Champ Clark needs more floor space than any man in the House. He flings his great long arms around like flails, and he pounds his desk like a deep water two-gallon baptist preacher. The only trouble with Champ Clark as a leader would be the fact that he is too uncompromising. He hits hard and tells truth, but he does it in such a manner as to excite the animosity of the opposition, leaves sore spots that never heal, and does not convince the republicans of the righteousness of his cause. When a man is honest, even though he be a republican, he is open to conviction in many matters, but if he is insulted and his feelings hurt by the man who makes the speech, and who, otherwise, would convince him of his error, he thinks of nothing but revenge, and he gives the man no credit for his unanswerable argument and his intellectuality.

That is the trouble with Champ Clark. He makes enemies for himself and his party by his speeches and does his cause no good. Therefore he would not make a good leader for the minority party in the Congress, and his friends and admirers knowing this have chosen John Sharp Williams in his stead. There is no better man and no better democrat in Congress than Champ Clark, but he is too indiscreet by his vehemence to be a successful leader, and hence he will not be chosen by the democrats when they meet in caucus next November. There is another reason why Champ Clark is not the popular man for the leadership. He seems to have an especial antipathy to the so called gold democrats, who left the party in 1896 and 1900, and he never loses an opportunity to roast them to a brown turn when he is on his feet in the House. That not only does no good, but it antagonizes the element that we want to

IMMIGRATION AGENT.

Only an item appears in two appropriation bills carrying the "salary of Commissioner of Immigration and Advertising Agent," but there is no Act providing for such an office, nor as to manner of appointment, removal and tenure of such an officer, which we think was rightly placed under the Treasury Department, the item failing to carry a proviso that the incumbent should be appointed by the Treasurer. We are forced to admit that the appointment is not with the Treasurer in this case as well as in this instance, but is up to the Governor, and the intention of the Legislature would thereby be frustrated. Under Section 80, paragraph 2, of the Organic Act, it is provided that "The manner of appointment and removal and the tenure of all other officers shall be provided by law; and the governor may appoint or remove any officer whose appointment or removal is not otherwise provided for."

For the rest, we leave to better minds to judge. As this is one of those positions "not otherwise provided for," we think the appointment is up to the Governor, and that it does not lay with the Treasurer, in whom the House of Representatives placed reliance, so that an objectionable applicant may not have the place, which was conditional on the item and office being placed under that Department. And the Treasurer is not the dispenser of this latest pap, but the Governor is.

The band will play for the baseball games this afternoon and will give a concert on the capitol grounds tomorrow afternoon

Of course, the native has no right whatever to live under the sun in his own country, because he does not know, sufficiently, its needs, and only a white man does, who is supposed to know it all, including his share of footing the bills The native has no business to be born into this country and he should now be a white man.

We cannot for a moment believe that C R Buckland "has the confidence of the people at large," for the simple reason he is not known to them, but only to a certain section and faction. Of course, we know him, not only recently, but many years ago, and we can safely say and vouch that he is a capable and competent Anglo American.

Judge Wilcox left a fortune of about $100,000. This will be a surprise to his friends, who were disposed to think that he had accumulated very little. He was immensely liberal to charity, and his large fortune can be accounted for only in the conclusion that he lived economically and saved from what he might have spent for his own comfort.

There is something to touch the risibles in the proposition of a German coming here to test the water of Honolulu. As a rule Germans, like the colonels of Kentucky, are not experts on drinking water, and a pipe line to the brewery would probably meet the requirements of the visitor better than a letter of introduction to water superintendent Brown.

Why is it necessary that a white man should be the Immigration Agent, in order to bring white settlers and tourists here? Can not a native do just as well? Would not a native, in time, become "in full sympathy with the work?" Is it only "white settlers and tourists" that are wanted to come here to labor in our cane fields, and that no Asiatics need apply?

If the Territorial government heads do not turn in to Congress, through Secretary Carter, their views of Federal improvements in the Islands, together with estimates of the cost of same, it will plainly be their own fault. The Secretary of the Treasury has asked for the facts and figures, and they should be promptly supplied. An immense amount of Federal work should be done in the Islands. The government has gone on sapping its $2,000,000 a year out of the Territory without any return. About $6,000,000 of the $56,000,000 surplus now in the Treasury is Hawaiian money, and it is badly needed here.

Treasurer Kepoikai is reported to favor the placing of the loan bonds with local investors as against allowing them to go to foreigners. His reasons are that the interest will be kept in the country and that investment in government securities locally would have the effect of bringing the citizen in closer touch with the Territorial powers. The proposition is sound, provided the money was here. But the money is not here to spare on light interest bonds, and new coin is just now worth more to the country than the interest borne by the bonds. The better business proposition is to let the bonds—about the only local security that Wall street will thoroughly understand—go to New York, leaving the little money now in the country for the important business of developing the plantations and other enterprises.

C R Buckland, applicant for the office of land court registrar, is objectionable only in that he has shown himself to be over partizan. His character is above reproach, as shown by his reputation during his life of many years in California and Hawaii. Another point in his favor is that he has made an exhaustive and careful study of the Torrens land law and would probably start in better fitted for the duties of the office than any other man now in sight. The principal thing in his way, however, is that he has not resided here the period of five years required by law.

The race for the office of immigration commissioner seems now to be reduced to two names, those of W H Coney and Wm Blaisdell. Both are competent men. Mr Coney is city editor of the Evening Bulletin and has a marked knowledge of the English language Mr Blaisdell is also proficient in the Hawaiian language. Both gentleman were born here and their respective business have fitted them in a promising degree for the position. It is "heads or tails" which would prove the better official. Mr Blaisdell possesses the bare advantage of years and business experience.

We insist that Judge Davis do not resign, and think it cruel, cruel of him to suggest such a thing at this time. Does he not have in mind that the Legislature has just adjourned?—that the Iroquois has gone?—that the Stine-Evans Company will shortly depart?—and that there are no circuses bill for this city in days to come? It is impossible for us to conceive of how a noble son of the Mayflower, of Plymouth Rock and of Bunker Hill could be so unkind as to deprive 45,000 intelligent, "land of the free and home of the brave" American citizens of his entertainments in the quiet, sordid, hot, itchy, uninteresting, dreary, exasperating dog-days of 1903. "Ain't it a shame?"

The Independent insists that the House vouchers have not been destroyed, but at the same time fails to produce them. So likewise other peoples. If the vouchers or any of them are in existence the only reasonable and honest thing to do is to trot them out. If not, why not? —Advertiser.

It is the established practice for the complainant in a cause to first present his case. The Advertiser swore itself black in the face over this voucher matter, and charged that the House vouchers had been burned. While disclaiming any responsibility for the acts of the Republican Legislature, which has just ended its session, we volunteered to deny that the vouchers had been destroyed, and to answer any evidence or tangible showing that they had been destroyed. Surely that is fair enough. The Advertiser has plainly charged that the vouchers have been destroyed; we say that they have not been destroyed. It is the morning paper's next move.

The Advertiser and Star are just now quoting a lot of law in regard to the taking of official papers from Federal Courts and other United States offices, and effect to apply this law to the case of the absence of House vouchers from the Legislative archives. It seems to us that Section 69 of the Organic Act explains how much rope the Secretary of the Territory is entitled to. A part of it says: He shall record and preserve all the laws and proceedings of the legislature and all acts and proceedings of the governor, and promulgate proclamations of the governor. He shall, within thirty days after the end of each session of the legislature, transmit to the President, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States one copy each of the laws and journals of such session.

Nervous Debility

is often one of the most distressing after effects of the Grip. It may also be caused by overwork, worry, mental strain or excesses of almost any nature. Whatever the cause, a debilitated nervous system means that the nerves lack nutrition. Feed the nerves and life will renew its joys for you.

The best nerve food, and the most valuable tonic (because it both builds up the blood and strengthens the nerves) is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Hundreds of worn-out, depressed men and women have been made strong-nerved, ambitious, energetic and healthful by this remedy.

Among the well-known men of the newspaper profession is F. J. Lawience, of 455 Fourth Avenue, Detroit, Mich., who for the past eleven years has been at his desk every day. He says:

"At one time I was in such a condition that my physician said I would have nervous prostration; that I would have to stop newspaper work or I would go to pieces if I persisted in doing it, as I was destroying what nerve force I had left. I lost flesh and had a complication of ailments which baffled skilful physicians. An associate recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and I gave them a trial. I can't say that I received any benefit from the first box, but derived very good results from the second. They gave me strength and helped my shattered nerves so that I could get a full night's rest.

"A great deal of pain in the small of the back I attributed to a derangement of the kidneys. For this complaint Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People worked wonders. Soon after I began taking them regularly, the pain ceased, and I felt a new manand am confident that the pills will work a complete restoration of my former condition."—From Evening News, Detroit, Mich.

Mr Boyd Returns.

Commissioner E S Boyd returned by the Kinau this afternoon from Lahaina and Lanai. He went up as a member of the Dole party in the U S tug Iroquois, reaching Lanai Wednesday afternoon. Most of the island was gone over on Thursday. Yesterday the Commissioner took a small boat for Lahaina and in the afternoon the Iroquois sailed for Kihei. Governor Dole and party are doubtless in Wailuku today.

Proposed Official Duties.

It is understood that the duties of the new Commissioner of Immigration are considered by those most interested to be as follows:

To collect and compile statistics and data bearing upon the labor requirements, and on the general conditions of the labor market as it exists from time to time; to maintain and compile statistics, showing the arrivals and departures of alien immigrants, to formulate data and information, showing the inducements which the Territory has to offer to immigrants and to advertise same in foreign countries, to authorize one or more persons to publish such advertisements in foreign countries, and otherwise to superintend and promote the encouragement of immigration.

To observe and keep himself informed regarding the alien classes residing in the Territory, and to take such steps as he may deem necessary for the enforcement of the vagrancy laws. To disseminate information as to the attractions to tourist travel and also to make known by advertisement and otherwise the advantages offered to the settler or small farmer; to prepare such printed matter and advertisements toward the promotion of tourist travel and settlement by farmers as may seem prospective of results beneficial to the welfare of the Territory; the cost of such advertisement for the encouragement of immigration and tourist travel; shall preserve a copy of all authorized advertisements and keep the same upon file in his office in order that they may be at any time verified, and all authorized advertisements shall be signed by him.

Still Open to Hunters.

The endorsement of Chas R Buckland by the Republican Central Committee yesterday noon for the position of Registrar of the Land Registration Court seems to have gone adrift, although his qualifications for the place are said to be of the best. But there is one point of disqualification which the Judge of the Land Registration Court cannot overlook, and that is his time of residence in the country. The Land Registration Act provides that the Registrar must have resided here five years, and on this point alone the Judge is denied the right to obey the dictation and mandate of the Republican Central Committee, the almighty and the all-powerful body of dictators this country has at the present time. Mr Buckland is therefore, not having resided here five years, disqualified for the position, and the place is still open for other job chasers and applicants, and for further Republican endorsement for past services.

Wilcox Was Rich.

The late Judge W L Wilcox was worth about $100,000. A petition by W O Smith for letters of administration has been filed in the court. It shows the real estate to be worth $75,000 and personal property $20,000. It is not improbable that a complete inventory will show considerably more. Following is the will of Judge Wilcox:

"I, William Luther Wilcox, of Honolulu, Island of Oahu, Hawaiian Islands, declare this to be my last will, hereby revoking all wills heretofore made by me.

"After the payment of my just debts and funeral charges I bequeath and devise as follows:

"To my wife, Kahuila Wilcox, one-third of my personal property to her absolutely, and one-third of my real estate wheresoever situate for and during her natural life, and at her death to her heirs.

"To my adopted daughter, Wilhelmina, one-third of my personal property and one-third of my real estate to her and her heirs forever.

"All the residue of my estate, real and personal, to be divided among my brothers, Charles, George, Albert and Samuel, the children of any deceased brother taking by right of representation.

"I nominate William O Smith of Honolulu to be the executor of this will and I request that he may be exempt from giving a bond as such executor."

This will is dated July 7, 1903, E C Waterhouse, M D, and Mabel D Gee sign as witnesses.

come back and affiliate with the party in the next campaign. They are as good democrats as anybody on the tariff and the trust question, which will be uppermost in the next campaign, and the only question on which they are at variance with the dominant faction of the party is on the money question, and all concede that it will not be one of the issues in the campaign next year. The bimetallists have won their contention that more money was needed to do the business of the country on in order to bring prosperity to the nation, because there is today one-fourth more money in circulation than there was in 1896, but it came in gold on account of the gold discoveries in Alaska, the failure of crops in the old countries, and an avalanche of money and gold placed in circulation during the Spanish-American war. With the money question eliminated these people will come back and vote the democratic ticket next year, and we will win a victory over corruption, monopoly and special privilege. It would not help to bring them back, however, if we put a man in the leadership of the party in the House who, upon every occasion, like Cato of old, thundering against Carthage, said practically, "to the devil with the gold democrats." Thus it is that Champ Clark, the sterling man and splendid democrat, though one of the natural leaders in the House on account of his intellectuality and virile democracy, will not be the man who will map out the next campaign against the enemy of the people and the people's government.

A CHANCE FOR TEDDY TO ACT.

WASHINGTON, June 27:

Milk sugar forms the basis of baby foods. It is, therefore, a most necessary product in thousands of households, and it should be as cheap as possible, for, unfortunately, most babies are born in poor homes where the parents must struggle hard to get sufficient food even of the poorest quality. If there is any industry that should be fostered and protected, it is this industry in our homes. It would certainly seem cruel, almost inhuman, to legislate to make the price of baby food nearly double what it should be and thus to put it out of the reach of millions of little unfortunates. But this is just what our Congress did when it, in 1897, put a duty of five cents a pound on sugar of milk.

The Casein Co. of America not only controls the National Milk Sugar Co., the principal manufacturer of milk sugar in this country, but it controls the milk sugar industry of the world.

It is now selling milk sugar in this country at 14½ cents and in Europe 9½ cents per pound. It manufactures it here, principally in New York and Illinois, and exports it to other parts of the world. The difference in its foreign and domestic prices is exactly the amount of our tariff duty. The milk sugar infant gets its protection at the expense of the human infant. We are sacrificing human infants on the altar of protection. We are putting the dollar above the man. Yet our President is discussing "race suicide" without suggesting lower duties on food and clothing, all of which vastly increases the cost of living and thus starve and freeze our little ones and greatly increase the death rate.

Moody's Manual of Corporation Securities for 1903 tells that the capital stock of the Casein Co of America consists of $1,000,000 of 8% cumulative preferred and $5,500,000 of common and the net earnings in 1902-3 were about $1,700,000. The total value of our milk sugar product probably does not exceed $3,000,000. Thus this protected industry makes a net profit of more than 25% on its highly watered capital and of perhaps 100% on the sales of its products.

President Roosevelt should stop scolding the fathers and mothers of this country until he has had a private seance with the directors of the Casein Company, and until he has asked Congress to take the tariff duties off all products made by trusts which do not need protection and which use it only to unduly increase the cost of raising children.

Remove the tariff and other obstructions, Mr President, and the race will take care of itself!

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

So Prof. Koebele has exterminated the leaf hopper. The next thing to ponder on is a means of exterminating the agency employed to exterminate the leaf hopper.

Our opinion is that Evangelist Ufford is very little more than a "grafter." His silver-and-gold campaign of yesterday in Kawaiahao and Central Union churches would seem to fully justify this impression.

It is said that the proposed trip of Superintendent Cooper and Treasurer Kepoikai to Kauai, although seemingly official, is in the cause of doing a little politics in advance of the Counties coming into being. If not, why not? Too soon!

The lady who bought a couple of "fat" ducks and was amazed to find them blown up with a bicycle pump has evidently never invested very heavily in plantation stocks We know certain stocks that could beat the duck proposition all hollow—Kihei, for instance.

LE Pinkham says that Dr Goodhue has between 900 and 1,000 patients at Molokai settlement. We would like to ask how any mortal being can attend to so many people? Suppose he sees the enormous number of 100 a day, it will take ten days to get around. Dr Goodhue should have at least one assistant and probably more.

No doubt the Captain of the Clavering thinks the reef went out to meet him last night and crawled under the bow of his vessel. Officers of the Miowera and China felt the same; but the facts seem to show that the reef seldom goes off in search of the unwary vessels, and that the fault usually lies with the navigators who rely more on the impulses of a swelled head than on their official charts.

Evangelist E S Ufford has one characteristic that augurs well for success in his "Lifeline" campaign. It is his respect for the almighty dollar. At his service in Central Union church last evening he ewent his predecessors a notch better by taking up two collections in place of one. A man like that deserves to get around the world quite comfortably.

The Board of Health has already found ten "lepers" at the Molokai settlement who have not the leprosy and never did have it. This is a good starter, and speaks well for the new plan of supplementary examinations. If the scheme is faithfully continued it is not unreasonable to conceive of the ultimate release of several hundreds of clean people from the lazaretto.

A representative of one of the largest trust agencies of the city informs us that money was never so plentiful in Honolulu as at present, and that it is likely to go begging for investment shortly at seven percent. He pictures dead loads of it hoarded up in the banks and the vaults of trust agencies, awaiting investment. We are surprised to hear this, and rather pleased, withal, for it denotes an unexpected property; but, seriously, if New York brokers want to send new money into the Islands for our loan bonds we think we would still just a little prefer to take them up in place of seeing the country's own cash going into such a small interest investment.

The Pope is dead. The end came at an early hour this morning and a short time later the fact was known the world around. A great and a good man has gone. Pope Leo XIII. was a man of peace and of "good will to men." As head of the Catholic church he directed more than any King or Queen the harsher affairs of nations as well as the programs for their social and spiritual advancement. The world can ill spare a man of the calibre of the late Pope, but an All-wise God has so ordained and it must be so. Just what effect the incident will have upon the Catholic church can not be foretold. Certain it is that the successor to the Pontiff will have a worthy and illustrious example to follow.

The financiers who are raising the "home patronage" cry in regard to the new loan bonds have an object in view that is as mercenary and dishonest as it is transparent. They hope to purchase these bonds here at par and sell them to New York investors at a premium—only that and nothing more. In disposing of these bonds a preference should be given mainland investors, for the reason that purchases by them will mean the introduction of new money, a thing of vast importance at this time. Honolulu has no money to sink in low interest securities. All that is here is needed in industrial enterprises, and government bonds, which are understood and sought after in financial centers, should be used to bring new money into the Islands. Every dollar brought in in that way is an appreciable gain, our enterprising speculators to the contrary notwithstanding.

Pope Leo XIII Has Passed Away.

Pope Leo XIII. passed away at an early hour this morning in Rome, and today the Catholic world is in mourning. The aged Pontiff had been sinking for two days. Yesterday afternoon he stated to his attendants that he would not live twenty-four hours longer and asked for the final benedictions. The request was complied with. It is believed that he rapidly sank during the night and had a peaceful and painless end. The bell of the Catholic cathedral was tolled for an hour at noon today on account of the news from Rome. It is not known at this writing when the funeral will take place, but on whatever day it occurs the program will be as elaborate here as elsewhere.

Governor on Maui.

The Maui News of Saturday contains the following concerning Governor Dole's visit to Wailuku:

On Tuesday evening there was a meeting of the citizens of Wailuku, to make arrangements for the reception of Governor Dole.

From a letter received on Wednesday morning it was learned that the Governor and party would land at Kihei this morning at 7:30. There they will be met by an all-Maui committee consisting of R W Filler, J N S Williams, H P Baldwin, A N Hayselden, W O Aiken, Judge W A McKay, W H Cornwell and Rev J Nua, and be conveyed by special train through the cane area of central Maui via the big mill and Kahului, thence to Wailuku depot where they will be met by a special reception committee of the citizens of Wailuku, consisting of Carl Waldeyer, D H Case, W E Bal, G B Schrader and W T Robinson.

A further committee of arrangements consisting of Jos Welch, D Crowell, J K Kahookele, A Enos and G B Robertson will look after practical details, and the finance committee, will consist of R W Filler, T B Lyons and G B Robertson.

A luau will be given in the Wailuku schoolhouse at 12:30 today, and a reception will be tendered the governor at K of P Hall this evening from seven to nine. Special trains will run from up country, which will permit out of town people to meet the governor in the evening if they are unable to attend the luau. The Governor and party will probably leave for Hawaii on Sunday morning, unless they decide to spend another day on Maui.

NOTICE.

The undersigned hereby gives notice that he has disposed of his practice to Dr Frear and bespeaks a continuance of patronage for his successor the same as he has had.

Steamer on the Reef.

The British steamer Clavering, Captain Barton, from Hongkong and Yokohama for Honolulu, San Francisco and Mexico, is on the reef near the entrance to the harbor between the bell and spar buoys She ran on about 10 o'clock last night and every effort to move her has thus far proved of no avail. The tug Charles Counselman went out to the steamer about 2 a m and pulled on her until noon but to no purpose. The big tug Fearless then went out to help the little giant. It is believed that the steamer will be successfully moved during high tide which began at 1 o'clock. It is not thought that she is damaged to any extent, as since she grounded the weather has been of the best with exceptionally light seas.

The Clavering is under charter to the new China Commercial Company and this is her first voyage for that concern on the route from Hongkong to Mazanillo, via Yokohama, Honolulu and San Francisco. She carries a big cargo of freight, much of which is for this port. How she came to go on the reef is not yet fully known, though it looks like a case of the navigator losing his bearings and coming too close in. W G Irwin & Co are her local agents and they have made all arrangements for the work of saving her. She ran straight up on the reef under slow speed Attention of the pilots was attracted to her by her whistle and distress signals

Elks and Kams.

In the first baseball game on Saturday the Elks won from the Mailes by a score of 7 to 2. This was rather closer than had been expected. The second game, between the Honolulus and the Kams, was the banger. At the end of the eighth inning the former had the lead, 7 to 2. In the ninth, however, the Kams piled up seven runs to one for the Honolulus leaving the score 9 to 8.

Steamer on the Reef.

The British steamer Clavering, Captain Barton, from Hongkong and Yokohama for Honolulu, San Francisco and Mexico, is on the reef near the entrance to the harbor between the bell and spar buoys She ran on about 10 o'clock last night and every effort to move her has thus far proved of no avail. The tug Charles Counselman went out to the steamer about 2 a m and pulled on her until noon but to no purpose. The big tug Fearless then went out to help the little giant. It is believed that the steamer will be successfully moved during high tide which began at 1 o'clock. It is not thought that she is damaged to any extent, as since she grounded the weather has been of the best with exceptionally light seas.

The Clavering is under charter to the new China Commercial Company and this is her first voyage for that concern on the route from Hongkong to Mazanillo, via Yokohama, Honolulu and San Francisco. She carries a big cargo of freight, much of which is for this port. How she came to go on the reef is not yet fully known, though it looks like a case of the navigator losing his bearings and coming too close in. W G Irwin & Co are her local agents and they have made all arrangements for the work of saving her. She ran straight up on the reef under slow speed Attention of the pilots was attracted to her by her whistle and distress signals

Elks and Kams.

In the first baseball game on Saturday the Elks won from the Mailes by a score of 7 to 2. This was rather closer than had been expected. The second game, between the Honolulus and the Kams, was the banger. At the end of the eighth inning the former had the lead, 7 to 2. In the ninth, however, the Kams piled up seven runs to one for the Honolulus leaving the score 9 to 8.

Board to Molokai.

The Board of Health returned at 11 o'clock last night from its semi-annual visit to the Molokai settlement. In the party that went over in the Lehua were Drs Cooper and Mays, E C Winston, M P Robinson, Lorrin Andrews, L E Pinkham, J H Fisher and Dr G McConnell, the latter of Philadelphia. At the settlement the usual inspections of Kalaupapa and Kalawao were made. Several business meetings were held, during which a great many routine matters were acted upon.

Ten persons confined at the settlement were, upon examination, ordered to be released, they to report to their respective district physicians once a month for re-examination.

A vote of thanks was tendered to C R Bishop for a gift of $2,500 to be used in the construction of a building for the blind.

The Board was greatly pleased with conditions as they were found, particularly with the work of Dr Goodhue and Superintendent McVeigh.

THE FLAG AND POPE LEO XIII.

The following correspondence passed between Father Valentin and Secretary Carter yesterday relative to the official observance of the Pope's death:

"Hon. George R Carter, Secretary of the Territory, Dear Sir:

"We have heard this morning of the death of the Pope of Rome, Leo XIII. In consideration of his high position and as a ruler (in spiritual matter) of a great portion of this Territory and of the United States, I humbly beg of you, if it would be in your power to have the Territorial flag at half mast out of respect of a public benefactor of humanity. I don't see that any one in this community could object. I don't know if my suggestion is out of order, but knowing your own broadminded spirit and our friendly relation, I have taken the liberty to speak to you, as I have done. I presume that the people of Hawaii would appreciate such an act of liberality coming from a liberal administration. I have taken this step on my own responsibility and in the absence of our representative the Bishop of these Islands. Yours respectfully,

"J H VALENTIN"

The answer sent by Secretary Carter was as follow:

"In reply to your very kind note of even date, permit to express my sympathy with all those who owe spiritual allegiance to the Supreme Pontiff, Leo XIII. The news of his death that is flashed around the world this morning will be cause of sorrow to millions and millions of those who pay allegiance to him.

"It pleases me to have you to open and frank and in the same spirit let me say that I do not believe it would be proper, in the absence of the Governor, for me to take the action that you indicate. It is my duty only to execute Governor Dole's policy, and I understand that the flag over this building is considered an executive flag, and only goes to half mast out of respect to some official superior in rank to the Executive. As an illustration, it was not put at half mast on the death of Judge Wilcox the other day, and as far as I can find it has not been put at half mast on the announcement of the death of any foreign potentate since the adoption of the policy above outlined.

"I know that in the past here, owing to the cosmopolitan nature of our community, it has been the custom to show such outward marks of respect on every occasion possible. I agree with you that if the flag were placed at half mast a large number of the people of the Territory would appreciate such an act of respect to the Catholic church; yet, on the other hand, there may be those who would object. I, however, believe that the Government should be free from all denominational questions; all should be treated fairly and alike.

"Very sincerely yours,

"GEORGE R CARTER,

FLAG AND THE POPE.

Secretary Carter's reply to Father Valentin's very courteous and reasonable inquiry as to whether the flag over the Palace might not be set at half-mast in honor of the memory of Pope Leo XIII. must be accepted as a slap in the face, on the part of the administration, to the Catholics of these Islands. The worthy Priest who submitted the inquiry was impelled by the very purest of motives. Politics were never in his thought. It remained for the "strenuous" Secretary to make a political grand stand play out of it.

In our opinion the flag over the Palace could have been most appropriately set at half mast in honor of the dead Pontiff. It would not necessarily have been a distinctive recognition of the Catholic church, nor even of the Pope as the head of that church. By everybody it would have been taken as a fitting tribute to a great man of God, one who by his vast work has made mankind better and purer and happier; one who has sent education and Christianity into the world's dark places; one who has stood as a fatherly abiter between nations, and has stood in the past twenty-five years as the greatest influence this earth has ever known against war and the terrible consequences of international disorder.

His life's work appeals to mankind as something above the routine of politics and religion. It appears as the embodiment of Christ like existence, the effect of which will be felt in ages to come. There is perhaps no intelligent man today but will admit that the dead Pope was the greatest power for good of the last quarter century and that he lived up fully to his opportunities. Not as the head of a church was it desired that the flag should be set at half mast; but as a token of respect to one of the greatest men of our time.

The dead Pope was a great power for good when Secretary Carter had not been thought of and Governor Dole was still in his swaddling clothes. And it remained for them to withhold a simple courtesy that might reasonably and appropriately have been shown.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Judge Davis' ruling that his court possesses the functions of a grand jury in committal cases, and can limit hearings to the evidence of the prosecution, if it so chooses, is a corker. Such a ruling would stump a cat in a law student's reading den. The case is one that might commend itself for the serious consideration of the grand jury itself.

"Deacon" Testa is not, nor has he ever been, a candidate for the District Magistracy. But "he has assailed the Governor's administration frequently and virulantly enough," and in the face of being so assailed the Governor appointed him on the Fire Claims Commission. How's that, Mr Star? Perhaps, you may know all how 'twas done.

Marston Campbell will get his vacation and W E Rowell will do his work in the meantime. Republican Home Rulers and Home Rule Republicans who don't like to view this little arrangement are at liberty to save any strain on their eyes by using smoked glass.—Advertiser.

"He laughs best who laughs last." The voters of the Territory have permitted the "family compact" several bursts of glee in the past few months. It is now the turn of the ballot man, and, in our opinion "smoked glass" will not be in special demand in his market on the approaching day of reckoning.

It won't make much difference to the taxpayers whether the County elections are carried by the Notley Home Rulers or the Kumalae Republicans. There is small choice in rotten apples.—Advertiser.

It is not out of order for native, or—as the Advertiser prefers it—Kumalae Republicans, to paste the above in their hats for future reference. It is a kind of irony on consistency, this policy of the morning paper. A few moons ago it advocated a platform and succeeded in electing its candidates on that platform. But, withal, in less than a year it turns upon the only men on the Republican ticket who lived up to the platform and classifies them as "rotten apples" The only inference to be drawn is that the Advertiser was not in sympathy with its platform in the first place.

"We won't need him for a long time yet."

The speaker was an employee of the Y M C A and he was answering a question as to when Secretary Brown would return from his vacation. He probably did not realize how much truth there was in his simple remark. Secretary Brown said a short time ago that he had a mind to cut the city papers out of the reading room because they served as an attraction for a large number of men who paid no dues. For the love of Adam, what is the Y M C A intended for, if it is not to lure men away from the streets and places of questionable amusement and interest them in something more substantial? Men who pay dues to the Y M C A expect that money to be used to make the place attractive. It is next to impossible, however, with any amount of money, to make such an institution attractive when in charge of a man who was born to dicker in paste diamonds under a three-ball sign in place of such a superintendency and leadership as that in question.

Despite the reasonable excuse of the Captain, we still fail to see a complete justification of the officers in the grounding of the steamer Clavering Sunday night. The approaches to this harbor are carefully and minutely charted. Any and every sea-faring man coming to this port has every detail before him as plain as A B C. The bell buoy is to be depended upon only when there is some swell. This talk of its clapper being muzzled by Japanese fisherman is the veriest rot. There was not sufficient sea to move the buoy and the bell didn't ring. That is all there is to it. It is a rather queer proceeding for a steamer captain to take a ship and valuable cargo, in a dark night, around in perilous waters in search of a bell buoy in a dead sea. His manifest duty was to stand off for the night, coming in next morning. There was nothing to be gained by anchoring, except perhaps the novelty after a long voyage.

Memory of the Pope.

The Papal flag of yellow and white and the Stars and Stripes were both set at half mast on neighboring poles in the grounds of the Catholic cathedral yesterday and will so remain until after a successor to the late Pope has been selected. It is the custom in such cases to half-mast both the Pope's flag and the flag of the nation in which the observance occurs. In addition to this ceremony the cathedral bell will be tolled at 6 a m, 12 noon and 6 p m of each day. On some day of next week to be decided upon later there will be a Ponifical Requiem Mass.

How It Happened.

The captain of the Clavering gives the following account of the grounding of his vessel off the entrance to the harbor Sunday night:

"When we were off Barber's Point the fires were banked as I expected to come to an anchorage in half an hour. We proceeded towards the harbor gradually slowing down until we were going at less than half speed, and keeping the Diamond Head light in view until we crossed the line of the two harbor blue lights. The map showed that the bell buoy should be close by and the chief officer at the bow and myself at the bridge kept a sharp lookout, but we could neither hear nor see it. Soundings were being repeatedly taken and just before we struck, the man reported no bottom at twenty fathoms. It was my intention to anchor in thirteen fathoms, and not hearing the bell or finding bottom, I concluded that I was outside the buoy, accordingly swung slow around by the mouth of the harbor. The night was dark and the lights on shore were rather blinding but I considered that we were far enough out. We were now proceeding so slowly that I did not know that the vessel ran aground until I heard the officer at the bow call out and order the engines full speed astern. A few moments later he called out and said to stop the engines, that we were aground. The line now showed four fathoms off the bow. When I realized that we were aground I immediately hoisted two red lanterns to the masthead and began blowing my whistle."

The Pope and Labor.

"Remuneration must be sufficient to support the wage earner in reasonable and frugal comfort. If through necessity, or fear of a worse evil, the workman must accept harder conditions because an employer or contractor will afford him no better, he is simply the victim of force and injustice."—Pope Leo XIII.

The steamer Claverlng was pulled off of the reef shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by the tugs Fearless and Charles Counselman and came into port under her own steam. It is not believed that she is injured to any great extent, although this cannot be definitely told until a thorough examination has been made. The vessel slid out of her predicament shortly after the tugs Fearless, Counselman and Iroquois had worked on her, the latter, at the time, having returned to port for a heavier hawser.

Iroquois Returns.

The U S tug Iroquois returned yesterday afternoon from Maui and Hawaii, having left the Governor and party at Mahukona. At Wailuku on Saturday and Saturday night a very elaborable program was carried out. On Sunday the party left in the Iroquois for Hawaii. It was the intention of the Governor on Monday to visit Eben Low's ranch and other places.

Hawaiian Plays.

The company arranging to put on a series of Hawaiian historical plays in the Opera house will be ready to present the first one in about three weeks. Rehearsals are held every afternoon. It is said that the plays are masterpieces of their kind and that the scenery has never been excelled here. It has taken several months to prepare the latter.

The first two plays will be followed by one illustrating the overthrown of the monarcy in 1893. This will follow history to the letter Every important incident of that exciting period will be reproduced, even to the reading of the proclamation by H E. Cooper and the shooting of a policeman by Captain John Good. The Queen will be impersonated in the exciting Palace scene by a Hawaiian young lady of sixteen. All of the plays bear the promise of drawing immense audiences.

New Zealand Mail.

The "Auckland Star" says:

"Already there are indications that an attempt will be made during this session of Parliament to get rid of the Auckland-San Francisco mail service. There may be nothing in the rumor that the Union Steamship Company proposes to build special steamers for a Vancouver service on condition of receiving a Government subsidy. But every year we may safely expect that Southern members will advocate the claims of some other route in preference to the 'Frisco route, and judging from an article which appeared lately in the "Lyttleton Times," the campaign against the Auckland service has already begun.

"We are informed that Messrs Spreckels intend to apply this year for an increased subsidy for a fortnightly San Francisco service. When the 'Frisco line was before the House in October, 1901, it was arranged to offer Mr Spreckels a poundage subsidy on mails ranging from a minimum of £15,000 to a maximum of £20,000 a year for a 17 days' service. The contract was fixed for 18 months only, so as to allow the matter to come up again for discussion during this session. When the question is raised in the House no doubt the request for an increased subsidy will be made an argument for modifying the present arrangement in such a way that the Spreckels Company will not be likely to renew it."

WEDNESDAY, JULY 22, 1903.

THOUGHTS FOR THE AUDITOR.

Can anyone tell us why Judge Weaver and three or four officers of the Registration Land Court should be paid large salaries from July 1 to the middle of September when there is no court and no work to do save the inconsequential details of organizing the office system, which might easily be completed in a day? After receiving his appointment as Judge, Weaver decide that he must go to Boston to "learn" the proceedings of the land court there. It was presumed at the time he was appointed that he was capable and ready to assume the duties of the office, but such seems not to have been the case. While away, and doing nothing direct for the good of the country, he draws his salary and, we are reliably informed, expects to draw a large sum for expenses of the junketing trip in his own behalf.

In addition to this large, unauthorized and illegal expenditure and proposed diversion of public funds, it is intended to keep up the salaries of three, and perhaps four officials of the court for more than two months, while they do absolutely nothing and have no duties to perform. Registrar Savidge makes the apology that the officers will, between now and the return of Judge Weaver, have upon them the "onerous" duty of getting the office in shape. One would suppose from this that a Great Eastern department or a new Government was to be established. As a matter of fact the work of getting the Court in shape could easily be performed in twenty-four hours.

There is an important thought in the case for the Auditor. That official is supposed to issue salary warrants for work performed for the Government. In this case there has been no work, and there can consequently be no salaries.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Charles Notley is a good joker. He is a good joker because he tells a political joke in an entertaining way and is able to palm it off on the Advertiser and Star at par. 'Rah for Notley!

Treasurer Kepoikai was this morning presented by Miss Anna M Prescott with a copy of her book "Makapala-by-the-Sea." He is her beau-ideal of "a marvel and a masterpiece, the che d'ouere of Hawaiians." May we ask in what is he "a marvel and a masterpiece?" Miss Prescott may know and be able to answer our question.

Thus far a Hawaiian has not received recognition at Annapolis as a Government aided student. The first cadet from Hawaii was a Connecticut boy, a son of Captain Pond of the Iroquois. The second, Ellis Lando, was born in a mainland State and has been here but a very few years. Up to this writing, therefore, Hawaii has not been represented at Annapolis, save for the late Paul Neumann's son and perhaps other "pay" students.

The San Francisco Call is just now making a tremendous bid for public favor in the Sunday field. Its Sunday editions, besides containing the news of the world, carry a valuable fund of interesting and reliable matter on numerous topics. A vast amount of talent and money is also expended upon its art supplement, an innovation in newspaper "extras" not exceeded in point of excellence and attractiveness on the Pacific Coast. The Sunday Call is above par in the scale of reading matter for the home.

The late Pope Leo XIII., the "man of peace," probably averted more clashes between civilized nations than the world has ever known or ever will know. His successor must follow his example, or there may at any time be serious disruptions of the peace of Europe and perhaps general wars. It is very doubtful that Cardinal Oreglia is just that man. He is a man of strong prejudices, particularly in a political way, which will probably introduce into the Papacy an element avoided by the late Pontiff and most undesirable at this time. However, the future alone can tell.

Of the six names endorsed by the Republican Central Committee for the new position of Deputy Insurance Commissioner under the Treasurer, three are mentioned as "esquires," they having the "Esq." tagged after their names. Such being the case, pray, what are the others? Are they "nothings" or "nobodies?" Or are they——? Or as suggested by a prominent Republican, the three "esquires" are of the upper crust, and those without are of the people. But of the lot, in the order presented, as elsewhere herein shown, we would suggest the Biblical saying that "the first shall be last and the last first." The last name is our choice and drop the other Republican office seekers and job chasers.

We object most positively to the locating of the military armory on the Palace grounds at the corner of Hotel and Likelike streets, and are surprised that the suggestion of such a thing should ever have been made. For many years it has been generally and strongly felt that the park around the Palace has been too much encumbered with secondary and outside obstructions. The old kitchen and Wray Taylor's garden at Hotel and Likelike streets are among the number. The Palace grounds should—and must be—kept clear of unnecessary buildings. Let the armory go to some unoccupied Government lot, of which there are a number. If it is located on the Palace grounds we can assure the men responsible for it that they will hear something drop with a mighty "dull thud" in the next Legislature. Let that be remembered.

While the Democrats and Home Rulers are working on the same lines, and closer together than ever before, there is still not that unison that will positively assure success in the County elections on Oahu and Kauai. As to the two counties of Hawaii and Maui County there has for some time been no cause for doubt. It seems to us, however, that on this island there should be some slight rearrangement of central committees. The heads of committees, most of all, should be willing and aggressive workers, and should have the confidence of the precincts. Men who work one week for a cause and rest fifty-one do not, as a rule make good political motormen. A little readjustment is in order, and it should be carried out before the battalions are arraigned for the fight.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

THE INDEPENDENT 50 cents per month.

J A Wilder returned by the Sonoma this morning.

Work of pile driving at the Oceanic dock will be completed about the middle of next week.

Princess Kalaninaole entertained a large number of friends at her Waikiki home yesterday afternoon.

Upon the return of Governor Dole from Hawaii the Kohala mountain water leases will be put up at auction.

Prof J T Crawley and family will leave by the Siberia to spend the warm season at Los Gator, Cal.

Dr and Mrs J T McGrew are at home again after a visit to the farmer's old home in Cincinnati and a tour of California.

Prof W D Alexander returned from the Coast today after a visit there on business for the Federal survey department.

A survey of the steamer Claverings, which went on the reef Sunday night, will be made under the direction of Lloyds here.

It is said that Col C P Iaukea is organizing a Citizens Party for the County election, with himself on the slate for Sheriff of Oahu.

The Oahu Lumber & Building Co has sued W S Elings for a balance of $618.81, citing the First National Bank of Hawaii as garnishee.

Judge Gear has appointed C J Willis commissioner to partition lands in the suit of Caroline Haughton vs Percy K Mossman and others.

A concert will be given by the band at Thomas Square this evening. Tomorrow night there will be music on the grounds of the Hawaiian hotel.

The big steamer Siberia will not be due until Friday but will probably get in tomorrow from Yokohama on her way to San Francisco.

The Peking arrived off port about 10 o'clock last night from San Francisco. She will sail at 12 o'clock tonight for Japan and China

The Iwalani will get away at 5 o'clock this afternoon for Hawaii ports. The Noeau will sail at the same hour for Lahaina and Hamakua ports.

Prof A Koebele returned by the Sonoma this morning from San Francisco. He will probably continue his voyage on the same vessel to Sydney.

There are only forty tax appeal cases this year, compromises having been effected in most of the disagreements. The largest appeal is on a valuation of only $40,000.

R W Shingle, W F Dillingham and Frank Halstead left yesterday for a hunting tour of Kahoolawe. They will be called for there by either the Kinau or one of the Maui liners.

Bishop street, which has just been macadamized, will have to be torn up again on account of a water conduit running from the Young building to the old Arlington site having been laid too near the surface.

As the steamer Claverings and her cargo are valued at about $700,000, the tugs Fearless and Counselman would have a salvage claim of over $100,000. It is not unlikely, however, that a compromise will be effected for something like half that amount.

G R Carter and J O Carter, trustees under the will of the late H A P Carter, have filed their account for the year ending June 30, 1903. They charge themselves with $244,207 77 received on account of principal and $26 389 50 on account of income, and ask to be allowed the latter sum for payments and charges on account of income. The $244,207.77 mentioned includes $48,180.02 cash on hand uninvested.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Federal Attorney Breckons is laid up with the dengue fever.

The Sonoma will sail at 7 o'clock tonight for Samoa and the Colonies.

Noah W Aluli will be appointed an assistant in the office of the Attorney General.

Architect O G Traphagen is having drawn the plans for the proposed new armory building.

A B Wood, wife and son, left by the Ventura last evening for San Francisco on a pleasure trip.

Deputy Sheriff J K Nahale, of Kona, is said to be a candidate for sheriff of West Hawaii county.

Hackmen have had a harvest today takiug passengers by the Peking and Sonoma to the Pali and other places.

A M Brown, James H Boyd, Col C P Iaukea and a "dark horse" are thus far the candidates for sheriff of Oahu county.

A T Atkinson, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and wife are still at Ahuimanu. They will return to the city tomorrow or next day.

The clock tower over Aliiolani Hale, now the Judiciary Building, is giving out "fibs" by showing the wrong time of day. It was so yesterday and is still so today.

The woods are full of candidates for supervisors. All thus far in the field, however, are Republicans. The names of the successful candidates are yet to be announced.

Edward Hore of Waialua, for many years district magistrate of Waialua has been licensed by Judge De Bolt to practice law in the district courts and before circuit judges at chambers on appeal.

Superintendent Cooper did not go to Kauai yesterday as he had intended, but decided upon a tour of Oahu instead. He is in Koolau today and will return by way of Waialua, arriving home on Friday.

Former British Consul W J Kenny, who will be so pleasantly remembered here, is a through passenger from England by the steamer Peking for his post in Formosa. He is spending the day meeting old acquaintances.

Guy Livingstone and Miss Winnie Sharratt will be married at St Andrews cathedral this evening. Mr Livingstone is a clerk in the Auditor's office and both of the young people have many good friends in the Islands.

There will be an open installation of officers of Damien Council No 563 Y M I at San Antonio hall at 8 o'clock this evening. Owing to the death of His Holiness the Pope, the social will be dispensed with. Admission by cards.

The Wm W Bierce Co has brought suit to recover $15,000 alleged to be due for railroad material supplied to the Kona Sugar Co. The Hutchins syndicate gave a bond of $30,000 against the case with W R Castle and J A McCandless as sureties.

Judge De Bolt dismissed the case of Alfredo Andrade De Mattos vs Jose G Serrao without prejudice for want of jurisdiction. It was a suit claiming $5000 damages for malicious prosecution on a charge of common nuisance in keeping cattle that disturbed a neighborhood in South Hilo.

Lando Goes Through.

The following dispatch was received by Delegate Kuhio yesterday from Washington:

Washington, D C, July 2, 1903.
Delegate Kalaniaole,
Honolulu.

Ellis Lando passed examination for midshipman. Direct him to come to the Naval Academy immediately if over fifteen and under twenty years old.

Signed: TAYLOR.

Republican Endorsement for Office.

Secretary Atkinson, of the Republican Central Commitee, sent the following communication, dated yesterday, to Treasurer Kepoikai this morning:

"I have to inform you that the following have received the endorsement and recommendation for the position of Deputy Insurance Commissioner: A Barnes, Esq, J M Riggs, F T P Waterhouse, C Girdler, Esq, W R Simms, Esq, George Smithies."

Better give the appointment to the last named, never mind the the others, who, so we are informed, is the most likely caudidate for the place.

Liquor Licenses Renewed.

The following renewals of liquor licenses were issued by the Treasury Department on Monday last: Dealers—J S Canario for S I Shew & Co, and W C Peacock & Co, both for Hilo. Retail—W M Cunningham for the Favorite (Wela-ka-hao); C B Lemon for the Mint, and C R Dement for the Encore, all in this city.

Shipping News.

San Francisco, July 14—The schooner J H Lussmann (at Honolulu) is chartered for lumber from Portland to Shanghai at 35s, with option of Kalochau (lump sum).

The schooner Luzon is chartered for sugar from Honolulu to Delaware Breakwater.

The bark Albert returns to Honolulu with general cargo.

An opinion from the Attorney General's Department, signed by Assistant Fleming, on the verbal request of the Treasurer relative to the appointment of one to the new office of Commissioner of Immigration and Advertising Agent, was handed Treasurer Kepoikai yesterday afternoon and withdrawn again this morning, we understand, for a more extended opinion, which may be received in a day or two.

Assistant Surgeon Thornbury, connected with the Marine Hospital Service, was under Dr. Cofer, has been dismissed from the department. For some time there has been a kind of halo of ill-repute about the head of the official, and a Washington despatch of July 6 gives the following account of the outcome:

"Assistant Surgeon F J Thornbury, who has been dismissed from the Marine Hospital Service, will receive notification of his removal as soon as the order can be sent to Hawaii, where he is stationed in the quarantine hospital at Honolulu. Concerning the charges which were made against him and approved by the authorities in Washington, Supervising Surg. Gen. Walter Wyman refused yesterday to make any statement. It is known that he was charged with conduct unbecoming a gentleman and an officer, and insubordination."

Bridge Fell In.

Definite information concerning the collapse of the bridge over Kaukonahua creek near Wahiawa last Friday has been received. Two wagons were a total wreck and their loads of cane were deposited in the gulch in such a position that much was lost. Two horses were so badly injured that they had to be shot and the other two will be unfit for service for a long time. The men with the teams narrowly escaped with their lives. A W Esmes, owner of the outfit, was in town yesterday for the purpose of filing a claim for damages against the government.

Superintendent Cooper has declined to accept the resignation of Marston Campbell from the office of Assistant Superintendent of Public Works.

It is just possible that disbarment proceedings may be instituted against J A Magoon and George A Davis, who have been charged with euchering $4,000 and $2,000, respectively, as additional blood money out of John K Sumner. Attorney General Andrews is making a thorough investigation of the matter and will report back to the Supreme Court on or before Monday.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

And so George E Smithies, our choice, is to receive the appointment as the new Deputy Insurance Commissioner. If so, good, good! But how about the other job chasers? Nit!!

Another big lot of Japanese arrived by the Siberia, most of them for the plantations. Mr E F Berger had better go down and find out whether or not any of them were "assisted."

General Cassius M Clay, who died in Kentucky yesterday, left an immense fortune. Before his death he refused to see his divorced child-wife, and so far as we know no "trustees" were selected by the deceased. Sic 'em, Davis!

The people who will kick most against the big debt saddled upon this country by the Republicans are the children of today who will perhaps have to go hungry to pay the bill fifteen years from now. This loan business of 1903 looks very much like a case of parental robbery.

E. T. Rogers had best not make the acquaintance of the lawyers in the Sumner case. He is apparently weak on the "goo-goo eyes" proposition, and if he meets these soft ocular legal gentleman he is more than apt to say the parting aloha to more money than he did in the case of the fair Kolos school-teacher.

"Doctor" Thornbury, the miserable failure of assistant to Dr Cofer here has at last been found out by the government at Washington and been unceremoniously dismissed from the Marine Hospital service. THE INDEPENDENT was first to call attention to the coarse work of this man. We prefer to kick a man upstairs rather than down stairs, always; but in this case we feel that Uncle Sam was fully justified in using his boot-toe down[illegible] though the door and half [illegible] the street, for the matter of th[illegible]

The report that Mary Manneri E H Sothern and Richard Mansfi will each play seasons in Honol this Winter is the best of good n if true. It will give the Islands chance to see and hear the brigh stars of the American stage, an witness the interpretation of world's best plays in the most ceptable way.

Rev E S Ufford, "Lifeline," saving apparatus, church collecti immaculate gall and all, left by steamer Peking last night for Orient. There is no use in wishing well, for a man of his "collecti propensity would not live in the sert of Sahara two years be having a brick mansion and a w kept lawn. Good-bye, Brot Ufford. Too-too!

The Honolulu Times has fo out that Walter G Smith, editor the P C A, is "a true genuine jou alist, with a hatful of esprit d' co a man who will help a man beca he is a man and one who belie in, and acts up to, the real spirit the 'brotherhood of man.'" He m be "the very man," but where d he come off with the "sisterhood woman," eh? It has taken a wom to find him out, but man—no, nev hardly ever!

The last Legislature beats all before it for creating many soft billets, some of which seem to have been "built" for the man wherewith to draw a fine living from, never mind the public and taxpayers. Some of these, the duties are nil, but the salary is handsome, as compared with what may be done and what was intended that the incumbent might do. One of these fat job is the now newly paid President of the Board of Health, the law failing to define his duties outside of the usual routine other than to draw the salary for the same.

Although head and shoulders in intellect and statesmanship above any man the Republicans have to offer for the Presidency, the suggestion of Grover Cleveland as a possibility in the next campaign has not been and probably never will be, taken seriously. Mr Cleveland is strong in the East and South, but his following there is more than offset by the opposition of the Middle States and the West. It seems to us that the appearance of Mr Cleveland on the outskirts of the Democratic ranks will have the effect of rallying the Hearst forces and strengthening the lines in that direction rather than bringing friends over to the side of the ex-President.

Not only should the new National Guard armory not be allowed to go on the Palace grounds but every other building in the park, except the Palace itself, should at once be removed. The old P G kitchen at the corner of Likelike and Hotel streets, which is in every particular an eye-sore, should be forthwith razed, and the plot it occupies improved and beautified. The Bungalow should also go. It has no rightful place on the grounds and is an obstruction to the beauty of the park. What is wanted is that the Palace remain alone in its park of tropical verdure, without mars upon the splendid picture originally planned for it. If the gate is opened for the [illegible] was to be allowed to accompany the Board. His answer was that none was to be allowed to go. He further stated that a suggestion had been made to the Press if all could agree upon one representative, as the vessel was small and had hardly any accommodation, and mentioned making the proposition to representatives of the morning and evening partners in anything and everything, the Advertiser and Star. In such an event, other members of the Press were disregarded, and of course with THE INDEPENDENT, it is too small to be noticed and considered as a fit member of such a clan—being of such a size that it cannot impress its opinion to bring pressure upon those whom it intends to press into being as to their duty towards those of their fellows who were unfortunate enough to fall under the ban of misfortune and who are unable to express their feelings either one way or the other. And now we know Dr Cooper, for we have found him out.

Large Salvage Claims.

The tug Counselman has put in a salvage claim of $40,000 against the British steamer Claverlug, and it is expected that the Fearless will demand even more than that. It will probably be some weeks before the matter will be brought before the courts. The U S tug Iroquois claims nothing nor can she, for she is on special service and her principal duty is to assist vessels of any flag in the Islands in distress, free of charge.

By the Sonoma last evening, Dr Geo H Huddy left for a few months vacation in Australia, and was accompanied by his sister, Mrs Hill, and her daughter, Mrs Drake. Many friends were down to the Hackfeld wharf to see them off, and as the big liner moved off, their friends ashore struck up "Aloha Oe" by singing it and received an applause from those aboard.

Duties of President.

The Legislature prescribed and fixed a salary for the President of the Board of Health but failed to outline the duties of that official. The matter was referred to a special committee of the Board, and yesterday the following report of that committee was adopted:

Whereas the Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii, at its recent session, by Act 57 of the Laws of 1903, amended the law relating to the Board of Health and abolished the office of executive officer of the Board of Health, and

Whereas the said Legislature also provided for a salaried president, but failed to fully define the duties of said president, it is hereby

Resolved that the Board of Health instruct and empower its president to act as executive officer of said Board of Health, with all the powers and duties necessary for carrying on the executive work of said Board; to make the necessary appointments and changes, and enforce all regulations and directions of the Board, subject to the ratification by the Board at regular or special meetings; to carry out the wishes of the Board, as expressed at regular meetings, through the proper subordinates, and to see that the same are carried out, with full power and authority of action, including the appointment, dismissal or suspension of subordinates, subject to ratification of the Board of Health at regular or special meetings.

Hasson In Navy.

W F C Hasson has gone back to the navy and has an excellent position as instructor at Annapolis. He was formerly an officer but left the service about twenty years ago. When he resigned his position a few months ago with the local government he announced to his immediate friends that he was going to Washington to accept "a better position." The following from W N Armstrong to a friend indicates that he has been entirely successful in his venture.

"W F C Hasson, son-in-law of the late Paul Neumann, after an absence of over twenty years from the Naval service, has just passed a most creditable examination, and been commissioned as a professor in the Naval service, with rank of Lieutenant Commander. He has been assigned to the Naval Academy at Annapolis."

Citizen Labor Crowded Out on the New Kaimuki Road.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:

When the members of the Legislature passed an appropriation of $13,000 for the widening and grading of Kaimuki road they believed that the work could be done by citizen labor and that Hawaiian and other citizens would be given a chance to earn a few honest dollars, but unfortunately they were mistaken, for on going out that way on Tuesday I saw some 300 or more Japs and Chinese working on the road but not one single Hawaiian, Portuguese or white. Upon investigating this matter I find that a large number of citizens, both Hawaiian and white applied for work on Monday, but were told that their services were not needed.

While on the subject of citizen labor I would like to add that these conditions put me forcibly in mind of how things are run in South Kona, Hawaii. The conditions are almost the same,—plenty of road work—plenty of citizens ready to take it—and Japs and Chinese filling the places that belong to voters.

Mr Editor, something ought to be done at once to give our citizens and voters a chance to work instead of keeping a lot of Japs, Chinks, and other vermin on the government works, and drawing government pay.

WM. J. WRIGHT.

Kaahumanu Remembered.

Kaahumanu, wife of Kamehameha I, commonly referred to as "the good Queen," is to have a magnificent tablet to her memory in Kawaiahao church. The tablet, which is of Italian marble and has already been prepared, is inscribed as follows:

In memory of Elizabeth Kaahumanu, daughter of Keeaumoku and Namahana. She was born at about 1773 at the foot of the hill Kauiki on East Maui; became a wife of Kamehameha I at thirteen, and was his favorite until his death in 1819. After the death of Kamehameha II in 1823, she wisely ruled the Hawaiian people as Queen Regent until her death in 1832. Although naturally proud and haughty she early in her regency accepted Jesus as her saviour, was baptized in Kawaiahao in 1825, and labored earnestly to lead her people to Christ. She was spoken of by the American Missionaries as "a distinguished reformer of her nation, a kind friend and benefactress of the Missionaries, and a faithful comforter of the infant churches in these isles." As she was falling asleep in Jesus at the age of about 59, in the beautiful valley of Manoa, just before the dawn of June 5, 1832, fully trusting her Saviour, she repeated the following lines of a valued Hawaiian hymn:

"Eia no au e Iesu, e,
I nana oluolu mai ia'u."
(Lo, here am I, O Jesus, Grant me thy gracious smile.)

Thomas Cummins' Estate.

Thomas J Cummins left an estate in money and stocks valued at $25,572.82. It is to be divided in quarters between the three daughters, Maria, Elizabeth and Lydia, and the two children of deceased's sister, Mrs Maria M Barry, of Roxbury, Mass. J O Carter is made executor, to serve without bonds. The will was executed December 30, 1896. A petition for probate, etc, was filed yesterday.

The American ship Tillie E Starbuck arrived in port this morning from Newcastle with coal. She made the trio in the remarkably good time of 37 days.

NON-DISEASED INMATES.

Now that the Board of Health has decided, so 'tis reported, to remove from the Molokai Settlement certain well persons who have made themselves obnoxious and most objectionable and who originally went there as assistants (kokuas) to their diseased and helpless husbands, wives, parents, children or friends, and among them some who are now declared not to be diseased nor are in the least tainted, but who were originally condemned as diseased to that living grave or earthly hell. Some of these people have become attached to that place, all their interest being centred there, and now they are to be removed, not knowing where to go to and where to earn a precarious living. In our opinion, the Government should first provide them with work before making a wholesale removal, as some of them may have to sacrifice all that they have in the Settlement before leaving.

But there is another phase to this removal proposition. If leprosy is contagious as is claimed for it by our medical fraternity, then why attempt to remove them? Those that are to be removed, although they show no sign of the disease and no visible taint may be internally tainted. Contamination for years may, in due course of time, if this theory of contagion is correct, force the disease upon them, as their systems may be highly contaminated with it. But if this theory is not correct, our medical men may as well now come out with the truth and declare the disease non-contagious and non-communicable. Our own opinion is that it is non-contagious, but communicable by frequent and careless contact. We may be wrong in such an opinion and liable to err, yet we do not deem ourselves infallible and immaculate, but are ready to hold ourselves open to conviction.

Yet again, there is another phase which is a theory about to be exploded in this proposed deportation. For years, any one suspected of having the disease was, after a medical examination had been made by a board of examiners from whose decision there is no "appeal," deported to that "hell hole on earth" and rightly and properly called by Hawaiians "the land of suffering" and "the living dumping ground of death," where all must death while still in the land of the living. It is a veritable "hell on earth," so to speak, and a sure "living death," for once one enters there, there is no returning; but there one lingers without any attempt whatever being made to treat the disease till "death claims its own."

Hawaiians have claimed, and rightly too, we believe, that many are condemned to that "living death" on the merest pretense. The "suspect" law came in very handy as a means of ridding any one showing the least sign of suspicion by giving information, generally through spite, ill feeling and jealousy, with political animosity wrung in. Many were no doubt sent there without the least sign of the disease, but on the condemnation of medical examiners they had to go to their "living death," on whose dictum they have no means whatever of redress. But what could the masses do? The medicos had the upperhand and were deemed infallible, that is, they were not liable to err. What they said was law and there was no denying their prejudiced judgments, in many instances.

And now, the Board of Health is to let loose among the community a lot of people who were once declared as diseased, but not now diseased. How can we account for the judgment of our immaculate medical men—for once they were and now they are not? In this, a great problem is before the Hawaiian people and it behooves them to see that none of them are to be deported in the future by slip-shod condemnation to that confounded and illtimed "living death."

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Col C P Iaukea strikes the keynote of clean, American, political when he condemns the "bossism" and "machine" methods of the Republicans in these Islands. Probably in no other part of the United States would some of the incidents of the last election have been tolerated and the "machine" control since the election rightly calls for the condemnation of every good citizen. The sooner this Territory is absolutely rid of "bossism" and "machine" politics the better for it. Colonel Iaukea has set a pace in the right direction.

Tomorrow Honolulu will be in almost instant communication with every part of the civilized world. Happenings anywhere may be known here as quickly as in San Francisco, New York or London. Orders for goods may be placed or countermanded by our merchants on the sailing dates of vessels in New York, Hamburg or Hongkong as easily as arranging details of business across the street. In time of war, if such should ever come, Honolulu would be in position to view the stages of activity contemporaneously with other great centers. Tomorrow will be a red-letter day for the Islands.

They are now discussing in the eastern papers whether labor, as the Railway Gazette says: "Is anything more than a horse power machine or a kilowat hour so far as it relates to civilization." This is a very easy solution of the question from the plutocratic standpoint. If the laboring man can be considered a mere beast of burden with no mind to educate, no heart to develop and no soul to consider, it will enable the financiers to deal with him without any conscientious scruples.

Every now and again a Chinaman is arrested for harboring a woman and charged with restraining her of her liberty. That cases of "Chinese slavery" are now few and far between is well understood; and they are becoming fewer as time goes on and the Celestial population thins out. But why is it we do not hear of "Jap Slaves?" It is notorious that a system of slavery exists generally in Honolulu among the subjects of the Mikado. Is any effort being made to stop it?—Or are the wily Japanese too smart to be caught?

If a regular army officer is to be detailed to instruct the National Guard, Lieutenant Newton—if he keeps up the tactics employed with Company A last night—is not the proper man for the purpose. National Guardsmen enlist in times of peace to prepare themselves for service in war. There is no considerable remuneration for frequent drills and the irksome routine of regimental duties. What the men have in view is a state of efficiency in time of national trouble. Lieutenant Newton has too many "damns" and other blanks in his vocabulary to instruct National Guardsmen, men who turn out to learn and not to be cursed at.

T Thomas Fortune's plan to colonize the Philippine Islands with American negroes may look well on paper, but we would like to ask if the Filipinoes have been consulted in the matter? Those islands belong to them, and they have the first say in such a matter, by all right, human and divine. We do not believe that the Filipino people favor an influx of negroes into their country; in fact there is every reason to believe that they most positively disfavor it. The Republican party will keep on monkeying with the Filipinoes until, at some time when the United States has complications elsewhere, there will be a case of George III. and Washington over again.

The Paradise of the Pacific regrets that the Midsummer Fair is not to be repeated this year and says that the one of last year "proved the only means of bringing their (the merchant's) newest wares and special trade articles directly before the whole public." We fail to see it. If there ever was a fool enterprise in these Islands it was the Midsummer Fair of last year. It cost a lot of money and proved of no imaginable advantage save to display in a new place the yard-cloth, pumpkins, bottle pickles, bicycles, window curtains and carpet tacks seen every day down town. Not five cents of outside money came to it or came to the Islands on account of it. The money spent on the absurd project might just as well have been fed to the sharks, and would have done far more good had it been given to the Salvation Army or some other charitable institution.

It seems to us that Superintendent Cooper should get through his nut the sentiment of this community in regard to labor on public works. Responding to a general and united expression the Legislature passed a resolution distinctly prescribing that only citizen labor be employed on public works. If Representative W J Wright is correct in the statement published elsewhere that Japanese and Chinese are being employed on the Kaimuki road, and that citizen labor has been denied employment there, the Superintendent of Public Works deserves the most pronounced censure and condemnation. The contractors for the roads are not materially to blame. Their business is to make money, and a dollar saved on wages is a dollar gained. The plain duty of Mr Cooper was to prescribe that the contract be carried out with citizen labor. In failing to carry out the wishes of the people and instructions of the Legislature, the Superintendent of Public Works has committed a flagrant error and his act should be severely impeached.

The Gisaburo Decision.

Following is the decision of the President in the Tanbara Gisaburo murder case, as submitted to Marshal Hendry:

Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States of America.

To all whom these presents shall come, Greeting:

Whereas,

Tanbara Gisaburo, a Japanese, was convicted in the United States Court for the District of Hawaii of a murder committed on the high seas on July 30, 1902, and on October 31, 1902, was sentenced to be hanged on December 26, 1902; and

Whereas, on December 24, 1902, the Governor of Hawaii granted to the said Tanbara Gisaburo a reprieve until the decision of the President of the United States might be made known upon his application for executive clemency; and,

Whereas, an application for executive clemency on behalf of the said Tanbara Gisaburo has been considered and denied by me;

Now, therefore, be it known, that I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, in consideration of the premises, divers other good and sufficient reasons me thereunto moving, do hereby approve the reprieve granted by the Governor of Hawaii to the said Tanbara Gisaburo and continue the said reprieve, in all its effects, until noon of Friday, the fourteenth day of August, 1903, at which time the said reprieve shall cease and determine."

The signature of the President follows, together with the seal of the Department of Justice.

On August 14th, therefore, Tanbara will pay the penalty for his crime, that of murdering Captain Jacobsen of the schooner Woods, and after all is over, Marshal Hendry will fill in the following and forward it to Washington:

"To the Attorney General: Received warrant for the reprieve of sentence of Tanbara Gisaburo until noon of Friday, August 14th, 1903, and stayed the execution accordingly, and executed the said Tanbara Gisaburo on the —— day of ——, 190.—.

"U. S. Marshal, District of Hawaii."

Two Parties Alike.

In an interview with a representative of the Chicago Record-Herald James H Eckles, former comptroller of the currency, speaking of the campaign of 1903, says: "The issue will be on revenue revision. The monetary question is eliminated, the currency question is not a party one and cannot be made so, expansion is accomplished, and as far as the trusts are concerned one party will be quite as denunciatory as the other. The republicans cannot and will not revise the tariff except with an upward tendency. The public who are consumers and many important manufacturing people want a revision down, and to get it they must go outside of the republican party. Conservative democracy can be of much benefit to the country at this time, and I hope we shall see it become an active force. It will be observed that Mr Eckels sets aside imperialism and the trust question as being unworthy of consideration, but he forgets that there are many republicans who object to a currency system devised for the exclusive benefit of the financiers and who also object to the trust system as well as to imperialism. Such people must go outside of the republican party to get reform on these lines and yet if the principles of the democratic party are to be practically identical with those of the republican party, republicans who favor reform will not be encouraged to abandon one republican party in order to join another republican party.—The Commoner.

Warm Stuff, This.

Colonel C P Iaukea sends the following communication to the Advertiser in regard to his candidacy for the office of sheriff:

In presenting my morning compliments kind Editor, let me at the same time thank you for mentioning myself as a mover in a Citizens' Party for the coming election, and placing my name at the head of the movement as Candidate for County Sheriff.

I am not so sure that my ambitions will lead me to this distinction. This I desire to say, however, that if there was ever a time in the history of this Territory for the good citizens to take matters into their own hands and show by their votes that they will have none of "bossism" and "party machine" in local politics, it is now; especially after the strange spectacle which this community recently witnessed, of a so-called republican party executive conniving with republican members of the House to elect a Home Ruler Speaker; and white Republicans at that! Bah!

Yes, Friend Advertiser, I shall gladly help to head a movement of good citizens for good government. As for seeking the office of County Sheriff or any other office in the gift of the people, I regard it as an honor to be so elected than to receive such appointment at the hands of a centralized and un-American government such as exists today.

Respectfully,
C P IAUKEA.

PRESIDENT ASKS FOR INFORMATION.

President Roosevelt yesterday cabled Governor Dole for full information in regard to the Loan Act. He wants to know precisely the financial condition of the Territory and the need of the loan—the latter something the Territorial authorities will be able to explain to their own satisfaction but probably not to the satisfaction of the President. Secretary Carter and Treasurer Kepoikai are getting the information together and will hurry it forward. Following is the letter written by Governor Dole to the President shortly after the passage of the Loan Act:

June 30th, 1903.

The Honorable Secretary of the Interior, Washington, D. C.,

Sir: The Organic Act provides, in Section 55, that the Legislature may authorize loans by the Territory for certain purposes, and under certain conditions, one of which is that no "such bond or indebtedness shall be incurred until approved by the President of the United States," as set forth in the latter part of the section.

Under this authority the Legislature has passed an act to provide for public loans, a copy of which I enclose herewith. The Legislature has now under consideration a bill appropriating moneys under the authority of the loan act, section 2, for the coming biennial period, which begins July 1st, 1903. The amount which can be borrowed under the loan act for the first year of the comming biennial period, as limited by sect on 55 of the Organic Act to one per centum upon the assessed value of taxable property of the Territory, is $1,230,000.

The President's approval is desired for bonds for such amount. We are arranging for the preparation of these bonds and, in relation thereto, I desire your instructions as to the form of the President's approval. Will he approve in one act of the above amount which we desire to borrow for the coming year, or will he approve of each bond by endorsing his approval on the same? In case the latter course is decided on, it will be convenient in the preparation of the bonds to provide a space therefor with the word "approved" and the words "President of the United States," engraved above and below such space.

As time is important to the Territory in this matter, may I ask you to telegraph your decision? The wording of this letter may make me appear to have taken the President's approval for such loan for granted but I assure you that I do not entertain any such sentiment.

When the loan appropriations are passed I will forward a copy.

Washington, D C, July 24, 1903.
To Governor Dole, Honolulu,

Replying letter thirtieth ultimo advise you that requirements of Organic Act will be complied with when President approves incurring bonded indebtedness [by] endorsement. His approval of each bond unnecessary.

In submitting matter for Presidential approval, detailed statement financial condition Territory, necessity for loan, and other pertinent information necessary to determine question, should be supplied,

THOS RYAN,
Acting Secretary.

ADJOURNED SINE DIE.

The Fire Claims Commission has at last done out of existence. At its last meeting held this morning, it adopted a resolution, elsewhere reproduced, adjourning sine die. In accordance with the tenor of that resolution, it will turn every matter of business it had in hand over to the Government. All its records will, in the meantime, be turned over to the proper official, the Secretary of the Territory, and matters are up to him and the Governor to satisfactorily arrange, rectify and certify, as the case may be, or as occasion may require.

"DRIVE THEM OUT."

"Love your enemies and do good to them that hate you" is a very noble principle, but no one ever heard of its successful application in politics. Probably it was never tried except in Hawaii, and we may be on the verge of a new discovery for the benefit of central committees the world over.

In the last campaign we had an energetic and well organized party committee and for its excellent services in that contest it deserves the thanks of the party. That it made a mistake in accepting as Republicans a lot of Home Rulers who entered the party to get votes, is well recognized. There is therefore no reason for repeating the error. If we are to have a Republican party it should be a real one and traitors in the ranks should be promptly driven out. The party organization should stop giving pap to its enemies. Our esteemed executive does enough of that with his own enemies, for the whole territory.

In retrospect it appears that the Home Rulers had little chance to lose last time. There was one set of Home Rulers on the Home Rule ticket and another set on the Republican ticket. It soon heads the Republicans lost and tails the Home Rulers won. Such a situation can and should be avoided in the coming campaign.—Hawaiian Star.

The earnest attention of Home Rulers is called to the above. It should be remembered, at the same time, that the Hawaiian Star is an official organ of the Republican Central Committee, and that its utterances are presumed to reflect the ideas of that committee and of the Republican party. Last year the Star and the party it represents went on bended knees and prayed for Home Rule votes. Flattery, glowing promises, money, political reward, intimidation and persecution were all resorted to for ballots. And now the men who elected a Republican delegate to Congress and gave to the Legislature a Republican majority are told that they are not wanted and are threatened with being kicked out of the party.

This is just the way we thought it would come out. There is no sincerity in the Republican party, particularly in the "missionary" faction of it. The natives were urged into the party last year for the sole purpose of manipulating their votes in the election, and from the day of election there was no further use for them. It is just about time for the voter to leave such a party and join with one in which there is independence, freedom of will and a certainty of furthering the best interests of the country.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Does it not look like the hearing in the County Act case was postponed to the next term of court in order that the County elections might be over and the successful candidates known before a decision is reached? Think that over.

The ship's boat named "Honolulu," picked up near Shanghai, probably belonged to Volcano Marshall. At last accounts Volcano was assuming capitalistic traits, and the small boat may have been the nucleus of an immense pleasure yacht of the future.

Why does not the Superintendent of Public Works remove the unsightly building from the Palace grounds at the corner of Hotel and Likelike streets? The structure is of no value and is an eyesore. The location is directly on the car-line and should be beautified with palms and other trees.

The band will resume its concerts on the Palace grounds every other Sunday. That will be a satisfaction to many working people with families. Complaint has been made that Makee Island music was too expensive to men of small means and large families, and the return of the concerts to the city will be hailed with delight by them.

The smoke from those burnt House vouchers of the Advertiser and Star must have been too much for Representative Harris to stand, for he's now laid up with the breakbone fever, probably from the effects of its fumes. It's really too bad, but we hope that Mr Harris will be up and out in a few days and attend to his business, minding not for those burnt vouchers. 'Get thee up from thy bed and walk."

For the information of our "policy" Board of Health we will state that the old Arlington lot on King street is being made the dumping ground for unsightly and insanitary refuse. Most of it is surface dirt and deeper excavations from the site of an old building, full of unpleasant odors and perhaps the microbes of disease. Another charming element in the rubbish is the contents of an ancient cess-pool. Fine sight, that, for a border to a principal thoroughfare and a foreground for a great hotel.

Judge Davis is to be commended for his strenuous opposition to gambling and gamblers. Why, certainly, the heavy fining of a few ignorant and impecunious Pakes for playing dominoes and the like with a five-cents ante will strike terror to the hearts of the many "respectable gentlemen" about town who make their living by gambling and they will forthwith seek other vocations. Seriously speaking, however, the police and court court policy in regard to gambling in this city is a marvel. Chinese who play insignificant games among themselves for insignificant sums are hounded by the police, rounded up into court, severely scorched by the magistrate and either heavily fined or sent to prison. "Respectable" white men who maintain a dozen gambling resorts about the city and make their livings by gambling, in the most reprehensible way, are never molested. And then, again, a party of friends fear to go into a saloon or other resort to play a game of pedro or cribbage for pastime and social enjoyment. Judging from the tactics of the police the real gambler is immune from aprehension and punishment, while the man who enjoys a game of cards for the amusement there is in it is the fellow to be jumped on.

Held for Salvage.

The British steamer Clavering has been sized by the United States Marshal under a libel of J D Spreckels & Bros Co. for $50,000, alleged to be due as salvage, the steamer having been pulled off the reef by their tugs, the Fearless and the Counselman. A demand was made on the vessel's commander, Captain Barton, yesterday for the money but he refused to pay it, whereupon the attachment was gotten out. In the complaint the value of the steamer is given as $350,000, cargo $150,000 and coal $15,000. An effort will be made to have the case heard at an early date in order that the Clavering may resume her voyage.

Do Your Joints Pain You?

A slight indefinite pain in the joints is the first sign of Rheumatism. Then come the aching pains and tenderness, the agonizing cramps, the fever and restlessness that characterize this disease.

When you feel the first slight pain, begin to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and the progress of the disease will be arrested. Neglect this and you will regret it.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are a Positive and Permanent Cure for Rheumatism.

This remedy expels impurities from the blood, and supplies the material for rapidly rebuilding wasted nerve tissues. It has performed hundreds of almost miraculous cures in severe cases of Rheumatism, many times after doctors had given up hope. Read this sworn statement:

"In 1890 I was taken with rheumatism, which began in my hips and gradually spread throughout my body. For two years and a half I was confined to my bed, employed nine of the best physicians in Albany, and two specialists from New York city. They all declared my case hopeless, and finally told me that I had but six weeks to live. I told them to take their medicine away; that if I were to die I should take no more of the stuff.

"My niece, who through her friends knew of the good results attending the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People, strongly recommended them. She procured the pills and by the time I had used the first box I felt hungry. Having had no appetite for a long time, I knew that the pills were doing me good. I continued their use, and after taking several boxes was able to leave my bed and go about with the use of crutches. I weighed but 98 pounds. As my normal weight is about 160 pounds, you can see how run down I had become during my sickness. After taking thirteen boxes of the pills I was weighed again, and although less than a year had passed I weighed 207 pounds. I continued the use of the pills and finally was able to abandon the crutches altogether, and am now as well as ever."

OUT OF COMMISSION.

The Fire Claims Commission Held Its Last Meeting and Adjourned Sine Die.

A meeting of the Fire Claims Commission was called by Chairman Macfarlane at 9 o'clock this morning, in his office in the Judd Building, all members of the Commission being present, as follows: Chairman Macfarlane, Messrs Kepoikai, Lovekin, Pratt and Testa. After some preliminary talk and the disposal of certain matters, the following resolution was presented and unanimously adopted:

"RESOLVED: Whereas, the Commissioners having completed their duties and being about to finally adjourn the Commission, the Clerk of the Commission is requested to reply in writing to all persons now having communications on file with the Commission, filed since the adjournment of the Commission taken after the signing of awards, notifying them that no further business will be passed upon by the Commission and referring them to the Government for consideration of the questions referred to in their communications.

"The Clerk is further requested to deposit forthwith with the Secretary of the Territory all the records of the Commission, consisting of all copies of claims filed, exhibits filed in evidence in the hearing of said claims, records of judgments of awards, minutes of the proceedings of the sessions of the Commission, letters and correspondence, accounts and all other records and property of whatsoever nature belonging to the Commission. A full and sufficient receipt shall be taken by the Clerk from the Secretary of the Territory for the records and property deposited and turned over to him, which shall be deposited with the Chairman of the Commission upon the completion of the transfer.

"And be it further resolved, that this Commission do now adjourn sine die."

New Demurrer Filed.

E Faxon Bishop has filed a new demurrer in the Korean immigration cases, in which the principal allegation is that the offense is alleged to have taken place prior to the time the law in question went into effect. Defendant says:

"That the time of the defendant's solicitation of the migration to the Territory of Hawaii from Korea of said alien to perform unskilled manual labor upon sugar plantations of said Territory is averred in said amended complaint, and in each count thereof, to have included the time between November 1, 1902, and March 3, 1903, whereas, the act under which said action is brought had not then been enacted.

It is further alleged that the act averred to have been committed by defendant do not in fact constitute solicitation of the immigration of aliens from Korea and further that the establishment of a Labor Bureau with the Deshler Bank of Chemulpo in Korea is not averred to have been made by the defendant and that no time is specified.

Committee Organizes

The Joint Tourist Committee met yesterday and perfected its organization. The title chosen for it is "The Hawaii Promotion Committee representing the Territory of Hawaii, the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' Association." A year's lease of the store in the Young building, Hotel street end, was taken and will become the permanent headquarters of the committee. Thursday was selected as the regular meeting day of each week.

The "Palace," successor to the old Camarinos saloon, was opened today at the corner of Merchant and Richards streets. C H Brown is the manager and Jack Wedsy is the man with the smiles.

Game Postponed.

The baseball League yesterday afternoon decided to put the game between the Elks and Kamehamehas, scheduled for this afternoon, at the foot of the list, the game to be played on September 26. This action was taken on account of the condition of the Kam team, five of the men being unable to play and there not being a sufficient number of substitutes in the club to make up the deficiency. The game between the Punahous and Honolulus was set for 3 o'clock.

Warm Times in The Supreme Case.

Thing are getting decidedly torrid between the lawyers in the notorious Sumner case. It was thought that boiling point had been reached in the Humphreys-Thompson affair, which was a section of the same matter, but the thermometer seems still to have a bullish tendency. Following the filing of disbarment proceedings against J A Magoon and Judge George A Davis yesterday morning there was a lull in the storm just long enough to catch breath, when George Davis broke loose. He could not get back at the Attorney-General in the courts, but filed "bouncing proceedings', against him with the Governor.

Davis charges first that Attorney General Andrews is using his office for the purpose of "maligning, slandering, defaming and otherwise injuring my character as a lawyer and a citizen," etc; and that the information filed against him (Davis) in the Supreme court is false and untrue. He also charges Andrews with neglecting and refusing to file an information against E C Peters, Deputy Attorney General, and a receipt alleged to be that of Peters for $2,500 fees in the Sumner case, and a part of the same matter, is incorporated in the complaint.

Concluding, Judge Davis has this to say:

Your petitioner therefore prays that at the termination of the proceedings in the Supreme Court, and after the information which has been lodged against me has been disposed of, that I may be heard before your Honor as to the conduct, actions and doings of the said Lorrin Andrews, and that proofs as I may be able to furnish in support of the charges herein set forth, and that upon due proof being made of the conduct of the said Lorrin Andrews in the premises that he may be removed from the office of Attorney General by you, the said Governor of the Territory of Hawaii, and as in duty bound your petitioner will ever pray. Dated, this 24th day of July, A D 1903.

DE ARMOND AS A PARTY LEADER.

WASHINGTON, July 12:

Undoubtedly one of the Democratic leaders and one of the ablest men in the House of Representatives is the Hon David A de Armond, of Missouri. Judge de Armond has been in Congress since 1890, having been first elected to the Fifty second Congress and re-elected to each succeeding Congress. He is one of the ablest lawyers in the Congress and a member of the Committee on Judiciary. He was the choice of the Missouri delegation for the caucus nomination for Speaker in the Fifty-eighth Congress when it convenes, but he refused to stand for the nomination, and the choice then fell to Hon Champ Clark. If the democrats had carried the House he undoubtedly would have been a candidate for Speaker, but he did not care to undertake to harmonize the factions in the party in the House as the floor leader. The Judge realizes his shortcomings as a good mixer with men. He has none of the bon homme, camaraderie characteristics in his mental makeup. He is short on cheap talk and long on thinking. He is essentially a thinker and a student, and never loses any time indulging in cloak-room stories. He does not inspire affection, but compels admiration from his democratic colleagues, and is feared and disliked by the republicans. He is the greast verbal eviscerator in the House, and can perform the neatest job of skinning and gutting an opponent of any man in the Congress. He is a human wasp, and his stinger is always ready for business. He is not an orator, in the true sense of the word, for he has a monotonous and metallic voice that is not pleasant, and he rarely gesticulates. His diction, however, is almost perfect, and he is one of the few men in Congress who never corrects the reporters' notes for insertion in the Record. When he gets through his speech is a finished production. As a sample of his dexterity with scalpel and rapier, he once said of an opponent, who had a penchant for spilling large gobs of printer's ink and voluminously vociferating to the reporters: "He is, Mr Chairman, the most remarkable man I ever knew. When he is not writing he is talking, and when he is not talking he is writing, and he does both without thinking."

Judge De Armond is an amiable and kindly gentleman, a ripe scholar, an able lawyer, and a plendid legislator. His retirement from Congress would be a distinct loss to the democratic party and to the nation.

It is the general consensus of opinion here that the decision of Federal Judge Lacombe, of New York, in the case against the anthracite coal-carrying roads brought by Mr William R Hearst, to the effect that they cannot be compelled by the Interstate Commerce Commission to produce their contracts with the mining companies is unmitigated "stuff." The Commission represents the Government, which has a constitutional right to regulate commerce between the different states. This being admitted, why shouldn't the Commission have the right to demand the production of papers bearing upon the regulation of interstate commerce? Judge Lacombe may be a learned Judge, but he does not seem to be equipped with a burdensome quantity of common sense. His ruling will be appealed to the United States Supreme Court, where it will undoubt-

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The seat of Government, Palace square, fashionable opera house, tennis court, livery stable, Salvation Army tent, electric works, hotel and Palace saloon are within a stone's throw of each other. How's that for a combination?

J A Magoon is quoted as being over-anxious for investigation of his conduct in the Sumner case. Inasmuch as the nerves of this community are just now worked up in the same direction, the Supreme court has a majority vote to get busy.

In it editorial on the late Pope, last Tuesday, the Advertiser said that the Pope "had the happiness, during his long reign, to see no desolating war between Christian powers." This may be perfectly true in a measure, but how about the Boer war and the atrocious Philippine war? Those were not "desolating" to Christians, but they were wars waged against weaker peoples by Christian nations.

There can be no reasonable excuse for an electric car running into the rig of Mrs Simpson at the corner of King and Fort streets this morning. Pedestrians and citizen rigs have the right of way everywhere. It is the universally recognized duty of electric cars to exercise caution in crossing important thoroughfares. The electric cars have done the Nancy Hanks act across Fort, Nuuanu and other populous thoroughfares several times too often.

This "oil famine" and "gasoline famine" business is becoming a chestnut. There is no excuse for a shortage in either, unless it be a rascally desire of a few merchants to make money. With the cable at hand the necessities of an extreme case can be promptly met. The trouble is that the local representatives of Rockfeller have too much of a "trust" strain in their blood to meet the requirements of the community or the legitimate demands of honesty. A little Democratic seasoning is needed in the stew.

In his Faith proposition Rev J Kekipi is on a tack as old as the visit of God "in the cool of the evening" to Adam and Eve. There is mush in faith. Faith in a particular doctor or in a special medicine does more good than the doctor or the medicine. At best the work of doctors is experimental. In most cases they have no more idea in regard to the trouble of a man than a Jack rabbit. They try this, that and the other until finally they get something to reach the case. With a few pounds of faith we would as soon leave our case to Rev J Kekipi as our renowned medical president of the Board of Health or any other fuddled follower of Galen.

The Sea Yup Society is the highbinder of Chinese tongs, here as well as elsewhere. Whenever and wherever they have organized there has been trouble. In almost every Chinese disturbance in San Francisco the serpent head of the See Yups bobbed up as the principal. When the society was organized here it was announced that it would merely have a hospital for the care of its sick and a club room, with teachers, books, papers, etc., for the education of the clan. The disturbance Friday night with other tongs, however, shows that the society is not different from others of its ilk; and a few murders by the clan will probably disclose to Governor Dole the mistake he made when he licensed the cut-throat outfit to do business.

We wish to renew our suggestion of some days ago that there be a hustling up of the committees controlling the Home Rule and Democratic parties of the Islands. By all means there should be intelligent, loyal and energetic heads of both, a "something" fearfully missing in both of the twin parties. It is probably not out of place to hope that the Home Rulers will this afternoon set the pace in that direction, and that the example will be followed by the Democrats. Both central committees should be reformed. What the Home Rulers lack in their committee in working material is made up in the Democratic committee only in gas bags. A new deal is wanted all around, and it is wanted mighty sudden.

THE INDEPENDENT would suggest to either the Hawaiian Historical Society, the Bishop Museum directorate or the Hawaiian Chapter, Order of Kamehamehs, or anyone of them who take interest in preserving historical points of interest that there is a certain stone, known as the Bell Stone, out Kaimuki, beyond Kamoiliili, and on the edge of the Waialae road, which should be preserved either by removal or by fencing. It is only a common ordinary stone, with a like basement, but it has a bell like ring and is of historical interest and value. Japanese stone cutters are cutting stones close to it, and we understand that one attempted to break this Bell Stone up some time ago and had chipped off a piece when he was stopped. If to remove it is not worth the trouble, why cannot those who own the property be urged to put a fence around it and, if need be, have the spot beautified. It would be a shame to allow that stone to be broken up.

That Lieutenant Newton is an all-round good fellow and a valuable factor in furthering sports and other worthy pastimes of Honolulu life is most cheerfully admitted. But in dealing with the National Guard the Lieutenant must remember that he is not handling regulars—not handling paid men who are in the service as public servants for a living. The military system here has for some time been exceedingly slack. There has not been the proper standard of discipline, nor the proper respect on the part of men for their officers. Officers should demand respect and are entitled to it. But 'cuse" words form a mighty poor scheme to work on. We know of nothing that will deplete the ranks of the Hawaiian National Guard, or the National Guard of any State, for the matter of that, quicker than the unseemly tactics of Lieutenant Newton.

Attorney-General Andrews is indiscreet in toying with Judge George A Davis. When Davis swells up and looks like "I'se gittin' dang'ous" he means just what he looks, and Andrews should know that. Davis has a long line of ancestry (dating back to the second cook of the Mayflower) to defend and he will allow no upstart like Lorrin Andrews to tread on his bunions. "'Sdeath," says Davis, with his hand on his pistol pocket and forty-seven hundred wrinkles on his perturbed brow. And Andrews—foolhardy Lorrin—stands there like a kid, unmindful that he is in "the jaws of death," in the very "mouth of hell" and calls it a "bluff." Andrews surely does not realize his danger, or he would tremble all day and well into the night. Some friend should give him a quiet nudge that Davis and Bunker Hill are synonymous terms and that he is Boston town about now.

Friday is the last day for the return on income taxes.

Tonight the band will give the usual concert in Emma square.

The British ship Carmanian arrived yesterday from Newcastle with coal.

Governor Dole will return from Kohala by the Kinau next Saturday.

The steamer Nebraskan arrived in port this morning from San Francisco.

Former Delegate R W Wilcox has not joined Rev J Kekipi's faith-cure church.

The Advertiser is responsible for the statement that a gasoline famine is imminent.

Deputy Sheriff Rex Hitchcock is over from Molokai on Kamalo plantation business.

Revenue Collector R H Chamberlain is out again after a tussle with the "breakbone."

The dengue fever is no respector of persons. Dr F R Day, microscopist, bacteriologist, etc, is the latest victim

Services for the repose of the soul of the late Pope will be held in the Catholic churches of all the islands at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

W M Maket, of the firm of Cotton Bros, and Miss Anna Kaus were married Saturday evening at the home of the bride at Punchbowl and Kinau streets.

Judge George A Davis filed his answer to the disbarment proceedings in the Supreme court Saturday night denying practically all of the charges made.

The Salvation Army tent at King and Richards streets was wrecked by the wind Saturday afternoon so that the rally set for that night could not be held there.

Father Mathias will be in charge of the memorial services at the Catholic cathedral tomorrow. For the occasion the church is today being draped in deep black.

The Punahous had an easy victory over the Honolulus in Saturday's baseball game, the score at the end being 9 to 1. Williams pitched for the latter team in place of Joy, the regular man.

Alexander Young's Waikiki residence and the Herbert homestead in Kalihi will be made adjuncts of the Young hotel. On the premises of the Kalihi place, pigs, poultry, vegetables, etc. will be grown for the hotel.

The Supreme Court devoted its entire time this morning to the resolutions and eulogies on the late Judge W L Wilcox. Hearing in the Magoon disbarment case began at 1:30 this afternoon and will be followed by the Davis case.

The hedge of night-blooming cereus on the Oahu College wall will be in blossom again probably tomorrow or any time up to Wednesday evening. The college authorities ask that no one pick the flowers until after 9:30 p m, when everyone will have had a chance to enjoy them.

An officer of the local wireless telegraph company, who would be among the first to know of any change in the concern's affairs, denies flatly that the wireless has closed out to the American Marconi or any other outfit. The local concern remains as it has always been, save that its service is constantly improving and will continue to improve.

Of the Hawaiian silver there has been redeemed, under the Act of Congress: dollars, 412,000 out of 500,000 original mintage; half dollars, 278,000 out of 350,000; quarter dollars, 50,000 out of 100,000; dimes, none left to redeem, the supply having been bought by speculators shortly after annexation. Total amount redeemed, $740,000, the latest shipment by the First National Bank on July 24 being $30,000.

Mr Cooper's Plans.

Superintendent H E Cooper is quoted as follows in regard to plans of business in his department:

"I have asked Marston Campbell, to prepare me for consideration sketch plans for a new bridge over Nuuanu stream at King street.

"Yes, it ought to be a good bridge. The present structure is objectionable in many ways. In the first place it is an obstruction to the passage of the stream. Then it does not fill the space. The new bridge should take in the Rapid Transit track and give an opening into Hotel street.

"Arrangements have been made for the distribution of the sewerage pipes in Asia warehouse. As soon as that has been accomplished the building will be pulled down and work on the park will proceed.

"Mr Austin of the Agricultural department is now selecting trees to plant in Asia park. A number of varieties has been chosen, of trees deemed suitable for the purpose. The general feature of the ground, however, will be that of recreation.

"An agreement has been made between the Government and the Oahu Railway & Land Co for an exchange of lands for the extension of Queen street through to Iwilei road. Here is the plan. It will have a tendency to relieve the congestion of traffic on King street.

"Plans are being prepared for the extension of all wharves in the inner harbor section. Here I may say that in dividing the harbor I have extended the line of Fort street across the plan, calling the portion Waikiki of that line the outer harbor and the portion on the Ewa side the inner harbor.

"Mr Campbell, while on the Coast, will investigate the most approved types of wharf superstructure, both in storage capacity and methods of handling freight, so as to provide that inter-island steamers will have greater facilities for storing sugar and merchandise while awaiting shipment to the mainland and the other islands."

Home Rule Convention.

The adjourned convention of the Independent Home Rule party met at 10 o'clock this morning at headquarters on Maunakea street. Only routine business was attended to, and speeches made by President Kalauokalani, who presided, and by Ex-Delegate Wilcox, both speaking in their own favor for the presidency of the party, the main reason for which the convention came together. Much talk was indulged in by many. A resolution was introduced to the effect that all those who were not of the party should be put out, but one member cautioned them to go slow and moved a recess to 2 p m, which motion prevailed. Recess was taken at 11:45 o'clock. There is likelihood that the convention may reassemble this afternoon at Murray Hall, on Kukui street, as permission has been given.

Among those noticed in the hall were Delegate-elect Kalaniana'ole, Ex Delegate R W Wilcox, Senator P P Woods, C P Iaukea, Edgar Caypless, Jno H Wise, S E Kalama, S K Kaili, representatives of the Bulletin, Star and INDEPENDENT, and many others.

The first business to be attended to this afternoon will no doubt be the election of President and other officers, including the Executive Committee. So far as known, there are only two candidates for the presidency, and they are the veterans Kalauokalani and Wilcox. In feeling among the delegates, the concensus of opinion is strongly in favor of R W Wilcox.

Must Eat to Live.

R W Wilcox says that he has not joined the Hoomana Naauao (Religion of Wisdom) of the Rev J Kekipi. He says "how can I do it, because fasting is one of the main tenets of that church," and further that he "must eat in order to live, and that his stomach cannot go without eating." But he says that "a certain native potion that he is taking is doing him a mountain of good."

ally be swept aside with scant courtesy. If there is an anthracite coal trust in existence (and everybody knows there is), then it is the duty of the courts to facilitate and not to obstruct the Government's efforts to investigate and to suppress it. There is nothing unreasonable in asking corporations to produce papers in evidence which alone will enable the Interstate Commerce Commission to judge whether the laws of the land are being violated or not. If the Coal Trust thinks that William Randolph Hearst is a quitter they have another and a larger think coming.

Although Secretary Root, of the War Department, has temporarily side tracked the opium business in the Philippines in order to get the people to quit thinking about it, it undoubtedly is the intention of the American administration to establish an opium monopoly in those islands. When it does it will receive a rake-off amounting to one hundred and fifty thousand dollars per annum. This sort of monopoly should work wonders in the archipelago. The merits of opium as a Christianizing and civilizing agency are well established. Perhaps the Government obtained valuable pointers from Downing Street in regard to the advantages of an opium monopoly.

The British have done a lucrative and flourishing business in opium ever since they introduced it in China. Considering the splendid effects which the dope has produced in the Celestial regions, Taft's Government has every reason to be exuberantly optimistic about the consequences to follow the setting up of an opium monopoly in the Philippine Islands. The dope should prove more efficacious than Bibles and guns.

NAVAL BUREAU AND POSTOFFICE.

WASHINGTON, July 12:

A movement is now on foot to reorganize the entire naval administration. Mr Moody, the Secretary of the Navy, now has a plan in his hands providing for the creation of a naval general staff. If his plan is adopted, the department institutions, such as the war college, or the bureau of navigation will be merged with the general staff, whose chief will exercise the same supervision over the military divisions as the Assistant Secretary over the bureaus, and in the absence of both Secretary and Assistant Secretary, the Chief of Staff will be Acting Secretary. The present functions and authority of the Secretary will be maintained.

The reorganization plan should, and undoubtedly will, be adopted. Ever since the outbreak of the Spanish American war it has been apparent that the Bureau of Navigation is in need of a thorough overhauling. It has been a hotbed of political intrigue and chicanery. The impertinent role that some of the officials played in the Sampson-Schley controversy is well remembered. Anything that is calculated to remove the navy and army departments beyond the sphere of politics and offensive intrigue will have the nation's approval.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Postoffice Department investigation afforded President Roosevelt a fine opportunity to "make good" in a manner most pleasing to his countrymen, he has neglected the opportunity, has gone to his summer home and left behind him orders that the "gag rule" must be enforced, no news given out and the investigation practically abandoned. The disclosures so far made leave no doubt in an intelligent mind that the investigation has only begun—that "worse remains behind."

The greedy fangs of corruption have fastened themselves upon every branch of the postal service. Mr Bristow's report gives substantial proof of shameless trafficking in offices, grafting in almost every bureau, of bold and brazen defiance of all civil service rules, and of the damnably pernicious influence of party considerations in the admiration of one of the greatest departments of the Government.

One of the results of the investigation is the discovery that the four states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Iowa have been especially favored in the distribution of rural mail routes. As three of these are pivotol states in national elections, the reason of this favoritism is perfectly obvious. If Mr Payne is really ill, he cannot be blamed for it. A national scandal of this kind is enough to make anybody "sick." In its purely moral aspect, it bears a strikingly close resemblance to the Panama affair in France, which, in its course, besmirched the reputations of almost every leading politician. The Postoffice Department has become absolutely rotten. Every branch of the service needs reform and lots of it. It is the President's duty to leave nothing undone to bring every culprit to justice. The scandal is no longer a matter of lurking suspicion. It has advanced into the indestructible realm of facts. This being the case, every political grafter, blood-sucker and briber should be hunted down and held up for public condemnation. The national administration,

ANTI FAMILY COMPACT.

The matter is, of course, in the hands of the voters, but the voters should understand clearly what they are voting for, and why they are voting. A great of political and practical instruction upon county government will have to be given between now and the elections in November. This is a matter that the Republican party leaders should give the most careful attention to. On every island, in every district, in every village and hamlet the work of education in local citizenship should go on. At present, to a large number of people, the county bill only means the multiplication of offices and an opportunity for some more people to get a salary. It does not mean to them the choice of a candidate for his qualifications, but it means the choice of a candidate upon personal or family grounds without the slightest regard to his qualifications. —Hawaiian Star.

Ever and anon the wheels of the Star strike into a rut of sence and logic. Now, in the above, there is reason and wholesome advice. There should be no "choice of a candidate upon personal or family grounds." In the past there has been far too much of that very thing. This "family compact" business has outlived its usefulness, and now that the Star has come out against it we are inclined to suspect that there is some good in Israel after all.

It is hard to understand why so much gas and energy should be wasted on a purely experimental and doubtful industry like sisal, when the superior returns from cotton and tobacco have time and time over been satisfactorily demonstrated. There are no profits in sisal under five years, and even then the returns are not certain With cotton and tobacco, on the other hand, there are returns in five months, and, especially in the case of the former, those returns can be made continuous through a period of many years at small expense.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The Star informs us that Dr Pratt has examined the cow sheds at Ahuimanu ranch and found them in good order. Pleased to hear it. Shake! First time we have heard of an officer of the Board of Health doing any work since the plague.

E P Dole has broken loose in favor of tourist travel. That settles it. Merchants should at once begin brushing the cobwebs out of their cash tills, for certainly no globe-trotter has ever lived that could resist the suasion of Edwin P.

Ex-Delegate Wilcox's advice to the Home Rulers to nominate only the best available material for office was eminently sound. Every party should follow that dictum. Personal popularity or family pull should not be permitted to cut any figure in the scale with ability and general worth. The voter wants before him in the coming County elections tickets of upright, worthy men and not of job-chasers and cheap glory fanatics.

The Maui News heads its write-up on the recent visit of Governor Dole in this wise: "A gala day in hospitable Wailuku." "Hospitable Wailuku" is good; but then, you know, Governor Dole was not expected to pay 25 cents a glass for soda water and ginger ale, as are other people, and he'd up for six bits every time he wanted to cross a street. There is a difference in persons and Wailuku "hospitality" recognizes the fact at a three-ball pace.

Superintendent Cooper's idea of cutting a number of docks from the present harbor front up to Allen street, between Fort street and the Naval reservation, is merely another fool grand-stand play in officialdom. It means a large and entirely unnecessary expenditure of public money. Does the Superintendent of Public Works know how much wharf room this port already has? With the completion of the new wharf at the foot of River street, Honolulu harbor will have accomodation for half the vessels in the Pacific Ocean, and room to spare for twenty years. Additional wharves can only be regarded as a luxury, as the absence of ships from those now in service positively attest.

DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES.

As Enunciated and Declared By the Home Rule Convention.

The following was presented at the Home Rule convention this forenoon by former Delegate Wilcox, read by Secretary Kupihea, interpreted by J M Poepoe and unanimously adopted:

(1) The Home Rulers of the Territory of Hawaii in Convention Assembled renew their allegiance to the principles of their party and congratulate the people of the Territory of Hawaii that through the efforts of this party and its settled, persistent and determined opposition to those who would establish in this Territory a rule of corporate and class wealth the people are at last assured a small measure of Home Rule. The seed is planted; the wedge is entered and this party and its supporters will not rest content until it shall have rendered American institutions, just, equal and beneficent—the safe guard of liberty and the embodiment of the best thought and highest purposes of patriotic citizens—a reality in the Territory of Hawaii.

(2) We denounce the present Territorial Administration as selfish, biased, corrupt, wasteful, extravagant and vicious, bent upon perpetuating its own power and control of public affairs, unmindful of the wishes of the people whose servants they are, and defiant of the Constitution and laws which they have solemnly sworn to maintain. We charge them with appointing to high official positions carrying exorbitant salaries, pliable inexperienced and incompetent persons: with parceling out the public domain in princely tracts to favored individuals, with the intent that the same be held in trust for great corporations, in flagrant violation of the letter and spirit of the Organic Act: with using the public funds with which to defray the expenses of its emissaries and lobbyists to and at Washington for the purpose of preserving the statu quo of the Oligarchy, concealing its frauds and disappointing the wishes and aspirations of the great mass of the people of this Territory. And we call attention to the fact that the acts as well as the policy of the present Territorial Anministration was roundly condemned in toto by the three Republican United States Senators who recenty visited Hawaii as a Sub-Committee of the United States Senate, and made a detailed and exhaustive investigation of all of its conditions, to wit Hon John H Mitchell of Oregon, Hon Addison G Foster of Washington, Hon Jos R Burton of Kansas.

(3) We appeal to the conscience and manhood of the voters of this Territory to join us in our effort to effectually restrict the power of an administration which is dishonored at home, and discredited abroad, and which possesses neither aim nor end other than its own aggrandizement. And we cordially invite all citizens without reference to race, creed or class to unite with us so that we may have in this Territory a government of laws and not of men, a government of equal rights, opportunities and privileges under which the voice of the humblest citizen may be heard and respected.

(4) We declare ourselves in favor of the most liberal forms of county and municipal government and we solemnly pledge ourselves to omit no endeavor to secure those forms of government which are "instinctive with the American," and regarded as a part of his birth right.

(5) We declare ourselves in favor of the repeal of the law which requires the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court to make a biennial report to the Legislature, which law affords that official a pretext for intermeddling in politics and matters of legislation entirely beyond the scope of a proper report.

(6) We condemn the passage of a law by the last legislature authorizing two or more corporations to form co-partnerships, and we charge that said law was devised for the purpose of enabling corporations to evade that just and sensible prohibition in the Organic Act against the holding of more than one thousand acres of land by a corporation: and we charge further that said law is directly contrary to the laws of Congress and opposed to the policy of enlightened states, as witnessed by recent and almost universal legislation aimed at corporate association and combination. And we call upon the Congress of the United States to immediately repeal said law.

(7) We denounce the appropriations made by the last legislature for the pay of public officials and for other purposes as extravagant and wasteful to the point of recklessness, wholly out of proportion to the value of the services which said officials are called upon to perform, finding no warrant in the almost bankrupt condition of this Territory and not justified by the necessities of the situation. And for the same reason we denounce the passage of the so-called "Loan Bill" and we do hereby beseech the President of the United States to make a careful and critical investigation of the necessity for such a bill before giving his approval to any of the bonds which it is proposed to issue thereunder.

(8) We denounce the attempt that is being made by the supporters of existing conditions in this Territory to raise race issues, and we charge that such attempt is being made for the sole purpose of misleading the people of the United States and of creating a sentiment abroad prejudicial to the Hawaiian people. The entire history of the Hawaiian race for more than half a century affords abundant testimony of the fact that the Hawaiians desire to live upon terms of friendship, justice and equity with all people who come amongst them, and that strangers are hospitably received and given opportunities in public as well as private life, commensurate with their deserts.

(9) We declare ourselves in favor of the immediate extension by the Congress of the United States of the American system of public land laws to the Territory of Hawaii, firmly believing that in such extension lies our only hope of preventing the public domain from falling into the hands of great corporations and a few favored individuals.

We proclaim our loyalty to the principles of American government and to the citizenship which we enjoy, and inspired by the sense of chivalry, manhood and independence which has ever characterized that citizenship, we send our affectionate greetings to our former Sovereign, Her Majesty Liliuokalani and assure her of our unabated love, confidence and respect.

The Spreckels Case.

Judge A S Humphreys has filed an affidavit in the Circuit Court to show the authority of his firm for appearing as attorneys for Mrs Watson in the Spreckels case. It seems, from the affidavit, that some five years ago, when Mr and Mrs Watson were here, on a trip around the world, they engaged Humphreys to represent them and paid him a retainer's fee of $500. No proceedings for the recovery of the property signed away by Mrs Watson at the time of her marriage were then brought for the reason that she had confidence that her father, Claus Spreckels, would deal fairly with her. Judge Humphreys claims to have received the next instructions from his clients under date of April 20 of this year, as follows:

"Unfortunately my wife did not know, and does not now know what she signed away, but it included the bank property occupied by Billy Irwin, some Hawaiian sugar stock, etc.

"At the time we did not want to take legal proceedings against Claus Spreckels, my wife's father, and create more discord in the already discordant family, but since then they have persecuted my wife so cruelly, so inhumanly, that she has lost all consideration for their feelings, and she is now willing to proceed against whoever it may be necessary to do, to establish her rights, if you advise that there is any prospect of success, and will take the business on hand on shares as you then proposed.

"We are settled here now and await your reply and instructions."

After that, Judge Humphreys alleges, he received instructions signed by both Mr and Mrs Watson to proceed with the suit. A blank power of attorney had been forwarded and Judge Humphreys had received cable advises that it had been signed and was in the mail.

HOME RULE CONVENTION.

Former Officers Re-elected and the Expected Split Failed to Materialize.

The Home Rulers met again yesterday afternoon and elected Senator D Kalauokalani as head of the party for the new year. Following is a report of the meeting:

Promptly on reassembling, or may be a little prior thereto, the election of officers was proceeded with, a bare quorum being present. Many of the delegates were yet down stairs. The result was that Kalauokalani was re-elected, and so were the other officers, as follows: Vice-President, J P Makainai; Auditor, W K Kalelhuis; Treasurer, C Notley, and Secretary, D M Kupihea.

It was done so slick and quick that the business was soon disposed of. When Wilcox arrived, also promptly on correct time, the election was over. He never even received a mention. After the officers had been elected, all interest was lost, and then the election of honorary officers and members of the executive proceeded with. Everything seemed perfectly quiet and there was not the least show of any feeling whatsoever. The following received the highest number of votes, by ballot, as Honorary Presidents: T C Polikaps, 44; J Keau, 37, and C B Maile, 35.

The convention did not go to Murray Hall, but held the meeting after recess at headquarters.

An amendment was proposed by Kaleihuis to the Constitution, reducing the number of the Central Committee from 65 to 35 members. But after some discussion it was tabled on motion of Kaniho.

Then a resolution was offered declaring that the former committee remain, and after filling the vacancies caused by death and resignation, a single ballot was ordered cast by the secretary for the lot.

Next came the election of a finance committee, and those agreed to are as follows: Hawaii, Senator Jno T Brown; Maui, Senator S E Kaine; Oahu, Charles Notley; Kauai, Jno B Lelelwi.

After speeches by former Delegate Wilcox and C P Iaukea, adjournment was taken at 5:30 o'clock to 8 o'clock this morning.

The first business on this morning, after order had been called a little after the time set, was the matter of buying a printing plant for the party, which the party was now using, but there was a debt on it and that party could own it by paying $2,000 for it. After a great deal of discussion, the proposition was agreed to, but the money must be raised by the different district clubs by subscription, assessing the members fifty cents each.

Certain proposed amendments to the constitution by C L Kookoo, from Maui, were made. One was to change the date of organization and to eliminate from the preamble any allusion to the Aloha Aina and Kalaiana societies. But this was strongly opposed and was finally withdrawn. Other minor amendments were also made by him and were adopted.

R W Wilcox arriving late, said that what he suggested yesterday of doing, to have a memorial to Congress largely signed by the delegates, asking for independence, he had withdrawn after consultation with many well-wishers, especially for the present, as much capital would no doubt be made of it. His suggestion was assented to and the matter dropped for now, but may be taken up in the future as a battle cry. After which he presented a declaration of principles, elsewhere reproduced, which was adopted unanimously.

Two resolutions were then offered by J W H I Kihe, of Kona, one a joint resolution for the preparation of county or district club rules, providing for printing and paying for the same, and the other, that delegates be treated to a ride the whole route of the Electric at the expense of the President. Kaniho opposed the latter, saying some members were to leave home at noon, but his remarks were not taken seriously. Both resolutions were adopted.

Then adjournment was taken at 11:25 o'clock, in order to allow those delegates who were to return home to leave by the Kinau. After hand shaking, they left.

And we call attention to the fact that the acts as well as the policy of the present Territorial Administration was roundly condemned in toto by the three Republican United States Senators who recently visited Hawaii as a Sub-Committee of the United States Senate, and made a detailed and exhaustive investigation of all of its conditions, to wit Hon John H Mitchell of Oregon, Hon Addison G Foster of Washington, Hon Jos R Burton of Kansas.

(3) We appeal to the conscience and manhood of the voters of this Territory to join us in our effort to effectually restrict the power of an administration which is dishonored at home, and discredited abroad, and which possesses neither aim nor end other than its own aggrandizement. And we cordially invite all citizens without reference to race, creed or class to unite with us so that we may have in this Territory a government of laws and not of men, a government of equal rights, opportunities and privileges under which the voice of the humblest citizen may be heard and respected.

(4) We declare ourselves in favor of the most liberal forms of county and municipal government and we solemnly pledge ourselves to omit no endeavor to secure those forms of government which are "instinctive with the American," and regarded as a part of his birth right.

(5) We declare ourselves in favor of the repeal of the law which requires the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court to make a biennial report to the Legislature, which law affords that official a pretext for intermeddling in politics and matters of legislation entirely beyond the scope of a proper report.

(6) We condemn the passage of a law by the last legislature authorizing two or more corporations to form co-partnerships, and we charge that said law was devised for the purpose of enabling corporations to evade that just and sensible prohibition in the Organic Act against the holding of more than one thousand acres of land by a corporation: and we charge further that said law is directly contrary to the laws of Congress and opposed to the policy of enlightened states, as witnessed by recent and almost universal legislation aimed at corporate association and combination. And we call upon the Congress of the United States to immediately repeal said law.

(7) We denounce the appropriations made by the last legislature for the pay of public officials and for other purposes as extravagant and wasteful to the point of recklessness, wholly out of proportion to the value of the services which said officials are called upon to perform, finding no warrant in the almost bankrupt condition of this Territory and not justified by the necessities of the situation. And for the same reason we denounce the passage of the so-called "Loan Bill" and we do hereby beseech the President of the United States to make a careful and critical investigation of the necessity for such a bill before giving his approval to any of the bonds which it is proposed to issue thereunder.

(8) We denounce the attempt that is being made by the supporters of existing conditions in this Territory to raise race issues, and we charge that such attempt is being made for the sole purpose of misleading the people of the United States and of creating a sentiment abroad prejudicial to the Hawaiian people. The entire history of the Hawaiian race for more than half a century affords abundant testimony of the fact that the Hawaiians desire to live upon terms of friendship, justice and equity with all people who come amongst them, and that strangers are hospitably received and given opportunities in public as well as private life, commensurate with their deserts.

(9) We declare ourselves in favor of the immediate extension by the Congress of the United States of the American system of public land laws to the Territory of Hawaii, firmly believing that in such extension lies our only hope of preventing the public domain from falling into the hands of great corporations and a few favored individuals.

We proclaim our loyalty to the principles of American government and to the citizenship which we enjoy, and inspired by the sense of chivalry, manhood and independence which has ever characterized that citizenship, we send our affectionate greetings to our former Sovereign, Her Majesty Liliuokalani and assure her of our unabated love, confidence and respect.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

THE INDEPENDENT 50 cents per month.

Mrs S B Dole will receive at her home Friday afternoon.

The barkentine S G Wilder sailed at noon today for San Francisco.

Tonight's concert by the band will be at the railway depot in Palama.

Essigo Underhill, matron of the rescue home here, addressed the Salvation Army last night on the work in Honolulu.

W O Smith has been appointed administrator of the estate of the late Judge W L Wilcox under bonds in the sum of $3,000.

For this port the Nebraskan brought 3,110 tons of freight and she has 505 tons for Kahului. She will get away tomorrow afternoon for the latter port.

The Doric from San Francisco and Aorangi from Australia will, probably, both be in port during tomorrow. The former will have eight days later mail.

The car line from the King street bridge, via Queen, Fort, Allen and Ala Moana to the Honolulu Iron Works was opened this morning. Cars will leave each end of the line at the same time, passing on Fort street.

The Board of Dental Examiners of the Territory of Hawaii will meet in this city on the 31st of July for the purpose of examining candidates for certificates of license to practice dentistry in these islands. The place where the examinations will be held will be announced later.

Miss Juanita Dreir, daughter of August Dreier, died yesterday just after the arrival of the steamer Ventura at San Francisco. She was a sufferer from appendicitis, which caused her death. She was accompanied to the Coast by her sister, who cabled the news to the family here.

The Spreckels Case.

Judge A S Humphreys has filed an affidavit in the Circuit Court to show the authority of his firm for appearing as attorneys for Mrs Watson in the Spreckels case. It seems, from the affidavit, that some five years ago, when Mr and Mrs Watson were here, on a trip around the world, they engaged Humphreys to represent them and paid him a retainer's fee of $500. No proceedings for the recovery of the property signed away by Mrs Watson at the time of her marriage were then brought for the reason that she had confidence that her father, Claus Spreckels, would deal fairly with her. Judge Humphreys claims to have received the next instructions from his clients under date of April 20 of this year, as follows:

"Unfortunately my wife did not know, and does not now know what she signed away, but it included the bank property occupied by Billy Irwin, some Hawaiian sugar stock, etc.

"At the time we did not want to take legal proceedings against Claus Spreckels, my wife's father, and create more discord in the already discordant family, but since then they have persecuted my wife so cruelly, so inhumanly, that she has lost all consideration for their feelings, and she is now willing to proceed against whoever it may be necessary to do, to establish her rights, if you advise that there is any prospect of success, and will take the business on hand on shares as you then proposed.

"We are settled here now and await your reply and instructions."

After that, Judge Humphreys alleges, he received instructions signed by both Mr and Mrs Watson to proceed with the suit. A blank power of attorney had been forwarded and Judge Humphreys had received cable advices that it had been signed and was in the mail.

HOME RULE CONVENTION

Former Officers Re-elected and the Expected Split Failed to Materialize.

The Home Rulers met again yesterday afternoon and elected Senator D Kalauokalani as head of the party for the new year. Following is a report of the meeting:

Promptly on reassembling, or may be a little prior thereto, the election of officers was proceeded with, a bare quorum being present. Many of the delegates were yet down stairs. The result was that Kalauokalani was re-elected, and so were the other officers, as follows: Vice-President, J P Maksinai; Auditor, W K Kalelhuia; Treasurer, C Notley, and Secretary, D M Kupihea.

It was done so slick and quick that the business was soon disposed of. When Wilcox arrived, also promptly on correct time, the election was over. He never even received a mention. After the officers had been elected, all interest was lost, and then the election of honorary officers and members of the executive proceeded with. Everything seemed perfectly quiet and there was not the least show of any feeling whatsoever. The following received the highest number of votes, by ballot, as Honorary Presidents: T C Polikaps, 44; J Keau, 37, and C B Maile, 35.

The convention did not go to Murray Hall, but held the meeting, after recess at headquarters.

An amendment was proposed by Kaleihuia to the Constitution, reducing the number of the Central Committee from 65 to 35 members. But after some discussion, it was tabled on motion of Kaniho.

Then a resolution was offered declaring that the former committee remain, and after filling the vacancies caused by death and resignation, a single ballot was ordered cast by the secretary for the lot.

Next came the election of a finance committee, and those agreed to are as follows: Hawaii, Senator Jno T Brown; Maui, Senator S E Kaiue; Oahu, Charles Notley; Kauai, Jno B Lelelwi.

After speeches by former Delegate Wilcox and C P Iaukea, adjournment was taken at 5:30 o'clock to 8 o'clock this morning.

The first business on this morning, after order had been called a little after the time set, was the matter of buying a printing plant for the party, which the party was now using, but there was a debt on it and that party could own it by paying $2,000 for it. After a great deal of discussion, the proposition was agreed to, but the money must be raised by the different district clubs by subscription, assessing the members fifty cents each.

Certain proposed amendments to the constitution by C L Kookoo, from Maui, were made. One was to change the date of organization and to eliminate from the preamble any allusion to the Aloha Aina and Kalaiana societies. But this was strongly opposed and was finally withdrawn. Other minor amendments were also made by him and were adopted.

R W Wilcox arriving late, said that what he suggested yesterday of doing, to have a memorial to Congress largely signed by the delegates, asking for independence, he had withdrawn after consultation with many well-wishers, especially for the present, as much capital would no doubt be made of it. His suggestion was assented to and the matter dropped for now, but may be taken up in the future as a battle cry. After which he presented a declaration of principles, elsewhere reproduced, which was adopted unanimously.

Two resolutions were then offered by J W H I Kihe, of Kona, one a joint resolution for the preparation of county or district club rules, providing for printing and paying for the same, and the other, that delegates be treated to a ride on the whole route of the Electric at the expense of the President. Kihe opposed the latter, saying that some members were to leave for home at noon, but his remarks were not taken seriously. Both resolutions were adopted.

Then adjournment was taken at 11:25 o'clock, in order to allow those delegates who were to return home to leave by the Kinau. After hand shaking, they left.

which happens to be republican, has reached the point where retreat is no longer impossible. It must, nolens volens, go ahead, honestly and fearlessly or take the consequences. Does the latest step look as though it were going to do this thing? Does it look as though the people of the country are going to get the facts of this matter when the "gag rule" is applied to the officers of the department and no action taken in the cases of men already indicted of heinous offenses?

The people will never know the extent of rottenness in the Postoffice Department until there is a change in national administration. A congressional investigation by a partisan republican majority will only smother things. How long will the people stand it?

Wilcox Resolutions.

Following are the resolutions passed by the Supreme Court yesterday in re the death of Judge W L Wilcox:

Whereas, William Luther Wilcox, a member of the Bar of the Supreme Court of the Territory and District Magistrate of Honolulu, has been taken from us by death:

Resolved, that the members of the Bar here assembled place on record our feeling of personal loss in his death and our sincere appreciation of his genial disposition as a man; his sound common sense and ability to read human character as a judge, and his trustfulness as a friend.

Resolved, that we extend our sympathy to the widow and brothers of Judge Wilcox in their affliction.

Resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Supreme Court.

Gun Club Organizes.

At a meeting of the Honolulu Gun Club held in the Hawaiian hotel last evening organization was perfected. It was practically decided to accept a tract of about eight acres in Manoa valley for club grounds. Traps, clay pigeons and other material have already arrived here from the Coast. The initiation was fixed at $10 and the dues at $1 per month. The following officers were elected: against the law? The people would like to have an answer to that question.

Paul Isenberg, President; Walter E Wall, Vice-President; J E Fullerton, Secretary; F B Damon, Treasurer; H D Couzens, Auditor; Directors: A B Porter, R B Booth, J W Harvey, H W Wills.

Another criticism of the President is based on an action of his that comes as a sort of a sequel to something that occurred during his late political junket through the West, and which was commented on at the time in this correspondence. It will be remembered by the readers of this correspondence that I had something to say about the failure, the inexplicable neglect of the President of the University of California, Mr Benjamin Ide Wheeler, to mention the names of Mrs Phoebe Hearst and Mr William Randolph Hearst in the list of donors and patrons of the University when they had donated more than all others combined, on the occasion of the visit of the President of the United States to that institution. Wonderment was then expressed that such a thing should have occurred unless President Wheeler had been specifically asked by some one to omit the names of these two generous donors to the upbuilding of the University of California. Although he has been roasted to a brown turn by the press of California and asked to explain, Mr Wheeler has never uttered a word by way of explanation for his uncalled for and unheard of omission. The explanation has now come by

TO EARN EASY MONEY.

One of the many money making schemes pushed through the late extra session by having an item inserted in on of the several appropriation bills, wherein and whereby the people of this Territory have been fleeced to the tune of $6,000 for and on behalf of advertising the country, is that for a handbook to be issued by one Frazier who holds forth within the sanctum sanctorum of the Evening Bulletin. This we consider, is one of the rawest and most galling attempts to cinch the taxpayers and is the boldest of daylight freezes upon the people and country at large, although it was largely endorsed by a majority of the business concerns of this city. It is impudence with a vengeance and that by a white man for other white men, and no Hawaiian could be got to do the likes, but this impudence carried.

If we remember rightly, at the time it was being worked, an impression was created that the work was to be gotten out here, but instead it was contracted for with a Chicago printing establishment. Hawaiians voted for the item, because they felt that the work would be done in the country and that the money would therefore be spent right here amongst our people, brown and white alike. But such has not been the case. Instead of the money being spent right here, it has gone outside and to outsiders. To take it all in all, the legislators were fooled and duped into throwing away that much of the public funds and that extravagant Republican controlled Legislaure is responsible for this robbery.

It is reported that the handbook is now here, it having arrived before the Legislature adjourned sine die, but we have not yet seen nor been favored with a copy, in order to scrutinize and pass a review upon it, whether it was worth the effort and the expenditure or not. But, of course, we can patiently bide our time. It is nevertheless, safe to say that without the personal magnetism of a native in the employ of our contemporary, who took interest in pushing it forward, the item could never have passed. Yet a mistake was made in passing it. Why should the country bear the expense of advertising a man's wares and thereby create a record for him, besides lining his pockets? If this is another way of showing Americanism to Hawaiians, we'll none of it. It is much better to remain poor than fleece the people and rob the country to pay for getting out a man's work and thereby make money for himself at the expense of others.

HOME RULE CONVENTION

Closed After Spending Much Gas in an Oratorical Display.

On reassembling yesterday afternoon, President Kalauokalani appointed the following a committee on the organization of precinct clubs: J M Poepoe, D Kalauokalani Jr, and D M Kupihea. Poepoe objected, saying that he was on the same committee last year and the party met defeat, and for that reason he felt that another should be substituted for him. But his objection did not stand.

Charles Notley suggested that the committee on Finance should be instructed to report weekly to the Treasurer. Kaleihuia offered a resolution to this effect and was adopted.

Then Notley gave a detailed statement of the affairs of the printing branch of the party, showing that the workmen had been paid in full, the editor and manager receiving nothing. After this, he started into another field, beginning the oratorical display of the afternoon, and was followed by the President, H M Kaaiho, J M Poepoe, Kinney M Koahou, Chas K Makekau, J W H I Kibe and Z K Wai Kalai.

When the oratory was brought to a close, it was decided that the next convention should assemble on the first Monday of July, 1904.

As each County will call conventions for the selection of County officers, the only County so far known as having set a date is Maui, which will assemble at Wailuku on September 8th next, opening at 9 a. m. and that the President is to visit and open each County convention.

Adjournment sine die was taken at 4 o'clock.

Laukea and Advertiser.

Were my present attitude of opposition based on personal grounds, there might be some excuse for resorting to tactics of this kind. But if I was ever sincere in my life it is when I say that I believe the Advertiser and the faction it represents is and has been and always will be antagonistic to the people in the establishment of republican institutions in Hawaii. A strong advocate of popular government for this Territory, must I also fall a victim to the same "thrust in the back" that many another independent spirit has been forced before now to submission.

That there may be spots and stains around my skirts that can never be erased by mortal hands, I will not deny. To God alone must I atone for these shortcomings. But in the words of the Gospel, "Let him who is among you without sin, cast the first stone."—C P Isaksa in the Bulletin.

Street Car Accident.

An unusual accident, occurred on a Hotel street car at the switch between River and Kekauluhe streets this morning. Opposite the point is a Japanese store with a large, heavy awning in front. The wind blew the awning outward and the end of the pole was caught by the car. In a second there was a general smashup. Several bars on the car were broken and a Chinaman was badly cut in the head. Two ladies escaped only by jumping out. The awning was of course demolished and flying parts of it demolished one of the store windows.

The Pontifical Mass.

Father Mathias yesterday conducted the Pontifical requiem mass at the Catholic cathedral for the repose of the soul of the dead Pope. He was assisted by Fathers Francis and Clement. A large concourse of people attended the services. Secretary Carter was present for the Government and the following foreign consuls attended; inference and the conclusion is irresistible. A short time ago Mr Benjamin Ide Wheeler came through Washington and was entertained at the White House by President Roosevelt and shown every possible courtesy. Thus it is as gross to the sense as the sun at noonday that this is a game of you tickle me and I will tickle you. Out in California Wheeler, at the request or suggestion of a soul so small that three hundred of them could dance the highland fling on the point of a cambric needle, performs the act of an ingrate and insults the spirit of his state. In Washington he gets his pay by being allowed to fawn at the feet of alleged greatness and stick his knees under presidential mahogany. He was entitled to anything the President could give him. He saved him from listening to the applause that would have followed the reading of the name of Hearst in California, for it is a name that Roosevelt both fears and dislikes. And no wonder, Mr Hearst has told the truth so often concerning Mr Roosevelt and his party that every time the President sees a New York American he shies at it like an erstwhile moon-eyed broncho at a blackstump.

A de Souza Canavarro, Portugal; A Rass, France; F A Schaefer, Italy, Mexico and Austria-Hungary; H W Schmidt, Sweden and Norway; H Focke, Chile; H R Macfarlane, Denmark.

Roosevelt is Being Criticized.

The question now being asked here is "what has become of the 'Iowa idea?'" It seems to have "gone glimmering like a schoolboy's dream, the wonder of an hour." After all the beating of tom toms and soundings of new gags anent this "Iowa idea" the platform adopted by the Iowa republicans was a straddle and a fake on the tariff reform and revision question and all the analyses of it on earth could make nothing else out of it. I said some time ago that it was a gold brick. The Iowa republicans in convention assembled have proved my assertion correct. Gov Cummins says he will continue to make the same kind of tariff revision speeches throughout the campaign that he has been making heretofore. If he does he will be speaking through a protection muzzle all the time. He says he wrote the tariff plank in the platform himself. If he did he was hypnotized by Senator Allison while he was doing it, for it talks one way while he talks another when he is out from the influence of the pussy-footed Senator who, as John J Ingalls once said, "could walk on hens' eggs all day and never scratch a shell." The "stand-patters" and the American Protective Tariff League have won a victory. They have forced the republicans of Iowa to adopt the regulation protection platform. What will the republicans who want tariff revision do about it?

STRONG MEN IN PRESENT CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, July 14:

The three strongest delegations in Congress as delegations, are the Iowa, the Missouri and the Texas delegations. Nearly every man from those three states is a strong man, and stands pre-eminent for marked ability in some peculiar line. In writing these sketches of public men in future I will take them up by state delegations. Many members of Congress, in their relation to the general public can be disposed of in very few words, for they have done very little to attract general attention, although they are good men and good legislators. Their work is done very quietly and in the committee rooms, where most of the effective work of a member of Congress is performed without the emission of hot air, without fanfarronade and blare of trumpets.

Some people have an idea that unless a man shows up every day in the Congressional Record with a speech of some sort that he is not good as a Congressman, when the truth is that just the opposite makes him the good and effective member. No matter how good a speaker a man may be or how well qualified to speak on any given subject he can not say a word unless he gets the permission of the Speaker, and then he is allotted only a certain number of minutes and must limit his address. Very few men can exhaust their subjects in the time allotted to them; cannot do themselves justice; and that is why so few men make speeches. The House of Representatives has emasculated itself by the rules it has adopted and no longer is a deliberative body. There are some men, however, on both sides of the House who by their intellectual force have made themselves felt, and deserve recognition.

[illegible] instances [illegible] ed the Ho[illegible] Hon Davi[illegible] are other strong men on that delegation, and one of them is the Hon Charles Fremont Cochran, of St Joseph, Mo. Undoubtedly Mr Cochran is the most versatile and widely read member of the delegation. He is "loaded for bear," so to speak, on almost any subject that comes up for debate in the House, and when he gets through with an opponent his antagonist looks like a fodder stack after a cyclone had toyed with it. He never makes a speech without adding to the sum of human information. In his capacity of lawyer and newspaper editor he has read everything and he has a memory like a tar bucket; everything that gets in it sticks. His pet hobbies in the past two Congresses have been the war in the Philippines and the Boer war in South Africa. On those two subjects he has hit the republicans more hard licks than any two men in Congress.

Another big man in the Missouri delegation is the Hon William S Cowherd, of Kansas City. He not only is one of the best debaters in the House, but one of the best lawyers. His cogent reasoning and invincible logic compel admiration and knock down all barriers. There was an attempt in the last Congress to put through a steal of about a half million dollars, and it came from the Committee on the District of Columbia, of which Mr

THURSDAY, JULY 30, 1903.

THE IMMIGRATION AGENCY.

And so Governor Dole has taken advantage of the stand taken by Treasurer Kepoikai as to the intent and construction of the Organic Act, in the appointing of an official not by law provided, and without allowing the grass to grow under his feet, to appoint one to the newly created office, only by an item tucked away in one of the many appropriation bills, of Commissioner of Immigration and Advertising Agent. Yes, he took time by the forelock and without consulting with his "cabinet" nor taking heed to any dictation by the Republican Central Committee, he wrote instruction to Secretary Carter to issue a commission to T F Lansing, an unheard of applicant and an unknown quantity as far as party endorsement was concerned, one who was ignominiously turned down by the Senate of 1901, an eager applicant for reappointment as Treasurer in the latter part of 1902, one of those who believe in the ".ub it-in policy" since 1893, as then enunciated by Dr Wood and others of the P G Advisory Council, including his own good self as one of the few who then gained control and who since failed in business and is being now employed as a clerk in one of our business houses with extraordinary powers, and he is the choice of our Governor.

As far as the man is concerned, we do not at present know anything against his business integrity, but we do know that he has been striving to overcome his difficulties and to make both ends meet, which we do not consider a weakness and a failing, but all the more honor to him for so striving, yet we do not consider him the best man for the place nor the one to work in concert with the chief of the Department under which he is to work. Perhaps the Governor has appointed him in order to give him another chance to retrieve what he lost in business, to give him an easy means of earning money at public expense. We deem the man to be perfectly competent, but the Executive choice has fallen upon barren rocks. The Governor took what the newspapers said on the matter of the Treasurer's contention and acted accordingly, without waiting to learn more of the facts when he returns, and therefore made his choice, thereby disregarding the body of dictators at headquarters and doing as he pleased without consultation.

Prior to the item being brought up in the House of Representatives, certain parties on behalf of the Planters Association as well as members of the Senate called upon a certain gentleman, who was considered to have influence with the members, and urged upon him the necessity of having an item passed for such an office, the reason advanced being the present cases for the illegal importation of Korean laborers. The idea of the office was to give official color to the future importation of laborers. Another reason advanced was because of these Korean cases, a ship load of Portuguese immigrants was delayed and held at the Azores under heavy demurrage charges, and that as soon as the appointment was made, by this official's sanction, the vessel could then leave immediately and proceed at once for its destination at this port.

This, we understand, was acceded to. When a member of the House was seen about it, he asked that the appointee should be one of his choice as well as that of the gentleman first seen. After much suasion, this point was granted, although the planters held that such an appointee should be one acceptable to them and their interest and, if need be, of their choice, but they had to give way, as every day's delay was costing them heavy demurrage. The item was finally introduced, referred to special committee, and it was then that both the Governor and the Secretary induced a recommendation to place it under the latter, and on the report being presented with such a recommendation, its adoption and the passage of the item was defeated by the strong speech of Speaker Beckley opposing the introduction of small farmers to take up small holdings who would eventually become voters to oppose the natives and in course of time entirely gain the control of affairs and thereby sidetrack the sons of the soil, and further, why should these special immigrants, be they white, black or brown, or Asiatics, be specially favored with holdings of land over the people of this country.

When this was lost by the votes of nearly the whole of the Hawaiian members of the House, it was then sought to have it re-introduced and placed under the Treasury as was the original intention, with the proviso that this official be appointed by the Treasurer. There was no thought that the appointment should be made by the Governor. Then it was that the gentleman first seen was again urged to use his influence and did so night and day Those who opposed it were shown its necessity, and on a complete understanding and also that a certain one who had applied for the place should not be appointed, but that one suitable to those in whose hands the lot had fallen to make the office possible should receive the appointment. It was so understood and the salary item was inserted upon the third reading of the Six Months Salary Bill by recommitting it to the Committee of the Whole. We think it is still fresh in the minds of those who kept track of House proceedings.

Since its passage and approval by the Governor, the Treasurer has held that this was an appointment within the province of the House to nominate and that a concensus of opinion from him would receive his consideration. The House members largely endorsed a Hawaiian candidate, who applied as well as others, but this Hawaiian was not the choice of the gentleman first appealed to by the planting interest nor by the original introducer. And since then, the Treasurer discovered the Organic Act provision and held that he had no right to appoint without authority. He sought an opinion from the Attorney General, which sustained him in his position, but which opinion was withdrawn the morning after it had been made, and since then no other opinion has been handed down. But the Governor read the papers and has made the appointment, relying upon his own legal opinion without that of the legal adviser of "His Excellency."

Now that the Governor has made the appointment by mail instruction, the elected representatives of the people may see and learn how easy it is for those in power to defeat their wishes and thereby defeat them and those who sought to save their necks carry their point easy together with the plum of office, one who has always been a favorite at Executive Chambers and an easy and pliable tool wherewith to carry out the "rub-it-in policy" of the oligarchs. So much for consistency as well as for placing trust in those who do not care to keep faith with those who worked hard day and night to save the day to the planters, claiming that it was by the advice of Commissioner General Sargent when here. And in that event, we say—ta-ta, good bye; so mote it be! Next time, be more wary and cautious.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The harmony in the Republican party desired by the Advertiser is a harmony that will give to the immediate friends of that paper all the fat jobs and political power.

The agreement at Washington on a site for the new immigrant station means that the work will go ahead at once, and the information should be received with satisfaction. It is in order, however, for all interested parties to keep their eyes open and see that only citizen labor is employed. We believe Commissioner Sargent to be in favor of such a program, and his attention should carefully and constantly be drawn to it.

Were it not for the sugar trust a refinery in these Islands would be a gold mine, saving a very large amount of money to cane growers. But with the United States tied up soul and body to the trust, there is no hope of Hawaiian sugars finding a market at standard figures. It would be a small job for the powerful trust to crush the business of a local refinery and it would not hesitate to do so. The only remedy for the situation lies in a Democratic government, which would destroy the power of trusts, and restore to the people an open field for competition. And still the Hawaiian planters cling to the Republican party, a party that is robbing them by protecting the sugar trust.

The Diamond Head tract of the Kapiolani Estate is not a fit site for the new insane asylum. No place in town is a proper location. The asylum should be situated clear outside, away from residence districts and the noise of ordinary life. Some dry locality near the mountains or far down the railroad should be chosen. The Government tract beyond Diamond Head would be far preferrable to the neighborhood of the noisy race track and Camp McKinley.

The Board of Agriculture has voted Dr Jared Smith $350 a month for expenses at the United States experimental station and $500 for expense of bringing a new variety of bananas into the country.

Prof Koebele has been instructed to employ a certain entomologist in Ohio who is an expert on the leaf hopper. Two assistants have been engaged in England, one to work with Koebele and the other with Perkins.

Dr Jared G Smith is to make an extensive experiment in growing leaf tobacco at the Louisson place on Hawaii. The Hawaiian Board of Agriculture puts up $1,200 for the purpose and the use of the land is given free for three years.

BY AUTHORITY.

Notice is hereby given that GEORGE E. SMITHIES has this day been appointed Deputy Insurance Commissioner for the Territory of Hawaii.

CURTIS IAUKEA IS PAU.

Cannot Stomach Advertiser Crowd; Leaves Republican Party.

Col C P Iaukea yesterday afternoon replied to his traducers and persecutors, the Advertiser faction of the Republican party. Goaded to the utmost extremity by those who have coaxed, threatened and lampooned him to forsake his straigtforward and upright principles, Colonel Iaukea declares himself as opposed to selfish, un-American and race politics, leaves the party of his choise and announces his intention of joining hands with the Home Rulers. His letter to the Advertiser is as follows:

Editor Advertiser:—In a newspaper controversy, you have me at your mercy. You can turn and distort language until a person looks ridiculous in the eyes of your readers. There may be occasions when we can meet on a more equal footing; on the political stump for instance, at the coming county election.

As you seem to be so anxious to peer into a man's conscience, I will satisfy your curiosity, by relating the following which might serve as the confessions of a contrite heart. A lesson also may be deduced that party leaders would do well to ponder.

Once on a time, when the monarchy was tottering to its fall, and the friends of liberal and progressive ideas needed all the friends it could muster to lend a semblance of Hawaiian support to the movement, I happened to be one of the few (so few indeed that you could almost count them on the fingers of one hand) who came to the assistance of the annexationists. A conspicuous figure in court circles and official life I naturally drew upon my head the deep hatred and prejudices of my own race.

Unmindful of the enmity of an outraged people I stood steadfast to the cause of annexation believing that with it would come the reward commensurate with the loss of a declining monarchy. Together with the party of American ideas I made choice of one of the great political parties as a factor through whose influence the best interests of the country would be best conserved.

But alas! it was not to be: for the very people who preached the doctrines of democracy proved traitors for to cause of annexation. It was not the free and liberal institutions of Americanism that they were seeking but the furtherance of their own selfish ends. The American people were deceived, and now the cry is "the Hawaiian is not fit for self government," whereas when seeking annexation the edict went forth that he was capable for the full exercise of American citizenship.

Times have changed however, and with the new conditions men have also changed. Men who opposed annexation, who helped to heap coals of fire on their fellowmen who did service under the Provisional Government, may now be seen in the councils of the Republican Party sharing their confidence to the fullest extent, whilst I, the d——Kanaka, is kindly given the hint to get out.

Mr Editor and so-called dyed in the wool Republicans, you are welcome to your close corporation, and so far as I am personally concerned your wishes will be gratified Never

LAUKEA'S BRAVE STAND.

Special attention is called to a letter, reprinted from the Advertiser in another column of this issue, from the pen of Colonel Curtis P Iaukea, giving reasons for his recent and present political attitude and declaring that he has withdrawn from the Republican party and will in future affiliate with the Home Rule-Democratic party. He gives in that letter a number of "stunners" for those misguided Hawaiians and others who accepted the soft-soap and vapory promises of the missionary ring, following the overthrow of the Monarchy, and have been regularly and persistently cuffed at every period since, when their services or votes were not momentously required.

There can be but one legitimate and reasonable comment on the attitude of Mr Iaukea. Swayed by the sugary advice of men who had robbed him of his birthright and country, he cast his lot with those who had been and are the worst enemies of his countrymen. At the time the outlook, the future, was in the air, vague and uncertain. It was easy for a trustful, unsuspicious man to be led away by false promises and glowing plans, and Mr Iaukea fell naturally into the trap.

There can be no question as to Mr Iaukea's sincerity as an annexationist. He believed the Monarchy to be forever at an end, and accepted annexation as the next best thing in a bad bargain. It was pounded into his ears every day that annexation would be followed by the true American principles of self government and the absence of bossism and oligue rule. The missionaries told him that, and he believed them—to his profound and lasting sorrow, we imagine. Mr Iaukea accepted the principles of the Republican party and became a member of the local Republican party (a party that is no more related to the Alexander Hamilton party of the United States than Punchbowl hill is to shoe-leather), and then his mistake began to dawn upon him. He found in the Republican party a set of men banded together for their own weal. The beneficiaries were a small coterie of missionary haoles at the top, and the party was considered by this gang of Divesian thieves as dogs to clear the floors of their festal chambers of crumbs and waste. By that outfit the people of this politically cursed country have never been considered, except at periods immediately preceding elections. When votes were needed the native and the equally trustful white have been'd fawned into supporting the unholy gang in power, only to be insulted, spit upon and kicked out as soon as the need for support was over.

In bidding adieu to the missionary confederacy that now holds the bogus Republican party of these Islands in the hollow of its hands, Colonel Iaukea has become a martyr to civilization, to Hawaiian honesty of purpose and political purity and to unadulterated Americanism in these Islands. He is to be admired and lauded for his brave stand, in the face of an unprincipled, soulless, hellish gang of selfish thieves that have hounded him in the past and have persecuted and will endeavor to oppress every man in these Islands who stands for honest and decent government.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Voters are still waiting for the prosperity promised by the Republicans last year. Although there are fewer mechanics in the country than in a very long while, only a small per cent of them are emp'oyed.

Frazier's handbook "Hawaii" embodies an interesting and instructive write-up of the Islands by Daniel Logan, most of it drawn from the old foreign office book edited by the same gentleman. The illustions are for the most part entirely too small and some of them are badly executed. The cover is a freak of art, being decidedly unattractive, while the printing is in ghostly red ink! Somebody evidently cleaned up a neat little sack out of the thing.

There is one thing that can be said in favor of Immigration Commissioner T F Lansing, i. e: He is a persistent job-chaser. Scarcely a Government billet has emerged over the horizon since 1893 that he has not gone gunning for. Though repeatedly turned down, and finally condemned by vote of the Legislature, he stays with it. He has almost as much nerve as Superintendent H E Cooper along that line. We admire perseverence, even if the "perseverer" is a professional job chaser.

Superintendent Cooper, we are informed, intends to go ahead, whether or no, and convert a block of valuable water-front property below Allen street into docks and wharves. The work must be done at immense public expense and property loss. As we have shown before, the slips and wharves are entirely unnecessary, there being more room now than is needed and twice as much as will be needed when Pearl harbor is opened The whole thing looks to us like a scheme of Superintendent Cooper to waste a lot of money for the benefit of the Rapid Transit Company, whose tracks will border the new wharves

The opinion of Dr Ybarra that morquitoes are not to any large extent responsible for the spread of yellow fever and other contagious diseases will again set doctors to guessing. At best there has been little in the results of experiments to support the theories advanced from Cuba. Doctors have of late years fallen into the practice, when cornered and unable to account for the spread of disease, of charging it up to some newly discovered microbe, the mosquito or any other multi footed creature in sight. It seems not improbable that in dealwith the denque fever our own smart medicoes of Honolulu have slipped a cog on the mosquito and have condemned the little brute more on the strength of theory than the results of any tangible demonstration.

Entirely Erroneous.

The Star the other evening stated that T F Lansing is manager of the Hawaiian Hardware Company. Such a statement is entirely erroneous. The present manager is Abraham Fernandez, who has been such for years past of said company besides being its treasurer. Mr Lansing has, for only a few months, been employed as an expert accountant with the rank of supervisor clothed with extraordinary powers.

Mosquito Not Bad As Painted

The New York Herald contains the following in regard to the opinions of Dr A M F Ybarra, the opinions disagreeing with other army surgeons that the mosquito is responsible for the spread of contagious diseases:

Dr A M Fernandez Ybarra, who returned from Cuba on Thursday, after a service there of more than two years as a physician of the United States Army, is a vigorous opponent of the contention of the Army Medical Department that the mosquito is the only means by which yellow fever is propagated.

This theory is based on the report made by Surgeons Reed, Carroll and Agramonte, who, as a special medical board of the army, investigated the etiology of yellow fever in 1901.

Dr Fernandez Ybarra is a native of Cuba and pursued his medical studies in this city, graduating at the University of New York in 1881. He practised in this city for twenty years, during which time he also edited a medical journal published in Spanish here. During the Spanish war, as a contract surgeon, he was with the United States army at Santiago, Libonoy, Matanzas and other points.

At his apartments in West Fourteenth street yesterday he said he was the only native doctor in Cuba who had the temerity to deny in the Havana Academy of Medicine the Army Department's theory that yellow fever is only transmitted by a special kind of mosquito, Stegomyia faciata, and by the female mosquito of that species. This was first contended at the International Sanitary Congress held in Havana in February of last year.

"I disagreed with the doctors there," said Dr Fernandez Ybarra, "and wanted them to show how it was that, although they had tried to extirpate mosquitoes as the source of yellow fever in Cuba, in the city of Havana alone, the disease has also vanished from other parts of the island where there had been no attacks upon the morquitoes?

"If the morquito theory be the true one, I believe that similar measures should be taken against the spreading of yellow fever by other insects, for, if the disease is propagated by one pest, the others must be equally dangerous sources, more will this "Kanaka" darken your doors. In saying farewell to your political organizations, let me remind you that there is a day coming when you will need the Kanaka vote and if I have any influence amongst my own race you needn't be looking in my direction for votes, for, you will never get them.

"I do not say that yellow fever may not be propagated by mosquitoes, but I do deny that they are the only source of the epidemic."

Dr Ybarra declared that sanitary reforms were the most effective agents in suppressing the contagion.

Now that my conscience seems lighter, you may now announce my withdrawal from Republican party allegiance and my intentions of joining issues with the Home Rulers. Now it will be in order for the Bosses to congratulate themselves on the fact of their being one "Kanaka" less in the Republican ranks.

OUR SPENDTHRIFT LEGISLATURE.

The San Francisco Call contains an editorial which aptly shows up our Republican controlled Legislature as a spendthrift outfit. It shows that the obligations saddled upon the country by the Republicans is $28 per capita, "the highest levied by any Government in the world." A fourth of this is in the ill-advised loan bill, and more in appropriations that were unnecessary. The Call's ideas are as follows:

The Territory of Hawaii is in the enjoyment of a high degree of self-government. It comes high, but the people must have it. The appropriations for carrying on the government amount to $28 per head of population. For the government of 150,000 people the cost is $8,424,859 49 for two years. The income to meet this is only $4,600,000 for the same period. To meet the budget borrowing against future taxes is proposed, but that is simply getting income and outgo still farther apart. A tax of $28 per capita is probably the highest levied by any Government in the world. When local and municipal taxes are added, annexation appears as the greatest luxury on earth if measured by its cost. Neither under the monarchy nor the missionary oligarchy of Dole did taxation come anywhere near the present figure.

The government purchased at so high a price does not seem to justify its cost by its quality, for it is not a very good government. If affairs go on at the present pace the islands are bound to go heavily in debt. Once a career of extravagance is once begun it is difficult to arrest the pace. In Hawaii, as elsewhere, there are large numbers of voters who are not materially touched by taxation, but who touch the results of taxation beneficially to themselves. These are appealed to by a lavish policy of expenditure, and their votes can be counted on to continue in power any legislators who have excessively liberal views on public expenditure. By and by there will be an insolvent dependency on our hands, and Uncle Sam will have to put his hand in his pocket to pay the bills of his youngest daughter.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The Advertiser's reference to Colonel C P Iaukea as a companion to monarchial travelers brings to mind the King's barber, formerly editor of the morning paper and Thuston's next friend.

James H Boyd should subsidize the Advertiser for opposing him for the office of supervisor. If he really seeks such an office the opposition of the morning paper will bring him more new votes than any other expedient with which we are acquainted.

So the Republicans will not make their nominations until the last month of the campaign, in order to save expenses. That's bad. It will cut the newspapers out of lots of campaign speeches, the town out of so many torch-light processions, the voter out of tons of taffey and the small boy out of his soda-water. Gee Whiz! In these dull Republican times we don't see how it can be endured.

The appointment of Frank L Winter to the office of United States Deputy Marshal is satisfactory. Mr Winter, during his long residence in Hawaii, has made many friends, all of whom will be more than pleased to see him in important official harness. He is a thorough office man and a natural aptitude for just such work as he will have in hand eminently fits him as a suitable right bower to Marshal Hendry.

A few Hawaiians are now being employed on the Kaimuki road. It is understood, however, that they were engaged voluntarily by the contracting firm in place of by any effort or suggestion on the part of the Public Works superintendent. The spirit of the public is very plain in this matter. Citizen labor is demanded on public works of any kind, and if the Government allows another contract to go out in the slip-shod fashion of the one at Kaimuki, it will be heard from.

Our fair friends of the opposite sex are perhaps justified in displaying their shoulders on warm evenings. But when the nights are cool is such either comfortable or comely? For instance, last night at the Young hotel, there was a display of bare shoulders that was not altogether in chime with the cool atmosphere on the heights of the big building. We make no special kick; but the contrast of situations rather grated, and still feels like the scraping of a rough knife over a marsh cane, doncherknow.

Judge M M Estee may go back to his old home in California, on his approaching vacation, feeling confident of the hearty aloha left behind him. Few men have gone into a strange country and in three short years won the confidence and esteem of a whole people, divided in business, social and political ideas and ideals. Judge Estee in his stay abroad may feel assured at all times that he has left no ill-wisher behind; but, on the other hand, has left a community of sincere friends that will look forward to and welcome his safe return.

The Bulletin thinks that Colonel C P Iaukea acted hastily and unwisely in leaving the Republican party. It may be so, but a dickens of a time will be required to prove it. Colonel Iaukea, his followers and a large number of Republicans have been made since annexation the mere tools of a selfish clan, and others than Iaukea should have by this time come to realize it. It is impossible, and will continue to be imposible, to reconcile the elements of the local Republican party so long as the control of that party is in the hands of a clique that looks out only for its own interest and has not the slightest regard for the majority and the people at large.

The action of the Board of Agriculture in appropriating $500 for the importation of Bluefields banana plants into these Islands is another illustration of the flagrant carelessness of Superintendent Cooper. The Superintendent recommended the appropriation, and the board, which is composed of men outside of the government, endorsed the proposal, having confidence in the Superintendent's recommendation. It turns out, however, that the bananas referred to have been propagated in the Islands for years, and the very best place to get them is from Olaa, at a very small cost. This way of keeping men in office who waste public money may work well for awhile but it will kick back—it will kick back, and mighty sudden one of these fine days.

The opening of the great Alexander Young hotel last evening marked a distinct era in the history of the Hawaiian Islands. The immense caravansary is quite the largest and most complete in the North Pacific or the Orient and is second to none west of the Rocky Mountains on the mainland, with one possible exception. Certain it is that, with the big Young hotel, the Royal Hawaiian and the magnificent Moana the tourist cannot lack for accommodations, and those accommodations of the finest and most satisfactory kind. Mr Young deserves the heartiest congratulations and thanks of his fellow citizens on his immense enterprise and the confidence that brought it about. Few other men would, perhaps, have invested $2,000,000 in a speculative venture of this sort, the principal inducement to which was the comfort of visitors to Honolulu.

Bravely Stopped By a Native.

A double team of horses attached to a loaded milk wagon bolted yesterday afternoon on Beretania street, beyond Punchbowl, and started out towards the pumping station. While on the way, a son of the Portuguese guitar maker ran out with a board and tried to stop the maddened team by frightening them further, which compelled the horses to take to the lower (makai) side of the street. Further on was a garbage wagon (No 2), whose driver had the presence of mind to swerve his heavy wagon to one side parallel with the street and the milk wagon struck it on the broadside, and this somewhat abated the speed. Just at this time, the helper of the garbage wagon, a native named Lui, gave chase and got hold of the reins of one of the horse and he clung on to it, being dragged some distance, finally bringing the runaway team to a standstill. When stopped, the man was shaking and he jumped into the wagon seat, holding on to the reins and steadying the horses. Coming down the road at the same time towards town was a lady in a buggy. But for the timely stopping of this runaway, the possibility of an accident was prevented. The driver of the milk wagon came on later and took charge of his team. No damage was done to anyone or to either of the wagons and their contents.

Charles Siemsen, clerk in the public works department, has been appointed keeper of the wharves and buoys, powder magazine and kerosene warehouse at Hilo. This is a promotion from his former office.

Bloodless Girls

Doctors have given the Greek name Anæmia, meaning "bloodlessness" to a disease which is much more prevalent among young women than is generally believed. In its early stages the disease is not marked by any decided symptoms and often makes considerable advance before its presence is noticed. An unusual feeling of fatigue after slight exercise, breathless and pallor are the first noticeable signs.

In anæmia the blood becomes thin, the heart flabby, the skin pale and waxy. If the disease become chronic (persistent anæmia) it often results fatally. The one successful method of treating this disease is to build up the blood. The best blood builder in the world is

This remedy has cured more cases of anæmia than all others combined.

Miss Cordelia Moore, of Malone, N. Y., until recently, has been a lifelong invalid from palpitation of the heart and weakness of the blood. In speaking of this experience she said:

"I was in a terrible condition. I could not eat. My face was ghastly white, and my hands were almost transparent. I was so weak it was utterly impossible for me to go up stairs.

"I met a friend who spoke of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and advised me to try them. Before the first box was used I began to regain my appetite and felt better generally. I bought six more boxes and took them. I grew strong rapidly and gained in flesh. I became better in every way. I never felt better in my life than now, and consider myself cured. I cannot say too much regarding Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."—From the Gazette, Malone, N. Y.

No discovery of modern times has proved such a blessing to mankind as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Acting directly on the blood and nerves, invigorating the body, regulating the functions, they restore the strength and health in the exhausted patient when every effort of the physician proves unavailing.

These pills are sold in boxes at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Deputy Marshal Resigns.

Deputy United States Marshal F C Handy has resigned, his resignation taking effect yesterday. Marshal Hendry has appointed Frank L Winter to take his place. Following is the letter of Mr Handy, who was away on a short vacation, in regard to the matter:

"I am therefore going to tender my resignation to you as your Deputy, to take effect July 31, 1903, at which time my leave expires. I think I can be doing something by that time. I want to express to you my sincere appreciation of the many kindnesses which you have from time to time extended to me and the fair treatment which I have received from you in every instance.

"Personally I would not want to change as I liked my position very much, but again my wife was not satisfied and did not feel well and would not have stayed any longer. I sincerely trust that my quitting at this time will not seriously inconvenience you and that you will secure a good man to fill the place. I wish you every success in the future and, if I can be of any service to you, I trust you will call on me and I will do anything that I can."

This letter is dated Ukiah, July 22, and the following news telegram in the San Francisco Chronicle, it will be seen, has date but two days later:

UKIAH, July 24—Medical Superintendent King of the Mendocino State Hospital has appointed F C Handy steward of that institution. The vacancy was caused by the resignation of E J Niles. Alexander Young Hotel Opening.

Nearly 2,000 people attended the opening of the Alexander Young hotel last evening. All were surprised at and delighted with the splendor of the place. There was music by orchestras in the two great halls and the Hawaiian band played in the roof garden far above the city. An elaborate dinner to many guests was served in the American and European dining rooms. Dancing followed the reception and other routine of entertainment. All present had a most enjoyable time.

THE HOTEL BALL.

(By ANNE M. PRESCOTT.)

Oh, the regal splendor of it all!
That Alexander Young Hotel ball;
Who feels the glory of it all, say?
Now try to tell it out, who may.

Well what shall we say and what shall we sing,
What tribute, complete, of praise can we bring?
A work so surpassing in skill and in might,
Benumbs our poor pen, and amazes us, quite.

Oh the lights, the music and song,
Those Hawaiian meles, never too long.
Filled are the stairways, filled the halls,
Beautiful ladies and gowns and all;
Gentlemen bow and ladies smile
(All are dancing after a while;)
Oh the splendor of it all,
At that Alexander Young Hotel ball.

It was entrancing from bottom to top,
The marble, the coolness, the music, the hop:
And when day light came
All who were there still, wanted to stop.

Oh the charming music of Hawaii!
All of its sweetness, all, at the call,
Of the Alexander Young Hotel ball.

Mark the glory of it all,
When the thousands gather at the call,
Of the Alexander Young Hotel ball;
With their merry, chatty din,
(Not to be there seemed a sin.)

Not to see that lovely Inn,
Made all travellers' hearts to win.
Let us for all time recall,
The Alexander Young Hotel ball.

GLOVE CONTRACT OF MR LITTAUER.

WASHINGTON, July 18:

The Littauer glove contract is still agitating the War Department and official Washington. On account of the peculiar relationship existing between President Roosevelt and Congressman Littauer, the question is on the tip of every man's tongue, "What will Roosevelt do about this latest scandal that gets close to him?" At a Harvard College dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York on the 23d of February, 1900, Roosevelt declared with pride and emotion that his closest personal friend and political adviser was Mr Lucius N Littauer, member of Congess from New York. To quote his exact language: "I want to tell you that it is a Congressman who is my most intimate personal friend, and who is my closest political adviser."

"Who is he?" came from all sides.

"Lucius Littauer," said Roosevelt.

The laws of the United States forbid a member of Congress to take any Government contract. The New York Sun, a republican newspaper, friendly to Mr Roosevelt, of course, reveals the fact that Mr Littauer, during the Spanish-American war, manufactured some five hundred thousand dollars' worth of gloves and other supplies bought by the United States Government. A man named Lyon got the contract from the Government, and Littauer made the gloves for Lyon. In a letter to Lyon, Littauer asks whether he (Littauer) shall go and see the responsible War Department official, General Ludington, "in regard to other glove contracts?" And Littauer's brother acted as bondsman for Lyon in the procuring of contracts.

What will Mr Roosevelt do under the circumstances? Will he instruct the Attorney General to investigate the matter? He cannot doubt that his indorsement of Mr Littauer would have great weight with the War Department. Mr Littauer may not have known, in spite of his offer to see a certain official, that Lyon really got the contracts on the strength of representing Mr Roosevelt's intimate friend.

But what will Mr Roosevelt do?

He has not hesitated to give us his views of official purity. He has said, "Words are good when backed up by deeds, and only so." Will his words be backed by deeds in this case? Or is there a difference between an ordinary individual and the Harvard graduate who happens to be the President's "closest political friend and adviser."

The people would perhaps like to ask Mr Roosevelt this question:

What can be expected of the Post Office people if the intimate political friend and most trusted adviser of the President makes a profit of some ninety thousand dollars on Government contracts, when the law says that no member of Congress shall profit by such a contract, directly or indirectly?

Mr Roosevelt has said that he propcses to have everything about him "as clean as a hound's tooth." Isn't it about time for him to buy a carload of tooth brushes?

There is another phase of this glove contract matter that has never been exploited in the press of the country. The people know nothing about it and it contains a whole lot of meat for meditation upon the ways that are dark and the tricks that are vain, as practiced by the astute and unscrupulous Secretary

AN OPEN TOWN.

Do you know what I see twenty years ahead? It's this! A Monte Carlo on the beach which will draw the fast set from every quarter of the globe. A Sunday wider open than any San Francisco ever saw, with gilded gin places, road houses and shady beer gardens to decorate its lotteries which are opposed only by laws that no one will enforce; Sunday picnics led by bands and horse races with gambling on the side and perhaps a Sunday prize fight for luck; a church or two where sensational preachers add zest to the program of the day but don't interfere with the things that are Caesar's—I mean Nero's. Is it an overdrawn picture? Well, anyhow, things are tending that way all the time—and there is no robust, practical, fearless and tireless Christianity strong enough to head it off. —Sunday Advertiser.

Our "pipe-dream" does not extend so far. In the way of saloons the latitude has been extended quite far enough for the financial interests of the owners and the best health of the community. As for gambling attractions we have enough and to spare already. Only the Advertiser and its friends have suggested such adjuncts. The people at large do not want them, even at the expense of tourist travel.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

And so the Home Rulers captured the Republican Central Committee last Saturday night, so says the Advertiser. If that is surely the case, then all that we can exclaim is—Hip, hip, hooray!

According to this morning's Advertiser there will be a severe earthquake shock felt in California about 11 o'clock tonight. Persons having friends there should cable over and let them know about it.

The meeting of the Republican Central Committee Saturday night may or may not have been a Home Rule affair. That is no fry of ours. It seems to us, however, that it was a meeting in which independence rather predominated in place of the "close corporation" tactics of the Advertiser, and we hardly see how the people can have much of a kick coming.

The Advertiser claims to have worked single handed, or nearly so, for small farmers. We cheerfully grant all the honor and distinction that our contemporary may be able to discover in the matter. The question that arises, however, is who is going to take the beratings of the "farmers" when they discover that they have been fooled and are broke? It is to be hoped that the morning paper will be as valiant then as now.

A Circuit Judge in one of the country districts thinks of resigning his office on account of the small pay. Judgeships in the rural parts of Hawaii are not what they are cracked up to be. There is fully as much expense as in the city, and practically none of the numerous advantages that a life in the city affords. It seems to us that there are excellent reasons for affording better pay to country than city judges

It is all right for Company F to go to Hilo and do all the posing it wishes to, but who is to foot the bill? If the Government, then we say "stop thief!" The Government has no right to expend one dime of the people's money on such an enterprise. Another thing: Are the salaries of the men going to Hilo to be kept up in their absence? Most of them work for the government, under Captain Sam Johnson, and we would like to have a little understanding as to their status before they sail.

In the last issue of Side Lights, the Hilo monthly for publishers and advertisers, is an interesting article on Iao Valley or the Yosemite of Hawaii, from the pen of James N K Keola. The article is well written and is a beautiful pen picture of that loveliest of valleys, full of historic interest, legendary lore and one of the grandest scenic sights to be seen in these Islands. But the use of Hawaiian words and names are so befuddled, through bad proofreading, that even a native Hawaiian can not make out what is intended to be conveyed, as for instance, "Ua leheia ke lee kapu e ke ipo i Moealoha," which should no doubt have been "Ua loheia ko leo kapu e ko ipo i Moealoha," and translated conveys the meaning used by the writer—"Your sacred voice has been heard by your lover at Lover's dream." Side Lights should be more careful with the use of Hawaiian quotations.

Marine Exchange.

San Francisco, July 31.—Bktne. S N Castle arrived today from Honolulu.

San Francisco, July 31.—Schr. Rosamond arrived today from Honolulu.

Eureka, July 31.—Bktn. Amelia arrived today from Honolulu.

San Francisco, July 31.—The reinsurance on the American ship Helen Brewer, now out 147 days from Sourabaya, Java, for Delaware Breakwater, has dropped from 50 per cent to 35 per cent today.

The Rosamond sailed from Honolulu, July 13; the S N Castle sailed July 8, and the Amelia sailed July 8.

The Nippon Maru will arrive at Honolulu next Thursday afternoon.

Depew's Address.

On July 4, Chauncey M Depew delivered the following address to a Glorious Fourth audience in London:

Mr Chauncey Depew said that five years ago there was no Cabinet in Europe save Great Britain that took reckoning for a moment of what was the internal policy or the external policy of the United States. But in five months from that time, when the United States had become the possessors of Spain's possessions in the Western Hemisphere, and with the Philippines stood at the gate of the Orient, there was no Cabinet which did not want to know what was the policy of the United States. (Cheers.) They 3,000 miles away in the west, but they were planted there to give their friendship and their approval to those who stood with them for that broad view of the necessities of modern, highly civilized countries, which was that, among three quarters of the population of the world who could take their surplus manufactures there should be open ports and the open door, and the United States and Great Britain alone stood for that policy. (Cheers.) Becoming a world power had had a peculiar effect on that lady Miss Columbia. (Laughter.) She was 127 years old, but she was the youngest and most fascinating creature that there was "on this footstool." Nobody cared for her among the Powers five years ago, but now they were all courting her, and it had set her up a little. (Laughter.) It was started by an English Minister stating, in the House of Commons, that, when all Europe seemed likely to unite against them in their Spanish trouble, Great Britain alone said, "No, no union against America, and if union, then Great Britain stands beside the United States." He could tell them that that made Columbia's heart jump. (Laughter and cheer.) Russia said, "We cannot stand this," and so they said through their Ambassador "Did we not send a fleet over during your civil war?" Miss Columbia picked a flower from her bouquet and said "Yes." (Laughter.) And then France said "Did we not help you with our Rochambeaus and our Lafayettes and all that," and Miss Columbia talked with France. (Laughter.) And Germany said, "We cannot stand this;" and so that modern, up-to-date and most enlightened of rulers the Kaiser sent over that fascinating sailor, and Miss Columbia had the time of her life. (Laughter) But when they were all gone she bid me bring to John Bull this message, "I cannot marry you, John, but I will be a sister to you." (Loud laughter and cheers.) Having spoken in appreciative terms of the sympathetic messages sent by Queen Victoria to the widow of President Lincoln and and of President Garfield, and of that which more recently went from "her wise, tactful, and thoughtful son" to the widow of President McKinley, Mr Depew said, in conclusion, that that day the President of the United States had touched a button which had sent a message that had circled the globe. That message, one of triumph, had alighted first in England; it had then gone across the Continent to the English possessions in Asia, Hongkong, on to Manila, to San Francisco, and to New York, and back to the President at Oyster Bay. It had gone round the world, this touch of the President; it had been greeted everywhere in its march, in every clime, by the flag of Great Britain. And that message thus going round the world was typical of the mission round and in the world of the English-speaking people for civilization, for humanity, and for peace. (Cheers)

The CHAIRMAN afterwards proposed "Our Kindred Societies and Our Guests," which was responded to by the ARCHDEAN of LONDON and the HON JAMES BECK [ex-Assistant Attorney-General of the United States.]

All the sugar of the Central Maui plantations is being reserved for the steamer Alaskan which is expected at Kahului on the 23d. She will take an unusually large cargo of sugar direct to New York.

Ancient Hawaii at the Opera House.

The exhibition by the Hawaiian Panorama Company Saturday night at the Hawaiian Opera House was very poorly patronized. It was a good upstairs audience but very poor downstairs. The hulas were better executed this time than formerly exhibited at the Orpheum by the same crowd, but under a different name and management.

But of the tableaux shown, the first one exhibited was too dark in the green garments worn by those who were in it and did not show a realistic display of Hawaiian wearing apparel of the times it was supposed to depict and represent. The last one, that of Goddess Pele and her sisters and cousins in her volcanic home in the Crater of Kilauea was simply grand and realistic, which can be improved upon and will well worth the price. This latter must be seen to be appreciated.

The modernized musical part of the entertainment was as usual in all such entertainments, but we think that there might have been more soul inspiriting music to conform to the class of entertainment.

Kamalo Meeting.

Kamalo stockholders held a meeting Saturday night and made a good start toward straightening out the affairs of the concern. Dr Mouritz was elected manager of the estate to serve without pay. It was decided to mortgage as much of the property as may be necessary to pay its debts.

The officers elected were: G W Burgess, President; L H Dee, Vice-President; David Dayton, Treasurer; A Barnes, Secretary; J Lightfoot, Auditor; Dr Mouritz and J J Sullivan, Directors.

of War, Mr Root. He is at present making a lot of fuss about investigating this glove contract, but he is doing the cuttle-fish act. He is spewing out a lot of stuff that darkens the waters, and no one can see his work. Instead of placing the investigation of this glove contract in the hands of the regular army inspector in charge, and who is thoroughly familiar with it in every detail, he sends for a new man, a Mr Garlington, who knows nothing about the true inwardness of it, and gives him his instructions as to how he is to carry on the investigation and what he is to investigate. He circumscribes and limits his discretion in the matter. He tells him to investigate everything except one, and that one contains the milk in the cocoanut. That is the manner in which the contract is drawn. It is drawn in such a manner as to call for a certain and specific kind of glove, and that kind of glove is made only by the Littauer Brothers, glove manufacturers of New York. Thus, no matter who got the contract from the War Department he would have to go to the Littauer Brothers to have the gloves made and they would reap the profits. Will President Roosevelt please have that phase of the contract investigated? If he does, his "close political and personal friend and adviser" is in danger of wearing stripes. It is up to the President. Let's give him a chance.

WASHINGTON, July 18:

Since the "Iowa idea" has been knocked over the ropes by the republican party and the American Protective Tariff League has won a signal victory for the "standpatters" there has arisen a demand for a sort of tariff revision that stands a good chance to receive respectful attention at the December session of Congress. It is something radically different from the "Iowa idea." It emanates from the Sugar Trust, and is based upon assertions that German "cartel" producers intend to ship enormous quantities of cheap sugar to the United States as soon as the abolition of sugar bounties, recently arranged for at Brussels, goes into effect on September 1. The magnates of the American Sugar Trust pretend that this constitutes a grave danger, and that it is the duty of Congress to pass legislation providing for an extension of the system of countervailing duties. They devoutly believe in the necessity and benefits of countervailing duties, ever since the United States Supreme Court upheld the right of the Government to levy such duties on Russian sugar. The Sugar Trust has presented its demand at the proper psychological moment; that is, just when the republican party is "in the market" for "dignified" campaign contributions. It is a poor Trust that does not know its political opportunity. Considering the fact that the "Iowa idea" is as exceedingly unpopular, and protection along orthodox lines still the supreme fetish in high republican circles, it is not at all improbable that the sugar monopoly's request that something be done in a legislative way to protect it against European competition will readily be complied with. As one of our most promising "infant industries," the Sugar Trust must be given all the protection that it needs, or thinks it needs. Its capitalization is diluted with such a big amount of water that a continuance of fat divedends on preferred and common shares would be made impossible by unrestrained competition. The Trust's grip upon the domestic sugar market must not be loosened. Consumers are prosperous and do not mind a little more "bleeding." And the Trust needs the money, and the republican party needs it still more. The Havemeyer idea of tariff revision should be and probably will be given a rousing reception by the republican majority in Congress. It up-to-date and practicable. The men who conceived it are neither "cranks" nor "doctrinaires." They are just common, every day thieves and that class is just now in fine fettle and stand high in republican circles. T'ell with the people.

Still speaking of the Missouri delegation in the Congress of the United States, it will not do to ignore the Hon Maecenas E Benton of Neosho, "the little giant of the Southwest." Mr Benton belongs to the family of Bentons of Missouri, of which Thomas H Benton was the most distinguished. If he were alive today he would be proud of the modest little gentleman who bears his name with honor and dignity in the national House of Representatives. Mr Benton is a very poor windjammer or hot air merchant. He seldom gets to his feet, but when he does there is some republican who wishes he had kept his seat. He comes about as nigh knowing what he is talking about

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

As Mr Secretary Carter hoisted the flag when Pope Leo XIII. died, we suppose that now, that a new Pope is selected, he will set it at half mast.

It is understood that Sheriff Andrews is already working for election under the County law. His nerve is amazing. He has no more chances of being elected in East Hawaii than a baboon, and goodness knows he should be well aware of it.

In any other place than this the Republicans who have subscribed towards the expenses of the enemy's political organ, in this case the Home Rule paper, and who are keeping Home Rulers in public employment would be promptly read out of the party.—Advertiser.

That's all right; read 'em out. It would probably be the best thing all around.

The Star tries to be funny and speaks of T McCants Stewart as "T McCoon Stewart." We do not regard such slurs as either gentlemanly, fair or good politics. It shows, however, to what depths the Star crowd will descend to get back at a man with whom they disagree.

We object to either a park or a light-house to the memory of McKinley in these Islands The late President was a great man in most respects, but he was a principal actor in the larceny of this country by the annexationists in 1898. The sentiment behind a monument to his memory is shared in only by a small section of this community, while a conspicuous testimonial of the character proposed would be highly offensive to a large majority of the people. There is a military post here named after Mr McKinley. Let the money raised by our annexationist friends be used in beautifying that, an object fully reaching the bounds of propriety and a proper consideration of the feelings of the many whose country was stolen from them through the final act of President McKinley.

Comment on the letter of Colonel Curtis P Iaukea, printed elsewhere, seems hardly necessary. It explains itself. The writer has at last come to know his enemies and his friends, and is frank and fearless in defining his new position. The pity is that certain other Hawaiians do not have a similar awakening and a similar courage.

The Pope-elect of Rome is an old man but is one of great power and stands high in the councils of his church. He is very conservative and it is believed he will follow closely in the foot-steps of his illustrious predecessor. The selection was heard of at the local Catholic Mission this morning with general satisfaction.

As Captain Berger is so fond of docking members of the band for absenting themselves through sickness or otherwise, THE INDEPENDENT would like to know whether he will dock himself for being laid up with a bad lame knee caused by accident, his duties being in the meantime carried on by his assistant. And if so, will he allow the amount of his dockage to go to such an assistant. These are matters that the people may as well know.

If vouchers are to be considered as Legislative archives, we do not see why a large number of other things of equal importance might not to be raked in. Surely the notes that pass back and forth between members during sessions should be included, especially when they relate to bills under consideration. The pictures of the members, and also samples of the bouquets used on the several desks, should be used to show the intellectual appearances of the people's representatives and to illustrate some of their finer tastes. There might also be pictures of reporters, with lanterns and shooting irons, searching anxiously for the vouchers.

IAUKEA'S POSITION.

Tells Why He Left Republicans to Join with Home Rulers.

The following letter from Colonel Curtis P Iaukea was received yesterday afternoon too late for publication. It is cheerfully given space today:

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:

Now that I have seen the error of my ways and like a good penitent stand ready to defend the fair name of Hawaii and her native sons, against the attack of our common enemy, let me implore you and all true Hawaiians to forget the past and as American citizens stand up for our rights.

"Kanakas" indeed! I wonder if some of our malihini politicians know how endearing the term "kanaka" is to a Hawaiian when applied in the sense they are so fond of designating the native sons of the soil. But I had better assign this task to you. Perhaps you can explain its significance in more forcible language than I have at my command. What matters it any way. I don't suppose it would make any difference to those who have about as much regard for a native as a cat for a mouse.

But dear me! How my poor head reels with the anguish. Only a short time ago, it seemed but yesterday, and Mr Isaukea was the nicest fellow you ever saw. In annexation circles, received with open arms. After carrying a strong Home Rule Precinct for the Republicans, offers of office came so fast that it almost staggered one, not knowing which to select. But when Iaukea's name at last reached a republican caucus, why, up went the cry—"Oh! he is opposed to the Executive Council"—and with horror depicted on every countenance, poor Iaukea in annexation circles became the accursed republican; the self-confessed criminal; the knavish rogue; the papaia politician; the Home Ruler; the bigoted fool; the hotel keeper (as if it was a crime to be one); the valet de chambre; and God knows what all.

And what an "unfortunate step" I must have taken, Mr Editor, when in following the dictates of my own conscience, guilty conscience I should have said, I withdrew affiliation with a political party and scattered to the four winds all future hopes of political greatness. Think of what I have sacrificed! (This is news indeed, for to tell you the truth I didn't know there was any political future in this country for any body who affiliated with the party of annexation or who even held office under the P G's and I was one of those.)

Well, it's all over now. It is past recall and I shall have to take my deserts from my late confreres. Sitting in judgment will be those who at one time wouldn't be found dead in a P G's company. The past is all forgotten now. This is America, the land of the free and the brave, where freedom reigns supreme, where centralized government and republican institutions go hand in hand.

But ere I fail, let me, like Cardinal Wolsey, (changing the words to suit this particular case) exclaim: "If I had served my people as well as I had served my party, they would not have left me in my old age naked to my enemies,"! (The italics mine to show where I made the changes to answer my purpose.)

C. P. IAUKEA.

New Pope Elected.

Joseph Sarto, Cardinal of Venice, was today elected Pope to succeed the late Pope Leo XIII. The news arrived here about 8:30 a m, which means that the final ballot was taken at about 4 p m. The bells of the Cathedral were set ringing and kept up for a half hour. In the meanwhile Father Valentin hoisted the American flag and flag of the Pope to the top of their respective masts.

The new Pope is 74 years. He is regarded as a strong man, but was somewhat of a "dark horse" in the race. It is believed his election was a compromise between the friends of rival candidates Pope Sarto will assume his duties at an early date.

HAWAIIAN BAND NOTES.

The Usual Hackneyed Methods Indulged In by the Bandmaster.

Yesterday was pay day in the ranks of the members of the Hawaiian band and the usual complaint against the heartlessness and autocracy of Kappelmeister Berger was wafted abroad and has reached us in all its glamor and vindictiveness, showing that he has no more regard for the Legislature than for a dog, a beast that is beneath him and that he looks down upon it with some show of contempt and derision, although he professes love, which is always at his tongue's end. The salary of the bandsmen and lady vocalists were as passed by the Legislature in the Six Months Salary Appropriation Bill, but when he prepared his pay roll list so the report goes, it was not the same, and when he submitted it to the boys for their signatures, there began a war of words.

The two instrumental soloists, being his assistant, D K Naone, and the cornetist, Chas Kreuter, had their pay designated as passed by the Legislature, but on those of the rest, he began his usual dog in-the-manger policy of clipping here and there, raising some to the full and some slightly, and besides letting many remain as formerly, directly in antagonism to the late law-making body. In the latter class, he had included the vocalists. He did not only stop here, but he again began his former pastime of docking the members.

After the use of much high explosive words, several of the members declining to sign the list, it was finally agreed to let the matter lay over to this morning for arragement and settlement. This morning, he had the matter somewhat amicably settled by letting the matter go over to the next pay day for settlement by making up and including the shortages made this time and, we understand, the members agreed with such an understanding, still with blood in their eyes and vowing future satisfaction, including vengeance and extermination.

It is also understood that in the cases of some, he offered his services to be their banker and bank depositor, but none bit the bait If they know themselves, they would not allow themselves to be so treated as mere imps and little fellows to be used for the accommodation of somebody else for others uses.

One reason for this action of the Captain is because he has a scheme on foot of increasing the membership of the band as well as the vocalists, and as no provision has been made for pay for any such extras, it is claimed he has taken this means of providing for them at the expense of those old in the service. So far, he has not very well succeeded in the attempt.

This has been the usual complaint of the boys to the legislative committees as to their treatment by the bandmaster. None of them, however, are bold enough to come out in the open and expose more of Mr Berger's doings, but sufficient it is that such treatment is only too well known. Anyone coming out openly is surely to meet his reward by summary dismissal, and this is known to have been going on for years. They ought to be more manly and demand their rights, for if they will not do it, who will?

In conclusion, this menial treatment should not be tolerated much longer. This is not Germany nor Russia, but here as American citizens, all are equal. The sooner a halt is called and an account demanded, the better for all those concerned. They have the upper-hand of things, if they should assert themselves, and don't it be forgotten either.

At last night's meeting of the Hilo-Kohala R R Co all the details for beginning work were completed. The only delay will be caused by the inability to get rails turned out promptly in the United States. P Peck believes, however, that traffic will be begun in 1904.

Republicans to Begin.

The county campaign will open in the Fifth District next Friday night at 8 o'clock, with a public meeting at the Detention Camp. K R G Wallace will preside. Prince Cupid has been invited to speak, and addresses will be made by Senator McCandless and Representative Vida, who will discourse upon the work of the legislature; and T McCants Stewart, J C Lane, ex-Senator Winston, Wm Oiepau, ex-Senator Kauuha, C H Clark, and others will make addresses on the county act and our duty as citizens under it. There will be music by volunteer musicians.

as any man in Congress, and is one of the ablest orators in that body. He has had very little opportunity to indulge in pyrotechnic oratory in the House, and indeed he does not care to do so. He knows, as does every one else familiar with the situation, that he is going against the coldest proposition in the world; that he cannot change a vote on the republican side of the chamber and that the democrats who would vote with him any way are either in the cloak rooms telling yarns or else writing letters and will not pay any attention to his remarks. If that is not enough to put a crimp in any man with oratory to unload, what would you call it? Mr Benton did, however, submit a few remarks toward the close of the first session of the 57th Congress that both sides of the House listened to with close attention. He is a member of the Appropriations Committee and he submitted a report of the expenditures of the first session of the republican Congress that made some republican eyes become unnaturally visible. His summary or compilation of the extravagance of that first session proved that the republicans not only were responsible for the first billion-dollar Congress, but then for the first billion-dollar session of a congress, as the appropriations aggregated over a billion dollars. Mr Benton was complimented by having thousands of his reports printed and sent out by the Democratic Congressional Committee as one of its best campaign documents.

Mr Benton is the first man who ever was discharged from office for "pernicious activity" in politics. This occurred in 1886 when he was United States Attorney in Western Missouri under the first Cleveland administration. He was soon reinstated and served in that capacity until 1889. There never was a better democrat on earth than this original "offensive partisan," and his constituents compliment their own intelligence by retaining him in Congress.

THE CHURCH IN TONGA.

Bishop Willis Writes of His New Sphere in His Life's Active Work.

Bishop Willis, formerly of Hawaii, but now of Tonga, has had a circular letter printed in London, England, a copy of which has been received here, and which we have been permitted to make use of. Following is the letter referred to:

NUKUALOFA, TONGA, Jan. 17th, 1903.

MY DEAR FRIENDS,

It was on my way from Honolulu to Nukualofa, more than six months ago, that I wrote my final letter regarding the work of the Anglican Church in the Hawaiian Islands, which on April 1st, 1902, became a Missionary Jurisdiction of the American branch of our communion.

Now, after six months' experience of the work to which I was called, when no longer wanted in Hawaii, I venture for two reasons to put before you a brief sketch of the conditions that have to be met in planting the Anglican Church in the Tongan group of Islands; first, because I doubt not that many who have been interested in promoting the advance of the Anglican Church in the North Pacific will not be less interested in the work of laying foundations in a group of Islands in the South Pacific; and, secondly, because the internal resources—which will, I believe, in time suffice for the maintenance of the Anglican Church in Tonga when once firmly established—are inadequate to meet all the expenses that the beginning of a Mission necessarily entails, of building and printing, as well as maintenance, so that a special fund becomes a necessity.

First of all, it needs to be earnestly impressed upon the Church at home that, east of Fiji, our own branch of the Church provides no ministrations whatever, either for native or settler, throughout the Western Pacific. Yet throughout this vast region British influence is predominant, the commerce is in British hands, and the English language is spoken. Whilst Imperial interests are looked after carefully enough, there has been no corresponding zeal to provide for the spiritual needs of the isles that stud the ocean.

Requests that have been made during the last quarter of a century to the Church at home for the ministrations of an ordained ministry have been pigeon holed and neglected, and it would almost seem as if in some quarters the Western Pacific were regarded as excluded from the great commission to go into all the world.

This being the case, I was not unprepared for the coldness and want of sympathy with which the present humble effort to wipe away this reproach is being viewed in its inception by some who ought to be the first to support it. But I am sure that there are many who will rejoice, and will gladly extend a helping hand to this venture of faith.

In 1897, on my way to the Lambeth Conference, I spent a day in Nukualofa, the capital of the Tongan kingdom, and held a confirmation, those confirmed being British, American, and Hawaiian nationality. Through this circumstance I was not unknown in Tonga, and it was known also that I held a commission from the Bishop of London, under whose jurisdiction all British sub-

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

William Larsen has discovered that fish destroy mosquitoes. Maybe lobsters are also good, and if so the mosquito committee might corral the "close primary" faction of the Republican party to advantage.

It matters nothing to the Home Rulers whether the Republican primaries are open, half open or closed. Little concern is felt in the matter, the majority of the voters already having about as much as they can well attend to in the more important details of their own primaries.

It is refreshing to learn from J W Girvin that "The government at Washington is quite solicitous to hear from us of any wants we may have in which it can use part of the money which it is carrying away from here, monthly, to the distraction of the commerce of the Islands." We must confess that the happenings of the past three years had induced us to think just the opposite.

There is hardly a prominent Hawaiian in the Republican party that has not been dragged out and villified, by the Advertiser and slurs are constantly hurled at the rank and file. If any native Republican has in two months had one good word from the Advertiser, we would like him to stand up. We would like to see him and pinch him to find out whether or not he is really alive. The lesson to Hawaiians should be plain and convincing. They are not wanted in the Republican party. The missionary Republicans would drive them out. Curtis P Iaukea saw that, and had the manhood and bravery to get out. All others should do the same. No good can come of remaining with company that despises them and openly says so.

We do not consider the possession and display of temper a serious weakness in a man. But should he be freakish, the situation is changed. That a man has a temper does not necessarily denote that he is a bad man or that he cannot be trusted; but, by George, we don't know so much about it if he is freaky.

It is a satisfaction to know that the Maile Ilima baseball team will volunteer to leave the League for the season. Good baseball is absolutely demanded by the public, and the Mailes are so far outclassed as to make the games in which they appear uninteresting. The team is composed of excellent players but they are far out of trim. With practice they will likely come back next next year in proper form.

We hope the Builders and Traders Union at the meeting tonight will strongly urge upon Delegate Kubio to work with all his might at Washington for a rule forbidding the employment of other than citizen labor on the Federal improvements at Pearl Harbor. This is a vastly important matter and now is the time to strike. The Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Association might well add their endorsement to the project.

There are parks now in number far out of proportion to the size of this small village. But that is not the point. No park, lighthouse or other conspicuous monument to the late Mr McKinley should be created in these Islands as a Hawaiian institution and maintained with Hawaiian money. Mr McKinley is the man who made the death of Hawaiian independence possible, a fact that cannot be rubbed out and will never be forgotten. If a body of American citizens see well to assist some purely Federal monument here there can be no very serious objection.

The Advertiser is disgusted with the Republican Central Committee. Following the last election the morning paper could not say enough in praise of that committee. It had its brass bands out for days and the good deeds and work of every member of the committee were heralded until the thing became decidedly a chestnut. But, presto, change! Poor old Grandmother now takes turns making faces at her false heroes and sulking in her corner. We bet we could pick a Republican Central Committee that would suit the Advertiser. It would contain the name of L A Thurston thirteen times.

There was something amusing, not on the bills, in the cruise of the tug Fearless, with a party of attorneys on board, in the wake of the Alameda to sea this morning. The trip was made as a compliment to Judge Estee, of course. But John K Sumner was on board, and in case he did not know the object of the demonstration, he must have imagined that the legal sharks were still after him. Whether he imagined that they were merely giving him a send-off or intended following him to Tahiti is not known at this writing but we imagine the old man breathed a gigantic sigh of relief when he saw the tug finally turn back.

Pearl Harbor Plans.

Captain White makes the following statement in regard to improvements at Pearl harbor as recommended by him in his report to Washington:

"Judging from the past I consider it quite likely that the Secretary of the Navy will appoint a board at Washington to draw up general plans for the work to be done. I have sent on my estimates of what in my opinion should be done. These suggestions will be submitted to the board, who in turn will submit their report to Congress, and it will rest with that body as to what action will be taken towards beginning the work here. Heretofore the department would take no action in the matter as our title to the necessary property that was not clear, but with everything satisfactorily settled some action should be taken in the near future. If the plans which I have submitted are followed out over $5,000,000 will be spent in improving our holdings around Pearl Harbor. I have asked for two dry-docks for I think that they will be no more than we shall need and it will be cheaper to build both at once than to build a second later on. The place which I have selected for the dry docks is on the mainland across the channel from the southern end of Ford's Island. One of the dry docks will be 750 feet long and the other 550 feet in length, and the gateway will admit a vessel with a beam of ninety feet. In fact any vessel in the world would be able to enter the docks. Nothing will be put on Ford's Island. The land which we have there was only obtained that we might control the channel. There is a reef which crosses the channel and I shall ask for an appropriation to have this removed, and also to have some dredging done along different parts of the shore line. The ordinance department, according to the plans, will be on Kuahua island. The site for the dry docks is about 4800 feet from the Oahu Railway, and the line of our land crosses the railroad tracks about 1100 feet from Puuloa station.

"We shall have our own system of railroad in the running over the government grounds. No," he said in answer to a question, "as the government does not allow outside parties to use its land the Oahu Railroad will not be allowed to extend its tracks across our territory, save where they already have the right of way and are now running their trains. However they may run a branch line along the Bishop Estate lands just outside, but following the course of our property line. The way has already been surveyed in fact, but what the railway company will do in the matter I do not know."

Baggage Ruls Pau.

Collector of Customs E R Stackable received the following cablegram from Washington yesterday:

Until further notice pending investigation by Department suspend examination of all baggage, or other goods at your port, except such as is actually put ashore.

Company F to Hilo.

Captain Sam Johnson states that his company will pay its own expenses to Hilo, the money being raised among the men by subscription. About $590, all told, will be gotten together in this way. At Hilo exhibition drills will be given to which an admission fee will be charged. On the return trip a stopover will be made at Lahaina, where a drill will be given. While the men are away, Captain Johnson says, their places will be filled by substitutes supplied by themselves.

It is said that Hilo and Lahaina are looking forward with much pleasure to the visit of the crack company.

Sumner to Tahiti.

John K Sumner "folded his tent" this morning and "stole quietly away" to Tahiti. He left in the Alameda and will take the Mariposa at San Francisco directly for his old home in the South Pacific. Wyllie Davis and wife, accompanied him. They will remain sometime in Tahiti.

Mr Sumner got away with less than $30,000 of his cash fortune, although he still has valuable property in Tahiti and some here. He expects to go into the cattle business.

Ha, Ha, Ha!

As an evidence that the County campaign means good government and laurels for the Republican party, the Bulletin announces among the opening speakers at the Kalihi Detention Camp, Representative Vida, J C Lane, T McCants Stewart, Ex-Senator Kanuha, Wm Olepau and C H Clark, par nobile fratrum. Republicans who can cherish any doubt after this of the great advantage the present party management is to the Territory must be dull indeed. jects in the Pacific were supposed to be.

It was on this account that, at the end of 1901, a number of chiefs and others in Nukualofa addressed a letter to me (which I received in January, 1902), praying me to come over and help them. Coming as it did, when my work in Hawaii was drawing to a close, I could not but regard that letter as a direct call to be obeyed without delay.

The movement from which that letter derived its inspiration having been represented as purely political in its origin, arising out of the jilting of Ofa by the King of Tonga, let me say that such a statement has just as much truth in it as the statement that used to be made by shallow people that Henry VIII.'s divorce was the cause of the Reformation. The divorce was a factor in a movement, the springs of which lay far deeper. And here in Tonga, the King's rejection of Ofa served to add strength to a movement which, in itself, was quite independent of it.

THE CHURCH IN TONGA.

Bishop Willis Writes of His New Sphere to His Life's Active Work.

To the Wesleyan body belongs the honour of having introduced Christianity into Tonga, and of having translated the Old and New Testaments (not the Apocrypha) into the Tongan language. But no one would ever learn from reading Holy Scripture in the Tongan version that "from the Apostles" time there have been "these Orders of Ministers in Christ's Church: Bishops, Priests, and Deacons." The belief carefully inculcated in the Tongan mind by their teachers is that the Wesleyan body is the true representative of the Church of Christ from the beginning Having no history, no literature other than the Wesleyan translation of the Bible, the Tongans had no means of arriving at the truth. It is not the policy of Wesleyanism in its missionary work, any more than it was the policy of Rome in the middle ages, to let in too much light.

In 1885 there were internal dissensions among the Wesleyan leaders, which led to the creation of the "Wesleyan Free Church of Tonga," which became the State Church. It was the creature of the State, the term "Free" being adopted to signify that it was free from the control of the Wesleyan Conference in Sydney. But so far from being "free," coercive measures were employed by its author, the Rev. Shirley W Baker, sometime Wesleyan missioner, and at this time Premier of King George Tubou I, and practically King himself, to force the whole nation into it. Many who refused to join were flogged, many were banished to Fiji. Is it surprising that the Tongans should have begun to question whether it could be the true Church of Jesus Christ that was planted amongst them? It would be well for those who to day question the propriety of the Anglican Church entering into Tonga to consider that the "Free Church of Tonga," the largest religious organization in the kingdom, is a religious body having no connection with any other religious body under the sun. The head of it is the Rev Mr Watkin, who was Dr Baker's right-hand man in its formation. There is no other white man among its ministers, so that it is doubtful whether it can long continue beyond the life time of Mr Watkin. In providing for the worship of his Free Church, Dr Baker borrowed largely from the Prayer-book of the Church of England.

It was in January, 1887, when he was at the zenith of his power, that an attempt was made on Dr Baker's life; a son and daughter who were driving with him being severely wounded by the bullets intended for him. They both recovered. For this offence four natives were condemned to death and shot. In 1890, Dr Baker was deported from Tonga by the High Commissioner of the Western Pacific, Sir John Thurston.

Returning to Tonga in 1899, he endeavoured to obtain the appointment of head of the National Church in Tonga. Failing in this he gave out that during his absence in Auckland he had become a clergyman of the Church of England. He commenced holding services at Lifuka in the Haabai group in September, and in Nukualofa in November. In both places he had large congre-

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Surely the first (second) district magistrate is not taking boxing lessons for exercise. We had always put it up that he usually took enough of that in a day to last many men a week.

As the County election is now coming 'round Diamond Head, the Republicans had better open their employment office for the benefit of the voters who were promised jobs last Fall if they would support Prince Kuhio and have not worked since.

It is worthy of note that Republicans who have the honesty of purpose and courage to stand for their principles, and for clean, open and above—board politics—like Curtis P Iaukea and T McCants Stewart—are straightway condemned by the Advertiser, Star and young Birbe.

With the Republican Central Committee faction, the Thurston faction, the "Home Rule" Republican faction, the Stewart faction, the Birbe faction and a dozen other factions to split the G O P, the chances of the Home Rule-Democrats in the County elections seem to be much above par.

An estimable citizen with a large store, a plumbing shop and an extensive plumbing business wants to prevent working men trading at Chinese and Japanese stores. At the same time he admits employing Asiatics in his shop and to build his house. The case brings up the old story of the pot and the kettle again. It seems to us that a man who has gained a conspicuous business standing and comfortable circumstances from the trade of the workingman and other citizens should be the first to lead off in the reforms suggested. There is little difference in trading with a Japanese who employs Japanese, and with a citizen who employs Japanese, save that in the latter case higher prices are usually paid.

Why were some of the contractors who habitually employ Japanese absent from the meeting of the Builders and Traders Union last evening? We'll tell you: They were ashamed and afraid to go there. A sence of guilt and knowledge of wrong-doing kept them in their homes. But the day is close at hand when they will be drawn from their holes and shown up in the proper light.

In the bloodless fight last night between John F Bowler, Representative W W Harris, W E Rowell and others over the employment of Japanese out Moiliili way, every speaker seems to have been laboring under a misapprehension. In his letter to THE INDEPENDENT Representative Wright referred to the large gang of Japanese working on the Waialae road, under a Japanese supervisor, and not to the gang of citizen laborers at work in Kamoiliili.

The proposal of Mr Thomas, one of the settlers at Wahiawa, to forest a section of waste land near the Colony and turn it over to the Government at the end of twenty years, should not be passed lightly. If the land is not more valuable for settlement or other purposes and Mr Thomas intends to forest it free of charge, and without hope of advantage to himself save of establishing a wood supply near the colony for the future, we think the scheme a good one. But if Mr Thomas purposes raising and cutting wood for market he should certainly pay a reasonable rental on the land.

If the local stevedores will stick to their present plan there will soon be no Japanese labor employed on the waterfront. The San Francisco stevedores have sent word that they will co operate with their local fellows and will refuse to touch any vessel at San Francisco that may have been loaded by Japanese here. That action would tie up almost any vessel such as the San Francisco Union is practically master of the situation. If the San Francisco men could be induced to agree not to load a vessel that had been discharged here by Japanese after due and sufficient notice, the thing would be settled.

So Congressman McCleary and other travelers have been frightened away from here by exaggerated and absurd stories about the dengue fever; and armies of tourists have halted inside the Golden Gate, afraid to come on. Who was responsible for these stories? Shortly after the appearance of the ailment last Winter the Advertiser and Star published column after column of sensational matter, calculated to frighten our own people, let alone the tourist who is inherently leary of diseases in the tropics. These papers are to be blamed and condemned for the false impressions that have gone abroad and for any harm that has been done.

"Things are looking dark in Wall street," says a despatch. Several big failures occurred yesterday and the financial situation in the east is far from satisfactory. This is the beginning of the reaction following the prosperity after several years of good crops and the boom incident to the Spanish war. Republican tariff and trust tactics have brought the country down to precisely the situation that obtained in 1892 3. A panic is brewing and it will almost surely come within the next twelve months. Roosevelt and the Republican party will not be able to stay it, for it is the child of their own policies. It all means that the people will again take the reins of government, will elect a Democratic President and Congress, and will restore confidence and prosperity.

To those members of the Hawaiian Band who this morning signed an already prepared document, alleging that the statements made in THE INDEPENDENT in their behalf the other day, are false and entirely untrue, so we are informed and believe, are not the ones we care to make a fight for. We perfectly know and are satisfied that the statements made are absolutely true. But to have such Hawaiians, who lack backbone and sufficient manhood to stand up for themselves, go back on us, knowing that whatever we have stated is true, is to us most despicable, and that, further, they are beneath consideration, especially when they have not the courage to stand forth and oppose the Siberian tactics of a man who has been made too much of in this country and who is playing them for children. As representing the Hawaiian people, we cannot help but make a fight for them, even if they turn against us by making pigmies of us in our attempts for their weal.

Talk About Labor.

At the meeting of the Builders and Traders Exchange, in conjunction with the Federated Trades, last evening there was a good deal of talk—some of which was quite warm—although little was actually accomplished. The employers agreed in a half-hearted way to employ only citizen labor and the unions consented to pass rules encouraging their members to patronize only the stores of citizens. Most of the members expressed themselves as confident that if the agreement were adhered to it would go along way toward fulfilling the purpose aimed at.

Instances of Japanese being employed by different concerns were pointed out. As to stevedoring on the waterfront, a business in which citizen labor has been practically supplanted by Japanese, it was decided to refer to the Merchants Association.

John Emmeluth said he was obliged to employ Japanese on account of losses sustained through union strikes, and was warmly answered by Mr Callahan, of the Plumbers' Union, who declared that the Emmeluth firm had acted in bad faith.

W W Harris was appointed a committee to enquire into the statement of Representative W J Wright that Japanese were being employed on the Waialae road.

L E Pinkham charged that natives were unreliable as stevedores. This brought up a wrangle which resulted in the resolution to the shipping firms requesting them to employ only citizens.

W E Rowell, S Stephenson and J Nott were appointed a committee to request the transfer of the lighthouses to the Light House Board.

E J Tannatt, W W Harris and L E Pinkham were appointed a committee to draft further recommendations to be made to Delegate Kuhio.

Annie Claudine and Mrs Phillips have been sent to the reef for a year by Judge Davis on a charge of vagrancy.

S Keliinoi's bond of $10,000 on the Molokai settlement paiai contract has been decided by the Board of Health to be insufficient and he will be required a new bond. The sureties are W C Achi, C B Wilson and A C Dowsett.

The Attorney General yesterday made recommendation to the Treasurer that he saw no reason why the petitions of the Maui Lodge, No 2, K of P of Lahaina, the Clark Farming Co, Ld, of Wahiawa, Oahu, and the G Schuman Co, Ld, should not be granted incorporation, the latter to amend its articles.

Governor Dole was present at the meeting of the Board of Agriculture yesterday afternoon and made a detailed statement of his trip to Lanai and Hawaii. Considerable discussion in regard to forestry followed, but all matters in connection therewith were deferred until the arrival of Expert Hall from Washington.

Yesterday the Attorney General reported to the Treasurer that he saw no reason why the petition of Rev J Kekipi and others, on behalf of the Ekalesia Hoomana Naauao (the Church of the Religion of Wisdom) should not be granted. But he thinks though that the petition should show a resolution to incor-

HAWAIIAN BAND NOTES.

Members Taken to Task for Certain Exposures Made Herein.

Captain Berger called the members of the band together this morning, ostensibly for practice, but the only matter of business attended to was a dissertation on the notes in THE INDEPENDENT of Tuesday. A copy of this sheet containing an account of his mode of treating the Hawaiian members, (and he says he loves the Hawaiians!) was flounted before the eyes of the assembled musicians.

That was not the only thing done, but portions of the article were continually referred to and finally an already prepared document was placed before them, denying in extenso that there was any truth contained in the article, at the same time putting on a threatening attitude to dismiss anyone who would not sign the same as he wanted them. Fearing dismissal, the leading members began signing it and were readily and meekly followed by the others.

Most of those who gathered at the residence of the Captain signed the document with the exception of one boy, Henry Heanu by name, who was bold enough to refuse to sign the paper, at the same time declaring that whatever was stated in THE INDEPENDENT was correct and true, as far as he was concerned, and to the best of his knowledge and belief. Upon being so assertive, he was then and there promptly dismissed with the statement that his services were not further required. And of course he got the sack and boot, and left.

Be it further said that the Kapellmeister does not care a rap for THE INDEPENDENT, so he stated this morning, because it was a Home Rule sheet and was making the usual tactics of a Home Rule fight. Yet he took particular notice of what was said herein and used it as a means of wreaking Teutonic vengeance upon those under him.

And be it further said that the bandsmen have not been paid as of July 1st last, as provided for by the Legislature, and he has taken upon himself the liberty of not so paying them, but of still paying them under the old scale of pay. Two members of the first class have been let out, because they would not accept to take less pay. One of these, it is understood, was offered $50 a month, although $80 should have been his pay, but because he refused to remain as a first class member although willing to go a step lower and accept his former usual pay, he was told to take his choice, and he went out flying.

We are not yet certain whether [illegible]aptain has become a banker or a bank depositor for and on behalf of the lady vocalists and other members who might want his services in that line. But it would be well for them to keep shy of such a proposition. They had better look out for themselves, for otherwise, who will? More is yet to turn up.

Kamaaina Dies.

Mrs Henry Vierra, wife of H Vierra, Sr., and mother of eleven sons and daughters, died at the family residence in Kukui Lane at 6:45 last evening of heart failure, aged 65 years. Deceased came here in the early sixties and has resided in the Islands ever since.

The funeral will take from the late residence at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

nations of natives. Hoping to obtain Episcopal recognition, he entered into correspondence with me at Honolulu. My reply did not give him the satisfaction he desired, and our correspondence dropped. His letters showed how ready the people were to welcome the Church of England. It had been said to me in 1897 by an old resident of Nukualofa, that the religious future of Tonga must be either the Church of England or the Salvation Army drum. The following that Dr Baker had obtained gave hopes of what might be done under proper leadership. Dr Baker's career as a clergyman of the Church of England was destined to be of short duration. In the autumn of 1901 a marriage of a British subject, solemnized by him according to the rites of the Church of England, was declared invalid by the British Consul, the officiant not being registered in the High Commissioner's Court. This opened the eyes of the natives, and finding they had been imposed upon, they withdrew from Dr Baker almost to a man, and both in Nukualofa and Lifuka found fresh places in which to carry on their worship.

THE CHURCH IN TONGA.

Bishop Willis Writes of His New Sphere in His Life's Active Work.

It was under these circumstances that, in December, 1901, the appeal to which I have already referred was made to me to come over and help them. Their reply to the advice tendered to them to return to the [illegible] Church was that they would [illegible]er do so; they would carry on service as best they could in the hope that the Anglican Church would [illegible] them out. To obtain a true estimate of this resolve, let it be considered that other courses were open to them. The Roman Church has a strong organization in the Islands, and the sect of the Seventh-day Adventists was on the ground ready to receive them.

I arrived, with Mrs Willis, at Nukualofa on Saturday, June 21st, and on the following morning found a congregation of nearly 100 persons assembled in a corrugated iron shed, built for making gnatu, the native cloth, large bales of which were stored on the beams. The building was neither lined, ceiled, nor floored, except with native mats. There was a large table at one end, at which the officiant stood. Except for his surplice, there were no outward signs to indicate that the worship would be conducted according to the order of the Church of England. But the manner in which the Morning Prayer was conducted was surprising. At the proper time the whole congregation knelt upon their knees; the responses and canticles were known by heart, so that, although there was a paucity of books, this circumstance did not diminish the volume of sound. All the choral portions of the service were sung, Miss Bird having been very diligent in teaching chants for the Venite, Te Deum, and other canticles. The Tongans are a very musical people; they have a simple Tonic-sol-fa system of their own, a system of figures into which they transpose our notation. The music in this form is written on a blackboard, and quickly learnt by the whole congregation.

By the second Sunday I had an altar constructed and set on a raised platform, on which I also placed my chair which I had brought from my chapel at Iolani (no longer needed), together with altar coverings, cross, and candlesticks. An ecclesiastical appearance was thus given to the gnatu shed.

I was fortunate in having a young chief who could speak English very fairly as interpreter, so that I was able to make it clear at once that none could be considered members of the Anglican branch of the Church until, after making the required promises, they had been duly received into the Church and signed with the sign of the Cross; after which they would require, in due course, to be confirmed, and be admitted to the Holy Communion.

It was not only in Nukualofa, but in Vavau and Haabai also, my coming had been watched for, and at both of these ports, when it was learnt that I was on board, representatives of the congregations in these places took passage by the steamer to meet me in Nukualofa.

My first work before the steamer returned from Auckland for the ports above-mentioned was to receive into the Church and confirm those to whom I intended to give authority to act as Lay-readers.

ROAD EXTENSION WORK.

At the meeting of the Builders and Traders Union night before last, John F Bowler and W E Rowell denied the statement made by Representative W W Harris that Japs were employed on the Kamoiliili road. In our opinion, Mr Harris might have said the Kamoiliili-Palolo-Kaimuki-Waialae extension, for which the recent Legislature appropriated $13,000 as an emergency fund. We think those who denied the accusation did not themselves know what they were denying and that Mr Harris was nearer the truth than were the others, thereby practically substantiating Representative W J Wright in a published statement in THE INDEPENDENT of July 24th last. Within a fortnight we personally visited the Kaimuki suburb twice and of course had to go over the said road now receiving attention by the Government for the express purpose of assisting the Rapid Transit Co. in extending its line of tracks out that way towards the Waialae hill, and in both instances we saw Japanese employed on the work. The first time we saw nothing but Japs, and the second time, a week ago this morning, we saw a gang in which were three or four Hawaiians with pickaxes and shovels working on the road, some of whom we personally know. We were told that Hawaiians were employed further up the hill, but we failed to see any at our second visit, only Japs, and thereby we have to substantiate both Mr Wright and Mr Harris. But on the concrete work over the two gulches at the Kamoiliili bridge, we saw none but citizen laborers employed, Hawaiians and Portuguese together.

WHICH UNION IS IT?

And following in the wake of the meeting the other night of the Builders and Traders Union, we will again express our hope that it will strongly urge the necessity of employing only citizen labor on the proposed Federal improvements at Pearl Harbor. But may we ask whether this is the same Union upon which there is a current yarn going the rounds, which is somewhat in the following strain:

A certain business man was having a house built as a residence and the work was given out to a contractor who employed Asiatic mechanics and laborers. The Union called a meeting and invited the business man to attend, and he was thereupon taken strongly to task for employing Asiatics on his building, and he, of course, naturally replied that that was none of his business as long as the work was done satisfactorily, but that the responsibility laid with the contractor (white), who in turn employed his own helpers. When they were through with him, on going outside in the hallway, he examined the hats of those who had taken him to task, many wearing straw hats, and found, to his surprise and utter disgust, that most of them were wearing straw hats bearing a Japanese imprint on the inside. It was then his turn to take his judges to task for wearing Asiatic made hats, and none replied nay, for they were caught in their own petard and in the meshes they had intended to strangle the other.

What we want particularly to know is, whether it is the same Union who thus got caught in the meshes of it own nets, or is it another union altogether? If not a union, is it then the Builders and Traders Exchange? Which was it, pray? Probably either the Union or the Exchange is the one and the same organization. Is it?

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

"WANTED

"A lawyer who can draw a lease and prosecute an ejectment suit in court. Japanese preferred."

WANTED.

A MAN who understands horses and driving and can milk a cow. Japanese preferred.

E B McCLANAHAN;
Room 303 Judd Building.

The above appear in the Advertiser this morning and is believed to be genuine. It is given additional publicity for the reason that we believe it is the first time in five years that a man dependent upon citizens for his business prosperity has included the words "Japanese preferred" in his advertisement for a servant.

Because a newspaper takes up the fight of anyone, is that any reason why that paper is an organ for such a one? This don't seem logical to our conception and conclusion, which we deem eminently unfair and unjust, but the Advertiser seems to see it in another light. Then, in such case, the Advertiser may be and is the organ of many in the interest of a few who now control power and pap, to the advantage of its selfish clique and the disadvantage of the masses. So, tra-la; Too-too!

THE INDEPENDENT was never formerly nor has since been the organ of Bishop Willis, once of this Diocese but now of Tonga, because it was never owned nor controlled by him. THE INDEPENDENT took up the cudgel in his behalf, because it was a duty due him from us, a debt of gratitude that we can ill afford to repay him an hundred-fold. But in that, we are not ashamed to be known as taking up the fight of anyone we know to be in the right, and moreover, for one just and fearless to fight for what he deems to be right and just towards an oppressed people and against their oppressors and the transgressors of their country.

It is understood that Captain Berger, the Czar of the Hawaiian Band, yesterday told his musical aggregation and puppets that THE INDEPENDENT was a "bum newspaper" being in the Home Rule interest, and wanted to know why anyone who had a complaint to make did not do so through the columns of our more ponderous contemporaries. At the same time, he frightened the boys into signing a document exculpating him and his methods with expulsion from the service if they failed to do as he wanted them to, and that, succeeding so well in his czarish attitude, he feels perfectly satisfied to remain as the Czar in disguise under Governmental patronage that he cares not a jot nor a tittle for what others have to say regarding him and his usual practices of docking and belittling those whom he holds under the sway of his thumb, and yet he frequently says he loves the kanaka, an expression he always at his tongue's end. Being "bum," as he calls it, yet he took particular attention to notice what THE INDEPENDENT said of him by rounding the boys and cowering them into a corner to do just what he wanted them to do to save his neck. Yet we are not done with him and will follow him up at every corner and stage of the trick and game.

The late Mrs Vieira was one of several Portuguese women who came to this country about 1865 6 to cast their lot with their future husbands, men of their own race and country, and the writer has a faint recollection of seeing them on their arrival, he then being a small tot, and who knows her and her respected, now bereaved, husband and their family intimately, being neighbors together. She was a good wife, a good mother, a friend to those in need, a comforter to those in sorrow and a good angel among those who require help, assistance and the kindly ministrations of a good, kind and generous nurse, whenever she met the writer in her later years she always showed pleasure and always received recognition from her, who looked upon her also as a mother and a firm friend. Among those who came here together with her, only three remain with the living, and they are Mrs Anna dos Audos Perry, Mrs Seabury and a Mrs Silva, well known as Marie Clara. All the others are gone and the few remaining are yet to go, as all the old landmarks have to make way for the new and the changes that have come about in the years that have now since passed beyond recall.

Card of Thanks.

Henry Vieira, Sr and family extend their heartfelt thanks to all their kind friends who sympathized with and extended friendly courtesies during their late sad bereavement.

A HOME COMPANY!!!

Juvenile Drei[illegible] eleven years old, died of appendicitis. She had been ailing for two weeks, but left Honolulu a week ago apparently in good health [illegible] way to the Coast, accompanied by her sister, fifteen years old, for the purpose of attending Notre Dame College at San Jose. Three or four days ago the girl was attacked with an aggravated case of appendicitis, and despite all the efforts of Dr Clark, ship's surgeon she sank rapidly and passed away Sunday night. Her death cast a gloom over all the other passengers, whose sympathy was extended to the sorrowing sister of the deceased. She was a daughter of August Dreier, a well known planter of the Hawaiian islands. The body was brought to port and will probably be embalmed and sent back to Honolulu

The Last Sad Rites.

The funeral of the late Mrs Henry Vieira, which took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence in Kukui Place to the Roman Catholic Cathedral, where the solemn service for the dead was held, was very largely attended, interment being at the Catholic cemetery. The floral tokens were profuse and very beautiful. The pallbearers were T R Lucas, M A Peixoto, J M Camara, J F Eckardt, M T Marshall and J G Silva.

"Pay, Pay, Pay."

The invitation to the reception to Bishop Restarick at St Clement's Parish hall tomorrow afternoon contains the following somewhat unique appeal for money:

August 8 is the anniversary of the arrival of Bishop Restarick in Honolulu. The ladies of the Woman's Auxiliary desire to mark the day by a gathering of church people and their friends.

The Committee in charge of arrangements has had placed at its disposal St Clement's Parish house and grounds. There will be a meeting in St Clement's Parish hall at 3:30 p m, at which addresses will be made with the hope of arousing interest in missions and imparting some information as to what the American church is doing.

The Woman's Auxiliary, representing all the Diocesan branches, makes, at each Triennial general convention, a united offering for missions. There is on each occasion some special object in view. In 1901 the offering amounted to over $107,000. In 1904 the offering is to be used for the training of women workers and their support in the mission field. We in Hawaii want to have our share in this. Here, as all over the United States, the ladies of the Woman's Auxiliary have mite boxes for this object. These are opened annually. Those who have boxes are requested to put the contents in the inclosed envelope that it may be placed in the collection which will be taken up. For all others it is suggested that each one shall give a sum equal at least to the number of years which he has lived. The whole collection will go to the united offering of 1904.

After the meeting an opportunity will be given for social enjoyment on the lawn. Refreshments will be served and music rendered by the Territorial band.

It is hoped that church people generally and their friends will attend.

St Clement's Reception.

Following is the program for the reception at St Clement's tomorrow to Bishop Restarick:

Services are also held in Foa, an island adjoining Lifuka in the Haabai group, and in Mua in Tongatabu. For these two stations Readers are not yet licensed. In each of these six stations I have received every member of the congregation into the Church, and have held confirmations in Nukualofa and Labe. The newly-confirmed in Nukualofa made their First Communion on Christmas day.

But it must not be supposed that the work is not meeting with opposition. On the contrary, a very strong effort has been made, and still continues, to prevent the Anglican Church from taking root in Tonga. Whilst on the one hand this antagonism is putting to the test the sincerity and earnestness of those who invited me here, on the other it deters many from joining us who would otherwise do so.

THE CHURCH IN TONGA.

Bishop Willis Writes of His New Sphere in His Life's Active Work.

The King and his Prime Minister are determined not to grant any sites to the Church of England. Land cannot be bought in Tonga, nor can a native lease his allotment to a foreigner. But the laws of Tonga, which secure on paper full religious liberty to the people, enact that any religious body having thirty adult member in any township is entitled to a piece of land from the Government on which to build its place of worship. Further, under the favoured nation clause of the treaty with Great Britain, I am entitled to all the Concessions that have been made to the French bishop as a citizen of the French Republic. The Tongan Government however has, apparently, no sense of the obligation of law and treaties. In reply to my request for a suitable site, the offer was made me of a piece of land outside the town, in the bush! This kind of dealing is thought very clever by the foolish King and his Premier. It is all of a piece with their actions in other matters. A request from the British residents for a site on which to erect a Queen Victoria Memorial Hall has been treated in precisely the same way. It is sad to see this last independent Kingdom in the Pacific bringing upon itself the inevitable end through the contempt on the part of the King and his Premier for the first principles of good government.

Other measures that have been adopted to throw obstacles in my path are petty in the extreme. When I visited Vavau it was arranged that I should be entertained by the Postmaster, an Englishman whom I had known in the Hawaiian Islands. The Tongan Government furnishes him with a house as part of his salary. The steamer arrived there shortly after midnight. At 2 a. m., whilst busy with his mail, the Governor of Vavau came to him with a message from the King. "Tell Mr R—— to remember that the house he is in is not his own," which, put into plain English, meant "If you entertain the Bishop, expect to be dismissed from the Post-office." So I found lodgings elsewhere.

In the same spirit His Majesty has endeavoured to deprive me of my interpreter. The young chief of whom I have spoken, who was so useful to me when I arrived, is the heir to considerable property. He has been indirectly warned that unless he keeps away from me the inheritance will pass to a younger brother. Under the constitution the King has no such power, as far as I can learn. But that is nothing. Natives have no redress if wronged by the unconstitutional proceedings of the King. Spies are employed to report if he comes near me, or attends church. This is the religious liberty secured by the constitution

Happily, I have made such progress with the language that this device has not caused me much inconvenience. All I require now is to get my translations read over by a good Tongan scholar before sending them to Auckland to be printed. A fortnight ago I sent off the Communion Office, and by next mail the Collects will follow. I found Dr Baker's translations complete, and requiring careful revision. In the Nicene Creed there was the equivalent of "homoiousios," instead of "homoousios." So incapable are the

THE OMAOPIO LANDS.

Last Monday's Bulletin gave out the information that there was a demand for the Omaopio lands in Kula, Maui, owned by the Government, comprising over 2,000 acres of pasturage, a certain proportion of which is arable and would made good homestead holdings. It also threw out the information that "there is an attempt now being made on the part of one Honolulu and one Maui man to exchange these lands for other lands in Kalihi needed by the Government for road purposes," but the public is left in doubt to guess who these men are.

This land matter has been on the tapis for some time back and it was nothing new as far as we are concerned. It was being talked of before the Legislature finally adjourned and it was this that made the fight on inserting the survey of the proposed extension of School street. The two men interested are legislators, a Senator and a Representative, the former being W C Achi and the latter S Keliinoi.

We happen to know that they were strenuous in that School street extension fight, and at the time it was said that they were scheming not to have the survey inserted as a part of the Loan Appropriation bill providing the means for such an extension, so that they might be enabled to buy up the lands in a route they would map out, if they cou'd get the Government to see it their way; and then, in the meantime, use their purchases as a quid pro quo for controlling the Omaopio lands in which they saw their chance of becoming future landed monarchs. And we understand they are not the only ones after those lands, but that there are many others, and one of these has, so 'tis said, already offered another tract of land wanted by a branch of the Government for those lands in the Kula district of Maui.

The Kona land transaction of the Senator is still fresh in our minds, which occurred prior to and since the last campaign and the coming together of the Legislature, in which he became possessed of valuable lands of narrow strips on streets he opened on his holdings for their betterment and for his own advantage. And now this is another one of practically the same kind of dealings. We are watching what the outcome will be, for it is also hinted that certain officials are in the deal. Wait and we shall probably see, if not previously hindered by exposure.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

John D Holt announces his candidacy for nomination on the Home Rule-Democratic ticket for the office of County Assessor. Mr Holt is fully competent and is popular, and it is believed he will be a winner.

The Republican meeting at Kalihi camp last night was an encouraging object lesson. If the faction of the G O P holding it—the faction that controls a majority of the party's votes—could not, in one of their strongholds, get even a fair audience nor arouse enthusiasm—well, something must be awry. It is safe to say that the "close corporation" faction of the party would do even less. The result of last night's meeting should be encouraging to the people.

Next Congress will have before it a bill providing for the admission of a limited number of Chinese into Hawaii for plantation labor purposes. The framers of the bill declare that it will escape constitutional snags, and they believe it will become law. Our sympathies are with the proposition, but we fear the measure will have an extremely hard road to travel. The American mind is so set against Chinese immigration that only the most convincing details and powerful argument could change it.

In appointing citizens of other States, most of whom have never seen this country, to represent Hawaii in the Trans-Mississippi Congress, Governor Dole made a singular move. There are at any given time a number of capable Hawaiians travelling on the mainland who would have prized this honor, and numerous others here who would gladly have dated their foreign tours to fit the session of the Congress. The truth of the matter is that Secretary Carter has discharged obligations to a few of his friends in Seattle made at the time he was "banker" and "promoter" there.

The attention of Hawaiian voters of the Fifth District is called to the opposition of the Advertiser and the Republicans on their side of the island to the maintenance of Kalihi camp. The camp is occupied by a large number of poor people who were rendered homeless by the plague fires. In the last election most voted the Republican ticket and are now Republicans But the Advertiser and its crowd, whose hatred for the "dimmed kanaka" is at boiling point and seldom fails of expression, would now drive these people out into the streets. There is your gratitude—there your love for the Hawaiians, as taunted by the missionaries! Hawaiians, what are you going to do about it? It is the plain duty of the natives to stand together for the homes of those poor people at Kalihi camp and to repudiate at the polls the party that now advocates closing it.

A National Guard officer, by way of apology, states that if the armory is allowed to go on the Palace grounds, at the corner of Hotel and Likelike streets, the bungalow will be removed, clearing the town side of the grounds of buildings. That does not meet nor satisfy the case. What is demanded is that the Palace grounds be divested of every building—P G kitchen, bungalow, beer—bottle warehouse and everything else—save only the Palace itself, nestled alone in its park of tropical verdure and grandeur. Any building, no matter how fine or how costly, would mar the beauty of the Palace grounds and despoil the excellent scheme as originally laid out. Cut out the old kitchen and the bungalow, and supplant them with palms and other beautiful trees.

The Board of Health has refused to accept the sureties on the bond of Representatives Keliinoi and Pali with regard to the paisi contract for the Leper Settlement, and now they are looking for other sureties. We learn that they shipped their first lot of paisi this week on an agreed commission with the taro planters of ten cents for each bundle of 25lbs at 80 cents. The contractors have not much taro growing, but when the contract was awarded them, they looked upon the Molokai growers to furnish them with paisi, asking 15 cents a bundle. On being refused to make such an easy living, 10 cents was finally agreed upon, so we understand, which is an exorbitant commission of 12½ on the gross, with nothing to lose and everything to gain.

Women in Business

Business men often express the opinion that there is one thing which will prevent women from completely filling man's place in the business world—they can't be depended upon because they are sick too often. It is true that many women are compelled to look forward to times when they are unable to attend to social or business duties. Their appearance plainly indicates their condition and they are reluctant to be seen, even by their friends. Read what a business woman says to such sufferers:

Mrs. C. W. Mansfield, 55 Farrar Street, Detroit, Mich., says:—"A complication of female ailments kept me awake nights and wore me out. I could get no relief from medicine and hope was slipping away from me. A young lady in my employ gave me a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I took them and was able to rest at night for the first time in months. I bought more and they cured me; they also cured several other people to my knowledge. I think that if you should ask any of the druggists of Detroit, who are the best buyers of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills they would say the many young women. These pills certainly build up the nervous system and many a young woman owes her life to them.

"As a business woman I am pleased to recommend them as they did more for me than any physician and I can give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People credit for my general good health to-day."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are for sale by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N.Y. Our new book, PLAIN TALKS TO WOMEN, sent free to any address on request.

Captain Rodman will hold an examination here for a ship's carpenter. Candidates must be between 21 and 30 years of age. The salary begins at $1,200 a year and increases gradually to $1,960.

Republican Delegates.

In reply to a letter of C R Buckland to Chairman Hanna of the Republican National Committee, asking as to how many delegates Hawaii should send to the National Convention, the secretary of the committee replied as follows:

"The Senator is away on his summer vacation and will reply upon his return, which I fear may be too late for your purpose. I think, however, that I can tell you about what he would say. The number of delegates from Hawaii to the next National Convention will not be fixed until the National Committee meets and issues a call for the Convention. This would be next December or January. I do not believe, however, that there will be any change in the apportionment of the last Convention. Of course, no one can tell positively, as the subject will undoubtedly be one for discussion when the Committee meets."

Meeting Was a Frost.

The Republican meeting at Kalihi camp last night turned out to be very much of a frost. There was little enthusiasm, even Delegate Kuhio receiving but slight applause The audience was small and by only the greatest effort was it prevented from disappearing altogether long before the hour of adjournment. Several speeches were made, but really very little was said and the meeting must be put down as a failure.

K R G Wallace presided and made the opening address. He spoke earnestly in favor of the party and urged the people at the camp to stand by Republican principles. Other speakers were T McCants Stewart, John C Lane, Wm Olepau, Wm Aylett and Jonah Kumalae. Prince Kuhio arrived late and made only a few remarks. He declared his unfailing allegiance to the Republican party and concluded by inviting those present to submit to him their wishes in regard to legislation at Washington. John Hapa closed the meeting with an address to almost an empty neighborhood.

To Represent Hawaii.

Governor Dole has appointed the following to represent Hawaii in the Trans-Mississippi Congress which will meet at Seattle on August 18:

E W Andrews, of Seattle National Bank.

Hermann Chapin, of Boston National Bank, Seattle.

Rev W C Merritt, of Spokane, Wash.

W A Peters, attorney at law, Seattle.

Herbert S Griggs, of Tacoma, Wash.

Captain Dublois Penhallow.

Harold Preston, attorney-at law, Seattle.

Concert at Castles.

About a thousand people gathered on the lawn of the J B Castle residence in Waikiki last evening to enjoy the concert of the Symphony Club. The audience had seats on the spacious lawn and the orchestra played on the verands. All of the numbers were rendered in fine style and were thoroughly appreciated.

The Sheridan.

The transport Sheridan carries 350 soldiers and her cabins are all filled with passengers. She has 400 bags of mail, 300 tons of baggage and 4,000 tons of supplies for Honolulu and the Philippines. Besides, she carries $2,000,000 in cash, a half being in the new Filipino silver and the balance in gold.

"In Sheep's Clothing" will be repeated by the Lyceum Stock Company at the Orpheum this evening.

A bill is being prepared here providing for the admission of a limited number of Chinese for plantation purposes, and will be presented to Congress by Delegate Kuhio. The expenses are being advanced by leading Chinese merchants.

The Church in Tonga.

sects of teaching the nations the true faith of the Church.

This brief sketch, which I must now bring to a close, will, I trust, make it clear to all who read it that a work has been begun which the opposition it meets with only serves to strengthen. If it were not that many are for the present deterred from joining, the movement might have been uncontrollable, and there would have been danger of many features brought in from Wesleyanism in its Pacific development becoming stamped on the infant Church before its members could be instructed in a better way. As it is, opportunity is given for the leaders to become acquainted with the system of the Church, and for myself to get hold of the language, and complete translations of the services for the press.

At the same time it will be evident that the opposition increases the strain on finances, as well as on patience, so that, as I stated at the beginning, I need some help in holding the position, and carrying out what is required. A special fund of £400, or even £300, a year would go far in enabling me to meet all necessary expenses, and to obtain the much-needed help of clergy. Two Priests have written to me offering their services, one from New Zealand, the other from the United States.

Civilized Already.

Fired with zeal the missionary sought to bestow upon the heathen people the true civilization.

"But we are already civilized," insisted the heathen.

"How can that be?" queried the missionary.

Beckoning him to follow, one of the heathens guided the missionary to a fire-scarred tree on the edge of the deep forest.

"That," said the heathen leader, "is convincing proof that we are already civilized."

But the missionary was nonplussed and asked for an explanation.

"That's where we burned a man to death the other day," said the guide. "Tomorrow we meet in the grove to complete a deal whereby we sell our children to a mab who is going to make things, and already we have benevolently assimilated a weaker tribe to the north and make them pay tribute to us."

Realizing that he was indeed too late, the missionary departed for the coast.—The Commoner.

THE CHURCH IN TONGA.

Bishop Willis Writes of His New Sphere in His Life's Active Work.

To any who raise the question of jurisdiction, the answer is very simple. It is one of the first principles of Church extension that the responsibility for gathering into the Church fold those nations that are scattered outside of any settled diocese lies upon the Bishop of the diocese to which they are contiguous. On this principle, the responsibility for gathering the peoples of the Western Pacific into the Church has rested for these many years upon the Church in New Zealand. But the opportunity for discharging it has hitherto been withheld. The affiliation of the See of Honolulu to the American branch of our communion having set free a Bishop, consecrated for work in the Pacific, at the time when a call came to him from Tonga, it would have been a neglect of opportunity had not the Acting-Primate of New Zealand given his full authorisation to that Bishop's acceptance of the call. In so doing, he was acting in accordance with the wish of the late Primate, one of whose last actions was to dictate a letter to me expressing his gratification that I had come to Tonga. A year before, the New Zealand Guardian had expressed the hope, with regard to Tonga, that "Some Bishop or Priest would exercise the rights of the universal character of the episcopate or priesthood, and do something, rather than see an opportunity go by for doing that work for which God has raised up England's Church, to which the Primate of All England has lately made public reference." The Acting-Primate's authorisation is printed below.

I remain, affectionately yours,
ALFRED WILLIS,
Missionary Bishop in Tonga.

P.S.—Jan. 20th, 1903. The first contribution of $100 towards a "Tongan Special Fund," received today from Dr C G Campbell, of New York, is hereby gratefully acknowledge.—A. W.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Whereas, the Right Reverend A F WINNINGTON INGRAM, Lord Bishop of London, has resigned into the hands of the Primate of New Zealand all claim to ecclesiastical authority in the Islands of the Pacific Ocean, from whatever source derived, and whereas according to ancient and well recognised principles of the Catholic Church the responsibility for the spiritual condition of a people not yet brought into the unity of the faith lies with the nearest duly constituted Province of the Church, which in the present case is the Province of New Zealand, and whereas the Right Reverend Dr ALFRED WILLIS, lately Bishop of Honolulu, has accepted the call addressed to him by certain inhabitants of the islands forming the Kingdom of Tonga, and also appealed to the late Primate of New Zealand for such recognition and support as may under the circumstances be rightly given; and FURTHER WHEREAS the Most Reverend the late Primate prior to his decease both addressed to Bishop Willis a brotherly letter expressive of good wishes for his success, and also wrote to us as Senior Bishop commending the whole matter to our care, and since that time the aforesaid Primate has departed these

OUR BISHOP OF TONGA.

We conclude in this issue Bishop Willis'very interesting circular letter on the Tongan mission, in which the Advertiser has found cause to reproduce for the sole purpose of abusing and villifying that "grand old man" in his efforts in this country as well as in his endeavors to oppose the wrong in favor of the right by espousing the cause of the weak as against the strong and mighty. In thus concluding this letter, the authorisation for the Bishop to carry on the Church's work in those far-away Islands in this broad Pacific Ocean is given in full, signed by the Acting Primate of New Zealand, which was referred to by THE INDEPENDENT about a fortnight ago (July 25) and which was quoted by the morning paper two morning's after by prefacing the quotation with the words: "THE INDEPENDENT gives this bit of news" and then followed the news: "A report is abroad that Bishop Willis of revered memory, now of Tonga, has been recognized by the Acting Primate of New Zealand." Now, here is the authority substantiating THE INDEPENDENT for making the statement then, which was no doubt a "bit of news" to the Bishop's defamers.

Our readers will see it for themselves that this authority granted Bishop Willis' was made nearly a year ago the 22nd of this month. It may have been prior to this time or may be since then that the Star, followed by the Advertiser, ever always hounding the footsteps of that "good and just man of God," published certain statements that he had been refused authority to work in Tonga under the Church in New Zealand, because of interference with the work of the Wesleyan Mission in that sphere under the jurisdiction of the London Missionary Society and both made much noise from it, but since it is to be noted that the then apparent opposition to the worthy Bishop has come to nought. We do not deny the statements then made, but we have this to say that the opposition was made by the Bishop of Auckland, a man much Bishop Willis' junior in point of consecration, although the then Primate was favorably disposed to grant the desired dispensation.

But we now see that since such opposition, the matter has been finally and amicably settled once and for good and for all time to come on the side of fairness and of justice. Bishop Willis' enemies here have lost a good opportunity of having ammunition to further fling at him and the Morning Glory is now only trying to make capital (a very poor satisfaction and justification) out of the circular letter which has been "running serially" in THE INDEPENDENT and concluded in this issue.

There has been much complaint in some of the papers because hundreds of white mechanics who worked here during the boom had to leave for lack of further employment. Among those who mourn and refuse to be comforted are the machine politicians. Three years ago the white mechanics from the Coast went into the primaries to "down the missionaries" and such of them as had qualified to vote cast their ballots against the vital interests of their employers. They were relied upon to make the machine all-powerful. I noticed, after the campaign that a good many white mechanics found the employing class hostile and I did not wonder. But politics wasn't the only reason.—Advertiser.

Mrs Thomascat makes her debut from the jute meshes at last. In the above the Advertiser confesses that the mechanics were frozen out of the Islands because most of them voted against the Missionaries. Small farmers and other contemplating a residence in Hawaii may well draw a lesson from this example. They may vote with the missionaries and live; but if they oppose them, they will be starved out and forced to go.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The letter from Bishop Willis, running serially in THE INDEPENDENT, is not a personal one to Mr Testa, as the Advertiser would have it believed, but is a circular communication to members of his communion and friends generally.

The fact that the Maui News also claims credit for the small farmer agitation is a satisfaction. It will relieve our Morning Grandma of a part of the swatting and cuss words she will become entitled to when the small famers go broke, you see.

The proposed Citizens Party, with Birbe as the sole citizen and the Advertiser as its main support, has failed to materialize. What's the matter with the Fifth District? Birbe once claimed that he had the Fifth in his pocket and could do as he pleased with it, but how now? Pela paha?

The Advertiser's consignment of Kamehameha the Great to hell may excite its own risibles, but it will only meet with the contempt it deserves at the hands of the native Hawaiians. It is notorious that citizens of the Fifth District who have stood out for clean politics and are now struggling for the people's voice and the people's rights, are being singled out, maligned, hounded and lied about by the morning paper.

J H Schnack, a real estate broker and owner of tenement lodgings in this city, sees that he cannot "snatch" any more out of the poor lodgers who used to rent rooms from him, and now objects to the maintenance of the Kalihi Detention Camp as a place for housing the many poor people rendered homeless by the plague fires of 1900 and to its continuance for renting purposes.

If the members of the Hawaiian Band kno themselves and their business, they will not submit too easily to Captain Berger's autocratic capers. He has no more right to fire any of them out of service than the man in the moon without just cause. As they are now enlisted under the military organization, and in order to put them out of the service, a formal complaint must be lodged against them and they must submit to be court-martialed. The boys can do the same to Mr Berger by also lodging a complaint against him. We think that if those members, classified as they have been by him and who were not fully paid according to legislative enactment, at the last pay day, were to enter a complaint against him for such untoward and unlawful action, he is liable to impeachment by court-martial. And further, such actions are open for a military court of enquiry to look into, and not only that, but it is a fit subject for a grand jury investigation.

Two Disbarred.

The Supreme Court this afternoon disbarred former Judge Humphreys and Judge George A Davis from practicing in the courts of Hawaii on account of their action in the Sumner case. The license of Frank E Thompson to practice law was suspended for twelve months. J A Magoon was acquitted of the charges against him.

Saturday's Yachting.

In Saturday's yacht races the boats finished in the following order: First class—La Paloma, Helene, Gladys and Mary L. Third class—Defiance, Malihini and Princess. Fourth class—Skip and Malolo.

On account of other attractions in town the dance Saturday evening was not as well patronized as had been expected. However, a good time was had by everyone present.

Saturday's Baseball.

The Mailes made a better stand against the Punahous in Saturday's baseball game than had been expected, the score at the end being 6 to 2 in favor of the school boys. In the second game the Honolulus were victors over the Elks, 7 to 1.

Potter Comes To Town.

Lieutenant A. H. Potter, the nephew of Bishop Potter, of New York, a double-barreled millionaire, bohemian, swell and all that, who was here as a corporal in the First New York Volunteers, is aboard the Sheridan on his way to Manila. This time he is a first lieutenant in the Twelfth Cavalry and it is said he will shortly be made a captain. Potter is spending his time seeing the sights and renewing old acquaintances.

Our Finances.

The following is reprinted from The County, Mrs R W Wilcox's paper, and for the reason that it is a concise and accurate response to those who have tried to saddle the unwarranted extravagance of the last Legislature on other than the Republicans:

The San Francisco Call remarks that the last Territorial Legislature of Hawaii (which is republican from top to bottom) passed appropriation bills amounting to $8,423,859 49, which is equal to a per capita tax $28.00 for the ensuing two years, while the income is estimated at only $4,690,000, for the period, and the balance must be borrowed against future taxes. It observes that a tax of $28.00 per capita is the highest borne by any government on earth, and concludes that the Territory is being badly governed.

It should be noted that it took a Republican Legislature under a Republican administration to start the Territory on a career of lavish expenditure and extravagance, and not satisfied with voting away the estimated income the Republican Legislature was ready with votes to saddle a $4,000,000, debt on the Territory, as the total of appropriations show, but for the restrictions put by Congress on the borrowing powers of the Territory Legislature the Territory would have had more debts than it ever could hope to pay.

Two years ago when a Home Rule Legislature was in power extravagance was curbed, expenses were cut down within reasonable bounds, and a deaf ear turned to the silvertoned pleadings of a Republican administration for an extravagance Loan Bill.

The Home Rule Legislature reduced salaries and curtailed expenses in order that the Territory might keep within its means, whereas the Republican Legislature raised salaries, increased expenses, authorized a $2,300,000 loan, and watered the budget with a cool $1,500,000 after the manner of wild cat stock company promoters.

The Home Rule Legislature provided an additional $300,000 a year revenue to the government, but the Republican Legislature did not provide one cent additional revenue.

And it was this Republican Legislature which is said to want to burn the vouchers of its own expenses.

SECRETARY HAY'S DIPLOMATIC STEW.

WASHINGTON, July 29:

The diplomatic mix up of the republican administration on the Russian and Manchurian question is causing a good deal of hilarity here among democrats and some uneasy wonderment among republicans as to the final outcome. It is known here that the remarkable statement lately given out by Assistant Secretary of State Loomis, during the absence of Secretary Hay, to the effect that the Kisheneff affair and the Manchurian question concerning the open door policy were intertwined and interdependent, and must, therefore, be considered together, was inspired by no less a personage than President Roosevelt himself. When Secretary Hay hurried to Oyster Bay and informed the President that he had "played the dickens" in giving Loomis any such instructions, the President quickly "side stepped" and left poor Loomis with the bag to hold. The veriest tyro in diplomacy would have known that the two questions had no more to do with each other than the Alaskan boundary dispute has to do with the Breathitt county feuds, and Assistant Secretary Loomis probably knew it when he was promulgating the remarkable statement that went out to the country, but he was obeying the instructions of his chief who was simply trying to play some politics and got his "gee" jog over the "haw" traces. Secretary Hay's recent statement to the effect that he had obtained Russia's consent to the open door in several important ports in Manchuria, has still further complicated matters. He made the unqualified statement that he had things "fixed." Now, Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador to this country, comes out in a statement and says it isn't so, and that Secretary Hay said nothing to him about the matter, and there you are.

So far as the Kisheneff affair is concerned, public men here are contrasting the actions of two men in the matter. Whe the news of this massacre of Jews in Russia came to this country, the first man to echo the cry of borrow was Mr William R Hearst in his papers. Although he is a gentile himself, he immediately began the collection of a relief fund for those poor, persecuted people, heading the list with a generous donation from his own pocket. He not only did this, but he demanded justice for the Jews and sent a special commissioner to the scene of the massacre in the person of Michael Davitt, the well known Irish Member of Parliament. This had the effect of rousing Russia to action in the matter, order was restored and some of the leaders in the massacre were arrested and the Governor the Province was dismissed from office. Mr Hearst's action was dictated by humanitarianism and his innate love of justice. The action of the President of the United States in this Kisheneff matter has laid him open to the charge of trafficking for votes in a manner that is on a par with the methods of a ward heeler. He first blew cold and then he blew hot. He ignored the matter completely until he was called on by a committee of influential Jews, who asked him to present a petition to the Czar of Russia setting forth the woes of the unfortunate Jews in his Empire. He then proceeded to get very busy. He gave out statements from the State Department as to what he was going to do, and how he was going to do it.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

So the spendthrift Republican Legislature did not pass an appropriation for printing the new bonds. That's bad, and queer, withal. A few hundred thousand might just as well have been put in on that graft and we feel sure that there was an oversight in the matter on the part of our Republican friends.

Auditor Fisher is rightly keeping an eagle eye on public expenditures, and it might not be out of place for him to call a second eye into service. It is getting to be common report that the Government has already expended nearly $100,000 that was unauthorized by the Legislature. How's that, Mr Dole? It begins to look as though somebody is in danger of getting pinched

What kind of labor is to be used in the construction of the Oceanic wharf shed? This is a Government contract and a big one at that. It should have been specified in the agreement that no Asiatics should be employed there. There are ample citizen mechanics here to do the work and it is to be expected that Superintendent Cooper will see that it is placed in their hands.

Working the old excuse that the political colonists at Kalihi camp are "poor people who were burnt out in the fire of 1900," will hardly impress anybody now that the fire claims have been paid. The campers are, or should be, better off than they ever were before with three and a half years of next-to-free lodging to their credit and fire claims money besides. It is time for them to move on.—Advertiser.

Now, there you are. After burning the natives out, causing them to lose all they had in the world, and keeping them in quarantine for a long time, without work and subject to all sorts of privation, the poor people were allowed shelter at Kalihi camp. In the hope of lashing them into line to vote for their gang the Advertiser and its crowd now threatens to turn these people into the streets again. We will be with you, Brother Tiger, when you do it.

We have no special comment to make on the decision in the disbarment cases except this: The matter is regrettable and unfortunate from every standpoint. We quite agree, however, with Justice Galbraith that if one was guilty, all were guilty; and fail to see why two men should be disbarred while a third—a principal in the affair—should be exonerated. If politics figured in the case, so much the worse for it.

The Democratic Central Committee will meet tomorrow evening for the purpose of discussing vacancies and starting the County campaign. If not impertinent we would like to suggest the importance of a live, aggressive head to the committee and the presence of more natives in the body. It also seems to us that vacancies in the committee should be filled by vote of a convention in place of by the committee itself. To start right is an important thing in any campaign.

If everybody will take one foot off the little mosquito for a minute we will point out something else that is of infinitely more danger to the health of the community. Any morning gas may be seen curling up in clouds from the storm sewers on Nuuanu, Fort and Alakea streets. This gas emanates from the stagnant confines of the sewer beds and is laden with malaria and the bacteria of almost every communicable disease. While our strenuous Board of Health is turning the oil can on the mosquito it might also run a little sulphuric acid, formalin or other preparation through the storm sewers.

"Small farmers" with an eye in this direction had best first investigate and consider the experience of several thousands of mechanics who were driven out of the Islands last year and many others still here who have been forced to the wall and are in danger of being pressed into it. The Advertiser wants the small farmer purely and solely for his vote, to aid it in downing the hated kanaka. There is no earthly chance for the small farmer in these Islands, and the Advertiser's crowd knows it all too well. Any man to be led into the trap is a great fool and is to be pitied. It is a case of heads he loses and tails he goes broke, and no honest man or newspaper can make anything more out of it.

Complaint is made that band concerts on the roof garden of the Young hotel do not reach the people at large for the reason that they are dress suit affairs and the ordinary run of mortals feel out of place there. It is advocated that the concerts be given in the vacant plot opposite the hotel where they could be enjoyed by all. A great deal could be said on both sides of the question, and we will discuss it at more length in future issues. The fact that Mr Young has spent an immense amount of money on his hotel, for the benefit of Honolulu and the Islands, should not be lost sight of in the first place, however.

If there is one enterprise in the Islands that should be owned and operated by the Government that one is the system of the Honolulu Rapid Transit Company. That system is one of, for and by the people, one that affects the people at every side and both ways. It is taking in immense amounts of money, money that comes out of the people and should revert to the people. It is not fair nor safe that the profits and business should be in the hands of a corporation. Let the people take it over, squeeze the water out of the stock and enjoy the benefits of an investment that is already purely one of their own.

We do not need any of your sarcasm, Mr Man of the Maui News. It may have been well meant, yet we fail to see it in that light, for "scholarly" we do not claim to be, but surely, we are "scholarly" as far as our own mother tongue is concerned, which is something that you, aged malihini, cannot touch nor express yourself upon. We may be also able to "suggest a suggestion" to the aged editor as to how to become "scholarly" and proficient in the use of the Hawaiian language, only his age precludes us from making it, i. e., as to how use of a well-known "dictionary" in order to be proficient in the use of our vernacular. He "suggests a suggestion' that the Hawaiians themselves should intiate a movement to establish a college at some eligible place on the Islands where pure and classic Hawaiian should be taught and preserved with its meles and genealogies." There's no need of going that far, Mr Editor-Judge, for when we had native schools in existence under Government control, they were not much sought for, the later Goveramental policy being to inculcate the teaching of the language of the foreigner to youths of the country, and now the native schools are things of the past. But the Hawaiian is not yet counted among the "dead" languages; it is still in existence and our Maui brother (of the quill) can master it if he may will it. The matter is up to him, and if he wants to learn, we can offer him our services, but otherwise, he can for himself secure a "living" teacher right there in Wailuku. Discard one and take up another.

He knew that the changes would be rung on this thing through the press of the country until the Jews of the country would begin to think that he was their greatest and best friend and grapple them to him with hoops of steel. He also knew that the thing would go so far that Russia would be compelled to take cognizance of it and announce her policy in the matter. Russia has done so, and announces that she will not receive any suggestions from anybody concerning her internal policies. At this, Roosevelt lies down "like a steer in the road," washes his hands of the whole affair, says he has done all he can for the Jews, and that ends the matter. This is not the first time the President has played petty politics, nor is it the first time he ever went "bear" hunting and came back empty handed.

YE VERY MERRY OFFICIAL BOODLERS.

WASHINGTON, July 29:

A good many people who cannot be accused of boodling, nevertheless are sticking their hands down in the pocket of the people just at this time. Nearly every man who is high enough up on the pay rolls of the Government seems to be seized with an insane desire to go out on a junketing trip this summer at the expense of the people. The Secretary of the Navy, not long ago, took out a big bunch of Congressmen and took a whiz around the West Indies on a government vessel and the people paid the bill. The President's family then took his "private yacht," which was a government vessel, and proceeded to their summer home at Oyster Bay. The vessel is always ready for use for pleasure parties for the Roosevelt children, going to boat races or taking Miss Alice to the city when she feels that she needs a paper of pins. Not long ago the members of Congress who were on the Naval Affairs Committee in the last House, took a Government vessel and started out on a junket with the ostensible purpose of inspecting the different fortifications along the coast of the country, and the naval needs of the country. What right these members have to make the people pay for any such trip is more than any man can tell. There is no official naval committee in existence, so far as the House of Representatives is concerned. How do these men know they will be placed on the Committee on the Naval Affairs when the next House is organized? They do not know it, and yet they are squandering the people's money for the ostensible purpose of posting themselves on the needs of the people in the way of naval expenditures. The chances are they will see more "high ball" than they will cannon balls, and more "kings" and "queens" than they will naval necessities. Postmaster General Payne, who had been made "sick," presumably by smelling the stench in his department, is the latest to take a Government vessel, and with his family get out on the deep blue sea where he can smell the perfume of the brine instead of official corruption. And the people pay the bill. Well, why shouldn't they? They are responsible for the millions accumulated in the Treasury. They voted a tariff tax on themselves that would pile up a surplus of cash in the Treasury, and this is the only way to get it back into the channels of trade, unless they take a notion to quit taxing themselves for the benefit of trusts, tariff barons and junketers. Until they do they may expect that a republican administration, guiltless of sympathy with the people, will continue to have a good time with their money and "blow it in" like a drunken sailor,

Aside from the boodling and rottenness that is coming out of the departments in this city, the government of the District of Columbia is being shown up just now, and it is about the most ramshackle and flimsy affair, to be called the government of a great city, that any man ever heard of. A young clerk, whose salary was $1,400 a year, was allowed to steal about $75,000 in the past five years for the reason that his books were never checked. His employers saw this young man plunging at the races, buying an interest in all sorts of businesses, riding around

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

In the article headed "Our Bishop of Tonga," in Monday's issue, we inadvertently stated that it was the Bishop of Auckland who opposed the recognition of Bishop Willis by the late Primate of New Zealand for and on behalf of that Diocese: It should have been the Bishop of Wellington, a junior in point of consecration, he being of 1894 and Bishop Willis of 1872. We hasten to make this correction after our attention has been called to it.

The refusal of Judge Edings, of Hawaii, to renew the attorney's license of S K Pua until the latter had taken the oath to support the Republican party is a remarkable thing. It would be highly improper for even a Republican judge to do such a thing, or even suggest it as a qualification for a license to practice; but when a Democratic judge starts out to help the Republican party something must be radically wrong. It is in order for the friends of Judge Edings to explain.

At best the sentences in the disbarment cases were excessive, and have the appearance strongly of "get even" tactics and persecution. To deprive a man of the right to earn a living for himself and family is a most serious matter, and should not be resorted to except in extreme cases. We do not feel that the circumstances in the Sumner matter justified the exhorbitant and sweeping penalties imposed. Suspension for six months would have been severe punishment and would have fully met every demand of the case. In reviewing the sentences one cannot help recalling the former tilts between Chief Justice Frear and Judge Humphreys, and Justice Perry and Judge Davis. It is impossible to disconnect the circumstances, and a just public will not fail, in the interest of fair play, to regard the rulings of Chief Justice Frear and Justice Perry with suspicion.

If the late Republican controlled Legislature failed to provide a fund with which to pay for floating the proposed Loan Bill, as it really has, so much the better for the country. The Government may, in the meantime, find the ways and means for floating it by an appeal to the bankers and merchants, looking to the next Legislature to refund the amount loaned. But we do earnestly hope that the next Legislature will not be so easy as the late one.

The more the public thinks of the disbarment cases the more certainly is it convinced that if there was to be one conviction, all of the principals in the case should have been convicted. Was it the possession of money and lands or was it politics that made the difference? Perhaps it was both. Justice Galbraith lost nothing in the estimation of the public for the bold stand he took against the pack of intimidators and political enemies that had been barking at him for days.

Judgment is being meted out to certain parties concerned in the recent disbarment cases. It seems to be as if it was by the hand of the avenging angel for the uncalled for strictures and severity meted out to others as well as for the vindictiveness displayed when there was no such necessity. "Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord." And, oh; such revenge with a certain amount of vengeance is sweet, particularly to those now living of those since silenced in the grave.

Hawaiians are not a race of merchants nor have they ever taken to it. It is an industry not to their tastes. That fact, however, should not and does not disqualify them for office work or as public servants. Being a merchant does not specially fit a man for public office, and it is to be noted that a vast majority of office holders do not come from the merchant class at all. With one exception (Mr Lansing) the present heads of departments and leading bureaux of the Territorial government are not and never were merchants.

G P Wilder, a pet of the Dole administration, is to make a tour of the Mainland and Europe, ostensibly for the study of forestry and agriculture. Inasmuch as he has been given credentials by Governor Dole to visit Vanderbilt's mountain forest near Asheville and the Black Forest in Germany, we suppose it will be considered another "official" tour and a big bill for expenses will be filed in due course. As Governor Dole will soon retire from office we suppose he doesn't care a rap; but it will be well for leaders of the Republican party to remember the sentiments of the Legislature in regard to unauthorized expenditures for junketing tours.

NOTICE.

During my absence from this Territory Mr A. N. Kepoikai will act for me under power of attorney.

JOINED THE DOMINANT PARTY.

How a Prominent and Strenuous Home Ruler was Grafted as a Republican.

Our friend Samuel K. Pua, of Mahiki, Waimea, Hawaii, has been in the city for several days past. Since the inception of Territorial politics, he cast his lot with the party of his people. He is one of the most active and strenuous of Home Rulers, and a forcible speaker. In 1900, he was a Senatorial candidate for this Island, and in 1902 for Hawaii, and was defeated both times. He was the assistant clerk of the House of Representatives during the first Legislature. In the Legislature of 1892, the last under the Monarchy, he represented this Island as a Representative.

Since the last campaign, we understand he has been coerced into becoming a Republican. It came about in this wise: In April of 1901, he was licensed to practice law in the inferior Courts, and after the Legislature, he returned to Waimea and there took up the profession. The term of his license expired last April, and prior thereto, he applied for a renewal of the same, but he was written to from here that he would have to apply to the Third Circuit Court, as he was within that jurisdiction. But it is known that another prominent Home Rule ex-legislator, who stumped for the Republicans at the last campaign and ran for a Hawaii Senatorship and was defeated, had also applied here to the Judiciary Department for a renewal and his request was granted, yet in Pua's case, he received the cold stare by being referred elsewhere.

After this reference, he applied to Judge Eding's Court, and he received no answer till some time about the middle of last June. Prior to that time, he was urged to sign the Republican rolls. In order to have his license renewed, and after mature consideration, he gave way and consented, and he had no sooner signed the rolls when his new license was issued. Such is one of the methods used to graft prominent Hawaiians into the Republican ranks.

During the last Legislature, Mr Pua was mentioned most favorably and strongly for the position of Sheriff to be stationed at Waimea. He was urged to make application, and after doing so, he has received no answer to his application. And of course, he has not been appointed yet as Sheriff of Waimea.

The new Pope fainted while attending mass in Rome yesterday. The spell is said to have been due to the severe strain of the past few weeks. A complete rest for a time has been advised by his physicians.

It is said that some of the Congressmen who have visited Hawaii in the past few years have expressed themselves as favorable to the bill prepared at the instance of local Chinese merchants which has as its object the admission of a limited number of Chinese into this Territory for plantation labor purposes.

Judge Davis Answers.

Before leaving yesterday Judge George A Davis filed special pleadings in the Campbell guardianship. He claims to have been employed by Princess Kawananakoa and to have been unfairly treated by Cecil Brown. He concludes as follows:

That on an examination of the will of said James Campbell and after consulting H L Gear of the San Francisco bar, I instructed him to appeal to the Supreme Court of the State of California against the order of distribution of the Probate Court on the ground that the will was void under the laws of that state, and that the property of the said minors was sold to Alice Campbell for $175,000, no part of which has been paid, and that said sale to her, the said Alice Campbell was a sham and a fraud upon the said minors.

That I have paid the said H L Gear, Esq, a retainer of $200 and agreed to pay him $100 more, and I wrote and told him that at the termination of said proceedings his fee should not exceed the sum of $800 to be paid by the two said minors and the Princess Kawananakoa share and share alike, to which said H L Gear assented by cablegram now in the possession of the said Princess Kawananakoa, nee Abbie Campbell.

Committee Is Boss.

Another instance of the boss tactics of the Republican Central Committee has come to light. An underbureau of the Government required the services of an expert in a certain line. The head of the office picked out the man he considered the most competent and satisfactory and offered him the position. The Central Committee heard of the doings at that point, however, swooped down, ordered everything changed and compelled the bureau head to take in a man of their selection, on penalty of losing his own job. The officer was given to understand flatly that "the committee is running this government."

And then you talk about Tammany Hall! The local Republican committee could give Tammany cards and spades and beat the game.

in a "red devil" automobile, and playing the "high roller" generally, and yet they never checked his books. There is hardly a day goes by that something crooked, something rotten, or something loose does not turn up in the District of Columbia building. There seems to be a lust of loot, a riot of rapacity and a fiduciary fandango in the capitol of the nation. Long lease of power hath made the republicans money mad, and they are simply taking what they want and asking no odds. When the people tire of it they know how they can stop it. It is up to them.

The President has suddenly jammed into the labor unions of the country, and somebody is going to come out second best in a fight that will be on in furious fashion pretty soon. It seems that a man named Miller, an assistant foreman in the bookbinding department of the Government Printing Office, was expelled from his union for good and sufficient cause. As the unions have been entrenched in the Government Printing Office in recent times, they have insisted that only members of the union in good standing shall be employed there, and the consequence was that Miller was dismissed from his position. He immediately began a fight. He appealed to the Civil Service Commission and to the President. He has been sustained by both. The President practically says to the labor unions that they may expel any man they please, but they must work under him whether he is in good standing in the union or not. The man has been reinstated, and now it is up to the unions. It is their move.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

"Are you stuck on the jury roll?" is now the question. Two hundred and fifty names have been listed and 144 of these, at least, will be drawn.

Hilo won't be satisfied with a break-water off its port. Inside of six months it will want a breakwater overhead and a railroad to San Francisco. Aw, those grasping Hilolites!

Kauai may not be in it in showing up votes, but it certainly comes in for many of the plums when offices are going round. But then, you know, Dole, W O Smith and other navigators of the Territorial ship came from that island.

If the Chamber of Commerce succeeds in having the Army transports call regularly here it will accomplish far more than can be expected from the tourist and small farmer agitations. Transports mean (including purchase of coal) from $15,000 to $30,000 a month to Honolulu.

The policy of the Republicans in coercing Hawaiians into their ranks will result in no benefit to that party. It is the old game, and it will work out in the old way. The case is one of convincing a man against his will, and when election comes around the native who has been forced to sign the Republican rolls will vote as he pleases.

This afternoon the remains of the late Hon Walter Murray Gibson, one of the best foreign friends the native Hawaiians ever had, will be put aboard the Lehua and transferred from this city to Lahaina. Although there will be no ceremony attending the transfer, the older sons of the soil will not fail to recall the friendliness of this good man and his work for them. The remains have been removed from the vault in the Catholic cemetery and will find their last resting place in the Hayselden vault at the old capital of Maui.

The Advertiser states that nearly all the Democrats of Honolulu belong to the Central Committee of twenty-one. Electricity is said to be quick and thought a little quicker; but we will gamble that neither could hold a light to the speed of missionaries to join the Democratic twenty-one should a Democratic President be elected next year.

Kahului's second race program did not prove so successful as the first, and a rather disappointed party of pleasure seekers will return to the city tonight. Two-bit soda water and three dollars for turning a corner in Wailuku do not act as attractions to outsiders. Wailuku hospitality needs to be made over, and it will then probably work better.

The failure of the Democrats to enter the County elections may have a considerable effect on the campaign. It will mean, in the first place, that the Home Rulers will not have a campaign fund behind them and will have to do some lively skirmishing for money. Whether they will be successful, without the aid of the Democrats, in getting together the necessary wherewithal remains to be seen.

But Governor Dole is to be complimented on one thing in his selection of a second district magistrate, i. e.: He acted independently of the impertinent, impudent hose, the Republican Central Committee. He appointed his own man independent of the meddlesome committee, and although a member of the Family Compact was selected, the Governor scored a point in declining to be dictated to.

Former Senator Kauuha states that he has only one foot in the Republican party and will wait until he sees which party is the strongest before making a positive move. In other words, he wants office and is willing to go with any party that will give it to him. Principles cut no ice with him. Mr Kauuha is a Republican. The woods are full of just such Republicans as he is. It will take a little jarring up by a Democratic administration to uncurdle the stuff in his top-knot.

Well, Boston can't sink too sudden to please most people of the civilized area. The pesky village has always been a trouble maker, and the next best place to Hades for it is the locker of Davey Jones. Hawaii has had enough of Boston in the region below the belt; and George Davis was not the worst locust from there, either. If P C J can run back quick enough to save Bunker Hill, we will vote to let the thing go to the bring—without a gulp or a regret.

The new district magistrate, Alexander Lindsay, Jr, is an amiable young gentleman and is doubtless very capable of filling acceptably the important office to which he has been appointed; but would it not have been far better to have placed in the office an older and steadier head, and a man better acquainted and more closely identified with the people of the city, with whom he will have principally to deal? Lindsay was born on Kaua'i, the native home of Governor Dole, and belongs to the Dole Family Compact; and that probably composes the chief reason for his preferment

The Ferris case is a peculiar one. After being sentenced to hang and unsuccessfully appealing to the court of last resort, a new witness, Expressman Christiansen, appears and states that the murder of Watson was committed in self defense. The new man claims to have been an eye witness to the tragedy. Under the circumstances it seems most unfortunate that a new trial cannot be had in the regular way; and if it is in the power of Governor Dole to order a new hearing, in view of the fresh evidence, he should by all means do so.

When Pearl harbor is opened United States vessels will go there. In addition to the immense Hackfeld and railroad wharves, another long wharf is being built on Queen street near the foot of River. Then the I I S N Co, is putting in a great wharf on River street which will relieve the wharves at the foot of Fort street. All in all there is now more wharf room than Honolulu will require in fifty years. And yet Superintendent Cooper wishes to destroy a lot of valuable business property and spend a barrel of money on a number of new wharves to parallel Fort up to Allen street. The thing is unbusinesslike and absurd.

In the Home Rule meeting this morning Charles Notley again made the charge that the Democrats were unfaithful to the Home Rulers in the last election. The Democrats were "unfaithful" to the extent that they put up the money for the campaign and voted for a number of men not of their choosing. We are not aware that the defeat of Mr Notley was due to the Democrats, but if such is the case the Democrats are perhaps rather to be congratulated and thanked than censured. If we remember correctly neither he nor Mr Mon War came in for many cheers from the grandstand of their own party.

The Meeting Postponed.

A quorum of the Democratic Central Committee failed to turn up promptly on time at Waverley hall last evening, although the two necessary to make a working number came in late. Adjournment was taken to 7:30 Tuesday evening next at which time it is expected there will be a quorum and business can be taken up. Of the plans of the Democratic party Chairman McCarthy said this morning:

"It is not our intention at present to put a ticket in the field for county offices. The committee may decide, however, to support some of the candidates on the other tickets. Our principal purpose now is to reconstruct and solidy our organization for future work."

War on Mosquitoes.

A thousand copies of the following self-explanatory letter were mailed by the anti-mosquito committee this morning to as many people in the city.

Honolulu, T H, August 13, 1903.

Dear Sir:—A meeting to discuss the proposed measures for ridding this community of mosquitoes will be held at the Alexander Young Hotel, Saturday evening, August 15, 1903, at 8 o'clock. This meeting has been arranged by the local Board of Health in co-operation with the various organizations of this city.

Dr Cooper, President of the Board of Health, will present the plans of the campaign. D L Van Dine of the U S Experiment Station, will illustrate by lantern-slides the mosquitoes, their life-history and breeding places. C H Tracy, City Sanitary Officer, Dr F R Day, Prof A B Ingalls, P M Pond, W A Bryan, of Bishop Museum, and others will discuss the local problem.

Unquestionably the Board of Health will be able to do their part, but it has already been demonstrated that the co-operation of the citizens is absolutely necessary.

You are therefore earnestly requested to be present at this meeting.

Illness of the Whitings.

The Examiner of August 8, received by the Sheridan this morning, contains the following statement in regard to the illness of Mrs Whiting, nee Afong, which was reported here by cable as smallpox:

Captain Whiting, commandant at the naval station at Goat Island, his wife, Mrs Whiting, and their little daughter are all in quarantine. It is true that the quarantine is not very strict, nor is the disease virulent, nevertheless Chief Surgeon Fitts recommended yesterday that the house of the commandant be quarantined and that the inmates cut themselves off from personal contact with the other inhabitants of the tight little island.

Temporarily Commander Jefferson F Moser, of the training ship Pensacola, is commandant of the island, and he stated yesterday that little Miss Whiting had just recovered from an attack of chicken pox, when Mrs Whiting took it in a mild form, and finally the doctor thought it would be best that the whole household should be placed in quarantine. The matter, he added, had not been referred to the department at all, as it was not considered serious enough to warrant mention. Lieutenant W S Hughes corroborated all that Commander Moser had said, and then Dr Fitts explained that he had never suspected that Mrs Whiting was suffering from smallpox, but that he knew she had caught a mild attack of chicken pox from her young daughter, and that in a day or two all need of further precaution will have passed.

THE LAND SEEKERS.

The mere announcement in the Associated Press dispatches of the appointment of Theodore F Lansing as Immigration Commissioner sufficed to bring him letters from people who want to settle here. Probably a hundred such letters followed the cabled story about a possible opening of public lands. All over the Union are people who long for a home in the American tropics many of whom would like to take up land and produce something.

In a country of eighty millions of people it would be impossible that an Associated Press despatch would not strike somewhere. It would be equally improbable that it would not reach a number of people desirous of leaving their country for their own weal and their country's good. Such is undoubtedly the case with the persons who have so promptly responded to the announcement of Mr Lansing's appointment as Immigration Commissioner; and the least had to do with such people the better.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

As usual the Star flim-flammed the public today with an extra editon giving the nauseous details of the hanging of the Jap murderer in Oahu prison.

We understand that the intention of the Democrats is to hold aloof from active participation in the County campaign and to reserve their force for the campaign in 1904, when there will be more at stake. The party organization will be completed and kept up. The move is probably a good one. At this time the Democrats cannot expect to win, and alliances or combinations with other parties have not in the past proved satisfactory. It is vastly im- [illegible] at the same time, that a great deal of talking in and out of the press regarding Home Rule politics and policies. From his talk one might suppose that he is an authority on the subject of his pipings; but, as a matter of fact, he cuts little ice and his talk amounts to less. Last year Notley failed to poll an average vote, although endorsed by both the Home Rule and Democratic parties, which shows very plainly where he stands.

C W Booth, who tried to sell his water holes in Pauoa valley to the Government for $250,000, now kicks because the tax assessor has valued the property at $100,000 and has taken the matter before the tax appeal court for a reduction. We quite agree with Mr Booth that the property is not worth $100,000, even though he told the Legislature that it was worth $250,000, and his particeps, etc., Cecil Brown, declared it was worth a half a million!

The Advertiser intimates that the income of a sheriff in Honolulu is $16,000 a month, including salary and perquisites. This is an interesting admission, and it undoubtedly accounts for the air of prosperity of our present sheriff But the Advertiser in its list of income sources, includes "hush" money from gambling joints and illicit liquor sellers. We want to know a little more about that. Has the sheriff connived in naughty enterprises of this kind, or has his official organ made a blunder?

The Star is out for the blood of George Ferris, the slayer of old man Watson, and characterizes the petition of the jurors that tried him, for clemency, as a sentiment. We believe a murderer should pay the full penalty of the law. But in this case new evidence crops up after conviction and sentence, tending strongly to show that the man acted in self defense. A man is justified in defending himself to the limit when his life is imperilled, and the law takes full cognizance of the fact in such cases. If Christensen's statement to Governor Dole is to be believed it would certainly be a great wrong to hang Ferris. There is no "sentiment" behind that phase of the case. It is a fact.

Senator Achi verbally repudiated to us the reference to him with regard to the deal relative to the Omaopio lands. His only connection in the matter, so he says, was his appearing for and on behalf of Representative Kellinoi as an intermediary in his professional capacity, but otherwise, he has no interest whatever. He further said that he personally made no application on his own account, but that he did so for the other one concerned. And that further, he does not care to dabble in anything that he knows nothing about. Had it been in Kona, where he is largely interested, there might have been some scintilla of truth. And moreover, as he is heavily up to his head in debt and that he is getting old with his hair turning gray, all his own personal efforts are centered in trying to extricate himself out of his financial difficulties. Not wishing to ruin his future prospects, we hasten to make this explanation in order to save his reputation, i. e., as far as our remarks were concerned. But otherwise, it was ill and it struck home.

THE IOLANI GUILD

Of Hawaiian Women in Connection with the Cathedral Congregation of St Andrew.

The meeting of Hawaiian women, "exclusively announced" in THE INDEPENDENT as having taken place yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of organizing a women's guild in connection with the Cathedral (Hawaiian) Congregation of St Andrew's Cathedral, headed by Queen Liliuokalani and Princess Kalanianaole, has taken a foothold and a stand in Church work. Invitations were issued and about twenty odd personally answered the call yesterday by their presence, including the leading royal leaders of the movement.

The meeting came together at 3 o'clock and after some preliminary work, the proposed rules and by laws were read and passed upon, the name adopted being the "Ahahui Iolani o na Wahine Hawaii" (Iolani Guild of Hawaiian Women). On the whole, it was a very successful and enthusiastic meeting, and it is hoped that it may prove fruitful, beneficial and of good lasting result.

The following were the officers elected: Queen Liliuokalani, President; Princess Kalanianaole, 1st vice-president; Mrs M K Keohokalole, 2nd vice-president; Mrs E Kahele Nahaolelua, 3rd vice-president; Mrs J H Boyd, treasurer; and Mrs Hannah K Evans, secretary. The first regular meeting of the guild will be held next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A nominal entrance fee and monthly dues are prerequisites upon those who wish to become members of the Iolani Guild Carrier Dove Wrecked.

The North China Daily News gives the following account of the wreck of the Carrier Dove, a vessel that has for years made Honolulu a port of call:

The Carrier Dove is a four-masted schooner of 634 tons register, and left Vancouver for Puget Sound and Shanghai on the 24th April. At Puget Sound she shipped upwards of a million feet of lumber. About 9:30 a m on the 30th of June, she went ashore on a sand-band N of Shaweishan, in Lat 31° 39' N, Long 122° 03' E. Captain Jensen was under the impression that he was in the vicinity of the North Saddle, the weather being very hazy at the time. When he saw that it was impossible to keep the vessel from going aground, the captain adopted the next best course, and ran her high and dry ashore on the bank. The crew were then landed in boats, one of their number being unfortunately drowned through the capsizing of one of the boats. Signals were hoisted and the first boat to sight them was the C M S Irene, bound North. The Irene hove to, but seeing that the crew were safe and the vessel was in no danger of breaking up, she continued her voyage. On Friday morning the signals were seen by the C M S Hasan, and Capt Wallace, of that vessel sent the chief officer ashore with a boat to take off the shipwrecked crew. On Saturday morning the wreck was again sighted by the C M S Hsinchi, which reports the vessel safe and the sea smooth. Salving appliances have already been sent to the scene of the wreck and it is expected that the vessel will be refloated.

California Closed.

The California saloon on Nuuanu street, owned by Representative H C Vida, was closed by High Sheriff Brown on motion of W C Peacock & Co who hold a mortgage on the property for $4 909 29. An affidavit in the matter, filed by J G Rothwell, contains the following:

"The said mortgaged property is not worth more than $2500, that the said Henry C Vida has failed to pay the license fee required by the treasurer of the Territory of Hawaii to conduct the business on the said mortgaged premises; that the said H C Vida has failed to pay said license fee or make any provision for the payment of the same; that the said treasurer has threatened to close said business conducted upon said premises unless said license fee is immediately paid; that the said H C Vida, the defendant named in said petition has declined to pay aforesaid indebtedness and seems financially able to do so; that great waste and injury threatens the security of the petitioner named in said mort

[illegible]ager Lake will this evening display in the billiard room of the Young hotel the news of the great Corbett-Jeffries fight in San Francisco, which will be received by cable at the end of each round. As Honolulu is two hours and twenty minutes behind San Francisco in time, the results of the first round should be known by 7 o'clock, the fight presumably begining at 9 there. In Honolulu sporting circles Jeffries is the favorite at anywhere from two to three to one.

Celtic in Port.

The transport Celtic arrived in port about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Manila and Guam. She will take 500 tons of coal here before proceeding to the Coast. The vessel carries a number of passengers, nearly all of whom are officers from the Philippines and soldiers from Guam.

The officers of the Celtic are as follows: Lieut Com Gill; Lieut I F Landis; Ensign Landram; Dr Murphy; Paymaster Hatch; Pay Clerk Lohse.

Wants Exhibits.

Dr Jared Smith has sent out the following circular letter from the United States experimental station:

Honolulu, Hawaii, July 30, 1903.

Dear Sir:—Knowing that you are deeply interested in Hawaii's exhibit at the St Louis exposition and that you will be desirous of making it as completely representative of our industries as possible, we take the liberty of asking your cooperation with us in the preparation of the agricultural collection.

We are making duplicate collections of agricultural products—one for the United States Department of Agriculture exhibit and one to be a part of the general representation of the Territory of Hawaii as provided for by the recent Act of the Legislature.

You will greatly assist in this work if you will kindly fill in the blank spaces on the enclosed sheet and mail the latter in the enclosed franked evelope addressed to Mr Jared G Smith.

We ask for anything of any agricultural nature which has been produced in these Islands and which is a good specimen of its kind.

Perishable things will be preserved.

While the exhibits will not leave Honolulu until some time in the autumn, it is desired to gather in as many things as possible at once.

Trusting that we may have an early reply from you, stating what you have available for this purpose, and thanking you in advance for the same,

Very truly yours,
JARED G SMITH.

Looking up Trade.

Lloyd F Weaver, representing the Studebaker buggy and carriage concern, arrived here in the Siberia this morning. Of his trip the Examiner says:

"Mr Lloyd F Weaver, manager of the local and Oriental agencies of Studebaker & Bros, leaves today on the Siberia for a three months' trip of inspection of the firm's agencies in Honolulu, Manila, Tokio and Hongkong.

"Mr Weaver's phenomenal business trip through the Orient last year attracted universal attention, and he will doubtless return in November with much valuable information concerning the development of San Francisco's trade in the Orient.

"Mr Weaver will be accompanied by his wife, so well known in San Francisco society circles."

OPPOSITION TO LEONARD WOOD.

WASHINGTON, August 5:

There is sullen silence, but gnashing of teeth and angry looks in and around the War Department these days when the name of Leonard Wood is mentioned in the hearing of some of the old veterans.

Of those whom love of Roosevelt hath singled out the name of Wood overtops all the slate of army officers intended for promotion. There is pathos as well as injustice in the facts that scores of gallant and accomplished officers of the civil war are to be retired and denied forever the chance that is marked out for the President's playground pal. Simply because Wood has been the friend, confidant and playfellow of the playful young man who happens to be President of the United States, Leonard Wood, five years ago an army doctor, with the rank of Captain, has been continually and rapidly advanced in rank, pay and power over the heads of older and better soldiers, whose lives have not only been faithfully devoted to the service of their country, but who have been imperilled in every crisis that has confronted it in forty years.

It matters not if the old veterans shed their blood for the Union and are entitled by every precedent of military usage, every mode of honor and all logic of justice to rank above this little-while-ago army apothecary. From Colonel of a volunteer regiment to major general of volunteers and then brigadier general in the regular service. Then to governor general of Cuba, a position in which he was allowed unlimited power along with the privilege of disbursing $30,000,000, for which he has been held accountable to nothing and nobody save himself and his own great will. It has matter not that accusations so grave against General Wood's conduct in Cuba as to provoke an effort to have his administration investigated. Wood was supremely indifferent to his accusers. Had not President Roosevelt in a public speech denounced them as "branded with infamy!" So Roosevelt's congressmen and Roosevelt's administration blocked absolutely all inquiry as to Wood's conduct in Cuba. Wood's acceptance of costly gifts from the "Pearl of Alsia," a well-known Havana gambling concern, was published everywhere. It was all right with Roosevelt if Wood did it. When the question of Cuban reciprocity was pending before Congress Wood busied himself seeking to influence legislation, employing Cuban funds to promote reciprocity. It happened at the same time that the beet sugar people of the West appealed to Secretary of the Department of Agriculture, James Wilson, as their friend, to say a word to congressmen. Not regarding it as proper for an executive officer to appear to meddle with the affairs of the legislative branch of the government, Mr Wilson declined. But it was different with Wood. He could do what no other executive officer dared to attempt. Wood had no sooner become governor general of Cuba than he set [illegible] with certain newspaper writers to discredit the administration of his predecessor, General Brook, and to boost the administration of General Wood. One of Wood's favored proteges in the exploitation of his autocratic glories was one Bellars, a former convict in the Florida penitentiary. Wood, through this fellow and oth-

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

There will be no Labor Day observance this year because there are not enough mechanics here to get up a celebration. They have been driven out of the country by the missionaries who found it impossible to control their votes. The fact should be an object lesson to other mechanics and "small farmers" considering the question of removing to the Islands.

J H Schnack again urges in the Advertiser that Kalihi camp be closed and that the poor people there, who were burned out over three years ago, be turned into the streets. There may not be mercenary motives behind the attitude of the gentleman, but the circumstances haloing the case impels us to say "The least said about it the better"—for Mr Schnack.

The Home Rule candidates for the Senate endorsed by the Democratic Central Committee in the last campaign were Edgar Caypless and J P Makainai. Prince David was nominated straight but resigned later and the vacancy was never filled. Charles Notley was never formally endorsed by the Democrats, although he had the benefit of the money they put up for campaign purposes and received some of their votes.

Land-owners are beginning to find out the absurdness of valuations placed on property during the balloon boom of a few years ago. Gradually land prices will settle into a reasonable business groove and it will no longer be necessary to pay [illegible] per grain of sand for a place to stand on. Large holders of land and speculators were entirely to blame for the fictitious boom and they must and should be the sufferers. Grab-all ideas in regard to rents will also lose their wind and a sensible basis in that line will eventually be realized.

Tourists might take notice that the Advertiser has branded Honolulu as a mosquito ridden city. The Advertiser also points out that in the mosquito scourge any one coming here is liable to dengue fever or almost any other disease that strikes the country. Congressman McCleary and other recent visitors have been frightened out of the country by the absurd, sensational bosh of the morning paper.

The "Flag Raising Day" celebration at Kahului turned out to be very much of a failure, as we predicted it would. The program was a good one and the purses large and satisfactory, but the crowd was conspicuous by its absence. It is stated that the committee in charge lost $600 on the venture. The raggedness of the grandstand was but a fitting rebuke to a spirit that would "celebrate" on a day when the hearts of the people at large were naturally moved to sadness and their eyes to tears.

James J Corbett has been effectually and finally relegated to a lower shelf of pugilism. That he will rise again is impossible, owing to his age. He is a most thorough fighter from a scietific standpoint but no longer has the steam to keep him going through a long bout. If he enters the ring again in his class it will necessarily be in five round contests. Honolulu friends of Corbett supported him last night on the score of his "science" in the art rather than his ability to harm Jefferies. They banked on his ability to stand clear of his antagonist to the end of the contest and not that he would make any impression by his blows on the California giant.

The Friend deplores the establishment of so many beer saloons on the plea that every saloon "creates" a certain amount of business and that a superfluity of saloons means more drinking. There are bad and good things to be said about the beer license scheme, but the chief argument against them is that the low license fee has admitted into the business a number of cheap concerns that must scramble for trade. It is that class that "creates" drinking and drinkers, and does the harm. It seems to us that a better law would have been one providing a uniform license of $500 for the sale of any kind of liquors and to be located within any part of the city upon consent of the neighboring residents.

The mosquito meeting tonight will be an important affair. It will have to discuss the question whether or not the mosquito is an agency for the spread of diseases, and, if so, the surest and best means of exterminating the insect. The doctors will doubtless assure the meeting that the mosquito is a "dead shot," and others at the meeting will forthwith fall in behind the leaders of the pack, without giving one second to thought on the matter. As a matter of fact the mosquito theory has never been demonstrated. It came nearer it in Cuba in yellow fever experiments; but it was proved that in localities where there were no mosquitoes there was fever, while in others where the mosquitoes abounded there was none. The local mosquito crusade looks to us like a scheme of the Board of Health to spend a lot of public money for the benefit of Republican party pets.

We learn that Treasurer Kepoikai has received a marked copy of The Friend, containing an article by Rev W D Westervelt on "Temperance Issues" and condemning the new beer license system. A thing that is worth doing at all is worth doing well. It is not known whether Mr Westervelt intended by his article to impress the Treasurer or to put the blame for the enforcement of the law upon that official. In either case it would probably have been more decorous as well business like to have seen Mr Kepoikai in person than in mailing him an already published newspaper dissertation.

So long as the Republican party remains in power in the United States, just so long will it be futile for the planters to establish a refinery in Hawaii and try to sell refined sugars on the Mainland. The mighty trust has the mainland market and the mainland people in the hollow of its hands; and it is backed up by President Roosevelt and the Republican party. The millions that Hawaiian planters might hurl against the trust would be like rain drops on the rock-ribbed heights of Gibralter. It would be merely a question of days when the trust would have the Hawaiian refiners at its feet suing for mercy. Only until a Democratic administration is in power and an iron heel is planted firmly upon the neck of the sugar trust will there be a chance for independent refineries in these islands.

Would Play Honolulu.

P C Beamer, the promoter of baseball in Hilo tells the Tribune to say to Honolulu that the Hilo boys are ready to play ball with any comers. He cites the last league game in Hilo, in which but two errors were made as a criterion of the kind of players we have. A second league is now being formed in Hilo which will add to the growing interest in the game.—Hilo Tribune.

A Mother's Responsibility

A great responsibility rests upon mothers at the time their daughters are budding into womanhood. If your daughter is pale, complains of weakness, is "tired out" upon slight exertion; if she is troubled with headache or backache, pain in the side; if her temper is fitful and her appetite poor, she is in a condition of extreme peril, a fit subject for that most dreaded of all diseases—consumption. If you notice any of these symptoms lose no time in procuring

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

They will assist your daughter to develop properly and regularly; they will enrich the blood, strengthen the nerves, and all danger of consumption and premature death will be averted.

Mrs. John Tansey, of 130 Baker Street, Detroit, Mich., says: "We had a serious time with my daughter. She did not have any serious illness but seemed to gradually waste away. Our doctor called the disease by an odd name which as I afterward learned, meant lack of blood.

"We finally found a medicine that helped her. After three months' treatment her health was so greatly improved you would not have recognized her. She gained in flesh rapidly and soon was in perfect health. The medicine used was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I have always kept these pills in the house since and have told many mothers about them. They have effected some wonderful cures."

—From the Evening News, Detroit, Mich.

All the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves are contained, in a condensed form, in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They are a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood, and restore the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of whatever nature.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold in boxes (never in loose bulk) at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

It will come off on the last Sunday of this month (Aug. 30) in St Andrew's Cathedral, and during the morning Hawaiian service at 9:30 o'clock. The service will be in the usual impressive way and will doubtless be attended by a large number of the popular young couple's friends.

The Big Fight.

The Jeffries-Corbett fight was the chief thing of interest in the city last evening. For two solid hours the billiard room of the big Young hotel was crowded with people where despatches giving the progress of the battle were read off as they came. The bout was a twenty round go, the principal part of the money to accrue to Jeffries in case he put Corbett out in twenty rounds. Richard K Fox, W W Naughton and other authorities advised their friends to play on Corbett being knocked out within the three-quarters, or under the fifteenth round. In the States betting started even on that, but had changed, before the beginning of the fight, two to one on Jeffries. In Honolulu betting was small and sporadic. As a rule it was straight two to one on a decision. Corbett money cropped up liberally at the end of the third, but disappeared until after the ninth when a little more showed up.

The opinion in some quarters is that the fight was a pool-room affair, made up to give Corbett his "last straw" gracefully and a little parting money. Ten thousand people witnessed the fight, which was held in the Mechanics' pavilion, and the door receipts amounted to $60,000. The results by rounds were as follows.

First round—Even sparring.

Second round—Lively exchange of blows, result in favor of Jeffries.

Third round—Both men fighting strongly.

Fourth round—Corbett tired and steamless.

Fifth round—Jeffries received body blows.

Sixth round—Corbett down nine seconds from a blow on the chin.

Seventh round—Corbett clinches.

Eighth round—Corbett's blows ineffectual.

Ninth round—Corbett stronger.

Tenth round—Corbett thrice knocked down and finally counted out. His seconds throw up the sponge. Jeffries wins.

ers who slopped over about him continually and complacently, took credit for what was due others and laughed at every bad thing that was imputed to him. Returning to Washington at the close of the American occupation of Cuba, Wood loafed at and around the White House. Although an officer of the army and liable to duty, for months and months he was allowed to idle in Washington, doing nothing, unassigned, doing utterly nothing of which the public could learn except to chase across country with Roosevelt and play slap-stick with him in the Roosevelt White House playroom.

At last the time comes for Wood to be moving. The best of friends must some time tire of each other's company. So it is arranged for Wood to go to the Philippines, there, in the due course of expeditious arrangement, to be military chieftain of the archipelago. Now, having been made major general, with abominable injustice preferred above officers of stainless record to whom the country is in debt, he is placed in line to outrank the oldest and best generals in the army—to be commander of them all. Men who have been life-time soldiers, trained at the United States military academy, educated in the service schools and winning honors in those higher schools of responsibility of camp, field, campaign and battle, who never were found wanting in any hour of danger, are to be forever debarred of the American soldier's brightest hope, to command American armies, all certain to be retired in order to make the best possible place for Roosevelt's pet. But it is not all to be an easy rout step march to more glory for would-be Major General Wood. The United States Senate is yet to consider the nomination of Wood. President Roosevelt was informed by several Senators as soon as he returned from his western vote and-varmint hunt that if he sent to the Senate the name of Leonard Wood to be Major General, a strong effort would be made to defeat his confirmation. Nearly all the members of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs have expressed themselves as opposed to Wood, at least on the ground that he has not done enough to merit this extraordinary advancement. These Senators have said that if the President persists, there will be an investigation of all Wood's doings in Cuba. The members of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs are Hawley, Proctor, Warren, Quarles, Scott, Foraker and Alger, republicans, and Bates, Cockrell and Pettus, democrats, with one democratic vacancy left by the retirement of Harris, of Kansas. Should the republicans weaken, as they may do, and as many have recently done before the tide of Rooseveltism in state politics, such democrats as Bates, Cockrell and Pettus, all three grand old soldiers and lovers of justice, are hardly the sort of men to permit this flagrant favoritism and undeserved recognition to pass unresisted and unrebuked. Wood's promotion to be major general in the regular army, is, in all conscience, bad enough, but the certainty that, in the ordinary course of human events, this erstwhile army doctor, this military pill-peddler is to be lieutenant general and commander of the United States army is quite more than enough to disgust the civilized world.

Announcement.

The first English public service of the Hoomana Naauao or Christian Science church, of which the Rev J Kekipi is the head, will be held tomorrow evening at 7:30 in the church off King street, near Alapai. The sermon which will be in English, is to be given by the Rev Mary O Conrad and she will take as her text the 12th Verse, 4th Chapter of John the First. All friends and those interested in the church are invited to be present.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

With so many teams in the field Hilo should be readily accomodated in the matter of a baseball contest. If the League teams are engaged the Kakaako nine might be detailed to take care of the ease.

Before putting up any money the public should be informed how many Republican leeches are to be provided for in this morquito campaign. The public is willing to stand for a few, but should not put up for an army or vote-harvesters at this time.

The first thing the mosquito committee should do is to pour a little oil over the Advertiser. That paper, in its dengue scare and mosquito trade, has done more in the past eight months to deter tourist travel than all the mosquitoes combined and we demand that it get its share of petroleum.

Just what objection the Advertiser has in referring to the hanging of the late King Kalakaua's grandfather for murder is hard to see, unless it be a mean attempt to slur the native Hawaiians. Have not ancestors of some of the Advertiser's crowd been hanged? Don't all say "yes' at once.

It is not hard to understand how the venerable Dr Sereno Bishop could condone swearing, under certain circumstances. Some years ago when he was writing for the Washington Star over the name of "Kamehameha" he referred one of his stories, which he was about to send off, to a friend for perusal and an opinion. "Well," observed the friend, story is well written but the trouble is it is not true." "Oh," exclaimed the Doctor, without any show of embarrassment, "I know it is not true but it will help our side, you see." A man like that would not only condone swearing but would set the whole community to "cussing" if it would "help our side."

Oh, Hawaiian women! Bystander of the Sunday Advertiser calls you all "a bunch of cocoanut-oil washines." That's very nice; yet he and others of his kind would like "a sniff" of it now and then, and don't let it be forgotten either, instead of the perspired stench powderings and soapings of their kind. Remember, wahines; it's up to you now to defend yourselves and smite them good and hard.

The Maui News states that there will be no more racing at Kahului on August 12. We had guessed as much. There is little fun in losing $600 on a day's fun, even for "prosperous" central Mauites. As we pointed out before there is a sentiment connected with the matter that will continue to prevent harmony between the day and a program of sports. Maui has done well to "cutit out."

Bishop Libert is to be given a series of receptions upon his return to Honolulu. The new Bishop, who was already popular with his people, has shown himself since his appointment to be just the man for the office. An aggressive campaign in Church work is promised and will undoubtedly be realized. Bishop Libert has the full confidence and esteem of his associates which is a great point in his favor to begin with.

One saloon in town has abolished the practice of serving free lunches and others will likely follow. The end may be that the practice is abandoned altogether. The system has been a convenience and perhaps a saving to a large number of men, but it has been expensive to the saloon keepers and hard on the restaurants. At the same time the practice has encouraged drinking by adding to the attractions of drinking places.

The cars of the Rapid Transit Company did an immense business yesterday, fairly coining money. This money, which comes from the people in small amounts, foots up in the end to large sums to swell the bank accounts of magnates of a corporation. The Government should by all means own the Rapid Transit system. Men, women and children of Honolulu keep it up and its profits come out of them. Our contention is that the public is entitled to and should receive any benefi s that it may be possible to derive from the system. Will the next Legis'ature be of a sort that will have the backbone to tackle the proposition?

There may be thousands of industrious farmers in the United States who would come here if there was any show for them. But can the "small farmer" advocates point to one instance in which a success has been made of their pet industry? Fingers are promptly levelled in the direction of Wahiawa. But as a matter of fact about all the people have been raising there in several years is a continuous crop of cut worms. Even Byron O Clark, who has had to whistle day and night for Colony, admits that, when cornered. A colony that started under the best of auspices, and has been encouraged in every possible way, to make a failure of its work is hardly a good thing to hold up as a drawing card for "small farmers."

Should Uncle Sam take Prince Ferdinand, of Roumania, seriously he is liable to strike into a hornet's nest. The European atmosphere has needed clearing for nearly thirty years, and it will take only the interference of an outsider to set things going. Undoubtedly every nation of Europe would take a hand in any trouble between the United States and Roumania. It is well enough for a Honolulu paper to pun that Rhode Island might have to be detailed to take care of the Roumanian case. Rhode Island might go into it, but it will take the whole United States and more too to get Rhode Island out of it. There's the rub.

The preposterously heavy sentences in the disbarment cases may excite the pleasure of the Maui News man, but we doubt very much that any unbiassed, honest citizen of Maui accepted the matter in the same spirit. Our information from Maui is that the people accepted THE INDEPENDENT's diagnosis of the rulings, i. e.: That they were based upon malice and the prejudice of Chief Justice Frear, and Justice Perry against three of the defendants. We are constrained to agree that the Supreme Court should be increased to consist of five members, the additional two members being of the caliber and independence of Justice Galbraith.

Since we come to think of it, we believe there was raised in the Islands in 1868 nearly enough wheat to fill a Kansas farmer's wagon for one trip into town. Holy smoke, how things were humming on account of it! But is it not strange that the "small farmers" of those days and their sons have not continued in the business, if it was so profitable as some people would make out? The long and short of this "small farmers" agitation is that certain people have large tracts of land to sell. They have failed repeatedly to deceive local people with their schemes and are now seeking to hoodwink foreigners into their gold brick propositions. "Honesty is the best policy."

There is a great deal unexplained in the matter of the receipt of news at the Young hotel Friday night in regard to the Jeffries-Corbett fight. It now appears that when the result of the fifth round was announced the fight was over and it was known in town that Jeffries had won. One man, who had secured the news of the end from the cable office, actually got a bet with a Corbett man in the Young hotel who had heard only the results up to the beginning of the sixth round. It was an hour later before the end of the fight was announced. To a man up a tree it looks like there was a trick in this business. Had there been much Corbett money floating around some of those on the inside would have made a haul.

In Saturday's baseball games the Honolulus defeated the Mailes 8 to 2. The Punahous basted the Kamehamehas 5 to 1, the big score being rolled up in a single inning.

While the people of Maui don't kick against the disbarment of Humphreys and Davis, still they believe that three Galbraiths on the Supreme bench would be desirable.—Maui News.

Rep James D Lewis, of Hilo, was this morning admitted by Judge De Bolt to practice law in the lower courts on the motion of T McCants Stewart. He was endorsed by E C Winston and W H Corey.

The Alumni of St Louis College are planning a permanent organization. About fifty held a meeting yesterday morning and laid the groundwork for the plan. It is estimated that there are 3,000 graduates in the Islands, dating back to 1883.

Several hundred Portuguese celebrated the Feast day of the Titular at the church of "Our Lady of the Mount" in Kalihi yesterday. The Concordia band supplied music. The crowds to and from Kalihi jammed the cars for several hours.

The political meeting in Waialua Saturday night was held at the Queen's place near Haleiwa. The crowd was a mixed one, composed of Home Rulers and Republicans, although the speaking was in the interest of the former party. Col Iaukea, Senator Kalaukalani and others spoke.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Iolani Guild of Hawaiian Women will meet at St Andrew's cathedral at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Cars on the waterfront line are now running through from the King street bridge to the Honolulu Iron Works.

Forester Hall, accompanied by H M Von Holt, left yesterday to explore the forests of Waianae range.

Manager Lake and wife, of the Young hotel, will accompany the party in the Kinau tomorrow to the volcano.

Assessor Pratt has started a new bunch of tax suits. This time they are against employes of the Honolulu Iron Works.

The big stermer Korea got in early this morning from the Orient and will sail at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning for San Francisco.

Annie Hapai has entered suit against her husband, Charles L Hapai, for divorce. Judge De Bolt on Saturday issued an injunction restraining defendant from interfering with plaintiff.

The report of the findings of the court martial in the case of Private Miller, a mail carrier, who was charged with absenting himself from camp without leave, has been sent to Colonel Jones.

The "Skeet-Go" Meeting.

The mosquito, or "job-making," committee had a fairly well attended meeting in the makai ball room of the young hotel last evening. After considerable discussion on various phases of the question the following resolution was offered and adopted:

"Whereas, the local Board of Health, realizing the danger to health and the annoyance caused by the presence of mosquitoes, has made a decided move to rid this place of the pest, and

"Whereas, knowing that while the Board of Health will be able to prevent the mosquito from becoming a menace to health, this body cannot effectually keep this pest under control without the cooperation of the citizens, therefore,

"Resolved, that the citizens, of this community do hereby pledge their hearty and continuous assistance to the Board of Health in this campaign."

C B Cooper, M D, president Board of Health, chairman; F W Macfarlane, Honolulu Chamber of Commerce; P R Helm, Merchants' Association: F C Smith, Hawaii Promotion Committee; P M Pond, Research Club; F R Day, M D, Medical Association; D L Van Dine, U S Experiment Station; L E Cofer, U S Marine Hospital Service; W A Bryan, Bishop Museum; C H Tracy, sanitary officer Board of Health; H E Cooper, Supt Public Works; Major W B Davis, U S A, Camp McKinley; A T Atkinson, Supt Public Instruction.

Reception to New Bishop.

There will be a reception and mass at the Roman Catholic cathedral at 8 o'clock next Friday morning, or as soon thereafter as it may be necessary for the Bishop to arrive from his vessel, the Alameda, which should arrive about 7 o'clock. In the afternoon at 1 o'clock there will be a luau at the Mission. On Saturday evening from 8 to 10 there will be a public reception at the Mission. On Sunday there will be the Pontifical High Mass in the morning and Solemn Benediction in the evening. On Monday evening a banquet will be given at the Hawaiian hotel in honor of Bishop Libert.

We'll Go You.

The Independent and Capt Berger are "sassing" each other. Our money is up on the Kappelmeister.—Maui News.

Macfarlanes Return.

Colonel G W Macfarlane and wife and Governor A S Cleghorn returned this morning from a most pleasant tour of the Orient. They first visited China, seeing the sights of the principal cities. Colonel Macfarlane was very much impressed with Shanghai which he thinks has an immense future before it. After leaving China the party visited Yokohama, Tokio and numerous other parts of Japan. Altogether the tour was a most pleasant one and the members of the party return entirely satisfied with it.

A Printer's Mix-Up.

An Arkansas printer, in making up the forms in a hurry the other day, got a marriage and a grocer's advertisement mixed up so that it read as follows: "John Brown and Ida Gray were united in the holy sauerkraut by the quart or barrel. Mr Brown is a well known young codfish at 10 cents per pound, while the bride, Miss Gray has some nice pig's feet which will be sold cheaper than any in town."

OPPOSITION TO LEONARD WOOD.

Before this letter is read the statute of limitations will have run, and Mr Perry S Heath, Secretary of the Republican National Committee and former First Assistant Postmaster General, and the Lord knows how many more, will be free from danger of indictment on account of anything that may have come or will come out of the present investigation of Post Office Department rottenness. It is the general belief here among the people who are "in the know," that Perry Heath was one of the first men spotted by Bristow, and enough crookedness found to bring him to the bar of justice. It also believed that Hanna then went to see the President and a deal was made whereby Heath's scalp was saved and the party saved the humiliation and degradation of seeing its Secretary of its national committee dragged before the bar of justice for boodling. On the last day of July, however, the statute of limitations allows Heath and all others who are not now in the clutches of the law, and who quit the department three years ago, to breath freely and give the people the "hearse" hoot." Thus do some people go unwhipped of justice and the people never will know who are in order to chastise them at the ballot box should they ever ask for office in future. The President has now demanded of Bristow that he get through with the investigation by the first of September. In other words, the thing must be out of the way before Congress convenes, and any man who is not caught by that time will go free. Until there is a change of administration the people never will know how much was stolen by the postal gang.

I wish to call the attention of Secretary Cortelyou and the Department of Commerce, whose business it is to obtain and publish facts against the trusts, to at least one great trust that is doing business openly and in most brazen defiance of the laws. The Iron Age of July 25, page 29, contains details of "The Steel Billet Pool." This trust is a revival of the association which has at intervals, been doing business for many years. The members of this new pool are the United States Steel Corporation, Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, Wheeling Steel and Iron Company, Cambria Steel Company, Pennsylvania Steel Company, Lackawanna Steel Company and Maryland Steel Company. Meetings are held at New York every day, at which inquiries and sales are regularly reported. The agreement refers exclusively to prices which have been established for the principal points of consumption, and which are quoted in the Iron Age. This trust, like its prototypes, the Steel-rail Pool, the Sheet-steel Association, and dozens of others, with which the United States Steel Corporation is mixed up, are trusts in every sense of the word, not only under the Sherman anti trust law, but in the eyes of the common law. All the Department has to do is to obtain, in legal manner, the facts as published in regard to all these trusts and the Attorney-General will have no trouble in squelching them. Why are these great law-breakers not now at the bar of justice? Are the trusts above the laws?

TUESDAY, AUG. 18, 1903.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Public works are almost at a standstill while our strenuous and extravagant Superintendent is taking a turn around the circle and incidentally enjoying the cool air of Hawaii's mountains.

We would suggest to the Maui Wine & Liquor Co. that it engage in the soda water and ginger ale business. There is big money in selling those products to Honolulu suckers on race days at 25 cents a bottle.

Adopting Rev Mr Westervelt's say-so, it is to be presumed that several thousand copies of Frazier's hand-book (?) will now be sent to the Orient. The Empress line of steamers from Yokohama to Vancouver, should, however, pay all of the expenses and a bonus.

Prof Rebec has some excellent ideas as to how Congress could help us. Experience has taught, however, that Congress will not "help us" as long as it can get out of it, save to relieve the Islands of nearly $2,000,000 in revenue per annum. The United States made the best bargain of its history in annexing Hawaii and is getting all it possibly can out of that bargain. Hawaii being too small and weak to kick, must take her soup and be good.

The inspectors of the Board of Health were yesterday assigned blocks in the city which they will be expected to rid of mosquito breeding places. That is all right, as the inspectors draw big salaries and have for quite a while needed something to do. What the community wants to know is as to how and where the money being raised will be used. Will it go to pay an army of Republican suckers, who will merely be in the way of the regular inspectors?

Ethel Watts Mumford, a lady well known in Honolulu, has published in The Red Book a story entitled "The Martyrdom of Rensdale." The scene is laid on Hawaii and Rensdale, the hero, is a half-caste chief. He contracts the Chinese disease and voluntarily goes to Molokai where he proves of great assistance to his fellow sufferers. The story contains enough of fact to make it interesting, although some of the exaggerations and errors detract from its value as substantial literature.

In the coming County elections it is up to the Hawaiian party to pick out the best available men, and we believe it should be done irrespective of party affiliations. We are perfectly aware that although in the majority, as far as numbers are concerned, there are not enough of them in the party's own ranks sufficiently capable of coping with the new situation. The party should go beyond its own ranks and select from the ranks of others such men as are known to be efficient and capable.

Should a Democratic President be elected next year, which is daily becoming more probable, where, oh, where will Frear and Perry come off? If there is one thing the Democrats view with more ill-favor than another it is the presence in the courts of politics and judgment in which personal animosities are allowed to figure. The records of these two justices of the Supreme Court are such as to warrant the belief that their services would be dispensed with in short order by a Democratic President.

The fight for the leadership of the G A R is one of politics, an unfortunate and unseemly situation. General Black is a Republican and General Miles a Democrat. A large majority of the G A R being Republicans, General Miles, who is the ab'est man in the United States for the place, and is entitled to it, will be turned down, and a shrivelled, old duffer, who happens to be on the lucky side of politics, will get there. It is a case of the ins and the outs, and shows what politics will do for some people.

The proposed new market in Kekaulike street will be in the edge of Chinatown and the plague area of nearly four years ago. In course of time the locality may be expected to carry much the same conditions as prevailed before the great fire. Precautions should, then, be taken at the start, and constantly and rigidly followed up, in the interest of proper sanitary measures at the market. Far more vigilance will be required there than at the present market and no possible chances should be taken.

One citizen in a buzzy belt of mosquitoes does not hope to exterminate the pest on his own premises for the reason that the whole country around is thickly infested; but he has thought out a scheme to drive them from his stamping grounds. Petroleum not only destroys larvae, but is highly nauseous to the grown mosquito and causes the latter to hunt other parts. The gentleman purposes gathering up all the old tin cans he can find, partially fill them with oil and arrange them all about to his place. This will cause the mosquitoes to move to the next yard. His neighbor will be induced to follow the example, the next man the same and so on until the pest has been driven away. How's that for an idea?

Although the President now has the authority to proceed with negotiations for the Nicaragua canal, it is hardly possible that such will be done. Despite Congressional sanction and all that the Chief Executive would not likely proceed in a matter of such vast importance without detailed and explicit instructions. There is a big chance that Congress may be in favor of amending the Canal Bill to more nearly conform to the ideas of Colombia, in which case the President could ill afford to act, thereby losing friends and support at a critical time.

The Independent should not strain itself in telling how poor a chance the small farmer has in Hawaii. The chance it fears he will come and take is one to vote against a Home Rule government of embezzlers by embezzlers and for embezzlers.—Advertiser.

The fear THE INDEPENDENT entertains for the small farmer is that he will be fleeced and driven out of the country by the same crowd that froze out the mechanics last year. As there is not the remotest chance for the small farmer to make money in the Islands, the only object in getting him here would seem to be to deprive him of whatever he might already have.

The case of the Postoffice employee who was yesterday dishonorably discharged from the National Guard and subjected to a fine of $10 for absenting himself from camp duty without leave, brings up an interesting question. According to the man's story he was required by Uncle Sam to be at the Postoffice to carry the mails and the same gentleman demanded his presence in camp at the same time. In other words, he was placed between the devil and the deep sea. If the central government requires or desires its employees to belong to the National Guard it should either release them from duty for drill and encampment duties or else exempt them from court-martial. That's our manao.

A report is current that a strenuous Hawaiian Republican Senator believes in weeding all Hawaiians who associate with Home Rulers and Democrats out of the dominant party. Yet this same person claims that he was elected by the Home Rulers, and not by the Republicans; and furthermore, he believes in feeling around Home Rulers, and making promises to them and then not fulfilling them. He is inconsistent and in his attitude, he is attempting to cover his own strenuosity, making those he is training with believe that he is an earnest and sincere Republican patriot. Yes, we believe he is sincere as far as receiving his quota of the quid pro quo for services rendered by him to his party, and now he wishes to down others who do not think the way he wants them to. Give him all the rope possible, and, by gosh, he'll hang himself yet.

Prof C A Herring has placed a large painting of Uncle Sam and Miss Hawaii over the front entrance of the Aloha saloon at Richards and Queen streets. It is a clever piece of work.

Girls to Entertain.

There will be an entertainment by the Hawaiian and Chinese girls of the two branches of the Girls' Friendly Society, at St Andrew's Sunday school house on September 1st. Some of the daughters of Honolulu families are being instructed in the vocal music for the occasion by Miss Mathilda Walker, whose leadership guarantees a treat in the musical features. Besides the music there will be pretty marches and a distinctive "Lei March" which will be performed by Hawaiian girls representing native flowers; the Norwegian girls will represent lillies, the flower of the Girls' Friendly Society. The young girls of the Junior Auxiliary of the Priory will also assist. The gardener's parts will be taken by the boys of St Peter's choir.

The G F S girls are working for a piano for the new St Elizabeth's House, and have been most faithful in drilling all vacation. It is hoped that all the friends will attend. Tickets adults 25 cents, children 10 cents; reserved seats extra at the option of friends. Miss Walker, Mrs James Kaulia and Mrs Folsom will provide the piano music, and guitar and ukulele will accompany the native songs. Rev Kong Yin Tet has written a Chinese version of one of the songs, and Philip Dodge has composed a song of the Maile especially for this occasion.

Will Entertain.

The Engineering Association decided last night to have a banquet or somoether form of entertainment on the evening of the annual meeting, which will be held next month. F W Beardslee, G P Dennison, W G Hall and B J Pratt were appointed a committee to make arrangements. This committee will report back to a special meeting.

Miller Sentenced.

Sergeant James H Miller, a mail carrier, who was court martialled for absenting himself from the camp at Kapiolani park in June without permission, has been fined $10 and dishonorably discharged from the service. The plea of the man was that if he absented himself five days from the postoffice he would be in danger of losing his position. Following is the order, issued yesterday, covering the case:

GENERAL ORDERS NO. 52.

A regimental court martial having found Sergeant James H Miller, Co "C," 1st Regt N G H, guilty of breaking furlough or leave in violation of Section 28 of the Special Session Laws of 1895, and having sentenced him to pay a fine of Ten Dollars ($10.00) and be dishonorably discharged from the service; the sentence of the Court is approved.

Double Contempt.

Millie Lancaster, who had been cited to appear for contempt of court for not paying the alimony awarded to his divorced wife, skipped out on the Korea yesterday. The court heard of his intended departure and issued an order for his appearance forthwith. Deputy Sheriff Albert McGurn made the following return to the order:

"Not being allowed to pass the gangway leading to the deck of the S S Korea, and knowing that the within named Millie Lancaster, defendant, was a passenger by the said S S Korea bound for San Francisco, U S A, the service of the within writ was therefore not made on said defendant, Millie Lancaster."

Democrats Meet.

Col C J McCarthy presided at the adjourned meeting of the Democratic Central Committee last night and Edmund Hart acted as secretary. It was decided to leave the matter of filling vacancies on the committee to the chairman. Col McCarthy announced the following names, which will be appointed if they accept: J H Fiynn, R H Trent, W B Scott, E L Like, R Wm Holt and E A McInerny.

After some informal discussion adjournment was taken subject to the call of the chair

Novel Entertainment.

Prince and Princess Kawananakoa entertained about a hundred prominent people at the Campbell home near Diamond Head last evening. The leading feature of the evening was a diversified program presented by Mr Frear, an English traveller. This was held in a big tent on the lawn. Refreshments were served and the entertainment was made most delightful in every respect.

Dr A M Atherton, of Honolulu, who is seriously ill at Liberty, N Y, was married yesterday at the latter place to Miss Ellen L Baker, of Providence. The ceremony took place in the sick room. Mrs Atherton and two sisters of the young man were present.

At the Baseball League meeting yesterday the protest of the Elks, filed last week, to the ruling of Umpire Lemon in the game with Punahou was overruled. The protest of the Mailes against the game on Memorial Day was also disallowed. This means that all of the games will stand.

EMPLOYING JAPANESE.

After agitations of a pronounced type in most parts of the United States, the positive expression of labor organizations, the action of the Territorial Legislature and the general and explicit protest of citizens generally against the employment Asiatics on public works it was believed that citizen labor would be vouchsafed a show here when a show was to be given. The Territorial Government has been bad enough, God knows, in allowing contracts to be sub-let into the hands of Japanese. That Waialae road contract is still fresh in the mind of the workingman. But it seems that the Federal authorities have even less concern about citizen labor, and the protection of Americans in the Islands, than our own happy-go-lucky administration. All of the central government's contracts here have been small, but even those have, so far as possible, found their way into Japanese hands. Another government contract has fallen into the hands of Japanese, and there is nothing in the past or present indications to show that the work at Pearl harbor will not be done by Japanese, unless the idle citizen workingmen get together and make a protest that will stick.

A gang of some half a dozen citizen dredgermen stood together in a group near Naval Wharf No. 1 this morning. Cotton Bros. dredger stood some fifty feet away from the wharf and was starting in to dredge the naval slips there. From stem to stern the machine was manned by—Japanese! The few officers were alone citizens of the United States, the rest being coolies. The citizen workmen, all of whom were born in the United States, watched the proceeding with deep interest. It was a lesson to them never to be forgotten. Far from their native homes, in an outpost of the United States, seeking work—and to be supplied with the spectacle of Uncle Sam walking around them and giving desirable employment to coolies who are not and cannot become American citizens.

This Federal dredging contract was let by Captain Rodman to Cotton Bros. Rodman claims to have no control over the labor a contractor may wish to employ. It is understood that Cotton Bros. claim that they lost money on the Pearl harbor contract and desired to make it up on the Honolulu harbor work by the employment of cheap labor. Captain Parker, of the dredger, is directly responsible for the retention of Japanese.

In view of the sentiment in regard to Japanese, and the exigencies of the moment, neither of the excuses are justified by any circumstance whatever. Captain Rodman should know what kind of labor is to be employed on Federal works and should see to it that Japanese are not employed. Cotton Bros., if they expect to get work from American citizens (and no one else in the Islands has anything for them), should employ citizens. In permitting the employment of Japanese on the dredger, Captain Rodman and Cotton Bros. have deliberately ignored the expressed wishes of The Builders & Traders Union, the Legislature and every labor organization in this country. They have gone diametrically opposite to the general sentiment, and deserve all the censure that can be given them.

September 7 is Labor Day, the day when the American workingmen get together, touch shoulders and compare notes. We hope that on that day the citizen mechanics and laborers of these Islands will get together, pass resolutions condemning Rodman and Cotton Bros. and send a formal and forceful protest to Washington against the employment of Asiatics on the dredger or in other public capacities. If worked properly such a move would bring these and other gentleman up with a round turn and be lasting in its effect.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The first thing the Builders and Traders Union should do upon the arrival of Admiral Terry next Friday is to present to him a vigorous protest against the employment of Japanese to dredge the slips at the naval wharves. This un-American fluke should be nipped squarely in the bud.

H Birbe, Jr, promoter, manipulator, ward-heeler and sand lot politician, has gone into the business of small farming. His experiment will be watched with interest, particularly by predecessors that have ignominiously failed in the same line. Cut worms still fetch a rather sorry price in the market, from all accounts.

The Advertiser has flared up at the Land Commissioner on account of the conservative manner of that official in dealing with public lands, and alleged settlers and "small farmers" from abroad. The cause of the rumpus seems to be that the Commissioner endeavors to tell the truth about land and farming possibilities, and will not lend himself to the present scheme of fleecing a lot of honest clod-hoppers from the mainland out of their desperately hard-earned savings!

Christian Science, like a great many other things, hinges upon faith. Believe implicitly that your health is good, and it is good. But if you feel bad it is because you do not believe you feel well. Believe your neck is not broken and it is not broken; but if you lose your grip on that belief and in the full efficacy of prayer—watch out! Verily, Christian Science is a wonderful thing.

The appointment of F W Macfarlane to be Commissioner to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition is entirely satisfactory over our way. Mr Macfarlane was born here, has the details of the country at his finger tips and knows how to supply information in an interesting way to inquirers. Being a successful and substantial business man, his word at St Louis on industrial and financial subjects will be readily accepted. Governor Dole could hardly have made a choice that would have been so generally acceptable.

The slogan in the County campaign should be "good men." If the native party can find suitable candidates in its ranks—men of ability and unquestioned honesty—it is the plain duty to work tooth and nail for them; but if such men cannot be found in the ranks to fill all of the positions, there is no good reason why party lines should not be crossed and better men of other parties, if such there are, endorsed. To have good officials in the County governments is of more importance at this time than the top rails of party fences. Think that over.

The Advertiser, replying to our statement that General Black, aspirant for the office of commander of the G A R, was a Republican, says:

It happens that General John C Black is a lifelong Democrat and the man who, when he made the nominating speech for Cleveland in the Democratic National convention of 1884, said that he loved him "for the enemies he had made."

A "Democrat" that supported McKinley in 1896, McKinley again in 1900 and is already rooting for Roosevelt in the campaign of 1904 is not, at this stage of the game, considered a very good Democrat anywhere.

The charter of the Stevedores Union will make it a part of the National Union. In about two weeks the general laws will apply to Honolulu shipping. No vessel loaded here by Japanese will be discharged at San Francisco, so that local shippers will be obliged to employ only citizen stevedores. The same rule will apply to Seattle, New York, Philadelphia and other large ports. Vessels discharged here by Japanese will not be touch by local stevedores nor will they be discharged at the other end. These way seem extreme measures but are deemed necessary to protect citizens against cheap coolie labor.

During my absence from this Territory Mr A. N. Kepoikai will act for me under power of attorney.

A very successful meeting of the Iolani Guild of Hawaiian Women was held yesterday afternoon in the Sunday School house within St Andrew's Cathedral close, at which Queen Liliuokalani presided. Princess Kalaninuaole and other prominent members were present. Several important committees were appointed. After the meeting, refreshments were served.

Wedding That Failed.

Saturday night a pretty Portuguese girl and her lover, a street car motorman, went out for a stroll and failed to return until next morning. The parents of the fairy were greatly incensed over the matter and on Monday interviewed the young man. He agreed to an immediate marriage and named 1 p m yesterday (Tuesday) as the hour.

The bride-to-be (or not-to be), in the exuberance of her joy, sent word out into the highways and byways, and as the critical period approached her friends began to arrive by dozens and scores. The parents arranged an elaborate collation and supplied other incidentals necessary to give a fitting marriage send-off to the "Belle of Punchbowl Town"—their daughter.

The hour approached but the bridegroom yet tarried. After 12:30 the bride began to feel anxious and nervously glanced down the street at frequent intervals. Upon the approach of each street car the crowd in the house would scurry onto the veranda to witness the coming of the hero.

But, alas, the clock struck one, and there was still no noble, broad-shouldered motorman on hand. The suspense became unbearable, and finally bursted forth in real Portuguese excitement.

An investigation was started and it was found out that the groom-to-be (or not-to-be) had skipped by the Korea two hours before for the Coast, leaving Mary alone with her frantic parents, her experiences and her tears.

"Frivolity" Fresar.

"Frivolity" Fresar, the gentleman who supplied entertainment to the guests of Prince and Princess Kawanankoa last evening, is the whole show in himself. He is a born Englishman but has travelled the world over and presented his programs before the swell folk of many lands. It is Mr Freesar's intention to give a public entertainment in one of the opera houses here should sufficient inducements offer.

Were Badly Treated.

Passengers by the last Siberia for the Coast claimed to have been badly treated by the Customs inspectors at Honolulu. At San Francisco they gave out the following written statement, which was published in the Argonaut of August 10:

"The Siberia called at Honolulu to discharge some cargo, land a few passengers, and receive passengers for San Francisco. As soon as the health officers came on board a squad of custom-house officers followed, and, with the exception of three or four, they looked and acted like a lot of jackals. The passengers from China, Japan, and the Philippines were ordered to get their baggage ready for inspection, although bound for San Francisco, and still six days to sail from that port. They were also notified that what baggage they had in the baggage-room could not be touched, and all would be sealed in the hold. In fact, it was simply seized! The baggage in the rooms was examined, and the owners were dictated to as to how many shirts, collars, etc they could retain. All the rest must be bundled up and sent to the hold and sealed up. One gentleman, who had lived for several years in Japan, had six suits of pajamas. The custom officers said: 'You can only have one,' and bundled the remaining suits in the hold. This was only one instance. The clothing was taken from the rooms, and was rolled up and tied in any fashion; some in paper, some in nothing, and now lies in the lower hold; no receipt given for it; what condition it will be returned in can be imagined. Men and women who have been living and traveling in a tropical climate, and were clothed in duck and flannels, had their heavy clothing sealed up, and many serious cases of sickness are sure to arise before landing in San Francisco. We do not believe there is any law in the United States that permits the Secretary of the Treasury to use such high-handed measures, and trust that the Secretary has made a mistake by being misled by some over-zealous custom house official. The foreigners were treated in the same way as Americans, although most of them were on their way to Europe, via the United States. They one and all declared that they would never travel via San Francisco again. This is also the determination of two-thirds of the Americans on board. The officers on the steamer protested in every way, but were powerless."

The trustees of the baseball league have filed written decisions, overruling the protests of the Elks and the Mailes in the recent controversies.

Dr F L Putnam has been admitted to practice medicine in the Islands and appointed to take the place of Dr Waughp on Kauai for six months.

The Alameda will arrive early tomorrow morning from San Francisco. Among her passengers will be W G Irwin, the Bishop of Zieglma and Admiral Terry.

Judge Gear has signed an order confirming the sale of the Kaalawai property of the late Antone Rosa at public auction to C A Long, trustee, for $6,000. The order is on petition of John F Colburn, executor.

D W Anderson petitions for letters of administration on the estate of Daniel O'Leary, who died intestate leaving $200 in the Bank of Hawaii, $14.05 cash and a few personal effects of no value. The heir known to the petitioner is Mrs Margaret O'Leary, residing at 17 Green street, Cork, Ireland.

A POLITICAL AFFAIR.

In summing up the results of the mosquito meeting yesterday a city paper gives the following as one of the conclusions:

A competent man is to be employed, with the least possible delay, to captain the crusade against the pest.

In other words, the job making "crusade" is under way. A pet of the Republican Central Committee is out of work and must have a job. Therefore, just as we anticipated at the beginning of this "campaign," the place has been made for him. This is the entering wedge for other appointments. It is getting close to the County elections and the "faithful" must be provided for and kept in good humor. The people will have to pay for it; but for what do the people count when pets of the Republican Central Committee are to be looked after?

We repeat again that this mosquito campaign was and is a job-creating and political affair. There are already in the employ of the Board of Health a small army of inspectors, working on large salaries. Their principal employment is wasting time and drawing their pay. These men could and should look after the mosquito breeding places about the city. The employment of additional men proves that the campaign is purely a job-making proposition. Time will show that it is a political affair—mark our words. Certain men have been selected, and they are all hangers on of the Republican Central Committee. No position will be offered to a Home Rule or a Democrat. And yet the committee petitions everybody to subscribe to the fund! That's gall, to say the least of it.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

We wonder now if the old woman of China will cut the Emperor's head off because he received a reform message from the Bow Wongs of Honolulu.

We wonder where Mr Ng Mon War is in this affair. Charles Notley is already on the platform, and surely the lookout should be able to pick up his Celestial confrere somewhere around.

They claim that 0 from 0 leaves nothing. But it seems that 0 from 0 in the Swain burglary case leaves a pair of shoes. It would seem to be about time for David Kaapa to get busy and for Barefoot Bill to take to the lantana.

The office of County Sheriff is an important one. It should be filled by a man of all kinds of ability, of unquestioned honesty, clear reputation and a record in all these respects that is clear. Just how many men Oahu has that will come up to this standard it is hard just now to say. We know of one, however, that will come mighty near the mark.

So the burglary of the O C Swain residence is to be solved. This is truly a peculiar case. First, everything in and about the place was stolen, and the next day the burglars were to call around for the house and lot. When the case was run down, however, it was found that only two chairs were missing. Now it appears that a Porto Rican has been walking around with a pair of Swain's tans on his Trilbies. The whole proposition savors of a fake.

If the mosquito committee really means business it should start out by looking under the houses of Honolulu, particularly those built on filled land. They will find in a large number of cases that the enclosed sites of houses are lower than the lawns and that water gathers there and remains for long periods. As grass grow on the edges of these pools, and the water is sheltered from the heat of the sun, such places form the most prominent of nests for morquitoes.

Is this the attitude of the Land Commissioner as described in his native organ, The Independent?

"The Advertiser has flared up at the Land Commission on account of the conservative manner of that official in dealing with public lands, and alleged settlers and small farmers from abroad. The cause of the rumpus seems to be that the Commissioner refuses to tell the truth about land and farming possibilities, and will not lend himself to the present scheme of fleecing a lot of honest clod-hoppers from the mainland out of their desperately hard-earned savings."

It would be interesting to know if the Land Commissioner really feels that way.—Advertiser.

Yes.

No excuse can be offered for the employment of Japanese coolies to do dredging for the United States government at the naval wharf slips, shutting out hundreds of competent citizens who are out of employment and would gladly take the work. The principle now being worked on on the Pacific Coast and here is that Asiatics are not under ANY CIRCUMSTANCES to be employed on public works. The public has no time nor inclination to consider how Asiatics "got there" on public improvements. Conviction is made complete by their presence, and no official excuse can be in order. The officers at the Naval Station may well take a tumble to themselves or a tumble will be taken for them. Citizens of the Islands are not disposed to stand much more monkey-business in this line.

If it amuses the Advertiser to exaggerate upon the interest taken by Bishop Willis in political affairs in Tonga, well and good. The experience of Hawaii with the Reverend gentleman in this regard was such as to justify the opinion that his course in Tonga will be very close to the mark laid down by the Master. If the Bishop feels the necessity of outside intervention in Tongan affairs (and there is no authority for such feeling other than the words of the Advertiser) there is most probably the best of reasons for it.

The Advertiser, the official organ of the people who believe in and are working to make these Islands a country of sugar barons and semi-slave coolies, finds an opportunity to attack the native in that he is not a satisfactory workman in some cases. The native is not a slave nor will he ever be; he demands full compensation for his hire. That some have failed to give satisfaction in certain lines is not surprising. That is a characteristic of all races. The native, however, does not relish work on the roads any more than any other people.

The Paradise of the Pacific for August, which is now out, contains the character of stuff that will interest and encourage those sought to be reached in the tourist campaign far better than any publication with which we are acquainted. The Legislature took some cognizance of this class of literature, but not anything like it deserved. It will be clearly in keeping with propriety and business judgment for the Tourist Committee to facilitate in every possible way the placing of the Paradise, regularly, in centers of every city and town of the United States. It is the constant hammering of regular publications that pays. Hand-books, as a rule, only interest the garbage man whose burden it is to cart them off.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

A Hotel street car passed under the live wire beyond Nuuanu stream last night just before it fell and killed the Chinaman, Yee Tung.

Experienced employes of the old Hawaiian dredger applied on Cotton Bros dredger at the United States naval slips yesterday for work and were comforted with the statement that the dredger had enough Japanese already in employ to do the work.

The Paradise of the Pacific appeared today. It contains an exceptional diversity of subjects, liberally illustrated. The matter in the paper is of a character that will instruct those in quest of information and interest those to whom things Hawaiian are new.

The birth anniversary of the Emperor of China was observed today at both the Chinese consulate and the United Chinese Society. Yesterday the following despatch was cabled by the local reformers to the Emperor: "Foreign office, Peking Bow Wong Society, Hawaii, congratulations Emperor birthday. Prays restoration power with strength reform Empire."

First Race Failed.

The big international yacht race for the America cup today resulted in failure on account of the wind dying down, leaving both boats to drift over the line. Up to the home stretch the Reliance had decidedly the advantage, being at one time about a mile ahead of her adversary. In the drifting match on the home stretch, however, the Reliance pulled up more and actually passed the Shamrock two miles before the line was reached. Before either boat got in, however, the time limit was out so that it had to be declared no race. This means that the leg will have to be run over again.

The race started at 11 a m New York time, which was about sunrise here. At the start there was little wind and a drifting match was predicted. Both boats started well together. For three hours the wind was shifty, which favored the American yacht and she forged ahead, being a half mile in the lead at 2:35 p m (New York time) and about a mile a half hour later.

So far as reports now are the drifting match began on the home stretch and is supposed to have kept up to the line, Reliance proving the better boat in that sort of racing.

There is considerable betting on the race locally, although wagers are small. As a rule the Reliance is the favorite two to one, but Shamrock money can be got to better advantage than that. There are those who believe that the Englishman is at least the equal of the American and in light winds will win. Others think the American is employing the faint tactics of former years and will easily walk off with the cup when the rub comes. As yet, however, the race belongs to nobody.

The Mullet Trust.

The mullet trust, in spite of the recent removal of the antique fishing regulations, is still working a hardship on poor Hawaiians, though perhaps the natives themselves are a good deal to blame for it. Chinese fishermen have a tacit understanding among themselves that only a limited quantity of mullet shall be caught and offered for sale at the market each day. Three small fishes and no more shall be sold for two bits. In years past, when the native fished in competition with the Chinese, enough mullet to supply a meal for an average sized family could be procured for two bits. In these days the honorable occupation of fishing is set aside for the pursuit of Government billets.—Paradise of the Pacific.

Diseases In Orient.

Dr L E Cofer has sent to the Board of Health a report of health conditions in Japan and China, showing the serious prevalence of plague, cholera and smallpox. His report is as follows:

Yokohama, two weeks to August 1—Plague cases 3, deaths 3.

Kobe, two weeks to August 5—Cholera cases 8, deaths 5.

Nagasaki, two weeks to August 3—Cholera, 1 case and 1 death.

Killed By Live Wire.

Yee Tung, who had just come to town to return from the plantations to return to China, walked into a live wire on the Palama side of King street bridge shortly after 11 o'clock last night and was almost instantly killed. He had just left the Chinese theater and was walking toward Palama with a friend. When just beyond the bridge a telephone wire broke, fell across an electric car wire and into the street, striking the unfortunate Yee Tung.

Mounted police promptly took charge of the situation and warned people from both directions of the danger. In a short time a lineman from the Hawaiian Electric station arrived and cut the wire. He found it to be a wire of the Mutual Telephone Co.

CORRESPONDENCE

Japs on Public Works.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:

I agree most heartily with you in your fight for citizen labor on public works in these Islands. We should, as far as possible, look out for our own—look out for our fellow citizens and such as are eligible to become citizens.

It is from our own people—the white and the native—that the wheels of business in Honolulu derive their momemtum. Nothing of substantial or permanent value comes from Asiatics. As you are well aware money paid to the latter class passes from Oriental to Oriental and finally leaves the Islands, while money reaching our own people in the way of wages falls into the ordinary channels of business and, either directly or indirectly, helps everybody.

I look upon the employment of Asiatics on either Territorial or United States public works in these Islands, as very little short of criminal. When times were good it did not make so much difference, but that so many of our own people are out of work, and actually begging every day for any kind of employment, the matter becomes a serious one. Not a day passes but I receive many appeals in one way and another for aid. These appeals come from whites and natives, and from all classes of mechanics and workmen. And upon investigating the cases I find nearly all of them worthy of assistance. Nearly all the time I carry from one to five workingmen on my shoulders, paying their rent, board bills and other necessary expenses. I do it because I know positively that they are honestly seeking employment and cannot find it. They have been crowded to the wall by Japanese competition, and by that competition have been forced down to a point at which they are unable to help themselves. They even have not money to take them to other fields, but are simply forced to stay here and wait for the chance to make a dollar and to pay their debts. These men, who are competent, sober and industrious, are willing to turn their hands to anything that is honorable and will bring them in enough to live on until times improve.

But the few men I am looking out for are a mere drop in the bucket. From a careful investigation of the matter I am led to believe that there are in Honolulu from 350 to 500 mechanics and workingmen, both white and native, who have not been able to find work in months, and are now reduced to the extremes of poverty. It is absurd to imagine that they desire to remain in that state. They want to work, and will take anything at any price to tide them over.

On top of all this we have the Naval officials employing Japanese to build their cottages, and now to actually do dredging for the accommodation of Uncle Sam's ships, while native and white American citizens and voters are going hungry in the streets. It is a shame; an outrage, and it is well that it happens in Honolulu, for in some other parts of the United States such a state of things would start up the worst kind of riots.

About five months ago the Evening Bulletin kindly published a letter from me in which I warned the Legislature not to leave a loophole through which Asiatics might creep into public work. My advice was heeded in a measure, and action by the Legislature came none too soon, for even now, in these desperately hard times with the working man, the Japanese creeps in on

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The steamer, Nevadan sails at 4 o'clock this afternoon for Kahului to load sugar. Hadn't the Hawaiian Star better get out an "extra?"

Little sleep need be lost over the amount of patronage the natives will give to that pawn-broker shop. The natives have little to pawn. Their substance has already been wrested from them by the missionaries, whom they trusted too well and too often.

The job-making, or mosquito, committee has made very little progress in the way of raising funds for the mosquito campaign. The public wants to know just how many pets of the Republican Central Committee are to be provided for before subscribing.

If Secretary Carter wants a legal opinion from New York regarding the new Territorial bonds, why not get one from General A S Hartwell? He is back there now looking after the graves of the three horses that were shot under him during the Civil War, and he might run up to New York and send down an opinion just as well as not.

Bishop Libert was given a reception upon his arrival from the Alameda this morning that must at once have convinced him of the high esteem in which he is held by the people of his church. There was a unanimity in the demonstration that was, even to an outsider, an interesting and impressive object lesson. Fathers, Brothers and members of the church crowded the Cathedral, the doorways and the grounds to see and greet their new leader and there was indication of deep sincerity in it all.

The importance of a law requiring that all electric wires go underground is being frequently demonstrated. That the scheme will entail a large expenditure of money at first is admitted, but when once done the expense of keeping up the lines will be much less than now. But the question of expense should not be allowed to figure in the case at all. Lives and property compose the first consideration.

When the electrical inspector was legislated out of office it was predicted that the neglect of wires would bring death to somebody. —Advertiser.

We quite agree that a mistake was made in striking out the appropriation for salary of electrical inspector. But who was to blame for it? The Republican members of the Republican Legislature. The principal attack on the office came from leading Republicans of the Senate.

As indicated in his letter published elsewhere, Major Wolter's opinion is that the place to start the unqualified, absolute and continuous support of citizen labor is in the public works of the United States and Territorial governments here. We quite agree with him. Let the government officials take the lead in this important reform and it will only be a question of time when the citizen employer will also fall into line.

Treasury officials also thought they could lord it over through passengers in the steamers for San Francisco and arbitrarily search their baggage at this port. A kick from the passengers by the Siberia had the effect of bringing them to their senses. The employment of Japanese coolies, in preference to citizens, by the Navy Department to do government work at Honolulu, is a more serious matter. The Navy Department may profit by the example first mentioned.

The Republicans are more than anxious to have the Democrats nominate Mr Gorman for the Presidency, because they well know that the Maryland man represents the plutocratic element of the party and his nomination would not meet with popular favor in the Middle West and West. In other words, Gorman would prove an easier man for Roosevelt to beat than almost any other yet suggested as a possibility. In the meanwhile Mr Hearst stands as a man nearest to Hawaii and Hawaiian interests.

Everything depends on the result of the primaries which, according to the decision of the Republican Territorial Committee, are not to be confined to Republican voters. Should the class of delegates that framed the last legislative ticket win, then the taxpayers will be driven, in self-defence, to frame a ticket of their own. They cannot, with any self-respect, vote for men of the Kumalae-Kupihea Gear class—and they won't, cou e what may!—Advertiser.

Now will somebody kindly go out behind a tree and have a fit. "S'death! said Arae" Mark Twain's Mississippi River bluffer, who "swelled up," has had his turn outturned. Developments will be watched with great interest.

To Admiral Terry: Upon taking command of the United States naval station today you will find at the Government's wharf slips a dredger upon which is a gang of Japanese coolies, who are not and cannot become American citizens, engaged in the work of deepening the harbor for your Department and the Government. In this city are several hundred competent workmen, native and white American citizens, out of employment and who were and are anxious to take this work. What will you do about it?

Torn to Death In Rock Crusher.

Walter E Lee, a native of Peru but for many years a resident of Honolulu, met with a terrible death in Palolo valley about 7:30 o'clock this morning. In some unaccountable way he got his left arm caught in the cogs of a rock crusher and it was torn off at the shoulder, the strain disrupting the heart and lungs and causing almost instant death.

Lee was alone at the time of the accident so that there were no eye witnesses to the horror. When discovered he was lying against the machine stone dead. His left arm, which had been torn out at the shoulder socket was crushed to pulp in the cogs. One ear was also ripped off, showing that the upper part of the body was also in contact with the machine and was only prevented by its size from passing into it. The body was brought to the city and viewed as soon as possible by a coroner's jury. A meeting of the jury will take place at 4 o'clock this afternoon to determine, if possible, the cause of death.

The deceased had spent most of his life in Honolulu. He was married to a native women and besides the widow leaves seven children. He was working for the Palolo Land Company.

"Here's to 'Lwest Sixteen.'"

It was sixteen years ago yesterday when the first-born of Mr and Mrs Edmund H Hart's family of children came into the world in the person of a daughter and since known to their many friends as Miss Louise Keohiokalani Hart. Since then, she has grown from childhood and is nearing womanhood, both in stature and avoirdupois, and is a big girl for her age.

Yesterday afternoon and last evening, her parents entertained certain of their many friends to a dinner a la Hawaiienne in honor of the young lady's birthday anniversary, including many of their eldest daughter's young friends. Those at the dinner during the afternoon were ladies and young women, and the gentlemen were entertained in the evening, and all enjoyed the many relishes provided. Among those present were the following:

Prince and Princess Kalaninaole, Mesdames J W Robertson, J H Boyd, C Lucas, Lemon, J F Colburn, E H Holt, Kenahu Brenig, Wall, J Paiko, Kepoikai, J P Mendonca, Kreuter, R L Gilliland, Miss Nancy Louis, Mr and Mrs W Clark, Mr and Mrs O Stillman, Mr and Mrs M K Keohokalole, Mrs Olds, Misses Helen, Mabel and Hilda Robertson, H and Mary Lucas, N Fernandez, Frida Gay, Grace O'Brien Lina Dutro, Irene Boyd, S and Julia Colburn, M Johnson, and Messrs Kaulukou, A S Mahaulu, J H Wise, Abr Fernandez, F J Testa, S Lot Kaulukou, J D Aimoku, Gladstone, James B Lsing, J K Clark and J O'Brien.

Return of the Bishop.

The Right Reverend Libert, Bishop of Zeugma, returned by the Alameda this morning and was accorded a grand welcome at the Catholic cathedral. He was met at the wharf by a delegation of church dignitaries and escorted to the Mission. After changing clothes at the Convent, the Bishop headed by the acolytes of the church, proceeded to the door of the cathedral where he was met by all of the Fathers of the Mission and Brothers of St Louis College and given a most cordial welcome. Father Matthias delivered a short address of greeting to which the Bishop responded feelingly in a few words.

The cathedral was filled to overflowing with people. After the welcome in front there was a short mass, lasting for about ten minutes. A choir from St Louis College supplied music. At 9 o'clock there was high mass presided over by the Bishop in person. At 1 o'clock a luau in honor of the Bishop was begun. Tomorrow evening the public reception will be held.

Coroner's Verdict.

The coroner's jury appointed to inquire into the cause of death of Yee Tong, the Chinaman killed by a live wire in Asia Wednesday night, returned the following verdict yesterday evening:

That the said Chang Yee Tong came to his death at Honolulu, Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, on Wednesday, August 19, A D 1903, at or about 11:35 p m of said day, from an overcharge of electricity passing through his body, caused by coming in contact with a wire belonging to the Mutual Telephone Company of said Honolulu and receiving current from the trolley wire of the Honolulu Rapid Transit and Land Company, Ltd.

We further find that the wires of the Mutual Telephone Company were defective in the immediate vicinity of the accident and that the trolley wire of the Honolulu Rapid Transit and Land Company, Ltd, was insufficiently protected at the place of the accident.

Edward Devauschelle has drawn out of the Leilani saloon in Kakaako. In future H E Peterson will have complete charge of the place.

Long strings of lights have been put in and elaborate arrangements are being made at the Roman Catholic cathedral for the reception to Bishop Libert tomorrow evening. A welcoming luau was given this afternoon.

A Small Fire.

Fire broke out in the cellar of the big store building at the Ewa mauka (north) corner of King and Maunakea streets about 11:30 last night but was extinguished by an old Chinaman, who claimed to sleep in the place, before any damage was done.

Passengers on the last car saw smoke arising from the cellar and on a sudden the fire blazed up. The car was stopped and the passengers rushed to the place, also calling up a policeman. They broke open the cellar door and pulled out the old Chinaman, who had, in the meanwhile, extinguished the blaze. No alarm was turned in. Some mystery surrounds the affair although the police failed to discover anything suspicious in connection with it.

Keep up the fight, Mr Editor. The cause is a good one. You already have the cheap labor forces on the run, now keep them going. Let Hawaii be a country for citizens of the United States. In such a policy lies our only hope for future prosperity, and the comfort and happiness of those to come after us. In this fight you have behind you all truly patriotic citizens, the men who wish to see Hawaii prosperous and better. Behind you also is the small army of honest workmen now out of employment, and who would gladly accept the work being constantly given out to Japanese. I am thoroughly in sympathy with the movement. I am for the citizen, for our own people; let the Japanese go to the cane fields where their services are needed and they belong.

I thank you in advance for space for this letter.

By publishing same you will for ever oblige, yours,

Edw. H F. Wolter.

RASCALS FAIL TO GET THEIR DUES.

WASHINGTON, D.C., August 7:

Many Republican leaders who, int he recent erstwhile, were going around wearing a worn, haggard and hunted expression are now walking the streets of the nation's capital wearing a broad and expansive smile that somewhat resembles a crack in a frozen liver. Wherefore? Simply because on the 31st of July last the statute of limitation ran and they are forever barred from prosecution for the misdeeds and peculation they indulged in while holding positions of honor and trust under the national government three years ago. There are many men who ought to have been indicted and would have been had not President Roosevelt told Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Bristow not to investigate any of the cases where the statute of limitation would run this year. It was known here also that Perry S Heath, the secretary of the Republican National Committee would have been one of the first to be indicted, along with Machen the republican leaders had not stepped in and put a veto on the thing. Mr Heath knows too much of the inside workings of the corruption and oiling that the different parts of the machine received in the last two national campaigns. He might, as Rathbone threatened to do, "Pull down the pillars of the temple," and that would be dangerous to many in high places and leave the republican skeleton exposed in all its hideousness. The man who invented the statute of limitations should have a monument erected to his memory by the republican leaders, for they know how much tribulation he saved them. The next convention of that party should pass the hat around, and no one should be more liberal in his donation than President Roosevelt, for it has saved him a world of annoyance and publicity, that might have jeopardized his political future. An excellent slogan for republicans next year would be: Vive la Statute of Limitations!

When President Roosevelt appointed "Ret" Clarkson Surveyor of the Port of New York there was a general gasp of astonishment by civil service reformers, and a good deal of surprise was manifested by the less truly good politicians. That Clarkson paid but little attention to the duties of his office, but was making secret trips to the southern states, with a strong inclination to confine the society he sought to "black-and-tans" and "lily-whites," who were known to be important factors in selecting delegates to national republican conventions, occasioned no amazement amongst politicians. They regarded him as the personal representative of the President, and on what may be called a secret service mission for him. Clarkson regards public office as a private snap, and although President Roosevelt is supposed to have other and opposite views on the duties of public officers, he evidently does not disapprove of the Clarkson "graft" of drawing a good salary without much, if any, return to the people who are taxed to pay it. Clarkson is an old political pal of Postmaster-General Payne; they have been mixed up in some similar deals—obtaining delegates on former occasions—so nobody will be particularly surprised as the information that "Ret" Clarkson is the official who furnished the revenue cutter for Postmas-

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The Shamrock may be unfortunate but certain it is that the "rocks" of her owner are not 'shams." Reliance can safely be placed in that.

If Japan really wants a yacht race there should be something in the fact to interest local sports. There may be a cup in the thing for the Helene or La Paloma.

The lawyer who advertised for a driver and added "Japanese preferred" to the end of his announcement should not find any trouble in getting the post of counseller to the Honolulu naval station.

As we understand it, Rev J Kekipi has never claimed that his church was a branch of the Christian Science church. At the same time the doctrines of the two are almost identical. If one is savage the other is plainly savage. We do not hanker after the ideals of either, but they really look like two peas from the same pod to us.

The guard wires of the Rapid Transit Company at cross streets are by no means a certain protection. In fact they are anything else, serving, as they do, to make people feel safe, when, as a matter of fact, they are in about as much danger as in the case of an open cable. As a rule wires have not the habit of falling stiff across a thing, and where two or three feet are left between guard wires it is not to be wondered that a pliable strand should reach a protected cable. If the trolly system is to be continued by the Rapid Transit Company, street crossings should be protected by screen work over the cables in place of by two single wires. The only complete solution of the matter, however, is that the wires be placed underground. That alone will ensure absolute safety.

The Legislature authorized no expenditure for the printing of the loan bonds, and the matter must go at that. If government officials borrow money for the purpose they will will do it at their own peril. The experience of officials in the last Legislature in the matter of unauthorized expenditures should be a convincing object lesson.

John A Hughes' remark that "the Republican party wants for candidates neither autocrats nor grafters" might well and wisely be adopted as a motto by all political elements of the Islands. The country has already had too many of both of these species, and it is high time that the hawsers between them and the ship of state should be parted.

Republicans out of work will please step up now and get a job from the mosquito committee. After the town has been taken in hand the marshes beyond and near the McCully track will have to be treated. All this will require a large force of men, and the needs of the Republican party just now require that the work be kept up until after the County elections.

We wish to compliment the Star on its enterprise in supplying promptly on Thursday morning the news of the yacht race. By means of its display illustrations and the early publication of the cable despatches the public was enabled to keep in close touch with the principal facts of the big event. Considering our isolation, the smallness of the town and the cost of cablegrams the feat was one of which any paper might well feel proud, and we are sure that the people at large appreciated the service.

If a newspaper wants to hear the G O P elephant snort in anger, all it has to do is to mention the name of W R Hearst as a possible Democratic candidate for the Presidency. The Advertiser displays its tusks at the bare sight of the name in print, and Republican papers on the mainland have the same ailment. The cause of it all is that the Republicans are aware of the great strength of Mr Hearst, and they know that should his name appear on the ticket Mr Roosevelt will have the fight of his life to save himself, with considerable odds against him.

Rear Admiral Terry has the last card of his naval career to play in these Islands. In about a year he will be retired by law, and his fellow citizens will have before them the final chapter of his life in the public service. He will have upon his shoulders, as the opportunity for grand achievements and the establishment of a lasting monument to him, the details of the vast work at Pearl harbor. That he will fulfill his lofty mission in a satisfactory manner goes without saying. But there is an important side issue connected with the case: Will the work planned be carried out by American citizens, or by Asiatic coolies, who cannot become Americans? If Admiral Terry will start in with the dredger now operating at the naval slips, clear out the Japanese working on it, and see to it that only citizen labor is employed at Pearl harbor he will win a feather in his cap that he may wear with pride and honor in his later years.

The Advertiser is extremely anxious that the Republicans nominate a ticket of good men for County offices. The public generally will kokua this sentiment; but there is some question as to whom the morning paper considers "good men." If it has in its mind's eye the autocratic, bigotted, selfish coterie of its own household, the question becomes one for serious debate and a legitimate difference of opinion. Men of honor and standing are desired, but they should be men independent of cliques or factions, particularly when the objects of that faction are offensive and inimical to the best interests of a majority of the people.

The victory of the American yacht over the Britisher will likely drive Shamrock money out of the field. At the same time "while there is life there is hope," and the present Shamrock has proved herself to be the most dangerous challenger yet sent across from England. A very slight shifting of luck might yet give the cup to Sir Thomas Lipton. There is an undercurrent of hope in the United States that such will be the outcome. America has held the cup for more than forty years, and it is believed that if it is taken to the other side the very finest points of yacht building will be a question of but a very short time. It would superinduce a new impetus to yacht making and the sport generally, however much it might grate on the tender edges of national pride.

A Boy Drowned.

Joe Lelehua, the ten-year old son of a policeman, was drowned while bathing at Waikahalulu Falls yesterday. Late in the afternoon a coroner's jury returned the following verdict on the case:

The said Joe Lelehua Jr, a boy, came to his death in Honolulu, Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, on the 21st day of August, A D 1903, by being accidentally drowned in the "Waikahalulu Falls" in said Honolulu.

Officers May Leave.

Captain Rodman, of the Iroquois, may leave by the Alameda next Wednesday for the mainland. It is not improbable that he will be followed by Captain White, the engineer of the navy here.

Paralysis

is sometimes caused by overwork, either mental or physical. There are many other exciting causes, such as exposure to cold, excesses, emotional influences, etc. The approach of the disease is generally gradual. Frequently the first warning is a vague feeling of headache, vertigo and muscular weakness.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

restore the nutrition of the nerves and have cured many cases of paralysis when all other remedies and methods of treatment have failed. The record of this remedy entitles it to a thorough trial.

Perhaps there is no man better known in the city of Lawrence, Kansas, than Mr. G. H. Snyder. To a reporter Mr. Snyder related a wonderful story. He said:

"I am now seventy years of age. About three years ago I experienced a coldness or numbness in the feet, then creeping up my legs until it reached my body. I grew very thin in flesh, my appetite was very poor and I did not relish my food. At last I became so bad I was unable to move about. I consulted several distinguished physicians, one telling me that I had locomotor ataxia, another that I had creeping paralysis. I took their medicines but they did me no good and I continued to grow worse.

"One day a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I immediately commenced their use, throwing all other medicines away. Before I had finished my first box I found that they were benefiting me. I used twelve boxes in all and was perfectly cured."

—From the Journal, Lawrence, Kan.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after-effects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, all forms of weakness either in male or female.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all dealers, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 (they are never sold in bulk or by the 100) by addressing Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Not Christian Scientists.

The Chairman of the Christian Science Publication Committee, W D McCracken, has written a letter to the New York Sun in which he denies that Rev J Kekipi's church here is a branch of the Christian Science denomination. Of the matter he says:

Dear Sir: Will you kindly contradict in your columns the preposterous report, purporting to come from Honolulu, that there is any "Christian Science craze" among the native Hawaiians.

There are a few Christian Scientists among the resident whites, but there is not now, and never has been, any "native branch of the Christian Science church" there. The Christian Science Journal, which contains the official list of all Christian Science churches and societies with the names of their readers, does not contain any name of this sort.

Savage practices, such as those described in your issue of August 2nd, cannot, by any stretch of the imagination, be ascribed to Christian Science teaching."

Trouble of the Vidas.

Judge De Bolt yesterday refused to grant the petition in the divorce libel of Mrs Annie Vida against Wm C Vida. In summing up the case the court said:

"It is clear to the court that these people would be better separated than married," Judge De Bolt said at the conclusion of the hearing of the Vida divorce case yesterday. "But the law is our master," he went on to say, "and there are certain essential things required to be proved to establish the ground of non-support. I do not consider that a case has been made out according to the statute, and I therefore, reluctantly I must say, order the libel to be dismissed."

Due to Carelessness.

The coroner's jury in the Walter E Lee case met yesterday afternoon, gathered all the facts it could and returned the following verdict:

That the said Walter E Lee came to his death at Palolo, in Honolulu, Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, on the 21st day of August, A D 1903 from injuries caused by being caught in the belt and pulley wheel of a rock crusher operated at Palolo valley, of which said Walter E Lee was engineer, said accident being due to his own carelessness.

Shamrock Is Beaten.

The American yacht Reliance defeated the Shamrock in the first of the series of cup races off New York today after a contest that was close almost to the finish. Shamrock had the best of it at first but when it came to tacking and maneuvering she was outgeneralled by her adversary.

ter-General Payne and his family to take their late summer outing. That revenue cutters were not intended for private use does not seem to have troubled the elastic political consciences of either Clarkson or Payne. It is through this loose idea of the private snap, that high officials regard as their political perquisites, that the grafting and looting in the Post Office and other departments have grown to such serious scandals. Yet Mr Payne is supposed to be investigating this sort of thing. When will the people awake?

RASCALS FAIL TO GET THEIR DUES.

If President Roosevelt is elected next year it will be simply and solely because the voters of the country believe that he is helping them in their battle with the trusts. It is not strange, then, that the President is doing all in his power to give currency to the idea that he is fighting the trusts with might and main. Let us see how he is doing this. Let us see how much he is entitled to the distinguished consideration of the people for his efforts to curb the trusts. Mr Roosevelt started in political life as a strenuous free trader, and was a member of the New York Free Trade Club, yet recently, under pressure from the Protective Tariff League, he joined the "stand-patters," and thus stands opposed to the most certain way of curbing the trusts and giving relief to the people—by reducing the tariff duties. It was the President's voice that killed the Littlefield anti-trust bill in the last Congress and caused the passage of two sham anti trust bills—the Elkins anti-rebate bill and the Department of Commerce bill with its Bureau of Corporations to give publicity to trusts. His voice could have caused his Attorney-General to go after the coal trust that William Randolph Hearst had treed with his own money and solely in the interest of the people. His voice was silent. Instead of saying, "Sick 'em Knoxy," he left Mr Hearst to guard the tree alone. The facts that are slowly coming to light in regard to the new Bureau of Corporations in the Department of Commerce should open the eyes of the voters of the country to the real position of the President on the trust question. In discussing the "Present Statistical Outlook in Washington," the correspondent of New York Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin on July 27, said of this new bureau: "The work now laid out for this bureau is of a really thorough type, and if it is pursued with vigor on the lines now suggested there will be a good deal of complaint in the near future when the methods now contemplated are actually applied. Pressure of the most strenuous sort will undoubtedly be brought to bear at the White House. Just how soon the Department will really begin to show its hand in the matter of trust investigation cannot be certainly predicted, but those who are in a position to know say it will not be until after the next presidential election. As a matter of fact, a good deal of time is needed for the organization of the work and for laying out special lines of investigation. All this will consume many months, and Secretary Cortelyou is too tactful a man to weaken his strategic position by opening fire in a presidential campaign, if there would be any danger of hurting his party thereby. It will, therefore, be a good while before there are any definite results of the inquiries of the Bureau of Corporations."

Is there anything in this statement to frighten the trusts? Is it not clear that this new bureau will give the trusts two years more leeway—two years more license to loot the people's pockets—two years at $1,000,000,000 a year? And what then? Publicity. That's all, and more than all, for it is entirely optional with the President whether any of the facts gathered by this bureau are ever published or not. But the facts,

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Despite the rantings of his villifiers, Colonel C P Iaukea has the admiration of all men who retain a proper regard for political honesty and courage of convictions. This feeling is as prevalent in the Republican party as in any other party. The Colonel had his ideas, and showed the backbone to stay with them.

Any scheme, be it a fair, an aquatic carnival, or both, that will attract people from the mainland or abroad to Honolulu will be a good one. There is no room for contrary argument on the point. Visitors mean money A purely island fair, however, would simply mean a considerable expense without any hope or possibility of return.

This peaceful community was naturally shocked to the extreme by the tragedy of early Sunday morning Opinions in regard to the case have differed as knowledge of the facts and personal friendships went. The affair, however, is at best an unfortunate, a deplorable one All parties concerned seem to merit more of less of sympathy and pity.

A certain part of this community would have it believed that it bested Claus Spreckels in 1893, and seems to claim credit for it. As a matter of fact, however, have the Islands gained anything by losing the friendship of the Sugar King? We think not. Mr Spreckels was in theory and in truth the buffer between Hawaiian plantation interests and the bears of the sugar market. Through him great things were made possible and accomplished. How is it today?

One finds a ready answer in the dividend lists of the plantations. Mr Spreckels may not have lived to see the grass grow in the streets of Honolulu, but he has lived to see the withdrawal of his influence from Hawaiian affairs result in pretty sorry pickings from plantation investments.

So George Markham don't want hackmen on the Home Rule ticket for County offices. Well, that's too bad. The fact should drive dismay into the hearts of all Jehus. But is not this the same Markham that sold out to the Republicans on the day before election in 1901 and climbed a telephone pole to impress a speech against the Home Rulers?

Russia has satisfied herself that Turkey is trying to do the square thing in the matter of reform, and yesterday recalled her fleet from Constantinople to Sebastopol. Just what "reform" means it is hard to say. There has been and is reasonable religious toterance in Turkey. All the trouble has been incited by the missionaries from the United States and Europe. The "reforms" promised are perhaps a surrender to allow the missouuries to run things with a high hand.

The Advertiser claims that Fred Beckley was elected Speaker of the House because he claimed to be a Home Ruler and was one, the Republicans preferring to have such a man to a Home Ruler sailing under the Republican flag. In the same breath, however, the morning paper damns Kumalae for being a Home Ruler in G O P guise, but it is recalled that Kumalae was the man selected at the Republican caucus the night after Beckley's election to be played for the Speaker's seat.

If local financiers have money to invest in low interest government bonds, the only security the Islands possesses that is understood in New York, why do they not use a part of it to straighten up some of the plantations that would pay if they had the wherewithal to place them on a sound basis? If outsiders will take the bonds (provided they are ever issued) for heaven's sake let them have them. It will bring new money into the country and leave all that is now here for necessary investment.

If there ever was a time that laboring men of Honolulu should get together and formally protest against the employment of Asiatics on public works, that time is right now. Let the Union select a man apiece to meet together and draft a memorial to Congress. Then have a general meeting at the Orpheum or some other place on Labor Day to pass upon and adopt the memorial. Finally the memorial should be entrusted to Delegate Kuhio for presentation in Congress. Such a memorial, coming from the workingmen of Honolulu, would have more effect than almost anything else.

The reception accorded the Bishop of Zaugma last Saturday evening, where all vied with one another in their mode of receiving and greeting him, irrespective of class and of their stations in life, showed how well he is thought of by those of his own communion as well as others who paid their respects to him. He received and greeted all with an open hand, no distinction being shown to the more affluent, who were alike treated with proper and more unfortunate brethren. His popularity was seen by the way non-Catholics called and did honor to the new man selected and since consecrated to be the chief of the Roman Communion in these Islands. Although not a stranger here it is for the THE INDEPENDENT to say that he is all the more acceptable to those he has been called upon by his Master to "feed My sheep," and we may safely add, as well as to those outside of his particular fold. Can as much be said of our more select "family compact" Christians, who abhor and detest to mix themselves among the meek, lowly and poor of other than their own kind?

Kills One And Wounds Another.

All sorts of rumors concerning E M Jones, the murderer, have been going the rounds today. He has been located in various parts of the island but the reports, when run down, proved the veriest canards. Early in the forenoon the police had what seemed to be reliable information that the man was seen in Nuuanu valley. Officers were despatched to the place and also into Pauoa valley, but no trace of the murderer could be found. This afternoon it was commonly rumored that Jones has been captured by Chris Holt at Makaha. This report, although widely circulated was stamped by the police as a canard.

"Eddie" M Jones, formerly an employee of Theo H Davies & Co., shot and killed his divorced wife and seriously wounded his former mother-in-law, Mrs Parmenter, at their home on Kinau street about 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning. A reward of $500 has been posted by the High Sheriff for the murderer. The story of the tragedy as told by Mrs Parmenter to Deputy High Sheriff Chillingworth is substantially as follows:

Shortly after twelve o'clock Mrs Parmenter and Mrs Jones who were alone in the house thought they heard a noise on the front lanai. Mr Gear is boarding in the house with them and believing it was he, Mrs Parmenter dressed and went to the door to allow him to enter. They found a man there, apparently asleep and Mrs Parmenter shook him and shouted "Mr Gear, Mr Gear, wake up." When she had touched the sleeping man, she at once discovered that it was not Mr Gear, but Jones, her former son-in-law. Much frightened she rushed back into the house and discussed the situation with her daughter, Mrs Jones. Finally Mrs Parmenter said she would summon the police and for that purpose went to the pumping station, where there is a telephone. Mrs Jones followed close behind. After Mrs Parmenter had succeeded in raising the station she decided to remain and wait for the officer while Mrs Jones returned to the house. Mrs Parmenter says that the officer was long in coming, but finally he arrived and she went back to the house. When Officer Kane arrived Jones was lying on the porch apparently in a drunken stupor, and Mrs Jones asked him to go for the patrol. Mr Prixley saying that he would remain and watch the prisoner. While they were waiting Mrs Parmenter and Prixley sat on the curbing outside the fence while Mrs Jones was in the house. Prixley saw Jones coming to jump over the hedge fence where they were sitting and yelled "Here he comes, for God's sake don't shoot." Prixley ran and Jones advanced on Mrs Parmenter and grappled with her. She cried "Pau, Eddie, Eddie, all pau," and he repeated "Pau Eddie eh, I'll show you," and fired a shot at Mrs Parmenter. Then according to Mrs Parmenter, Mrs Jones who heard the shot, cried "Mamma, mamma." "Who's there," but Mrs Parmenter said she did not answer for fear that Jones would shoot at her again. The man heard the voice, and recognizing it as his wife's started toward her. Then Mrs Parmenter heard him repeat after Mrs Jones "Who's there," and a moment later heard the shot. Mrs Parmenter, much frightened, began calling upon the neighbors in a loud voice. She cried "Haul in, haul in," several time, and Jones approached her on a run, repeating the same exclamation and firing another shot at her. This also missed its mark, and then Jones approached still closer and this time the shot took effect. Mrs Parmenter was able to reach the house of G W R King, which is but a short distance away and saw Jones disappear down the lane which runs along side the scene of the tragedy.

Entertained the Cathedral Choir.

The choir boys of the Hawaiian congregation of St Andrew's Cathedral were entertained yesterday afternoon at Pualeilani, Waikiki, the home of Prince and Princess Kalanianaole. It was a planned treat to the choir by subscription from certain leading members of the congregation, which Queen Liliuokalani and Prince and Princess Kalanianaole largely augmented by their kind permission to the use of their premises. Most of the afternoon was spent by the boys disporting themselves in the sea bathing off the Queen's premises.

Lunch was served twice, at noon and in the evening, out on tables on the spacious grounds of the Prince and Princess, who materially and substantially helped the entertaining committee of ladies from the Iolani Guild of Hawaiian Women, and who also lent their presence in entertaining the boys and making the time pass pleasantly for all those who attended. The members of the committee were Mrs G E Smithies, Mrs J D Cockett and the Misses Myra Heleluhe, Lillian Keamalu and Lilian Notley. There were about thirty of the choir present, besides a few others, and all enjoyed the day's treat immensely.

Rev F Fitz was in attendance on the boys, and was ably assisted by Solomon Meheula, Lay Reader, Geo E Smithies, choir master, John Anderson, Assistant master of Iolani school, and Alex Karratti, junior warden. The success of the day's entertainment was mainly due to the untiring energy of Mrs Smithies, who attended to the preparation of arrangements, and to J D Aimoku for soliciting the subscriptions.

Funeral of Mrs Jones

Rev H H Parker conducted the services at the funeral of the late Mrs E M Jones yesterday afternoon. Interment was in the Maughan plot in Nuuanu cemetery, Captain Joseph Maughan being the great grandfather of the deceased. The pall bearers were; C W Ashford, F R Harvey, C A Long, Wm Blaisdell, L L La Pierre, F J Testa.

when published, are to serve only as a basis for "conservative" anti-trust legislation some time in the dim and distant future.

President Roosevelt fighting the trusts? Rot. He is their best friend. He, as no other living man, knows how to tickle them and at the same time make the multitude, who sees his fierce face and vigorous gestures, believe that he is mauling the immortal ichor out of them. The trusts have great need of just such a man at this juncture to save them from the wrath of an outraged people. It is part of their game that Wall street and the trusts are to be against Roosevelt this year. Next year, when the campaign is on, it will be found that the G O P is getting financial support from its old-time friends—the trusts. How long, O Lord, how long, will the people be fooled?

As corroborative evidence that the leaders of the republican party are standing in with the trusts and they each understand the game that is being played for the edification of the gullible public, the administration organ in Washington, the Evening Star, not long ago had an article attacking Governor La Follette of Wisconsin for his speeches before different Chautauqua assemblies, in which he fiercely assailed the trusts of the country. This article said in effect that Governor LaFollette was to be disciplined for his heresy; that he was jumping on the republican party and one of its pets in his attacks on the trusts, and that the leaders of the republican party were becoming alarmed lest the trusts should get the idea that they really were after them and withdraw their financial support. What stronger evidence that the republican party is the party of, for and by the trusts, do the people want?

KAMALO IS TO STAND MORTGAGE.

At last night's meeting of Kamalo stockholders it was decided to secure a loan, if possible, of $20,000, with which to pay off the debts and to arrange a sale of the property for not less than $100,000. As usual with Kamalo meetings there were some pretty warm bouts between stockholders. The following resolutions were finally introduced and passed unanimously:

"Resolved that it is the sense of the Company that a letter be written to Mr H W S Edmunds, in reply to his letter of the 18th instant, stating that if, within a period of four weeks from date, he (Mr Edmunds) will secure a loan of the sum of $20,000 00 for the Company, that the Company will execute to him (Mr Edmunds) or such person as he may appoint, a mortgage of all the property of the Kamalo Sugar Company, Ltd, situate and being on the Island of Molokai, Territory of Hawaii, for a period of two years and at a rate of interest not to exceed eight per cent per annum, and that further, it is the sense of the stockholders that in the event of the said mortgage for the said sum of $20,000.00 being secured, that the Kamalo Sugar Company, Ltd, will execute and deliver to Mr Edmunds an option for the sale of all the property of the Kamalo Sugar Company, Ltd, situate and being on the Island of Molokai aforesaid, for a sum not less than $100,000 00, said option to remain in full force and effect for the period of six months from the making thereof, and the Company will further agree, in case said Edmunds secure a purchaser for said property, at the said price, to pay to the said Edmunds the sum of $5,000 00 by way of commissions on the said sale, and that, upon the understanding, however, that in case the said Edmunds shall secure a sum larger than $100,000.00 for the said property the whole sum secured by him shall be paid to the Company, and the company will pay to him, over and above the said sum of $5,000.00 the sum of five per cent on any sum obtained through the efforts of said Edmunds over and above the sum of $100,000 00."

(Special to THE INDEPENDENT.)

Paia, August 22—On Sunday, August 16, at Paia, a Porto Rican woman, commonly known as Mary Go Long, was badly stabbed by her lover between 7 and 8 o'clock in the evening. During the day this woman was seen driving together with Capt Police of Makawao H. Iwiend in a hack and having a jolly good time at the baseball grounds at Kuau. It seems while she was enjoying herself in the hack with Capt H Iwiend the lover of the woman was there also taking all this in, and it is believed that this was the cause of the stabbing. The one did the stabbing it is alleged to be about 16 years of age. There are 16 or 17 wounds on the woman's body and she is now at the Paia Plantation hospital being attended by Dr McConkey. It is believed that she will pull through all right. On the same evening the partner she was riding with in the hack Capt H Iwiend was arrested for being drunk and on the following Tuesday August 18 was found guilty as charged by Judge C Copp of Maskawao district and fined with costs. An appeal has been noted.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Complaint is made of the inefficiency of electric car accommodations on Sunday afternoons particularly on the King street-Waikiki line. At the most busy hour of the day single cars are run. These are filled to overflowing with people, some hanging on by the eye-brows, as it were. A few trailers at that time of Sundays would not hurt the Rapid Transit Company and would be a great thing for the people.

Sir Thomas Lipton is probably now doomed to a third disappointment in the effort to capture the America cup. He has spent nearly $3,000,000, according to the best estimates, in his three attempts and there were those on this side who had a kind of hope that he would win. Sir Thomas has made friends by his persistency, however, and perhaps what he has lost on yachts and racing has been more than made up in new costomers among his American and English admirers The worst losers in the deal are the yachtsmen of the Shamrock, who were to receive life pensions if they won.

It is a base injustice for photographers to display to tdurists pictures of hula girls and natives costumed (or uncostumed) as they were supposed to be a hundred years ago. These pictures find their way to cities all over the world, carrying with them a false and derogatory impression of the Hawaiian people. Eastern people cannot be expected to know the true facts, and accept these absurd photographs, sent to them by tourist friends, as being genuine representations of Hawaiian life and customs. Island photographers are to blame for these things. They get them up for the few bits there are in them. But as every such picture sent out creates a false impression and injures the country, mighty poor business judgment is shown in circulating them.

Dr Cooper announces his intention of at once appointing a captain of the Mosquito Committee (at $200 per month). It is to presumed from this that the particular Republican out of a job has been decided upon for the place. Other idle Republicans need not lose heart, however. There are lieutenants, sergeants, corporals, buglers and privates to be selected, and there will be a chance for all. This mosquito committee must be a power in the County campaign, and to make it so all the jobless Republicans about town must be gotten into it. The only thing in the way is the lack of money but, of course, the people will be expected to "dig."

We were not aware of any active work at Washington against the appointment of George R Carter to succeed Governor Dole on June 14 next, but if such be true the news is good news. President Roosevelt must by this time know that Mr Carter is not popular as a candidate with the Islands people. Even those who, for personal reasons were inclined toward him have been made "suspicous" by his anxiety for the office, and they have been led to inquire "what is behind it all?" Mr Roosevelt is decidedly partial to Carter; but unless we are greatly mistaken he will consider the wishes of the Hawaiian people before making a move that will certainly create enemies uot of inoffensive timber.

Governor Dole will do the correct thing in commuting the sentence of George Ferris to life imprisonment. We understand this afternoon that that course has been decided upon, and are sure that it will meet with the favor of everybody except the Star. Ferris was convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to be hanged. After every court had been resorted to for a new hearing without avail, evidence came in voluntarily which showed that the man, in killing Watson, had acted in self defense. The jury that convicted Ferris subsequently signed a petition to the Governor asking that the sentence of murder be set aside and he be given merely imprisonment. The purposed action of the Governor will meet with general approval.

If the Bar Association is sure that the candidates it will recommend for additional Supreme Court judges will get preferential treatment at Washington, it should by all means press for the increase. But nothing could be more unfortunate than to let the control of the Court pass from jurists to politicians.—Advertiser

The above is a curio that any man interested in the proposed reformation of the Supreme Court might well note. To the Advertiser a man tarred with the same brush as Frear and Perry is a jurist; others are politicians. The public, however, has not only the recent disbarment decisions to make it look at the matter just the other way, but it has the rulings of years to prove conclusively that almost every decision by Chief Justice Frear and Justice Perry has been dictated by politics. If the Advertiser wishes specifications we will be happy to supply them.

CORRESPONDENCE

District Court Doings and How a Flagrant Assault was Treated.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:

At Waimea, Hawaii, on the 10th instant, C A Widemann was arrested, on the complaint of James Bright, for assault and battery upon the person of one of complainant's sons. The assault was committed a couple of days before by being hit over the head with the fist and then ducked under water. Defendant was let out on depositing a bail of $50, the case being set for the next morning before District Magistrate Wm Hookuanui.

The defendant failed to put in an appearance on time the next day. He telephoned Mrs Atcherley that he was on his way, she, in the meantime, notifying the Court of such a fact. Upon Mrs Atcherley's request Attorney Z Paakiki asked the Court for such a favor, although he was not counsel in the case, and thereupon Mr Bright, the complaining father, who also acted as prosecuting attorney, told the Court that Mr Paakiki was in contempt as not representing the defendant. Mr Paakiki answered that as an attorney and a member of the Court, he had a right to speak for one not represented by way of rendering assistance. And the Court declared the bail forfeited.

It was noon when the defendant arrived and the Court reconvened to hear the case and was defended by Mr Paakiki, who immediately asked the Court that before the hearing, the forfeited bail be first repaid, as the defendant was before the Court. The forfeited bail money was thereupon returned to the defendant upon such a demand and after due consideration.

Your correspondent will here say that such a method may be only known in Judge Hookuanui's Court. In one breath, he declares a bail forfeited, and within a few hours, in virtually the same breath, he orders its repayment.

On the case being heard, the prosecution produced testimony from those who saw the assault upon the lad, but they varied. The lad testified that he was struck over the head ten times, which was done, he said, in the presence of four others, F Spencer, Maka, Manuela and H Akona, and was ducked under water the same number of times without being seen by anyone. But in the testimony given by those mentioned, Manuela said that he saw two blows struck on the head, Spencer once, Maka not at all, and Akona two slaps. On these evidences, the defendant was found guilty and fined to pay $25 and costs. An appeal was noted to the Circuit Court.

KAMAPUAA.

Prior Incidents to the Jones Tragedy.

The late Mrs E M Jones worked the whole of last week at Mrs Dickerson millinery parlors. Mrs Dickerson's says that on being paid last Saturday afternoon, Mrs Jones asked whether she was to come to work on Monday and was answered in the affirmative, and she went off seemingly happy. From others, it is learned that after receiving her pay as above, she bought herself a new pair of shoes and then went home, going out later in the evening for an electric car ride. Her divorced husband was also a passenger on the same car with her, about 9 o'clock, she going out to Waikiki and he alighting somewhere out Pawaa.

Mrs Parmenter's Condition.

Mrs Parmenter, who was shot, reputedly by E M Jones, Saturday night, is getting along as well as could be expected. This afternoon the doctor was summoned on account of what seemed to be a reopening of the wound but he said that the bleeding would be a relief and benefit rather than doing harm. The wounded part of the face and neck has taken on a bluish color, which, however, was to be expected. The bullet, which is supposed to be in the lower part of the neck, has not yet been definitely located.

The wife of Barnie Ordenstein died early this afternoon at the family residence near the pumping station in Palama. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon.

Governor Dole has practically decided to commute the sentence of George Ferris to life imprisonment. He was sentenced to be hanged for the murder of an old man named Watson. Since then, however, new evidence has come in to show that he acted in self defense.

Burglar Is Arrested.

Robert Nerny, the soldier accused of being the principal in the robbery at the Ocean View resort in Waikiki Saturday night, was captured by Deputy High Sheriff Chillingworth at Ewa plantation last night and brought to town this morning. Chillingworth received word yesterday that the refugee was at the plantation and took the late train for the place. He found his man in bed and arrested him. Nerny was arraigned in the district court this morning on the charge of burglary in the first degree. Hearing was postponed until tomorrow.

The other two men mixed up in the affair were identified at the Camp Monday morning and arrested.

Hawaiians Misrepresented.

The following is reproduced from the Advertiser for the reason that it abounds in good sense and carries a suggestion that should be heeded by photographers and picture dealers:

Editor Advertiser: I have met numerous Hawaiians who, during our conversation, have asked me why the majority of residents in the eastern states consider the native Hawaiian little above the standing of Samoans, and deem them partly savage. For instance, residents in New York, Washington, and other cities are surprised to see Hawaiians, who visit their city, act the same as the residents.

My one answer is this: Go into any curio store where photographs of natives and Hawaiian scenery are for sale, and one will invariably find that nine pictures out of ten show the native in the scanty costume of a sash around the waist and a wreath upon the head. These pictures are purchased by tourists, and sent to friends in the States and as these are about the only ones that arrive, the impression is made that the native is little more than a savage.

If pictures of beautiful scenery with a group of residents of Hawaii, native or otherwise, as they are today, were sent to the States in place of "hula hula" dancers, the general impression of Hawaiians would be changed considerably.

Very truly,
BURT WELLS.

At the Royal Mausoleum.

The caskets containing the remains of members of the Kalakaua dynasty and others of our Chiefs (Alii's) were removed last night from the Royal Mausoleum to a building recently erected for their reception on the east side of the same, preparatory to undertaking the proposed repairs to the vault as well as the building itself. There were 24 caskets in all removed. Queen Liliuokalani and Prince Kalanianaole were personally present. By direction of the Queen, Col C P Iaukea superintended the removal, and by request of the Prince, T R Lucas attended to the mechanical part of the removal. Retainers of the Queen, the Princess and of the late Queen Emma did the labor of removing their respective Alii's. Others of chiefly connections were also in attendance.

Jones Still At Large.

Up to press hour this afternoon all efforts to apprehend E M Jones, the alleged murderer of Mrs E M Jones, had failed Detective McDuffie returned to the city early this morning after scouring the valleys and mountains with a posse for nearly two days. He was sent out immediately on a new trail. Deputy High Sheriff Chillingworth is working almost day and night on the case and every police officer of the island is also on the lookout. The opinion is gaining ground that Jones is being concealed by friends until he can be spirited away to the other islands in the hope of getting him out of the country.

Pearl Harbor Opened.

Pearl harbor was entered yesterday for the first time by a war ship or any vessel of considerable draught. The vessel was the Iroquois. From her peak she flew the flag of Admiral Terry, and on board with the Admiral were Captains White, Niblack, Rodman and Parker.

Entrance to the harbor was made without trouble. The Iroquois then proceeded into the West loch and cruised down to the end. Returning she entered the extreme South-East loch, passed through most of it and then anchored opposite the proposed naval works. There the Admiral and party went ashore for the purpose of inspecting the ground.

Admiral Terry was immensely pleased with the harbor and the plans for improvements there.

Shamrock Loses Again.

Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock III again came out second best in the cup race today, although the distance between the two boats at the finish was less than in the race of Saturday. The Reliance took the lead at the start and gained upon it to the finishing line, crossing it three minutes ahead of her opponent.

The next race will take place on Thursday, and should the Reliance win then it will settle the contest, the competition being best three in five.

The Chinese theatres now have an opposition in the shape of a graphophone. A free singing exhibition is given nightly from some upper story window and the Celestials gather about below listening to the music. Such was the case on River street Sunday afternoon, the Chinese standing about and some sitting along the wall of the stream, and the same on Hotel street last evening.

PROGRAM FOR REGATTA DAY.

The committee to arrange the list of events for Regatta Day, which will be Saturday, September 19, met at the residence of M M Johnson in King street last evening and decided upon a program. Johnson represented the Hawaiian Rowing Association and Allan Dunn appeared as sponsor for the Hawaii Yacht Club. A list of fifteen events was approved, very few changes being made in the program of last year. There will be no changes in the arrangements for judges' stand, etc, and the usual committees will be appointed. Following will be the events:

First race, six-oared gig; second six-oared barge, senior; third, fourth-class yachts; fourth, third class yachts; fifth, first-class yachts; sixth, Japanese fishing boats, tug-of-war; seventh, six-oared barge, junior; eighth, six-oared barge, freshman; ninth, Japanese boats, sculling; tenth, five-oared whale-boats; eleventh, six-paddle canoes; twelfth, pair-oar German boats; thirteenth, steamer boats; fourteenth, sailing canoes; fifteenth, two-oar shore boats.

There will be three shell races in place of two. Following are the crews selected:

Healani Freshman—Burns (stroke) Ryeroft, Simpson, Blackburn, Macfarlane, Wilson.

Healani Junior—Sullivan (stroke), B Clark, J Clark, Marcallino, Desha, King.

Healani Senior—Jarrett, (stroke), Renear, Allen, Heilbron, McCorriston, Damon.

Myrtle Freshman—Kopke (stroke) Hughes, Schmidt, Augus, Ewart, Williams.

Myrtle Junior—Simpson, (stroke), King, Crabbe, Beckert, Roe, Clark.

Myrtle Senior—Crozier, (stroke), Soper, E Rose, Lishman, Walker, Lyle.

To Give a Luau.

The Kapiolani Maternity Home has issued the following circular announcement of a luau to be given in October:

"The trustees of the Kapiolani Maternity Home have found it necessary to build an additional wing to the main building, to meet the pressing demands; and it is intended to hold a luau and fair on the grounds of the Home in the early part of the month of October coming, for the purpose of raising additional fund to the already existing building fund of $4500. Donations toward the luau and fair will be gratefully accepted and received by our treasurer."

Mrs Parmenter.

It is believed that the death of Mrs Parmenter, who is supposed to have been shot by E M Jones Saturday night, is a question of only a few hours. She spent a very bad night and has been steadily sinking today. Aside from the terrible bullet wound, age is working against her. John F Colburn, the lady's brother states that the patient will likely not survive the day.

Accounts in the matter of the estate of the late Iwakichi Kato Japanese merchant, have been filed, showing receipts of $16,220.47 and expenditures $11,073.63, leaving a balance of $5,146 84. Kihu Kato and Ysichi Mitsuda are the administrators.

The Bank of Hawaii and Spreckels bank have agreed to advance a proportion of the money required for printing the new loan bonds, provided the other banks will do the same. As a rule the bankers agree with the wisdom of offering the bonds in New York.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The Advertiser says that the Governorship is being influenced at Washington by a minority faction of the Fifth district. Why, we thought Birbe had retired from politics and gone into small farming.

The trouble with George Markham is much the same as that of the punished polly—he talks too much. What he does not know of local politics would fill all the volumes of a present day library, and, he, unfortunately, does not even know that. That his say-so is allowed to create any flurry at all in a political camp is past human understanding.

If the Home Rulers should nominate first-class men against "Republican" grafters who may get on the county ticket, they would stand the chance of winning the conservative Republican vote.—Advertiser.

In other words, if the Home Rulers will nominate missionaries the candidates will be supported by the Advertiser and the missionary party. It so turns out, however, that the native party is dead set against any and everything that would lead to such an unseemly combination.

The Argonaut (San Francisco), as have a very large number of mainland papers, published in its issue of August 17 an arraignment of the last Legislature and charges that legislation therein was on race lines. Of course everybody will at once correctly place the source of this information. It comes from the Advertiser's crowd, and is intended to impress the American people with the false idea that the native Hawaiian had sought to draw the color line in the legislative halls. As a matter of fact the last Legislature was one of the Republicans, formed of the missionaries by an overwhelming majority in both houses and controlled by them. Any race legislation or race feeling that showed itself came from that side, and the Argonaut may profit by remembering the fact.

The question of whether or not the coming Governor should be a local man is one of great importance, but there can be but one answer to it. If a man satisfactory to the majority is selected locally, that, of course, would be the best thing that could happen. But if the choice is to fall upon a man representing the little clique now in power, we say by all means give us a Governor from the mainland.

How is it that the head of the police department, High Sheriff Brown, knew nothing of the Jones tragedy Saturday night and heard nothing of it until apprised by an outside party by telephone at about 8:30 Sunday morning? After that it took him nearly two hours to get into town and begin an investigation. Where was he all this time and what was he doing? It would seem that a candidate for the office of County Sheriff should be able to make suitable explanations.

In the death of Lord Salisbury, Great Britain lost one of her brainiest and most reliable men. He was never a Gladstone nor a Bismark nor a Blaine, but he came near to the heights achieved by those world-famous leaders. Salisbury was the embodiment of diplomacy, wise and astute. As head of British affairs of state he conducted himself in such a way as to command the respect of all governments. Besides that he was patriotic to the core and loyal to the last breath to his country.

When Uncle Sam asks for recruits for his army and navy he puts up huge posters bearing the following words in red ink: "Every opportunity for advancement." But the poster does not tell what observing men know to be true—that usually when the opportunity for advancement offers some presidential or senatorial favorite is shoved forward. There are gallant and capable captains in the United States army who were tried soldiers lodge before Major General Wood knew the difference between a commissary wagon and a cartridge box—if, indeed, he knows the difference now.—The Commoner.

And so the Hawaiian people belong to the "more crude races," so says the Boston Journal, because "native Hawaiians want independence;" and that "judging by the way the Hawaiians behave with what little independence they have, there is conclusive proof that, whatever they may be fit for, they are not fit for independence." We consider the above a misfit, as the Hawaiians have not yet asked for independence, as Americans see and call it, although they have heretofore enjoyed independence, termed such by the enlightened Christian policy of government, for nearly fifty years before they were swooped down upon by the eager claws of the Eagle in quest of carrion. But now we are of the "more crude races." We wonder whether there isn't more crudeness among Americans than there is among those they deem to be of the "more crude races?" Enough have we seen of it right here in this country.

IS NOT YET IN ANY EMBARRASSMENT.

The Kapiolani Estate Can Hold Its Own Against All Comers.

Much consternation was aroused in the city last afternoon by the announcement in the Star, in large black type heading, occupying a space of 4½x5½ inches, "The Bank Takes Hold," giving the information that the German Savings and Loan Society of San Francisco had assumed and taken over, by its attorneys here, Smith & Lewis, the charge of a part of the business of the Kapiolani Estate, Limited. In its "scoop," it stated that the course adopted was done to protect itself in its advance of a loan of $300,000 at the rate of 6½ percent interest per annum, the mortgage being executed on May 31, 1902. The note given was for six years. The mortgage deed gave summary powers to the bank in the event of a ten days' delay in paying interest when it became due, upon which the bank gave instructions to its attorneys to take advantage of the summary powers given, which they have now done by issuing notices to certain tenants of the Estate to make payment of their rents to them. No cost will be chargeable for the collections to be made.

It is not denied by John F Colburn, the manager of the Kapiolani Estate, that they are six months in arrears in the payment of interest and this action on the part of the German Savings and Loan Society is in the natural course of business under the right of summary powers given it by the mortgage deed. The arrangement was made in an amicable and friendly way.

One would think from the "scoop" made by the Star with its scare head that the Kapiolani Estate was in a bad way, but we have the assurance of its efficient manager and representative that the affairs of the Estate are in a healthy condition and not in any way embarrassed. He also said, on being interviewed, that about $18,000 of the rent income was assigned under the mortgage to the German bank, it being only a small fraction of the entire income of the whole estate. Moreover, the estate has about $50,000 outstanding, besides having over $200,000 invested in sugar stocks, which does not show that it is in a bad way.

But the German bank people have done nothing more than to assert their rights. They may have taken the arrears to mean to force them to make a foreclosure, yet they do not care to, for in taking over the collection of certain rents, they no doubt feel safe in the investment made by them here. But some people are of the opinion that the step taken may be only intended to annoy and harass the estate on the part of the attorneys.

The Kapiolani Estate has twice offered to pay up the entire German bank loan and were twice refused. Once on February 4th last, it sent the following telegram: "Can we pay mortgage and accrued interest upon the date when settlement can be made?" And on the 7th following, it received the following reply: 'Directors regret cannot accept payment." This course necessitated Mr Colburn's going to San Francisco shortly after, ostensibly on a trip to London.

Prior to that time, negotiations had been carried on with certain parties in London, and who now stand ready at any time to advance to the Estate $500,000 as soon as the mortgage to the German bank people is cancelled. The London people had a representative sent out here some time ago and who favorably reported on the securities which the Estate have to offer. It was deemed by the London people that the securities must be good and safe, otherwise the German bank people would not have refused to cancel the mortgage.

On the whole, the Estate is not in any way embarrassed. Mr Colburn pointed to a small safe in the vault of the Estate that it contained, should matters come to the worse, enough to be realized and to pay off all the outstanding obligations of the Estate.

Hawaiians Dissatisfied.

Following is the editorial comment of the Argonaut, referred to yesterday, in regard to the work of the Legislature:

It is evident that the native Hawaiians have yet much to learn before they can understand the ideas of government that prevail in this country. Two legislatures have now convened there since the islands became a Territory of the United States. The first legislature did not understand the separation of executive and legislative functions and their exercise by different sets of officers. They regarded the legislature as the whole government, the executive as a subordinate employee. They thought that because the native party controlled the legislature it had the right to dictate who should hold the offices, and the entire native population was very much surprised when President McKinley did not remove Governor Dole in response to the petition of the legislature. In the first legislature, the tendency of the natives was obscured by the fact that intriguing whites were trying to use them. In the second, this disturbing element was practically eliminated. In the senate, the majority was composed of white men, and the senate made a creditable record. In the house there were only six or eight white men, in a membership of thirty. Almost without exception, the house tried to cut down the salaries of offices held by white men, and to increase the salaries of offices held by natives.

The feeling of discontent at not having their own way has gone even further, and members of the native party are already discussing the advisability of memorializing Congress to restore the former government. The action of the native party bids fair to divide parties more distinctly on race lines.

ELKS HONOR THE LATE POPE.

The first thing done at the national meeting of Elks in Baltimore, on July 21st last, was the passing of resolutions on the death of Pope Leo XIII. This is perhaps the first time that any fraternity operating on lines similar to those of the Elks has done any such thing, but the Elks explain the reasons for their action in a better way than a newspaper could set it forth. The Elks Antler, one of the leading paper of the order, comments on the action of the Grand Lodge and publishes the resolutions, as follows:

Bro Champe S Andrews, past and present Exalted Ruler of New York Lodge No 1, offered the following resolutions, which were adopted by the Grand Lodge by unanimous rising vote, and are typical of the broad spirit and liberal minds of the members of this order, irrespective of creed

No other fraternity built on similar lines and absolutely non sectarian, would have dared to pass such resolutions, but this Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks is above the petty prejudices with bias the minds of less liberal intellects, and it is to the Order's credit that it is so.

"WHEREAS, The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks is an organization devoted to the practice of charity and the exemplification of brotherly love, and

"WHEREAS, The Order, while entirely non-sectarian and non-political in every respect, is, nevertheless, by virtue of this very non-sectarianism, quick to recognize manifestations of charity and brotherly love wherever found among its fellow men, and

'WHEREAS, The Order has learned with profound regret of the death of Pope Leo XIII, and

"WHEREAS, His Holiness, on account of the brilliancy of his intellect, the purity and charity of his life, and the fraternal spirit animating his every deed, was preeminent among men; now therefore be it

"Resolved, By the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the United States of America, in solemn Grand Lodge assembled in the city of Baltimore, That in the untimely taking off of Pope Leo XIII, that humanity has lost a friend and teacher, and civilization a great leader, beloved of all men; be it further

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Grand Lodge, and a page be set aside for that purpose, and that a copy be furnished the press and copy be sent to Father W H Reamy, Chaplain of New York Lodge No 1, to be by him transmitted, with the sympathy of the Grand Lodge, to the proper authorities at the Vatican."

Delegates Nominated.

The Republicans of the Second precinct, Fourth district, nominated the following delegates to the island convention, leaving the list open, however, to Friday night for further names:

J A Gilman, E Kopke, F J Church, John Ouderkirk, J F Soper, Geo B McClellan, J A M Johnson, Gus Schuman, R Doble, John A Hughes, Hiram Kolomoku, C H Brown, E R Mossman, John U Joseph, A F Clark, Frank Kruger and W M Cunningham.

THURSDAY, AUG. 27, 1903.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

It might not be out of place to give E M Jones a reward of $500 for capturing the police department.

Jones was found last evening by surrendering himself at the Police Station, his son accompanying him. But where were the police?

High Sheriff Brown arrived at the Police Station last evening after Jones was in custody, even if he did not show up during the exciting hours of Saturday night. That is an improvement.

We don't see why Jones was starved out of Pauca valley. C W Booth's springs were near by, and from the evidence given before the last Legislature we were led to believe that the properties of that water would sustain life indefinitely.

The failure of the yachts to make the time in today's cup race must have been a surprise to Honolulu people. With George Davis on the mainland there should surely have been enough wind to have taken the boats across the line in good time.

When another man starts out to kill a few people he will confer a favor by leaving information of the fact, together with date, hour and place, at the Police Station a week ahead of time in order that the patrol wagon may be ready for the emergency.

We don't see why people fail to come up with a little money for the mosquito campaign. The Republican Central Committe must be terribly distressed about the matter. Every day brings the County election nearer, and something must be done to provide employment for a few idle Republican ward heelers. If these men are not looked after the Republicans may lose the election and the majority again secure control.

There is the only one fault to be found in the law proposed by the Bar Association, providing for an increase of the number of members of the Supreme Court from three to five. It should carry a rider prescribing that the new men be not politicians of the Frear and Perry type.

Young Johnny Jones, who delivered his father to the authorities last evening, is no doubt entitled to the $500 reward offered by the High Sheriff on his father's head. Now that Jones has been apprehended, the young son has realized something with which to provide defense in the case.

The resolutions of the Grand Lodge of Elks on the death of Pope Leo XIII. formed a departure for secret orders. The action must, however, be generally commended, for it shows that the Order does not fail, even in dealing with the very heads of great churches, in recognizing the spirit of brotherly love, charity and "good will to men."

Just what a man of J H Fisher's appearance, address, etc, would do to the people in Wall street is hard to imagine. But certain it is that they "wouldn't do a thing to him," both vulgarly and literally speaking. However, the gold brick men might catch him before he reaches brokers' row and gets his picture in the funny columns of the newspapers.

Now that the Advertiser has gotten out its hammer in earnest for T McCants Stewart, we think there should be good chances for that gentleman in the race for the office of County Attorney. When the morning press starts out vigorously for the scalp of a man it is a pretty safe proposition that that man is all right and will make a satisfactory public servant. Mr Stewart is too well known to be injured by the hisses of serpents, geese or some men.

S M Damon's idea that a market for the Hawaiian bonds should be established in New York is eminently sound. The suggestion that a man be sent on there to make arrangements is bad, however, inasmuch as it gives the Dole administration a semblance of excuse for allowing another "junketing" tour for some pet official—a thing that the Territorial government is always on the look-out for. At the very beginning of this thing we take the liberty of warning the Dole "cabinet" that the Legislature appropriated no money for a grand tour by a pigmy official on the bond business, and we predict that the next Legislature will probably repudiate the bill when it comes in.

Race Declared Off.

The yacht race of New York was again declared off today, neither boat finishing in the time limit. At the start there was scarcely any wind. A good breeze sprang up, however, and for a time there were promises of a successful contest. But on the home stretch the wind again died out and the last leg of the race was merely a drifting match. The Reliance held the lead all the way and crossed the line six miles ahead of the Shamrock. The next race will be on Saturday.

JONES SURRENDERS.

Given up By His Son Last Night and in Jail.

E M Jones, the alleged murderer of Mrs E M Jones and Mrs Sarah Parmenter, arrived at the police station shortly after 7 o'clock last evening, in the custody of his son, and surrendered himself to Captain Parker whom he met at the door. About nightfall he appeared at the home of his children (by the first wife) near Relief Camp No. 2. There he was informed of the vigorous search being made by the police for him, and promptly requested his son to take him to the police station. In the Deputy Sheriff's office Jones told his story of the crime—or rather a part of it, saying that he would later publish to the world the details of the causes leading up to the double murder.

Jones claims that when he was on the car Saturday night Mrs Jones was accompanied by the mortorman Pixley, who figured in the case. He hinted, although somewhat vaguely, that he had previously suspected Pixley of having a part in his domestic affairs. After going up Manoa he returned to his home, loaded his revolver put five extra cartridges in his pocket and repaired to the Parmenter place. Taking off his shoes he climbed over the hedge and stole upon the veranda. From that vantage he looked through the window and saw his former wife in bed. He then laid down in a hammock and went to sleep. According to his statement he was deeply intoxicated at the time.

He was aroused sometime later by a noise in the yard and upon looking through the window again discovered that Mrs Jones had gone. A moment later he heard talking on the pavement. Going over the hedge again he appeared on the scene of the noise and saw the motorman and Mrs Parmenter. His story of the shooting was rather vague. He said, however, that he did not intend to kill Mrs Jones but merely to shoot at and frighten her.

After the shooting he went out toward Makiki, climbed Punchbowl and then went up Tantalus. He was taken care of on the mountain by an old native whom he told he was searching for land shells. From that place he went down into Pauoa valley and most of the time since was spent in the brush and rice patches. While in Pauoa Jones stole some clothes from a Chinaman which he had on when taken into custody. At one time, Jones relates, two police officers passed within a few feet of his hiding place and were plainly seen by him.

At last in sheer desperation from the hardships encountered he decided to give up the battle for further liberty and came into town. The rest has already been told.

At the police station Jones was a mere shadow of his former self. He was all over with dirt, torn by the lantana and fairly baked by the sun. His nerves were gone and he was so weak that he could hardly stand. Even his intimates hardly recognized him and the remarkable change that had come over him in so short a period. After telling his story he was given heavy stimulants which served to brace him up a little.

Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth took the accused murderer to Oahu prison. Upon arrival there Jones was found to be in a high fever and seemed a bit delirious. Several times in a few minutes he called for ice water. Stimulants finally resulted in restoring him to a fairly normal condition.

This morning the prisoner was found to be in a bad way and was removed to the jail hospital for treatment. His feet and hands are badly swollen and his stomach is in terrible shape. On account of his condition the case was not called in the district court this morning.

Made Demand for Reward.

Johnny Jones, who delivered his father, E M Jones, last evening at the Police Station, today made a written demand on High Sheriff Brown for the $500 reward offered for the apprehension of his father. Mr Brown, it is understood, sees no reason why the same should not be paid the young man, which may probably be used in his father's defense. This is far from what was intended, as it was used as an incentive for the arrest of an alleged criminal and fugitive from justice, but instead it may be used for a purpose altogether different from what the intention was. Of this reward, $250 is put up by the Government and $250 by John F Colburn, to whom a letter has been addressed by the High Sheriff. As soon as the money is in hand, it will no doubt be paid over to the young man, for him to use as he may please.

The Board of Agriculture yesterday decided to suspend for the present the privilege of taking ferns, plants and shrubs from government lands.

At the meeting of the Bar Association held yesterday afternoon the resignation of Frank E Thompson was accepted with expressions of regret.

Dr Henry Hayes has resigned from the office of government physician at Olaa and will move to Hilo. He will likely be succeeded by Dr Curtis.

Matters pertaining to the St Louis Exposition were considered at a meeting of those interested held in the Chamber of Commerce this morning.

Native sons of California are called to meet in the Alexander Young hotel roof garden on Saturday evening to talk over the celebration of Admission Day.

Last night was the first one since the double murder at the Parmenter place that the Jones house near Relief Camp 2 had not been watched by the police.

The funeral of the late Miss Juanita Dreier took place from the Roman Catholic Cathedral this morning, Bishop Libert officiating. Interment was in Nuuanu Cemetery.

Customs Collector E R Stackable has received cable instructions to meet R B Armstrong, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, in San Francisco on September 11 to discuss Honolulu custom house business.

The skeet-go meeting yesterday afternoon proved a failure so far as numbers present was concerned. A circular letter of advice to property owners was adopted, and a number of minor points were talked over.

Press Bulletin No 6 of the Hawaii Agricultural Experiment Station, Honolulu, on "Vanilla Cultivation in Hawaii," prepared by Frank E Conter and issued by Jared G Smith, special agent in charge, has been received.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Captain Parker and his Japanese coolie crew are working night and day on the United States government dredging contract at the naval slips.

The trial of the three soldiers charged with burglarizing the Ocean View resort will come off in the district court tomorrow morning. E M Watson appears for the artillerymen.

Two coroner's juries are holding inquests this afternoon at the Police Station on the death of the late Mrs E M Jones and Mrs Parmenter, her mother. As the evidence in both are practically the same, this course has been adopted as the most expedient.

R W Wilcox, the chairman of the Home Rule Executive Committee, failed to turn up at the usual weekly meeting this morning. A messenger was sent up to his house to find out and he returned later with Mrs Wilcox and with the information that Mr Wilcox was not well.

The Home Rule Central Committee met this forenoon at headquarters and filled certain vacancies of those resigned and dropped for cause. In their places Col C P Iaukea, J Mana and J W Bipikane were nominated and elected. Being all present, they accepted and were all duly sworn in.

Senator D Kalauokalani, president of the Home Rule party, will leave next Tuesday for Maui, to open the nominating convention at Wailuku on September 3; and J P Makainai, vice president, will also leave on the same day for Kona, Hawaii, to do a like duty at Kailua. Both conventions will occur on the same date.

Mrs Parmenter Dead.

Mrs Parmenter, who was shot by E M Jones Saturday night, died from the effects of the wound at 8 o'clock last evening. The body was embalmed by H H Williams in order that the funeral might be delayed until the arrival of deceased's son, Marcus, by the Mauna Loa tomorrow morning.

Mrs Sarah Parmenter was the eldest of three children of the late John F Colburn, a Boston man remembered by old residents as conducting the business of an auctioneer in Honolulu. She was sister of the late Marcus Colburn, who died a few years ago, and John F Colburn, manager of the Kapiolani Estate, Ltd.

Mrs Parmenter was born on October 6, 1855, making her age at death close on 48 years. She married the late Captain Gilbert Parmenter, an old and experienced whaler who sailed in and out of this port for thirty years. Three children were born to the couple—Mrs Albert Lucas and Marcus Parmenter, surviving, the latter being named after his uncle who had taken it from his own grandfather.

The second child was Mrs E M Jones, whose divorced husband murdered her that dark Saturday midnight when he also fired the murdering bullet into the head of her mother.

The funeral services will be held at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Central Union Church, of which she was a member, and interment will be at Nuuanu cemetery.

For Five Judges

Following is the draft of the Act which the Bar Association will likely ask Congress to pass, increases the number of the Territorial Supreme Court from three to five:

Section 1. That Section 82 of the Act of Congress approved April 30, 1900, entitled "An Act to Provide a Government for the Territory of Hawaii" be amended so that it shall read as follows:

"Section 82. That the Supreme Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and four Associate Justices. They shall be citizens of the Territory of Hawaii, and shall be appointed by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate of the United States, and may be removed by the President. Three Justices shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of three Justices shall be necessary to decide all matters requiring to be heard by the Court. No other person shall be authorized to act as a substitute for any such Justices."

Section 2. This Act shall take effect from and after the date of its approval.

Mrs Burn's Illness.

The San Francisco Call of August 16 contains the following in regard to Mrs I R Burns, nee Afong, of Honolulu:

Mrs Isidore Burns returned from her recent visit to Australia, New Zealand and Honolulu, whither she went for her healt,hvery much benefitted,but has met with considerable opposition in the San Francisco climate since she came back and is not gaining strength very rapidly. Mr Burns went down to Honolulu to meet his wife and accompany her home.

Mrs Burns is an exceptionally clever woman and was formerly a member of more than a dozen clubs, in which she took an active interest, but she has long since dropped most of them and therefore does not hold club work responsible for her recent illness.

CARTER WILL GO TO NEW YORK.

After consultation with the heads of departments Governor Dole decided to send Secretary George R Carter to New York to carry out Mr Damon's ideas in regard to the new loan bond issue. Of his trip Mr Carter says:

"The first thing will be to gather up the necessary data. I don't want to go over and find that I have to send back for something.

"In the first place, I shall want from the Treasurer's department a statement of the taxes, and of the present indebtedness. From the Attorney-General's department I want to get a legal opinion setting forth the authorities for the issuance of the bonds. I shall have to have certified copies made of the bills, also copies of the Governor's correspondence so far with the President.

"I shall meet the bankers down town and arrange for the advances covering expenses, not only for my trip but for the engraving and printing, also the calling for bids. If we can arrange to have the expense of a legal opinion from some New York attorney taken out of incidentals in the Attorney-General's department, such will be done.

"Provision has to be made for carrying on the work in relation to this office, particularly that of the coming county election, during my absence, and if possible for continuing the arrangements for the payment of the Chinese fund.

"I shall probably go direct to New York, hoping by the time I reach there to have a cablegram from here saying that the President had approved the loan, in which case my work would be confined right in the city there.

"However, if I get East and nothing be heard from the President, I shall go to Oyster Bay or to Washington, as may be required, and try to hurry up definite action one way or another. If the matter has been left by the President to the Attorney General's department, why I shall camp outside their door.

"As soon as the President's action is taken, I shall go back to New York and secure a legal opinion, which would help the sale of the bonds. Then I should order their engraving and printing, with such modifications as the attorney may require or suggest.

"It will be my endeavor to hurry up that part of the work and start the bonds back for signatures of the Governor and the Treasurer, meanwhile calling for bids to be received for, say, at least a quarter million dollars by the first of October, and if possible arrange at the same time for the sale of half a million around the first of the year.

"I shall make every effort possible to get assurances that bids will be made. I hope it will not be necessary for me to stay there until the bids are in, at least it is not expected.

"I am going to make every effort to catch the steamer Sierra next Tuesday, and hope to return as soon as possible to attend to my duties in reference to the election."

The funeral of the late Mrs Parmenter will take place from Central Union church at 4 o'clock this afternoon, the procession leaving the late residence at 3:30.

Chief Justice Frear has signed a writ of prohibition, forbidding Judge Gear and Carlos A Long from interfering further in the R W Holt will case. The writ is made returnable before the Supreme Court on Monday, October 5.

CHINESE vs CITIZENS.

The report in another column that the I I S N Co. had discharged its citizen employees on the steamer Mauna Loa and installed Chinese in their stead seems absolutely incredible. The inter Island Company is an out and out Republican concern and one of the houses that last year pledged itself to citizen labor on its steamers in return for Republican votes. Now, so soon after, it breaks its pie-crust promise and turns ten admittedly competent citizen workmen into the streets and replaces them with Chinamen.

On the Coast a company dependent upon citizens for its business and dividends would not dare attempt such a thing. Had the same thing occurred in San Francisco, the Mauna Loa would lie at her dock until she rotted into a heap of old junk and sank into the mud. Here, however, workingmen are less powerful and more peaceful. They have to take their medicine. They are not able to buck the three-ball tactics of powerful corporations, and the stunted czars in charge of them. They must walk the streets and skirmish for a living while corporations like the Inter Island Steam Navigation Company wax fat on the cheap labor of coolies.

We understand that the new head engineer, Muirhead, was the author of the scheme to let the citizens go and to employ Chinese in their places, although the inspiration came from James A Kennedy, president of the Company. When A W Heech was head engineer of the company and John Ena the president only citizens were employed in the engine rooms of the steamers. It remained for J A Kennedy, recently head of the Republican party, to make the radical and un-American change referred to.

The workmen of Honolulu may not be organized in such a way that they can effectually demand their rights, but they have in their hands one weapon with which they can retaliate to a finish. That weapon is the ballot. The county election in November will afford the initial opportunity, and a year later members of the Legislature are to be elected. Let the workingmen accept no longer the honeyed promises of business houses and business men whose campaign pledges are only vote-catchers and not supported by a scintilla of sincerity; and support only those men whose honesty has been proved and whose fidelity to the interests of the masses has never been questioned.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

If the Advertiser's clique is successful in the Republican primaries tonight we may expect the political atmosphere in the missionary camp to be quite serene tomorrow morning. If unsuccessful, however, old Grandma may be expected to return to her conner and again fan up a case of sulks.

In the death of Mrs Gulick yesterday the Islands lost one of their very oldest and most beloved white women. Deceased spent almost a life-time here, and those years were years of devction to those in need of counsel or assistance, with particular concern for the native Hawaiians. In her demise many have lost a sterling friend and benefactress, others a valued acquaintance, and all the presence of a truly good woman.

Secretary Carter is to make a junketing trip to Washington and New York in the interest of the loan bonds. He is to borrow money down town for printing the bonds and also for the expenses of his princely tour of the Continent. The bill will be a big one. Two years hence the people will be asked to foot it, together with interest. Aspirants for Legislative honors are warned that the last Legislature made no provision for this waste of public funds.

The United States government has neglected to return the three soldiers, accused of burglarizing Chief Justice Frear's house, for trial, and Governor Dole has decided that the matter was a very trivial one. THE INDEPENDENT pointed out at the time that there was nothing to the thing except an effort of Chief Justice Frear to pose as an enemy of crime. It was a grand-stand play all the way through, as Attorney-General Andrews has since found out. If the soldiers care to they can probably make a good, fat damage suit stick against our renowned, political chief justice.

The murder of United States Consul Magelssen by the Turks at Beyrout, Syria, last Sunday will mean some lively developments in that quarter The American fleet in European waters was yesterday ordered to the scene and shoud arrive there in six days. Everything in the result will depend upon the attitude of the European powers in the matter. There is a pronounced jealousy in Europe in regard to the United States and there may be a combination of the powers against American coercion and encroachment in Turkey. In such event the trouble will prove of a most serious character. On the other hand the Powers may see in the appearance of an outside nation on the scene a paw with which to wrest their own chestnuts from the fire.

Superintendent Cooper has a penchant for establishing monuments to himself. In the past if any park, boulevard of public structure was to be established, Cooper has strained himself black in the face to get in and corral the honor of starting it. He now has a fool scheme for a special building at the St Louis Exposition, to which he may point and say "I did that." The appropriation for St Louis is $30,000 It is estimated that a suitable building will cost $22,000. This will leave only $8,000 for getting together and exploiting the exhibit, running expenses, etc.; and reliable authorities point out that it will cost that much to complete the mere preliminary work here. If the scheme is not one of putting an eighty dollar saddle on a twenty dollar horse, we do not know what it is. It is simply another project of Cooper's as a result of which he can swell his chest out and pat himself on the head at public expense.

The new singing girl recruits of Capt Berger, three in number, have twice been lately tried and are not up to the standard of the older ones. But of course, they are somewhat new (!) to the open air singing business, as practised by the Professor, and we are willing to give them time for improvement. Being new, they are somewhat bashful to sing out in a solo, duo or trio, but are not so in a chorus. It is to be hoped though that Mr Berger will curb some of the boys, whose voices are more like cross-cut saws than good singing, which was the case at the Railroad depot the other evening. No doubt, the singing of the recruits might have been appreciated if the boys sang softer with more pathos and feeling, but with less harshness than was the case we refer to, which was perfectly horrid and exoruciatingly painful to a tyro, much less to anyone musically inclined. And pray, who are to pay for these recruits? Out of what appropriation are they to be paid? As the Legislature failed to provide for them, we hope that Mr Berger will put up for them himself or otherwise, we'll soon find out how, by whom and from whence they are to be paid.

Labor Council Acts.

At the last meeting of the Honolulu Trades and Labor Council, the question of patronizing Asiatics, was discussed at length, and the following resolution was adopted;

RESOLVED; That it is the sense of the Honolulu Trades & Labor Council, that we are opposed to members patronizing Asiatics, except where it cannot possibly be avoided, and that we are in favor of patronizing merchants who employ citizen labor, or those eligible to become such,

RESOLVED; That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Builders & Traders Exchange, Merchants Association, and the Press, and that a copy be spread on the minutes of this Council.

Convention Day Set.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Home Rule party held this morning Senator D Kalaukalani announced that the convention for this island would be held on September 30.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

THE INDEPENDENT 50 cents per month.

Mrs Junius Kaae left by the Mikahala late yesterday for a visit to Kauai.

George Lycurgus and bride will be expected back by some steamer next week.

The Iwalani brought from Kauai this morning 1167 bags paddy, 636 rice and 42 packages.

Robertson & Wilder have been retained to defend E M Jones in the coming murder trial.

The annual meeting of the Research club will be held at the residence of Rev W M Kincaid next Tuesday.

Alex Nicholas and wife, for disturbing the quiet of the night were nolle prossed in the District Court this morning.

Volume 14 of Hawaiian Reports was issued by the Supreme Court this morning. It contains 757 pages and is neatly bound.

Mrs Josephine Barber, a local teacher of Theosophy and Buddhism, traveller and writer died in San Francisco on August 15.

The Niihau, which arrived this morning from Punaluu, Hawaii, brought 6240 bags of H A Company sugar for C Brewer & Co.

Conductor Stone, who was mixed up in the Jones affair, has been dismissed from the employ of the Rapid Transit Company.

THE INDEPENDENT acknowledges with thanks the receipt of a copy of Hawaiian Reports, Vol 14, from the Justices of the Supreme Court.

The daughters and sisters of E M Jones were permitted to see him yesterday in the Oahu prison office and it is said the scene was very affecting.

At a meeting of the Baseball League held yesterday afternoon it was decided that the games scheduled for September 19, Regatta Day, should be played.

Motorman Pixley has been arrested and will be required to put up bonds in the sum of $2,000 to appear in the Jones case. He is considered an important witness.

There will be a Salvation Army wedding at Hilo on September 12. The contracting parties are Lieutenant Katherine L Hutchinson and Captain R W McLeod.

The pall-bearers at the funeral of the late Juanita Dreier yesterday were: A R Cunha, P Gleason, George Lucas, A W Seabury, D McCorriston and Lot Kaulukou

F Buckley, Robert Netny and F Fisher, the three Camp McKinley soldiers held for burglarizing the Moody saloon at Waikiki, were this morning committed by the District Court to the next term of the Circuit Court for trial.

Mother Gulick passed peacefully away at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs S A Gulick, in Kalihi yesterday. She had been sinking since the fall sustained some weeks ago and most of the time was partially delirious.

Charles Halverson, a member of Company F, died yesterday, leaving a wife and four children. The funeral expenses were borne by Company F and a squad from the Company accompanied the remains to the cemetery at Pearl City.

At a meeting of the Exposition Association held yesterday Superintendent Cooper urged the advisability of having a special building for Hawaii at St Louis as, it was reported, suitable space could not be secured in any of the Federal buildings.

Republican primaries will be held in all the precincts of this island. Very little interest is being taken in the events, particularly in the Fifth district. It is not improbable that there will be some spirited contests between the rival factions in the Fourth.

CHANGE CHINESE FOR AMERICANS

Ten American citizens, whites and natives, employed on the steamer Mauna Loa, of the I I S N Co, were dismissed from their positions today and their places will be taken by Chinese. Their time will expire at 5 o'clok this afternoon and they will receive the balance of their wages at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The order discharging the men came to them as a thunderbolt from a clear sky. No fault was found with their work. It was orally explained that the company desired to cut down expenses and as Chinamen could be employed cheaper than whites and natives a saving could be made by the arrangement.

The new chief engineer, Muirhead, signed the order dismissing the men, although the document was countersigned by President James A Kennedy, of the company. It is said that Kennedy and Muirhead concocted the scheme between them. That it was known to the stockholders of the company is doubted.

Of the men let out three were firemen, three oilers, three coal passers and one in charge of the launch. All had been in the business a long time and their work was entirely satisfactory. As if to emphasize the truth of the old saying that "trouble never comes single-handed," Marcus Parmenter, brother of the murdered Mrs E M Jones and son of Mrs Parmenter, was one of the men let out. He had charge of the launch, a good position, and was doing well. He was not present when the order was read out, on account of the funeral of his mother today, but will be apprised of his latest misfortune this afternoon.

Considerable is already being said in labor circles about this outrage of the Inter Island Company, and there may be things "doing" on account of it. The I I S N Co is a Republican institution and its president, James A Kennedy, is a recognized leader in the Republican party. Prior to the election of last year Republican business houses promised the voters that if they would support the Republican ticket they (the business men) would see to it that citizens only were employed on the steamers and along the waterfront. The Inter Island Company has already forgotten its promise and tomorrow Chinese coolies will take the places of the men whose support the company sought and procured in the last campaign. It is believed this afternoon that the affair will be taken up by workingmen generally and will prove an important factor in the county election. And is it not proper that it should?

Road Damages.

Richards street, Emma Kaleleonalani Estate $3145 for 5430 square feet; Enterprise Mill Co. $150 removing building and leasehold.

Hotel street, Gilbert Walter $1914 for 319 square feet.

Pauoa road, Kapiolani Estate $1515 70.

Ward Avenue, Kapiolani Estate awarding nothing for 4,365 square feet for which twenty-five cents a foot was claimed.

Punchbowl street, Kapiolani Estate awarded $672 for land and fencing.

"Mother" Gulick's Funeral.

The funeral of the late "Mother" Gulick took place from the family residence at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Rev Wm M Kincaid and Rev H H Parker conducted the services at the house and are in charge at the grave. Interment is in Nuuanu cemetery.

CRIMES CHARGED TO E. M. JONES.

The coroner's juries in the case of Mrs E M Jones and Mrs Parmenter held sessions yesterday afternoon, heard testimony and returned verdicts in both cases charging E M Jones with the murders. Although they were different the witnesses and testimony in the cases were substantially the same. Dr Emerson testified as to the condition of Mrs Jones after death, and Dr Miner as to Mrs Parmenter. Officer Kane told of his visit to the house. C E Pixley, the Rapid Transit conductor, gave an account of his presence on the scene, and Mrs Marcus Parmenter, who was in the house at the time of the shooting, gave her story of the tragedy. The verdicts of the two juries were practically the same, the differences being in the names of the dead and dates of death. The Mrs Jones verdict was as follows:

"That the said Linda K Jones came to her death at Honolulu, Island of Oahu, on the morning of the 23rd day of August, A D 1903, from injuries to her head caused by a bullet passing through it, said bullet having been discharged out of a revolver held in the hands of one Elward Mitchel Jones, said revolver being discharged as aforesaid by said Elward Mitchel Jones with intent to kill the said Mrs Linda K Jones."

On the inquest on the death of Mrs Jones, the following persons comprised the jury: H W Kinney, G W R King, E W Campbell, C D Pringle, W T Blacker and C L Sprinks. On the inquest on Mrs Parmenter's death were: P H Burnette, T R Lucas, Chas Fullerton, D H Davies, E E Mossman and Ed Paris.

CORRESPONDENCE

Some Police Doings that Look Somewhat Peculiar.

On Friday, the 4th instant, the Hana District Court convened to hear the case of the Territory vs Joe Cabral and Jose Martines for assault and battery upon Kusbara, Japanese. The Deputy Sheriff and the Captain of Police prosecuted while W P Haia and M H Reuter defended.

The warrant is as follows: "Territory of Hawaii vs Joe Cabral and Jose Martines for assault and battery upon Kusbara at Nahiku, within the jurisdiction of this Court, on the 10th day of August, 1903, in violation of Chapter 26, Laws of 1897." This was sworn to by a Japanese, who stated that it was only on hearsay, he not being the party assaulted nor was he an eyewitness.

After the case had been called up and on the warrant being read and the above facts became known, the defense moved for a dismissal, as there was no standing in law for one to swear to a warrant on heresay evidence. The Court granted the motion.

Your correspondent is of the opinion that had the motion not been granted by the Court, the attorneys would no doubt have asked for a release on the ground that there was no standing in law to prosecute an assault case under another law pertaining to fast riding upon a public highway. This is a grievous error never before known, and if it is continued, what will the end be? It should be considered at once.

Nothing further has been done to this case up to this writing for and on behalf of Kusbara, the one assaulted. Those who did the deed are no doubt easing their minds over the affair of their narrow escape from the clutches of the law.

Here is another instance of how the law is being evasively manipulated. On Monday, the 17th instant, several Chinese while gambling were pounced upon by the police. Four of the lot were caught, the balance escaping. Bail was fixed at $50 each, the Deputy Sheriff refusing to reduce. But on the day following, prior to the convening of the Court, consent was given, so it is currently reported, by the Deputy Sheriff for each to make a $5 bail deposit and to forfeit the same.

If such a course is continued, what will the Government come to? There are instances that have occurred that should be taken cognizant of by those in higher authority and remedied.

Hoping that I have not trespassed over much on your space, I remain, yours,

KAUWIKI.

Hana, Maui, Aug. 19, 1903.

Remarkable Case.

Toledo, Ohio, August 8—David Traucht, of Arlington, Ohio, near here, recovered from an attack of typhoid fever a short time ago only to become an automaton. He makes no signs of recognition except by doffing his hat. Whether spoken to or not he tips his hat to anybody in his presence. He has lost control of certain muscles. When started in one direction he cannot change his course unless some one forcibly alters the position of his feet and body.

Traucht is wealthy and his strange case is attracting the attention of famous specialists.

The pall-bearers at the funeral of Mrs Gulick yesterday afternoon were: W W Hall, Elward B Friel, Fred Wundenberg, C M Cooke, Fred Whitney and H E McIntyre.

A FEW BAND NOTES.

Pay day in Government circles is nigh at hand, because the end of the month is near. It is to be hoped that Prof. Berger will treat the voters under him better this time than the dirt he did some of them the last time. We are keeping our "eagle eyes" peered over him and we trust the Auditor to do the rest.

It is not quite well known among the members of the Hawaiian Band the reason why it was that they were paid late last month instead of being at the end of the past month or at the beginning of the present month, but instead it was later than the first. We'll inform them and the public at large, too, that the Prof attempted to draw the full pay of a member whom he informed the Auditor he was to fine for absenting himself from duty for a cause other than for sickness. On this information, the Auditor rightly refused to issue the warrant, for if there was any rebate, it was to remain with the Government, and not go out and into the hands of another to be used for a purpose not contemplated under the Appropriation Bill. Try whichever way he may by raising various reasons, the Auditor remained stern as adamant, which, after several days waiting, he submitted and it was then that the boys received their pay. Know ye now the reason?

Under one of the Salary Appropriation Bills, only 27 bandsmen are known to be enlisted in the Territorial Band, including the Bandmaster. Other than these are two lady vocalists. The pay of the bandsmen are according to class, the classification is to be made by the bandmaster, and all their salaries are made specific as well as the others connected. And again, under those same bills, the bandmaster has not the right to lower the pay of any member without being classified by him. Now what we want to know is, how is he to pay for the extra men over and above the number fixed by the Legislature as well as the three lady recruits as chorus vocalists? Will Prof. Berger pay them himself out of his own large salary of $235 a month, and that without docking himself for being absent?

Thrice have the new three singing girls sang in public. The first time was at the Palace grounds last Sunday, the second at the Railroad depot at Leleo (not Palama), and thirdly at the Young hotel roof garden the other evening. On each occasion, neither of them sang a solo, nor a duet or a trio, but all joined in chorus. Of course, they are young and inexperienced for such an ordeal unless it be in some nook out of sight, then they may be able to sing sweetly. What are they for, then, Prof, wall flowers? If they are, they will no doubt make good ornaments for Gus Murphy to use as decorators, when the occasion may arise.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The Advertiser was quite mild this morning on the Republican nominations in the various precincts, which leads us to believe that the missionaries scored a point or two.

If Mr Cooper really wants a building for Hawaii at St Louis, he might send his Roman mansion in Manoa valley over there. And if C W Booth's Pauoa valley springs could be moved over and made to do the spouting act on the front lawn the thing would be set off to a fine point.

When M T Lyons was nominated in the Fourth of the Fourth last night, Chairman Chillingworth explained for him that Treasurer Kepoikai objected to employees of his department taking a conspicuous part in politics. Good for Kepoikai! The stand he has taken is worthy of emulation by Secretary Carter, Auditor Fisher and other heads of departments.

The gentleman of Arlington, Ohio, mentioned in a despatch elsewhere, who cannot stop nor change his course when he starts to walk, should at once make the acquaintance of Senator W C Achi. He is a proper "machine" man, and the tactics of Achi in the Republican primary in the sight of the Fifth last night marks him as his long-lost half brother.

It is self-evident that Uncle Sam is looking for trouble in the Mediterranean. Acting upon a mere cable despatch to the effect that the Consul at Beyrout had been murdered, peremptory demands were made on Turkey and a fleet of American war vessels was actually despatched to the district and is now beyond recall. It turns out, however, that the Consul was not murdered at all but that he may or may not have been shot at by an unknown assailant. Reduced to the marrow, it looks like a case of Roosevelt trying to bring on trouble abroad in order that the people may be reduced to the extreme of not swapping horses in the middle of the stream next year.

Kalihi camp continues to be a Republican stronghold, the residents there following blindly their Republican leaders. At the same time their Republican neighbors and leading Republicans are striving in every possible way to drive the poor people from the camp into the streets. It is a case of kissing the hand that smites. How long will the occupants of Kalihi camp stand for such treatment?

There will be no meeting of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society this evening on account of the county primary elections. The meeting will be held next Saturday evening. —Official Announcement.

There is something that tickles like a horse-brush on the risibles in the above. The American papers that have recently credited native Hawaiians with an overdose of politics will please have a smile with us.

The Honolulu Trades and Labor Council has made a proper move in advising its members to deal with the business houses of citizens only. This fight against coolie competition must work both ways. If the laboring man is to be protected in the trades, he must protect the merchant in his business. If the merchant does not hold to his bargain he can be brought up with a round turn. We are all in the same boat in this affair and it must be a case of "you tickle me and I'll tickle you." But the cause is a good one.

The Advertiser charges that T McCants Stewart raked up the old score at Kalihi Camp last evening to the effect that King Kalakaua's grand-father was a negro. The excoriations of the morning press might have an effect upon the Hawaiian mind were it not for the fact that at the time of the election of David Kalakaua to be King the chaff about his antecedents was the principal argument used by the Advertiser against him. Now that conditions have changed Grandma takes the opposite tack and hurls back at herself the identical arguments of thirty years ago. In the words of Dr Sereno Bishop, however, "I know it is not true, but it helps our side, you see," you see.

To be Admitted to Membership.

At the Hawaiian service at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning at St Andrew's Cathedral, Bishop Restarick will hold a confirmation, the candidates being Delegate-elect Kalanianaole and his wife, Princess Kalanianaole. They will be presented by the Rev F Fitz, the priest-in-charge, who prepared them.

Rheumatism

is a disease of the blood. Local applications may furnish temporary relief, but to CURE the disease it is necessary to treat it through the blood.

Locomotor Ataxia is a disease of the nerves. The one successful method of treatment is by a remedy that will restore nutrition to the nerves. Such a remedy is

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

These pills are a specific in cases of Rheumatism, Locomotor Ataxia, Paralysis, and other diseases of the blood and nerves, because they supply the necessary elements to build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. It is in this way that the pills effect so many cures in diseases of apparently widely different character.

Frank Long, who lives near Lennon, Mich., says: "I was first taken with a pain in my back. The physician pronounced my case muscular rheumatism, accompanied by lumbago. My disease gradually became worse until I thought death would be welcome release.

"I was finally induced to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Before the first box was used I could get about the house, and after using five boxes was entirely cured. Since that time I have felt no return of the rheumatic pains. Am confident that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved my life.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

THE INDEPENDENT 50 cents per month.

The band will play for the baseball games this afternoon.

Tomorrow afternoon's concert by the band will be at Makee Island.

Miss Prescott issued her interesting little paper, The Honolulu Times, yesterday.

Judge Robinson approved the account of W O Smith, guardian of the John Hamauku minors.

Alvah Scott, son of John A Scott, of Hilo, arrived by the Kinau today on his way to school in the east.

The steamship Aorangi arrived off port from Vancouver about midnight and came in early this morning.

The annual accounts of W O Smith, guardian of the Gay minors, were referred to M T Simonton as master.

The band of Conductor Pixley to appear as a witness in the Jones case has been reduced from $2,000 to $1,000.

The wife of J M Gomes, a player in the band, died last evening. The funeral will take place at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The baseball games this afternoon will be between the Punahous and Honolulus at 1:30 and the Elks and Kamehamebas at 3:30.

E M Jones was brought into the district court this morning but on motion of his counsel hearing was postponed to Monday.

The team of Prince David took fright during the funeral of Mrs Gulick yesterday afternoon and ran away. No damage, however, was done.

Dr Atherton, son of the late J B Atherton, died at Liberty, New York, yesterday. A cablegram conveying the sad news was received here last night.

Ane Hilo has appealed to the Supreme Court in her suit against Liliuokalani from Judge Gear's decree dismissing the bill and dissolving the injunction.

The Symphony Orchestra will hold its regular rehearsal this evening, after which the election of new members into the society by the charter members will be held.

At tomorrow morning's services in Kawaiahao church the tablet to the memory of Queen Kashumanu will be unveiled. Rev H Bingham, Rev H H Parker and others will officiate.

David Dayton, guardian of H K Dowsett, a minor, in his fourth account charges himself with $694.42 and asks to be allowed $1131.35, making the balance due himself $436 93.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary and Guild of St Andrew's Cathedral will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 p m, at the house of Mrs Clive Davies, Nuuanu valley.

Mrs Parmenter's funeral from Central Union Church yesterday afternoon was largely attended and the floral offerings were very elaborate and beautiful. Nephews of deceased were the pall-bearers.

The following have been elected officers of the Stock Exchange for the ensuing term: James F Morgan, president; Harry Armitage, vice-president; W A Love, secretary; Claus Spreckels & Co., treasurer.

Demurrers are filed in the suits against Wee Shing and C Winam et al, brought by the Oriental Life Insurance Co., also a motion to dissolve garnishment in the latter case, Bishop & Co. and the Bank of Hawaii being the garnishees.

The official letter of the skeet go committee, giving instructions and asking for money, was received in the mail this morning. Expenses of the committee are figured at from $300 to $500 a month. According to that only about $1,000 will be needed to keep the idle Republicans going until after the county election.

CORRESPONDENCE

What Mr Stewart Said.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:

The morning paper is guilty of a deliberate misrepresentation in saying that I said at last night's precinct meeting, that "King Kalakaua's grandfather was a nigger."

I never used the word, "nigger," during the entire meeting.

This is what I said, "The men, who are insulting me, forget that some of the ancestors of King Kalakaua were of the colored race; and they would use the term, 'kanaka' in the same insulting spirit if they dared, but they are afraid of the Hawaiian vote."

August 29th, 1903.

T McCANTS STEWART

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:

If you see anything in the sun, it is so; if you see anything in the Advertiser, it is not so. I resigned my position as Vice-President of the Republican Club a year ago from today and they filled that vacancy last night. I don't want to be a subordinate for a man like Mr Kaulukou whom the Advertiser is boosting. The Advertiser ought to publicly open a department for fakes and lies.

ENOCH JOHNSON.

Primary Nominations.

The Republican nominating primaries last night turned out to be amiss of interesting happenings save for giving the chance of factions in the several precincts to spit fire at each other. Slates were voted everywhere, some of the precincts choosing the exact number of candidates allotted to them in the convention and others entertaining more nominations. In the Fourth district everything passed off quietly and nominations were made in an orderly manner. Not so, however, in some parts of the Fifth.

In the eighth of the Fifth machine politics were worked. W C Achi and John C Lane leaders of the two factions in the precinct, came to an agreement during the day and rammed the slate decided upon by them down the throats of their followers. The basis of settlement was five for Lane to two for Achi, and they came into the meeting with everything cut and dried, and forced their measures through. One fluke practiced in the meeting was for the machine men to talk English when there was something they did not want the natives to understand, and to talk Hawaiian when there was something not intended for the haoles. The result was that Achi walked away with the precinct safely ensconced in his pocket.

The meeting of the ninth of the Fifth was notable chiefly for the appearance of an army of missionaries in it. Among the member were P C Jones, W O Smith and Boss Thurston. They tried to run things and apparently succeeded.

In the Seventh of the Fifth there was the usual turmoil. All that happened was fully anticipated, and more too. A number of policemen were present to poultice bruised heads although their services were not required. Some ancient hen fruit appeared on the scene and a few oranges and the like were flying around. Several caustic speeches were made and, as usual, the 'lis flew around like dust from a coal ship.

On account of a storm on the Atlantic Coast the Shamrock and Reliance could not race this morning.

The Kinau's cargo today from Hawaii consisted of 45 cords wood, 50 bags coffee, 3 pigs and 193 packages.

Mrs Widdifield's home on Hassinger street was sold at auction today for $7,500. R W Shingle was the purchaser.

Republican primaries this afternoon for election of delegates to the county convention opened at 2 o'clock and will continue to 8.

Kinau Arrives.

The Kinau arrived early this morning from Hawaii and Maui ports, bringing the following passengers:

L H Bricker, Mrs R G Moore, Miss D Smith, Miss Frances Howell, Miss Katherine Howell, Mrs H B Restarick, Miss C Restarick, Jas McGill, R W Perkins, Dr W C Holdy, Mrs La Follette, Miss F Bindt, Miss R Greco, Miss K McIntyre, F Williams, R S Thurston, Alvah Scott, Miss Mary Forbes, Miss Emma Forbes, T A Hays, L Schweitzer, J A Scott, Miss Cora Blaisdell, Miss Father Lando, Bro Bertram, L M Whitehouse, Miss E Lyons, John T Baker, Jr, J Lilii wife and child, Mrs Kuniakea, Mrs W Spencer, J D Koki, N Imafugi, Mrs H Kinney, Abia Maikai, Cadet W Sharp, A F Judd, C T Littlejohn, J S Canario, Jr, D Lycurgus, Geo Reinhart, J G Sarrac, A Souza, Mrs L Pukii and child, B Kingo, T Watanabe, Miss I Renwick, H Arunigre, Master E Boyle, Miss A Elscow, Miss E Horner, Mrs W A Henderson, Rev W A Henderson, Master A Henderson, W Akui, wife and son, J T McCrosson, John Hind, Miss Van Deering, L R Medeiros, Miss C M Edwards, Miss I Lukis, Miss Mary De Harne, Miss A Silva, Miss E H Bicknell, Master A Gay.

A well attended Home Rule meeting was held last evening at the Manu residence in Pauoa Valley. Speeches were made by Col Iaukea, J Manu and others.

Roosevelt's Snub To Gen. Miles.

Papers of the mainland are just now commenting upon the snub given to General Miles, upon his retirement, by President Roosevelt and even Republican publications hint that politics were at the bottom of it, the President throwing off on Miles because the latter is a Democrat. Following is the order retiring General Miles:

Washington, Aug 8, 1903.

The retirement, from active service by the President, August 8, 1903, of Lieutenant General Nelson A Miles, United States Army, by operation of law, under the provisions of the act of Congress approved June 30, 1882, is announced. Lieutenant General Miles will proceed to his home. The travel enjoined is necessary for the public service.

By order of Secretary of War.

H C CORBIN, Adjutant General, Major General, U S A.

In contrast with this formal official statement, the order issued by President Cleveland retiring General Schofield from the head of the army is recalled.

"It is with much regret that the President makes the announcement that the country is thus to lose from the command of its army this distinguished General who has done to much for its honor and efficiency. His gallantry in war challenges the admiration of all his countrymen, while they will not fail to gratefully remember and appreciate how faithfully he has served his country in times of peace by his splendid and successful performance of civil as well as military duty.

"Lieutenant General Schofield's career, exhibiting an unvarying love for his profession, a jealous care for its honor and good name, a just apprehension of the subordination it exacts, and a constant manifestation of the best traits of true Americanism, furnishes to the army an example of inestimable value, and should teach all our people that the highest soldierly qualities are built upon the keenest sense of obligations belonging to good citizenship."

COLBURN DEFENDS HONOR OF NIECE.

John F Colburn, uncle of the late Mrs E M Jones, has written the following letter to Attorney General Andrews:

"A great many insinuations have been made upon the streets as to the infidelity of my niece, and owing to said infidelity with a motorman, Jones was justified in taking her life. Believing that you desire to make out as strong a case as you can against the perpetrator (Jones) of the horrible crime he committed, in order that justice can be meted out to him, I think it desirable that the character of Mrs Jones should be vindicated at the trial or before, so the villain will be tried by impartial men.

"Mrs Jones secured her divorce from Jones on the ground of brutal treatment, non-support and habitual drunkenness. He never responded at the trial to be heard and we have a right to believe that the woman was entitled to the decree of divorce she obtained.

"Soon after the divorce, I am informed by the members of my sister's household, a man in the employ of the Rapid Transit Co., Stone by name, offered her his hand in marriage. She accepted it and they became engaged to be married at a date to be fixed later. He paid her visits as any man had a right to a financee. I never met the man but saw him at the house after the tragedy. He paid his financee a visit while lying at the undertaking parlor and went to her funeral.

"Should you not secure a statement from him—I believe Mr. Ballentyne, of the Rapid Transit Co., has done this man an injustice in dismissing him on account of street gossip."

Attorney General Andrews in reply said:

"I certainly agree with you in all the matters contained in the letter."

He thought the discharge of the motorman unjust and hoped to get a statement from him in connection with the crime. Mr Andrews further said in his letter that if any such defense as is being insinuated is tried, it will be met by the evidence in the divorce case, in the numerous arrests of Jones for assault and his general character and disposition.

CHINESE STILL REMAIN.

Mr James Asiatic Kennedy, president of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, remains obdurate in his determination to substitute Chinese for citizens on his steamers. It is now feared that Chinese will be put on all of the Inter-Island boats. In fact it is said this course would have been taken today had it not been for the publicity given to the Mauna Loa outrage. The blame for discharging the ten citizens and putting Chinese on in their places rests upon the shoulders of J A Kennedy. He does not deny it, and merely offers in extenuation the ridiculous plea that expenses had to be cut down.

The Republican Central Committee has become aroused over the affair and it said that Kennedy has been pulled over the grill by it. The committee sees in the strange action of its former Chairman a powerful lever in the hands of the Home Rulers. Certain it is that the supplanting of citizens by Chinese will tend to disgust voters with the Republican party—a party that promised them work for their support in the last election; and it is highly probable that they will forsake the party altogether Leading Republicans realize that, and Kennedy is not likely to sleep well for a time.

The action of Kennedy has aroused workingmen of all classes and in all lines, and if they were sufficiently well organized there would likely be a general walk-out in the Inter-Island fleet. Calmness and patience are being urged by their leaders.

A feature of the case, which makes it appear all the more measly and cheap, is that the saving made by the company by replacing the citizens with Chinese on the Mauna Loa amounts only to the difference in the cost of food. A gentleman in position to know has figured it out and shows that there is scarcely any difference in the total of salaries, and that only about $60 is saved in the matter of food.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The fact that hoodlum Birbe was present at the meeting in Kalihi Friday night is sufficient to account for the disturbance and insults to T McCants Stewart.

Hilo shipped five hundred frogs by the Nevadan to San Francisco. It is not related, however, that Sheriff Andrews was among the number.

Being black outside is not to be compared to being black inside. If the heart of some of T McCants Stewart's traducers were brought out they would look like so many lumps of coal in the sunlight.

Captain J C Cluney declares that the seventh precinct of the Fifth District is not all bad. There are, he says, a few orderly men in it. It is a relief to know that. Incidents of the past had led citizens generally to think otherwise.

While the Republicans are quarreling among themselves, the Home Rulers are steadily working a combination between them and the Democrats is in prospect for the very near future. The outlook for the anti Republicans was never brighter.

The skeet-go committee is exceedingly dilatory. Here it is only two months to the county election and those idle Republican ward-heelers have not yet been given jobs. If the Republicans lose this election they can charge it all up to the mosquito committee.

This morning's 'Tiser says that "Delegate Kuhio Kalanianaole and Mrs Kalanianaole were consecrated by Bishop Restarick at St Andrew's Cathedral yesterday. Oh, wow; "consecrated" as what, pray? A confirmation is not a consecration, that is, as far as we know the terms, unless it be the American way of saying and doing things.

Superintendent Cooper, builder of the Manoa road, Aala park and projector of a building at St Louis, will leave tomorrow for Lahaina and Wailuku. If Maui people have in mind any public works that will tend to create monuments to Cooper they may present a list of them in full confidence that the requirements will be promptly met.

We understand that Herr Berger, the bandmaster, is again talking French about THE INDEPENDENT. If it palliates the rigors of his dispepsia, well and good; but would not the shortest route to smooth water be in treating the band boys fairly and squarely? Decent people are hardly ever expected to condone swindling and brigandage.

Mrs Wilcox advocates the selection of the very best men for County offices, regardless of their political affiliations. May the breeches worn by Theresa in the Home Rule camp never fray at the heels! Her platform is a good one and we hope she will stay with it. A good Home Ruler is in ordinary respects better than a good Republican; but whenever and wherever a better man can be found in other parties than in the Home Rule party, that man should be endorsed and supported.

Sergeant Miller, the mail carrier who was dishonorably discharged from the National Guard for absenting himself from the encampment in June, is to have a new trial. This is as it should be. In the affair Miller was caught between the devil and the deep sea. On each side was Uncle Sam demanding his immediate presence and services. A military court cannot do better than to clear him.

Members of the Labor Council must live squarely up to their resolution in regard to patronizing only citizen stores. If a man breaks the rule let him be reported and summarily dealt with. A white merchant giving his carpentering, plumbing or other work to Asiatics should, however, be considered and dealt with as any other coolie. There must be united, systematic work all along the line.

Made Church Communicants.

At the Hawaiian service yesterday morning at St Andrew's cathedral, the Missionary Bishop of Honolulu conferred the rite of confirmation upon Delegate (Prince) Kalanianaole and his wife, Princess Kalanianaole. The service was partially choral, sung by a surpliced choir of men and boys. Queen Liliuokalani was present beside the many friends of the delegate and his wife.

At the conclusion of morning prayer, the confirmation service then came on. The candidates were presented by the Rev. F. Fitz, who both knelt before the Bishop at the Chancel step. Edmund Styles carried the staff, showing the pastoral authority of the Bishop when he laid his hands on each of their heads.

The sermon for the occasion was by the Bishop, which had been translated and read by S Meheula, the lay reader, from the pulpit. It was a well put up sermon and occupied about forty minutes in its delivery which the lay reader rendered in a masterly effort. The service was concluded a few minutes after 11 o'clock

The Red Book.

The Red Book covers a wide field in the location of the clever fiction selected to fill its enticing pages. The August number includes stories in which the scenes are laid in France, Hawaii, Mexico, the South Seas, abroad, and in an Ohio circus tent, a millionaire's country place on the Hudson, a Michigan political convention, a New York newspaper office, a New Jersey village, a Massachusetts town, a Chicago cafe, a California gold mine and a Missouri farm at home. But wherever the stories are located, the types of character are Americans or those which are distinctly interesting to Americans, and every page of the sparkling magazine is readable and clever.

Will Not Get Reward.

Johnny Jones, who accompanied his father, E M Jones, to the police station last Wednesday evening, will not get the reward of $500 put up jointly by the authorities and John F Colburn. Mr Colburn turned over his check for $250 to the High Sheriff but will likely be returned. It is not improbable that young Jones will sue for the money.

"The reward will not be paid to Jones," said High Sheriff Brown yesterday afternoon. "I have received an oral opinion from Attorney General Andrews to the effect that the boy had no hand in bringing Jones to the station. He holds, and the opinion is sustained by other men in the city, that the action of Johnny Jones did not constitute an arrest of the murderer. Our position simply is, that Jones surrendered himself to the police, and that the boy had no hand in it, excepting to accompany his father to the station. Under these circumstances I feel justified in not paying the reward.

"Mr Colburn sent me a check for $250 this morning as his share of the offered reward, but it will be returned to him, in view of the determination reached."

"We have decided not to pay the reward to Jones," said Attorney General Andrews last evening. "In the first place Jones did not give his father up, nor did he give information leading to his arrest. He simply came to the station with him and did no more than a hackman would have done. For the son to ask blood money for giving up his father is against public policy. Even though he actually gave information leading to the arrest of his father, we would have hesitated about paying the reward. To encourage that sort of thing seems like putting a premium upon human depravity

"We appreciate very much the action of Mr Colburn in sending the reward he has offered, but the government cannot accept it and it will be returned."

Bishop on Withington.

Attorney Withington, of San Diego, was yesterday admitted to practice law in all the courts of the Territory. One of his certificates of character was from Bishop Restarick, of the Episcopal church, who added the following unusual but interesting remarks:

"Mr. Withington was known to the bench and the bar of San Diego and elsewhere in the State not only as a lawyer of excellent ability and large experience, but as a man of exceptionally high character and unquestioned probity.

"The community knew him as one who was always interested in all that tended to benefit or uplift the city, county or State. Geo. W. Marston, easily San Diego's first citizen, wrote me recently: 'Withington's decision to go to Honolulu threw us into consternation. How shall we do without him in city and State affairs where he has been so masterful?'"

Passengers Arrived.

TUESDAY, SEPT. 1, 1903.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

If Hawaii really puts up a cup to be raced for by Japan there should be some cause for Bill William's old Pokii to get busy.

"Politics make strange bed fellows," so it seems between the Advertiser and Citizen Birbe, the small farmer and grafter.

But of all coons that we have met In South, North, West or East, "Rough house" coons in pallid skins, Beat every kind for cussed sins— E'er mischief bent, to say the least.

The Chinaman who sent down $12 from Molokai to help the work of the tourist committee ought to make the acquaintance of the president of the Inter Island Steam Navigation Company. The latter gentleman is just now engaged in the business of taking care of all the Fakes he can hear of.

Queen Liliucka'ani will tomorrow pass the sixty-fifth mile stone of her career and the occasion will be observed in a modest way, the principal event being a reception to lady friends at the Waikiki home. The Queen is now an old lady, but her life and course have been such as to keep alive the love of her people for her.

Employees of island steamers are forming a union to protect themselves from the outrages being perpetrated by J A Kennedy, president of the I I S N Company. Up to this morning a total of 57 names had been secured and recruits will come in as other boats arrive from insular ports. The movement is a legitimate one. If Mr Kennedy persists in putting Chinese in positions in place of citizens he should be given the opportunity of employing Chinese alone.

George R Carter is sailing under a lucky star. It is very seldom that a man in far away Hawaii gets all of his expenses paid to go to Washington for the principal purpose of working for office. Perhaps this financial endorsement of our erratic Secretary will so impress Roosevelt that he will hand out the gubernatorial plum without further question.

It is reported that Herr (not Shee) Berger is at his usual tricks in the manipulation of the pay of members of the Hawaiian Band, i. e., he is cutting some of their salaries down in violation of what the Legislature specifically appropriated. We very much question his right to be a legislature in himself. If he is not careful, something will drop that may not suit nor please him, the autocrat!

Superintendent Cooper is after another monument to himself. This time he wants to destroy a lot of valuable business property in the interest of a silly boulevard from the Brewer offices on Queen street to the river. As the street is out of the way, is seldom used except by drays and is still less often seen by anyone interested in boulevards, the project can be put down as only a boom affair for Cooper.

Another saloon closed up last night on account of depressed business, and mortgages have been placed on a full half dozen others in the past few months for the same reason. Crowding so many saloons in a single neighborhood was a mistake in every way. It was wrong in the first place to vest the power of fixing the saloon limits in one man, particularly when that man is of the narrow business mind of Governor Dole.

The Advertiser remarks that "The man who subscribes for the anti-mosquito fight subscribes for tourists." A poor excuse is better than none. We do not believe, however, that there was ever a tourist deterred one moment from coming to Honolulu on account of the mosquitoes. Dozens of world-famed resorts have infinitely more mosquitoes than Honolulu, despite the efforts of the Advertiser to paint this as a mosquito ridden place. This whole skeet-go proposition is, as we have pointed out before, merely a scheme to find jobs for a few Republican ward-heelers.

Sergeant Miller who thought the proceedings at the court martial rather unimportant has suddenly discovered that the Federal Government has no use for dishonorably discharged National Guardsmen, and as he is a letter carrier and now in danger of losing his job, he wants the case opened up again. National Guardsmen, in future, will be disposed to toe the mark. It has been a salutary military lesson.—Star.

The Star evidently misunderstands the case. Miller, as a mail carrier, was in an important government position which demanded his presence and services every day. He was ordered out for an encampment of five days and nights. On one side was his first duty and salary and on the other the military law. He was between two fires. The Government should either have excused him from service in the postoffice for the five days or have protected him from court martial. Miller evidently felt able score, and that feeling doubtless was responsible for any show of confidence at the trial.

A resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Territory to go on his mission was formally passed by the executive council yesterday, the next Legislature to be asked to appropriate money for paying his expenses. This action was taken as assurance to the local bankers who put up the money in the meantime.—Advertiser.

The above refers to the trip of George R Carter to the east for the principal purpose of looking after his interests in the race for the governorship. The bond business will give Carter a chance to get the President's ear for several days, which is just what he is looking for. We wish to warn all parties concerned, however, that the expenditure is entirely unauthorized and the persons putting up the money are more than apt to lose it.

At Kalihi Camp last Friday night, during the hen fruit fusillade political meeting, there was at least a score of members of the police force there ostensibly for the purpose of keeping the peace. But a prominent member of the same force has made a brag that he (well, we won't mention his name) was the one who threw the egg that struck Mr Stewart but did not faze him. It was as we expected, that the police were directly concerned in that low, mean, dirty and despicable attempt to create a disturbance instead of preserving the peace, what they expected to do. For anything of the kind—ask the police, or else, look to them, for they ought to know all about such tricks.

The question of whether or not the reward of $500 offered for the apprehension of E M Jones should be paid to his son, who accompanied him to the police station and ostensibly gave him up, has been decided in the negative. At the same time there are strong points on both sides of the case. But the younger Jones is a minor. The law makes his father responsible for his acts and requires him to obey his father. When his father instructed him to call a hack and take him to the police station, the son obeyed. There was more than collusion in the affair. The elder Jones directed his son in the proceeding, and the latter could only obey, which he did. Technically, therefore, the elder Jones might just as reasonably be paid the reward as the boy.

Wharf Tenders.

Following were the tenders received at the Public Works office yesterday, for the extension of and improvements to Soreson's wharf:

Construction — Henry De Fries, $15,800; Cotton Bros & Co, $14,927; John Ouderkirk, $15,733; L M Whitehouse, $100.

Piles—De Fries, $106; C B & Co, $110; Ouderkirk, $115; Whitehouse, $100.

Lumber, per M ft—De Fries, $50; C B & C, $47 50; Ouderkirk, $45; Whitehouse, $50.

Paving per sq ft—De Fries, 22 cents; C B & Co, 22 cents; Ouderkirk, 20 cents; Whitehouse, 24½ cts.

Born.

THOMPSON—In this city, August 31, 1903, to the wife of Frank E Thompson, a son.

JOHNSON—In this city, September 1, 1903, to the wife of Captain Sam Johnson, a son.

George P Castle has filed bonds in the sum of $10,000 as administrator of the estate of the late Dr. George P. Andrews. W A Bowen is his surety. W L Howard, P M Pond and Harry Armitage have been appointed appraisers of the estate.

Cornn was elected captain, M J Scanlon, first lieutenant; and Q H Berrey, second lieutenant. Light refreshments and lunch were served and an all round good time was had.

More Chinese.

It is understood today that two citizen firemen on the steamer Niihau, of the Inter-Island fleet, are to be discharged to make room for Chinese. This action, it is reported, was decided on last week and would have been put into effect then but for the storm aroused by the discharge of so many citizens from the Mauna Loa. It is learned also that when the Mikahala goes out on her next trip she will have all Chinese firemen, oilers and coal passers. The natural presumption is that citizens will gradually be replaced on all the Inter-Island boats.

Captain Simerson, who is obliged to find excuses for the un-American course of J A Kennedy, says that the reason Chinese were substituted for citizens on the Mauna Loa was that the latter were not to be depended on immediately following pay-days. He says that the employees of the vessel would invariably go on a toot and the greatest difficulty was always experienced in getting them together on sailing days. This is a different and new story, but, like all others that have come from Inter-Island sources, is found to be untrue. The truth of the matter is that on a single occasion in the past several months one man failed to report promptly for duty, he having been arrested on a petty charge and being in jail.

The Red Book.

For mid-summer reading the Red Book in its August number, offers a list of stories truly attractive. The magazine becomes more readable with every month and more artistic in its illustrations, typography and cover designs. The list of contributors to the August Red Book includes Broughton Brandenburg, John W. Hunt, Ethel Watts Mumford, Elizabeth Phipps Train, Richard H. Post, M. J. Phillips, Edward Boltwood, Cy Warman, Anthony E. Anderson, Isabel Gordon Curtis, Mary Wilhelmina Hastings, Bailey Millard and G. W. Ogden. The cover design is a brilliant oriental conception in which striking arabesque designs surround a figure of a turbaned woman. A number of photographic art studies, beautiful color printing, and a selection of cheerful reading matter cleverly illustrated, make this magazine particularly favored for hammock reading this month.

And Then It Snowed.

As predicted by THE INDEPENDENT some time ago, Sheriff Andrews, of Hawaii, lost at every point in the East Hawaii primary of the Republican party. Even in his own precinct he failed to land but two of his men. Certain it now seems that he will go a glimmering in the convention. His local organ concedes the defeat of the Czar. Following were the delegates elected:

First Precinct—Dr Holland, J M Kauwila.

Second Precinct—G Hupa, S G Palmer, Frank Rosa.

Third Precinct—Otto Rose, George Kaihena, John Bordenberd, Jim Lewis, C N Prouty, Fernandez.

Fourth Precinct—A B Loebenstein, F W Rowland, H Ludloff, W Todd, William Higgins, A R Hancock, John Kai, Jr, W T Morris, N Holmes, A A McKinney.

Fifth Precinct—W C Cooke.

Sixth Precinct—J M Ross, W K Andrews.

Seventh Precinct—Charles Spait, B M Kahea.

Eighth Precinct—A D S R Horner.

Ninth Precinct—Henry Hall, Joe Pritchard.

Tenth Precinct—Charles Wills.

To Raise Chickens.

E. Blake, an experienced poultry man of Delaware, is planning the immediate establishment of an immense chicken ranch at some suitable place in the suburbs of Honolulu. He says that he has ample capital behind him, and is now looking around for land.

"I am an expert in the business," says Mr. Blake," and so is my wife. Upon the land to be acquired I will grow certain grasses and seed plants that are most suitable for chickens. My wife and I are both thoroughly acquainted with the diseases of chickens, and we do not expect to lose any except from old age. The mosquito has no terrors for me. I have had to contend with that pest in worse places than Honolulu.

"I will be able to sell eggs, delivered by wagon every morning, at 35 cents a dozen and make big money. Chickens I will sell at San Francisco prices which will be more than fifty per cent less than those now prevailing.

A Stately Monument.

Mr. Hendricks, the tombstone man, has made in the east a beautiful granite monument, which is now on exhibition in front of his premises in the Lincoln block on King st. The monument, which is in appropriate sections, is seven feet in height. It is to be erected to the memory of the father and mother of Major E H F Wolter, in Nuuanu cemetery. The monument has attracted general attention since it has been set out near the street.

The Red Book.

The announcements of The Red Book for September indicate that the standard of excellence required of the literature selected for that sparking publication is constantly rising. Among the contributors to appear in the September number are Robert Hichens, Yone Noguchi, Harriet A Nash, Wingrove Bathon E Phillips, Oppenheim, Elia W Peattie, Elizabeth L Banks, and half a dozen others who are recognized as favorite contributors of the best fiction to publications of the highest standing.

LA HANAU O KE ALII.

THE INDEPENDENT extends its hearty congratulations to Her Majesty, Queen Liliuokalani, upon the occasion of her sixty-fifth anniversary. Although much of her life has been amid circumstances and scenes that were stormy, her love for her people and conduct toward them have been such as to endear her to all, save alone those who have ever sought to despoil her rights and the peacefulness of her career. It is the earnest prayer of all Hawaiians that Her Majesty may have many happy returns of this, her natal day.

ANOTHER LABOR OUTRAGE.

J W Springston, contractor for a road in Ewa, is one of the latest grafters to outrage the claims of citizen labor by permitting the employment of Japanese on Government work. When he obtained the contract he filed a bond with W E Rowell and J J Egan as sureties. The contract expressly provided that only citizen labor should be employed. But immediately upon getting the job in his hands, Springston sub-lets the contract to another man, at a lower rate, netting him a handsome profit—although he is to do no work himself whatever. The second man, as is the usual case, employed the Japanese to do the work.

But in this case the man Springston is likely to "run up against it." It is stated from the Public Works office this morning that the original contractor will be held to his agreement. He was also informed that if the work was done by other than citizen labor it would not be paid for. When his attention was called to it Mr Cooper requested Mr Springston to appear at the office and explain his conduct, but he has not yet shown up. Mr Cooper is absent on Maui but it is his intention to have the terms of the contract lived up to the letter. The department is fully alive to the fact that the provision in the contract against Asiatic labor on government work is the mandate of a popular impulse. It is, therefore, safe to say that a lesson will be taught at least one contractor who has attempted monkey business in public works matters.

A little side history in connection with the contract is that W E Rowell, one of the men on the bond is now acting superintendent of public works and is therefore Springston's boss in the matter. In other words, he represents both the contractor and the government. J J Egan swore in court in the notorious Kamalo case that he had no property.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Henry C Vida has announced his candidacy for the office of County Clerk. If he would cut loose from some of his satellites there might be some chance of his winning out.

So the Mauna Loa beat the Kinau in the race to Lahaina. It is to be supposed that James A Kennedy, president of the I I S N Company, will find in the fact an excuse for employing Chinese firemen, oilers and coal passers on his boat in place of citizens.

In nominating M P Robinson for the office of supervisor the Republican party will be putting forward a strong man and one that it will be extremely difficult to beat. Mr Robinson has not made himself popular with some Hawaiians but, at the same time, he is a very strong man.

We see no reason why Hawaii should not put up a cup to be competed for by Japan and Australia. All that is lacking is the men, the yachts and the money; but surely these small incidentals could be scared up. Maybap, too, the coming small farmers will supply the deficiency.

The defeat of the Kinau by the Mauna Loa in the race to Lahaina brings up the question of outside yacht races. With the showing made by the Mauna Loa it would seem that Japan and Australia are not the only countries to be figured on but that China will have to be reckoned with.

The mosquito committee announced yesterday that very few promises of money had been sent in and that only a little cash had been received. That's bad again. Just how the Republicans hope to carry the county elections without making places for their idle ward-heelers on the mosquito committee.

E Blake's poultry venture, mentioned elsewhere, should receive every encouragement. If, as he says, he will be able to sell chickens at California prices and fresh eggs at 35 cents a dozen it will be a God-send to housekeepers. It has always been predicted that an experienced poultry farmer would eventually arrive here and would revolutionize conditions, thoroughly checking the robbery of the Chinese. If Mr Blake is the man he should be received with open arms.

The Republicans of East Hawaii turned down Czar Andrews in the primaries, and his defeat in the convention is practically assured. Very few people, aside from Andrews himself, anticipated anything else Hilo has grasped her first opportunity to repudiate boorishness, and worse, in the sheriff's office over there, and is to be congratulated.

The conclusion by Dr Cofer that mosquitoes are bred in cuspidors in houses is, of course, sound. Most house mosquitoes are born and live and die in the houses. Cuspidors, however, are not, to our mind, a considerable nursery for them. Flower cases, in which water is allowed to stand for days, is a more favorable breeding place. As a matter of fact there is an unsettled question as to the birth-place of the bed-room mosquito. There are those who do not believe he comes from the marshes at all but is a native of the house in which he does business. If this theory be correct occasional fumigation of living rooms would probably meet, in a large measure, the requirement.

Lycurgus and Bride.

George Lycurgus and wife arrived by the Sierra this morning. The host of many years and many occasions in Honolulu was married in Greece and brings his bride from that far off land. Mr Lycurgus has been away from Hawaii about two years.

Research Club.

About fifty members attended the annual meeting of the Research club last evening. Addresses were delivered by P M Pond and others.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in the appointment of W A Bryan for president; C H Tracy, vice-president; and W C Parke, secretary.
