In all my former papers under this heading of "Political Drift Wood," I have endeavored to show you, Mr Editor, and your readers as well, that I know most nearly all of the candidates nominated by our leading parties, either personally or by reputation. But in most of my sketches of the respective candidates, I have, with a few exceptions, abstained from attempting to dictate who the electors should elect, yet, in many cases, I have attempted to show fairness to all concerned by exposing their past failings and weaknesses, in some of which I have been very severe, but they were facts undeniable.

Many spielers I've heard say, both Republicans and Home Rulers, to forgive and forget the past, but I tell you, Mr Editor, it is a hard matter and a stiff proposition "to forgive and to forget." It is an easy thing to forgive but a hard one to forget, and I am one in that category. To forgive, I may; but to forget, I never will nor ever shall.

It is not likely that one can easily forgive and forget what has been done to him. When one class does dirt to another by doing him up for good and forever, it cannot be expected that the one done up can forgive and forget so very easy. Nay, nay. Many may think that it is unchristian to feel so, but is it natural?

I am not a believer in the Christian teaching that if "one strikes you on one cheek, offer him the other." My "physiog" is not built that way. I will resent it with power that in me lay, and that every time. Strike me on one side, I will not offer him the other, but will return him in kind, providing I am able to do so; and if not, I'll do the next best,

"For ways that are dark, tricks that are vain, the heathen Chinee is peculiar." And so is Charlie Achi, the part-Chinoise Republican boss of the Fifth. He's up to all sorts of tricks these days, but I am of the opinion that his days are numbered. Very soon they will not have any further use for him, for he'll be like an orange squeezed dry.

The Russian boss of the Fourth is not far behind in tricks. I notice that you have been getting after him for an attempt at boycott and coercion. But I assert, Mr Editor, he not only did attempt, but carried out such a program, thinking probably this country to be like Siberia, from which he fled. He ought to be there and get a taste of it rather than mingle with the people of a free country.

Desparation is a child born of despair, and I am given to believe that Republicans are resorting to desparate means in order to gain their ends. But I think they will not be able to gain those ends in such a way. They may as well give up the ghost now, as nothing will avail or save them.

In yesterday's Advertiser, I notice it gave a great account of the street corner Republican meeting of last Saturday night, outside Saloon doors, where our alleged new Governor spoke. I must say that that report was a hoax and a fake as far as it went, very unbecoming a Sunday paper. Of the great Home Rule meeting at the Orpheum the same night, a few lines over half a dozen was all it saw fit to give. Yet the truth is very far from it and the people need never believe it, for its manner is well-know.

Even at this late day, I am still sorry that Mr Testa did not stay in the fight, for I believe him to be a good fighter and would stay by his convictions of what is right and proper for, all concerned. As he is out of this fight, it may be just as well that he did remain out. There's one thing still to be said in his favor he has never yet been politically downed at the polls.

This campaign has mainly been one of beer and luau with the Republicans, and Home Rulers have mainly been benefitted, i. e, they have eaten and drank their fill at the expense of their political opponents. For myself, I don't blame them, for they were given these things without asking and they have availed themselves of the bounteous charity of these hypocrites who profess to love them more than themselves and their brethren.

But of the energetic and strenuous Republican county boss, Wm Henry, the jailor of Oahu Prison, he may yet have a better opportunity of feeding Pahia, his wife's relative, and will probably give him lots of s—— to fill his calabash. He may also likely feed Joker Lucas on prickly pears, for he knows what they are, to be followed up by a good, strong dose of a good and strenuous cathartic for a strenuous lot.

Time was that our supposed friends of the Republican stripe when they had no earthly use for the kanaka; but now, they have that heavenly and saintly love for them. We will see tomorrow whether their love will prevail over the Hawaiian or whether the kanaka will prevail over them for their own kind. It's up to them to vote solid for the straight ticket. Everything is in their own hands and in their way now.

Gloom has come over the Republicans and they feel defeat in the marrow of their bones, and because of this, they cabled to the Delegate in Ohio, as shown in the morning paper. As darkness generally follows gloom, I doubt whether they'll receive much comfort from the Prince, for I believe he'll know enough to remain diplomatic and send diplomatic replies. Wait and see, he's nobody's fool. Republicans can't twist him at their finger tips. Not much!

My free lance expose have not been very well received by those directly interested, but these expositions have shown who they were and what they have been. As this is the last campaign before we begin the war of ballots from tomorrow till dusk, I must thank you for granting me leave to run my contributions serially in your paper.

With this paper, I conclude my efforts, unless called into being again by what may happen after tomorrow.

TUESDAY, NOV. 3, 1903.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Tomorrow most of us will rub noses and be good for another few months.

J. G. Pratt is the best suggestion yet for the office of Secretary of the Territory, to succeed George R. Carter. While a man less severely partizan would be more satisfactory to us, we believe Mr. Pratt to be competent and in most other ways satisfactory.

The Republican gentlemen who tried to make political capital out of a perfectly natural and innocent business cablegram of Prince Cupid's, thought they had caught a hare, but the creature of their rapacity turned out to be a porcupine with all of its quills set.

The rowdyism in the Seventh of the Fifth today was characteristic of the place. There is only one remedy for this hoodlumism. It is to fire out bodily the present officers of the election there and put in men that will maintain order. Hoodlums at the head of anything beget rowdyness, and such conditions should not be tolerated in an election supposed to be fair.

John A. Hughes, master car builder for the Oahu Railway & Land Company, is being urged by his friends for the office of Superintendent of Public Works. If a Republican must be selected by Governor Carter for this important office, we would prefer a practical and honest man to the one with the pull. Mr. Hughes is a man of great ability and has the confidence of the community.

H. L. Holstein wires that West Hawaii is jubilant over the appointment of George R. Carter to be Governor. All we have to say is that West Hawaii has either gone crazy or Holstein has not gained any on his reputation for veracity, and the latter is the more reasonable view. The people of Hawaii know George R. Carter about as well as the people of Oahu, and they have about as little use for him.

The stop of the transport Thomas at Honolulu is not satisfactory to the city nor to the men aboard of the vessel. The men on the ship have had a long and stormy voyage and are desperately anxious to stop here for a few days. Their commanding officer insists, however, that the voyage must be resumed at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Transports are welcome, but pop calls of this sort are something like drawing the wrong prize box.

We do not believe that a majority of the Honolulu Trades and Labor Council approved of or had anything to do with the resolution approving the appointment of George R. Carter to be Governor. In fact, we have it on excellent authority that a majority of the Council is not favorable to Carter at all, and that in speaking for the Council in the matter Secretary Taylor is quite apt to get himself in the hottest of hot water.

Reports from the precincts at noon indicate a victory for the Home Rule ticket. The Fifth District is overwhelmingly Home Rule and there has been considerable turning of the tide in the Fourth. The consensus of opinion is that Sheriff Brown, S. E. Damon, M. P. Robinson and Harry Murray are the only men on the Republican ticket having a reasonable prospect of winning, with Gilman and Hocking clinging to a fighting chance.

George R. Carter's trip to Washington to boost his Gubernatorial chances cost the Hawaiian Government a cool $3,000. It should be recalled right now and constantly remembered that this junketing tour of our new Governor was entirely unauthorized, either by the Legislature or any law. If the Treasurer pays the bill it should be understood that he does so at his own peril, and the next Legislature should repudiate it when the claim comes before it.

The next few hours will be uneasy ones for the candidates and their friends. Thus far, it is nobody's election, judging from outside appearances. The Republicans seem very hopeful, but when probed to the bottom their hope is largely based upon the success of last year, which is by no means a reasonable proposition. Of course we know how the thing is coming out, but will not tell because our friends might bet on it and we do not wish to encourage gambling.

The Hawaiian band, an institution supported out of the public purse, turned out last night in the Republican parade to boost the Republican ticket. In other words, it was made and has become a Republican institution. The Legislature at its coming session should take due cognizance of the fact and not vote a cent for the band. The band must either stay out of politics or quit business. The course of its leader in this campaign has been such as to convince any fair-minded person that it should be done away with.

The fact that H. C. Birbe has been suspected of crooked work in connection with the ballots of the Seventh precinct of the Fifth District is sufficient cause for his removal from any office in connection with the election. Men having in charge the business of an election should be above reproach and above suspicion. Birbe has frequently been suspected of small practice, and no man knows that there is not some fire beneath the smoke. The only safe scheme is to replace the man by some other whose honesty is unquestioned.

Government wagons and every other conveyance belonging to the people, and supposed to be used for the people's requirements, have been used today to convey voters to the polls for the Republican party. How will the people at the polls in the election for members of the Legislature next year view this matter? We believe that the persons responsible for this misuse of public property will be severely dealt with at that time. Public officials have no more right to use public vehicles for the benefit of the Republican than for the Home Rule or any other party.

Should a Democratic President be elected next year, which is most likely to occur, quick work should be made of a couple of Federal officials that have gone out of their way to become offensively partisan in the county campaign. We refer to District Attorney Breckons and Commissioner Douthitt. These men, as United States officials, had nothing whatever to do with the local fight for county officers, yet they butted in and threw the influence of their positions to the side of the Republicans. Their attitude in this campaign should not be lost sight of.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

THE INDEPENDENT 50 cents per month.

Queen Liliuokalani will sail in the Sonoma this afternoon for Washington.

Saloons were closed today and the town bore a decidedly holiday appearance.

Vote for MOSES K NAKUINA Independent candidate for County Clerk and Recorder.

Judge Gear yesterday appointed William R Sims as his clerk in place of F H Loucks, resigned.

Senator H P Baldwin was a departing passenger by the Korea this morning for San Francisco.

Consul Saito will receive from 3 to 5 o'clock this afternoon in honor of the birth anniversary of the Mikado.

The Mutual Telephone Co. has two days more in which to plead, etc, to the complaint of Sidney M Ballou.

The board of registration is sitting all of today to straighten out any registration complications that may arise.

A wireless message from Hawaii yesterday stated that the crater of Mokuaweoweo was increasing in activity.

At last night's meeting of the Social Science club resolutions of regret on the death of Judge Estee were passed.

The wireless telegraph office will be kept open all of tonight in order that election reports from the other islands may be received.

Japanese had a torch-light procession last evening in honor of the birth anniversary of the Mikado, which is being observed today.

The Kinau will sail at 12 o'clock noon tomorrow for her usual ports on Maui and Hawaii. She was held over today on account of the election.

The office of THE INDEPENDENT is in the brick building next to the Hawaiian hotel grounds on Beretania street, Waikiki of Alakea. First floor.

The "bachelors club" gave a reception Sunday evening in honor of the birth anniversary of Mrs C Schoelkoft. Excellent music was supplied by the Haydn orchestra.

None of the soldiers on the transport Thomas were allowed shore liberty today A few of them did manage to slip away for a while but the others were kept penned up on deck.

District Attorney Breckons says he will bring back Adachi, the Japanese law clerk wanted in connection with the procuring cases, despite the cost. The witness skipped out a few days ago to Japan.

Man Chong has appealed from his sentence to pay a fine of $100 and costs and to be imprisoned three months at hard labor by L B Nainoa, District Magistrate of Koolauloa, for selling liquor without a license.

At the weekly practice of St Andrew's cathedral choir on Wednesday evening the special music for Christmas will be begun. A full attendance is desired and members are asked to bring copies of the Messiah with them.

Attention of members of the Young Men's Research club is called to the meeting this evening at the residence of Governor Dole on Emma street. Rev W M Kincaid, who has just returned from the Orient will address the club on "The Macedonian Situation."

The transport Thomas arrived this morning after an exceedingly rough passage from Nagasaki. She has on board two troops of cavalry, about a hundred casuals and a number of passengers. Not having to take coal she will sail at 5 o'clock this afternoon for San Francisco.

McDuffie Knocked Out.

A rough house was attempted by High Sheriff Brown's henchmen, [the police and members of the Palama fire station] in the Seventh precinct of the Fifth District this morning which ended, however, disastrously for the perpetrators. Big Officer McDuffie is in the shop for repairs and will require a few new teeth; other rascals concerned in the affair were properly called down, and only the opportune arrival of Attorney-General Andrews, who sat on the hoodlum policemen, prevented a big riot.

The voting booth in Palama is off the lane at the Waikiki-rear end of the fire station, and entrance is gained to it through the lane. There being so many voters in the precinct, the lane was quickly crowded and remained so all the morning. Hoodlum Birbe, who is chairman of the Board there, dropped on to the plan of admitting known Republicans through the fire house and the rear of the booth, after which they were voted. The meat of the dirty scheme was, of course, to either tire out the Home Rule voters in the lane or else detain them there until it was too late to vote. In this project Birbe was assisted by Detective McDuffie and other policemen, who picked out known Republicans and put them through.

It was during the process of this unusual and illegal business that a certain Home Ruler presented himself and demanded the right to also go in the back way. McDuffie stopped him and tried to throw him out. It was then that the voter landed the officer a left-hander in the mouth, which put several teeth out of commission and put him to sleep. The arrival of the Attorney-General prevented a general mix-up and put a stop to the rascality that had been going on.

End of the Campaign.

The end of the campaign last night was not nearly so lively as had been expected. Aside from the great Home Rule meeting at the Orpheum, which filled the place to overflowing, necessitating a street meeting; a Republican meeting at Palace Square, and plenty of free Republican booze at the drill shed under the supervision of zealous officers of the National Guard—there were no really lively features. A great deal of excellent campaigning was done in a quiet way, however, that must be showing itself today.

The Republicans began the evening by a torch-light parade. Not as many voters as had been expected turned out, so all the small boys that could be found were mustered into the line and given torches. After a parade of the streets speaking was held from a platform at the corner of Richards and King streets.

The greatest meeting of the campaign was held by the Home Rulers at the Orpheum theater. Standing room was entirely out of the question and an auxiliary street meeting had to be held for the benefit of the immense crowd.

Respect to Estee.

At its meeting last evening the Social Science Association adopted the following resolution on the death of Judge Estee:

"Resolved, That this Association spread upon its minutes an expression of its deep regret of the loss from its membership of the late Honorable Morris M Estee, United States District Judge for this Territory and of its high regard for him as a judge and man, eminent in love and truth and justice to his country and fellow men.

"And be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent, with the sincere sympathy of this Association, to his widow."

The Fight Arranged.

A ten-round bout has been arranged between Bill Huihui, the Hawaiian champion middleweight, and Kid De Lile, champion of Camp McKinley, to take place in the Orpheum theater next Saturday evening. Paddy Ryan will manage the show, which, in itself, assures good, clean lively sport. The terms of the match are that the winner gets $300 and the loser $100. Several amateur contests will precede the principal event. Seats have been made very reasonable, beginning at only $2 and ranging down to fifty cents.

REPUBLICAN ELECT THE MOST MEN.

With the intimidation of employers, the pressure of the Territorial government upon its underetrappers, the cajolery of candidates and the free beer, money, free hacks and luaus, the Home Rulers got everything out of the county election that they could reasonably hope for. The vote was, with the exceptions, extremely close, but showed that only the manipulation of the campaign on a platform of "win at any cost" save the entire Republican ticket from disaster.

As the vote seems now to stand the Republicans get two supervisors at large, two in the Fourth and one in the Fifth, or five in all. The Home Rulers get one at large and one in the Fifth. It is not unlikely that the election of S C Dwight, which was accomplished by one vote only, will be contested.

For Sheriff Brown won over Wise by the narrow margin of 192 votes; Murray defeated both his opponents put together for clerk; Sherwood ran next to the highest on the ticket for auditor; Iaukea defeated Pratt for assessor by 229 votes, and Rawlins lead Caypless for the office of county attorney by about the same number; Damon, for treasurer, led the whole ticket, getting 2477, and Willis defeated Boyd for surveyor by a narrow vote. Following were the totals polled by the different candidates:

REPUBLICAN ELECT THE MOST MEN.

With the intimidation of employers, the pressure of the Territorial government upon its undertrappers, the cajolery of candidates and the free beer, money, free hacks and luaus, the Home Rulers got everything out of the county election that they could reasonably hope for. The vote was, with the exceptions, extremely close, but showed that only the manipulation of the campaign on a platform of "win at any cost" save the entire Republican ticket from disaster.

As the vote seems now to stand the Republicans get two supervisors at large, two in the Fourth and one in the Fifth, or five in all. The Home Rulers get one at large and one in the Fifth. It is not unlikely that the election of S C Dwight, which was accomplished by one vote only, will be contested.

For Sheriff Brown won over Wise by the narrow margin of 192 votes; Murray defeated both his opponents put together for clerk; Sherwood ran next to the highest on the ticket for auditor; Isaukea defeated Pratt for assessor by 229 votes, and Rawlins lead Caypless for the office of county attorney by about the same number; Damon, for treasurer, led the whole ticket, getting 2477, and Willis defeated Boyd for surveyor by a narrow vote. Following were the totals polled by the different candidates:

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 4, 1903.

SHOULD JOIN DEMOCRATS.

The results of the election on the Island of Oahu must show to the Home Rule party the importance of amalgamating with the Democrats. The principles of the two factions are almost identical, and there is no good reason why they should not work together. A combination between the two would have the power to control every elective office, both Territorial and county, and to keep a Delegate in Congress.

The Home Rulers have twice shown that they have not in their own ranks the votes with which to elect a majority of almost any ticket, although coming very close to it. They are also laboring under the disdavantage of not having the money for campaign purposes. There are enough Democratic votes in the Islands to more than make up the deficiency, and the Democrats have sufficient money with which to make a fight. As the thing now stands, with the Home Rulers holding aloof from the Democrats, the influence of is latter is left independent, or in a position to split their tickets and vote as they please. The result is that the Republicans almost invariably catch a majority of these votes.

The only way the Home Rulers can possibly regain their lost ground, and reach a standing, is to join in with the local Democrats. It cannot, of course, be expected that the Democrats will go over to them, for the first reason that the Democratic party in these Islands has a national standing and is properly organized for business. The thing for the Home Rulers to do is to go into the Democratic party through the regular central committee. It could undoubtedly be arranged to increase the membership of that committee in order that the Home Rulers would be given fair representation upon it. That would give the Home Rulers all the power they might be entitled to, as individuals, and give to them as a party the additional strength which they must have if they expect to do anything in future elections.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

George F. Renton was elected to attend to his important business at Ewa plantation.

In the race for county sheriff Brown defeated Wise by only a small majority. That, too, despite the fact that Wise entered the campaign late and Brown put up a terrific fight.

When the complete returns from Maui are in and it is found that the Home Rulers have won, we suppose the Republicans will attribute their defeat to the absence of Boss Baldwin from the Island.

Manager Goodale, at Waialua, centered all of his strength and that of his plantation in an effort to defeat Curtis laukea in his own precinct. As he is the employer of most of the voters, he barely succeeded, but the political effect aimed at seems to have been lost.

It is related that the Rapid Transit Company compelled all of its employes to vote the straight Republican ticket, the penalty being their jobs. This is another reason why the electric car service should be placed under Government control with an iron-bound rule that the politics of its employes be not interfered with.

Scandal in regard to the way the election in the Seventh of the Fifth was conducted will not down. Today it is heard at every hand on the streets and every time it seems to trace back to Birbe, the chairman of the election board. Does it not seem about time that Birbe should be dropped out there?

The illness of Edgar Caypless, candidate for the office of County Attorney, prevented his doing any work in the latter part of the campaign and was doubtless responsible for his defeat. However, he lost nothing in the popular estimation by his misfortune, and his time will yet come. Mr. Caypless has the confidence of the business community.

Should the Home Rulers make up their minds to join hands with the Democrats and work as a part of that party, the results of the general election next fall will have been assured. Nothing in the Islands could stop such a combination. It would mean more votes, more money for campaign purposes and better material for the ticket.

After news of the voting came in last night a number of policemen and other henchmen of High Sheriff Brown got drunk and had a great revel at the police station. Such conduct on the part of outside citizens would have landed the perpetrators in hock for being drunk and disorderly, if not worse. But Brown's staunchest supporters seem to have been the police, the drunks and the gamblers of the city.

The election of Colonel C. P. Iaukea to be tax assessor for Oahu should be regarded as one of hte most satisfactory results of the county campaign. Mr. Iaukea is not only a polished and popular gentleman, but he has the absolute confidence of the people. Moreover, he has had such experience, in the land department, as will peculiarly fit him for his new duties, he starting in with knowledge of the land and of land values all over Oahu.

It is the intention of the Home Rule party to move in the Supreme Court for a recount of the vote of yesterday on account of the extraordinary number of votes thrown out. The belief is that if the matter is carefully followed up it will show that the Home Rulers elected the Sheriff and all three of the Supervisors-at-Large. While looking into the subject it will be well to inquire as to the cause of the appearance of ink on Birbe's thumb while counting the ballots in the Seventh of the Fifth.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

THE INDEPENDENT 50 cents per month.

The Kauai polo team arrived this morning.

B R Banning was a passenger in the Sierra this morning from the Coast.

The band will give a concert at the Moana hotel in Waikiki this evening.

The transport Thomas sailed at 5:30 yesterday afternoon for San Francisco.

All persons owing Dr Noblitt will be required to settle before January 1.

Miniature yacht are being gotten ready for the races on Kalakaua's birthday, November 16.

The transport Logan, with the Fifteenth Cavalry on board, is expected every hour from Manila.

The Sierra arrived early this morning from San Francisco and will sail at 4 p m for the Colonies.

Now that the election is over it is presumed that the Supreme Court will take up the County Act case.

The November meeting of the directors of the Y M C A will be held Thursday evening after the Problem Club.

Acquaintances of Adachi, the law clerk so much wanted by District Attorney Breckons, assert that the man is still here.

F H Howland left yesterday for San Francisco with the new loan bonds. The bonds were locked in the strong box of the Korea.

Queen Liliuokalani, who sailed in the Sonoma for Washington, was accompanied by Miss Myra Helelube, J D Aimoku and John Aea.

Two San Francisco papers heavily cartoon the fight between Millett and Weinig in Oakland. All of the change will hold a special meeting this evening for the purpose of adopting resolutions in regard to the death of Judge Estee.

The Iroquois arrived at the Midway Islands yesterday afternoon after a pleasant voyage. She began discharging at once and expects to leave for home this afternoon.

Returns from Kauai show that the combination ticket, with one exception, was elected. Kaeo, independent candidate, defeated J D Willard for the office of county attorney.

Tomorrow night's subject for discussion is "Some Dangers and Safeguards of Our Republic." George B McClellan is the opening speaker. The public is welcome from 6:40 to 7:30. Dinner at 6 o'clock.

Saturday night's great fistic program in the Orpheum will begin at 8 o'clock. De Lile and Huihui, who will appear in the principal event, are said to be in the pink of condition. Both have been training for some time.

Charitable ladies will meet at the Chinese hospital at 3 o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of devising means for furnishing it properly. Considerable money will have to be raised if the project is decided upon.

A Committee of Foresters, consisting of Rev G L Pearson, J M Webb, Julius Asche, C J Day, Charles Weatherwax, Fred Weed and L H Mesick met Colonel J A Gillivray, Supreme Secretary, at the steamer Sierra this morning.

Judge P L Weaver intends to attack in the courts the sections of the appropriation bills providing for six and eighteen months periods, on constitutional grounds. As the bills stand it is impossible for him to draw any money for the expenses of his court until after January 1.

Czar Andrews Turned Down.

Sheriff Andrews, of Hawaii, was, as THE INDEPENDENT predicted, snowed under in East Hawaii county yesterday. His former captain of police, Keolanui, will be the Sheriff there after January 1. Only one straight Republican, Stephen Desha, was elected, the others being either straight Home Rulers or the nominees of both parties. The following wireless was received from Hilo last night after the counts had come in:

The following candidates have been elected: Supervisors, Desha (Rep), Lalakea (H R), Lyman (H R) Makekau (H R), Palau (H R); Sheriff, Keolanui (H R); Clerk, Norman Lyman (R); Auditor, N C Willfong (R); Treasurer, R A Lyman (H R); Surveyor, Cook (R).

Democrats Sweep The Boards.

The entire Democratic ticket was elected in New York yesterday by a majority of 70,000 votes. Seth Low, the Republican boss, who was running for mayor, was snowed under. New York, being the metropolis of Roosevelt's home State, had been placed by some in the Republican column, but otherwise proved the case.

Kentucky and Maryland both rolled up big Democratic majorities.

Estee Resolutions.

At its meeting last evening the Research Club adopted the following resolutions in regard to the late Judge Estee:

Whereas, the members of this organization are deeply impressed with the fact that in the death of the late Judge Morris March Estee they have sustained the loss of an examplar of that manhood and citizenship which strengthens and adorns the structure of our just and enlightened government.

Resolved that as a tribute to the patriotism and unblemished character of the late Judge Morris March Estee, the Young Men's Research Club secure and display at all its meetings hereafter an American flag to be known as the "Estee Flag."

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to Mrs Morris M Estee at San Francisco.

Japanese Consul Saito's reception yesterday afternoon in honor of the Mikado's natal anniversary was a very elaborate affair. Prominent people of all nationalities called. At night a banquet to leading Japanese was given.

The funeral of the late Melville Monsarrat, son of Mr and Mrs Julian Monsarrat, of Hawaii, will take place from St Andrew's Cathedral at 3 p m tomorrow. Deceased accidently shot himself in California and the body arrived by the Sierra this morning.

WHAT FOLLOWED THE INVESTIGATION.

WASHINGTON, D.C. Oct. 21:

Official Washington is amazed and astounded at the revelations made under oath by Leroy Dresser, late President of the Trust Company of the Republic, relative to the thimble-rigging in connection with the sale of the Bethlehem steel plant to the Shipbuilding Trust. It has shocked even Wall Street, hardened as it is, and appalled the people. According to Mr Dresser, J Pierpont Morgan, Charles M Schwab, and their partners in "high finance," in return for a property worth $7,200,000, received $30,000,000 in the securities of the trust, together with an agreement that none of the stock or bonds of the trust was to be marketed until the holdings of Morgan, Schwab et al. had been sold to the confiding public. What was this but a double intended cheat on a gigantic scale? A cheat on investors by taking their money for water, and a cheat on the stockholders of the trust by depriving them of a market for their securities until the holdings of the "captains" had been transmuted into money. What is the difference, in its moral quality, of the action of these "captains of industry"—these financiers who practice arts for the pillaging of the community, from those which land small swindling rogues in jail? Yet these discredited men have held and still hold, the financial welfare of multitudes throughout the United States in the hollow of their hands. And among these are persons, who posed as democrats during Mr Cleveland's last term, and were conspicuous among the bolters of 1896 and 1900. They are the same smug hypocrites who have the brazen effrontery, the ineffable gall, to attack an American patriot like William Randolph Hearst. They are the same bandits who unctuously talk about protecting the conservative business interests of the country, who want to pass upon the "safety" forscoth, of the democratic presidential candidate, and who, under cover of a sanctimonius demeanor want to put forward one of their tools as the standard bearer of Jefferson's party. The Shipbuilding Trust's records show that "Mr Morgan got his first."

Well, there doesn't seem to be such a marked difference between Mr Morgan's methods in this instance and when President Cleveland handed over to Mr Morgan an entire government bond issue to "float." Mr Morgan took the bonds at a good deal less than the market price and two days later peddled them out at a profit of $5 or $6 a bond. Again, "Mr Morgan got his first." The New York newspaper headlines explain in their terse way: "Morgan got $5,000,000 for a nod," in the shipbuilding swindle. What did he have to give for the government bond floatation inquisition?

Remember that the gentlemen who engineered the shipbuilding deal, the exposure of which has startled even the moral pachyderms of Wall Street, are the same who tell us that they must name the democratic presidential candidate. Will the people stand it? Will they allow the men who are pillaging the people, and who are being helped in their game by the President of the United States and the Secretary of the Treasury, by loaning them the money in the United States Treasury, to name the candidate of the democratic party for president? If they do they know what they will get.

THURSDAY, NOV. 5, 1903.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The report from Washington that the Government admired very much the ribbons and frills of Governor Dole's report read decidedly like a back-handed compliment.

When The Independent remarked yesterday that the principles of the Democratic and Home Rule parties were almost identical, we referred to general, or more important, principles and not to certain useless frills and freak plumes tacked on to the business by the leaders of the party last named.

As was to be expected, the mistake about the vote polled by S. C. Dwight, candidate for Supervisor from the Fifth District, was made by the officers of election in the notorious Seventh precinct. One of the officers tabulated the figures wrong, thereby making it appear that Dwight had won by one vote. As a matter of fact, however, S. K. Mahoe was the victor by 79 votes, which gives the Republicans four and the Home Rulers three on the Board of Supervisors.

Several Republican heads of Government bureaus are discharging men supposed not to have voted the straight Republican ticket. The Independent has the names of some of them, and is only waiting for detailed evidence before giving the complete facts to the public. It is understood that this Russian method of doing politics has also been communicated to two business houses in town, in sympathy with the policy, and that a number of men have been let out without explanation.

A wireless message to The Independent late this afternoon seems to state that Sam Pua has been elected Sheriff of West Hawaii County. This is probably a mistake, as Pua was running for clerk. In connection with the election in West Hawaii, it is to be noted that a majority of the candidates are straight Home Rulers or are men endorsed by both of the parties. More straight Home Rulers having been elected than straight Republicans, the victory must be accounted as one of the former.

Certain Republicans have been heard to say, since election day: "What are we to do in order to overcome the Home Rulers? We must do something to help out the Government and prevent the others from getting control." That seems now to be the concensus of opinion among Republican politicians is to "rule or ruin," whether by "fair or foul means." Such is the class the people have to contend with, and the sooner they see it, the better for all concerned. And for them, we say—so mote it be.

We have a straight tip that the heads of the Army are in favor of locating the big new army post in some healthy locality in Kona, on Hawaii, in place of on Oahu; and that the board now here has been instructed to recommend some site over there if a suitable one can be procured. The idea is a bit preposterous on account of the absence of a suitable port—unless, indeed, it is purposed to dredge Kealakekua landing at Kailua and utilize that. There is in the War Department, however, a disposition to look outside of Oahu for an army site.

In the county campaign M. P. Robinson, J. A. Lucas, J. A. Gilman, A. Hocking, S. E. Damon, A. M. Brown and W. T. Rawlins promised the native plenty of work and good times in the event of their election to office. This promise was renewed nightly. The voters who supported the Republican ticket should remember it and hold the candidates squarely up to the point. We venture to predict, however, that the "faithful", who accepted this promise will experience the same slump in their hopes encountered after the election last year.

The suggestion has again been made that the Seventh precinct of the Fifth district be divided and two precincts made of it. We have urged the importance of such a move before. The change should by all means be made before the next election, when there will be a deluge of candidates in the field. Votes will have to be polled at that time for a delegate to Washington, members of the Legislature and county officials. Twice as much time will be required for the preparation of these ballots (three in number) as in the marking of the single one of this year; and in the very nature of things it will be impossible for the voters of the Seventh to finish in time.

We very much doubt whether the Republicans "will welcome any recount of the ballots in the Seventh or any other precinct," for, as sure as that is allowed, should it ever be so permitted, not one Republican would be seated to office. Should a recount ever be ordered by the Supreme Court, the proper authority to so order it, it would surely be found that the Home Rulers have swept this whole County, the same as they have done on Maui, and nearly the whole of East Hawaii and partially of West Hawaii. But we have our misgivings whether such a turn will ever occur, as the Republicans control the whole machinery of government and will likely do as they please. Like what Lorrin Thurston once said, "he'll keep with the devil in order to gain a point," and they'll do it every time, whether fair or foul.

Now that election is over, Jackie Lucas' words, which we once overheard him utter in the heat of the campaign hubbub, that "if we don't get there by fair means, we'll get there by foul," are forcibly brought home to us. That is the utterance publicly made by one of their supposed "honorable" men, and such is one of the kind of men we are destined to be under and to whom we are to submit. We think that if such is the kind of medicine to be given us, it is better not to go to the polls any more, and the people may as well stay at home and submit, or else, reflect. If we want "good Government," as has been the Republican cry, let us then deal fairly and squarely by all, and in such a way only can it be possible to get "goodand honest government" "of the people, by the people, and for the people," and not a government "of the people, by the family compact and for the family compact," or "by the rich for the rich," whether they get it "fair or foul."

The freighter Nevadan will sail tomorrow for Kahului.

The Coptic will be due to arrive on Saturday from San Francisco.

The estate of the late Eli Peck was found to be worth $43,484.98.

Allan Dunn was run over upon alighting from a car yesterday and bruised.

The appeal in the county case will be heard in the Supreme Court tomorrow.

The members of the mosquito committee met yesterday and congratulated each other.

Mr and Mrs C A Brown, who returned yesterday from Boston, have taken rooms at the Hawaiian hotel.

J W Chapman and Mr Ball, both of Honolulu, are stowards on the Nevadan, which arrived in port yesterday.

The steamer Argyll arrived yesterday from San Francisco with 25,000 barrels of petroleum for the Union Oil Co.

Dr C B Cooper, president of the Board of Health, has placed his resignation in the hands of Governor Carter.

The funeral of the late Melville Monsarrat will take place from St Andrew's Cathedral at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

At its meeting yesterday the Board of Health decided upon the Palolo valley site for the Insane Asylum.

The ships James Drummond, John Currier and Erskine M Phelps are about ready for sea and will sail in a few days.

The Builders and Traders Exchange last night adopted resolutions respecting the memory of the late Judge Estee.

Posters in all languages, giving instructions as to how to fight mosquitoes, are being distributed by officers of the Board of Health.

Paddy Ryan will manage the great athletic programs at the Orpheum Saturday night. L H Dee and Jack Weday will superintend the ring work.

Secretary Boyd, of the Promotion Committee, received about sixty letters by yesterday's mail asking for descriptive circulars, etc, concerning the Islands.

The office of THE INDEPENDENT is in the brick building next to the Hawaiian hotel grounds on Beretania street, Waikiki of Alakea. First floor.

The Home Rule Central Committee is just now busily engaged upon the arrangements for the funeral of the late Hon R W Wilcox on Sunday. Pooles will draw the hearse.

The assumpsit case of Territory Stables Co. vs. Charles S Desky, which was decided for the plaintiff yesterday on account of the failure of defendant's witnesses to appear, will be reinstated.

The Jury in Judge De Bolt's court yesterday finished five civil cases in short order. Verdicts were ordered in some of them on account of the failure of one side on the other to appear.

A Kakaako hoodlum threw a rock at Captain W L Bowers while the officer was riding along Queen street at Kawaiahao cemetery last night. The missle fell short of its mark but left a large scar on the side of the buggy.

Army Board at Work.

The army board appointed to investigate and report a suitable site for an army post in the Islands, the members of which arrived in the Sierra yesterday, has perfected its organization and will soon get down to hard work. In all probability, however, a trip will be made to Hawaii and Maui before the proposed sites on this island are carefully examined. It is the board's present idea to leave next Tuesday for Hilo. Colonel A Mackenzie, of the General Staff, is president of the Commission. The other members are Major H P Moon, 10th Infantry; Major Wm E Birkhimen, Artillery Corps, and Capt Geo W Read, 9th Cavalry. Major Davis and Capt Williamson, of the local station, are detailed to assist the board in its work.

Great Fistic Program.

At last the program has been completed for Saturday night's boxing matches in the Orpheum theater. There will be four principal events, as follows: "Kid" Celp, the lightweight wonder of Camp McKinley, and Joe Castro, known as the "Telephone Slasher;" Sidney Jackson, a man with a record here and on the Coast, and John Stone, the Punchbowl heavy-hitter. The great bout between De Lile and Bill Huihui will come last, and it will undoubtedly be one of the most exciting bout of the year. One of the greatest crowds in the history of fighting here promises to fill the Orpheum.

Maui Officers.

The following were elected officers of the county of Maui on Tuesday:

Supervisors—W H Cornwell, Jr, J K Hihio, G P Kaumakaole, C L Kookoo, T B Lyons, all Home Rulers
Sheriff—William White, Home Ruler.
Attorney—John Richardson, Home Ruler.
Treasurer—Patrick Cockett, Home Ruler.
Surveyor—J K Kahookele, Home Ruler.

A Coast Opinion.

The wise men of the law in Hawaii have decided to place a contempt of court in the category of infamous crimes punishable only on indictment by a Grand Jury. This has all the earmarks of a deeplaid scheme to put all the justice-loving, peace-desiring citizens of Hawaii in jail. From what we have heard of some courts in the islands contempt of them is a sure sign of decency.—The Call.

POLICY OF OPEN DOOR CLOSES DOOR.

WASHINGTON, D.C. Oct. 21:

The disagreement between Russia and Japan and the utter breakdown of the much-heralded "open door" in Manchuria has alarmed the export merchants of the United States, and they have sounded a note of warning to President Roosevelt and the Republican leaders, that instead of aiding the enlargement of our business in Asia, they have virtually closed the door that was at least partly open. That Russia will ever withdraw from Manchuria is not within the realm of probability; she owns the railroads and the banks there; the Chinese authorities are subservient to the Russian representatives; in a word, Manchuria is Russianized. The boast of the Administration that the treaty just concluded with China gives us two open ports in that country is, therefore, worthless, unless Russia opens their doors, for she has the key to both of them. Even if these two ports were open, are they of value? Mookden, one of the two, is on a small river a hundred miles from the sea, accessible by a scow, and Niu Chwang, at the mouth of the stream, is occupied by the Russians. The other is a village on the coast, but there is no harbor, and so shoal the offing that men-of war could not approach within twenty miles. The merchant who tries to get any trade through these "open doors" will not bless John Hay and the Republican party.

There are oceans of unshed tears here over the decapitation of Major General Henry C Corbin. Corbin, the boss, the bluffer, the bully of the Army, has been banged between the eyes and thrust through the ropes. After years of scheming and bullying and blundering he has failed at the moment he seemed surest of success.

It means that the famous comic opera known as the "reorganization of the army" is to be played like "Hamlet" with Hamlet left out, for the reorganization was for the sole and specific purpose of boosting Corbin into absolute control of the establishment, and now Corbin is pitched into a sideshow tent by being sent out of Washington into command of the department of the East on Governor's Island in New York harbor.

General Miles, who was sacrificed to the ambition of Corbin, will gain nothing in official recognition by the sidetracking of his ancient enemy, for his retirement has eliminated him from the situation, but if revenge possesses any of its traditional sweetness for General Miles, he surely has need of great sweet tooth capacity today.

The question of how the farmers of the Western states stand on the tariff and trust issues has been strongly indicated through the en-

MR. CARTER'S MOVE.

If Governor-Designate Carter wishes to put one feather of public approval in his cap at the outset of his career as the head of this Territory, he will urge a recount of the votes of the Seventh, Eighth and Ninth precincts of the Fifth district. The honest Republicans of Oahu, in view of the talk that has been going on and the dissatisfaction that that talk has occasioned, are willing that a recount should be had. Home Rulers, from all reports, believe that there has been some crooked business somewhere and prefer running the risk of losing all of their elected men to having any question as to the legality of the election of any person on the ticket for county offices questioned.

It is very plain that there was some monkeying with the ballots. Not in the history of the Islands nor in the history of any State in the United States have as many as 720 ballots been thrown out in a district containing only a little over 5000 voters. The proposition is absurd on the face of it. Had the number been fifty, or even a hundred, there might have been some excuse for it; but when it comes to throwing out one vote in every seven the thing is being carried a little too far for the consciences of men of both political parties at interest. Whether the rejected votes were those of Home Rulers or of Republicans does not enter into the case. The fact remains that a very much larger number of ballots than ever before were rejected, and the public wishes to know just why they were rejected. We believe it would be a good move for Mr. Carter to insist upon a recount, helping to put a final quietus on a matter that is satisfactory to no one.

THE PANAMA SITUATION.

If the recognition of the Panama insurgents by the United States is, as the dispatches affirm, in accord with the will and wishes of the people at large, as against the policy of the Colombian government, the move will benefit everybody immediately concerned save alone the party in power at Bogota. It means that, if terms can be made with Great Britain to pigeon-hole the Clayton-Bulwer treaty for a few minutes, the entire isthmus will belong to the United States and at comparatively little cost. Panama will be benefitted, the canal will go ahead at once and Hawaii will have a much shorter route to the trade that must come out of the project. Colombia will get nothing out of the proposition and the party in power will undoubtedly find itself in a hole with the people seated comfortably on the hole.

As a rule we are suspicious of any move made by the United States in any part of the world at present, the policy of the McKinley and Roosevelt administrations having been and being in favor of imperialism at the expense of the autonomy of small nations. It was thus with Hawaii, the Philippines and with Samoa. If, however, as we said before, the people of Panama want to become independent and are willing to be gobbled up later, all well and good. What Hawaii wants is the canal.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Republicans are now moving heaven and earth to prevent a recount or a reopening of the county election here. They know their weakness, and, therefore, they do not wish to see such a turn in affairs.

We would like to know what are inspectors of elections appointed for? Are they there merely as automatons to carry out the nefarious behest of a party that wants to rule or ruin by hook or crook, or are they placed there to see fair or foul play—which is it?

If honorable men are as honorable as they claim to be, will they still be honorable by remaining in honorable positions through dishonorable means and dishonesty? It is up to the apparently successful Republican candidates to clear themselves of such a stigma that stenches in the nostrils of honorable and honest men. Of course, it is anything to defeat the Home Rulers, who are nothing more than damned kanakas.

With only a ten days' campaign, Wise gave Brown the first close run of his life, and it is not yet satisfactorily settled. If a recount should be ordered, and there have been many flagrant violations of the election law, Brown's present known majority will dwindle down to a minority that will surely elect Wise instead. We feel certain of such a result and charge that the Republicans know it too well to welcome such a course as claimed by their morning oracle.

If Republicans are as honest as claimed by an evening organ of their party, we are of the opinion that it and they should be foremost in courting a fair and just adjustment of the now too well known flagrant violations perpetrated upon the good nature of the majority of the people of this country. What they have done cannot instill confidence in the mass of the people of this county, and it is for them to clear their "spotted skirts" of such trash who are low enough to stoop down and do anything dirty in order to win.

Secretary Carter is reported to have said that the recent election here belongs to the Home Rulers, and that if he had the legal right, he would at once break the seals of the packages of ballots cast and order a recount. Only the Supreme Court can order the seals broken, and with the known raw flagrancy, it should be insisted and Republicans should lead the van for purity in our elections as well as in politics. We are more than pleased to say of Mr. Carter that he seems to be one honest Republican who means to be fair and just towards the people of his country. Let others trot out and demand the same.

It is currently reported that a certain white member of the mounted patrol cast six votes on election day, the first time for himself and the rest for absentee voters. We claim that if such was the case, why did the chairman of the inspectors, who knows all the absentees and the patrolman personally, allow such a violation of law? This is claimed to have happened at the Emma Square polling place, where Senator Crabbe, the leading purist, was on tab checking the list for and on behalf of his party. Wm. Savidge must know those men and why did he allow it? Was it because he was afraid of Crabbe or was it because he did not believe in honesty at the polls?

It is puerile to say that the Senate of the United States will disregard the protest of the people of Hawaii against the appointment of Dole and Carter to be Federal Judge and Governor, respectively. The appointment of these men was the result of the pull of one of them with the President, and nothing more. Both are notoriously unpopular, not alone with opposing political parties but in the ranks of their own party. Roosevelt is too "strenuous" to know that or to care; but the members of the Senate are quite different. They will listen to the wishes of the people in place of the recommendations of a President based merely upon the fact that he and George R. Carter played football together. Mark our words!

We are well aware of the inclination of any defeated party to surmise fraud or unfair dealing on the part of its opponents; and ordinarily would pay little attention to complaints arising in consequence. However, the presence of something out of the ordinary in the case of the Oahu election is so patent that no one can afford to disregard or pass it over. The enormous total of 720 votes were rejected by the officers of the election in a few precincts. Nearly two hundred of these were in a single precinct and composed more than one-fourth of the registered strength of that precinct. Is it possible that one out of every four voters there did not know how to mark the very simple ballot placed before them last Tuesday? We believe that an investigation would show seventy-five per cent. of the ballots to be in proper form, and we have good reason to believe so. The thing is too plain. If, however, the Republicans hold out against a recount, well and good. They will be the sufferers. They will lose more votes by that in the general election next November than by anything they could possibly try.

Home Rule Status.

The Kuokoa Home Rule, native organ of the Home Rule party, issued this afternoon, gives the total of ballots rejected at Tuesday's election as 800. Of this number it concedes that 400 may be bad, but declares that the remaining 400 are bona fide and legal Home Rule votes. By this reckoning the results in offices of supervisors-at-large, sheriff, county clerk and county attorney are figured to be as follows:

J H Boyd, 2498; Fernandez, 2559; F Harvey, 2634; G Renton, 2142; Robinson, 2339; Lucas, 2224.

J H Wise, 2532; Brown, 2327. Kalauokalani, 2306; Murray, 2242: E Caypless, 2389; Rawlins, 2336.

Some Slight Changes.

The official returns of Oahu, when properly carried out, show the following slight changes in the standing of some of the candidates:

For supervisors at large, Fernandez has 2156 instead of 2157 and Harvey 2214 instead of 2213.

For sheriff, Wise has 2132, a gain of one; for clerk, Murray has 2241, a loss of one, and Kalauokalani 1912, a gain of six; for auditor, Sherwood has 2372, a lost of one, and Wilcox 1935, a lost of two; for assessor, Pratt has 2085, a gain of four, and Iaukea 2319, a loss of two; for treasurer, Booth has 1944, a gain of two; for supervisors in the Fifth district, Kealoha and Mahoe tie at 1041, a gain of three for the former and of five for the latter.

Logan Arrives.

The transport Logan arrived early this morning from Manila and Nagasaki with about 600 soldiers and a number of passengers. As soon as she docked the troops were given shore leave and immediately proceeded to enjoy their stay in port. The Logan will sail again at noon tomorrow for San Francisco, taking the mail.

terprise of the "Farm and Home," published in Chicago. That newspaper sent out 50,000 postal cards requesting answers to seven questions, amongst which was: "Should tariff be revised?" The vote on that proposition was yes, 27,193; no, 10,738.

When it is considered that the majority in most of the states from which this vote was gathered is largely republican, it marks the revolt in the ranks of that party against excessive protection. But another vote was taken on a kindred subject that shows how the extortions of the trusts are regarded by the farmers. The question asked was: "Should trusts be regulated or suppressed?" The answer was: Regulated, 22,854; Suppressed, 14,449. This straw vote shows the drift for tariff reform and regulation of the trusts. The stand-patters have a job in front of them next year.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Let us have a re-count is all that The Independent will demand. A new election is out of the question, as that will entail further public expense as well as creating suspense and a tension of public feeling. The easiest course is the shortest and quickest.

Can't a man drive or ride around with his old-time friends, although they differ in politics, without being accused of apathy and of "giving the aid of his presence and influence" to others? This is peculiar politics to our conception, and is it the American fashion or rather the narrow haole way of doing things here? Which is it, pray?

Senator Achi's claim of a Republican majority of 200 in the Fifth District did not materialize on election day. He as well as Judge Kaulukou were both defeated in their respective precincts. Where was their boasted influence? Nil. In Achi's precinct, over 100 ballots were rejected, about 50 in Kaulukou's and nearly 200 in the great fighting Seventh where Birbe held forth.

Home Rulers have nothing but praise for the Republican majority of inspectors in the First, Third and Eighth precincts of the Fourth for the fair treatment accorded both parties in their respective places. But they accord the greatest of praise to those of the Eighth in particular, where the Home Rulers gained tremendously and reduced the former big Republican majorities of over two hundred to less than a hundred. But they can't say as much for those of the Seventh of the Fifth, the chairman of which being too dirty for anything, yet the Republicans tolerate such a foul fowl, fit only for a rubbish pile or to manure an Advertiser small farm.

Senator Crabbe's prognostications of Republican success have far exceeded his expectations and anticipations. He expected a majority of the Supervisors and with the other offices, a half of the fourteen candidates for this county. But the result at present is more and he is unable to account for such a victory. Yet we may charge that he was the foremost and the forefront of the strenuous efforts during the day in his precinct, the Fourth of the Fourth.

Nearly 800 ballots were rejected on election day, which is something out of the ordinary for the voters of this Island to stand for since the introduction of the Australian system in 1890. It cannot be said that natives do not know how to mark their ballots after a dozen years' experience. There must have been something radically wrong with the Republican majority of inspectors and they deserve to be hauled over the coals, for such tricks are too raw to be tolerated by our "honest" Republicans.

It is reported that Frank Turk ran in some sailors to vote in the Sixth precinct of the Fourth and, although challenged by a watcher, they were allowed to vote in place of the dead as well as for absentees. One case was too raw and the man was excused. The Attorney General was there, but he is too partisan to see rascality through a brother Turk, and permitted such dupes to slip through his hands like wild mountain turkeys. So much for Republican fairness and honesty.

The Advertiser's story of Admiral Coghlan is highly interesting. According to the morning oracle the Admiral was born in 1845 and "graduated from Annapolis just before the Civil War." If that be true, he could not have been more than 16 years of age when turned out as a naval ensign, the Civil War having begun in 1861. After that the kid is reported to have rendered excellent service as an officer in the navy—or between the ages of 16 and 20. Inasmuch as the age limits for entering Annapolis are 17 and 22, it is hard to understood how Coughlan got in anyway. The course is four years, so he must have entered at 12 or less! The Admiral must have been a smart chap in his youth.

The proposed transfer of the Insane Asylum from its present site in Kapalama to Palolo Valley seems to us like a political trick of the Republican party bosses to defeat one another. In such a transfer the Russian boss of the Fourth District would gain a few more votes over his part-Chinese partner of the Fifth, and whereby the former might weep over his gain while the latter might laugh at his loss. There isn't much choice between the two, as there is hardly a particle of difference between them. One's loss is the other's gain and vice versa. Let the Russian boss have those cranks and he's perfectly welcome to them, as the Chinese boss will no doubt be glad to part with such a lot.

A prominent Hawaiian Republican, after seeing Chairman Kaulukou of the Tenth precinct of the Fifth, permit certain irregularities, in one instance the depositing of the ballots without tearing off the numbers, declared himself, after depositing his vote and outside of the polling place, a Home Ruler from thence forward and advised the natives to vote straight for the Home Rule ticket. That precinct was carried by the Home Rulers in spite of the Republican majority of the board. Like conditions also happened in other precincts. Rascality as well as murder will always out.

The cablegrams of today indicate that Uncle Sam is working another Hawaii outrage at Panama. The first dispatches had it that the natives had started the insurrection there, their idea being to promote the digging of the canal, which would greatly enhance the value of their holdings. It now appears that the whole trouble was brought about by American and English speculators, who had acquired valuable property and were holding it in the hope of reaping a sack when the canal goes through. They are working for the annexation of the Isthmus to the United States on almost the identical lines followed by the missionaries here in 1893, and they are apparently being backed up by the Republican administration as before.

All our contemporaries yesterday stated that when the Home Rule leader, Kalauokalani, together with Candidates Iaukea and Chas. Wilcox, called upon Secretary Carter on Thursday afternoon, they told him that they had no money with which to contest the election and would want the Government to pay the bill. The statement is all bosh and rot. The call was made upon the advice of an attorney in order to find out the attitude of the authorities with regard to making a contest for a re-count or a re-election. Nothing was said about Home Rulers having no money, but there was some reference made about entailing further expense upon the public in case of a new election. Mr. Carter's report of the meeting shows that his "upper story" lacks something and is only veneered by a top dressing in the shape of a wig. Something must be radically wrong and he only sees a certain alleged weak spot but we think that he'll find out when the ball is started rolling in the Supreme Court, unless otherwise advised by competent counsel, the majority of whom are in favor of pushing matters forward to an early consideration and conclusion.

Deals affecting public lands should all be in the open. The people should in all cases know what is going on. The land is the land of the people and not the property of the Dole administration and its pets. In the past ten years thousands upon thousands of acres of valuable lands have gone to W. R. Castle and other satellites of the oligarchy ruling this country. The people have been given information concerning few of these deals. The proposed exchange of valuable sugar lands with W. G. Irwin for the Opera House block should be discussed in the open. On the face of the thing it looks like a scheme to give away $150,000 worth of land for a block which Cooper will present to the United States gratis for the purpose of a Federal building. If that be so, then we say No! If the United States wants a Federal building here let it buy a site, as it has to do in every other part of the country. Let it buy the block in question from Mr. Irwin, if it wants it. Why should Hawaii be called upon to put up for this great expense? When it comes to graft commend us to Uncle Sam, assisted by Dole and Cooper. But perhaps Dole wishes to make a handsome present to the Government in exchange for his appointment to be Federal judge.

"How It Happened."

The Home Rule ticket carried the day in East Hawaii at the polls last Tuesday. The only man exclusively on the Republican ticket to win out was S. L. Desha. The town of Hilo has been quiet since Tuesday except for the circulation of theories explaining how it happened. The only satisfactory explanation is that the Home Rulers had too many votes.

One of the reasons why the Home Rulers had so many votes was the failure of management on the part of Republicans. From the outset, before the conventions, the strenuous element of the Republican party in Hilo comported itself as though courting defeat. A clique formed by Messrs. Stacker, Andrews and A. C. McKenney started in, apparently, to make the Republican party in Hilo as exclusive as a metropolitan club. They succeeded admirably. Every move they made excluded a few more votes from the party until when the show down came, the Republicans were in respectable but lonesome minority.

The campaign was started with the fatuous concentrated purpose of nominating and electing one man. All who did not concur in this purpose were looked upon with suspicion and their Republicanism was questioned. Subsidiary to this purpose of electing Andrews at all hazards, Mr. Stacker wanted to be in touch with the barrel that held the lucre. Knowing A. C. McKenney, Mr. Stacker forced him into the management of the campaign against the rules and without regard to the regular party organization. Protests were made which resulted in the choice of Jim Lewis for manager of the campaign. But McKenney stuck to the headquarters like a hypnotized automaton and represented the Herald faithfully until the electrical shock of defeat restored his sanity.

The candidates on the Republican ticket worked like beavers. They did all the work that was done. Mr. LeBlond and W. C. Cook rendered great assistance the closing week. Jim Lewis struggled faithfully to overcome the damage done each week by Mr. Stacker and his assistant grafters. Oh, but it was easy for that sly old fox. He had the boys doing things his way. It did not matter much about the final vote.

What was the result of these tactics?

The Republicans lost because Hilo sickened on the Stacker-Andrews-McKenney style.—Hilo Tribune.

The Secret of Health

The health of the whole body depends upon the blood and nerves. Therefore the medicine that expels impurities from the blood and supplies the necessary materials for rapidly rebuilding wasted nerve tissues, reaches the root of many serious diseases. It is these virtues that have given their wonderful power to conquer disease, and caused the miraculous cures that have startled the scientific world. Thousands of cases have demonstrated that this remedy is an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after-effects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, all forms of weakness either in male or female.

Frank Tucker, is a prominent farmer, of Versailles, Indiana. His daughter, Lucy, is now fifteen years old; three years ago she began ailing. The rosy color in her cheeks gave way to a paleness, and she became rapidly thin. As she grew weaker she became the victim of nervous prostration. Most of the time she was confined to the bed and was almost on the verge of going into St. Vitus' dance.

"Finally the doctor told us to give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Said he was treating a similar case with them and they were curing the patient. We began giving the pills at once, and the next day we could see a change for the better in her. The doctor told us to keep giving her the medicine. We gave her one pill after each meal until she was well. We began giving her the medicine last August, and she took the last dose in October, having used eight boxes. She is now entirely well and has not been sick a day since. We think the cure almost miraculous."
FRANK TUCKER, Mrs. FRANK TUCKER.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 28th day of April, 1897.
HUGH JOHNSON, Justice of the Peace.
Versailles, Indiana, April 28th, 1897.—From the Republican, Versailles, Ind.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all druggists or sent, postpaid, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, 6 boxes, $2.50.

Sheridan Due.

The transport Sheridan is due at any hour this afternoon from San Francisco, being now eight days out. A San Francisco exchange of October 30 says:

At noon tomorrow the transport Sheridan, Captain Peabody, will sail for Honolulu, Guam and Manila, with all the passengers that can be accomodated, in addition to the enlisted men of the Twenty-second Infantry. Freight to the amount of 2800 tons, and consisting principally of Army supplies for Honolulu, Guam and the Philippines, has been stowed in the vessel's hold, and the treasure-room will contain about $2,000,000 in silver and gold. The passengers will include sixteen wheelwrights and blacksmiths, who are under contract with the Quartermaster's Department, and are to be employed in the Navy Yard at Cavite.—Chronicle, Oct 30.

HUIHUI KNOCKS OUT DE LILE.

The boxing tourney at the Orpheum theater Saturday evening was satisfactory in every respect save that the audience was not as large as it might and should have been. In the principal fight Bill Huihui knocked out De Lile by a sleep-producer on the left jaw, which however, was the only blow of any consequence landed during the entire evening. The knockout was more of an accident than else, the soldier having decidedly the best of the fight at the time it was delivered.

The first bout was between Sidney Jackson, Nigel's lanky brother, and a Manoa Portuguese with the Norwegian name of Stone. Jackson seemed to be too tall to reach his man and Stone had to tip-toe to score a hug. There was no fighting except in the second round when the Portogoose led vigorously but made no impression. The third and fourth rounds were notable only for fanning, not a blow that would harm a mosquito having reached home. At the end of the fourth both men were so badly winded that either would have gone down in a heap under a straw. In the toss-up judgement for a decision, Jackson was given the fight.

The liveliest and in most respects, the best scrap of the evening was the four-round drive between Castro, the husky little Guam man, and soldier Gelp. Both of these men entered the ring with the determination to win a knock-out, but being so evenly matched the feat was impossible in so short a go as four rounds. From start to finish the fight was fast and furious and ended with honors even.

Then came the big fight between Huihui and De Lile. The latter was the favorite, betting on him having gone as high as two to one. In the ring, however, Huihui looked to be the larger and stronger man. De Lile easily found his man but his blows were ineffective, save only to gradually wear the big fellow. Huihui delivered tremendous right-handers but they were invariably stopped by the soldier. In the first and second rounds De Dile had the best of it, sending his man to the corner at the end with a cut over the left ear and a liberal display of shooting stars before his optics. The third was a feinting game and concluded with honors even. The fourth showed the hardest scrapping of the battle, Huihui getting another rap over the ear and both men receiving body and head punches. The fifth told the story, and told it in very short order. Huihui was the aggressor and had forced the soldier back almost to the ropes. The native made a feint of drawing back on the defensive. The trick worked well. De Lile loosened on his defenses and, like a flash of lightning, Huihui landed a right-hander on the lower part of his left jaw. Time ran out and the defeated man, still dazed, and bleeding from a cut on the left face, was assisted to his dressing room.

THE PANAMA TROUBLE.

The Panama trouble is by no means so inconsequential as many Americans would have it believed. Ever since the declaration of President Monroe, familiarly known as the Monroe Doctrine, the great Republic has gradually ascended from the northern horizon as a storm cloud, threatening the autonomy of South American States. Governments and the press of that continent have viewed the situation uneasily for a very long time. In place of looking upon the United States as a great friend and helper, they regard our country as somewhat of a huge dragon awaiting its opportunity to gulp them down. What, then, would be the attitude of the South American republics in case the present negotiations with the United States of Colombia came to blows? It is next to certain that Chile, Argentina and Brazil would form a compact decidedly unfriendly to the United States, and that they would be joined later by Venezuela, Peru and Bolivia. If it came to actual hard-pan war the struggle would almost certainly be, before the end, with all of South America and probably a large part of Central America.

It is easy to see that such a war would not be anybody's picnic. South Americans are fighters by birth and profession, judging by their history, and if their States combined against America they could get all the men and the money they might require. The governments of Europe, jealous of the progress of the United States and resentful of its recent haughty attitude, would not discourage any aid from that continent to the South Americans, short of open sympathy and armed assistance. It is, therefore, plain that Roosevelt has a big contract on his hands. It is a contract in dealing with which the greatest caution will have to be exercised. Mr. Roosevelt will have a chance, however, to show what he is made of. If he terminates the difficulties satisfactorily it will prove a great feather in his cap at a time when he will need all the feathers he can scrape up. Should he, on the other hand, by his bull-headed "strenuousness" bring on a war of the character above outlined, he will have dug a political grave into which he will be summarily and "forever laid."

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The pugilistic sport at the Orpheum Saturday evening was clean and, being such, was satisfactory. There was no fluke business anywhere or in any detail. Credit for the excellent program is due to Paddy Ryan, a man whose platform is clean sport and plenty of it of the right kind.

Even without money (?), as claimed and asserted by our more ponderous contemporaries, Home Rulers have at last decided to make a contest and a stab at our recent election by petitioning and demanding a recount only. They have sufficient good and plausible reasons for making such a move, which has been in the mist for the past few days, upon which they rely for fair and just treatment.

Only a recount of the votes cast last Tuesday is wanted by the Hawaiian party and not a new election as was first thought by those most directly interested. Legal opinion, and that from able counsel, was sought and was given Saturday afternoon to the above effect. This protest will be pushed to the bitter end and it is safe to say that all will abide by whatever decision may be rendered.

Former Mayor Phillips, of Springfield, Ill., must have felt greatly annoyed because the Advertiser, a wee paper in a wee Territory, told its 1,200 subscribers (who had never heard of Phillips before in their lives), that he had stolen some money. We can fancy Phillips walking the floor in the midnight hours and damning an unjust world. Nasty Advertiser; shame on you!

Without contesting the recent Oahu County election, the Republicans will be happy in their ill-gotten success, and then will accuse and abuse the Home Rulers for blowing nothing but hot air. But as it is to be a contest in earnest, unmindful of the fact that certificates of election have been issued, we will be enabled to see what the outcome is to be. Better to contest it than to allow it to smoulder quietly in oblivion.

The confirmation of the appointment of S. B. Dole to be Federal judge and George R. Carter to be Governor will be defeated if the matter was properly laid before the Senate in Washington this morning, and we have every reason to believe that it was. Mr. Roosevelt may have every reason to admire George R. Carter's football record and Dole's whiskers, the only accomplishment either gentleman has, but the Senate will likely be a trifle more particular.

The funeral of the late Robert W. Wilcox yesterday was impressive in every way, but a feature that must have been noted by everyone was the loyalty and love for the man displayed by the native Hawaiians. Not only did hundreds of them march in the solemn procession to the grave, but thousands crowded the streets and with bared and bowed heads exemplified their grief as the hearse moved slowly by. It was a scene that formed a tribute more eloquent than words or sweet music or the rhythmic outbursts of poetical impulses. In its simplicity it was grand; in the earnestness of those participating in it it came close to the spirit surrounding the Great White Throne.

The Advertiser has thrown off its masque. Its attitude of the past year, which has been understood by some, must now be plain to all. The morning press has as a principal aim the eviction of every native Hawaiian from public office. It intends to work overtime to prevent the reappointment of Kepoikai to be treasurer and E. S. Boyd to be commissioner of public lands. It will also fight Sam Parker with the idea of getting him out of the office of National Committeeman of the Republican party in these Islands and to replace him with a missionary of its own stripe. Natives previously deluded into believing that the Republican party was their friend and would do something for them, may profit greatly by these most convincing object lessons.

We regret to taunt certain people of Hilo with the frost-bitten bug-house, "We told you so"; but, really, the temptation is too great. Months ago we warned the Republicans of East Hawaii that if they nominated L. A. Andrews for sheriff their nominee would certainly be beaten and would likely drag the ticket down with him. Both Hilo papers probably saw the snag, but the "mutual admiration society" Herald insisted upon running on it in the nominating convention. The Tribune and its friends turned to, after the convention, and struggled manfully to get the ship off, but—too late. The Job had been done—Andrews had been nominated. We are not in the habit of showing Republicans what to do, but when we do throw out a life-line it is invariably strong and reliable.

Superintendent Cooper claims to be working in the open in his land deals, but, holy cats! the facts belie his statements. There is no getting around it. Last Saturday W. G. Irwin bought the Oahu College tract on Miller street between Beretania and Vineyard, paying $45,000 for it. He bought it on the strength of a prior and secret arrangement with Cooper to transfer it to the Government in exchange for other land. There is the biggest kind of a nigger in this wood-pile. Irwin is not a man to dicker in a thing of this kind without the sight of a little sack at the other end of the line. What we want to know is how much bonus Cooper proposes to give him and how much of a rake-off Cooper himself will get out of the deal at the expense of the people? These questions may seem naughty, but we have enough information up our sleeves to declare that they are eminently and imminently pertinent.

The Democratic party in these Islands can easily afford to remain independent and apart from any other political organization. It matters nothing wh ether the Democratic party here is made up of fifty men or fifty thousand; it is a part of a great national party and a party that will almost certainly win in the next campaign in the States. With a Democratic administration at Washington the local Democratic party would have the naming of every man for office in these Islands to be appointed by the President. Small though it may be, it would have the control of the principal offices in its hands. No Democrat should chase after the Home Rulers to get them to come into the party. The Democratic party is above and independent of any other party on this beach. If the Home Rulers wish to join the Democratic party, well and good; there is no way to keep them out. But the Democrats should feel able to go it alone and we believe they do feel that way. In case of the success of the Democrats in the States next year, the loud howlers of both the Republican and Home Rule parties would be falling over each other to get in out of the wet. Then will be the time to act.

The Advertiser is a bit late in discovering that the County Act prescribes that contests of election must be submitted to the Circuit Court in the county in which such contests arise, and that the decision of the court must be submitted to the board of supervisors of that county. That is the point upon which a large part of the discussion of the past few days has hinged, and eminent legal counsel has advised that the section referred to is not yet in operation, and cannot become operative until a county and a board of supervisors exist, which will not be until January of next year. It was held that that was plainly the intention of the Legislature, or, otherwise, a special proviso in regard to contests arising out of the 1903 election would have been inserted in the County Act. The question of jurisdiction will undoubtedly arise when the matter is brought up in the Supreme Court, and upon the decision will hinge the preliminary trend of the proceedings. The matter has been pretty well threshed out, however, and there seems to be no good reason why the Supreme Court should decline jurisdiction. The facts of the case would, in such event, be sufficient to warrant a recount.

Judge Dole.

Governor Dole's appointment as Federal Judge is another link in the chain of distinctions which have come to the hero of the "overthrow." The appointment does not reflect credit on President Roosevelt and it will undoubtedly result in further loss to the already faded lustre of the recipient. Governor Dole was at the pinnacle of fine renown when he stepped from the office of President of the Republic of Hawaii. For sentimental reasons President McKinley made him the first Governor of the Territory. The only acts of merit in that office have been performed by others. Dole's fame and greatness have not prospered in a pure American atmosphere. Having done big and spectacular things he could not apply himself with spirit to common details. The appointment for sentiment sake by McKinley was nice for Dole and nice for McKinley. It was unfortunate for Hawaii.

Now comes another sentimetnal appointment. Dole succeeds Estee. The strenuous President has quit thinking say anything against the character of of the fortunes of Hawaii. No one can S. B. Dole. He is an excellent gentleman. He has friends by the multitude in every part of the Islands. But he is not the best man that Roosevelt could have found to succeed Estee. The position of Federal Judge in Hawaii should not be used as baggage for political or personal reward. It is too important a place for that. Roosevelt could have helped Hawaii, by naming some distinguished American jurist. He did not do so. The President made a mistake which the future will prove. —Hilo Tribune.

Final Tributes Paid.

The funeral of the late Hon R W Wilcox, which took place from the Roman Catholic cathedral yesterday afternoon, was attended by the largest crowd that has turned out on a similar occasion in a great while. The Cathedral and grounds were packed and hundreds stood in the neighboring streets. Bishop Libert conducted the solemn funeral services and a choir under the supervision of Father Valentin rendered excellent music.

The funeral procession was headed by a platoon of police, followed by the members of various societies of which deceased was a member. The car containing the casket was drawn by several hundred poolas, or stevedores. Thousands of people lined the streets to see the procession go by. At the cemetery the Hawaiian band joined the concourse and supplied appropriate music.

More "How it Happened."

It was not by any means the worth or unworth of men on either ticket on Maui that influenced the vote, and no matter who had been named on either ticket the final result would have been exactly the same. The home rulers and democrats combined far exceed in numbers the republicans and home rule leaders proved themselves shrewd party leaders. Perfect discipline prevailed in the home rule ranks, the results of which told on election day.—Maui News.

Comfort for Island Poets.

Walking home from school, the other day, some children were discussing the perfection and usefulness of their respective fathers. "My father is the best man in the world," said one little girl; "he is a minister. He makes people go to church." "Mine is the best," piped up another; "he's a doctor. He makes sick people well so they can go to church." Three or four more enlarged upon the benefit the world derived from their fathers, when finally a sweet, blue-eyed little girl said: "My papa's the best of all. He's a poet." "A poet!" said another, in sympathetic surprise; "why, a poet isn't a profession! It's a disease!"

WHAT TERRITORIAL SECRETARY SAYS.

"There are all kinds of rumors of what occurred in the Executive Council meeting today," said Mr Carter yesterday afternoon. "I desire to state for the benefit of the public, that what I am endeavoring to get at is the actual financial condition of the Territory as it stands today. Governor Dole feels that he has sufficient data to guide his actions, but I do not share this feeling yet. Here is an illustration. I asked the Superintendent of Public Works to give me a statement of those contracts and other matters which he had entered into and which affected the moneys to be received from the sale of the Territorial bonds. I did not receive the information asked for, and reminded Mr Cooper about it, and asked him if he would not be kind enough to let me know before anything else was done. I thought it only fair to the new administration to not go ahead on such matters without my knowledge.

"At the meeting this morning Mr Cooper read a statement of all the contracts made by his department. Only two of these affected the Loan Bill. These were the storm drains and the Diamond Head reservoir. Under the County Act, it was the desire of the Legislature, and I think it was with the universal approval of the people of this Territory, to turn the water works over to the counties as well as the sewerage systems. If this is to be done it seems to me a wrong policy to spend the money which future taxpayers will have to contribute towards the interest, and eventually pay the principal, on public improvements which become an asset of the county. The million dollars negotiated on the loan should be expended for the benefit of the Territory as a whole, not for the County of Oahu, or for any other county. I asked Mr Cooper if this was the only thing and I also asked why he did not include in current expenses his arrangements with steamship companies by which they are to pay the money for buildings they need and get in return warrants drawing five per cent interest. He replied that he had not entered into any agreement yet for these wharves.

"Since the meeting today, I was stopped on the street by Mr Low of the Honolulu Plantation, and he informed me that the road boards in his district were shut off from further road work on account of lack of money. Since then on the written instructions of Mr Cooper they have proceeded with their work with the distinct understanding that they would be reimbursed out of the loan fund money. If that proceeding is to be stopped it is only fair to let plantation managers know so they can cease furnishing money.

"It is just such private agreements which obligate the government, and which are not included in official statement, that make me lose confidence and gain doubt as to whether we really know the financial status of the Territory.

"I want to get at the facts and find out just the condition we are in before I can reach a conclusion that the Territory can afford to give up the revenue of cane lands and exchange them for $45,000 armory site. I don't know now how many more such arrangements are in existence and what kind of propositions Mr Cooper's successor will be up against.

"There is apt to be confusion in the minds of many as to what should be county affairs and what should be Territorial affairs, and if we begin to mix them we will get them into an interminable tangle and county government won't be a success."

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

A recount is the only safe and satisfactory conclusion to be arrived at of the result of the recent Oahu county election. Republicans should favor this course if they mean to be fair and just, and why not?

From whom did white Republicans expect votes to place them into power? Did they not expect them from natives? And because of the defeat of some of their haole candidates, one of their organs in Hilo (Hawaii Herald) raises the cry of "a clear case of color line." It's all rot and balderdash.

One very funny and peculiar method of making known the present day growth of royalty is that a sister or a wife is heralded forth as a "princess," and a brother or husband as a plain every day citizen. In the case of a brother and sister, if the sister is royal, why is the brother plain, both having the same parents? Can anyone arise and explain?

In the published list of "princesses" to attend the Wilcox funeral, one name in particular took the wind out of our gizzard. It was that of "Princess Hoonanea" (we leave out her identity in her husband's name). "Hoonanea" means to entertain or be entertained. We wonder whether she is really as good as her name appears to be; and in what art is she an adept at entertaining?

Residents and tax-payers of Puunui have a just cause to kick about their water facilities. For years they have been dependent upon either rain or the little stream that comes down from the valley for water. The scheme has not only proved expensive but is entirely unsatisfactory. Every cistern is the breeding place, not alone of mosquitoes, but of disease. Several times has the Legislature recognized this pressing need, but no effort to meet the requirements has ever been made by the water works department.

All this nonsense and tommyrot of "chiefesses" and "princesses" outside of those well-known as being entitled to some distinction among Hawaiians began with the death of the late "Prince" Albert K. Kunuiakea, who was more entitled than most of these upstarts. "Bystander's" suggestion of a "consolation prize" would not be a bad idea and let's all become princes and princesses of the blood royal. Whoop-la!

"Color line" was strongly drawn in this county, when white Democrats turned to and helped their Republican brethren of the same color and class. And why? Because, self-preservation was the prime reason and cause, the secondary one being that of color and class. Who'll say ought to this, for some of the most energetic and strenuous workers for Republicans were turncoat Democrats. And yet both bid for Hawaiians to help them out.

Because two newspapers, both Republican, speak favorably of the recent Federal appointments, is that any reason why Maui and Hawaii are made, according to the Advertiser, to "approve of Dole and Carter?" The recent election on both Islands should be taken as a better cue of public sentiment than either of our uninfluential contemporaries. Dish up another "approval" make-believe, which is better than nothing at all to the hearts of the faithful.

Would anyone attach blame to a Hawaiian for not voting for a malihini whom he knows nothing at all about? And even then, we wouldn't blame him if he didn't vote for any of those kamaaina haole Republicans, because they are all tarred alike. Outside of their votes and their women, they have no use whatever for the kanaka, mistrusting everyone of them and are doing everything in their power to belittle them, and those in the Republican party are being forced out by abuse, little by little.

The weakness of the American army was exemplified by conditions on the transport Sheridan. On that boat were some sixty officers in charge of more than twelve companies of men, going, it is presumed, to the scene of trouble in the Philippines. In charge of the officers was a band of wahines, going out there at large expense, where they have no business and are in the way. To the officers of the American army this Philippine affair seems to be a honeymoon lark and worse.

What is the Grand Jury doing while this rascality in the Public Works office is going on? Transactions have already been carried through by Superintendent Cooper, of a character calling for a searching inquiry on the part of the Court. The Grand Jury has no longer any excuse for hesitating. Secretary Carter's lime-light on the situation disclosed only a part of the facts, but sufficient to be a guide to the jury in its preliminary steps. If properly and carefully followed up this case will yield disclosures that will startle Hawaii from end to end. Let the Grand Jury do its duty.

Republicans claim that as they gave the country county government, they should be given the first show of initiating the system here. Why? Have not Hawaiians the same right, for they sought favors of them just the same, and in the majority of cases, they have asserted this right and privilege of their forced Americanism.

Never before during monarchical days have we had so many princesses and high chiefesses. It is only since annexation came and now we have it as a heritage, for many since have sprung up like mushrooms. But we will not stand in the way of their gaining eminence and prominence allke. To be a princess or a chiefess these days is getting to be quite a disease, but hardly one of those named turned out to grace and honor the last sad procession of the late patriot to his final resting place. Probably they all more or less felt queer at the last moment and remained out of honor and of caste. It's getting sickening, anyway.

The Panama trouble is purely and plainly a conspiracy between the Republican government at Washington on the one side and American and English speculators at Panama on the other to wrest a piece of valuable land from the United States of Colombia. When Admiral Glass' fleet was ordered some weeks ago to go south it was for the express purpose of taking care of this revolution. Washington not only knew that it was coming but knew when it would come. The case is almost identical with the Stevens coup here in 1893, except in the present case the Government is directly in touch with and a principal party to the conspiracy.

That women will figure directly in the politics of Hawaii in future will almost certainly occur. Opinions differ, and will always differ, perhaps, as to the necessity or wisdom of giving the gentler sex the right to vote. The question came up in the constitutional convention of 1894, but the petition of certain ladies for rights under the constitution then under consideration was turned down by the F. G.'s on the plea that if made a law the native women would outvote the white women! In New Zealand, Wyoming and other places where women have been given the right to vote the scheme has been attended by rather good results.

"The Inter-Island's Steamer Moanalua" is new to those on the waterfront, but for information ask the Hawaii Promotion Committee, by E. M. Boyd, its secretary. Another new transformation is the name of a country hostelry, which this same committee is responsible for making it appear as "Haliewa" instead. "Mauna Loa" and "Haleiwa" are easy enough names, yet errors are made in an advertising folder printed away from here, which is deemed correct and somewhat semi-official, being undertaken and represented by the Government and our mercantile bodies. Look for another means of throwing public funds away to benefit outsiders as this and Frazier's cheap and money-making book have been.

What do members of the Legislature know about vouchers outside of the Committee on Accounts? And another thing, what has a grand jury got to do with investigating without the Legislature being called to assemble, the only rightful body to order their being produced and brought forward? When the Accounts Committee made its report and it was adopted by the House on the last night of the session, that report became part of the House's record, and not the vouchers, which remained in the custody of the officer directly responsible for their safe-keeping as well as for his own protection. We think this investigation by the Federal grand jury is all bosh and may as well stop short, or else the Legislature should be called together for the especial delectation of the Advertiser and Star crowds, who have howled themselves hoarse in making capital about the destruction of House vouchers, which is a hoax and a fake of the worst kind—to do Hawaiians up.

Electricity is swift and thought is said to be quicker, but if you want to see something with a decided move on just watch the missionaries flop into the Democratic party when a Democratic President is elected next year.

The Hawaii Herald's "clear case of color line," because "Blacow, the only white man nominated on the Home Rule ticket for that office (that of Supervisor) was defeated, while Desha, the only Hawaiian nominated by the Republicans for the same office, was elected" is not as "clear" as the "case" might be. How about Oahu? The Republicans had only nominated four Hawaiians out of fourteen candidates, and is not that as good "a clear case of color line" as the general run of Republican nominations throughout the whole country? The desire of the Republican element is to run the whole country and they want to do it only with white men in the majority. Their cry should be—"No Hawaiians need apply, for we mean to make this a white man's country." And yet this self-same crowd, who despoiled and hate Hawaiians to the quick, expect Hawaiians to vote them into soft and fat offices; and because they are not voted in, they cry that the "color line" was what did the business.

Puunuites Have a Kick.

Residents of Puunui are again circulating a petition for water pipes and water. Although an item for this purpose has several times been passed by the Legislature, absolutely no effort in the direction of the improvement has ever been made. The mosquito committee is now urging residents of the district to dispose of standing water. As water there has to be caught in cisterns and held for use the order of the committee cannot be obeyed, for all of which the Government is to blame.

Grand Jury Appealed To.

Election irregularities will go to the Grand Jury. In Judge Gear's court this morning C W Ashford stated that he had charges to prefer against certain officers of the election, which he desired to lay before the Grand Jury. It was suggested that the Attorney General take charge of the case but Mr Ashford objected on the ground that a member of the Attorney General's staff will be one of the persons charged. The Grand Jury will meet at 1:30 Thursday afternoon to take up the matter.

Some Sound Advice.

To the Republican party and to the solid and intelligent people generally on Maui, the NEWS has the following advice to offer. Our county officers are elected, and let us give them every fair chance to prove that they are worthy public servants. Let us kindly encourage and help them to wisely and honestly manage country affairs and only withhold our support when they prove themselves unworthy of it.—Maui News.

SENATOR PLUNKETT AND HONEST GRAFT.

The San Francisco Star publishes the following in regard to grafts, which should interest old and new politicians of Hawaii:

Senator Plunkett, a member of the New York legislature, has seen fit to give the public the benefit of his views on the subject of graft, which are quoted in the Milwaukee News. There is, he says, "honest" graft, and dishonest graft. "Honest" graft, in his estimation, is the graft that may be carried on without violating the letter of the law. Mr Plunkett is quite frank in explaining the difference between the graft that is "honest" and the graft that is dishonest: He cites his own experience, pointing to the "opportunities" that he has seen and profited from. If the city proposed to buy land for a new reservoir, he secured a tip where the improvement was to be located, purchased the property and sold it to the city at a marked advance over the purchase price. By similar "foresight" he says he has been able to take advantage of many "opportunities." This graft he considers legitimate and "honest."

The Plunkett idea of "honest" graft is quite generally shared by those American statesmen that find that politics is business and business is politics. Nor is this species of graft confined to municipal affairs. The manipulation of specifications in government contracts whereby competition is eliminated, the locating of public buildings, the making of land grants, have been "opportunities" for "honest" graft. In municipal affairs, "honest" graft runs riot. If the city is to create a park, the men of "foresight" are early on the scene getting options on the land, which they proceed to unload on the municipality at extortionate prices, with the connivance of officials that share in the plunder. If the city buys it is plucked and if it sells it is plucked. When it buys it pays double prices to the men that watch their "opportunities," and when it sells the "foresighted" have arranged so that it gets less than half what the property is worth. This is "honest" graft.

"Honest" graft enables senators and representatives on the inside to work the stock market. They know the effect that a certain measure will have upon the market. They know when it will be introduced or passed and they take advantage of the "opportunities." Even a President of the United States who went into the office penniless and retired many times over a millionaire, is said to have profited by stock market investments. It was a critical time and the operations of the treasury had a marked influence upon the stock market. He knew what the secretary of the treasury would do even before the secretary knew. His "opportunities" were limitless. He took advantage of them—at least, that is the most charitable construction to place upon the fact that he entered office a beggar and retired

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Republicans who have been elected had better make haste slowly, for following in the heels of the searchlight of exposure of frauds, there is also the demand for a recount. Much consternation has at last been cast into the camp of the enemy.

"The rape of Hawaii" is a matter of the past, but is still fresh with many of us. As that was a successful rape, another is being attempted, this time, in Panama, which will go down to history as "the rape of Panama". Ours is a great and righteous country now, the United States of America, which has never been known to have done any wrong(?).

Just as soon as the lime-light of a searching scrutiny by the Grand Jury is thrown upon certain of the illegal practices perpetrated on election day and the guilty parties brought to the bar of justice, from inspectors of election to agents and strenuous runners, just so soon will the atmosphere be cleared of murky substances. It is not too late to begin now and let the good work go on to completion.

Dead men were raised from their graves on election day and made to vote in certain precincts. So were certain absent ones made to do the same thing. Some of those dead were made to cast a straight vote for the Republican ticket which they are well known not to have done, even for a gift, if they were still in the flesh, and not in the spirit as are the cases with them. This trick was expected of Republicans, but they had a clear right of way after bluffing the others into silence and quietude. "Dead men tell no tales," but in these instances they will have to.

"Where there's a will, there's a way," and the way has been found, because the will is strong to expose the election frauds perpetrated upon an honest people, generally speaking. Republicans have openly boasted of the way they did Home Rulers up by counting them out, and now they'll be shown the crooked path that may lead them on the way to jail, and not the narrow and straight way that leadeth to a life of ease.

Ashford's request for a Grand Jury investigation into election frauds was like a bomb-shell, for when it fell, it quivered the whole city to its very volcanic foundation. That move on the political chess board was unexpected and now they are expected to put up a fight to save themselves and their all. Look out, now; something heavy is bound to drop with a deadening thud, which will not be at all pleasant.

We believe it to be the duty of the Grand Jury to immediately take up and rigidly inquire into recent contracts for the public works department. It is a big job but it is of great importance. Almost certain it is that the Attorney-General will not present a case against his colleague, but this need not stand in the way of proceedings by the grand jury itself. To have the thing cleared up is a duty the jury owes the public.

Germany's prompt recognition of Panama's de facto canal government indicates that the program was accepted in Europe before the play began.—Bulletin.

Right you are, brother; Uncle Sam originated the scheme of pouncing upon and taking the property of a little country, and, before doing so, by some secret arrangement, secured the approval of three of the largest nations of Europe to the steal.

Judge Gear is to be complimented upon his attitude in regard to the election scandals. If there have been infractions of the law, and it is asserted that there have been, the offenders should be roundly punished, not for the purposes of this election alone, but as a protection to the community in future elections. We want no crooked work at the polls and no crooks as officers of elections.

It was most opportune that Attorney C. W. Ashford, who was also a Home Rule candidate for Supervisor in the Fourth District, yesterday brought to the notice of Circuit Judge Gear certain flagrant irregularities in connection with last week's election. A great deal had already been said in Republican circles to the effect that Home Rulers will not do anything in the matter, but now that it has been brought, quietness will now prevail in the ranks of the ever faithful.

Convicts in a prison in Pennsylvania have been charged with carrying on the business of counterfeiting in jail. The fact is not so surprising, however, as one might at first imagine. When State officials engage in a wholesale boodling game, as was done at Philadelphia, and all manner of thievery of the people's rights and money, it is to be expected that the morals of convicts will be corrupted. With the object lessons of the public works and other departments of the Dole government before them, the convicts in Oahu prison may also be induced to try some get-rich-quick scheme.

Carter will score another point if he will do away with Dole's cabinet. That "cabinet" has in the past been the tool of the close corporation, or grab-all, interests of this community and it is about time it went out of business. Compel the heads of departments to go it alone, and hold them strictly accountable for their individual acts. It may be necessary to change the department chiefs every few months to induce caution and honesty but the public will gain even by that in the long run.

The genesis of fraud in the election this year is found in the act of Governor Dole in appointing a large majority of Republicans as officials of the election. The result of the recount will almost undoubtedly show that the Republicans are not in the majority on Oahu, but that the Home Rule party is considerably the stronger. It is patent on the face of it that an effort should have been made to evenly balance the officials in this county. In place of that, Dole courted fraud by appointing a majority of Republicans in most of the precincts.

President Roosevelt's message to Congress, urging a reciprocity treaty with Cuba, should be very gratifying to our sugar barons and annexation friends. The policy, if carried out, would mean the admission of Cuban products into the United States free of duty, meaning that Hawaii would have to compete against a country with which competition is out of the question. This is another thing for which our plantation and business men have to thank the Republican administration, which they have been so strenuously supporting of late.

If fraud can be shown in connection with the election early in the month, the perpetrators, no matter what their official, business or social standing is or to what party they may belong, should be made an example of. They should be arrested and imprisoned to the full extent of the law. High-handed and illegal practices in politics have gon on far too long, and it is high time that a halt should be called. The Republican party should be the first to insist upon a thorough investigation and uopn the punishment of the offenders. In no other way can it protect its good name and clear its skirts of the stigma now resting thereon.

However much the fact may be regretted, there will be no war in the Orient. As we have surmised right along, the negotiations between Japan and Russia formed merely a diplomatic ruse, kept up to deceive other powers. While causing the world to believe that war was imminent, Japan and Russia have gone on quietly in the work of apportioning Korea and Manchuria between them. One of these fine days a declaration will be made that Manchuria is Russian territory, respecting, however, the rights of other nations in the treaty ports, and that Korea belongs to Japan. It will then be found that in place of enemies Russia and Japan are really allies in the consummation of such a project.

Senator Morgan's opposition to the present course of the United States in Panama is based exclusively upon the humanity and justice of the proposition. Early in October the New York Sun bluntly stated that the next move by the United States Government in the canal matter would be to instigate an insurrection at Panama, help that section to secede from the United States of Colombia and then treat with the insurgents for the desired right of way. So true has this turned out that it would seem that the words of the Sun were inspired from Washington. In morals, the laws of nations are as binding as are any human laws between man and man. Colombia was entirely within her rights in refusing to ratify the canal treaty, and we have no more right to foment rebellion in her territory than to make war directly upon her. Senator Morgan is right. Although his acts in connection with the Hawaiian matter were dictated by so many shares of sugar stock per act, it does seem that he is trying to do the right thing now.

BY AUTHORITY.

with a fortune mounting up into the millions.

"Honest" graft enabled the sawlogs statesmen to grab pine lands for a song—lands that other men had looked up. At the state land office these milionaire statesmen had their henchmen. A landlooker that had cruised through the forests and locate valuable pine land would appear at the state land office to make purchase. The henchmen would discover that most of the land had been sold. The landlooker would be given enough land to allay his suspicions and the "honest" grafting statesman or "boss" would get the rest. It saved him the trouble of looking the land up. "Honest" graft has enabled campaign contributors to write tariff schedules privileging them to pluck the public. "Honest" graft has secured valuable franchises from municipality and state. "Honest" graft—theie is no end to it. There is hardly a great fortune in the United States that has not been based upon or fattened by "honest" graft.

ELECTION EXPENSES,

NOTICE TO CANDIDATES FOR COUNTY OFFICES.

The attention of candidates for County Offices is drawn to the following Sections of the Rules and Regulations for Administering Oaths and Holding Elections, as amended by an Act to Provide a Government for the Territory of Hawaii:

Section 31. Within twenty days following any election, each candidate, and each agent or committee acting for or on behalf of any candidate, shall file with the Secretary of the Territory an itemized statement of his or their expenses by, for, or on behalf of such candidate or election, showing each amount expended, the purpose or object for which each expenditure was made, and the person or persons to whom made; which statement shall be sworn to by each person making such expenditures, and shall be open to public inspection.

STATEMENT WHEN NO EXPENSES ARE INCURRED.

Section 32 If a candidate or any agent or committee acting on his behalf has or have incurred no expenses on account of such election, he and they shall file within twenty days after the election with the Secretary of the Territory, a sworn statement setting forth such fact.

EXPENSES LEGALLY INCURRABLE.

Section 33. The following expenses, and no other may be legally incurred by or for a candidate for election as Senator or Representative, viz:

1. His personal expenses as a candidate.
2. Expenses of printing and advertising.
3. Cost of stationery and postage.
4. Expenses of public meetings.
5. Rent and supplies of committee rooms not to exceed one for each polling place.
6. Salaries of not more than one clerk and two messengers for each polling place.
7. Salaries of not more than one watcher on election day only, at each polling place.

WHY RESIGN?

The above query is asked on account of the present contention of certain of our contemporaries that the Executive heads of Territorial departments should tender their "portfolios" either to the outgoing or to the incoming Governor It is argued that the reason for this is to give the Governor-designate a free hand to act and to appoint those whom he may want as his "cabinet" officers.

The suggestion may seem all right, in a measure, at first sight, but on second consideration, we are inclined to hold that it is entirely uncalled for and also untenable Further it denotes a lack of confidence in those whom the Senate has confirmed, and their tenure assured for a term of four years. We further hold that they are there during good behavior, whether the one who nominated them is going out to accept another office or whether he is not, and without regard to the one designated as coming in, both being of the same party.

The very idea of resigning, according to our view of the case, is entirely without precedent, and therefore, it is at most not in accord with American traditions of "government of the people by the people and for the people." This demand for resignations is at variance with American policy and is therefore un-American. Let those who wish, do so, but of their own accord, not to be egged on by those of a clique who badly want to rule and ruin the chances of others for their own agrandizement, particularly for that faction hankering for office. We think that if the incoming Governor was of another party, it would be nothing but proper, and a matter of courtesy, though not of legal right, to allow him a free hand in appointing those whom he might wish to assist him in the carrying out of his supposed policy. But the two cases are far and wide apart and neither has any bearing whatever on the other. Let the incoming man accept conditions as he finds them, and then in time work out his own salvation. We think the Territorial Senate has something to say in the matter.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Where, oh, where are those confirmatory cablegrams? They are mighty slow coming.

Those who have been holding fat billets since the overthrow have no claim whatever upon the generosity of this country and its people. We only wish that every mother's son of them were defeated at the polls for county officers. It's too bad that such did not turn out to be so in all their cases. There's another time yet coming.

The chairman of the inspectors of election of the second precinct of the Fourth District has personally complained to us because we failed to give them the same amount of praise as we gave the others. He claimed that that board has always been fair and treated all alike. Our reasons for not mentioning them was because Home Rulers did not report it as in the other cases specially mentioned by us.

We suppose that when a few speculators and carpet-baggers file their petition in Congress in a few weeks for the annexation of Panama, the Republican administration will promptly declare it to be the will of the people at large and will annex the country without consulting those most at interest. That was the course pursued here and we have no good reason to expect anything better at the Isthmus.

Henry Walker's statement of the accomplishments of his racing yacht seems to have struck terror to the hearts of the people of Yokohama. Admitting that the Defiance can beat any and everything on earth, playing her up as an invincible and unbeatable competitor seems hardly the way to get a race. And even if a race is arranged, defeat, which is not among the improbabilities, would be made all the more on the sore point as a result of an over-plus of bragging.

During the recent county campaign, Jim Pratt named himself in Hawaiian as "Kimo Palaka," i. e., "Jim Overall" or "Forgetfulness" or "Uncouth." But on the official ballot, he had "Palaka" changed to "Palaki," this last meaning "Brush." We think the latter was the more appropriate, because he was "brushed" off from public estimation by Iaukea to remain at home, or else, he may become Territorial Treasurer —"in the sweet bye and bye." As Territorial Treasurer, we say—pela paha?

Let us recall an instance wherein the late ex-delegate had the say with regard to Federal appointments here. When Judge Gear sought his present office in Washington, although he was strongly recommended by the Republican National Committeeman, he had to seek and beg for Mr. Wilcox's recommendation and approval, which was readily given, even after Mr. Gear's attempt to unseat him. Other appointments were sought in the same manner, but his approval had first to be gotten. And why not in the present cases of Governor and Federal Judge?

Our dickey bird informed us prior to election (but we did not care to make use of it then) that a certain grand jury now in session found a true bill against an attorney for his connection with Japanese prostitutes and that the Territorial Police Department just managed to save itself by one vote lacking. Probably, in the latter instance, it was done to save the Sheriff candidate of the Republicans from odium, for we heard him boast on the Orpheum platform that the grand jury had not got at him during his whole time in office. And sure as faith, it was politics that saved his scalp from indictment, if our dickey bird's information is to be relied upon.

The Advertiser tries to make it appear that Home Rule candidates from the other islands are here for the purpose of getting bonds and are having difficulty in finding guarantors. Some of them, in visiting Honolulu, have it as an incidental purpose the business of getting their bonds in shape, but they know exactly whom to go to and will experience no difficulty in getting any amount of security they want. The principal thing bringing the new officers to Honolulu is that of posting themselves on the preliminary work they will have to do in setting their respective counties in motion. The Advertiser and its crowd may rest perfectly easy about the bond part of the matter.

A defeated candidate is, to a certain extent, an unpopular man, especially when his defeat is narrowed down to two parties, his own party polling its full strength for him, but being nevertheless defeated by a small yet safe margin. This point of view is on the suggestion to appoint a defeated candidate for county office as a Territorial executive officer, and this before even the present one has tendered his resignation or has ever given out any intimation of so doing. Just see the gall of these hungry harlots, who are job chasers from way back, because they feel they cannot make their salt on the outside, and because they've been in office too long, they think they ought to remain there for life.

There should be no statue to the memory of the late President McKinley. In discussing this subject many people fail to consider that such a memorial would be objectionable to a majority of the people of this Territory. Assistance to a military post or to some school could not be objected to; but certainly nothing that would constantly draw attention to the despoiler of Hawaii's independence is desirable nor should it be encouraged. If the late President McKinley, who possessed most of the qualities of a truly great man, could speak, he himself would object to a memorial that would continuously stand before the people as the symbol of a sentiment and policy objectionable to them.

The fight in the Senate yesterday against the confirmation of Dr. Leonard Wood to be a brigadier-general in the army of the United States suggests that the solons of the nation will proceed cautiously in endorsing the erratic appointments of the President. Wood was appointed, not for his military experience or ability, but for having accompanied Roosevelt in the famous attack on a few barefooted Spaniards at San Juan hill. George R. Carter was appointed Governor of Hawaii because he attended the same school as Roosevelt, and the President admired the football and shell racing qualities of the "strenuous" secretary. Senators are broader than the man who sometimes sits in the Presidential chair, and the present is one of the instances. They will want to know more about Dr. Wood than the mere fact that he soldiered in Cuba, and they will want to know more about George Carter than the fact that he knows the rules of football and is a personal friend of the President.

The annual meeting of the members of the Honolulu Library and Reading Room Association will be held at their rooms on Friday, Nov 13th, at 7:30 p m.

Forty-four fishery rights cases have been continued in Judge De Bolt's court on account of the fact that a test case of the same kind is now pending in the Supreme Court.

The cable announces the death of Rear Admiral Beardslee at Augusta, Ga, yesterday. Deceased was well known here, having been on the Philadelphia at this port some years ago.

The band this morning gave a concert at the Emma street residence of Governor Dole as a sort of farewell to him. Mr Dole expects his commission by the Alameda tomorrow.

The large cables of the Mutual Telephone Co, on King and other streets, which proved defective sometime ago, are being taken down and will be shipped back to the manufacturers.

Thomas E Boisselier, the well known sugar boiler, will leave by the next steamer for a tour of China. He will visit relatives there and will incidentally, inquire into sugar possibilities.

It is reported that Governor Carter is favorable to Marston Campbell for superintendent of public works and W E Rowell for assistant superintendent. How's that for an misfit combination?

The schooner Ada got away yesterday afternoon for French Frigate Shoals to try to save something from the wrecked French bark. It is reported that other expeditions for the place are being fitted out.

The annual fair and sale of useful and fancy articles, of the Woman's Guild of St Clement's church, will be held Saturday afternoon and evening, the 21st inst, on the Rectory grounds, Wilder Avenue and Makiki street. There will be music both afternoon and evening. There will be a great many novelties in the fancy work offered. The grounds will be attractively decorated. It will be a very pleasing out-of-door festival.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

The Alameda will be expected early tomorrow morning from San Francisco.

The Kaiulani went out on the Molokai run last night, the Lehua being laid up for repairs.

The Louvre saloon has been moved from Palama to the block above the Orpheum on Fort street.

The Kilohana Art League is planning several special entertainments to take place during its present exhibition.

Captain Douglas, of Camp McKinley, will leave next week for Hilo to pay off the members of Company D who came to Honolulu and participated in the encampment in June.

C W Ashford has published a denial to the statement that he charged the Attorney-General and an assistant of his office with fraud in connection with the recent election.

Hackfeld & Co. have received cable information that the Hongkong Maru had sailed from Yokohama two days late, so that she will not reach here before the 17th, or 18th of the month.

Mike Patton has formally challenged Jack Weday for a fight at catch weights. It is claimed that that is the only way the match can be made as Patton cannot train down to Weday's weight.

Marston Campbell, assistant superintendent of public works, has resigned to take effect upon the retirement of Superintendent Cooper. His object is said to be to give the new superintendent a free hand in his choice for the office.

Independent of the charges brought against election officials before the Grand Jury, the move to have the Supreme Court pass upon the legality of the ballots rejected by the inspectors will be pressed by the committee having the matter in charge.

The ladies' committee of the Chinese Hospital, on Robello lane, Palama, are holding a reception at the hospital today from 10 a m to 5 p m. The hospital has recently undergone a complete renovation and is now in charge of a non-Asiatic staff, Dr Waterhouse being the surgeon and Miss Warland the nurse in charge.

Election Frauds Case.

The Grand Jury acting upon direction of Judge Gear, this afternoon began taking testimony in the election fraud case brought to its attention by C W Ashford. Republicans, Home Rulers and Democrats have been summoned to give evidence. The following were required to appear at 1 p m, with more to be summoned:

Kalimai-Nakookoo.

W H Kalimai, the well-known inspector and politician, was married at 7:30 last evening to Mrs Kioha Nakookoo. The wedding took place in the parlor of the Occidental hotel, Rev Mr Lono officiating. A large party of relative and friends witnessed the ceremony. After the marriage an elaborate spread was served in the dining hall. Mr and Mrs Kalimai will remain at the Occidental until their house on South street is ready for them.

"Remarkably Smoothly."

The Panama revolution has run along remarkably smoothly, as why should it not when it is protected, so to speak, by the United States. The commission for treating about the canal has started already and matters will be hurried up. The Colombians have completely lost their chance. The whole of this Panama episode will be a valuable lesson to the Republics of Central and South America. It will show them that when the United States starts in to get something it will reach what it desires, and if anything blocks the way, it will be removed.—Hawaiian Star.

Cassidy Gets Contract.

John Cassidy was yesterday awarded the contract to put in the telephone line between the Molokai settlement and the neighboring taro farms. The tender, which was the only one received, was for the entire Legislative appropriation of $5,000. Work will begin at once as the money will not be available after January 1.

Hawaiian Silver Pau.

After December 31 Hawaiian silver will cease to pass as legal money On January 1 only the United States coin will be accepted as legal. Persons holding Hawaiian money, or securing any in trade, are expected to turn the same into the treasury before the date mentioned. The following notice will explain the matter.

Territory of Hawaii.
Treasurer's Office,
Honolulu, Oahu.

NOTICE.

The attention of the public is called to the fact that on and after the 1st day of January, 1904, the Silver Coins heretofore struck by the Government of Hawaii will, under an Act of the Congress of the United States, entitled, "An Act relating to Silver Coinage and Silver Certificates," cease to be a legal tender in the Territory of Hawaii.

And notice is further given that from and after the first day of January, 1904, it will be unlawful to circulate as money any Silver Certificate heretofore issued by the Government of Hawaii.

The Territorial Treasury is prepared to redeem all Silver Coins and Certificates either direct or through the First National Bank of Honolulu.

A. N. KEPOIKAI,
Treasurer, Territory of Hawaii.

To Conserve Trade.

At the meeting of the Builders and Traders Exchange, held last evening, a protest from material firms of Honolulu was read, protesting against the practice on the part of builders of sending to the coast for supplies. W W Harris, George Rodeik, W W Hall, G F Bush, L E Pinkham, Arthur Harrison and J H Craig were appointed a committee to inquire into the matter.

A request was received from the Trades and Labor Council, asking for the names of concerns employing Asiatics. It was concluded to furnish the list, but not of merchants, as Asiatics are considered necesary in stores as interpreting salesmen.

May Succeed Cooper.

The Advertiser, the semi-official organ of Governor-designate Carter, states that Guy H Gere will likely be the new superintendent of public works.

Mr Gere came here nearly ten years ago from a country town of Nebraska to soldier in the P G regulars at $30 a month. After a time he was picked up by W E Rowell and made draughtsman in the public works office. From that position he was steadily advanced until he became head of the department for the island of Hawaii, with headquarters at Hilo, where he is now employed.

Passengers Departed.

FRIDAY, NOV. 13, 1903.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

We think that the local Buckeye Club should now frame resolutions of apology to Delegate Kalanianaole and forward it at once by the earliest mail or by cable, for the treatment accorded him in that State on account of his color.

The blow, delivered by a native, which felled Detective McDuffie, the Irish bull-dog pug, on election day, was worth all of the $10 fine imposed on him yesterday. Such a blow is cheap at such a figure. He ought, however, to have been paid $10 for the knockout.

Judge Gear is to be complimented upon his charge to the Grand Jury. His counsel in regard to politics and the duty of the Jury to lay aside political prejudices in considering the election frauds case was opportune, proper and eminently American. If the Jury will follow his instructions (and we have every reason to believe it will) the results cannot help being satisfactory.

The Advertiser states that officials-elect of the other islands have applied for bonds in Honolulu and have been refused. We would be very pleased to have from the morning paper the names of the men and the persons to whom they applied. We are very well aware that the business houses that discharged workmen the day after election for the only reason that they voted for Home Rule candidates would decline to go on the bonds of anyone not a Republican; but the gentlemen to whom the morning press refers happen to be independent of such people.

It is hard to determine off-hand which is the worst—a man who gambles a little himself or a sheriff who protects gambling, opium selling and other illegal practices for the money he receives behind his back. We have never regarded Sheriff-elect Keolanui, of East Hawaii, as the best man that could have been selected, but when put up against an unprincipled thing like Andrews we have said and will always say: "Give us Keolanui."

The Advertiser says: "Home Rule candidates-elect from outside have sought bonds from leading financial institutions," etc. Yes? Who were they, pray? Of the candidates-elect of other islands now in the city, two or three at most are Home Rulers and we happen to know that they are not in quest of bonds at all. The others are Republicans. If they have been refused bonds by the "leading financial institutions" it might be better not to elect men of their standing again next year.

Knowing that Sheriff-elect Keolanui, of East Hawaii County, was such a bad man, being a former che-fa gambler here, as exposed by the Advertiser, High Sheriff Brown, on the recommendation of Sheriff Andrews, permitted him to become a member of the Hilo police force, finally making him lieutenant and captain, from which latter position he was fired out because he aspired to the office of sheriff. And he remained on the Hilo force for many years. What's the idea of this mud slinging, anyway?

If Prof. Berger stopped to figure out the causes of the great applause given the Twenty-second Infantry band at the Hawaiian hotel on the occasion of the recent double concert there, he doubtless learned a good lesson. Berger's style of music is that of thirty years ago when horns were weak-throated and bands were small. At this day it sounds like a chorus of steam pianos. The military band reduced Berger's volume of sound about 32 degrees, with the result that it fell softly and sweetly on the ear and pleased.

While the town is agitating itself red in the face over the presence of a few mosquitoes, the whole island is again being overrun by rats. Following the rat crusade of two years ago, the population of rodents has increased to such an extent that complaints are coming in from every section of the business center. Just let a plague infected rat escape from some vessel in Honolulu harbor and see where the islands would be at. The disease would be spread from one end of Oahu to the other before its presence would be known. The mosquito war is all right; but let us be a little practical and business-like, and fight something that is infinitely more dangerous and threatening.

If we know anything about South and Central America, we opine with a large degree of confidence that the United States will have an interesting time over this Panama affair before an end is reached. Riots have already started in Colombia and that country may be depended upon to resent with arms the stealth of its territory at the Isthmus. It will take only a few days for the news to spread through South America, and the republics of that continent will without doubt sympathize with Colombia and will, with almost equal certainty, spring to her assistance. This is no holiday affair into which George Carter's football friend has steered us. It may mean a war of years duration, at a cost of millions of dollars and thousands of lives.

John Martin was partially right last night when he told the Problem Club that the tourist proposition was fraught with a certain amount of danger. He mentioned Pasadena as having been ruined by tourists. What we have to fear most here is the setting in motion of a tide of consumptives, lured to Honolulu by the beautiful stories being sent out of Hawaii's equable climate and outdoor life. Should such a tide begin it will be hard to check, and its effect will be extremely bad. Mentone was ruined in this way. In a few years it has changed from a great health resort to a place visited only by consumptives and their relatives. Arizona and New Mexico have not, on account of being sparsely settled, much to fear from this class of tourists, but Hawaii is in quite a different boat.

In his report to the President, Governor Dole followed the dictum published by his mentor, the Advertiser, but rather balled up the proposition. He intended to urge the immigration of small farmers to the country, but in his bungling fashion let the cat out of the bag. Small farmers, to place the only possible construction upon Mr. Dole's words, are wanted here for the purpose of outvoting the natives in the elections. The missionaries have lost ground so rapidly in the past three years that recruits are urgently needed. That was the Advertiser's idea, as we have pointed out all along, but the morning press was astute enough to conceal its motive while Dole was not. The whole small farming agitation was a scheme to entice men out here for the sole purpose of controlling and using their votes.

The appointment of Guy H. Gere to be superintendent of public works will, if it comes about, be dido No. 1 for the Carter administration. Gere is a most pleasant young fellow to meet socially but he is awfully lacking in those qualities that go to make hte candidate for such an important office. It is not necessary that the superintendent of public works be an expert draughtsman (which is the sum total of Mr. Gere's qualifications); he should, on the other hand, be a man with a wide knowledge of business and a knowledge of proposed public works and the country's needs. He should be a practical man. If Mr. Carter is determined to appoint a Republican to the office it seems to us that he could easily find more able men. For business qualifications in every particular John A. Hughes, of the Oahu railway, would be a far better man, provided his services could be procured.

Members of the Governor's council are approved by the Senate for a period of four years. They are approved because they are satisfactory nominees, the Governor being merely the nominator in the transaction. If a new Governor, coming in in the meanwhile, can command the resignations of department heads and fill them by men who may hold office for a long period, until the Legislature meets, then the power of appointment goes back to and to all intents and purposes, is vested in one man. The policy is un-American for the reason that it is a drawing away from the people, as represented by the Senate, and the vesting of peculiar and extraordinary prerogatives in one man. It enables a new man to reward friends (brother footballers, for instance) at the expense of competent and trustworthy men already in office and of the people who put them there. When the chief incumbent of a department office dies, his place must, of necessity, be promptly filled and a way is provided by law for so doing; but there is nothing in the law permitting a new Governor to impede public business by requiring the wholesale departure of officials from office or the resignation of any officer in any interim save for causes clearly laid down.

Prince Kuhio Insulted in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 6.—J. K. Kalanianaole, Delegate to the Fifty-eighth Congress from Hawaii and affectionately known by the people in his native land as 'Prince Cupid," met with an experience during his brief stay here which was humiliating, to say the least.

Prince and Princess "Cupid" were occupants of a box at the Southern Theater, which is controlled by George Ketcham of Toledo, and were thoroughly enjoying their surroundings when the Prince was suddenly tapped upon the shoulder by an attache and requested to "bring the woman," so the story goes.

The Prince, who is universally treated with distinguished consideration by statesmen and men of nobility, thought at first that some mistake had been made, but he was invited again to accompany the employe to the rear of the house. He was there told with scant ceremony to leave the box, his identity being unknown at the time and the attaches laboring under the impression that a rule against one shade of skin takes in all, regardless of distinction.

The Prince, however, refused to abide by the wishes of the management, which has since found that it insulted two people high in Government circles, who have attended many of the most exclusive functions held in Washington and New York. The management after learning of the blunder sent special emissaries to the hotel apartments of the Prince to make due amends, but he scorned them and left for the East, far from pleased with his treatment.

The Prince and his wife are Polynesians, and although their skin is dark in hue they are readily distinguishable from the African race.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

THE INDEPENDENT 50 cents per month.

The commission of Judge Dole and Governor Carter did not arrive today.

Oahu and Kauai will again try conclusions on the polo field at Moanalua tomorrow afternoon.

The Punahous and High School team will play a game of football in the junior league at 2:30 this afternoon.

The German training ship now here will remain about two weeks and will then sail for San Francisco for orders.

The French bark General de Sonis sailed yesterday afternoon for Australia where she will again load coal for Honolulu.

David Dayton, administrator, has an inventory showing the estate of the late Charles Halverson to be valued at $1370.50.

The Territorial Teachers' Association will meet in the High School building on Emma street at 7:30 o'clock next Monday evening.

Being engaged at the Chinese hospital reception during the afternoon, the Territorial band did not give a concert last evening.

Marston Campbell, the retiring assistant superintendent of public works, will become consulting engineer at the Young building.

E P Dole has been appointed guardian of the Campbell minors under bonds in the sum of $5,000 He was named by Judge Gear.

In Judge Gear's court yesterday afternoon Sarikawa was found not guilty of having a lottery ticket in his possession and discharged.

Companies of the First Regiment, N G H, will assemble at the armory this evening to receive pay for the time they spent in camp in June.

The Marion Chilcott arrived yesterday from the Coast with a cargo of oil. The trip was made in thirteen days and was without particular incident.

More than five hundred people attended the reception at the Chinese hospital yesterday and a handsome sum was realized for the support of the institution.

James Paikai, the native who came near knocking the "top-knock" off of Officer McDuffie on election day, was fined $10 and costs in district court yesterday.

Lubiolakahale, an old native, was run over by a horse, ridden by a boy on the Waikiki road yesterday and injured so badly that he had to be taken to the Queen's hospital.

E S Boyd and others entertained the Problem Club last evening on the subject of how tourist travel may be promoted by individual effort. There was quite a satisfactory attendance and the meeting was interesting from every view point.

Thomas Dunn, chief yeoman of the United States navy here, has been committed to the Circuit Court for trial for the alleged offance of maliscious mischief. Q H Berry claims that he took his rig without leave but Dunn says that the outfit was left in his keeping while the prosecuting witness was making a trip to Hawaii.

Decision Against Magoon.

After being out from 6 o'clock to midnight last night the Jury in Judge De Bolt's court returned a verdict in the case of Miss Fredericka Nolte against J A Magoon in favor of the plaintiff. This suit involved a right of way, claimed and held by Magoon in Manoa valley across lands of Miss Nolte to lands of the defendant. It appeared that defendant had been in undisputed possession of the property for twenty years. The jury started in with a vote of five to seven and after hours of hard work the remainder were won over by the majority. The matter will now go to the Supreme Court.

Dole's Report To Roosevelt.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Governor Sanford B Dole, chief executive of the Territory of Hawaii, expresses the opinion in his annual report to the Secretary of the Treasury that "unless there should be a larger immigration of American settlers than now seems probable the present numerical inferiority of those who may be classed as belonging to the Teutonic race as compared with the Hawaiians will in a few years become a still greater inferiority as compared with the American citizens of the Hawaiian, Portuguese, Japanese and Chinese races."

This opinion is based on conditions in the schools. The American and European children in these schools, not including Portuguese and Porto Ricans, number 1505, an increase of only eighteen more than the previous year, while the Hawaiian, Portuguese, Japanese and Chinese children in the schools number 16,299, an increase of 945. Among references in the report to social conditions in Hawaii are the following:

"There are many marriages between Hawaiian women and white men and a few between white women and Chinamen. The offspring of both classes of marriages are an improvement as a rule over the Hawaiian in business. The Portuguese generally intermarry among themselves. The same is true with the Japanese.

"Part Hawaiians as a class are increasing, and the rate of decrease of the pure Hawaiian appears to be a diminishing one."

The report says the statistics show a steady increase in the last three years in the production of sugar and an increase in the shipments outside the Territory. Coffee shipments show an increase of 720,000 pounds over the previous year, but a decrease of 689,080 pounds compared with the year ended June 30, 1901. Rice, the report says, is inevitably a diminishing product, both from the competition of the new rice fields of Texas and Louisiana and the diminishing numbers of Chinese in the Territory.

Governor Dole says that the majority of the new settlers on the public lands last year were white men.

He recommends that a limited immigration of Chinese laborers to the Territory be permitted, conditioned upon their engaging only in agricultural, mill and domestic work for hire during their stay, and subject to deportation at their own expense upon their ceasing to do so.

Polo as Seen by a Tyro.

Wednesday, for the first time in our life, we witnessed a game of polo played on the magnificent grounds of the Hon S M Damon down at Moanalua, in Huluamauu valley. It was splendid and interesting, and besides we enjoyed it immensely.

The playing of the two teams, as far as our tyro eyes could make out, were good and splendid. Our sympathies went out to the visiting team from Kauai, as well as earning it from a major section of the large number of spectators present. Both sides played well, but an inexperience eye could very well tell that Oahu did the best team work, all working together to win, and Capt Dillingham coaching his men most of the time and was always in evidence wherever there was a point to be gained. Kauai, with Capt Rice, was not far behind, but their strikes of the white sphere were uncertain, they frequently making misses to the advantage of their opponents.

Nevertheless, we enjoyed the game as well as the outing and the sights seen. We hoped that Kauai would win, but the Fates were against their winning on account of the many errors made. Oahu made similar errors, but Kauai did not keep tab and watch their opponents closely, All were gentlemen and they played the manly sport of gentlemen, but the poor little ponies were to be pitied. There were some falls, but none serious.

The last game of the series will be played tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock. It is well worth seeing.

Awarded Ten Dollars.

The jury in the damage case of Moses K Nakuina came into court at 10 o'clock last night and returned an award of $10. Plaintiff had sued for $10,000, claiming that after being discharged by Mr Thrum from the office of Deputy Registrar of Conveyances he had been slandered by his chief. Neither side last night was satisfied with the verdict and both gave notice of intention to appeal.

How it Goes.

The two following dispatches appeared in the newspapers of the country under the same date: "New York.—The United States army transport Kilpatrick passed the bar and steamed beneath the shadow of the statue of Liberty to a place on the Jersey shore. She brought back to their own country the bodies of 302 soldiers, officers and men, who died doing their duty in the bullet-swept jungles and the fever-laden swamps of the Philippine islands." "Des Moines.—Capt F L Fly, in charge of the local recruiting station, has been instructed by the war department to disregard previous orders curtailing enlistments and to recruit men as rapidly as possible for immediate service. It is stated that there is the greatest need of men for infantry service in the tropics." The Des Moines News says: "These two dispatches succinctly tell the whole story. New men are needed to drink the poison of the Philippine climate and to fill the pine boxes awarded the patriot dead."

"Alone in Cuba."

Mr Roosevelt cast reflections upon Admiral Schley, the hero of Santiago Bay, permitted General Miles to retire after forty years of faithful service with no more recognition than a brief and formal order issued by a discredited subordinate, and in his address at the Antietam celebration ignored the name of General McClellan. Can it be possible that the reputed author of "Alone in Cuba" imagines that the candle dip can be kept burning on San Juan Hill only by obscuring the blaze upon mountains?—Commoner.

PUBLIC LANDS NOTICE.

Commissioner of Public Lands.

A land license for a period of 50 years, to collect, divert and sell the surface water and power produced therefrom, upon and from the public lands, situate on the Island of Hawaii and lying between the sea on the north; Waipio Valley on the East; Waipio Valley and the boundary line between the lands of Laupahoehoe 1 and 2 Nakooks, Apua, Waikapu and Honopue on one side and the lands of Puukapu and Kawaihae 1, on the other side, until such line reaches an elevation of 4,200 feet, thence a contour line of 4,200 ft. elevation to Honokane on the South, and the land of Honokane and the private land of Awini on the West, subject to existing vested rights of private parties in such waters, will be offered at Public Auction on Monday, November 30, 1903, at 12 o'clock noon, at the front entrance of the Judiciary Building.

Persons competing at this sale will bid upon the rate per cent. of the net revenues of the enterprise carried on under such license, to be paid annually to the Government of the Territory of Hawaii, from and after the third year of the term of such license.

A bond of $10,000 will be required on surety satisfactory to the Government, conditioned on the due performance of the requirement that $10,000 be expended on construction within 18 months from the beginning of the term of the license $500 shall be paid by the holder thereof to the Government, semi-annually in advance irrespective of such rate per cent: the first payment of $500 to be made at the fall of the hammer, by paying the same to the Commissioner of Public Lands. Upset 5 per cent. on the net revenues. Any bid than on percentage of the net revenues will not be entertained.

Full information in regard to other conditions of such license will be furnished at the office of the Commissioner of Public Lands.

E. S BOYD,
Commissioner of Public Lands.

NOTICE TO CANDIDATES FOR COUNTY OFFICES.

The attention of candidates for County Offices is drawn to the following Sections of the Rules and Regulations for Administering Oaths and Holding Elections, as amended by an Act to Provide a Government for the Territory of Hawaii:

Section 31. Within twenty days following any election, each candidate, and each agent or committee acting for or on behalf of any candidate, shall file with the Secretary of the Territory an itemized statement of his or their expenses by, for, or on behalf of such candidate or election, showing each amount expended, the purpose or object for which each expenditure was made, and the person or persons to whom made; which statement shall be sworn to by each person making such expenditures, and shall be open to public inspection.

STATEMENT WHEN NO EXPENSES ARE INCURRED.

Section 32. If a candidate or any agent or committee acting on his behalf has or have incurred no expenses on account of such election, he and they shall file within twenty days after the election with the Secretary of the Territory, a sworn statement setting forth such fact.

EXPENSES LEGALLY INCURRABLE.

Section 33. The following expenses, and no other may be legally incurred by or for a candidate for election as Senator or Representative, viz:

1. His personal expenses as a candidate.
2. Expenses of printing and advertising.
3. Cost of stationery and postage.
4. Expenses of public meetings.
5. Rent and supplies of committee rooms not to exceed one for each polling place.
6. Salaries of not more than one

A GOOD SUGGESTION.

That difference should arise between the new and old administrations is natural. That these differences should be mainly about lands is also natural. There should be something in the experience to induce Governor Carter to recommend that the United States land laws be extended to Hawaii.—Hilo Tribune.

The United States land laws have as their principal object the equal distribution of the public domain in small holdings among as many people as possible. To Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and several other parts of the United States the land laws compose an abstract disadvantage, in that large holdings and the promotion of extensive settlements by capital on otherwise waste areas are rendered impossible. In Hawaii, however, the proposition would be entirely different. Here land is scarce and exceedingly high-priced. The latter is due in a large measure to the wide-open right to control land prior to annexation and the loop-holes in the Organic Act which render the thousand acre clause in it ineffectual.

The Hawaiian land laws were written by Governor Dole—by whom advised we do not know, but strongly suspect L. A. Thurston, A. S. Hartwell and a few more of that compact. They read nice, but the machinery of the agglomeration of legal terms works in the direction of giving the wealthy missionary all the land he wants for agricultural or speculative purposes, and shut out the man in quest of a kuleana or a home.

Among the things that should be marked up to the credit of the late R. W. Wilcox was his fight in Congress for the application of the general principles of the United States land laws to Hawaii. Had his ideas been carried out, with his proposed modification limiting acreages, hundreds of families now homeless would have had their kuleanas and their castles. If Hawaii stands in need of one thing more than another that thing is the United States land laws in place of Dole's land laws.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Those Federal commissions did not turn up yesterday as expected, and we even go as far as to wager a ten dollar Panama hat or stove-pipe that they will not arrive here next week by the America Maru. Who says—Go!

The Independent wagers that George R. Carter will not get the appointment as Governor of the Territory, for the simple reason "the spirits are working" to defeat him, so says our dickey from the Nation's capital.

By the bye, those commissions did come by yesterday's Alameda and were stored deep in the vessel's refrigerator, being weighted down by some 200 tons of embalmed beef, that they were a long time getting to them. And mayhap, we'll have to wait longer for them.

Of the elected county officers from the other islands who have been here seeking for bonds (some of whom still remain, there were more Republicans than Home Rulers, the morning dilemma to the contrary, notwithstanding. We can name every one of them, if necessary, but as we have already challenged the Advertiser, which got disjointed over their coming, we leave the matter there for it to accept or not.

The expected has happened. Colombia has replied to the remarkable course of the United States in fomenting a revolution in the Isthmus of Panama, and backing up the same with a fleet of war ships, by despatching an army to rescue the territory from its predicament. Ecuador has wired her expressions of sympathy to the government at Bogota and it is presumed that other South American republics have done the same. The long and short of the matter is that the United States will shortly be up against the nastiest proposition ever tackled by the Great Republic, and all on account of the football friend of our George. Watch the smoke. There will be plenty of it within the next week.

Be it said of S. K. Kaeo, the county attorney-elect of Kauai, that he was a staunch P. G. supporter, and later, a strong Republican, but he received a Home Rule nomination, his own party not having any use for him when there was a white man who was in need of support and a sure salary, his profession not bringing him sufficient to make a show upon. The grammatical flaw found against him may have been an unintentional mistake, to which all are liable, but we are certain that he is as capable, if not more so, than the one whose language he is being criticized by for spoiling the King's English. One thing is certain, Kaeo has been elected to office and Willard to remain at home and to drudge in his office for a year at least.

William Haywood's press agent, one Ernest G. Walker, correspondent of the Advertiser at Washington, slobbers all over his man in his account of the facts leading up to the appointment of Dole and Carter to offices here. Haywood is credited with the whole manoeuver. We are glad to hear it for two reasons—well, three reasons. First, we had laid the blame upon George R. Carter (we mean Football George), which seems, in the light of events, to have been unfair, and we treat; second, we had understood that Roosevelt had appointed Carter on his sporting record, and, third, that he had made the appointments independent and regardless of the wishes of the people of Hawaii. All this must be taken back. Roosevelt consulted Haywood! Haywood-Haywood-Haywood! The carpet-bag representative of the United States government in a consular capacity here for a brief season did the business. The grafter of the Chamber of Commerce spoke the magic words that elevated two unpopular citizens into positions of the greatest prominence. Hats off to Haywood!

What else can the people of this country expect from a certain class on the Mainland when the Republican Delegate of this Territory to Congress, a prince of this land, together with his princess, are insulted by an attache of a theatre in Columbus, Ohio, the Buckeye State, a Northern and a Republican State, the home of many distinguished Presidents of the Nation, of Mark Hanna and Annexation McKinley, in which Oberlin College, the nest of education, is located, where many Hawaiians have been educated; they were insulted because of their color. In the account published yesterday, it was stated that the blundering attaches were "laboring under the impression that a rule against one shade of skin takes in all, regardless of distinction," and that is where they made the mistake for their indiscretion, for the Delegate and his wife are better mannered than those who sought unintentionally it may be, to throw insult into their faces. It is like the Delegate himself, who "refused to abide by the wishes of the management," and that "he scorned them" when they later found out who they were and sought "to make due amends."

It was hardly fair to gibe the local press for not finding out what had been done in the secret sessions of the Executive Councils. Honolulu papers employ no keyhole representataives and do not detail their men to lie under sofas to hear what the Government is doing. They have had an understanding for years that the result or progress of public matters should be given out to them whenever the public interests permitted and have not been intrusive in their demands for premature news. That they have failed to get much that was properly theirs and the public's turns out to be true; but they always went with their inquiries to official sources at such times and were officially assured that nothing important had occurred. Their only lack of enterprise was in taking the word of the Government at fact value. —Advertiser.

The above is gospel truth. But what gets us is, that, in the light of all that has been going on and not published, the morning press has for ten years upheld Dole's kitchen cabinet and has given the people to understand that everything they were entitled to know was being given out. Why was that done? Why the present change of attitude? Is it to bolster the new scheme of Governor Carter at the expense of retiring officials? With hat off, we wait in the corridor for an answer.

The Girl of To-day

will be the woman of to-morrow. She does not know it, perhaps her mother does not fully understand it, but between the "to-day" when she is a girl and the "to-morrow" when she will be a woman, her life's happiness and health are in the balance. If she is to be a full-breasted, strong, healthy woman she must develop rightly now. She is at a crisis. She needs more strength, more blood to tide it over. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are the one medicine that will give her the strength and make the new blood.

Our new book, PLAIN TALKS TO WOMEN, explains why these pills are of special benefit to growing girls. A copy will be sent to any address, FREE on request.

Miss Frankie Hathaway, of Sixteenth Street, Holland, Mich, said: "I am 21 years old, at 16 I was pale and weak and did not gain under the doctor's care. Other treatment brought no better result and by the time I was nineteen years old I was so weak I could not walk across the floor. I was terribly emaciated and my skin had lost all color. The doctor pronounced the disease anaemia. One of my friends advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I bought a box and before I had taken all of the pills I found that they were doing me good. Appetite increased and the healthy color began to show in my cheeks and lips. I continued to use the pills until I had taken fifteen boxes and found myself permanently cured. Since then I have had no return of my old trouble and cannot remember when I was so strong and healthy as now. I know that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People saved my life, and I believe that no other medicine could have done it."—FRANKIE HATHAWAY.—Ottawa Times, Holland, Mich.

Look for the full name on the package. At druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. 50c. per box. 6 boxes $2.50.

The Fall tournament of the Beretania Tennis Club will begin on November 18.

The Crecents and Diamond Heads will play indoor baseball at the Y M C A gymnasium this evening.

Manager Ballentyne, of the Rapid Transit Company, has offered a handsome cup to be competed for by the teams of the football league

The third and final contest between the Oahu and Kauai polo teams will take place at Moanalua this afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock.

The mail that left Honolulu by the America Maru on October 25 for the North Pacific Coast States was lost in a train wreck near Tehama, Cal, on November 1.

In the junior league football game at Oahu college yesterday afternoon Punahou won over High School by a score of 12 to 5. Playing was fast and furious throughout the game.

Bishop Restarick Talks.

Bishop Restarick, of the Episcopal church here, was in Baltimore October 29 and of him the Sun, the leading paper of that city says:

"Bishop Restarick told of the great American spirit in the Islands of which he is missionary bishop. He gave a history of the group, pointed out their possibilities, told of their natives—a kindly, lovable race. He traced the history missionary work and of the church schools, and he declared the Chinese in the Islands an intelligent race, a wonderful people.

"He spoke of an interview yesterday with President Roosevelt, in which the latter told of his objection to Oriental invasion, and in which he explained the need of Chinese in the Islands. 'I am an exclusionist as far as this continent is concerned,' he declared, 'but not as regards the Hawaiian Islands."

Joe Millett Writes.

Joe Millett, the great light heavyweight fighter who won his spurs in Honolulu, wrote letters to his friends here in regard to his recent successful go at Weinig, the professional hard-hitter. In a letter to his friend Paddy Ryan he says, among other things: "Well, I suppose you know know by this time that I won my fight and got a roast in the papers as usual. There was little to the fight after it started. The first punch I gave Weinig did the business. I happened to catch him where I wanted, and after that he was dazed and did not get a single blow in. I tell you I was in great shape that night. I don't know who I am going to fight next, although I hear that several heavy-hitters want a go at me.

"Remember me to Joe Cohen and all the boys, and tell them that I did not leave Honolulu and enter the mainland ring for my health."

An American Citizen.

A gang of longshoremen, having completed their noonday meal, were engaged in an argument respecting the patriotism of Americans who had emigrated to this country from foreign lands. A Swede and a German outvoiced the others, and finally took the center of the stage while the others listened.

"It is the Chermans who make the best citizens," said the one.

The other protested vigorously

"Vat recht have you to talk," shouted the Teuton, "ven you have nit been nationalized?"

"Bud I vode on election days," replied the Scandinavian.

"Dot ist der vay mit you frauds," was the roof-raising response, "but I vill bet four bits dot you don'd know der American national tune shust der same."

The Swede dug into his jeans and produced four dimes. The size of the wager was diminished to the required proportions and the coin was placed in the hands of the foreman.

"Now begin dot tune," said the German, with an expansive smile of confidence.

His adversary arose from the plank on which he had been reclining and, with arms akimbo, roared: "Ven dose belts go ting-gerling-gerling, all shoin—" but the Teuton stopped him mournfully with:

"Das ist recht. I did nit tink you knowed it. Give him der eighty cents, Mr Boss; he vins."

BOUGHT A PIG IN A BAG.

WASHINGTON, D.C. Nov. 1:

The Republican organs of the country have been beating the tom-toms and sounding the hewgags about "our matchless diplomacy" that succeeded in obtaining from China two "open ports" in Manchuria. One of these "ports" is named in the treaty as Mukden, and probably the people of the United States would have gone on believing that our increasing trade was flowing through that open door if Russia had not objected to our having anything to do with that country. Our Navy Department thereupon decided that in the event of trouble between Russia and Japan, the Asiatic squadron under Admiral Evans should be divided and ordered to each of the "treaty ports." This decision of our Naval Board of Strategy fired the hearts of all our old salts who gather at the Army and Navy Club, and they were anxious for a scrap with anyone. A young clerk at the Navy Department, however, has upset the plans of these warriors in buckram by reading a book just published by an American traveler named Shoemaker, who described his journey from Moscow to Port Arthur, in which he tells that Mukden is an interior city three hundred miles north of Port Arthur. The explosion in diplomatic and naval circles that followed this discovery can be more easily imagined than described. The demand for stimulants at the Club, where the Board of Strategy holds its sessions, surpassed all previous records, and the President and John Hay were nonplussed. The State Department having solemnly, by treaty, declared Mukden a "port," persist in that declaration, our naval heroes think it impossible to carry out the plans of the Board of Strategy, there being not enough water to float a canoe, much less a battleship, within miles of "the port." The Chinese have fooled our State Department, probably at the instigation of Russia, and "the open door" to Manchuria is still shut so far as the sea is concerned, and our "matchless diplomacy" has received a check that the present administration will never be able to overcome.

Colonial Harvest Home.

The annual fair of the Woman's Guild of St Clement's church which is to be held next Saturday afternoon and evening, is to take the form of a "Colonial Harvest Home." There will be a reception by ladies in colonial garb. The decorations of the booths will be in keeping with the idea. Among the refreshments will be baked beans. The thirteen original colonies will be pleasingly and appropriately represented. Tickets are now on sale by members of the Guild.

The office of THE INDEPENDENT is in the brick building next to the Hawaiian hotel grounds on Beretania street, Waikiki of Alakea. First floor.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

It's a consolation to us to know that Carter will not take the oath of office if Treasurer Kepoikai does not hand in his resignation, so it is claimed he told one of our contemporaries. If such is true, then we hope he'll not be installed Governor and we expect Kepoikai to hold out against him.

We understand that W. T. Rawlins has already qualified for the office of county attorney. The fact makes no difference to us, but is the young man not a little previous in his proceeding? There is now pending a motion for a recount of the vote of Oahu, and that recount may change the situation completely.

The Kauai polo team won the last game of the series, and right handily they did it too. As a matter of fact the men from the Garden Isle proved themselves superior in many respects to the local players. All they lacked was the art of kicking and claiming fouls. Were they up on these points Honolulu would never have been in it with them.

Dole's commission as Federal judge is due to arrive tomorrow. If he accepts it and takes office he will be no longer Governor. If the Senate fails to confirm the appointment he will be no longer Judge, but will be plain Mr. Dole. It is not believed that our renowned Sandy will take any chances. He will likely wait until he has assurances of the approval of his commission before accepting it.

Should Secretary Carter really become our next Governor we think it would be the utmost heighth of folly for him to appoint a defeated candidate, as broadly hinted by the Star, to any vacancy that may occur in any of the Executive departments. Such a course would be un-American, and instead of instituting a harmonizing policy, he would, at the outset of his administration, antagonize the people. We cannot for a moment believe that he would be so foolish, but we hope that he will, and thereby prepare his own political grave.

Maui's Home Rule auditor starts on his new duties with a very poor certificate of ability.—Advertiser.

We don't know. A Republican Grand Jury and a Republican auditor overturned heaven and earth to find something against the man and both failed. The new auditor himself offered every facility for the most complete investigation, and nothing was found against him. Sizing the whole thing up, it seems to us that the man has a good damage suit coming against the members of the political Grand Jury.

The salute at the naval station yesterday morning to the Italian war ship reminded one forcibly of the salute given President Dole by the Chilean man-o'-war that arrived here on January 10, 1895. That vessel blazed away tremendously three times and then all was still. A half hour later an orderly appeared at the government building with the apologies of the captain and to explain that the powder had given out. in the case of yesterday's salute the powder was all right but the men behind the powder had evidently been out late the night before.

A Republican candidate of Maui writes us that The Independent defeated him in the recent campaign. The only disappointment we feel in the matter is that the entire Republican ticket has not written similar letters. Maui had been far to long in the hands of Republican grafters. The clique in charge of the island had been there for so many years that they felt like they owned the roost. Conditions of that sort need changing. We advised the people of Maui to make a change, and they followed the recommendation. We will now inform our correspondent that next year the Republican party will not, again, elect a man on Maui.

The insult to Prince and Princess Kuhio at Columbus, Ohio, is another illustration of the fact that Hawaiians are classed as negroes only in Republican States. From the time of the insult to Kamehameha IV., then a Prince, at Philadelphia in 1853, no Hawaiian has ever experienced the slightest annoyances of different treatment from whites in any part of the United States except in Republican centers.

The Republicans of the North class every person with a dark skin alike; in the Democratic States they detect at a glance the difference between a Hawaiian and other dark skinned races, and treat the former with the respect due him.

Our Washington correspondent points out in this issue that China has sold the United States a gold brick in the treaty port of Mukden in Manchuria. This port was supposed to be on the sea and capable of being attended to by fleets, but as a matter of fact it is inland and has no more water about it than any other inland city. Score one for the Chink. The incident, however, is another illustration of the trouble into which Roosevelt is leading the United States. The man is daily showing himself to be an overgrown kid. in everything he does he seems to go off half-cocked, keeping the people on their nerves as to what will happen next. It is safe to say that next year power will be placed in more reliable hands.

The attack on L. R. Crook, auditor-elect of Maui, by the Grand Jury of that island, was purely a political dodge. It is hard to think that a jury, having in its hands the investigation of matters for the public weal, would stoop to such practices; but the Maui jury seemed to be equal to the occasion. Crook's accounts were charged to be irregular and a thorough investigation was recommended. At the time he was candidate on the opposing ticket for the office of auditor. The matter was referred to a deputy auditor, belonging to the Republican party, and it was thought that he would surely find gainst the man and knock him out. Not so, however. The deputy auditor, Mr. Meyers, is not built that way. The findings were of a character to show the political Grand Jury of Maui up in its proper light.

The public is informed by our contemporaries that Treasurer Kepoikai is the only remaining departmental head who has not yet signified his willingness to resign, all the others having done so, it is claimed. If he is the only one remaining, we more than give him credit for holding out, while yet he is already read out of office by those who are eager to see him retire. This much can we say on his behalf:. He was not an applicant for the job, but he was forced upon the party by the present Republican Delegate and was compelled to remove from his home to this city, the Senate confirming his forced nomination by the Governor. Had not the Delegate taken such a stand, no Hawaiian would have been appointed as the Governor was bent upon having only white Republicans. To be as much as told to resign is to offer him an insult while still in harness without any good cause or reason for so doing, only to satisfy the insatiate greed of those hankering for office during these uncertain days. We do earnestly hope that he will not cave in so easy, show some backbone, and see things out to the finish. And we wonder whether he'll be such a man. E hookanaka!

Very heavy rains fell all over the island, except the south-eastern end, yesterday. Immense freshets came down Nuuanu and Kalihi streams but no special damage was done.

Governor Dole's commission as United States judge having been forwarded from Washington on November 3, will doubtless arrive here this afternoon or tomorrow.

The report of Henry C Meyers, deputy auditor, on the accounts of L R Crook, clerk of the Maui circuit court, completely exonerates the latter gentleman from any blame as to the condition of his books.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Taxes Too High.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:

It is to be hoped that the new tax assessor for Honolulu, will display a little sense and judgment in taxing property. As in the past, property has been taxed out of reason, and at times, twice what it's worth. It seems too that the poor man is singled out, and made to pay far more than his property is worth, while the rich man too often gets off, almost, scott free. Now this state of things wants looking into, as it acts as a barrier to poor men getting property, and keep many men from investing in property in Honolulu.

The writer has a little property there, which is taxed for 25 per cent more than it cost, and 50 per cent more than he could get for it. And this, I presume, is the way all the poor men are treated, who have by hard struggles, and self-denial, got a little home of their own.

It may be said that one always has a chance to appeal; but that is too costly a process for poor men, and consequently, he has to grin and bear it. This same method of taxation also applies to the other Islands, and we want something done about it, or to know the reason why. TAXPAYER.

We advised the people of Maui to make a change, and they followed the recommendation. We will now inform our correspondent that next year the Republican party will not, again, elect a man on Maui.

The insult to Prince and Princess Kuhio at Columbus, Ohio, is another illustration of the fact that Hawaiians are classed as negroes only in Republican States. From the time of the insult to Kamehameha IV., then a Prince, at Philadelphia in 1853, no Hawaiian has ever experienced the slightest annoyances of different treatment from whites in any part of the United States except in Republican centers.

The Republicans of the North class every person with a dark skin alike; in the Democratic States they detect at a glance the difference between a Hawaiian and other dark skinned races, and treat the former with the respect due him.

Our Washington correspondent points out in this issue that China has sold the United States a gold brick in the treaty port of Mukden in Manchuria. This port was supposed to be on the sea and capable of being attended to by fleets, but as a matter of fact it is inland and has no more water about it than any other inland city. Score one for the Chink. The incident, however, is another illustration of the trouble into which Roosevelt is leading the United States. The man is daily showing himself to be an overgrown kid. in everything he does he seems to go off half-cocked, keeping the people on their nerves as to what will happen next. It is safe to say that next year power will be placed in more reliable hands.

The attack on L. R. Crook, auditor-elect of Maui, by the Grand Jury of that island, was purely a political dodge. It is hard to think that a jury, having in its hands the investigation of matters for the public weal, would stoop to such practices; but the Maui jury seemed to be equal to the occasion. Crook's accounts were charged to be irregular and a thorough investigation was recommended. At the time he was candidate on the opposing ticket for the office of auditor. The matter was referred to a deputy auditor, belonging to the Republican party, and it was thought that he would surely find gainst the man and knock him out. Not so, however. The deputy auditor, Mr. Meyers, is not built that way. The findings were of a character to show the political Grand Jury of Maui up in its proper light.

The public is informed by our contemporaries that Treasurer Kepoikai is the only remaining departmental head who has not yet signified his willingness to resign, all the others having done so, it is claimed. If he is the only one remaining, we more than give him credit for holding out, while yet he is already read out of office by those who are eager to see him retire. This much can we say on his behalf:, He was not an applicant for the job, but he was forced upon the party by the present Republican Delegate and was compelled to remove from his home to this city, the Senate confirming his forced nomination by the Governor. Had not the Delegate taken such a stand, no Hawaiian would have been appointed as the Governor was bent upon having only white Republicans. To be as much as told to resign is to offer him an insult while still in harness without any good cause or reason for so doing, only to satisfy the insatiate greed of those hankering for office during these uncertain days. We do earnestly hope that he will not cave in so easy, show some backbone, and see things out to the finish. And we wonder whether he'll be such a man. E hookanaka!

Very heavy rains fell all over the island, except the south-eastern end, yesterday. Immense freshets came down Nuuanu and Kalihi streams but no special damage was done.

Governor Dole's commission as United States judge having been forwarded from Washington on November 3, will doubtless arrive here this afternoon or tomorrow.

The report of Henry C Meyers, deputy auditor, on the accounts of L R Crook, clerk of the Maui circuit court, completely exonerates the latter gentleman from any blame as to the condition of his books.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Taxes Too High.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:

It is to be hoped that the new tax assessor for Honolulu, will display a little sense and judgment in taxing property. As in the past, property has been taxed out of reason, and at times, twice what it's worth. It seems too that the poor man is singled out, and made to pay far more than his property is worth, while the rich man too often gets off, almost, scott free. Now this state of things wants looking into, as it acts as a barrier to poor men getting property, and keep many men from investing in property in Honolulu.

The writer has a little property there, which is taxed for 25 per cent more than it cost, and 50 per cent more than he could get for it. And this, I presume, is the way all the poor men are treated, who have by hard struggles, and self-denial, got a little home of their own.

It may be said that one always has a chance to appeal; but that is too costly a process for poor men, and consequently, he has to grin and bear it. This same method of taxation also applies to the other islands, and we want something done about it, or to know the reason why. TAXPAYER.

THOSE FRAUDS STILL COMING UP.

WASHINGTON, D.C. Nov. 1:

The Roosevelt administration has become vociferously notorious for the gigantic and unheardof frauds that have been perpetrated since its advent to power, and also for the slight efforts made to expose them and punish the offenders. A few of the smaller fry in the Post Office scandal have been indicted and few have been tried, but not convicted, as the evidence adduced by the government attorneys was not sufficient to convince a jury of their guilt. The delay in investigating these scandals has been a boon to most of the greater offenders, for that convenient law, the statute of limitations, has run its course and the time had expired in which they could be indicted. That the statute of limitations covers a number of these questions is denied by eminent lawyers, but the Republican Attorney General has decided that it does, and there is no way of bringing the culprits to trial, if the law officer of the government refuses to act. As hitherto mentioned in this correspondence, one of principal patiipants in the leniency of this accommodating statute is Representative Littauer, whom President Roosevelt described as "his personal friend and closest political advisor." Littauer was charged with sharing in the profits of a large army glove contract, and that he had used his position as a member of Congress to obtain the contract, notwithstanding the provision of the law that no official should be interested in any such deal. When referred to the Republican Attorney General, he promptly decided that Mr Littauer could not be prosecuted, as the statute of limitations had run its course, so the "closest political advisor" of the President escaped the humiliation of a trial and possible conviction. Fraud and graft is getting mighty close to the White House when the statute of limitations has to be pleaded for the "personal friend" of the present occupant.

The Post Office frauds are not the only ones that are causing sleepless nights and bad half-hours to many political patriots. Evidence is accumulating that huge land frauds amounting in value to $40,000,000 have been discovered and that six United States Senators, several Representatives and numerous government officials are mentioned in connection with the frauds though Secretary Hitchcock, of the Interior Department, is continuously entering strenuous denials. The frauds in connection with the Indian lands now being investigated, has only just begun, and rumors of other frauds in other departments are filling the air at Washington. This delay in exposing what has already been discovered may, as in the Post Office scandals, be made

AS TO PRATT.

If there is any principle of politics firmly established in America it is that a defeated candidate, if honorably beaten, shall get an appointive office from his party. The custom is so well-established that even the Independent ought to know about it.—Advertiser.

The above is about the most ridiculous political proposition that we have ever butted up against. It is worse than that—it is absurd. It is absurd for the first reason that a man turned down by the votes of the people in a fair and square election (not admitting, however, that the last election was such) is not apt to fill the bill in popular favor as an appointive officer. It is absurd for the organ of a defeated party to advocate the appointment of a defeated candidate to any office after he has been defeated for the position admittedly best suited to him. Such an appointment would most certainly react upon the party making it, in that it would be a deliberate rebuff to the will of the people as expressed in the election.

The Advertiser is working for the appointment of J. W. Pratt to the office of treasurer, to succeed Judge A. N. Kepoikai. In the election on November 3 Mr. Pratt came before the people of Oahu for their approval or disapproval. He was turned down. The people, by their votes, showed that they preferred that he stay at home. Now is it fair, could it possibly be right, for the Governor to shove the man down the throats of the people in an appointive office, after they had refused to endorse him for an under office? We have always been told that the American scheme of government was "government by the people." Is the will of the people in this instance to be made subservient to the minority of the Republican party that failed to elect J. W. Pratt to be tax assessor? We do not not believe that the principle is American; we believe and hold that it is diametrically un-American. The Independent is aware of no American principle, in regard to elections, that would foist upon the people an appointive officer that had failed to prove his popularity or desirability at the polls.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

In preventing the landing of Colombian troops at Colon the United States is committing an act of actual war, and the Colombian government is justified by all law, human and divine, in replying in kind, and we believe that that will be done. Should Colombia resent the outrage upon her with arms she will have the sympathy of not only South and Central America but of Europe and the remainder of the civilized world.

The morning press intimates that Treasurer Kepoikai sent a cablegram to Delegate Kuhio urging upon him to oppose the endorsement of George R. Carter and S. B. Dole for their respective new offices. We regret to say that the report turns out to be incorrect, for if it were true Judge Kepoikai would be playing in popular favor with a majority of this community. Of the twenty-seven cablegrams sent off to block the endorsement of the unpopular appointments, none went from Mr. Kepoikai.

So Prof. Alexander is to investigate and find out the location of Niihau. We would like to ask, in passing, what in the mischief he has been doing in the past generation during which the Hawaiian Government has spent a fortune in his department for the purpose of getting proper surveys and establishing locations? After years of work the distinguished gentleman finds that the island of Niihau is not where he said it was at all but is three miles away. The public is comforted with the statement, however, that sea captains have known better all along and have steered so as to clear the island and not to clear the mythical spots on Prof. Alexander's charts.

Rumors have been rife on the streets since yesterday, that no indictment will be brought in by the Territorial grand jury in connection with the recent alleged fraudulent election. Such may appear on the surface from the make-up of the jury, but we think that they cannot afford to treat this matter lightly or in "lighter vein," or else they will hear something drop with a loud thud. Our dickey bird thinks that true bills will be found against certain manipulators, and he informs us that if none is found, the present lot may be dismissed and another crew shipped that will. The flagrancy is too open and plain to be hidden under a bushel, be it Republican or otherwise.

In appointing new heads of departments the next Governor will scarcely overlook the claims of the other islands. At present Hawaii and Kauai are not represented in the larger offices of the Territory though the taxes they contribute entitle them to a share of the good things. Hawaii, especially should have some encouragement.—Advertiser.

The last sentence in the above paragraph should read: "L. A. Andrews, retiring sheriff of Hawaii, especially should have some encouragement." Oh, Lord, how long, how long, will the Advertiser and its crowd continue to force this unpopular and mistrusted individual before the public? Do the votes of the people count for anything at all?

The contention of Governor-designate Carter that he has the right to command the resignation of department heads under him is supported by no precedent whatever, but, on the other hand, is opposed to established and well known precedents. President Andrew Johnson attempted to force the resignation of Mr. Stanton, Secretary of War, in 1867, in almost precisely the same manner as is now being followed by Mr. Carter. Mr. Stanton refused to resign and Mr. Johnson was hauled before Congress to answer to impeachment proceedings largely on account of it. Department heads in Hawaii are appointed for four years, and they cannot be turned out at the behest of a Governor or anybody else save by the due course of impeachment proceedings.

At the beginning of last week, after Ashford's presentation of facts for a Grand Jury investigation into the ways that are dark and tricks that are vain" with regard to the recent County election, certain Republican leaders were loud in claiming that they were very willing that such an investigation should take place; but since its taking place, their tune has been the opposite with a very decided discord, and instead of there being a harmony, it has been a falsetto. Having privately learned, through certain leaks from headquarters no doubt, as to how certain witnesses gave in their telling testimony, the Republicans have been damning them up and down. It is claimed that they are up to their necks in mud and are likely to drown, and we feel sure that they will be if the Grand Jury does its duty according to justice instead of attempting to play politics with firebrands.

The change in the administration of the tax office will come none too soon to suit the public. The other day a white lady after paying taxes on her residence property received from the clerk a receipt for the same and also a receipt for a dog tax, $1.20 having been deducted from the change that was due her. "What's that for?" she asked in astonishment. "Dog," said the clerk. "I never owned a dog," she asserted. The assessor, who was standing by, spoke up, "Well, I saw a dog in your yard." The lady protested against this high handed manner of extorting money, but all to no purpose, the clerk saying the books were closed and there was no such thing as going behind the assessor's returns, which would cost him his job. The lady having no recourse whatever simply retorted, "Another evidence of Republican integrity. We'll have a Home Rule assessor next year." If the clerk and the assessor had played their trick on a man it would have been vigorously resented.

The German bark Solide arrived in port yesterday after a long passage of 195 days from Leith.

Robert J Pratt delivered the principal address before the Engineers Association last evening.

The steamer America Maru arrived yesterday afternoon from San Francisco, bringing later mail.

Nearly a half million dollars were collected in taxes at the local office during the fifteen days of Nov.

Governor Dole's military staff will resign upon the departure of that official from his present office.

The Punahou girls beated the Kamehamehas at basketball yesterday afternoon by a score of 6 to 2

L P Tenney, guide to Ewa plantation, is distributing a very neat phamphet descriptive of the Islands.

In the Camara seduction case in the Circuit court a verdict of guilty was brought in by the jury at noon.

Nurney, the soldier convicted of burglarizing the Ocean View resort, was fined $50 by Judge De Bolt yesterday.

G Kunst, the wealthy Vladivostok merchant, has presented the Hawaiian band with a large collection of new music.

Superintendent Cooper will hold the tenders for dredging Honolulu harbor over for his successor to wrestle with.

The bark Louisiana is ready to sail but is having difficulty in getting a crew, sailors being very scarce here just now.

Miss Ernestine Coughran, formerly a reporter on local papers, is now associate editor of Chit-Chat, a society paper of Seattle.

Dr and Mrs C H Oakwood, Mr and Mrs R W Sothern and J W Price were lay-over passengers here yesterday by the America Maru.

Admiral Terry paid an official call aboard the Italian cruiser Elbe this morning. The Elbe will likely get away on Monday for Yokohama.

for the purpose of allowing the statute of limitations to get in its work and permit other Republican patriots to escape the toils of the law.

A little thing that is causing much comment here is the attempt of the President, through his Secretary, Mr Loeb, to ape the airs of the foreign courts. He is having his White House messengers clothed in uniform, and the report is that the ushers and doorkeepers at the executive offices will be the next to don the uniform prescribed by Secretary Loeb, with the tacit approval of President Roosevelt. As they outrank the messenger, the uniform is to be cut in more fashionable style, and the other officials of the social function will match the gorgeousness of any foreign court. The White House will be made to blaze with all the glory and frippery and tinsel and gaudy display of the flunkies of European effete monarchies. These be Republican times surely, and the people foot the bill.

ELECTION EXPENSES,

NOTICE TO CANDIDATES FOR COUNTY OFFICES.

The attention of candidates for County Offices is drawn to the following Sections of the Rules and Regulations for Administering Oaths and Holding Elections, as amended by an Act to Provide a Government for the Territory of Hawaii:

Section 31. Within twenty days following any election, each candidate, and each agent or committee acting for or on behalf of any candidate, shall file with the Secretary of the Territory an itemized statement of his or their expenses by, for, or on behalf of such candidate or election, showing each amount expended, the purpose or object for which each expenditure was made, and the person or persons to whom made; which statement shall be sworn to by each person making such expenditures, and shall be open to public inspection.

STATEMENT WHEN NO EXPENSES ARE INCURRED.

Section 32. If a candidate or any agent or committee acting on his behalf has or have incurred no expenses on account of such election, he and they shall file within twenty days after the election with the Secretary of the Territory, a sworn statement setting forth such fact.

EXPENSES LEGALLY INCURRABLE.

Section 33. The following expenses, and no other may be legally incurred by or for a candidate for election as Senator or Representative, viz:

1. His personal expenses as a candidate.
2. Expenses of printing and advertising.
3. Cost of stationery and postage.
4. Expenses of public meetings.
5. Rent and supplies of committee rooms not to exceed one for each polling place.
6. Salaries of not more than one clerk and two messengers for each polling place.
7. Salaries of not more than one watcher on election day only, at each polling place.

Judge Dole Sworn.

Judge S B Dole was formally sworn in this morning as successor to the late Judge Estee of the Federal court. Chief Justice Frear, of the Territorial Supreme court, administered the oath. At the time the court room was filled to overflowing, a full hundred late arrivals being unable to squeeze in. The new Judge addressed the Bar and his remarks were responded to by several attorneys present, the principal address being delivered by Judge Hartwell. A committee was subsequently appointed to bring in resolutions in regard to the death of Judge Estee.

In respect to business before the court Judge Dole has ruled that any old matters may be proceeded with at this term provided such is agreeable to the respective litigants.

Mrs. Bingham Dead.

The wife of Rev Hiram Bingham, one of the earliest missionaries to the Gilbert Islands, died last night after an illness extending over a period of ten years. She was born in Massachusetts and was in her seventieth year. Her husband and one son, Hiram Bingham, Jr, an instructor in Harvard college, survive her. The funeral will take place from the late residence at 3 o'clock this afternoon, Rev W M Kincaid officiating. Interment will be in Nuuanu cemetery.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

A question for the Problem Club: "President McKinley annexed us to a war in the Philippines that has cost nearly $300,000,000 and will likely keep up for 300 years—how much will Mr. Roosevelt's racket in Panama cost and how long will it last?"

Our dickey bird has been talkng again and has it that there will be something real lively doing when the Grand Jury finishes its work on the election ballots. Some of the men connected with the last election may land where they will not "try it" again, according to our information.

We presume that the Republican candidates who made capital of the fact in the recent campaign that the Republican party had given the people the county act will now come forward and admit that the law was something like the negro's pound of cheese—"'most a half a pound of holes."

One thing can be said to the credit of Judge Dole: He never sought the office, the duties of which he assumed this morning. The appointment was made by the President independent of any effort on his part. Contrasted with his case, however, is that of Governor Carter, who has been working in and out of season for three years for the commission he hopes to get. In the one instance the office sought the man; in the other the man sought the office.

The Advertiser, organ of the crowd that claimed in the recent election to have given the people the county bill, now hopes that the entire law can be knocked out by the courts. Its reason for this change of front is based upon the fact that it failed to elect L. A. Andrews and others of its pets in the other islands. It so happens, however, that the courts are still in the business of respecting the will of the majority, despite the Advertiser and its grab-all crew.

The death of William H. Cornwell at Waikapu this morning removes from Honolulu and Maui one of their most respected and useful citizens. For many years Mr. Cornwell has held a prominent position in the business, political and social affairs of the Islands, and his friends were legion. The news of his death will pain everyone in Honolulu whose fortune it was to know Mr. Cornwell, and those who knew him only by reputation will feel that the community has sustained an irreparable loss.

Because the Colombian troops have not yet appeared over the ridge, no one need imagine that things are quiet and the goose is hanging high at Bogota. As sure as the sun continues to rise for a few days, there will be something popping at Panama. Time is not being wasted for nothing. Colombia will either go to war, with South America behind her, and the sympathy of Europe or she will have on her hands one of the most deadly revolutions in her history. The former is most apt to happen.

A larger proportion of the citizens of Hawaii speak the English language than in Louisiana. For hundreds of miles in that State about all the English one can wring out of the Creole population is the question: "Do you come from America?" Hawaii's percentage of illiteracy is so far below that of Louisiana as to render comparison preposterous. The only reasonable objection to the admission of Hawaii as a State is its distance from the mainland, and that objection has been largely removed by the cable and the inauguration of rapid steamship service.

The Pacific Coast States seem still to be unaware of the danger they are in from Japanese immigration. For the first six months of 1903 over 14,000 Japanese were landed in Honolulu, and it is to be supposed that the final figures for the year will show 30,000 or more. With many of these Honolulu is merely a way station, it being already overcrowded with Japs, and they have as their ultimate destination the better fields of Washington, Oregon and California. If the people of those States are wise they will immediately start an agitation in Congress for an exclusion act similar to that in force against China. Better to do it now than to find themselves forced to do it when the country is flooded with the Mikado's subjects, which will come, if the present flow is allowed to go on, in a very few years.

There was something touching in the inauguration of former Governor Dole into the office of Federal judge this morning. At his left hand was the chair left vacant by that great and good man, Judge Estee, a man of the people and one whose life was given for the people, irrespective of race or station, draped in the colors of mourning. About it seemed to hover the spirit of the departed jurist, whom everybody respected and loved. It was a kind of mockery, that scene; and it terminated none too soon for the hearts of many people present in the court room.

The Independent should not try to tell what it doesn't know about American political methods. It hasn't the space.—Advertiser.

When the Advertiser runs out of material for argument, it resorts to ugly and senseless flings. The Independent knows this much of American political methods: The majority is supposed to rule. When a man is cleanly and clearly defeated he is supposed to step aside, and it is considered unfair and an insult to a majority of voters for any party to saddle such a person upon a community in an appointive office.

It does not seem to us to be a square deal for the United States navy to supply foreign war vessels at this port with coal. We have coal dealers here in that business, and it is unfair for the Government to butt in and take their legitimate trade from them. It is all right for the United States to extend such courtesies to outside vessels at coaling stations in foreign countries (in Cuba, for instance) but this is a Territaory, American citizens are doing the business here and they are entitled to all the trade of the sort indicated that is going. Uncle Sam is carrying his Happy Hooligan qualities just far enough to cut local coal dealers out of dollars to which they are entitled.

The death of Colonel W. H. Cornwell this morning leaves the Democratic party without a national committeeman in the Islands. The rules of the party give the chairman of the National Committee the authority to fill vacancies in such cases, commissions to hold good until the succeeding convention. Inasmuch as work for the next campaign must shortly begin, this vacancy should be filled at once. The proper way to do it is by action and recommendation by the Territorial Central Committee. At the beginning we wish to suggest the naming of a native Hawaiian for the office. The Democratic party must cater in a large measure to the Hawaiian vote, and the presence of a competent and popular Hawaiian at the head of the party would influence more than anything else that vote. There are a number of competent Hawaiians in the party that could probably be induced to give their time and attention to the important work of this office.

Wm. H. Cornwell Dies at Waikapu.

William H Cornwell, statesman, business man and social favorite, died suddenly at Waikapu, Maui, at 6:15 o'clock this morning of heart disease.

He had been ill only two hours.

The news was conveyed in a wireless telegram from his son to relatives here.

The remains will be brought to Honolulu by the Mauna Loa Friday morning, after which arrangements for the funeral will be made.

The death of Mr Cornwell came as a great surprise to his friends in Honolulu, as it was never suspected that he was ill in any way. Telegraphic details are of course meager, but it seems from the advices that the illness came only about 4 o'clock.

Mr Cornwell was born in Brooklyn, N Y, sixty-one years ago on May 30 last, but came to the Islands when quite young. During his life he became associated with many business enterprises, owning and managing, among other things, Waikapu ranch on Maui. He was a member of the Legislature under the Monarchy and was a Cabinet minister shortly before the overthrow. For many years he was one of the principal promoters of horse racing in the Islands, owning many of the best horses and doing much toward making the sport all that it should be. At the time of his death Mr Cornwell was National Committeeman of the Democratic party for the Hawaiian Islands.

Deceased leaves a widow and three children, two daughters and a son. Besides these he leaves two sisters, Mrs Kate Vida and Mrs M C Widdifield.

Queen Reaches 'Frisco.

San Francisco, Nov 10—Former Queen Liliuokalani of Hawaii accompanied by Myra Helelulue, John D Aimoku and James K Aea, was a passenger on the steamship Sonoma, which arrived yesterday, and is registered at the California. She is bound for Washington to push her claim for reimbursement for crown lands, of which she has been deprived by the Government.

In discussing her mission one of her companions stated last evening that Liliuokalani has great hope of getting favorable action from Congress, basing much of it on the fact that when her claim was up for consideration before there was a large proportion of the national legislators kindly disposed toward it and many who did not take a decided stand in the matter have lately assured her of their support.

Sustains Cooper.

The Supreme Court yesterday filed a decision sustaining Superintendent Cooper in his contention that the provision in the County Act for a board of control is illegal. The opinion is written by Chief Justice Frear, and is approved by the other members of the court. Following is the syllabus of the decision:

An act entitled "An Act providing for the organization and government of counties and districts, and the management and control of public works and institutions thereto," is invalid as to so much thereof as purports to create a Territorial Board of Public Institutions and to transfer to it matters theretofore belonging to the Territorial Superintendent of Public Works, and with which the counties were to have nothing to do,—in view of Sec. 45 of the Organic Act, which provides "that each law shall embrace but one subject, which shall be expressed in its title."

Died.

KEPOIKAI AND "FOOTBALL" CARTER.

Things were flying between the office of our football Governor and the office of Treasurer Kepoikai yesterday. The latter showed the courtesy not to give the correspondence out for publication until notes had been exchanged, but Carter hastily rushed the matter into his official organ, the Star. The ball opened, however, in the morning by a note from Carter informing Kepoikai that it was in the interest of public business that all members of the "cabinet" resign before he took office. Mr Kepoikai replied politely that he did not see it that way; he had committed no malfeasance in office and until such was charged he would not resign. Late in the afternoon Carter addressed a note to him in which he claimed that Kepoikai had promised, at the time his (Carter's) appointment was announced that he (Kepoikai) would resign. To this note Kepoikai has replied as follows:

Territory of Hawaii,
Treasurer's Office,
Honolulu, Nov. 18, 1903.

Hon George R Carter, Acting Governor of the Territory, Honolulu.

Sir:—Your second letter of this date is before me, wherein, in responding to my letter of declination to resign the office of Treasurer of the Territory, you intimate that I have broken faith with you, and have broken my postive promise to you, in so declining to resign.

You are entirely in error in your statement that I at any time,—much less on two occasions,—made the statement to you "that it was my intention to withdraw and leave you free to select such heads of Departments as would work with you, and in whom you could repose every confidence."

Let me recall to your memory just what occurred upon the only occassion when the topic of the resignations was discussed between us. I was then the first to inform you that Mr Cooper had resigned his office as Superintendent of Public Works, and I stated to you that Mr Cooper had remarked to me that his reason for so resigning was to "give you a free hand." Upon asking you what was meant by that phrase, you remarked that you expected the resignations of all the heads of Departments. I replied to that suggestion as follows: "Well, if such is the practice, my resignation will be ready at the proper time."

Immediately thereafter I spoke with Governor Dole on the subject, who assured me that I was under no obligation to resign, as my official tenure was fixed by law, and did not know what was the practice usually pursued in regard to resignations under such circumstances.

Upon further inquiry and study on my part, I am convinced that it has never been, and is not now, the practice in the United States for officials who hold their offices by a definite legal tenure, to resign those offices upon a change in the personnel of their superiors, or even of the Chief Executive of the Union, or of a State.

Let me cite a few instances in support of this contention. When President Johnson undertook to oust Mr Stanton from the position of Secretary of War, in 1867, his act was alleged as a basis for his impeachment, which soon followed.

In 1887, when Governor Washington Bartlett, of California, died, and was succeeded by Lt Gov Markham, there was no suggestion of resignations from any of the appointees of Governor Bartlett, other than his personal staff. And such has been

KEPOIKAI AND "FOOTBALL" CARTER.

Things were flying between the office of our football Governor and the office of Treasurer Kepoikai yesterday. The latter showed the courtesy not to give the correspondence out for publication until notes had been exchanged, but Carter hastily rushed the matter into his official organ, the Star. The ball opened, however, in the morning by a note from Carter informing Kepoikai that it was in the interest of public business that all members of the "cabinet" resign before he took office. Mr Kepoikai replied politely that he did not see it that way; he had committed no malfeasance in office and until such was charged he would not resign. Late in the afternoon Carter addressed a note to him in which he claimed that Kepoikai had promised, at the time his (Carter's) appointment was announced that he (Kepoikai) would resign. To this note Kepoikai has replied as follows:

Territory of Hawaii,
Treasurer's Office,
Honolulu, Nov. 18, 1903.

Hon George R Carter, Acting Governor of the Territory, Honolulu.

Sir:—Your second letter of this date is before me, wherein, in responding to my letter of declination to resign the office of Treasurer of the Territory, you intimate that I have broken faith with you, and have broken my postive promise to you, in so declining to resign.

You are entirely in error in your statement that I at any time,—much less on two occasions,—made the statement to you "that it was my intention to withdraw and leave you free to select such heads of Departments as would work with you, and in whom you could repose every confidence."

Let me recall to your memory just what occurred upon the only occassion when the topic of the resignations was discussed between us. I was then the first to inform you that Mr Cooper had resigned his office as Superintendent of Public Works, and I stated to you that Mr Cooper had remarked to me that his reason for so resigning was to "give you a free hand." Upon asking you what was meant by that phrase, you remarked that you expected the resignations of all the heads of Departments. I replied to that suggestion as follows: "Well, if such is the practice, my resignation will be ready at the proper time."

Immediately thereafter I spoke with Governor Dole on the subject, who assured me that I was under no obligation to resign, as my official tenure was fixed by law, and did not know what was the practice usually pursued in regard to resignations under such circumstances.

Upon further inquiry and study on my part, I am convinced that it has never been, and is not now, the practice in the United States for officials who hold their offices by a definite legal tenure, to resign those offices upon a change in the personnel of their superiors, or even of the Chief Executive of the Union, or of a State.

Let me cite a few instances in support of this contention. When President Johnson undertook to oust Mr Stanton from the position of Secretary of War, in 1867, his act was alleged as a basis for his impeachment, which soon followed.

In 1887, when Governor Washington Bartlett, of California, died, and was succeeded by Lt Gov Markham, there was no suggestion of resignations from any of the appointees of Governor Bartlett, other than his personal staff. And such has been IMPEACH CARTER.

Were Secretary Carter now in the office of Governor he would be in a position for impeachment. We do not know but that he now is, for he is in such position as to perform the functions of the chief executive of the Territory and to all intents and purposes, is Governor. It is true that he may be turned down by the Senate of the United States, but the fact that the law vests the responsibility for the proper administration of Island affairs in his hands makes him, for the time being, the de facto Governor. As such, with the great authority entrusted to him, he is obstructing public business, for no reasonable cause but, to all appearances to gratify a silly whim. He demands, in the first place, the resignation of Treasurer Kepoikai, an officer appointed by Governor Dole to hold office for four years, the appointment and tenure of office being approved by the vote of the Hawaiian Senate, which represented the people's voice. When Kepoikai doubted the legality of such a demand, Mr. Carter swelled up and declared that he would not proceed with public business until every "cabinet" officer had resigned.

It is plain that under such bull-headed tactics public business must be retarded and the progress of important work be obstructed. Mr. Cooper, superintendent of public works, is out of office and so is his assistant, Marston Campbell. All the vastly important details of the office have been transferred to the supervision of the Secretary, who has now the duties of Governor and a little of every thing else to perform. In other words, he has taken into his youthful and inexperienced hands the entire machinery of this government (save alone the treasury department, which he has found he cannot altogether run) and is trying to carry it on. He deserves a certain amount of praise for his strenuousness and pluck; but where do the people get off? Their interests are suffering every minute as a result of too much "King" atthe head of affairs and the confusion that the Governor-designate is causing in the departments.

And what is behind the present attitude of Mr. Carter? It is hard to discover anything new or unusual. It is purely a case of swelled head that, in the words of the chairman of any meeting, in introducing a speaker, "is too well known to leave an introduction necessary." Mr. Carter has possessed the idea a long time that he knew exactly how to run the Hawaiian government and that nobody else knew anything about it. This idea led him into conflict with Superintendent Cooper time after time and finally resulted in the retirement of that official from the public service at a moment when his experience, his knowledge of public works then pending and his brains were sorely needed. He had tiffs with Governor Dole and with the head of almost every department of the government. When his appointment was announced he conceived the idea of setting up a government of his own. He would be the little "Grover Cleveland," and his cabinet officers would be so many puppets, to come at the ring of his bell and to carry out his commands. He would show the people of the Territory that beneath the hazel wig from New York that shelters his noble brow rests the master-brain of this land, and that the members of his "cabinet" were competent only to receive and obey orders.

Some of the heads of the departments were weak-marrowed enough to bend the knee and offer up to the new Caesar the honors which had been bestowed upon them by the people, through the Senate, for a period of four years. That is their own kettle of fish. Treasurer Kepoikai stands out, however, against such interference with his business, and he is right. In interfering with the treasury department at this time, Mr. Carter is seriously interfering with the money business of the Territory at the most important tax-collection period and is also throwing a block in the way of the intelligent and accurate adjustment of finances between the Territory and the counties, which must come about within the next six weeks. For this reason alone, Mr. Carter has laid himself open to impeachment and removal from office, and it is to be hoped, in the interest of the people at large, that this and other facts will not be lost sight of, when the time such action is possible, arrives.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

When a clerk of the treasurer's office waited upon Governor-designate Carter at his home at about 1 o'clock this morning to deliver the answer of Judge Kepoikai to his (Football George's) latest note, the prospective future chief executive of Hawaii appeared at his door clad only in his night gown and the breezes of a very pleasant young morning. From his head, however, was gone the beautiful wig purchased in New York nearly three years ago, and our dickey bird swears under oath that the top-knot of Hawaii's future executive looked (in the glare of the electric light, which had apparently been kept burning for hours in expectancy of the message) like one of the Hawaiian hotel's billiard balls.

If Secretary Carter will not accept the office of Governor until Treasurer Kepoikai resigns, then we say let him stay out of the office. The treasurer is legally and morally right in his position. He is supported not alone by the Organic Act but by precedent, from the Presidential chair down. If Carter chooses to show himself to be a really big ninny, it is his privilege.

The Organic Act (Page 31, Section 80), after prescribing for the appointment of department heads by the Governor, with the consent of the Senate, adds: He may, BY AND WITH THE ADVICE AND CONSENT OF THE SENATE OF THE TERRITORY OF Hawaii, remove from office any of such officers. All such officers shall hold office for four years and until their successors are appointed and qualified," etc.

The late Mrs. Hiram Bingham was that type of missionary that went among the people of the Pacific islands with the true spirit of Christ. She endured the greatest hardships to carry the Word into isolated places, without hope of reward on this side of eternity. She was a friend, in the true, unalloyed sense, of the Polynesian and she will be affectionately remembered for a long time both in Hawaii and in the Gilbert Islands.

The Independent hopes that Treasurer Kepoikai will hold out and not give way to a reconsideration of his action not to resign. If he should give way, the missionaries will stay in power, as there is now a good opportunity of their not gaining the humiliating course as suggested by Acting Governor Carter. Go it, Noah! Stay by your guns, and we feel safe in saying that you'll come out on top, and Carter will not accept the Governorship till doomsday, we hope, if he means to stick to his last.

We think that both Carter and Kepoikai should be in bed o'nights instead of sitting up. The Advertiser is our authority that Kepoikai sat up last night writing a reply to Carter, a copy of which was delivered to it at 1 o'clock this morning, and Carter was also sitting up late to receive it, for when the last reply was handed him, it was at his residence up in the Valley, the lights being ablaze and the upstair part illumined, so it is reported. Such seems to be the case and the game they are both playing, probably to the gallery. It is to be yet seen which of them will win out. Sic 'em!

The morning paper weeps salty tears over the fact that Treasurer Kepoikai has declined to resign at the whim of George R. Carter and says that he does not "dignify himself or his race" by not being "polite" and leaving Mr. Carter with a way open to appoint J. W. Pratt, a man turned down by the people at the polls, to a fat billet. In declining to be dictated to by an upstart like Carter, Judge Kepoikai is doing his race proud; he is playing a strong card for the advocates of good government in the Republican party, as against the "close corporation" faction represented by the Advertiser. Judge Kepoikai does not belong to our political party, but we must say that he is showing himself to be a credit to any party to which he may belong.

"Personal" correspondence, when particularly marked in the sender's own handwriting is, to our conception, deemed "private and confidential." Such correspondence is not intended for publication or public scrutiny. But not so with Secretary, or Acting Governor Carter, who, after marking his first letter to Treasurer Kepoikai yesterday forenoon as "personal," saw fit later in the day to make them public through the columns of the Star, his official organ, in a "second edition" of that paper. Mr. Carter himself acted the part of a reporter for that favored sheet. Quoting the words of Kepoikai, as expressed in his second answer to Carter, published in this morning's Advertiser, we deem Carter's conduct, at the most, as being in "extreme impropriety," and would further add as being also an "indiscretion" of the worst type of American "strenuousness." And such a one is our Governor-to-be.

About American Political Methods Relating to Resignations.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:

"The Independent should not try to tell what it doesn't know about American political methods. It hasn't the space."—P C Advertiser, Nov 18.

American political methods as carried out in this Territory is no doubt a good thing to keep away from.

But as far as the resignations of the heads of the Departments of the territorial government is concerned, the Independent does know that it is not compulsory upon nor is it the duty of those officials to send in their resignations to an "Acting" Governor.

Resignation of office cannot be thought of until a permanent governor to succeed Dole has been commissioned.

The Superintendent of Public Works probably resigned his commission for private and personal reasons. His resignation of the other official heads.

The sycophant action of the Attorney General and Superintendent of Public Instruction last week in tendering their resignations to an official who was not then out of office, and making obeisance to a person who is not yet governor, was, to say the least, very premature.

The Treasurer is evidently the only official of the lot who has any knowledge of official decorum and etiquette.

The action of those two officials savors very much of a political dodge, a dodge to put the Treasurer in an unsavory political position. But, it will not work.

ROYALIST.

Fair at St Clement.

At the St Clement's fair next Saturday afternoon and evening at the Colonial Harvest Home booth there will be a representation of a reception by the Governor's lady in Colonial times. Among those who will assist in this are Mrs Dole, Mrs W F Frear, Mrs B F Dillingham, Mrs Restarick and Mrs C Montague Cooke. All will be in the costume of the period represented. The refreshments served at this reception will be Boston brown bread, baked beans, and coffee. Mrs Charles L Rhodes, who has charge of this booth, will be assisted in serving by Mrs Justice Galbraith, Mrs Francis W Smith, Mrs E M Boyd, Mrs Geo Smithies, Miss Luce, Miss Constance Restarick and Miss Marion Dillingham.

There will be a representation of the "Pike," one of the amusement features of the St Louis fair next year; a symbolic representation of "Autumn," and many other unique features.

Whitewashes Frauds.

A majority of the Territorial Grand Jury this morning returned a report in the election frauds case, whitewashing every official concerned in the rascality except H C Birbe, chairman of the board in the Seventh precinct of the Fifth district. No serious irregularities were found and the blotting of ballots was found to be due to the presence of ink bottles in the election booths (!). As was expected, a minority report was filed in which gross irregularities were charged and it was recommended that the matter be passed over to another and larger grand jury, the present one having only fourteen members.

New Chairman of Home Rulers.

The Home Rule Central Committee held a meeting at headquarters today for the purpose of electing a Chairman of the Executive Committee. At 2:30 o'clock, Colonel C P Iaukea received the honor. Other candidates were J P Mikaina, J A Akina, C H Notley and J H Wise.

Loan Bids Opened and Accepted.

The bids for the $1,000,000 Territorial 4½% bonds were opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon by Treasurer Kepoikai, in the presence of Acting Governor Carter, bankers, business men and reporters. Several bids were read and the bid of Fiske & Robinson, of New York, for the whole issue or none at par with $626 premium was deemed by all to be the best and the Treasurer declared that bid as being accepted. Congratulations were offered Mr Carter for his successful placing of the loan the very first time in the history of this country in New York city.

Election Contest Begins.

The petition for the contest of the election on November 3 was filed in the Supreme Court this morning by T McCants Stewart, principal attorney for the contestants. "C B Maile and others" are the petitioners. Charges of irregularities are made against officers of the following precincts: First, Third, Fifth and Eighth precincts of the Fourth district; First Second, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth precincts of the Fifth district. Return day will be December 7.

and is the current of practice and precedent in America, in such cases.

I respectfully invite you to cite a single case wherein an executive State or Territorial officer has resigned the office held by him, to which he was appointed for a fixed period, and from which he could not be removed save with the concurrent action of the Chief Executive and some co-ordinate authority,upon the mere request of the successor of the official by whom he was appointed.

While admitting the practice of resignations being usually tendered by Cabinet officers,and others of like confidential relations to the Executive, upon a change in the executive office,—yet this practice has never extended beyond the circle of officials holding at the pleasure of the executive,—which I understand to be now the law in respect of Presidential Cabinet officers.

It has not escaped my attention that, almost before the ink was dry upon the cablegram announcing your prospective appointment as Governor, you were out in an interview wherein you in effect demanded the resignations of all heads of departments. The extreme impropriety of such a course on your part, at so very early a stage of your anticipated incumbency of the executive chair, must now be as apparent to you as it is to all the rest of the community. There are many who look upon your premature and frequent interviews in this respect as nothing less than insulting to the incumbents of the offices referred to, and an impeachment of the judgment of the distinguished gentleman to whom they owe their appointment. And whatever may have been my views as to resigning my office upon the consummation of the change in question, your own most objectionable course in this regard would of itself have been sufficient to lead me to a change of mind.

However much we may differ as to what is my right and duty in the premises, you may safely rely on my hearty co-operation with you in all matters calculated to promote the best interests of the people of this Territory, without regard to race, creed, color, or political affiliation.

Very respectfully yours,

A. N. KEPOIKAI,

Treasurer of the Territory.

REPORT ON THE POSTOFFICE FRAUDS

WASHINGTON, D.C. Nov. 1:

The report of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow on the Post Office frauds has been placed in the hands of the President, consisting of over one hundred and ten thousand words, with appendices sufficient to make nearly one million words. It is said that only a condensed version will be published. If the parts that will be given to the public contain the real meat of the voluminous report, the condensation will be desirable, as but few people have time to read the whole report, but there will be intense dissatisfaction if the public version is garbled for partisan purposes. The voters want to know who are the guilty ones, whether the statute of limitations has covered their doings or not, and nothing less than the exposure of the whole nest of thieves will satisfy them. The only punishment the people seem able to bring upon their unworthy servants is by preventing them from again occupying official positions, and that can only be accomplished by the truth being told of all connected with the scandals from the highest to the lowest. Any attempt to suppress the evidence of the participation of those high in the Republican counsels in the frauds, will not satisfy those honestly in favor of reform, and will be met by the demand for the publication of the whole report, cost what it may. The partisan Republican press will report but little of the damaging details of the connection of its own officials of the highest class with the scandals, but the facts will be culled by the newspapers that serve the people if they are allowed access to the truth.

It must be remembered that the exposures of the Post Office frauds have been wrung from the unwilling Reepublican leaders by the force of public opinion, and not because they were anxious to expose the scoundrels. Postmaster-General Payne, when his department was first under suspicion, designated the first exposure of the frauds as "hot air," and belittled the whole matter as far as he was able, but the rival factions in the Post Office Department were too intent on destroying each other, to permit the evidence of the frauds to be kept secret, and the investigation had to proceed. If the making of a synopsis of the report of Mr Bristow is left to Mr Payne, or any of his satellites, but little evidence damaging to the higher officials will ever be seen by the public eye. The Democrats in Congress will of course demand that the whole evidence be printed, but the minority party has but little show to force such action, unless the public vigorously demand it.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

"The hands of Esau," as depicted in last evening's Star, were as the hands of Russo-Atkinson, for his earmarks were plainly to be seen.

It is well now to know of the insatiate hate of those starry and advertising things, to anything Hawaiian. For proof, read the P. C. A. and Star of the past few days with regard to Treasurer Kepoikai.

And at last, since Kepoikai's refusal

We venture to state that Alatau T. Atkinson, Superintendent of Public Instruction, would not have tendered his resignation to Mr. Carter, may be, if he had not been assured reappointment in advance. That's a "bear" trick, anyway.

The Star insists that Kepoikai twice promised to resign, and this only on Carter's word. Knowing Kepoikai better than we do Carter, we rather incline his way that he had at no time given Carter any such encouragement to think that he would resign. Better try another man.

The gist of the fight between Carter and Kepoikai is narrowed down to one of veracity between the two. To our view of the case, the former is acting the part of a fool and knave, and the latter that of a man with a good and stiff backbone, who is likely to upset the present lot of missionary rulers of the country. As courtesy is not nor was it ever in the make-up of Carter, it is foolish for him to expect courtesy from one who never sought the office, but that the office sought him, and as regards veracity, we would rather stay by Kepoikai and take his word.

The outbreak of Stromboli volcano yesterday should be looked into by the Promotion Committee. It may be that the officers of the Italian warship Elba cabled back that Hawaii had a big volcanic show going on just now and if the Romans wanted to hold their tide of tourists they had better set Stromboli going.

The frequent appearance of a flock of cranks about the White House to see the President brings up the old story concerning "birds of a feather."

The United States has guaranteed the independence of Panama. Of course the next thing will be the annexation of the Isthmus—beg pardon, we mean the "benevolent assimilation" of the country.

to resign, the morning dictator has openly come out with a fling that "he is not need or wanted" in an administration where he has shown "his utter ignorance of all things financial." Good, good; it is better now to know it than not at all. It was not so very long ago when it came out with a fegpulling article, patting the Hawaiian on the back, in the hope that he would resign; but since then, the man is no good, because he will not obey its dictates.

If the decision of the Supreme Court in the Dickey-Rapid Transit case is good law, the rules governing the work of the electric system should be changed as speedily as possible. The decision leaves the company open to be imposed upon in a way that was never intended by the law-makers. In fact, it complicates the machinery of traffic and the collection of fares in such a way that a conductor will have to be a Philadelphia lawyer to understand just what to do in case a passenger disputes the tariff with him.

One thing we cannot understand about the majority report of the Territorial Grand Jury is that it declares that there was an honest election, a fair count and no irregularities, and concludes by abruptly charging irregularities against H. C. Birbe. There seems to be a very pointed and positive inconsistency in the thing. If everything was carried out according to law, then Birbe should not have been censured. If, on the other hand, Birbe was found guilty of irregularities, then, of course, the report of the Grand Jury is untrue in its principal points.

A considerable portion of the story of the shooting of the police officer on Liliha street last night sounds "fishy," but it may be all correct and true. Certainly there were a number of peculiar details to the affair. However, if it can be proved that the Chinaman did the shooting, he should be made to suffer for his crime. At the same time certain peculiar differences in the accounts of the shooting would seem to call for a most thorough investigation before judgments are formed.

We are forced to doubt the genuineness of the cablegram received by Curator Brigham from London, signed "Boulton," in which the accusations recently made by the two Messrs. Boulton are denied; and will await with interest the letter that the author of the cablegram states that he has forwarded. The Messrs. Boulton, father and son, made the statements accredited to them to a number of people here, and afterward repeated them, in a formal way, to the Bishop of Zuegma and Father Valentin, as Father Valentin affirmed in a letter to this paper a few days after the facts were published.

Many were the requests made yesterday, so we are reliably informed, upon Treasurer Kepoikai to reconsider his refusal not to resign. One of these came by wireless, saying that Kepoikai was making the mistake of his life. Why, may we ask, is it a mistake? Is it because he showed backbone to stand on his rights? Another one was from a local gentleman, a former prominent official during the P. G. regime, who was mainly instrumental in forcing him out of office as Circuit Judge in 1894. To think of the gall of such a one who at one time had no earthly use for him or for any other kanaka, although he was island-born himself and had mixed among natives nearly his whole life, is preposterous at the most.

Georger R. Carter's press agents are again trying to make him out as a Morgan of finance in that he happened to be in the east dining with the President and working up his chances for the Governorship at the time the Secretary of the reasury decided to recognize the loan bonds as proper security or Government obligations. That act of the Secretary placed the bonds almost on a par with the United States bonds, and made them desirable in any market. The only surprise is that more and better bids were not received here from New York and San Francisco. In supporting the bonds, however, the Secretary did no special or unusual favor to Hawaii, as State, Territorial, municipal and even railroad bonds ar ebing recognized in the same way.

The American Federation of Labor is certainly going too far in seeking to block the effort to get a limited number of Chinese into Hawaii for stated periods for plantation labor purposes. It is not that class of labor, brought in under such arrangement as is proposed, that Hawaii and the American laborer has to fear. It concerns neither, as neither can nor will do the work in the cane-fields; and it will benefit both as it will aid the sugar industry and in that way encourage and build up other industries in which local and mainland labor can find a field. Plantation work must be done. Whites and natives will not do it. Then, who will? It must be either Japanese, who are flooding the country and crowding the citizen workingman out of everything worth having or Chinese. Under the restrictions proposed there could not possibly be any danger to citizen workingmen in any line or capacity and the results would be most satisfactory in every respect. Sentiment is a fine thing, three times a day, but it should be seasoned with a little common sense.

Vouchers Turned Over.

Clerk Meheula, of the House of Representatives, this morning turned over the House vouchers (the same vouchers that were burned by the Advertiser and Star) to the Federal Grand Jury, upon the request of the jury, taking a receipt for them. They had been in his custody as was legally and proper, all the time.

All the legislature witnesses except Representative Kumalae, Clerk Meheula and Enoch Johnson has been excused from testifying further.

Governor Carter's commission has been mailed at Washington. It has not yet been confirmed.

Policeman Killed.

Police Officer J W Mahelona was shot and killed in a somewhat mysterious manner in a yard off Liliha street between King and Vineyard about 11 o'clock last night. Charles Clark, Jr, was also shot and slightly wounded, the ball taking effect in the flesh of the left elbow. The only accounts of the actual shooting come from Clark and the two young sons of Captain Robert Parker, who were present. A Chinaman named Ho Young, who is said to have a bad reputation, is under arrest and is charged with the murder.

Clark claims to have gone home shortly before 2 o'clock and to have met a Chinaman coming out of his premises. He ran out for a policeman and succeeded in getting Mahelona. Returning to the place they found the Chinaman concealed in the brush and succeeded in arresting him. While on the way to the police call box the Chinaman is alleged to have stated that he had some stolen chickens on the premises just left, and the officer and Clark consented to return for them for use as evidence. They were followed by the Parker boys and others. The story then is that when in the darkest part of the place the Chinaman, who had not been searched, whipped out a revolver and fired, the bullet entering the officer's neck, passing through and coming out at the back. Clark promptly grabbed the Chinaman. Mahelona, after falling to the ground, opened fire on his assailant, firing four shots. One of the shots struck Clark in the arm.

A call was sent to the police station and the patrol wagon arrived for the dead man and the Chinaman. At the station the Chinaman seemed to be badly used up, having all the appearance of having been roughly handled. Taken with him was one chicken and his pockets contained a number of broken eggs. He denied absolutely that he had done any shooting and when searched no pistol was found on his person.

The police guarded the scene of the tragedy during the night and this morning the pistol supposed to have been used was picked up.

There will be a coroner's inquiry into the death of Mahelona. Clark is not badly hurt, and, although taken to the hospital at first, is now up and able to be out.

Funeral on Sunday.

The funeral of the late W H Cornwell will be held under Masonic auspices from Central Union church at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The remains arrived from Maui by the Mauna Loa this morning and were at once removed to the parlors of the undertaker for embalming. Tomorrow afternoon the casket will be changed to the Masonic Temple where it will be watched during the night and Sunday morning by the Masons. The widow and son of deceased both accompanied the body from Maui.

Judge Dickey Wins.

The Supreme Court has decided the damage suit of L A Dickey vs Rapid Transit Company in favor of the plaintiff, awarding the sum of $1000. In this matter the Judge sued on account of being charged two fares for a ride on King street and a transfer and ride on the Punahou line. It is held that the five-cent fare extends to all direct and side lines of the system between Moanalua and Diamond Head, provided the ride is a continuous one. The syllabus of the opinion is as follows:

A passenger on the cars of the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Company may not lawfully be charged more than five cents for a continuous ride from the corner of King and Keeaumoku streets, along King, McCully, Beretania and Alexander streets to Wilder avenue. Such a passenger is entitled, without the payment of an extra fare, to transfer from the King street to the McCully street line and to receive a transfer ticket therefor.

The "Lie Courteous."

In reply to Treasurer Kepoikai's last note, in which he declined in most positive terms, to resign, Governor Carter yesterday—with Kingly formality—sent the following answer, and forthwith gave the same out to his official organ, the S.ar:

"Honolulu, Nov 20, 1903.

"A N Kepoikai, Esq, Honolulu.

"Dear Sir:—In your official letter as Treasurer, addressed to me as Acting Governor, and delivered at my house at 1 o'clock in the morning of the 19th inst, you evidently intend to make the issue one of veracity between ourselves and leave it to public opinion.

"For some time I have made it a habit to dictate the substance of important interviews immediately upon their conclusion, while the matter is fresh in my mind and before circumstances change.

"This memorandum shows that my first interview with you was on October 31, and that I ask you point blank if it was satisfactory for you to put in your resignation, and you replied, 'Certainly.' You also said that you knew it was in accordance with American custom and precedent.

"My second interview was on Nov 2d, the day before Mr Baldwin left. Of this I have no memorandum, but you may remember my asking if I could depend on your statement, and your words, as near as I can recollect, were: 'Yes, I'll resign all right, but I am going to pack my trunk for Maui first.'

Very truly yours,
(Sig) "GEORGE R CARTER."

Funeral Tomorrow.

SATURDAY, NOV. 21, 1903.

THE LATE COL. CORNWELL.

Hawaii may as well claim the late Col. William H. Cornwell as one of her sons, because it was here that he spent the most and best part of his life; here he raised his family and here they are now. Here his father and mother laid their bones to rest forever—here in these sunny isles of their adoption, where all their children were reared, and who, in their turn, reared families and whose children's children are numerous and are all well-known citizens of this country.

In his death, Hawaiians lost another real, true and earnest friend, who always sided with them in their times of adversity. He has passed away, never more to return to us in the flesh, but his spirit lives in what he attempted to do for this, his home by adoption as well as by ties. He was open and free with the Hawaiian people. His home at Waikapu was the center of hospitality and of generosity, but never more will it welcome the wayfarer in the same manner as he and his father before him had done. It was warm and hospitable, as much so as that of the late Capt. Makee, on the same island. None ever passed his door without receiving a hearty welcome and a right royal entertainment, with the best fat of the land.

Politically, heretofore, under the Monarchy, he was a National Reformer, and as such, was elected a Noble to the Legislature. While serving in that capacity he received a Cabinet portfolio under Queen Lilluokalani, and was a Minister at the time of the overthrow, being a member of the last monarchical cabinet in 1893. On the day of the overthrow (January 16), when the troops of the U. S. S. Boston were landed, he followed them up and closed the Palace gates on King street in their faces. He then believed, and always did believe, that force should have been used by the existing Government, even though the United States troops had taken a hand in the emeute to assist the revolutionists. Since that time, he always remained a staunch royalist, casting his lot with the people of this country. And after annexation became a fact, he espoused the mainland politics of his forefathers, was sent as one of the delegates to the National Democratic convention of 1900 and was chosen as committee-man of the party in this new American territory, which honor he held up to his death.

For many years he was a member on the staff of the Governor of this Island with the rank of Major, finally becoming a member of the King's staff, including that of the Queen's, with the rank of Colonel. King Kalakaua decorated him with several royal orders of honor, which he highly prized and has left as heirlooms with his family.

Of course, he had his weaknesses and faults, to which the flesh is heir, but above it all looms his manhood. He was always a gentleman, as to the manner born, and that was a distinguishing feature in his make-up. Besides, he was always neat of dress and in appearance. Being associated with his father in the sugar and cattle interests, he was identified with the business and commercial interests of the country.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Didn't The Independent tell the Advertiser and Star that those House vouchers they were fuming over were not burned? Our position has at last been verified to the discomfiture of others. Knowing it to be a rank lie, they still persisted in making the public believe in it. Go bang yourselves and look up another charge against Hawaiians.

When was it that Kepoikai was known to be a puppet? His friend, Senator Baldwin, never treated him as such, but always as the man on whose advice he placed reliance, and in whom he had placed trust and confidence, whose probity and integrity was irreproachable. This is more than those of his political detractors can say for themselves.

Attorney F. M. Brooks showed himself not to be in a position unable to defend himself from the charges of the Federal Grand Jury when he disclosed himself promptly in open court as one of the parties charged in the secret list of indictments and asked for an immediate hearing. He also indicated that he was in position to clear his skirts when he asked for details in regard to the charges against him.

"We told you so." When the grand jury asked for the vouchers of the House they were produced. But the process cost the United States government something like $5,000, for securing witnesses from the other islands, pay of jurymen and other expenses. And for what purpose or by what cause? Simply at the instigation of the missionary press which had discovered t mare's nest but imagined that it had found something that would discredit certain members of the Legislature.

Anything to discredit the Hawaiian is the present game of the Advertiser-Star clique. And when they have done it, they expect to have them disfranchised by having the Organic Act amended so as to suit them. Hawaiians ought to know enough by this time that they are not at all wanted, and still a few persist in hanging on to their spotted skirts. We hope that they have learned enough by this time.

By the production of the House vouchers to the Federal grand jury yesterday, it is a good refutation to the Advertiser and Star charges of destruction. They have been found out as prevaricators of the worst type, anything to down Hawaiians.

Governor Carter's sub-official organ, the Advertiser, states that our "strenuous" football executive will not have a gilded staff of military officers but will fall back upon the democratic senior members of the Senate, in Prince Alberts, for the makeup of his train on state occasions. Why, of course. Did any one presume that Carter would have in his train any person with more brass buttons than he, or with a uniform that would throw a shadow upon his appearance? Not much. He purposes to be the king pin in this bowling alley; the central chrysanthemum in the bunch. His trailers must be the flowers of the wayside. Great is Football George!

The refusal of the President to order out United States troops to suppress the riot at Telluride, Colorado, was a vote-catching dodge so apparent as to be disgusting. He knew that if he sent regular troops into the district there would be criticism of his act by the miners of the country, and to save their votes he unshouldered the trouble onto the Governor of Colorado. We do not believe, however, that the miners of the United States will fail to see beneath the veneer of the proposition. Had it not been for the fact that it is the eve of another Presidential election Colorado would have been filled with national troops so quick that it would made the miners' heads swim—and they are not such fools that they do not know it.

Rantings of late by the evening tail piece of the early morning riser over the Carter-Kepoikai incident seems to be too silly, and puerile to need attention, if it was not for the notoriety already given to their uncalled for demands for resignations. In one of them it is stated that Mr. Kepoikai is showing that he has no sense of honor or of gentlemanly feeling is very evident. An honorable man and a gentleman would not act as he is doing. But it is not Kepoikai, the man, who is dishonorable and ungentlemanly, it is Kepoikai the puppet in the hands of intriguers who is so." We think otherwise. There is more "sense of honor" and "of gentlemanly feeling" in one of Mr. Kepoikai's little toes than in the entire make-up of those who are eminently quick, severe and serious in condemnation of the stand he has taken to be dictated to by the official mouthpieces of Mr. Carter. And furthermore, Mr. Kepoikai is more of "the man" than "the puppet," and none know it better than the conscience-stricken "old woman soak" of the stellar tail piece, who has always been a puppet, not a man, since the days we first knew him, when coming here as an adventurer. And now for him to condemn a man because he stands up for his official rights is too degrading and contempt able.

We are more than surprised that Clerk Meheula should have been such an easy prey to the demands of the Federal grand jury, without making some show of fight by questioning its jurisdiction. But it is just like the rest of his kind, weak-kneed; and further, he went and acted contrary to the stand taken by him these many months, and we believe he'd a done the same thing even if he had been thereto advised, for it is just like them. Had we been in his place, we'd have made a run for those vouchers. And there's another point, he should have demanded a receipt for them, and if not, their examination and investigation should have been made in his presence, because most of the jurors are unfriendly to them politically and otherwise, they being of the faction eager to discredit everything Hawaiian. But the Advertiser-Star lot gloats over the fact of the success they made in resurrecting those vouchers after they had made sure of their destruction.

Nervous Debility

is often one of the most distressing after-effects of the Grip. It may also be caused by overwork, worry, mental strain or excesses of almost any nature. Whatever the cause, a debilitated nervous system means that the nerves lack nutrition. Feed the nerves and life will renew its joys for you.

The best nerve food, and the most valuable tonic (because it both builds up the blood and strengthens the nerves) is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Hundreds of worn-out, depressed men and women have been made strong-nerved, ambitious, energetic and healthful by this remedy.

Among the well-known men of the newspaper profession is F. J. Lawrence, of 665 Fourth Avenue, Detroit, Mich., who for the past eleven years has been at his desk every day. He says:

"At one time I was in such a condition that my physician said I would have nervous prostration; that I would have to stop newspaper work or I would go to pieces if I persisted in doing it, as I was destroying what nerve force I had left. I lost flesh and had a complication of ailments which baffled skillful physicians. An associate recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and I gave them a trial. I can't say that I received any benefit from the first box, but derived very good results from the second. They gave me strength and helped my shattered nerves so that I could get a full night's rest.

"A great deal of pain in the small of the back I attributed to a derangement of the kidneys. For this complaint Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People worked wonders. Soon after I began taking them regularly, the pain ceased, and I felt like a new man.

"I am greatly encouraged from the results of using a few boxes and am confident that the pills will work a complete restoration of my former condition."—From Evening News, Detroit, Mich.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

The prize drawing at Kerr's new store will take place at 9 o'clock this evening.

Colonel Norrie, of Kahuku ranch, Kau, arrived in town by the Mauna Loa yesterday morning.

The Punahou and High School teams will play indoor football at the Y M C A this evening.

Senator Blackburn yesterday introduced a bill in the Senate at Washington for the payment of the Queen for the Crown lands.

Governor Carter has issued a Thanksgiving proclamation embodying the features of the President's proclamation of some days ago.

St Clement's fair opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon. It is most attractive, and large crowds are certain for the afternoon and evening.

The second game of League football will be played this afternoon by the Punahous and Mailes. Playing will begin at 3:30 o'clock.

Home Rulers will hold a mass meeting at 7 o'clock this evening at Emma Square. Various speakers will touch on the many topics of the day.

E K Nauuao, the juryman in the Circuit Court, who fell from a second-story balcony while walking in his sleep Saturday night, died on Thursday.

The regular Saturday night dance of the Killarney Social Club has been postponed to Thursday, Nov 26, Thanksgiving Day, when a social will be given.

A basketball match will be played between the Kamehuehas and Y W C A teams at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Punahou campus. It is free to all.

The coroner's jury in the case of the killing of Mahelona has returned a verdict charging Mun Chung, alias Ho Young, the Chinaman under arrest, with the crime.

Carl Wolters is on his way to Honolulu in the Sonoma, having been appointed manager of Hutchinson plantation. He was formerly manager of Libue plantation.

The Republican club of the tenth precinct of the Fifth District, at a meeting held in the Achi warehouse, endorsed the appointments of Governor Carter and Judge Dole.

The private driveway into the grounds of the Hawaiian Hotel Annex, Waikiki, from the Kalia side, will be closed by the management as the right to use it is being abused.

Judge Dole yesterday granted a motion by F M Brooks for a bill of particulars under the movant's indictment among the eighty charged with conspiracy to protect violators of United States statutes.

The funeral of J W Mahelona, the policeman shot and killed Thursday night, will take place from the Townsend Undertaking Parlors at 3 o'clock this afternoon under the auspices of Kaala Lodge, Hawaiian K of P, of which he was a member.

Beginning with this morning, electric car service between the Honolulu Iron Works, Allen street, Fort, Beretania, Nuuanu and School will be regularly kept up, with ten minute care. Trial cars were run over the line late yesterday.

In the matter of the killing of Mahelona, W H Crawford, Chinese interpreter, has stated that Mun Chong, the man under arrest, had confessed to him that he shot the police officer. The confession is alleged to have been made shortly after the shooting took place.

Will Take Oath of Office.

Acting Governor Carter is to take the oath of office as Governor on Monday morning, at 11 o'clock, in this Legislative Hall. He was informed by cable, so we are informed in answer to his cable request yesterday whether he should take the oath, to do so at once. His commission will come later.

Kepoikai's Answers.

In reply to criticisms made by Governor George R Carter in the morning paper to acts of Treasurer Kepoikai, the latter had the following to say.

"The mutilated form of bond which I forwarded to the Mortgage and Trust Co. was a form which had passed the inspection of Mr Carter and Auditor Fisher, and came to me with their o. k. I then sent it forward in the precise form in which Mr Carter and Mr Fisher passed it. If it was then imperfect or patched or mutilated, its imperfections, patches and mutilations had already received the distinguished approval of Mr Carter.

"As to the Rapid Transit Franchise, I prefer that the written documents should speak rather than have Mr Carter place his malicious construction upon my written opinions. I do not profess to be the law adviser of the Territory of Hawaii. Even Mr Carter ought to know this much."

The Brigham Case.

Father Valentin yesterday sent the following letter to the Bulletin in reference to the denial by Mr Boulton of statements made by that gentleman here regarding an interview with Prof Brigham:

Editor Evening Bulletin:—Notwithstanding the cablegram received from Mr Boulton denying that anything derogatory was said at the museum by Prof Brigham in reference to the good name of Father Damien, I will state again that on the testimony of both Boultons, father and son, Mr Brigham has uttered such remarks and they both have mentioned so in my presence and also in the presence of the Right Reverend Bishop Libert. I am ready to prove to the satisfaction of the public the statement here made but prefer to wait until the trustees shall have received the letter mentioned in the cablegram.

FATHER H. VALENTIN,
Honolulu H T, Nov 20, 1903.

Death of a Somnambulist.

Early last Sunday morning, one Ephraim K Nauuao, an occupant of one room of Achi's tenement house on King street, opposite the Palama chapel, rose up in his sleep and walked out to the verandah on the upper story and fell over the balcony to the concrete sidewalk, where he was picked up later by passers-by. The patrol wagon was called for and he was immediately removed to the Queen's hospital, from which place he walked out and home at daybreak in company with his better half.

He was examined while at the hospital and nothing was found to be the matter with him, only a cut on his forehead. But on arriving home, he felt bad in the stomach, and after taking a dose of common coarse salt, he felt worse in the abdomen. Doctors were called and he was removed to Dr Noblitt's hospital, corner of Hotel and Alakea streets.

On further examination, it was found that his insides were bleeding profusely, the blood having clogged the passage of the urinary organs. It was then decided that there were small hopes for his recovery, from the effects of which he expired on Thursday noon. He was buried yesterday afternoon from his mother's residence on Punchbowl, above Emma street.

This somnambulistic habit in him is of frequent occurrence, ultimately resulting fatally to him. He was a young man, probably not over 30 years of age.

A Very Peculiar Mixture.

About 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Acting Governor Carter made an official or semi-official call upon the Captain and officers of the Italian man-of-war Elba. He was in his own private carriage, drawn by a double team, accompanied by R N Boyd as interpreter. Following right after, in another conveyances, were Senator Crabbe and Achi, the haole and Chinese politicians of this Island County, although both are part-native, the former, only one-quarter, and the latter, one-half.

This mixture was somewhat funny, but then there it was, for they were all there. Both are peers over their people, the former being above the average and having no equal, he having been brought up on the Mainland. The latter is home raised, but is deemed to be the equal of the haole brought part-Hawaiian, who is beyond all other home productions.

And that other part-Hawaiian, who received a foreign education at the expense of the tax payers of this country, a man of mean proportions, of unknown quality and of doubtful quantity, looked chip and smart as a sucker.

The last, but not the least, was the Acting Governor himself, an Island born haole of Island born parents. And putting the quartette together, it would be as hard to mix them as oil with water. But the public is informed now that it is his intention to take only Senior Senators when making visits, and not have any uniform staff.

Dole'd Position.

E P Dole has filed the following statement in the court in regard to his appointment as guardian of the Campbell minors:

I have not qualified as guardian in the above entitled matter for the reason that I at once understood that an appeal would be taken, and I did not wish to prematurely subject the estate to certain small expenses incident to qualification;

And for the further reason that, shortly after my appointment, it became probable that I would have to go East in behalf of a private business interest.

It has become necessary for me to take this business trip very soon, and I expect to be gone some two or three months.

Upon my return, if the decision of the Circuit Judge is sustained, I will assume the duties of the guardianship, provided there are no objections personal to me, as I understand there are none.

On the other hand, I shall decline the trust if my appointment is objectionable to the mother of the children for any reason personal to me.

I doubt the propriety of my submitting an argument or a brief in behalf of my own appointment to a position not to be struggled for, but one that should seek the man, rather that the man seek it.

I therefore respectfully ask the indulgence of the court in declining to argue the question of law involved, either by brief or otherwise.

THE PANAMA AFFAIR.

We predicted a few days ago that there would be interesting happenings at Panama within a week. In less than a week we have a hundred thousand men volunteering at Bogota to defend the rights of Colombia at Panama against the encroachments of the United States. The Senate at Washington is viewing with suspicion the "strenuous" action of President Roosevelt in recognizing the new republic, set up at the Isthmus behind American cannon. Fleets are being hurried from Atlantic stations to the scene of trouble, and within two weeks a great and powerful squadron from the Asiatic station will be in Honolulu harbor in readiness to proceed to that place. If it comes to war (and it almost certainly will) the United States is bound to win—even if the whole of South America should ally itself with Colombia. Our country has the men, the money and the swing to do it.

But that is not the point. Being great and powerful, the United States should be fair. Under the system of government outlined and established by Thomas Jefferson and maintained by the Democratic party, the United States has and must respect the rights of every people, a small nation being as great as a large and powerful one in the discussion and settlement of any question. The Democratic idea has always been directed along the line of moral right and obligations. It remained for President McKinley and the Republican party to set the new pace for America of "might makes right," and President Roosevelt is following that policy up more strenuously than his predecessor. In the old days, under Democratic rule, the United States respected and protected the rights of small nations and States. America was repaid—and amply, too—in respect and love. But what have we now? Under Republican rule in the past seven years we have transformed ourselves into a great dragon, ready to envelop any and every little power that may be unfortunate enough to meet with us. We have lost the respect and confidence of outside peoples. Only a change—the return to Democracy next year—will straighten us out and make the United States the real America again.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Kepoikai has not yet resigned as Treasurer and Carter has taken the oath as Governor. Who says—rats?

We think that Governor Carter should reappoint all of the former heads of departments, as Kepoikai has not resigned. It is due to such a stand that they be all reappointed.

"Who's all right?" "Kepoikai's all right." "Who ate crow?" "Carter ate crow." (No, gentlemen, that is not a band concert program. It is a new yell fixed up for the use of Football George.)

The action of the navy department in ordering the Oriental fleet to Honolulu shows that the United States government has at last discovered that there will be no war between Japan and Russia.

The death of Frederick J. Hills removes what may be termed the father of the soda water business in Honolulu. He introduced the first machinery for the manufacture of soda here and led the way in what afterward became a profitable industry for many concerns.

When Treasurer Kepoikai passed out of the throne room this morning after the inauguration of Governor Carter the latter extended both hands, and the greeting was warm enough to cook a brick. The dove of peace was made to hover so closely that the flutter of her wings could be heard in the neighboring hall-way. Witnesses of the important at-one-ment gained the impression that our strenuous Governor had thought the thing over and had concluded that the very best thing to do was to be—well, sensible.

If Kepoikai plays the puppet by doing what the Advertiser-Star want him, then he is not a puppet, but a man, withal. That is their conception of a man and a puppet. But because he has shown a spirit of independence, not of subserviency to a football crank, he is a puppet, a dishonorable and an ungentlemanly person. How very easy and soon they change their former tones of praise (which is now seen to be only a veneer of insincerity) to that of abuse and condemnation. We don't need any such trash in our soup.

When the Federal Grand Jury gets through with its investigation of the voucher matter, it should take up the matter of the liability of newspapers that lead courts and juries on fool's errands. The Advertiser and Star were responsible for this investigation and the expense of $5000 which it has entailed. In the beginning they had an idea of discrediting certain members of the Legislature, of their own party but not exactly in sympathy with them. Following up their mad scalp-hunt, they succeeded in dragging the Federal Grand Jury into an investigation that will cost a lot of money and will show nothing. All along the vouchers were exactly where the law prescribes that they should be. It does seem that after the thing is over and shows itself to be a political job, the Federal court should recover from the two papers bringing about all the trouble, expenses and suitable damages.

CARTER TAKES THE OATH.

Ceremony Witnessed by a Large Assembly.

Prior to the time appointed for the new governor's inaugural, the Legislative hall (the former Throne Room of Iolani Palace) was filled by spectators, including Senators and Representatives with their ladies, Federal and Territorial officials as well as army and naval officers, officers of the N. G. H., members of the Diplomatic and Consular corps, in a space set apart just below the dais. And at their back were ladies and gentlemen in all walks of life, white people predominating. Outside the band was discoursing music at the band orchestra.

Promptly on time (11 o'clock) the new Governor entered, headed by ex-Governor Dole and followed by Chief Justice Frear, all taking their places on the dais. Silence prevailing, the Rev. G. L. Pearson offered up prayers, and after which Mr. Carter was sworn in by the Chief Justice. Following the oath-taking, the new Governor read his inaugural address from a typewritten copy in a clear and distinct voice with trembling hands.

Everything was all over in fifteen minutes and everybody filed out. Mr Carter stationed himself at the Ewa side of the front door and there shook hands with all those who may, people of all stations doing homage. Of those who did so, one figure was particularly noticeable, and that was Treasurer Kepoikai. On approaching his new chief, he said: "May I have the pleasure of offering you my congratulations for your taking the Governorship." He offered his hand and Mr. Carter grasped it with both hands and giving him a hearty shake, at the same time saying: "Sure." This was the best scene, to our conception, during the whole proceeding.

THE INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Fellow Citizens, Ladies and Gentlemen:

A man can hardly find himself in a more difficult position than one in which he must speak about himself. Such is my position to-day, for I have to tell you that only the true and serious conviction that I owe a citizen's duty to this Territory, and also my deep and earnest love for this land of my birth, have led me to accept this high office, to which the President of our great Republic has been pleased to call me.

Fellow citizens, this is a most noble position that I am called to, yet were it not for the sense that President Roosevelt has confidence in me, and that many and able men of this Territory are ready and willing to assist me, I should hesitate before accepting.

This task which has come upon me is one which I assume with grave misgivings. I am young and impulsive, but youth is not always a bar to administrative success, and in spite of my temperament, I hope to show you that an earnest and fearless worker can produce results which are worthy of your estimation, if not of your entire approbation.

This I can tell you: I shall devote myself heart and soul to the duties of my high office. The country of my birth shall never say that I spared myself in serving her. In accepting the Governorship, I dedicate such talents as I have to the best interests of Hawaii and Hawaii's people.

I standy here today anxious to champion the just cause of every man, woman and child in these Islands, and still more anxious to advance Hawaii and Hawaiians in their progress to statehood.

Grand as the position which I have to assume, great are the responsibilities; and knowing my own shortcomings, as no one else but myself can know them, it is with the greatest diffidence that I come before you to-day as appointed Governor of this Territory. Most thoroughly do I realize the peculiar conditions and difficulties which surround the position.

I know that matters may often go wrong and that I shall be sharply and, no doubt, very wholesomely criticized for them. I know that when right I shall often be thought wrong by those who do not view or understand the whole situation. It is clearly the duty of a man in the position to which I have been appointed to do right, no matter what adverse opinion there may be.

A man who is Governor of this Territory, which is after all a small thing; a man who is elected Governor of a sovereign state, which is a great thing; or a man who is elected President of the United States, which is the greatest position in the world, must meet the inevitable attacks of those who disagree witah him. But the true citizen stands firm, and in spite of opposing views and antagonistic ideas, carries an honest and honorable policy to its legitimate end and stands or falls by his ideals.

Fellow citizens, that is what I intend to strive for, and it is to reach that end that I need your utmost help. It is your interests, not mine, that I shall serve.

Our Island home, my fellow citizens, is a beautiful one. There are few more beautiful. The colors of Italy and Greece, the scenic beauties of Spain, the marvels of India's vast plains and Africa's grand plateaus may be vaunted, but none of them can reach the rich coloring of sea and sky, the cool, varying greens of our tropical forests, the rich shadows of our receding valleys, the soft breezes which waft the sweet perfume of our beautiful flowers, and the gentle tenderness of our climate. I love Hawaii, from the rugged crown of Mauna Loa to the sunlit breakers that dash upon the fringing coral reefs.

But it is not our beauty that we must consider; there are other and more practical things that you and I must study.

Hawaii has a present, and also a future. Her present gives her great resources. Her rich plains and her mountain slopes; her recurrent showers and the limpid waters from her valleys give her exuberant crops, which support all her population in comparative affluence. There are few countries in the world so blessed—few whose present is more prosperous.

The future—that grand and wonderful future which is looming before us, portentous with great events, will find the Territory of Hawaii a central figure. The Pacific is going to be the theater of the world's history. The untold tale of human existence is going to be unfolded about the shores and in the waters of earth's mightiest ocean.

The waters of this ocean wash the coasts of continents—on one of which is the oldest empire, on another the mightiest Republic the world has ever seen. Our small Territory is geographically so situated that the great lines of commerce must pass our doors. In Hawaii, the Occident and the Orient meet. In Hawaii the Anglo-Saxon population of Australia shakes hands with the equally sturdy population of North America. It remains with Hawaii to wield her influence to make herself great.

When I consider this; when I realize that the peace, the prosperity, the honor and the happiness of this my birthplace are staked for four long years on the issue of this day, I humbly pray for the wisdom, the patience, the fairness, the clear judgment and ability so greatly needed.

It is no light burden which is put upon me. In that it is an honor, I am proud. In that it is a trust put upon me to give the best I have to my fellow citizens, I accept it.

I shall aim in my executive control to give this Territory an Administration frugal in public expenditure, thus lightening the burdens of the poor.

I intend to be scrupulously honest in the payment of all Governmental debts and obligations, thus sacredly preserving our good faith and credit. To all there will be fair treatment.

As a true Republican and a good citizen, I hope by my conduct and actions to allay many of those jealousies and the feelings which seem to exist, unnecessarily and unhappily, in our midst.

Times change, and we have to change with them. If we are to reach the full fruition of our position and wield an influence in the future, perhaps as a sovereign state, it can only be by the union of all elements—by harmony, with one end in view.

As a man born and bred in this country, I am an Hawaiian in thought and feeling. In all the Islands of the broad Pacific there is no aboriginal people equal to the Hawaiians—the flower of all Polynesia. Among them and with them, I hope to carry out the traditions of the Anglo-Saxon race from which I spring, that point towards liberty of thought, freedom and speech, and a high standard of virtue.

In taking this high office, with all its advantages and all its heavy burdens, I ask you to grant me your indulgence in my errors of judgment or misplaced confidence.

Believe me, my honored fellow citizens, I take this position not for gain, not for emolument, not for pride, not for popularity, not for power, but because, in my humble way while my life lasts, I desire to do all the good I can.

I know that in taking charge of your affairs as I do this day, I must sacrifice many friendships, and so much of my domestic felicity as service might and in your interests will require. I should not be worthy if I did not. I know that I will often be misunderstood; that is what I expect. But this I will say, at the outset of my career as Governor: that no matter what my friendships may be; no matter what the misunderstandings may be, I, George Robert Carter, will be constant and faithful in your service—will give you the best that there is in me, and will be ever honest and honorable in my conduct. I will so strive, that when I lay down my office and another takes it, I shall be able to look you in the face and say, I have done my best; my conscience is clear.

But I shall want more; I shall want to say: I was born a Polynesian, reared among Hawaiians. The crowning work of my life was in representing the Administration of the United States among the Hawaiians, and that there are not a few among them who join me in this: That the highest standard in the world, the thing that I am almost absolutely proud of, the thing that is greater and grander than any Polynesian ideal, is THAT I AM AN AMERICAN CITIZEN. May the word American ring from Hawaii to Niihau among the most earnest, most loyal, most patriotic people under the stars and stripes.

It is with such objects and such aims that I take up my Governorship.

GEORGE EATS CROW.

He Swallowed His Bitter Pill Without Wincing.

Is Now Our New Governor.

It may not be out of place to call the public's attention to statements alleged to have been made by Governor Carter previous to taking his oath of office this morning. It is claimed that he had stated that he would not accept the Governorship until he got Kepoikai's resignation, he being the only one who had held out. Up to this writing, Kepoikai has not resigned.

"I shall not become governor until I have the resignations of all the department heads. I don't propose to put my head in any such noose as I should by being inaugurated until I have a clean slate. As governor or acting governor I have not power to demand resignations. If Mr. Kepoikai does not resign perhaps I had better tell President Roosevelt to find someone satisfactory to Mr. Kepoikai for the governorship.'"—Carter's statement in the Star, Nov. 17.

"Governor Carter has stated positively that he will not be inaugurated until he has a clean slate."—Star, Nov. 16.

"The new governor repeated his former statement that he didn't intend to take the office without having all resignations, and until Kepoikai resigns Carter will simply 'hold down' the office of governor, in the capacity of acting governor, by virtue of his position as Secretary of the Territory."—Star, Nov. 17.

"Asked if he would immediately make his appointments upon becoming Acting-Governor, Governor Carter declared that he would make no appointments until he had received the resignations of all the heads of the Government departments."—Bulletin, Nov. 17.

EGOTISM

I, GEORGE ROBERT CARTER

Nothing but a sacrificial regard for the best interests of Hawaii could have induced me to assume this most important position.

This is, after all, a very small position.

When Thanksgiving comes, for what will Carter give thanks?

Kepoikai will eat turkey on Thanksgiving, Carter will eat crow, as he has been doing, ever since breaking his promise not to take the Governorship unless Kepoikai should resign.

CORRESPONDENCE.

What Reynolds Thinks.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:

While I fully agree with you so far as the advancement of our Hawaiian brethren is concerned, yet I must differ from you in the position you take as between my friend Kepoikai and our now Governor Carter. I fail to see what is to be gained by the different newspapers making capital out of the supposed difference between Kepoikai and Carter.

It is presumed to be correct that the position Kepoikai takes is correct. That being conceded, then there is nothing inconsistant to the dignity of the Governor to accept the position as it exists. In his speech the Governor has committed himself to a proposition that I am certain he will carry out and knowing Kepoikai as I do I am certain that Kepoikai will not under any pretence or circumstance do any one thing contrary to the best interest of the country in which both were born.

Let illiberal people be careful how they form their opinions.

INCONSISTENCY OF BENNY.

At a private and sentimental affair the other day, among those specially invited as guests was B. F. Dillingham. During a certain stage of the function, apart from the sentimental side of it, Mr. Benny Dillingham wrung in business matters which we considered entirely out of place. In his address, he did not forget to speak of his railroad enterprise, saying that if it had not been for the vote of the Hawaiians in the Legislature, the Oahu Railway & Land Co. wouldn't be what it is today, and that the bill granting the franchise was finally carried by the vote of one Hawaiian, whom he didn't mention when asked by others present. He further added that no Hawaiian had ever asked him for a five-cent piece.

In this last remark of his, it may be said that we did not know how to take it. Whether he meant to convey the impression that he paid nothing for the franchise, or whether, since he got it, no Hawaiian had ever approached him for pay. Or else, because they knew they couldn't get anything from him anyway, they were scarey of approaching him; and furthermore, they are not accustomed to begging for a living or otherwise, unless it be for work, which they never can get even from Mr. Benny Dillingham.

That occasion was not the first time we have heard Mr. Benny Dillingham make these statements. We have heard him before about two or three times. Yet at no time have we ever heard him give credit to the one Hawaiian who had the faith to make the railroad a possibility instead of only a probability. But what we are after is the making of these flattering and creditable statements, favorable to the Hawaiians at large as a people, in private and narrow circles, and never publicly. Since the overthrow of the Hawaiian Government in 1893, there was no time that he ever made statements like these to the credit of the Hawaiian people. Never once have we ever known nor has it ever been brought to our notice. From him and others of his narrow clan and clique, it has always been statements derogatory to the native Hawaiians as a class and a people.

Everything to discredit the Hawaiian people is being said by those who are opposed to Hawaiian rule and to the Hawaiians ruling their own country, he is silent and mute in public, except only in private and in nooks and crevices. Why is it? Is it because it is policy for him to do so or is it the policy of his clan? Which is it, pray? Is he afraid to come out with it, for fear it will hurt "the forcible minds" of those whom Judge Hartwell referred to in his ancient historical events of the trying days of the revolution of 1893 the other day at the inauguration of Mr. Dole as U. S. District Judge? We can hardly believe that he was earnest and sincere, because they are all more or less tarred with the same brush. In our humble opinion, it is much better for him to come out openly than attempt to hide his "light under a bushel."

Let us look about us and see who are being employed by the same railroad corporation which had its being through the action of native Hawaiian legislators. Hardly a Hawaiian is being employed as a laborer outside of a few young men on the cars and in the workshops. The majority of laborers are Asiatics, and yet there are any amount of Hawaiians and other American citizens floating around doing nothing and are only too glad to have something to do. But no, Mr. Dillingham and those largely interested employ Asiatics almost altogether, even to doing the work of skilled laborers. A car shed is being built mainly with this kind of cheap labor, even to doing concrete work, which is a poor commentary on the generosity of the people and of the country that has harbored him and them, and in which they are receiving a handsome subsidized bounty without the payment of taxes in return, although we concede that the opening of the railroad has done a great deal in the way of enhancing property values and of creating valuable sugar enterprises whereby taxes are being indirectly paid to the Government. Instead of the railroad paying taxes direct, it has caused others to do it indirectly.

But is it just that the labor should be given out to aliens who hoard and send most of their earnings out of the country? Why not employ those of the country, by paying them living wages, and who will spend their earnings right here with us? One good turn deserves another, and here is a case in point that it should be. The claim is (privately) made that Hawaiians granted the impetus to this enterprise, then why not give them the same in return for past favors? Had it not been the generosity and the foresight of Hawaiians, now being despised by many of our soullers corporations in like manner as the O. R. & L. Co., claiming Mr. Dillingham as our best authority, where would the railroad be today, and where would his success be as a promoter? We think he would be floating in the air with a demented mind, in the same manner that killed Samuel G. Wilder, and his then hobby would be but as a mere chimera of unknown quantity.

If Mr. Dillingham and others are sincere as they make themselves appear to be, let them show forth a little of it and of the stuff that they are supposed to be made of. Give the people some work and in like manner a little of the gains they are reaping handsomely instead of passing it into the hands of foreigners who do not own this country as their home and who had nothing to do with aiding and fostering the enterprise. Let us see some of it let loose.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Governor Carter has already been found out to be a man not of his word. He has become Governor with Kepoikai still in office as treasurer.

E. S. Boyd, Commissioner of Public Lands, has found his medicine in resigning. That's what he gets for attempting to be an accommodating fellow to the new gubernatorial incumbent. Serves him right for being such an easy prey.

Isaac Noar, der man mit der diamonts, has sent a picture of President Roosevelt to Governor Carter, together with a letter of congratulation that is extremely "touching," to say the least. The only thing left out in the proceeding was the football. Too bad, Ikey; try again.

Besides the impulsive temperament inherent in our new and young Governor, he is also a grand bluffer, a buffer between himself, the Polynesian born and the Anglo-Saxon origin, and, —well, a man that don't mean what he says. So much for our football Governor.

Read and mark Governor Carter's taffy on the Hawaiian people, when he said in his inaugural address that "in all the Islands of the broad Pacific there is no aboriginal people equal to the Hawaiians—the flower of all Polynesia." Did he mean it? We know better, for he did not, as he has no use for the Hawaiian people, not by those accidentally born haoles who are wrongly classed as Hawaiians.

Once upon a time, among those who went head hunting down to Kalalau valley, Kauai, for Koolau, the leper outlaw, was J. W. Pratt. It was then said of him that he was so scared of that one diseased and desperate man that he did not know that his life was his own and that his trousers were always wet with internal perspiration. And they would have him remain in office. What for, pray?

Treasurer Kepoikai was abused by the Advertiser-Star combination for being a man not of his word, because it was claimed by them that he twice promised to resign and then flatly refused to do so when asked by Mr. Carter. But how about Carter, who wouldn't take office till Kepoikai had resigned, and then did the opposite? What is to be said of such a man? A crow eater. Sure kela, Mike.

Having expressed himself in the public prints that he would not take office as Governor until all the department heads had resigned and not until the last one of them (Kepoikai) had done so would he (Carter) become the Governor de facto. Without gaining this requisite, he has now done so. Then, what are we to believe in him? Was it only a bluff then, a bluff which didn't do the work intended.

In a war with all South America the United States would almost certainly not encounter the open hostility of any European power, but there would be private aid in the way of money and men that would be vastly important and dangerous. Germany and France are both largely interested in the continent in a commercial way, and they will not likely be "looking" when their citizens are helping in a quiet manner to protect themselves.

We fail to see what there is in Kimo Palaki (Jim Pratt the Brush) that the Republican Central Committee should recommend him for another executive appointment. Will Carter dare appoint a defeated candidate, and thereby establish a precedent in this Territory for the future? And quoting our new Governor, who said of "the future—that grand and wonderful future which is looming before us, portentious with great events." Yes, the future will yet have something to say relative to such as Jim Pratt.

If there are faulty points in the county law let them be disclosed as their damaging effect becomes apparent. The political parties of the islands are unanimous in favor of county government. It is true that the law given us by the Republican Legislature is full of kinks, but it is better than nothing. The bridge is strong enough to support the system until the Legislature meets again, and in view of that we say "drive on." We have nothing to gain by attacking the law on small points before we know positively that those points are illegal or will work injustice at some hand.

"I, George Robert Carter, Governor of the Territory of Hawaii, was born a Palynesian, reared among Hawaiians, but I sprang from the Anglo-Saxon race, of which I am one by blood as well as by ties, yet always an American citizen. As I love Hawaii, I dedicate such talents as I have to the best interests of Hawaii and Hawaii's people (the aboriginals among them I hate and despise) and still, I am more anxious to advance Hawaii (for their gain) and Hawaiians (not on your life) in their progress (digression towards extinction) to statehood." Did any of you ever see such egotistical impulsiveness as is in the young football player, George Robert Carter, now the great "I am," young and impulsive.

Carter's Shoulders.

Governor Carter intends to arrange matters so that he may get along without what is known as the Governor's Council. It will then throw all of the responsibilities upon his shoulders. It is understood that the object of the council was to avoid that, but Mr Carter seems willing to tackle the job and if he is not capable he will give it up and go back to private life. The impression seems to be that he can handle it alone.—Hawaii Herald.

PUBLIC LANDS NOTICE.

Commissioner of Public Lands.

A land license for a period of 50 years, to collect, divert and sell the surface water and power produced therefrom, upon and from the public lands, situate on the Island of Hawaii and lying between the sea on the north; Waipio Valley on the East; Waipio Valley and the boundary line between the lands of Laupahoehoe 1 and 2, Nakooka, Apua, Waikapu and Honopue on one side and the lands of Puukapu and Kawaihae 1, on the other side, until such line reaches an elevation of 4,200 feet, thence a contour line of 4,200 ft. elevation to Honokane on the South, and the land of Honokane and the private land of Awini on the West, subject to existing vested rights of private parties in such waters, will be offered at Public Auction on Monday, November 30, 1903, at 12 o'clock noon, at the front entrance of the Judiciary Building.

Persons competing at this sale will bid upon the rate per cent. of the net revenues of the enterprise carried on under such license, to be paid annually to the Government of the Territory of Hawaii, from and after the third year of the term of such license.

A bond of $10,000 will be required on surety satisfactory to the Government, conditioned on the due performance of the requirement that $10,000 be expended on construction within 18 months from the beginning of the term of the license $500 shall be paid by the holder thereof to the Government, semi-annually in advance irrespective of such rate per cent: the first payment of $500 to be made at the fall of the hammer, by paying the same to the Commissioner of Public Lands. Upset 5 per cent. on the net revenues. Any bid than on percentage of the net revenues will not be entertained.

Full information in regard to other conditions of such license will be furnished at the office of the Commissioner of Public Lands.

THE THANKS WE GIVE.

The Independent is reverently thankful that the final overthrow of missionary political influence in Hawaii is dawning and is one year nearer than it was a year ago.

We thank God for the prospect of a Democratic victory at the next national election, and for the prospective early extinction of the guild of hypocrites as a political power in Hawaii, as an incident to follow from such victory.

We thank God that our new Governor is not to be deprived of a thanksgiving dinner of his own selection, and trust the dish of CROW which he has prepared with such elaborate attention to detail, may not give him the nightmare, nor cause him to dream dreams wherein his head will appear of greater girth than it now appears to the public.

We thank God that our new Federal Judge is, in our belief, able to rise above the discords of political party strife, and to give us a fair and just administration of justice, with all the spice and vinegar of political bias omitted.

We thank God that there is still one Hawaiian left in a responsible office, despite the frantic, bigheaded and insolent efforts of our "fresh" young Governor to remove him. "Stand pat," is a good enough maxim for Kepoikai at present to observe.

Lastly, but not least, we thank God, that in accordance with the proclamation of our new Governor while Acting Governor, we are able to thank him for all the strenuous life here below and that he has been spared to rule over us and we hope with "scrupulously honest" and sincere motives.

And finally, with all earnestness, we sincerely thank our Aimighty Father that we have been spared this long, and another year of existence has blown over our heads, and that beginning with tomorrow, we will ever watch and pray for the ultimate consummation of the thoughts hereinbefore expressed.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

San Domingo is having a little holiday wrestle with herself. Hadn't Mr. Roosevelt better send the Boston down there to land marines and annex the place?

That Ohio parasite spoken of by the Advertiser this morning must not be confounded with any of the Republican carpetbaggers from the Buckeye State who are now feeding upon the leaves and "suckers" of the official arbor of Hawaii nei.

Senator Mitchell's bills, introduced into Congress, while ostensibly friendly, will have the effect, on account of the weight of the bonds required of office holders, of shutting many worthy men out of public office. Reading between the lines one is led to imagine that our plutocrats had succeeded in getting the ear of the distinguished Oregonian.

Delegatee Kuhio met with a cordial reception in Washington. He was greeted heartily by the Republicans, who probably wanted to see a real live Prince. His greeting by the Democrats was equally cordial, but Prince Cupid will find out before he is many days older that that greeting carried more behind it. Mr. Wilcox found the Democrats to be his best friends and Kuhio will have the same experience.

Forts around Honolulu would be the worst asset the city could have. Modern warfare does not consist in attacks upon cities unless the cities afford a base of valuable supplies or of descent upon the bases of the enemy. The proposed fortifications should be located at Pearl harbor and the harbor so protected that an attacking party could not hope to reach it by landing at Honolulu.

The Independent is so thankful this year that it will remain silent and at prayer tomorrow. We are thankful that we are independent, and that our independence is appreciated by most people. We are thankful that we have a Republican administration ruling over us, for it will bring the people to their senses and they will have no more of it after next year. We are thankful that George Carter knows how to play football, for we believe in the sport. We are thankful that Dole's whiskers are as long at this time as they were last Thanksgiving. We are thankful that Kepoikai will eat turkey tomorrow and our strenuous Governor will eat crow. We are thankful that J. W. Pratt is negotiating with the expressman. And we are thankful for other things, too numerous to mention. "Fill 'em up again."

"As a man born and bred in this country, I am an Hawaiian in thought and feeling," said Governor Carter in his inaugural address. Tut, tut; that we cannot believe, for he has spent most of his life with Americans and hardly ever with Hawaiians, other than those of his own clan. How can one so brought up think and feel as a Hawaiian? He should have said that he was and is an American in thought and feeling, for he hopes "to carry out the traditions of the Anglo-Saxon race." There you are; he would be right there, for he can never be a "Hawaiian in thought and feeling."

In looking over the list of names of those personally invited by Curator Brigham, as published in this morning's Advertiser, to the invitational affair of yesterday afternoon, at the opening of the new wing to the Bishop Museum, we fail to find the name of a single Hawaiian, other than those haole-Hawaiians by accident of birth, and of many malihinis. But we have been reliably informed that only one Hawaiian gentleman and five Hawaiian ladies were noticed at the affair. We consider this an insult to the Hawaiian people, which should not be so soon forgotten, as well as an insult to the generosity of the late lamented Hawaiian chiefess, whose estate is maintaining this "Brigham" institution. But what were the trustees of the Museum doing, in allowing this insult to go abroad unchecked? This cannot go on unnoticed by The Independent.

During the funeral obsequies at Central Union Church last Sunday over the remains of the late Col. Cornwell, the eulogium by the Rev. Mr. Kincaid sounded simiiar to The Independent's article of the evening before. The expressions although not in the same language, were the same, the sentiments conveyed being almost identical and to the same point. To those of our readers who were present, this similarity must have impressed itself. It showed that The Independent is read by those of the other side and may be, behind closed doors and in the dark. This is an instance where one can see through a glass darkly, or else we are sadly mistaken. No credit was given this paper, but anyway we were content with the use made of our estimation of our late departed fellow-citizen and ever the "hale fellow well met" that he was. To the departed one, we conclude in wishing his soul that "peace, perfect peace," and to his ashes —"requiescat in pace."

One Mudenstein from Hilo, who has been in the city for many days past fishing a job, either as Superintendent of Public Works or as Commissioner of Public Lands, saw fit once upon a time during the past week, so it is reported to sound and feel the pulse of Treasurer Kepoikai and offered his advice gratis without the asking. This job chaser from the Rainy City tried to influence Kepoikai to resign, and in doing so, he bugged the Maui man. He further suggested a dinner where three of them, including "Pidgy" Governor, the great "I am" of Roosevelt's administration of national affairs were to meet. We are given to understand that all these advances were spurned, and righteously too, because he was incapable of understanding what it is to have a principle as well as of coping with the situation. M Hilo, for and on behalf of the Island of Hawaii, wants to have a representative in one of the departments, they had better look for another and a much better man.

NOTICE.

The Bishop Museum will be open to the public on Friday and Saturday and all public holidays, except Thanksgiving and Christmas on and after December 27, 1903, from 10 a m to 4 p m. Teachers with classes must come by previous appointment.

Who is Holloway? A Johnny-come-lately and is hardly known outside of steam pumps.

Horse shoers complain that the electric cars, in taking the place of horses, have reduced their business fully one half.

The Cosmopolitan saloon in Nuuanu street has been reopened as a wholesale and retail place by Peacock & Co. It is now called the California.

The office of THE INDEPENDENT is in the brick building next to teh Hawaiian hotel grounds on Beretania street, Waikiki of Alakea. First floor.

Sailors of the Iroquois were paid off today and those not required for immediate duty on the ship were given liberty for forty-eight hours to celebrate Thanksgiving.

It is reported that Governor Carter has made the appointments and reappointments of departmental heads already mentioned herein and as recommended by the Republican Executive Committee.

Governor Carter today appointed C S Holloway to be superintendent of public works; J W Pratt, commissioner of public lands; Mr Creedon, private secretary. He will likely send the name of Mark P Robinson to Washington for appointment as Territorial Secretary.

Treasurer Kepoikai will not, on his own responsibility, accept the offer of the United States Mortgage & Trust Company to pay three per cent for the million odd dollars included in the recent loan if deposited with that concern. He has addressed the Governor on the subject but that dignitary has not yet vouchsafed an opinion.

"President" Carter.

Mr William Jennings Bryan, in the latest issue of The Commoner, makes George R Carter "president" of the island of Hawaii. This is hard on Czar Andrews, but, at any rate, this is what Mr Bryan says:

It was recently announced from Washington that Sanford B Dole, governor of Hawaii, had been appointed judge of the United States district court of Hawaii, and will be succeeded as president of the island by George R Carter, secretary of Hawaii. Mr Dole has served in Hawaii for a long term, first as governor of the provisional government after the overthrow of the monarchy and afterwards as governor of the island since its annexation to the United States.

Wants $5,000 Damages.

Excelsior Lodge of Odd Fellows yesterday began suit against the Rapid Transit Company for $5,000 damages. Complainant's property is alleged to have been injured to that extent as the result of the laying of a switch in front of its property on Fort street opposite Chaplain lane. The Odd Fellows protested against this switch before it was begun and rushed through. It is claimed, however, that while the work was going on an injunction to stop it was issued by Judge Robinson but that no heed was paid to the order.

The Museum Opened.

The Bishop Museum Annex was formally opened yesterday afternoon Addresses were delivered by Prof W T Brigham and others. During the Winter months the Museum will be kept open on Fridays and Saturdays between the hours of 10 a m and 4 p m. In the Summer the hours will be 10 to 5.

A Pointer for Hawaii.

St Louis.—Golden Gate Park will supply the California World's Fair Commission with all the plants necessary to emblish the landscape surrounding the California building at the World's Fair, St Louis. The display of shrubbery and trees will be the largest ever made by California at any exposition and will reveal the wonderful climate of that state.

HAWAIIANS WILL BE DEMOCRATS.

"You may say for me that Mrs Wilcox and myself, as the natural sponsors of the work and policies mapped out by the late R W Wilcox, will work together in the direction of combining the Home Rule party with the Democratic party in these Islands. Mr Wilcox was long ago convinced that that was the thing to do, but he was opposed by men of his party for only secondary reasons. The objections offered against his ideas have been largely removed by a number of circumstances, and I feel sure that in a very short while the two parties will be working together, harmoniously and satisfactorily."

Thus spoke Edgar Caypless, one of the leaders of the Home Rule party and lately candidate on the ticket of that party for the office of county attorney, last night. The plan of Mr Caypless and Mrs Wilcox seems to be to form a union with the Democratic party, the new organization to be known as the Home Rule-Democratic party. Just how the union is to be effected is not clearly stated, but it is assumed that the Mrs Wilcox element expects to operate through the Democratic central committee.

Thanksgiving Services.

Central Union church, St Andrew's and the Catholic cathedrals, St Clement's and other smaller churches had thanksgiving exercises yesterday. Three congregations met at Central Union and there the principal program was carried out. Among the features was the reading of the President's proclamation by Governor Carter. Rev G L Pearson delivered the sermon. At St Andrew's Rev Alex Mackintosh addressed the congregation, and at the Catholic cathedral Bishop Libert held high mass.

HAWAIIANS WILL BE DEMOCRATS.

"You may say for me that Mrs Wilcox and myself, as the natural sponsors of the work and policies mapped out by the late R W Wilcox, will work together in the direction of combining the Home Rule party with the Democratic party in these Islands. Mr Wilcox was long ago convinced that that was the thing to do, but he was opposed by men of his party for only secondary reasons. The objections offered against his ideas have been largely removed by a number of circumstances, and I feel sure that in a very short while the two parties will be working together, harmoniously and satisfactorily."

Thus spoke Edgar Caypless, one of the leaders of the Home Rule party and lately candidate on the ticket of that party for the office of county attorney, last night. The plan of Mr Caypless and Mrs Wilcox seems to be to form a union with the Democratic party, the new organization to be known as the Home Rule-Democratic party. Just how the union is to be effected is not clearly stated, but it is assumed that the Mrs Wilcox element expects to operate through the Democratic central committee.

Thanksgiving Services.

Central Union church, St Andrew's and the Catholic cathedrals, St Clement's and other smaller churches had thanksgiving exercises yesterday. Three congregations met at Central Union and there the principal program was carried out. Among the features was the reading of the President's proclamation by Governor Carter. Rev G L Pearson delivered the sermon. At St Andrew's Rev Alex Mackintosh addressed the congregation, and at the Catholic cathedral Bishop Libert held high mass.

SHOULD REDUCE RATES.

To charge fifty cents as entrance fee to see a game of football is to extort money out of the public, not counting in the conveyance thither. A big business was done by the Baseball Association by drawing big crowds and the charge was only twenty-five cents, including car-fares both ways. With baseball, the people had three hours and more to witness the games, but now with football, only an hour and a little more. Since the opening of the present football season, the attendance has not been as large as those during the late baseball season. We think it would pay the Football Association better if it reduced its entrance fee one-half, to the standard of the baseball season and we believe the attendance would be larger, the receipts greater and the percentages higher. Yesterday's attendance was not as large as it might have been, the cause of it being the excessive charge as above referred to. Bring it down a peg and all would merrily go as a marriage bell.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Governor Carter had lots of company in the big head line this morning, from all accounts.

We have just found out why C. S. Holloway was oppointed to be superintendent of public works: He has a football record.

After professing a hatred for Turkey ever since the Macedonian outrages started, Honolulu proved yesterday that she actually loved turkey very well.

Football Pidgy George was yesterday missed from the footabll field. Was he home giving thanks by saying his prayers for the honor bestowed upon him?

Didn't we say so before that because Alatau Atkinson had already been assured of reappointment, in case he resigned, has turned out true. And Attorney General Andrews and Auditor Fisher were the same with the exception of Dr. Cooper and E. S. Boyd, who both resigned without prior assurance.

J. W. Pratt takes the palm in the contest for honors as a sucker of Government pap. Ever since he struck the beach he has been bleeding the public purse in one way or another, clinging to the tit like a half-starved calf. How long should the people stand for that sort of thing? It might be better to retire Pratt on a pension, if there is to be much more of it.

Not in years have rats been so numerous in Honolulu as at present. The medical world admits that rodents are the principal agency for the spread of the plague. Still, while the rat population is going on multiplying day after day, with ever increasing danger to the city, our "strenuous" Board of Health is giving its time and attention to a silly war on mosquitoes—a nuisance but not essentially a peril.

The Rpeublican central committee forgot something: L. A. Andrews, of Hawaii, will be out of a job in January, and as it seems to be the policy of the Republican party to take care of men that the people will not have, his case would seem to merit attention by the committee. Maybe an office could be created at Oahu prison to be called that of the Thumb-Stringer-General and given to Andrews.

Governor Carter has, like his predecessor, appointed another Johnny-come lately to an important office under his dictatorship, probably because the appointee is allied to one of his pot-eating" friends. If that is really the one main qualification, besides his being unknown except within certain circles, then the Governor's Americanism is to be doubted as being too strained against Hawaiianst and those known residents of older standing.

We feel that the new Government was most discourteous to the retiring Government. No allusion whatever was made by the new, in his inaugural address, to the old, the one man who held back the hotheaded ones who wished to rub-it into the Hawaiians when they, the revolutionists got into power by the assistance of the United States. It was the least that he could have done. This we deemed very poor and scant.

The discovery by Mosquito Catcher General Larnach that the urns and flower pots in the cemeteries are the worst places yet uncovered for the propagation of misquitoes is just about the size of the inspector and the fool committee. If oil is any good in the mosquito campaign it should be possible to use it successfully in cemetery urns with less chance of harm than in any other place. There is no need whatever for disturbing the flowers on graves, and if Mr. Larnach attempts to do that (as he threatens) he will get himself into a very uncomfortable fix.

Henry E. Cooper, upon his retirement from office, left plans for certain public works in a finished state and ready to be taken up. The Government has to its credit in New York more than a million dollars for this work. Governor Carter has installed into office as superintendent of public works a man in whom he professes to have the greatest confidence. All this being the case, we shall expect the Governor and his assistants to get busy immediately if not sooner.

Tomorrow was once the Hawaiians' grand day, the day of days with them, but now it has been wiped out and their independence is of the past. Although it is still officially observed as a National holiday in this Territory, it is ill and out of place. Hawaiians will, nevertheless, quietly observe the day in silence and fasting, and in some instances perhaps with feasting. At one time, it was a day of general jollification and feasting, but that has all passed away.

While friendly to the inspectors of the Board of Health and appreciating fully the value of their services, we must say that in distributing the balance of the allotment between them the Board of Health went outside of the law and the inspectors were morally wrong in accepting money in that way. Money left over from appropriations must be returned to the treasury. The Board of Health had no more right to hand out this surplus to its inspectors than would the clerk of the Board had he done the same thing on his own responsibility.

Many inquiries have been made of us as to who C. S. Holloway is, the one whom Governor Carter recently appointed as Superintendent of Public Works. All we can say in answer is that we don't know who he is nor anything regarding his capability. He's a newcomer (malihini), a Johnny-come-lately, who managed to wed one of our prominent and well-known Hawaiian women. We wonder whether such an alliance has anything to do with his appointment, or whether that was his main and only drawing card with our new Chief? His qualifications are of an unknown quantity beyond that of steam pumps and general soak, topped off with poi cocktails for bracers.

It seems to us that the pay of Circuit Judges is quite in keeping with the ordinary schedule for Government employes and the work done by them. The positions are high in the scale of honor, and should not be sought for the money in them at all. In the old days the Circuit Judges of Honolulu were fewer in number, yet they wrestled with more and greater problems, and for less money. Today much of the business of the Circuit Court is taken up by the Federal Court, and the former has the advantage of three in place of four judges. In the old days the judges labored more for the sake of the honor than the money in the office held by them. Today it seems to be different.

We have been given to understand that when certain Hawaiian members in the Republican Executive Committee intended to propose names of those they wished to recommend to the Governor for appointment to departmental positions, Chairman Crabbe coolly suppressed them by saying that it was "all right," and then they subsided, because in the minority. This was no doubt caused by a prearrangement with his friend Carter for Holloway, a Johnny-come-lately, whose ability and integrity is unknown, and for Pratt, a defeated man who must be looked after. "Funny kind haoles," these, anyway, who must and should be fed as against the interests of those of the country.

To those persons who urge that if a Democratic President is elected next year Governor Carter cannot be retired by him for the reason that he is appointed for four years, we have to say that the President has every right to remove a Territorial governor of an opposite political party and in opposition to his political views. Upon each change of authority at Washington the ministers and consuls thoughout the world are changed, and in the case of a Territorial governor the situataion would be the same. A Republican President could not remove Mr. Carter arbitrarily in this way, for the reason that political opposition could not be claimed to exist; but with a Democrat —the case would be altogether different.

More Money for Judges.

At the meeting of the Bar Association Wednesday afternoon it was decided to recommend the raising of the salaries of Circuit judges from $3,000 to $4,000. It was reported at the meeting that two of the judges were about to resign on account of the inadequate pay. Judge A S Hartwell, W O Smith and W A Kinney were appointed a committee to bring the matter properly before the authorities at Washington.

Mailes Lost Again.

In a brilliant wind up the H A C football team yesterday afternoon defeated the Mailes by a score of 18 to 0. Victory for the big fellows came, however, only after the hardest kind of struggle. The result of the game makes it impossible for the Mailes to win the season and puts the H A C team at the top of the score board.

RECENT ELECTION IN THE STATES.

WASHINGTON, D.C. Nov. 12:

The election is over and the democracy has much to congratulate itself for.

This is a time for democratic jubilation and elation. In every state where the democrats made the attempt they either defeated the republicans or cut down the majority in such a manner as to give encouragement to every democrat in the land. Only in the single state of Ohio were we defeated worse than we expected to be. No democrat in the country expected Tom L Johnson to be elected governor. He did not expect it himself. He was fighting for the legislature to defeat Mark Hanna for the United States Senate. He made a gallant fight and with right principle. He preached the gospel of humanity to the people of his state, the gospel of the people's rights as against the rights of the corporation, and it is a gospel that must in the end prevail or the people not alone of his state but of the entire nation will have sacrificed their birthright on the altar of corporate greed. His defeat and the defeat of the ticket and the principles he represented must be attributed to the defection in the ranks of the democratic party in Ohio and to the lavish use of money at the polls and before the election. Some day those people in the state of Ohio will see and know the truth and it will be a democratic state. In the meantime the only thing those patriots in Ohio can do is to pick their flint and keep their powder dry. There will be another battle next year and the indications from the battle of the 3d of this month presage a glorious victory.

It is the consensus of democratic opinion here among the clans of gathering democrats who come to the assembling of the Fifty-eighth Congress, that the democrats have much in the election at which to rejoice. We more than held our own in the little state of Rhode Island by re-electing our governor; we carried the state of Maryland not only for the state ticket but for United States Senator; we carried Kentucky by an increased majority which eternally puts the kibosh on republican assassination in that state; we reduced the majority in the rockribbed republican state of Iowa by at least 20,000, and we made a clean sweep of the great city of New York. The latter was a great victory for more than one reason. It was a victory for the great common people, for home rule, for democratic methods, and a defeat for hypocrisy, false pretense, the rule of the corporation and the aristocrat, a cold bath for the bootlicks and sycophants who whine about the knees of predatory wealth.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Uniforms of the late staff officials will now be cheap and be a drug on the market. Don't all bid at once; they'll be cheap at $5 a suit.

Now the Government is in the "hollow way" of going about and making the appointment of an unknown malihini. And this has happened after the "cooper" got out.

No, Thursday night's display in the sky was not the aurora borealis. It was only the after-glow of George Carter's eloquence while reading his Thanksgiving proclamation at Central Union church during the morning.

A pun was let of today at the expense of The Independent, that lately we have been "injecting tobasco with a hypodermic syringe." Some may think so, and others think that we have been rather severe. Toot-toot.

Residents of Puunui are thankful that the Government has at last put in electric lights to assist the wayfarer through those darksome roads. The only remaining things are water and good roads, and these will probably come later.

We have been informed that at a private native dinner out Palama way last Saturday night, a couple of native police officers assaulted a native lady without justification. The only cause, so our information goes, was because the lady, having a mother's pride and jealousy, resented the slapping of her son's head by one of the officers, who had become unruly and insulting through drink, and for this she was choked and her chair upset. If this is true, some investigation should be at once instituted.

Mr. Bryan's "President Carter of the Island of Hawaii" is something like E. M. Boyd's "snowy slopes." There is, however, nothing like a variety. With a lot of governors and presidents and sunny shores and snowy slopes we should certainly be able to cater to the fancy of almost anybody.

Johnnie-come-latelies are still to the fore. We did think that we were done with them when Cooper and his pet, Marston Campbell, resigned, but we see that we are yet to have another dose of it with one Holloway. All the Judges of the First Circuit Court are of this class, but more we must have in the Executive.

Had President Roosevelt appointed all of the Republican candidates that were defeated in the last election to be ambassadors in Europe or to become members of his cabinet, the matter would be very satisfactory in Hawaii. But it is manifestly unfair for a Governor to foist upon this or any other public a man whom they had determined at the polls was not worthy of their confidence.

Our strenuous Governor found a new aide in G. E. Smithies yesterday. It is claimed that he wants Hawaiians for just such a place and he had to fall back upon Mr. Smithies, who did it to perfection, so we are informed. But where was the late aide, Mr. Hawes, the carpetbagger brother-in-law of our Francis Hatch, who had to be fed as a recompense for the part played by him in the destiny of this country?

We would advise our friends to withhold judgment in the Brooks case until the facts are disclosed in the court. It is true that the Advertiser has already tried and convicted the young attorney, but the latter has not yet played his card and a fair-minded public should await that before forming an opinion. In this affair Mr. Brooks will ultimately appear as the scape-goat of certain other people, or we are mighty badly mistaken—and we seldom make mistakes.

To mention the name of W. R. Hearst is followed by consequences about as funny as trailing a stick through the colony of a cage of monkeys. The Republican press proceeds instanter to stand on its head, jump over itself and make face that would cause a horse to laugh. There is much behind the fact, however. Our g. o. p. friends well know that if Mr. Hearst is nominated by the Democratic party next year, he will be the President of the United States on March 4, 1905. Hence all this funny business.

The closing of the Moana hotel (should that occur) will be a matter of general regret. In such event, however, the public will have only the morning press to thank. It began its "tourist" campaign last January by stamping this country as a place ridden with dengue fever, and from morning to morning published the names of prominent citizens that had been laid out by the terrible scourge (?). Next, it was mosquitoes. To read the morning paper meant "nixie" to any prospective tourist. The Advertiser's yellow streak has put all the hotels of Honolulu on the wrong side of the ledger.

In another column a former visitor to Honolulu, and a staunch Republican, gives his views in regard to the results of the next Presidential campaign. He has figured the thing out in about the same way as several millions of other people. The United States is done with a party that seeks to make the rich man richer and the poor man poorer. It is done with a party that oppresses weak nations and uses the power of the Government to absorb them at will. It is done with the scandals that have been going on in the postoffice, interior and other departments in the past year and that stink from Puerto Rico to the Philippine Islands. As our Republican friend intimates there must and will be a change.

Of all the Central and South American countries only one—Guatamala—has expressed sympathy for Panama in the present rumpus. And why should Guatamala take such a stand? The reason is so plain as to make the endorsement of very little real value. Guatamala and Nicaragua are the worst of enemies, and have frequently been at war. Matters between them still remain unsettled. If the canal went through Nicaragua it would be an immense lift for that country but would not help Guatamala in any direct and appreciable way. On the other hand the choice of the Panama route would help Guatamala both directly and indirectly, and would be a terrible blow to her old enemy. With Guatamala it was purely a spite and business proposition, and she has acted precisely as was to be expected.

If Colombia is a gem of the ocean Uncle may yet conclude to wear it on his shirt front.—Advertiser.

Yes, that may be true; but by what means? The United States has the force to acquire all of South America if she wants it. In backing up the defection of Panama, or in the annexation of any territory in South America, without the consent of the people, the United States is, however, taking a stand diametrically at variance with the plan mapped out by Thomas Jefferson and the forefathers of the country. The absorption of Central and South America will come as a natural sequence. It is only a question of time. But for God's sake, let it be with the approval of the people of those parts at the time. That and that alone is the true American policy. If the Republican party wishes to inaugurate a new policy, it will be a stew of their own making and they will have to eat it: it is certain that the American people will not stand for it.

One by one our old kamaaina citizens are being removed from this earthly sphere to that bourne from whence none has ever returned. Only this week, another such resident passed away, after a lingering illness, in the person of George W. C. Jones, who drifted away to a mere shadow of his former self. While failing for many weeks past, he became unconscious for days and weeks till he passed away for age and for good, leaving behind him many scions. During his residence of nearly fifty years in this country, he has been more or less identified with the interests of this country, and he made it doubly certain by an alliance with the country which can never be effaced nor obliterated. Coming here as a young man, he made this his home, and here he has spent the best part of his life and here his bones will lie alongside that of his wife, who preceded him years ago, leaving them as a heritage to his Hawaiian children to care and to ever keep their (father and mother) memories always green.

Do Your Joints Pain You?

A slight indefinite pain in the joints is the first sign of Rheumatism. Then come the aching pains and tenderness, the agonizing cramps, the fever and restlessness that characterize this disease.

When you feel the first slight pain, begin to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and the progress of the disease will be arrested. Neglect this and you will regret it.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are a Positive and Permanent Cure for Rheumatism.

This remedy expels impurities from the blood, and supplies the material for rapidly rebuilding wasted nerve tissues. It has performed hundreds of almost miraculous cures in severe cases of Rheumatism, many times after doctors had given up hope. Read this sworn statement:

"In 1899 I was taken with rheumatism, which began in my hips and gradually spread throughout my body. For two years and a half I was confined to my bed; employed nine of the best physicians in Albany, and two specialists from New York city. They all declared my case hopeless, and finally told me that I had but six weeks to live. I told them to take their medicine away; that if I were to die I should take no more of the stuff.

My niece, who through her friends knew of the good results attending the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People, strongly recommended them. She procured the pills and by the time I had used the first box I felt hungry. Having had no appetite for a long time, I knew that the pills were doing me good. I continued their use, and after taking seal boxes was able to leave my bed and go about with the use of crutches. I weighed but 139 pounds. As my normal weight is about 200 pounds, you can see how run down I had become during my sickness. After taking thirteen boxes of the pills I was weighed again, and although less than a year had passed I weighed 207 pounds. I continued the use of the pills and finally was able to abandon the crutches altogether, and am now as well as ever." MAT TANNER,
281 Hamilton St., Albany, N.Y.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 17th day of September, 1902.
NEIL F. TOWNE, Notary Public, Albany Co., N.Y.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:

I read with pleasure every package of Independents I receive. They keep me in touch with your beautiful city and its surroundings. Though I was there but a short time, I formed an attachment for the "Paradise of the Pacific," that will last through life and that may again land me on your beautiful shores. I learned to like the open heartedness of the Hawaiians; their generosity and hospitality had a refreshing charm, for one who had seen so much of the selfishness of the world. But I have no use of the mongolian part of your population; especially the Chinese. I think they must have been created as an experiment by the Almighty. Just to see how much He could make a human being like one of the lower animals.

I read with a good deal of interest your Washington correspondence. The wholesome truths your correspondent at the nation's capital tells, are a pleasant change from the "tickle me and I'll tickle you" policy of most of the newspaper men there.

The rottenness that seems to pervade every department of the government, is sickening to one who has not become lost to all decency, and who want to realize that the Star Spangled banner floats over a nation of patriots, instead of a nation of political grafters. The developments that even the make believe investigation has brought forth in the Post Office and Interior departments, is sufficient to show that the same state of affairs prevails in every department of the government. While I am a Republican I can't swallow such a dose as Roosevelt is giving the people. His treatment of the veteran General Miles has roused the indignation of thousands especially of the old soldiers who respect General Miles, and know him to be a valiant soldier, whose record of more than forty years service in the army of his country, is without a single stain.

The gigantic steal that the Isthmian canal is bringing to light, is another instance of the political rottenness that is a festering sore on the body politic as it is represented at Washington. The Nicaragua route was and is the one that ought to be adopted, from every consideration, except that there is no money in it for certain United States Senators, who with the French grafters at the other end of the scheme are trying to pull the peoples leg for forty millions of dollars. It is the opinion of the best informed people, that the revolution in Panama, was instigated by the United States, or rather by its boodling representatives in the Senate, in order to carry out their Panama canal scheme. These are only a few of the leading instances of corruption that are eating out the vitals of the nation.

With many others, I am of the opinion that our Philippine acquirements are a burden that the people will not much longer bear. As a prominent paper said the other day, "our exports are live American soldiers, and our imports are dead American soldiers." That, so far, has been the extent of our trade with these newly acquired possessions, and there is no prospect that it will ever be anything else. I think it would make "mighty interesting reading" as Horace Greeley would say, if your Washington correspondent could ascertain from the War and Navy departments, just how many American soldiers and sailors have lost their lives in these miasmatic, malaria stricken jungles on the coast of Asia. The subjugation of the natives has already cost this country more blood and treasure than the miserable plague spots will ever be worth, and they are not subjugated yet. In order to shut the people's eyes, the constituted authorities that are keeping up this piece of political claptrap, have changed the name of the vast force of American soldiers that are constantly necessary to keep anything like order in the Philippines, from the army, to the "constabulary." Just think of it. A constabulary of thousands of soldiers. The political mountebanks at Washington, know that the people are too busy looking after the almighty dollar to give much of any attention to what is going on in this grave yard of American soldiers. But we must grin and bear it. The evil will possibly cure itself after a while. If it does not, it will kill the patient.

Rear Admiral Terry yesterday received a cablegram from Rear Admiral Evans, at Yokohama, requesting him to secure and hold at Honolulu any mail on the Gaelic (due here on Tuesday) destined for his fleet in the Orient. This would seem to indicate that the fleet will leave Japan in a few days.

Loan Money Will Be Here.

Treasurer Kepoikai has decided to have the recent loan fund, as paid over by Fisk & Robinson of New York, amounting to $1,007,283.53, brought here by each of the four local banks in equal proportion. This morning the order for exchange were passed over by the Treasurer to the banks, each of the banks giving a receipt for their one-quarter portion ($251,820 88½). It is expected that the whole amount will be here before Christmas at a cost to the Territory of one quarter of one percent on the exchange.

RECENT ELECTION IN THE STATES.

To witness an election in the greatest city in the nation and especially when the people have won a great victory, is a sight never to be forgotten and a privilege. I was in New York and saw the thing. It far surpasses anything in the line of election excitement that I ever saw or ever expect to see. Imagine 150,000 people packed in the space covered by twenty acres, all gazing intently at the bulletin board, and when the news comes they have been hoping for and waiting for, there is an explosion and pandemonium breaks loose and reigns supreme from that time on until tired nature refuses longer to submit. A sea of humanity and every man either yelling or blowing a fish horn, which is an invention of the devil, is a veritable Niagara of noise. That crowd was a volatile vortex and a vocal volcano. The people forming the crowd had been to the ballot box earlier in the day, and they were rejoicing over the work they had accomplished. They had a good right to howl. They had that day stamped their feet on the necks of the rankest gang of rotten republicans posing as reformers who ever worked the "con" game on the honest people of any city in the country. Those people have themselves and their own ballots to thank for this escape from the grasp of cowards cringing to coin, but they have some agencies to thank for making them "wise" to the situation. It is the universal opinion in New York and in political circles here that had it not been for the papers controlled by that good democrat and people's friend, Mr William Randolph Hearst, the people never would have taken the interest in this election that they did and a great democratic city would still have been under the control of Tom Platt and his republican co-labors and co-partners in political crime. It is a noteworthy fact that every paper in the city of Greater New York, with the exception of the New York American, Evening Journal and Das Morgen Journal, owned and controlled by Mr Hearst, were booming the so-called fusion ticket made up of rank republicans and mugwump democrats. They stormed and fought and lied vigoiously from start to finish, but it seems that those newspapers owned by Mr Hearst have more actual readers than all the others combined, for when they throw their votes for any candidate he wins. Six years ago Mr Hearst's papers supported Van Wyck for Mayor of New York and he won. Two years ago the same papers fought Van Wyck for good cause and he was defeated. Thus the people have come to the conclusion that the Hearst papers have some influence in the city of Greater New York, and they are right. The reason for this is not far to seek. Those papers are always on the side of the people and they are always sincere.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

There are two things, after all, that can be said to the credit of Mr. Holloway, superintendent of public works: He plays football and parts his hair in the middle. What more could Geo. Carter desire?

Now that the Grand Jury has made its report in the House voucher matter, the court will be called upon to determine its jurisdiction. We apprehend that the ruling will be that the court has no jurisdiction, the question not affecting the Organic Act in such a way as to make it a matter for Federal intervention or control.

One of the main causes of the 1887 revolution and of the overthrow in 1893 was the centralization of power in the then monarchs, i. e., too much one-man power. But how about our new Governor, who evidently believes in doing and being such a man? Will our former revolutionists, "men of forcible minds," now revolt against this un-American course?

"I, George the First, Emperor of the Territory of Hawaii, declare that I am the whole cheese. I have about Me a lot of men designated as heads of departments who are to be My servants. They are to accept My counsel at My bidding and to carry out My commands. Treasurer Kepoikai will not be among the number because he refuses to submit to My immaculate will. The other members of My cabinet will, however, obey My commands." Toot-toot.

We think that Treasurer Kepoikai will not lose any sleep by not being a member of Governor Carter's official family nor of not being invited into consultation with the Executive Council, which our strenuous Governor is to do away with. As Kepoikai holds the purse strings of the Territorial exchequer, he may hold a council of his own with those employed under him and do away with the Governor and his ilk, altogether. How would that do for a change?

If there was any rascality in the last Legislature, we would be the last in the world to defend it; but we honestly do not believe that any irregularities ever existed. The Advertiser and Star have contended all along that there was something crooked, and the Federal Grand Jury seems to hold to their view. If there has been, for heaven's sake let it be shown up. If after all of this fuss, however, nothing is found the parties accused of crooked work will have a mighty good chance to make a damage suit stick.

We wish to say again that the new armory of the National Guard should be located on the site of the present one. It would be an easy matter to acquire the property. The United States took the lot at a time when the needs of the Government here were problematical, and it has since found that it has absolutely no use for it. A simple request would get it back again. There is no earthly use in spending a lot of good money for a new lot, and, besides, the present site is in many ways more desirable than any other that could be chosen.

The Japanese are perfectly welcome to go ahead and test that clause of the county act which provides that hackmen must understand the English or Hawaiian language. This law was enacted for the protection of the public, and no treaty provisions can possibly interfere with measures of that sort. It may be that a court would entertain the question, but the principle of a community enacting laws for its protection is so well established as to admit of no doubt as to the outcome of any proceeding that might be started.

Again Dreyfus is to appear before the foolights. This miserable Jew has played a good game. After a series of three-ball swindles, with his country as the victim, he sold military secrets to Germany. The Rothschilds and other rich Jews of Europe took up his case and by buying up several influential papers succeeded in cultivating a public sentiment in favor of the miserable cur. American papers followed blindly the lead of these journals, but the combination resulted in gaining for the man a new trial, but for a second time he was convicted. In place of a third trial he should be taken out to the dog pound and shot.

Governor Carter already has in hand the resignations of his recent appointees, so it is reported, which were used as prerequisites of their being appointed. It is claimed that the idea is to preclude any obstruction in the future, and if he should become displeased with any of them, he could at once demand a resignation. This smells much of a one-man power, to do as he pleases with those he has appointed, all of whom cannot say that their souls are their own or that their offices are worth looking after. They are (these new department heads), more or less, mere kiddish tools of their "kidgy" (not pidgy) master. Why not let Carter run the whole shebang and then we'll have an ideal government after the Republican or American idea of a plutocracy or a distatorship.

To think that a defeated candidate had to be appointed to a Territorial office is to impose upon the good nature of the taxpayers of this country. It is a well-known fact that J. W. Pratt was defeated at the recent county election by his own party, not by the Home Rulers, for the Home Rule candidate running for the same place, and now the Governor forces him upon the people. But the Advertiser assures us that such a course is customary on the Mainland but we are skeptical and do not believe such an assurance. It is illogical and unreasonable to make such an imposition and no party on the Mainland would dare do it as against the wishes of the people as expressed at the polls. The Governor dares the people in this instance and it is for the people to remember it at the polls next time.

If some of our contemporaries are to be believed in saying that F. M. Hatch has gone on some special business for our new Government, i. e., to have our County Act passed upon and enacted by Congress, in order to save the holes intact in the whole act, thereby retaining the Board of Public Institutions, then he has gone as the personal and unofficial delegate of the Government or of the Republican party. While the Territorial Delegate is at the Capital, why send this unofficial representative? Have they no confidence in our Delegate or have they decided that he is incompetent and unworthy of confidence? It is on a par with what happened to the late R. W. Wilcox, and our princely Delegate is about to encounter and experience the same treatment. Hawaiians, bear this in mind when the next general campaign comes around, for we believe it to be the same kind of thing, the same treatment that the former delegate got.

Since our opposition to Mr. Holloway, the new Superintendent of Public Works, has been made known publicly on account of his being unknown and a malihini, it has come to our ears that those who urged his appointment did so in order to defeat and hoodwink the McCandless grafters. It was anything to beat them and they were beaten by Mr. Holloway's acceptance, he, in the meantime, promising, so 'tis said, to go on the dry dock or rather to take the "water cure" recipe and become a water "soak" instead. In that case alone, if it was really so, we are with those who defeated the McCandless grafters, but still cling to our former causes of opposition to such an appointment, not believing in one unknown and a malihini to be a Territorial department head. Being married to a prominent Hawaiian lady should not be the opening or entering wedge nor the "open sesame" to any Governmental department.

Kauai Circuit Court Notes.

We learn from an official letter from the Clerk of the 5th Circuit Court on Kauai, which opens its December Term on December 23rd, that Judge Hardy has decided to open court on that day and adjourn to the 28th, when the Grand Jury will meet, and jury waived cases can be tried. The petit or trial jury being summoned for Monday, January 4th, 1904. This latter date is, however, subject to modification, making the trials begin on January 6th, Wednesday, so as to give Honolulu attorneys the opportunity of being present at the opening of the term and also of spending their New Year's Day in town.

The motion filed by Charles Creighton, attorney for Yoshikawa, the Kauai Japanese who was sentenced to death in September last year by Judge Hardy but who on appeal was granted a new trial, for a change of venue from Kauai to Honolulu, was granted by Judge Hardy and an order changing the place of trial to the First Circuit Court at Honolulu was entered on the 28th inst.

Three Are Indicted.

The Federal Grand Jury returned a long report in Judge Dole's court this morning in which numerous irregularities in connection with the business of the Legislature is charged. Three indictments were presented, all of which, however, were placed on the secret file. It is reported that one of the indictments is against Clerk Meheula. The question of the jurisdiction of the court will arise when the cases are brought up.

RECENT ELECTION IN THE STATES.

This election teaches a lesson, and it may be summed up briefly. It has made some men and has put others very much on the "blink," so to speak. The result in Massachusetts teaches us that the so-called reorganized democracy which controlled things in that state cannot win without the rank and file of the party that stood loyally to the ticket in the years of 1896 and 1900, and it is believed that a good many of them went fishing on election day. There will, it is confidently believed by many leaders of the party here, be a repetition of this piscatorial energy on the parts of thousands of democrats all over the East next year should the democracy nominate such a man for the Presidency. The result in the City of New York means many things for many people.

It means that Mr Charles F Murphy, the new leader of Tammany Hall, who managed the campaign, is one of the biggest figures in New York City politics today. It means that old Boss McLaughlin, who for so many years has controlled the destinies of the democracy in the city of Brooklyn, is a "dead one" and never again will he figure in national politics or in the politics of the city of Greater New York. His place has been taken by State Senator Patrick H McCarren who hitherto one of the old man's staunches supporters and able lieutenants. It means that Tammany has absolute control in Brooklyn and that means that the influence of one David Bennett Hill is forever gone in that city the vote of which he has been wont to use through the instrumentality of Boss McLaughlin in order to compel Tammany to make terms with him, and that means that Hill's man Parker has lost any chance he might have had for the democratic presidential nomination. It means that Mr William Randolph Hearst whose papers were the only ones in the entire city that stood loyally to the democratic ticket and which, under his able management, put fire and ginger and red hot fight into the campaign, will have the gratitude of Tammany for his good work in the interests of the party and of its ticket. That means that Mr Hearst will be the New York candidate for the presidency and if so that means he will be the next nominee. The result in Ohio, from a democratic standpoint, means that Tom L Johnson is eliminated from the presidential equation and the result in Maryland means that Senator Gorman still has hopes.

From a republican standpoint the President is vitally interested in this election. The result in Pennsylvania again puts Quay on top and he no longer need play into Roosevelt's hands unless he wants to get even with Hanna.

The result in Ohio places Hanna master of the situation in such manner that he needs no longer look to Rooseveit for favors.

It will be seen that one little election makes a lot of things possible and a whole "passel" of things may happen during this session of Congress that may have direct bearing on this situation.

LEGISLATIVE GRAFTINGS.

Finally, and at last, after laboring for weeks and costing some thousands of dollars, the Federal grand jury yesterday morning brought in its report on the legislative vouchers matter. Although they were not found to have been burned or destroyed as impugned by our purity and non-grafting (?) contemporaries of the Advertiser-Star clique of yellow journalism, they succeeded in having them brought to light through the weak-kneed weakness of their custodian and upon which they have made much out of a mole hill into a mountain of sins against Hawaiian members and officials of the last Republican Legislature. After poring over them with careful scrutiny, they found much upon which to base a report of censure, indicting one Hawaiian, he the clerk of the House, and damning every other Hawaiian who had anything to do in drawing money through the legislative channel. The result of it all, the whole sum and substance, was to impugn and malign Hawaiians, which is the main game they were set upon to do and to discover.

It is a well-known fact that to discredit Hawaiians is their present fight, in order that Congress may heed and they gain what they want,—to disfranchise them. We know their little game and we are on to them, and at the same time we hope "to frustrate their knavish tricks." This grand jury found much to condemn Hawaiian methods of grafting, i. e., they picked the mote in the Hawaiian's eye, but failed to find the same in the beam of their brother's eye. The conclusion of this is, they went in to the game to discredit and do up Hawaiians, and so far, they have succeeded fairly well for their now known course was anticipated and expected, and they have run up against a snag.

Nothing much was said, except probably with holding up these Hawaiian grafters to derision, as in the following instance: "of the 'services rendered' by F. J. Testa, who is given eighteen warrants, amounting to $854.25." But we notice in the Advertiser's account of this "expert" grafting that in Testa's total is including "printing' and "advertising" by the Makaainana Printing House, of which he is proprietor. Other Hawaiians were also mentioned by this "immaculate" grand jury, merely showing what they had done for the amounts drawn by them. And may we ask—what is the object of it all? Only one conclusion can be arrived at and that is to discredit Hawaiians in the eyes of those at Washington. Hardly anything is said about the white American grafters, for they are above suspicion, and Hawaiians are the only ones suspected of doing any grafting. No, no; whites never do it; they are above reproach.

We happen to know a trick or two, and here's one of them: Representative Harris, as chairman of the House Finance Committee, appointed two white clerks at the beginning of the session, A. Barnes and R. R. Elgin. Their pay was agreed upon by the committee at the rate of $7.50 per diem, for which they drew. At the end of the regular session, probably on the last day or the day after, they put in another bill for their clerical services at the rate of $10 per diem, including $2.50 per diem for back pay for those days they had previously only drawn at the rate of $7.50. These later claims were approved by Chairman Harris (without concurrence of the committee as was done in the first instance) and were later paid them upon the approval of Chairman Purdy of the Committee on Accounts. But the grand jury has overlooked all this. Why? The answer is plain. Their game is to discredit Hawaiians and to uplift white Americans; anything to down and defeat natives.

This expenditure of legislative money has so horrified our good people that they cannot forget what they did with the treasury surplus during the plague scare in 1900, when over $800,000 were spent inside of three months or more. If that wasn't graft, we'd like to know what is? State and Territorial Legislatures on the Mainland spend more money in one session than our Legislature ever would do in the same time, and yet we hear nothing said. But of course, the ant hill has been made to appear more than what really is the case. And, in this instance, U. S. Attorney Breckons is satisfied with the work he was made to do, and his glass eye-ball will hereafter roll happily when more fees are forthcoming.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Today is the anniversary of the overthrow of Spanish rule in Portugal, and citizens of that interesting little country in the Islands are appropriately observing the day and the event it represents. The Portuguese, although clannish, have been of great benefit to Hawaii in the way of home-making and good citizenship, and everyone must feel an interest in their anniversaries and celebrations.

This whole voucher matter, from its inception to the present, is purely and solely the out-working of a scheme to discredit the native Hawaiian. The Advertiser and Star started and have kept alive the agitation. They succeeded in getting an indictment from a grand jury that was forced, that is ungrounded and senseless on the face of it and that it will not be possible to sustain in any trial in court.

The Mitchell amendment to the Organic Act which will allow appeals in certain cases from the Supreme court of Hawaii to the Supreme court of the United States is good and it is bad. It is good for the reason that it would give a litigant the chance of taking his matter before a disinterested and unbaised court (a thing that is not always obtainable here). It is bad for the reason of the expense of appeals and in that only the extremely wealthy will be able to afford a resort to the last court. It will therefore play into the hands of the rich, shutting out the man unable to appeal or to defend a case on appeal.

The discharge of E. S. Boyd from office, attempted doing away with Treasurer Kepoikai, indictment of J. Harbottle Hakuole (so as to get him out of office) and numerous other like incidents should be sufficient to show the Hawaiians and fair-minded white people of this island to what extremes the missionary party is ready and willing to go. The missionaries have set out to rule this county and to rule as much of the Territory as it is possible for them to encompass. Governor Carter is proving himself to be more closely connected with them than Dole. That proposition seems out of reason but developments of the past few days prove it. The only thing left is for the Home Rule and Democratic parties to come together, and in that way secure and hold the control. Then we will have government by and for the people.

If there were any certainty of the Republican party remaining in power at Washington, and a prospect of our being submitted for another period of years to missionary rule in the Islands, we would most heartily endorse the Mitchell amendment to the Organic Act, which makes it possible for the governor, judges of the courts, etc., to come down here by appointment from other States. There is not, however, a considerable prospect of conditions continuing as they are, and with a Democratic government it would be safer and better, as well as more in keeping with American ideas, to have appointments limited absolutely to people of the Islands. Of course bad appointments are frequently made, and sometimes unsatisfactory and unfair men are elected to office; but taking it all in all it is always safest to trust the destinies of a community to the citizens of that community.

CORRESPONDENCE.

An Open Letter to Mr. Atwater and His Fellow Jurors.

Sirs:—

As Federal Grand Jurors you have seen fit to publish in your report a garbled resume of vouchers given by myself for services rendered to the last Legislature of the Territory, and to make deductions highly pleasing and satisfactory to yourselves which somewhat reflect on myself. I therefore challenge you to publish said vouchers in their entirety, itemized as in the original, giving description of the items as written, and I deny that the resume given out by you for publication is a fair and just description of said vouchers.

Yours truly,
CHAS. WILCOX.
Honolulu, December 1st, 1903.

The Portuguese Celebrate.

This is the 263rd anniversary of the independence of Portugal, and it is being right royally celebrated by the members of that colony. The day was begun shortly after 5:30 by the firing of a national salute of twenty-one guns from Punchbowl. The after part of the day was given to visiting and feasting. Tonight there will be a big meeting, with stereopticon views, etc, in Lusitana hall on Alapai street. J M Camara will preside and there will be speeches by several prominent Portuguese.

Secretary of the Territory.

The appointment of J Castle Ridgway to be secretary of the Territory was urged by Senator Cullom. Governor Carter felt, however, that a man of longer residence and more firmly identified with the country should have the office, and for that reason recommended A L C Atkinson. The governor said this afternoon that he hoped and believed his nominee would be acceptable to the President. His nomination was today sent to the Senate.

Tenders Opened.

Tenders for dredging the entrance to the harbor were opened yesterday. The bids were on throwing the dredgings on Quarantine Island, on the sea wall or out at sea. On Section 1, which is the entrance to the channel, the bids were as follows:

Cotton Brothers: Placing on Quarantine Island, $1.69 per cupid yard; inside sea wall, $1.45 per cupid yard; dumping at sea, $1.15 per cupid yard.

Hawaiian Dredging Co: Dumping material on Quarantine Island, $1.85; inside sea wall, $1.35; at sea 85 cents.

Atlantic Gulf and Pacific Co: Dumping on Quarantine Island, $1.40; inside sea wall, $1 25; at sea, $1.10.

The bids for the Ewa end of the harbor were as follows: Cotton Bros, 35 cents per cupid yard; Hawaiian Dredging Co, 32 cents per cupid yard; Atlantic Gulf & Pacific Co, 41 cents per cupid yard. The Hawaiian Dredging Co's bid is lowest for this work also.

School house bids were opened and resulted as follows:

High School Annex—J Jorgensen, $4635; J H Craig, $6343; A Harrison Mill Co, $5380; MacDonald & Langston, $5027; H F Bertleman, $4844. The contract will probably go to Jorgensen.

Commercial Annex—J H Craig, $3650; J Jorgensen, $3940; MacDonald & Langston, $3484. The last bid is the lowest.

The Bar Association has passed resolutions disfavoring the Mitchell amendments to the Organic Act which provide for the selection of a governor and other government officials from any State and for the appeal of cases from the Territorial Supreme Court to the United States Supreme Court in certain cases.

THE OUTRAGE AT PANAMA ISTHMUS

WASHINGTON, D.C. Nov. 16:

To the intense delight of the democratic leaders here, the republican administration has actually tied up in a nice package and handed to the democracy another and a corking good campaign issue in this dirty mess in the Panama country. It is the belief here not only among democrats, but among many good republicans, that the recent revolution in the United States of Colombia in Central America, was hatched in this country and at the instigation of this republican administration in order to get control of the Panama canal. In other words, the game put up in the Senate to get the usufruct out of those Panama canal bonds has got to go through at any cost. This republican administration plays into their hands and incites revolution down there and robs that little country of a slice of its territory in order to give the senatorial cabal its rakeoff. How are they going to get away from the imputation that they are responsible for this revolution? If they are not, then there must be some expert mind-readers in the Navy Department, for no sooner had the first rumbling of this trouble between Colombia and one of its states been wafted over the earth than this country had several naval vessels at the proper point in a jiffy in order to put backbone into the revolutionists and to intimidate the Colombia forces. Then this government makes haste to "recognize" the new Republic of Panama. It is an infernal outrage and a national disgrace.

It is too early to predict what the big fights will be in this Congress, but the fight on the Cuban reciprocity proposition is going to be a bitter one. There will not be as many republican recalcitrants in this Congress as there was in the last on that proposition, for the reason, as stated in this correspondence not long ago, that the Sugar Trust has bought out the beet sugar interests and that has closed the mouths of many republicans who otherwise would be opposed to Cuban reciprocity. There are some, however, who still hold out against it, and they will line up with the democrats and fight it unless they will allow the democratic amendment to go through removing the differential from refined sugar. The democrats are perfectly willing to give Cuba all the reciprocity she asks for or give her free trade with this country provided they can remove the differential from refined sugar which will give the consumers of this country a chance. This is exactly what the Sugar Trust does not want. With reciprocity with Cuba on raw sugar to the extent of a twenty five per cent reduction on the present tariff, and retaining the differential on refined sugar, the Trust makes not less than eight millions a year out of the game. That is the milk in the cocoanut. It is a straight fight between the people and the Sugar Trust. Watch the game.

There is one little piece of red tape that each new House goes through with that gives the spectators in the gallery and the members on the floor an opportunity to give vent to their enthusiasm for any particular man they believe in or whom they think is a popular

AS TO NATIVE JURORS.

Four Hawaiians on the Federal grand jury; S. C. DWIGHT, a defeated Republican candidate for supervisor in the Fifth District; JNO. C. LANE, a candidate for nomination for supervisor-at-large who was turned down by the Republican convention; LOT K. C. LANE, elder brother of John, who hasn't the brains of his brother, and one ALEX. ILIHIA, a well-known sot, did not have a word to say for Hawaiians nor found anything to say against the whites whom they helped to whitewash. They merely acted as the pliant tools of the whites who controlled the jury, such as Jack Lucas, who opened his face more than he ought to before the report was filed. None of them dared originate an investigation or had the freedom of an independent expression of opinion, but were weakly led like a lot of hirelings too eager to encompass themselves with odium. And when they learned of the existence of the genuine graft exposed by The Independent yesterday, they were sorry in what they had unintentionally done at the instance of others, and one said: "I wish I had known of it before." Whom told that one legislative witness wanted to tell of it before them, but was prevented from so doing by the glass-eye attorney who poured question after question without giving the man a chance to breathe and that was how they lost it in evidence, although the vouchers showed them, and the same one said: "I wish he had only told us." But what was John Lane doing, who, we understood, was a member of the special grand jury committee that examined the tell-tale vouchers.

MISSION OF MR. HATCH.

Upon intervening Governor Carter the other day with regard to Mr. Hatch's alleged mission to Washington, to have our Count yAct enacted by Congress, he sealed the lie upon the statements made by some of our contemporaries, who ostensibly gave out the impression that he went for and on behalf of the Government. Mr. Carter said that the Territory has nothing to do with his mission nor will it cost the country anything, but that he went at the expense of certain of our patriotic business men, for the sole purpose of sounding Congress on the matter and to find out whether it will do anything for us here with regard to the act, leaving us to ork out ouwr own salvation in the future by and through the Legislature. As Mr. Hatch was going anyway, it was thought best by these supposed public spirit men, who had been hitherto advised, to have him do this business, and that he gladly accepted the task without charge outside of travelling expenses.

This, the Governor further expressed himself, is to prevent the County Act from being made full of holes and be somewhat intangible and uncomfortable to all concerned, whether Territorial or County. It is simply to find out what they intend to do for us in Washington. As we are not in the begging to learn what will be done for us by showing them our needs as well as our predicament under this new and unknown dispensation, as far as we Hawaiians are concerned. Rather than be unsecure and in a somewhat unlawful position, it was deemed safe and proper to be sure of our ground and then go ahead with County business unhampered.

We spoke doubtfully of this proposition the other day but none, it seems Mr. Hatch is not an unofficial delegate, but rather the personal delegate of a certain patriotic (?) (?) saw) section of this community. Not having any doubt as to the Governor's veracity in this connection, we pin the lie down to our contemporaries of making it appear under a false light.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Kepoikai, we are sure, needs no sympathy from the Maui News man. He is perfectly capable of looking after himself in the present instance as he has been in the past, and that without the aid and sympathy of "mine host," who now has lowered the Maui hostelrie.

The Independent [illegible] thinks, but it knows [illegible] Star game is to discredit [illegible] can. None is too blind not to see it sticking out both of their columns, every now and then when they have the opportunity so to do.

In appointing A. L. C. Atkinson to be Secretary of the Territory, the President has made a decidedly more satisfactory than had he appointed Mr. Ridgeway, of Hilo—the former secertary of Senator Cullom and whom Senator Cullom was supporting. However, J. G. Pratt, on the score of his experience, would have been even more satisfactory.

It is really too bad that the Advertiser failed to make as much graft out of the legislative printing than either the Bulletin or Star. This may account for some of its present day venom. It had friends, but most of the work went t'other way. Too-too.

The only Maui surprise in the Kepoikai matter, according to the Maui News, was in the sanctum sanctorum of that weakly paper and nowhere else, which we know to be the case. Make another jab, Bro. Robertson, for we feel sure you are quite capable of doing it at any and all times.

We are given to understand that the legislativ evouchers were given over o a special committee of the Federal grand jury to examine and investigate, but we have not found out who composed the committee. It may have been W. O. Atwater, W. W. Hall, Jack Lucas, Jno. C. Lane and Andrew Adams. No outside mortal yet knows, unless it be at Republican headquarters. So much for their one-sided report.

Assessor Pratt may find much to keep him busy by hunting up the incomes of grafters and then where will the government come out. This is similar to the attempt of Income Assessor Riggs with fire claimants, when they were paid their awards, he was on hand to collect a tax on every one of them, more particularly Asiatics, which we, at the time, deemed the method unjust. And now here's Pratt. Well, let him come and have his inning, or rather, his outing.

The idea of moving the Wailuku Court House from its present site to another further down that plantation town is in view of the forthcoming county government, and it does not suit the Maui News man. The reason is plain to any one who knows Wailuku. As the Maui hotel, which he has bought, is in close proximity to the present location of the Court House, to remove it would be to ruin the business of his hostelrie. Isn't that the sum and substance of your opposition, pard?

Owners of cattle who permit them to roam at large on the public highways during the hours of darkness, and especially on Liliha street, should be made to suffer and feel the weight of the law upon their shoulders. If some of these roamers are killed by electric cars, for obstructing traffic, as has already been the case, the blame should rest entirely upon such owners, and not upon the Rapid Transit Co. These cattle owners should know when to keep kine within proper enclosures and not to let them out to roam at large.

Without any comment whatever, the Federal grand jury has, in several instances in its report, left it merely to be inferred that only Hawaiians were the Legislative grafters and none others, or only a few whites whom the jurors are personally at outs with. Take for instance: "of the 'services rendered' by F. J. Testa, who is given eighteen warrants, amounting to $864.25." Does the grand jury mean it to be inferred that Testa got that much money out of the Legislature without his giving any service in return for the same? Do they (the jurors) mean to infer that Testa stole that much money? And the quartette of Hawaiians who were on that grand jury sat there like numb-skulls without a word to say for their fellows, but were led like "lambs to the slaughter" and signed the report without as much as knowing what they were doing.

"Zebrula" is known as the cross between a zebra jack and a mare; a "mule" that between a jackass and a mare; but reverse the sex of the crossings, they are not known by such like names. Why is it thus? We think the latter should be known as the former. Take, for instance, in the case of human beings. A half-white is the progeny of a white man with a native woman, and we think that it is the same if the nationality and sex of the parents are reversed. If such is the case with human beings, then why should it be different with animals?

Last evening's Evening Bulletin informed its readers that Julian Monsarrat, manager of Papapala Ranch, Kau, Hawaii, had discovered a new kind of animal. To read the article to know nothing of what the [illegible] is, but from a private source we [illegible] that the animal is the result of [illegible] ing a horse stallion with a [illegible] is the first instance known [illegible] it is claimed. Being so, what [illegible] cross breed called? The other [illegible] a jackass with a mare, is known [illegible] mule, and therefore, is this cross [illegible] a mule as well? If not, what may it be called. We have a name; call it after its Hawaiian-haole discoverer—julianette. How goes that?

Two Anniversaries in One.

Attorney N W Aull yesterday celebrated his twenty-fourth birth anniversary. His uncle, Treasurer Kepoikai, entertained a few friends at dinner on the occasion. It was also the anniversary of another event in the Treasurer's life, that of his marriage twenty years ago (China wedding). All were right royally entertained and as well all enjoyed the repast set before those who partook of the hospitality of the host and hostess.

CORRESPONDENCE.

An Open Letter to the Editor of the Star.

Mr Editor:

In your attempt to defend that epic of grandiloquence and political bunkum fathered by the Federal Grand Jury you state that all of my bills were for "printing, etc" I challenge you or the Federal Grand Jurors or any other set of liars in town to produce said "bill for printing."

In the list of bills you alleged as mine are two bills, dated April 28 for $17.25 and May 8 for $18 25 approved by Hon F W Beckley who is in town and has expressed a wish to have these things probed to the bottom. Please have the kindness to ask him to probe these bills.

It has come to my knowledge that Judge Dole has released the indicted Clerk, Mehuela, for whose appearance his persecutors demanded a $2,500 bond, on his own recognizance. It is quite evident that justice and the Federal Grand Jurors have disagreed. Mr Prosecutor will probably not take this as a gentle hint to hie himself back to the woolly wilds of Wyoming.

Yours truly,

hero. That is the time-honored function of drawing seats for the session. A page is blindfolded and he pulls out of a box a marble with a number on it, and there is a member's name opposite this number. Both are called out and the member then goes down and selects his seat. There was much applause when certain men were called out. For instance, there was a resolution adopted that gave the floor leader of the republican side, the Hon Sereno Payne, of New York, and the oldest member on that side of the House, the Hon Harry Bingham, of Pennsylvania, the floor leader of the democratic side, the Hon John Sharp Williams, of Tennessee, the right to chose their seats without drawing for them. There was much applause when they went forward and chose their seats. Then the names of prominent men on both sides of the House were called out, and as they went down the aisles to get their seats there went up the plaudits of their friends. Among the number on the democratic side who were recognized in this manner were Hon George B McClellan, [illegible] ly elected the democratic Mayor of Greater New York, and the Hon William Randolph Hearst, of New York, who has done so much for the cause of democracy and the esteem people of the country. He received an ovation that must have warmed the cockles in his heart, for it is the universal opinion here that his papers, with himself as the directing democratic head, won the recent election in the city of New York. The democrats all feel very kindly to him for his work for the party and they improved the opportunity to show him their marked appreciation of his brilliant work in the cause of democracy.

He has received many [illegible] from democrats here since the assembling of Congress. Many party leaders here are surprised to find out that he is much smarter than they thought; that he is not merely a newspaper man who has made a phenomenal success in business, but that the methods he made the success was by was an able executive, a [illegible] ed patriot, and a lover of the common people. As a consequence stock as the nominee of the democracy for the presidency has gone up several points.

WORK OF THE SPECIAL SESSION.

WASHINGTON, D.C. Nov. 18:

The special session of the 58th Congress, called by the President for the purpose of working through the Cuban reciprocity proposition is now in session.

The opening of Congress was very much like the opening of any Congress that has preceded it. The Republican programme went through as slated. "Uncle Joe" Cannon was elected speaker according to schedule, and the Hon John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, was the nominee of the democratic party for Speaker as predicted in this correspondence away last spring. As the defeated candidate for Speaker, Mr Williams was placed on the committee to escort in the new Speaker and his speech introducing the new Speaker to the House of Representatives was the most graceful thing that has been heard on the floor of the House for many years. The daily papers all over the country have commented on it as such. Mr Williams has already made good the predictions of his friends that he is the man for the position of floor leader of the House on the democratic side. He has had the good sense, as his friends knew he would have, to give his chief opponent, the Hon Champ Clark, of Missouri, the appointment on the Ways and Means Committee, one of the highest honors that can come to a democrat. Mr Williams not only showed his generosity by this action, but his good sense as well, for Mr Clark is one of the ablest democrats in the Congress, and can do effective work against the republican party in that position. Mr Williams not only has done this; he also has placed Hon David A De Armond, of Missouri, one of the ablest men in public life today, on the committee on rules with himself. That is the most important committee in the House, for it controls all legislation emanating from the House, and controls all debates. He will be absolutely invaluable to the party and to Williams in the debates that will come off this winter. Mr Williams has also placed the Hon James T Lloyd, of Missouri, back in his old place as the democratic "whip" of the House.

That is an honorable and responsible position, for the "whip" of the House has to see to it that a majority of the members in the city are in their seats and voting on any proposition in which is involved the party policy. Mr Lloyd was for Mr Clark against Mr Williams, and this action of Mr Williams not only was just and good sense, but it was generous as well. He has thus justified the prediction of his friends that he was big enough to lead the minority to things they can boast of in the next campaign. As I have previously remarked in this correspondence, the democracy can be congratulated on the leadership it possesses in the House for the next two years. Look

HOW ABOUT LAND DEALS?

While grand juries, either Federal or Territorial, are making strenuous investigations of missing vouchers, election frauds, profanity, peonage, procuring, etc., the land deals of the Government are overlooked. If the Federal jury had jurisdiction over the vouchers, why has it not the same right over the lands of the Territory, owned by the United States in accordance with the terms of the annexation joint resolution? We think here is a good chance for the glass-eye of the U. S. District Attorney to roll, and maybe drop out of its socket. If there was grafting in the legislative funds, how about this grafting, which is worse than robbery of what belongs to the people? Is it because whites are concerned, and those whites our sugar baron missionaries, merchants, etc., that no investigation is deemed necessary? Are they above reproach and not in the grafting line? Where are the two purist journals (Advertiser and Star) that they don't howl over such deals, where valuable lands elsewhere are exchanged for inflated valued lots taken for road purposes, etc., in town's city? Is it because their friends are concerned that they care not to howl, for fear of treading on the corns of others and on dangerous grounds? Is it because they are haoles, and not kanakas, that they care not to howl nor dare to, otherwise they'll wallow in their own muck? These land deals will stench worse than the vouchers have been if they are exposed to the light of day and to public gaze and scrutiny. If touched upon, the result of their findings, if they are fearless, honest and above board, would make very interesting reading and expose. Now, here's Attorney Breckons' opportunity to make his life-long mark, if he has not already been hand somely feed as has been the case in other matters too well-known. Of course, only Hawaiians are no good; haoles hardly ever.

ROBBING THE PUBLIC.

The policy of our Territorial Government seems to be to dispose of all the valuable lands within the Territory and those in power have been eager to do it, as is well known in what has happened in the past. Why this eagerness? Because they want to help out their sugar-coated friends and rob the Territory of what is its due. Nearly all the best lands are being so disposed of for almost nothing, not commensurate with their value, only to let control pass out into other hands. Another reason is, because they see their power slipping away from them and out of their hands into those of the rightful owners of the soil, and they make haste to dispose of whatever there is of worth, while they yet have the power, and before their being bodily thrown out. The handwriting on the wall is clear and their days are numbered as on one's fingers. Look out, now; go slow and be very careful in what you are doing, for you'll be made to disgorge your ill-gotten gains.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

It is understood to be the intention of C. S. Holloway, superintendent of public works, and J. W. Pratt, land commissioner, to discharge every Hawaiian from their respective departments. This is a good thing to watch. If it comes about it means that these two officials are following out the Advertiser's policy of "down with the kanakas."

The immigration of Japanese from Hawaii to the Pacific Coast States is one of the best things that could possibly happen. It means an agitation in favor of the bill now before Congress restricting the immigration of Japanese of the laboring class into the United States. This class of immigrants is choking the life-blood out of the working element of these the United States. This class of immigration is checked the better for the public at large.

We know of instances where children were born of white mothers and full native fathers (mind ye, not half-white fathers), yet the result of such a crossing is called a half-white, the same as that between a white man and a full native mother. In our opinion there is hardly any difference whatever, and why should there be? A mule is a half-breed, the result of crossing a mare with a jackass, and if a stallion with a jennie, there could be no difference, for why should there be? Teuf-teuf!

When he gets a chance, George W. Smith can be depended upon to pose. He has kept this up for so many years that the weakness is well known. There never was a meeting (political, social or Theosophical) in the Islands, in which he saw an opportunity to shine, that he did not butt in. This so-called "town meeting" announced for next Saturday evening, to take action in regard to the mission of F. M. Hatch to Washington, is purely an enterprise of "Rat Poison" Smith, the object of which is to get himself once more before the footlights.

Ladies and gentlemen, George R. Carter and L. A. Thurston are now in the ring for the most interesting bout of the season. Our horoscope gives the results of the rounds as follows: First round—Thurston has slightly the advantage; second round—Carter gives Thurston a terrible punch in the jaw, sending him to his corner quite dopey; third round—a mere air disturbing match; fourth round—the terrible scrappers lose wind and fall on each other's shoulders; fifth round—they kiss and swear that the friendship that has existed between them from their barefooted days to now will continue undisturbed. Fudge!

Jno. C. Lane is an over-estimated young man. His course on the recent Federal grand jury is sufficient to hold him up to odium and derision among his own kind. No doubt those who strongly supported him as a supervisorial candidate are now at a loss to make him out. So also with Samuel C. Dwight, one incapable of originating or of making a show of fight, because he has neither of them, and yet he recently had the impudence and bold effrontery to crave for public favor at the hands of the Hawaiian electorate, when he knows nothing of how to defend his own fellows. Both have shown that neither of them are fit to be trusted for any high position. Of the other two, they are much beneath them, because we know whereof we are speaking, not by hearsay, but from contact and experience.

Chile has sold her two new battleships to Great Britain for nine million dollars, cleaning up a million or two profit. It is becoming the practice of South American republics to build ships for sale to other countries. Brazil, Equador and Chile have been particularly active and successful in that line. Scenting trouble ahead, they place contracts in Europe for vessels of a sort that they figure will be in demand and then have them ready for sea at the time there is a scramble for ships for immediate service. The United States paid large bonuses for cruisers in this way at the beginning of the Spanish war. Just what Great Britain wants with additional vessels at this time is not clear, but trouble in some quarter is perhaps apprehended.

Take a Lesson from Maui.

T B Lyons, one of the supervisors-elect of Maui County, was asked recently how it was that the Home Rulers made such a clean sweep on Maui. His answer was that it all happened on account of the "amalgamation and combination made between the Home Rulers and Democrats, and such a combination will always sure to carry victory wherever it is entered into." He also said that Oahu should take a lesson from Maui and then carry everything before it, downing the Republicans to nowhere.

FRIDAY, DEC. 4, 1903.

THE PLAGUE GRAFT.

The first plague scare was made known on December 12, 1899; and if we mistake not, the quarantine of the North and West portion of the city, within the bounds of Nuuanu Avenue, Kukui and River streets and the Waterfront, was raised on the 24th, the day before Christmas. The second and long quarantine was placed at midnight of the 27th following, which continued till finally raised on April 30, 1900. And for over four months, the amount of grafting done amounted to something like $800,000, and added to this the total of the awards made by the Fire Claims Commission, about $1,500,000, making a total of $2,300,000, more or less, which cost this country for those few months of scare, in which time the Government lost its head, particularly the Board of Health and the medical men who were in its pay.

Of the then known surplus in the Treasury, when Minister Damon left office, amounting to about $1,250,000, over $800,000 was recklessly squandered among white grafters. Very few Hawaiians were ever included in that grafting propensity of those who are now appearing as purists, particularly when Hawaiians are mostly concerned as in the alleged legislative "grafts" through the House of Representatives. Hawaiians have no business to become grafters; that right and privilege only [illegible] concerns born Americans and their friends. But of that rotten system of grafting, we hear nothing from our recent purists, headed by the Advertiser and Star combination.

The Fire Claims Act was passed by the Home Rule Legislature of 1901, and on April 30, the Commissioners under that Act were appointed and confirmed by the Senate during the last hours of the night ending that session. The Commissioners received pay at the rate of $10 per diem each, etc., and that was not considered as grafting in comparison to the graftings enacted during those few months of the scare and upon the consequences of the January 20th conflagration and other plague fires instituted by the Board of Health they were to adjudicate awards, which they did without much assistance from the Government that caused such untold heavy results.

But that looting of the Treasury surplus in 1900 was not grafting. Oh, no; it was plain robbery. Why, so? Because whites mere mainly the grafting beneficiaries, and Hawaiians, hardly any at all. Many lived high at public expense during those days. Now in the instance of the last Legislature, when Hawaiians were mainly the beneficiaries, with a white sprinkling of friends, it is then called graft for doing legitimate work and for "services rendered." The two instances are different; in the first one, mostly white people were concerned, and in the latter case, mostly Hawaiians. Our purists saw no graft in the first instance, but sees one in the last.

It is just similar to what we said the other day. The Federal grand jury saw the mote in the Hawaiian's eye, but failed to discover it in the American's. This is not even-handed justice, but a very much one-sided one, to be sure, and Hawaiians are being made the scapegoats of American missionary venom.

LIKE TARO, LIKE CROW.

Kalo (taro) when not properly cooked is unpalatable and uneatable, because of the sting it gives to one's tongue. All varieties of this nutritious vegetable food is alike in that connection. But there is one variety, known as "ape" (a-pe—not ape), the large leafed kind used as an ornamental plant in many of our city gardens, which no amount of cooking can modify its stinging (maneo) qualities. This difference is noted by Hawaiians and applied by them to those who are in bad blood among themselves, similar in contrast to one eating something palatable and the other something unpalatable, like one eating turkey and the other eating crow. Hawaiians would say of one with a nasty temperament as eating the ape (ai i ka ape), while the other ate the taro (ai i ke kalo). We are making this explanation for the sake of comparison only in the attitude of two public men, Kepoikai and Carter. Kepoikai is living on taro while the other is feeding himself on ape, being synonimous to eating turkey and crow. Have we made this sufficiently clear enough to our haole readers?

Last night Governor Carter entertained departmental heads to a dinner he gave, inviting all to attend, but he failed to invite Treasurer Kepoikai, who did not belong to his "official family." In that he showed his coarseness, brutishness and ungentlemanly conduct, very much lacking that refinement which goes to make one a gentleman. It clearly showed that he still harbored an ill feeling against the only Hawaiian who had the courage to withstand his peevish onslaught to get him to resign an office to which he had been called, thereby sacrificing his own (private and personal) interests for the public weal, for doing which he has been abused and vilified by those who pretend to befriend him.

But we venture to state that Kepoikai is not losing any sleep over it. He is living on taro and Carter on ape. The brisk handshaking on inaugural day is all a farce. We now see that there was no sincerity in such an episode, which we at the time thought was the forerunner of patching up of all differences and of burying the hatchet. Carter's uncouth and ungentlemanly conduct is uncalled for, showing wherein he lacks the breeding that go to make a great man of him. Hawaiians can show him how to be courteous, but being impolitic, he fails to make friends with those whom he intends to cower to his cranky behavior.

Oh Kidgy! how kiddish you appear to be. Your boyish nickname just fits in and shows what you are.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

What difference is there between a donkey and a mule? To us, there's no difference, both being one and the same kind of beast of burden; yet some would have us believe that both are of distinct species.

Senator Crabbe has gone surety on "small farmer" Birbe's bond for appearance in Circuit Court on the charge of profanity. Now we are done for; the millenium is coming. Hoodlumism is above par and the use of profane language, which he is perfectly capable of doing, is at par. What are we coming to? Teuf-teuf!

The discovery of Mr. Tracey that a certain note in music paralyzes the nerves of and kills the mosquito is not new. Berger has progressed even farther than that. His "bumpty-bum" music not only kills mosquitoes but everything else in sight. We still think that it would be a good idea for the Board of Health to engage Berger's band to go around and play the mosquitoes, rats and other pests out of business.

The ordering of Admiral Evan's fleet back to Yokohama upon its receiving coal here indicates that the United States of Colombia has submitted to the brute force brought to bear upon her by the United States, with the endorsement of Great Britain, Germany and France. The whole business may be regarded by the great powers as beneficial to their commerce, but the fact that the act was a case of highway robbery on the part of our Government is not and can never be wiped out. It forms one of the blackest pages in American history, and no honest American can deny the fact.

In place of going to the trouble of inspecting it every day, the bell buoy should be removed altogether and replaced by something more reliable. There could be placed at the point it occupies a buoy of sufficient size to be an adequate warning to ships in the day time and at night it could carry a light that would certainly and completely serve the present purposes of the silly bell buoy. Bell buoys were designed for use on out-of-the-way coasts, rocks or shoals, so far removed from cities that the danger points they represent could not be properly marked. Here, however, on the doorstep of a city, the practice of keeping up such an institution is not less than the height of folly.

After December 30 Hawaiian coin will not be legal tender.

The Alameda arrived in port early this morning from San Francisco.

John K Sumner married a wife in Tahiti and brought her home with him this morning.

A nicely furnished front room and a middle room at No. 9 Garden Lane, are for rent. 2666-1m

Governor Carter entertained a party of Government officials and their wives at the Young hotel last evening.

Charles F Schermerhorn, accompanied by his bride, returned by the Alameda this morning from San Francisco.

The barkentine Archer arrived off port late yesterday and came in this morning. She was 24 days from San Francisco.

Mrs E A Nawahi left for Kona in the Mauna Loa today to meet her son Albert, who is not feeling in the best of health.

A meeting of the Catholic Ladies Aid Society will be held in the Convern hall at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Miss Lucy Roth and Dr C B High will be married on the evening of December 17, at 8:30 o'clock in Central Union church.

The Punahou and Artillery teams will play the game of football in the senior league tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 3:30 o'clock.

Two teams calling themselves the Kapiolanis and the Moanaluas will play a game of polo at Moanalua at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The finals of the Beretania Tennis club's tournament will take place this afternoon with a game between Frank C Atherton and Dr Griffiths.

W C Weedon has opened the National Guard's employment bureau. He announces that there will be no charge for services at either end of the line.

The steamer Nevadan sailed last evening for Kahului to discharge the remainder of her cargo. She will leave that port on Sunday for San Francisco.

Upon her arrival in the Alameda this morning the wife of Captain Niblack received the sad news of the death of her father which occurred in San Francisco on Nov 29.

The steamer Rosecrans arrived last evening from San Francisco with 840,000 gallons of crude oil. From here she will go to Hilo to discharge a part of her cargo.

The office of THE INDEPENDENT is in the brick building next to the Hawaiian hotel grounds on Beretania street, Waikiki of Alakea. First floor.

There will be two basket ball games in the school girls' series on Kamehameha campus tomorrow afternoon. They will be Punahou vs. High School and Priory vs. Y W C A.

At a meeting of the Bar Association held yesterday afternoon a memorial was adopted requesting Congress to defeat the Mitchell bills allowing appeals from the Hawaiian Supreme Court in certain cases and permitting the appointment of outsiders to Territorial offices.

Prof W D Alexander, head of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey Department, left by the Mikahala last evening for Kauai to properly locate the island of Niihau, about which there has come up some serious question. He was accompanied by two assistants.

The fleet of Admiral Evans, which is now on its way from Yokohama to Honolulu, has been ordered back to Japan. That seems to means that the ships will remain in port only long enough to coal. Of course however, there is a chance that the order may be changed. The fleet will be due here ten days from today.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

The Christmas vacation in the schools will begin on December 18 and end January 4.

In the case of the crazy Japanese woman who strangled herself in the police station yesterday, the coroner's jury returned a verdict completely exonerating the police of blame. The case was one plainly of suicide.

Representative F R Greenwell returned home to Kona by the Mauna Loa at noon, accompanied by vice-Speaker Knudsen as his guest, where they both intend to visit the volcano, either Kilauea or Mokuaweoweo.

Word has been received that Charles Fort Schermerhorn, well-known here as Auctioneer Morgan's clerk, was married to Miss Marie Christine Lawler on Thanksgiving Day in San Francisco. They will be "at home" here in this city in the near future.

Joined in Wedlock.

Lieut Leslie, of the mounted police force of this city, and Miss Rosina Shaw, of the Kamehameha Girls School, were quietly married this morning unbeknown to their many outside relatives and friends. The young couple left by the steamer Mauna Loa at noon for Kona, amidst a shower of rice and gaily deck with leir, where they intend to spend their honeymoon with the groom's parents before returning and taking up their residence here.

The "Voucher" Jury.

Following is the Territorial Grand Jury, complete, which will take up the matter of the House vouchers on Monday morning:

Samuel Parker, foreman; George J Campbell, F J Church, W Legros, H A Giles, W L Eaton, Wm L Peterson, Ulysses H Jones, J K Inch, C F Herrick, R K Pahau, W M Templeton, Geo W Macy, S Mahelona, J J Sullivan, E B Mikalemi, C A Vierra, Eli J Crawford, S Ehrlich, C J Falk Sol A Hiram, Alex K Aona and W B McCormick.

The Jones Case.

The trial of E M Jones for the alleged murder of his former wife began this morning, a jury having been obtained, after days of unsuccess yesterday afternoon. Following is the jury that will have the case in hand:

J K Manaae, Henry Zerbe, Hiram Kolomoku, Edmund Norrie, W M Bush, D K Hospili, J D Cockett, J A Lawalawa, Tom Jones, Joseph K Clark, Charles H Bellina and Frank Godfrey.

For Other Islands.

The following departed by the Mauna Loa this morning for Maui and Hawaii ports:

G Jamieson, H Willgeroth, S F Leslie and bride, F F Semell, F R Greenwell, E A Knudsen, J T Crawley, W McWayne, L P Lincoln, C Wolters, J F Humberg, Mrs E A Nawahi and maid, T B Lyons and Miss Lyons, Geo Weight and L R Crook.

Married.

WASHINGTON'S VIEW OF PANAMA AFFAIR

WASHINGTON, D.C. Nov. 22:

The comments of leading democrats here on the recent high-handed manner of the republican administration in dealing with the new de facto republic of Panama, and its action prior to the so-called revolution on the Isthmus, are in the nature of bitter denunciations of the outrage perpetrated on a friendly nation. They claim that Roosevelt has outrage all precedent and placed a blot on the fair name of this nation for dealing with its contemporaries in a fair and just manner. That is but another step in the imperial policy. That the game he is playing is that "might makes right," and that he is doing all this simply to play into the hands of the gang who will profit by the increase in the price of the bonds of the Panama Canal Company when a treaty with the new opera bouffe republic is ratified by the Senate and by the powers governing the secession republic of Panama.

When contrasted with past precedents in connections with the recognition of new republics, the actions of the Roosevelt administration are an outrageous overturning of them all and an indorsement of secession and an indecent slap in the face of a weak sister nation. In 1836, President Jackson refused to recognize the new republic of Texas, and said that it was important that we observe a course "wisely consistent with our just principles." President Grant refused to recognize the republic of Cuba and so did McKinley, and there were many more reasons why that republic should have been recognized than the new mushroom republic of Panama. In speaking of Cuba and his reasons for not granting recognition of its independence at that time, President McKinley said: "In dealing with cases like these the further condition imposes itself that recognition of independent statehood is not due to a revolted dependency until the danger of its being again subjugated by the parent state has entirely passed away." Does any sane man believe that Colombia could not quickly have subjugated Panama if there had not been United States war vessels present to interfere with the action of the Colombian forces and warn them to keep hands off? What did we think of the attempt of England to recognize the Confederacy in 1861? We warned her to keep hands off, and she did so. The whole truth, as believed here by those best informed on this subject, is that this revolt was planned overnight in the city of New York and carried out by American guns, and at the instigation and connivance of this country, every move of which was known in advance by this republican administration. Every move and every step proves this or it proves nothing. The French stock operator and speculator who pretends to represent the new republic of Panama at this Capitol, was received by President Roosevelt with a great show of spectacular ceremony, and the new republic duly recognized by the United States as one of the nations of the earth. He declares the Panama raid represented the unopposed will of the people of Panama," but what of Colombia, which was the parent state? It had proposed an expedition to suppress the revolt such as General Scott started to Charleston in 1861, under Major

FULFILLMENT OF A PROPHECY

Among Hawaiians, a saying was always current that the late Dr. Gerritt P. Judd, the original ancestor of the Judd family of these Islands, who came here as a missionary physician, had prophecied that some day his progeny would rule the destinies of this archipelago. Such a prophecy was so impressed in the minds of Hawaiians, (whether really justified or not we know not) that it was thought when the late A. Francis Judd was appointed Associate Justice and as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and Chancellor of the Kingdom by His late Majesty Kalakaua, and his brother, Col. C. H. Judd, as chamberlain to the household of the same Sovereign, that the same was fulfilled.

It was during the reign of the same monarch that Dr. Judd's sons-in-law, the late Samuel G. Wilder and Henry A. P. Carter, were appointed Ministers of the Crown and had other honors heaped upon them. The latter (Mr. Carter, one of the younger brothers of the veteran J. O. Carter, who is still with us, and father of the present Governor) was appointed as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Washington, succeeding the late Minister Elisha H. Allen, formerly Chief Justice of Hawaii nei, who died while in harness. It was even said that Mr. Carter received such a distinction through his connection by marriage with the Judd family. His elevation was also taken by Hawaiians as in partial fulfillment of that alleged prophetic declaration.

The Judd offsprings were a vainglorious lot, and we believe that they are still so to this very day. The cause for this was probably in their being brought up by and among chiefs, and certain daughters were named after prominent chiefesses, as for instance, Mrs. Wilder's known native name being Kinau. Each had their own nurses or servants (kahus) and the simple-minded natives of those days looked upon the Judd brood, males and females, as chiefs and chiefesses (alii's). All in all, they more or less loved to be treated and looked upon as such, and each and every one expected homage done them by the masses. They loved to receive presents or offerings (hookupus) whenever and wherever they toured about among the people and were frequently right royally entertained. The late Chief Justice was about the last of them to be so treated by the natives, even up to the time of his death, and he really and greatly enjoyed the treatment so accorded him, wherever and whenever he went on Court circuits or otherwise, and felt quite elated to be so treated and flattered.

With all the honors bestowed upon them by the monarchs and chiefs, they were among the first who bit the hands of those that fed and reared them, and are today among the first who are now living in affluence as against the down-trodden people who once made much of them. Times have changed, and the people have changed with them, or rather, the people followed the changes making them subservient to their will. Now they are mostly all gone with the ever changing of time, but their offspring remain with us, claiming to be born as Polynesians and to love Hawaii and the Hawaiians, but at heart they are false, being American to the core, bringing forth their Indian origin and treacherous nature.

After the first Judd, who, in 1843, when Lord George Paulet forcibly ceded these Islands to Great Britain, patriotically stood by his post of duty as a Crown Minister in the then mausoleum of chiefs, on the southernmost part of the former Iolani Palace grounds, using coffins as his writing desk and there he was night and day, (so the story runs) in and among such a weird and gruesome surrounding; the rest have fallen by the wayside. But he never for once faltered; he stood like "the boy on the burning deck" until success came to crown his patriotic efforts for his adopted country, the accidental home of his children and his children's children, who, in their turn, disowned and treated treacherously, after being nursed in the too confiding bosoms of those they betrayed. All that is now a matter of history for some unbiased historian (not of the Alexander stamp) to write up in the future.

We are somewhat, in the preceding paragraph, drifting away from our original subject—that relating to the Judd rule prophecy. If that prophecy is true and is to be believed, which we do not for a moment doubt, then it has its fulfillment in our present day ruler, George Robert Carter, now Governor of the Territory of Hawaii, grandson of the late Dr. Judd, known among Hawaiians as Kauka Okolekala, said to be derived from his continually sitting over the old iron casket that contained the country's monied wealth at the time, he being everything then. His sons never actually nor virtually ruled the country, although they were, to a certain extent, the rulers behind the throne during Kalakaua's reign. But when it came to pass that their advice was unheeded, they began to fall in power, in health and in mind, finally joining hands with the revolutionists. This reminds us of a saying attributed to one of the missionary fathers, who is claimed to have said to one of the chiefs: "Beware of our children, they are like snakes." And this has been verified.

No son of Dr. Judd ever ruled the country, but a Moses has been found in one of his grandsons, who has virtually and actually become the ruler of Hawaii, by the grace of his former football friend, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States of America. And now, "I, George Robert Carter, am the ruler of Hawaii, my beloved home, wherein I was born a Polynesian and that I am a Hawaiian in thought and feeling." We must now bow our heads, bend the knee and scrape our feet in the presence of our ruler, the Governor of this Territory, and a member of the second generation of the Judd family, yet not a Judd in name, but a Carter, an American in feeling and thought. Just watch him and his satellites!

SERIOUS MATTER INDEED!

The whole purpose of the Advertiser is to discredit Haawiians in the eyes of others. One need not be so blind as not to see it sticking out all over its entire surface. It is now its main course so to do, thinking probably that thereby it and the Republican party will eventually coerce the Hawaiian people into submission, to be by them squeezed dry as an orange, finally to be cast off as worthless.

Its attempted defense of Dwight and Lane, in this morning's issue, is so weak that it resorts to the usual "old salt horse hash" of "inevitably and always, the native Home Ruler of the lower type, draws a color line in Court." The Independent's attack on them was not because that it believed "that a Hawaiian juror should always clear a Hawaiian offender, especially when he has been brought to bar by a white man," but because it knew that they, as Hawaiians, did not do their duty by their people, and that which they have done without destroying "the sanctity of a juror's oath" in the favor of any class.

Enough have we learned since that report was made, that these two being above the other two as far as intelligence was concerned, did not look far enough into those vouchers to note the difference between the gratts made by Hawaiians and haole Americans, and knowing that, caused us to attack them for being derelict in their duty towards themselves and their own kind. And further, we know whereof we are speaking, and also, that we know them better personally than their defender.

When Hawaiians like them, who "have respect for their sworn duty and do not distinguish racially between culprits under the ban of the law," it was a pity that they did not know better, particularly when there were no culprits around at the time. These remarks portend danger and disaster to them, either politically or socially, especially when "they are abused for it by the ignorant and vicious of their own race, of whom The Independent is an exemplar." For this latter we are glad to know that we are vicious and ignorant, its own too well-known viciousness towards the Hawaiian people being no bar to its venomous display of outward antagonism and inward hate.

Knowing certain reason and explanations made by those two Hawaiians to some of their friends, and not caring to saddle them with them at this time, we are content to let them slide off, for the present at least, into eternity, until such time as we may have occasion to use them, either at them or at those whom they may have whitewashed. But of the "serious matter indeed," which should be "rectified in some way," the "vast harm" that will be done towards the Territory and "our development along traditional American lines" will not work nor be known at this time till our next general election comes around again.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

What has an endorsed voucher by Frank Godfrey to F. J. Testa got to do with the latter? As the voucher speaks for itself, how can it be considered as graft? Other people were doing the same, i. e., sold copies of the Civil and Penal codes, including Testa himself. That's no graft, but legitimate business.

During a fortnight past, we are given to understand, the tug Fearless did not do a single day's towage. No sailing vessels arrived during those days and, in consequence thereof, it had nothing to do. And not only that, but the wharves were deserted, there being hardly anything on the waterfront. These are some of the results of annexation.

Relating to what F. J. Testa got out of the Legislature for work on the County bill, which he politically opposed, the job came his way without one being "patched up" at his "earnest solicitation." His Republican friends, knowing what he was capable of doing, threw the work his way, with instruction from the chairman of the committee, to spare no expense to get it out and on time, which he did. Why shouldn't he make a good thing off that bill when it was thrown his way, and he sat up night and day to do it, too.

Bloodless Girls

Doctors have given the Greek name Anæmia, meaning "bloodlessness" to a disease which is much more prevalent among young women than is generally believed. In its early stages the disease is not marked by any decided symptoms and often makes considerable advance before its presence is noticed. An unusual feeling of fatigue after slight exercise, breathless and pallor are the first noticeable signs.

In anæmia the blood becomes thin, the heart flabby, the skin pale and waxy. If the disease become chronic (persistent anæmia) it often results fatally. The one successful method of treating this disease is to build up the blood. The best blood builder in the world is

This remedy has cured more cases of anæmia than all others combined.

Miss Cordelia Moore, of Malone, N. Y., until recently, has been a lifelong invalid from palpitation of the heart and weakness of the blood. In speaking of this experience she said:

"I was in a terrible condition. I could not eat. My face was ghastly white, and my hands were almost transparent. I was so weak it was utterly impossible for me to go up stairs.

"I met a friend who spoke of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and advised me to try them. Before the first box was used I began to regain my appetite and felt better generally. I bought six more boxes and took them. I grew strong rapidly and gained in flesh. I became better in every way. I never felt better in my life than now, and consider myself cured. I cannot say too much regarding Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."—From the Gazette, Malone, N. Y.

No discovery of modern times has proved such a blessing to mankind as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Acting directly on the blood and nerves, invigorating the body, regulating the functions, they restore the strength and health in the exhausted patient when every effort of the physician proves unavailing.

These pills are sold in boxes at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Anderson, but our President of the day took sides with the secessionists in Panama and ordered our naval forces to resist the landing of any force sent out by the republic of Colombia in the execution of its constitutional duty to maintain the unity of South American republic. Does not this strike thinking Americans who boast a well regulated conscience as an audacious performance, resting on unbridled powers and at war with every recognized principle of rightful American conduct? We trampled on the weak, declared secession to be rightful, and promoted its success. Is it not a shameful episode in our national history? To whom does disgrace and dishonor attach? Let the people answer the question.

The whole milk in the cocoanut of this disgraceful proceeding came out today when it was announced in the New York press that the firm of J Pierpont Morgan & Co. had been made the fiscal agents of the new republic of Panama in this country! That means that this "Captains of finance" will finance the new republic and get the rake-off. That accounts for the fact that the New York Sun, which has been hitherto bitterly antagonistic to Roosevelt, has come out and endorsed the action of the administration in garroting and robbing the republic of Colombia. That paper is owned and controlled by Mr Morgan. It also shows that all the talk about Wall Street and the Morgan interests being opposed to Roosevelt will no longer go down the throats of a hitherto over-credulous public. They are all together now in one happy band of commercial freebooters and Bashi Bazouks and it is singularly unfortunate that Senator Gorman's leadership in the Senate has failed completely to get the democrats in that body to refuse absolutely to have anything to do with the new opera bouffe republic and defeat any treaty that may come before it for ratification.

PIVOTAL POINTS IN ELECTION.

WASHINGTON, D.C. Nov. 22:

It is generally conceded that the democrats must carry the states of New York and New Jersey in the next presidential election in order to win. Conceding that those two states are absolutely necessary for democratic success next year, it may be interesting for the democrats of the country to know the kind of democracy that must control in the state of New Jersey next year if we would win that state.

An illustration drawn from the last Congressional election in that state last year will suffice to give them this information. In one of the Congressional districts that was democratic, the democrats nominated a man named De Witt Clinton Flanagan, a man of wealth, refinement, culture and social distinction. He represented only those things that republicans like and of which they are not afraid. He was indorsed by Grover Cleveland, who lives in his district, and who made a speech for him, the first he had made since his retirement from the presidency. Notwithstanding all this and the further fact that Mr Flanagan spent large sums of money, he was defeated.

On the other hand, in another district that was normally republican by about 4,000 majority, and in which the republicans nominated the millionaire thread manufacturer, Barbour, and in which the democratic nomination went begging, the democrats won a splendid victory. After the nomination in this district had been declined by a number of democrats, a young democrat named William Hughes, a lawer without money, but with character and brains and real democracy, accept the nomination as a matter of party honor. He announced from the beginning of the campaign that he had no money with which to buy votes, and said he did not want a vote that had to be purchased. He also said that if he were elected it would mean a real democratic triumph and a slap in the face of monopoly and trust domination and the rule of the predatory rich. He roundly denounced all those things from start to finish of the campaign and the result was that he was elected by the honest men of the district by 3,900 majority, a change of 8,000 votes in the district.

That should teach the democrats of the country that if they hope to carry the state of New Jersey in the next presidential election they must nominate a man for president who stands for the things and the kind of democracy that "Billy" Hughes stands for or they may as well hang their harp on a willow tree. A look over the field of men mentioned for the nomination on the democratic ticket will discover to the acute observer of the times the man who fills the bill.

GOING TO ETERNITY.

Many of our old landmarks are disappearing with the passing of Time, to make way for other and new landmarks, so as to take the places of those that have disappeared never more to be restored in their former stations, whether animate or inanimate, during this mortal existence and into that life immortal, either with Lazarus in Abraham's bosom, the home of eternal bliss, or with Dives in the place of everlasting torment, where there is weeping and gnashing of teeth. With the passing away of these old landmarks, so too are the old sons of the soil as well as those who have been resident among us and who have reared families, all to make room for the new and strenuous generation who are to fill the gaps made gaping by their absence. Being missed, they are soon replaced by others and the gap filled and closed for the time being, and so on forevermore to the world's end, whence time and memory will be no more. Such is fate known the world over and none of us need ever expect a different treatment, as the end of all things living is as a sealed book, unknown, mysterious and unfathomable.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

It looks like transports from Manila are timed to call here on Sunday and to leave in a few hours on Monday. Is this a "deal" between the army department in California and the merchants of San Francisco and Manila?

"Patched" and "earnest solicitation" are good enough terms with regard to F. J. Testa's work on the Republican County Act, but they are lies, nevertheless. Search for other terms with which to besmirch a political opponent.

If the Advertiser wishes to find out those whom Editor Testa "employed on work for which the House was already paying him the usual exorbitant rates," it had better ask Attorney Breckons, or the late grand jury, or the police force, and better still, go and "ask a policeman."

Hon. George W. Smith (otherwise "Rat Poison" Smith) will this evening appear before the footlights in Progress hall as chairman of the "town meeting" to discuss the Hatch mission to Washington. The occasion affords Mr. Smith another and an excellent chance to pose, and it is to be hoped that every body will be there to see it.

The Sunday Advertiser regrets that owing to the absence of Colonel Thomas Fitch in Los Angeles it will not be able to produce any more of his "reminiscences" in several weeks. The general public (or that part of it reading the Sunday Advertiser) regrets, in the meanwhile, that we have mail steamers from the Coast and that the cable cannot be choked off for a time.

England may have fallen by the wayside in the matter of yacht building, but a speed of 20.3 knots for a battleship, as in the case of the Libertad, shows that she still holds her own in a very important matter. Battleships with the speed of cruisers is something out of the ordinary, and in perfecting such a thing Great Britain has set a pace that will be hard to follow.

If the transport officers at San Francisco are in league with the merchants of that place to have vessels from Manila stop here only on Sundays and for a few hours on Monday, in order that the troops will be forced to save their money to spend on the Coast, the sooner the facts are established here the better. The charge has been made, and we think that the commercial bodies of Honolulu should lose no time in taking it up.

We are well aware of the efforts being made certain of our missionary friends to knock out the County Act. Just what their object in so doing is, however, it is hard to tell. They framed and passed the law. It is the child of their own ideas. Of one thing, though, we are mighty certain, and that is this: The people of Hawaii want county government and intend to have it. They will not be balked in the matter, either, by disgruntled candidates or their supporters.

In the death of Horace Bates Crabbe, Honolulu loses one of her very best citizens and many a man a good friend. Having spent most of his life here, he was a distinctive factor in the community. He was of amiable disposition and readily won a warm place in the hearts of all those coming in contact with him. His honesty in speech and action was notorious. It was not in his nature to be unfaithful to anyone, and everybody knew that. A truly good man has been lost to the community.

It is the safest proposition to urge the appointment of local men to Federal offices in every instance. Judge Estee was a truly good and great man, but his selection and career here formed an accident. Not in a life-time might such an appointment be followed by consequences so successful. As a general principle it will be better to have our own people in office. Next year we are more than apt to have a Democratic administration in charge at Washington, and then we will have officers here that will certainly be satisfactory.

Many Hawaiians are said to have been invited to attend the Governor's inaugural reception and ball, to be held at former Iolani Palace, now the Capitol Building, tomorrow evening. It is the idea, so 'tis said, to have them hobnob, as American, with white Americans, and be made to know what they are expected to be, and that the Governor himself is responsible for this innovation to make the people "kow-tow" to him as being subservient to his will, in fulfillment of his grandfather's prophetic declaration, which we had the audacity to give last Saturday. We hope that they will think twice before being rash.

The bill in Congress to apply the exclusion laws of China to Japan should be encouraged in every possible way at this end of the line. So, also, should the bill providing for the admission of a limited number of Chinese coolies for purely agricultural purposes. Hawaii is being ground to death by Japanese, they entering and competing in every industry. There has never been any appreciable damage from Chinese. With the Japanese shut out absolutely and a sufficient number of Chinese admitted for the purely field work on the plantations, the question of the success of the working man would be settled immediately on his side and the plantations would, at the same time, be protected.

Capt. Carl Klemme, who has just returned from Germany, explains that the reason the Kaiser's government so promptly recognized the Republic of Panama was that commercial Germany feels the necessity of a canal across the isthmus between North and South America and had lost confidence in the effort of Colombia or France to provide the highway. That may be all right; but did Germany stop to think that the people of the Isthmus have, morally, any rights in the affair? Are the speculative ambitions of American, English and German settlers there to supercede the rights and desires of the people that own the country? This affair, it seems to us, outdoes Minister Stevens in his Hawaiian steal.

Sam Dwight and John Lane, two Hawaiians far above the other two (Lot Lane and Alex. Iliihia) on the late Federal grand jury panel, were not the men we thought them to be in not making an investigation on their own account in order to satisfy themselves. They were talked over and hoodwinked into signing that "damning" report withohut knowing what they were doing. They believed what they were told and signed that one-sided report condemning Hawaiians, which includes themselves. Sure, they are like stoneless peaches, merely led by the nostrils and bit the bait. Election day is coming around again as sure as Christmas and New Year are coming and it behooves Hawaiians to remember them when next they are put forward as candidates.

Ho! about those fountain pens? The morning oracle must be off its base; Editor Testa of the Independent didn't do anything of the kind by rushing to the rescue of the Sergeant-at-Arms with any such statement as attributed by it. We challenge it by a search of our files during the time. But what we know, its reporter was the maddest man, because the officer showed him no courtesy, and not until a signed ultimatum was sent from the press table did the officer condescend to show some courtesy. Editor Testa was once a Sergeant-at-Arms and that of the long Legislature of 1892 and the last under the Monarchy. It was within the province of such an officer to do the purchasing for all the necessaries of that august body, subject to the order and approval of those above him.

President's Message.

The regular session of Congress opened in Washington this morning. In his message President Roosevelt urged the building of new light houses in the Hawaiian Islands and the repayment to the Hawaiian Government of the money expended for keeping up the lights since annexation.

The President also urges an amendment to the Organic Act empowering the Governor to suspend or dismiss any department head without the sanction of the Senate.

Born.

THRUM—In Hilo, Hawaii, on December 1, 1903, to the wife of F W Thrum, a daughter.

Death of Horace G. Crabbe.

Horace G Crabbe, one of the oldest white residents of the Islands, died at 10:30 o'clock Saturday night after a week of suffering from a stroke of paralysis. Following is his history:

Horace Gates Crabbe was born in Philadelphia, March 2, 1830. He came to Honolulu in 1847, and remained here with the exception of a few visits to the mainland. When he was about sixteen years of age his father, Captain Crabbe of the United States Marine Corps, was attached to the yards at New Orleans. He was ordered to California and took passage in a sailing vessel and came around Cape Horn. The vessel carried United States stores which were consigned to the naval forces at Monterey. Young Crabbe undertook the journey as clerk to his father. They remained in California for a short time, when Captain Crabbe was sent to Honolulu. He was a representative here of the United States for some time, when he resigned and went into business for himself. Horace Crabbe remained with his father, acting as his clerk. He afterwards went into business for himself.

While Col W F Allen was Collector of the Port Horace Crabbe occupied a position in the Custom House and in a subsequent regime he was the acting Surveyor of the Port.

When Lunalilo came to the throne he called Mr Crabbe from the Customs House and offered him the post of chamberlain, which was accepted. Mr Crabbe walked with the king to the place where he took the oath. He was king's chamberlain until that monarch's death about a year afterward. He then went to Leilehua Ranch which he partly owned. The drought came and the ranch was almost stripped of its live stock. He returned to Honolulu and successively engaged in the draying and hay and grain business. While in the grain business he was elected a noble on the National Reform ticket during the reign of Kalakaua and served his term in the legislature.

In later years he was connected with the police station under Marshal Parke, and was also with the Oahu Railway. In recent times he retired from active participation in business affairs.

He was one of the oldest Masons in the Islands having been connected with Lodge le Progres for over thirty-four years.

He was married in 1857 to Elizabeth Meek, daughter of Captain John Meek. He leaves surviving him five children: De Courcey W, John M; Clarence L, the President of the Hawaiian Senate; Horace N and Mrs Lydia R Allen.

Overheard in a Barroom.

A somewhat heated conversation was overheard the other evening in a local barroom, the subject being the attitude of THE INDEPENDENT over the Federal grand jury report between a strenuous politician, who has no love for THE INDEPENDENT, and a glass-eye lawyer. What was overheard is somewhat as follows:

S P—You ought to make an example of F J Testa for the way he is treating with the grand jury's report. Take him up before the bar of the Court and let him show cause why he should not be held and bound over for contempt, in that he is condemning that report, particularly against the Hawaiians that were on that jury.

L, rolling his glass-eye while the other squinted and said—That is so. I will look it up and see what can be done with him.

At the same time, the latter was considering whether there was a chance of getting a fee in the matter, if he bring it up, from our easy political missionaries. The balance of the conversation was all a mumble and a rumble and nothing was further heard when the eavesdropper dropped out of sight. For the rest, it is teuf teuf.

Carter's Opinion Re Hatch's Trip.

In a letter to the Hatch trip meeting in Progress hall last evening, Governor Carter expressed the following views:

The seriousness of the Territory's situation was first called to my attention by United States District Attorney Breckons. A few days later, in order to understand the situation I invited a number of gentlemen to meet with the Attorney General and myself and discuss the matter. At that meeting the importance of prompt action was made evident. There remained less than a month before the County Act would take effect. To secure an opinion of the Supreme Court on all points within this time was impossible. I think all of the attorneys present at that meeting were unanimous in the opinion that the Supreme Court would not decide on the Act as a whole, but only on each question as it was raised. The decision already given illustrates the general rule laid down by the Court. In that case as many points as could possibly be thought of were submitted. One only was decided, and the rest left for future consideration.

There being an appeal from our Supreme Court by writ of error, no matter what its decision, whether for or against the County Act, it was pointed out that disgruntled taxpayer could appeal to the United States Courts, necessitating litigation involving not less than a year's time and consequences of a serious nature. In the practical working out of this question, it seemed very doubtful that the County Act, as a whole, would be declared illegal, but if at all, would be slowly disintegrated, as the courts decided from time to time in what points it was in conflict with the Organic Act.

With such conditions confronting us, what would be the status of the Territory and our community as a whole? Looking at it in the worst light, i. e., the Act being thrown out entirely, there would certainly be a period of chaos before it would be possible to call the Legislature into extra session and have them enact further laws making appropriations for those departments which are to be turned over to the Counties—a situation hardly creditable to the intelligence of our community.

Now, suppose the Act was not declared invalid, but attacked from time to time in the different points? How, under such circumstances, are we to successfully launch county government? Would it not be a continual period of turmoil, of lack of confidence, and one which would give our community as a whole the reputation of being incapable of self-government—an accusation that every patriotic citizen must resent.

The cutting out of the Territorial Board of Public Institutions was not a matter of great moment. The harm was done in discrediting the County Act. The moment public confidence is lost, the difficulty of carrying out the provisions of the County Act become infinitely greater.

On the other hand, if the matter can be, with the assistance of our Delegate, put before Congress in the light that we are attempting to build up independent communities on traditional American lines; that this subject of county government had been before two separate Legislatures; that the voters of the Territory were overwhelmingly in favor of such a measure; that an act had passed the last Legislature almost unanimously, which as nearly as could be was satisfactory to the people and fitted our conditions; that owing to wide differences of opinion

THE HATCH MISSION.

There is a great deal of kid business in this discussion of the mission of Mr. Hatch to Washington, as well as in the beginning and progress of the mission. It is a matter that will have to be handled with gloves, or the business is certain to be misunderstood and there will be a rebound that will hurt the country in many ways.

The time for the Supreme Court to consider the County Act was last Summer, as we repeatedly pointed out and urged. If there were defects in it they should have been pointed out and established at the time the case in regard to the Board of Public Institutions was before the court. In case that the law, or any part or parts of it, had been declared in conflict with the provisions of the Organic Act, there would have been ample time for a special session of the Legislature for the purpose of amending the Act, and all questions in relation to the law would have been settled before now.

But, no; our Republican friends would not have it. Chief Justice Frear had worked a few hours overtime and had to have a rest. Justice Perry was a little tired and needed a respite in the cooler atmosphere of California. That element of the Republican party which had opposed County government from the start, backed this program with the result that the question then up went over and was not determined until after the election. At this late day, after every chance for thoroughly threshing out the matter in the Supreme Court, before the law goes into effect, has passed, and without cause, the same crowd comes in and points out defects in it.

The object of this crowd is plain. They do not want county government and are willing to do anything to defeat it. If they were in favor of county government they could easily have had every clause of the Act threshed out by the Supreme court three months ago and every part of it settled. They won in the effort to have a consideration of the case put off until after the election, and are now working to either defeat or postpone the operation of the law.

To refer the matter to Congress will be to bring about two things: It will prevent the going into effect of the County Act in January, and may defer it indefinitely, for the reason that Congress already has its hands full with Panama, internal and other matters and has no time to give to small and inconsequential incidentals of this sort. It would be damaging, in the second place, for the reason that it would create an impression that we are not able here to intelligently pass our laws and to conduct our own affairs. There would, upon the presentation of any such request, enter the minds of Congressmen the suspicion that our political machinery here was a kindergarten affair, and the thought would without doubt suggest itself that the best thing to do would be to take over every part of Hawaiian government business, and manage it as is done in the District of Columbia and the District of Alaska. The tendency would certainly be in the direction of depriving us of what little independence we now have, inasmuch as it would shatter confidence in our ability to go it alone.

It may be the object of Governor Carter, George W. Smith, Mr. Breckons, F. M. Hatch and others in this conspiracy to lead the country into this position, in the hope of thereby downing the influence of the native Hawaiians, knowng that they themselves will be able to swim in the whirlpool that would certainly follow. If that be so, however, Governor Carter has proved himself not to be the man we had hoped of him at the beginning of his administration a few days ago.

It is a bad scheme to run to Congress with matters that affect only our local interests, and with business that we are capable of handling ourselves. In our Organic Act the Government conceded to us extraordinary powers —that is to say, more power and greater privileges than are granted to other territories. In doing so the Congress expected this territory to stand alone and look out for itself in every matter not involving foreign or Federal interests. To run to it with every little matter that may crop up is bound to give the impression that we are not capable of handling our affairs, and may result in such amendments to the Organic Act as will transfer the entire control of our affairs to Washington. Does anybody in the Islands want that? We think not.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

It is treasonable, when the truth is told, and vile and rampant blackguardism when the mark has been hit strongly. Probably the more the truth, the more the teaser howls in pain.

Because certain of the Ellises went into Attorney Breckons' office to ask for a legal opinion with respect to their suit against their old grand-uncle Sumner, an opinion which he didn't give, he brought suit for a claim of $250 in our District Court and got judgment for the full amount. Isn't that a clear case of graft? But we consider it worse than graft. Mr. Breckons should disgorge some of his ill-gotten fees, and may be, perquisites.

District Attorney Breckons must have been the father of that Federal grand jury report and he must have really felt happy and relieved when he unloaded it by compelling all the jurors to sign it. That may have been because he is the best Federal friend of those who would down Hawaiians, by frequently feeing him to do many chores for them. It was not so with the late Mr. Baird, for he was one not very easily influenced, even by throwing fees within his way.

How about the Advertiser's graft in connection with the printing of a certain volume of the Hawaiian Reports, which Chief Justice Frear had already awarded to its business end, and at the same time advertised for tenders? The Independent would like some explanations from our good, pure, honest and clean contemporary, which is now horrified that others have invaded its somewhat sacred precinct and confines. It is the only one entitled to do any grafting, all others being interlopers of its rights and privileges.

The F. M. Brooks case came out just about as we thought it would. He was discharged by Judge Dole this morning for the reason that there was absolutely nothing against him, save alone that he advised certain Japanese clients in a matter or matters thoroughly in line with his duty as an attorney and counsellor at law. It is a pity that the case did not come to trial, for if it had Mr. Brooks would have been enabled to show in detail his connection with the case. However, the complete vindication by the court without hearing the defense at all is satisfactory.

The Queen in Washington.

Word has been received here that Queen Liliuokalani has arrived in Washington and was staying at the Ebbitt House, where Delegate Kalanianaole had also been staying. But that the latter had rented a house since, and upon the Queen's arrival, he called upon her and invited her to stay with them, which invitation she accepted and are now all staying together.

Brooks Vindicted.

The F M Brooks case came to a sudden end in the United States district court this morning. It was plainly shown from the sole representations of the prosecution itself that it had not a leg to stand on in the matter, and Judge Dole dismissed the case.

The Inaugural Ball.

Great preparations are being mad for the inaugural ball at the Palace tonight. About 3,000 invitations have been issued. The reception will last from 8 to 10 p m, after which there will be dancing and social diversion in the old throne room and in the hallway and chambers upstairs. Two native orchestras will supply music. Following are the committees in charge:

Committee on Arrangements—Colonel J W Jones, Hon C L Crabbe Major Geo C Potter, Geo H Smithies, Andrew Brown, J A Gilman, Henry C Hapai, W F Dillingham, Major J W Pratt, Capt Marston Campbell, N Aluli.

Decorations—Captain Marston Campbell.

Supper—Andrew Brown.

Reception—All committeemen.

Floor—Major Geo C Potter, floor manager; Messrs Geo E Smithies, W F Dillingham, Henry C Hapai.

Was All Talk.

The meeting last night to consider Mr Hatch's mission to Washington resulted in a great deal of talk but no action of any tangible sort except to adjourn to Thursday evening. A motion to have a committee appointed to draft resolutions in opposition to the Hatch mission finally passed. Speeches had previously been made by Attorney General Andrews, District Attorney Breckons, Judge Humphreys, C W Ashford, W O Smith and others. The consensus of opinion among the speakers seemed to be that to ask the intention of Congress in the County Act question would be a mistake.

Carter's Opinion.

as to the interpretation of the Organic Act and a doubt on the part of some as to the validity of a small portion of the Act, a contest had arisen and the matter had been tested in the courts, which resulted in an adverse opinion, and this had so discredited the Act that it greatly reduced the chances of a successful launching of county government, the difficulties would be greatly reduced.

Under these circumstances, if Congress was willing to simply ratify the Act as it stood and the election held under it, leaving to our Legislature the responsibility for it and the authority to amend it in future, this would be the surest and safest method of handling the question; such action on the part of Congress would clear away all doubt as to conflict with the Organic Act. It would assist to a large extent our attempt to build up American institutions in these Islands by sanctioning this County law as drafted and passed by our own Legislature.

The first plan was to send Mr Breckons. Mr Hatch had come to the meeting without knowing its purpose, and had heartily agreed in the proposed course as being by far the wisest. He stated that he was going to San Francisco and would do what he could in the matter, and the next day (Mr Breckons having found it impossible to undertake the mission) it was arranged for Mr Hatch to go on at once, to confer with our Delegate, to sound the chairmen of the important committees and to cable back what, if anything, could be done.

Thus, you see, from the very first step there has been nothing to secrete or keep from the public. Those representatives of the press who have asked have been given a full statement of the affair.

The people of this Territory have expressed an unqualified desire for county government; for an opportunity to have a larger voice in the management of their own affairs. This has been repeatedly promised them and the Legislature did its part, so that the Administration would be lacking in good faith did it not do everything in its power to bring about county government.

Governor Carter's First Reception.

Governor Carter's inaugural reception and ball at the Palace last evening was not so largely attended as had been anticipated but it was in every way a great official and social success. All departments of official and martial life were represented, and Honolulu's four hundred was out in full force. It is estimated that 2,000 people attended the reception and shook hands with the Governor.

For the occasion the capital was brilliantly illuminated. The old throne room and other parts of the building were decorated with national bunting and tropical verdure. The band discoursed patriotic and sentimental music on the grounds. Altogether, the scene and surroundings were quite pretty and impressive.

The Governor, Mrs Carter and the receiving party occupied a position in the old foreign office. With Mr Carter and his wife were: Mrs Alatau Atkinson, representing the Department of Education; Mrs Walter F Frear, the Supreme Court; Mrs Lorrin Andrews, Attorney General's Department; Mrs Charles B Cooper, Health Department; Mrs T C Holloway, Department of Public Works; Mrs George Smithies, Insurance Commissioner's Department; Mrs E S Boyd, Mrs J W Pratt, Land Commissioner's Department; Mrs Arthur M Brown, High Sheriff's Department; Mrs R D Waldbridge.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the field officers of the National Guard were received by the Governor, followed immediately by the line officers, all in full dress uniform. Next came the consular representatives, United States military, naval and civil officials and Territorial officials. Then the public stream started, and that kept up steadily until about 10 o'clock, when dancing began. The social features of the occasion had continuence until 2 o'clock this morning, when the ball closed with Hawaii Ponoi and the Star Spangled Banner.

Altogether the reception was a great success and must have been entirely satisfactory to the new Governor. It was one of the most brilliant affairs of the year if not of officialdom in Hawaii.

Mrs M H Judd has been granted a divorce from Charles H Judd on the ground of non-support. Respondent is required to pay counsel fees in the sum of $50 and alimony of $20 per month.

A special feature of the Elks memorial meeting in the Hawaiian Opera house Sunday afternoon was the music by the Symphony Orchestra, under the leadership of W F Jocher. The selections were appropriate and the rendering of every number was most impressive.

Hawaiian Lodge, F & A M, will instal the following officers on St John's day, together with the appointive officers to be named by the W M: Worshipful Master, Abram Lewis, Jr; Senior Warden, John G Rothwell; Junior Warden, Charles S Hall; Treasurer, Robert Catton; Secretary, K R G Wallace.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 9, 1903.

A DISPLAY OF WEAKNESS.

The "town meeting" held Tuesday evening was a meeting called by the Merchants' Association for the purpose of sounding the public pulse with regard to Mr. Hatch's mission relative to the County Act. In another sense, it was a public and an open meeting, otherwise called a mass meeting. Aside from the purpose for which it was called, such a meeting could have passed any matter it desired, whether by resolution or otherwise; but such was not the desire of certain merchants present, for they claimed that it was only to discuss certain conditions that have arisen and not to pass on anything, or, in other words, it was only a talking meeting or a gas tank, machine affair.

Merchant F. W. Macfarlane, after a resolution had been proposed by one, Lawyer Matthewman (not a merchant) and opposed by Attorney-General Andrews, forestalled the whole proposition by saying that no motion were contemplated in the call for the meeting, and that it was simply for discussion. A meeting called simply for discussion is an anomaly and an unheardof quantity, unless it be to take some certain action on something that needed pushing forward and remedying, and that such action be taken at once without delay. It is here that we are in accord with Citizen A. S. Humphreys, who said that the meeting did not belong to the Merchants' Association, but to the citizens of Honolulu and they could pass resolutions, .. they pleased. This they were not pleased to do and the meeting wisely (we say "wisely" advisedly) adjourned to-morrow evening.

Why were the "merchants" afraid of having resolutions passed? We are informed that there were a set of "cut and dried" resolutions to have been introduced and passed, but seeing that there were not sufficient of themselves there to have carried them by storm, they were not sprung. A motion to adjourn without time was put and lost, but one to a set date prevailed, it being considered but fair to those who were absent as well as to those who had left on account of the lateness of the hour caused from the escape of too much gas. But we think there was another and a deeper motive for putting that meeting off, for the reasons the merchants saw their power of control over the Government slipping away from them. It is simple not for them to say that they can get along without government assistance, as it is a well-known fact that the government is their chief mainstay, for without such trade they cannot get along. There is no denying the fact that the merchants have a great deal to say in the affairs of the country, more than the people themselves at times, and that's where their power comes in, and it is that power that they do not wish to lose the control of. For the retention of such a power, they must win the day, and in their attempt, discredit Hawaiians, if they will and are able to do it.

It is not the retailers who are largely benefitted by Government trade, but the wholesalers, yet on the whole both are more or less interested and benefitted. We see that it is to their interest, politically as well as commercially, to do everything in their power to retain their hold and not to see it slip away from their hands, and in order to do it successfully, they must run "bellyaching" to Washington with every picayunish complaint through an unofficial delegate, thereby showing our own weakness to rule ourselves as well as being incapable and incompetent to locally control our own affairs without Congressional interference. The wholesale traders get the most of our Government contracts and not the retailers, and our opinion is that the wholesalers, brokers and money-lenders, with a few lawyers and politicians in the bargain, are at the bottom of this whole scheme, and it is for the people to be up in arms and prevent them from carrying out their nefarious game.

On the whole, they now find the County Act to be full of loopholes and flaws, clearly showing Republican insincerity. It is the same bill as that drawn, for a big fee, by the learned U. S. District Attorney, who now suavely admits certain imperfections of his own making. He advised the going to Congress, so Governor Carter informed us, and we see cropping out of it a scheme for the discrediting of the Hawaiian people. The more we look into the thing, the more do we believe that they did not want to pass such an Act, and for that reason many unconstitutional points were inserted, so as to weaken the whole Act. More will we learn soon of their insincerity.

The spirit of the large party that greeted Governor Carter last night in the Palace was such as to inspire a conscientious executive in the right direction. In the simple ceremony the balm of confidence on the part of the public was given, and it is to be hoped that Mr. Carter will prove equal to and worthy of it.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The defects in the County Act in no way reflect credit upon District Attorney Breckons and the several Republican lawyers that assisted him in drawing it up. If unintentional, the bill is a sad commentary upon the legal ability of Mr. Breckons and his assistants. If intentional, the community has been made the victim of a mean and contemptible conspiracy. Which is right, Mr. Breckons?

Tommorrow night's mass meeting in Progress hall to consider the Hatch mission to Washington should be attended by every citizen having the cause of good, local government at heart. No thinking Hawaiian, with the opportunity to attend, should be absent. The question at issue will be thoroughly discussed and the principle of hieing delegates to Washington on picayunish errands at the instance of cliques should be forever downed by the voice of that meeting.

In floundering around for a handful of mud to throw at Treasurer Kepoikai, Governor Carter hit upon the fact that the Auditor's report for November had not been promptly finished, and rushed into print with the hint that there was laxness in the Treasurer's office. Auditor Fisher comes up, however, and shows that the delay was in his own office, and explains in a sensible and satisfactory way the cause of the delay. Next time Football George throws mud, he won't throw any mud at all, but will go way back, like a nice little boy, and sit down.

Had this question of the County Act been brought before the Supreme Court last Summer, as was urged by us, it would have been settled before the election and there would have been smooth sailing now. There is still time to get it before the court before the law becomes operative, and if points are then discovered that are contrary to the Organic Act, a short extra session of the Legislature will be all that is required to remedy the defects. Our idea is that the law is not so seriously defective as to render the working of the Act illegal, and that the points about which there is now so much discussion can be decided in the courts as they are brought into play without affecting the body of the law and the county system.

With all the buffetings that the County Act is receiving from our strenuous Republicans, the more are we convinced of the truth of Representative Kuplhea's warnings, who was frequently referred to during the last session of the Legislature as the legal authority on the construction of the Organic Act and was dubbed as "Organic Act Dave." He warned, while it was before the House, that it was against the Organic Act and unconstitutional, because it was "illegal and unlawful," and furthermore, it was "irrelevant, ambiguous and unintelligible," if we remember rightly his high sounding words. His remarks occasioned much laughter and merriment then, but he never for once receded from the stand he took, which he maintained up to the final passage and approval of the Act. We now see that his words are coming to be true.

The Ostend Manifesto in regard to Cuba, in 1853, was the work of three men, including the Democratic President. Conditions existed at the time that seemed to justify it. It must be remembered, however, that it was not supported by the Democratic government and Democratic people of the United States. Not in history has the Democratic party wrested from a people any territory inhabited to any extent and in any proper manner organized. Louisiana was a vast waste. Texas came in of her own volition. The remainder of the Territory acquired from Mexico was savage and unorganized. In 1858 when Secretary Cass wrote in favor of acquiring a route at the Isthmus of Panama for a canal, that territory was in the same state. There was no organized government or tangible authority. Today it is quite different, and no parallel can be found in the recommendation of the acquirement of waste territory at that period for an important object and the forcible seizure of it at this time from an intelligent and worthy people, and an organized government. That is the difference between the two cases.

COMMITTEE ADOPTS RESOLUTIONS.

The special committee of the "town" meeting of Monday evening met last evening and adopted a resolution precisely in line with the idea of THE INDEPENDENT and a majority of the people, except that it did not go far enough and did not cover All of the issue. There is another, and quite important, phase of the question yet to be discussed and acted upon.

But to get back to the point, on the 9th THE INDEPENDENT said: "Had this question of the County Act been brought before the Supreme Court last Summer, as was urged by us, it would have been settled before the election and there would have been smoothe sailing now. There is still time to get it before the court before the law becomes operative, and if points are then discovered that are contrary to the Organic Act, a short extra session of the Legislature will be all that is required to remedy the defects."

The special committee, which met last night, adopted the following, to be presented before the "town" meeting tomorrow evening:

Whereas: certain differences of opinion have arisen in regard to the County Act passed by the last Legislature, and

Whereas: it is desirable at this time that public sentiment should be expressed with regard to the situation, therefore be it

Resolved: that we believe in local control of local affairs and we therefore advocate an immediate test case before the Supreme Court of the Territory.

Resolved: that we appeal to the Bar Association of Honolulu to prepare at once a test case for submission before said court.

Resolved: that in the event of the County Act being declared invalidated that we advocate the immediate calling of the Legislature for the purpose of reenacting a proper County law.

Resolved: that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Governor of the Territory and the President of the Bar Association.

Merchants Have A Kick Coming.

The following self-explanatory letter has been received by Governor Carter:

Hon Geo R Carter, Governor Territory of Hawaii, Honolulu, T H.

Sir: It has come to the notice of this Association that certain government employes are selling supplies to the government and bidding on government contracts. At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the Merchants' Association I was directed to communicate with you in relation thereto and to protest against its continuance. We believe the business men of the Territory, who pay the taxes, licenses, rents and hire employes should alone be allowed to furnish government supplies and bid on government contracts, and we submit that it is manifestly unjust that employes of the government, whose salaries are paid by the business community

HAWAIIAN ALWAYS

A wonder is being expressed among Home Rulers—when was The Independent ever known to be an organ of their political party? One thing is certain, it has always been Hawaiian and will always remain so, as long as we remain at its helm; its expressions are Hawaiian now and always have been and it claims to speak for the Hawaiian people at all times, regardless of party, sect or faction.

NOBODY'S TOOL.

This much The Independent can proudly say—it is not nor has it ever become "the tool of a larcenous local cabal." It is more than the one whose words we have quoted above can say for itself. It is still as its name implies—INDEPENDENT—and is all that that name implies, owing no allegiance to any cabal, nor is it pledged to any party, sect or faction. What need is there for us to say more, relying solely on our independent attitude.

DUTY TO COUNTRY.

Yes; The Independent sincerely believes in the principles of home rule, but it is not of the Home Rule party by a long-shot. As that party is the party of the Hawaiian people, it naturally stands up for them, not as a party political, but as for the PEOPLE of the country robbed of its nationality and independence for the sake of the 2-cent bounty on sugar under the McKinley bill and that by those who would have us believe that they are friends and were doing a friendly act. The Independent believes that Democracy as preached by Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln would be the best thing for the Hawaiian people as a political factor for principle in this country, being forced to accept conditions over which they have had no control by a blatant cabal led by the morning Howler, who sees no local patriotism but that of receiving bounteous sustenance. Because The Independent has undertaken to score certain of those who played treacherous after the Benedict Arnold type, it roused the ire of the envious Hidalgo to such a pitch that it sees nothing but treason and would, no doubt, welcome a chance to silence repetition. No derision was ever intended nor did it deride "the country and the flag" that robbed us of ours, other than to show how treachery had been successfully played here by alleged and supposed friends. But further than that, we sayeth not.

A BOILED BLOATER.

"A Democrat or a Republican, who represents some principle and some organization in the United States, is generally respected, but a bloated derider of the country and the flag, who endeavors to steal either name and becomes the tool of a larcenous local cabal, incurs contempt and deserves reprobation."

The above, from the Advertiser, are the conclusions of a man who was at one and both times imported here to revile, vilify and deride this country, its flag, its queen, its people and everything else pertaining here, who, once upon a time, attempted to worm himself into certain Hawaiian families, but was ignominiously ignored and let out by being told to attend to his own business and not force himself upon those whom he would abuse. We are quite certain that had this bloater been here prior to 1893, he would surely hav ebeen one of those sycophantic schemers, and would have done anything, even to crawling on his belly and all fours in order to gain favor, not only with those in authority, but in the eyes of those he reviled and vilified, and is still doing so to this day. If he is given all the rope necessary, we are sure that he will go and hang himself, or else, take bromide in order to gain sleep and rest, only just a little, from insomnia. And further still, this gruff bloater would undertake the "sweating process" in order to gain a point for his masters, and therefore, he ought to incur the contempt and the reprobation of those whom he decries.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The Supreme Court has decided that it has no jurisdiction in the County contest case, just as we apprehended it would. Breckons' glass-eyed County law provided for contests after the first election but not the first election, a blunder of the worst kind. The sooner the whole law is taken before the Supreme court and again vised by the Legislature the better for all concerned.

Republican sincerity with regard to "home rule" control of affairs, is in the balance of public opinion and rank insincerity has been discovered in its place. Didn't we always say that they don't mean anything by it and didn't want it at all by all odds? And now we see them squirming.

The Home Rule County Act of 1901 was no more a refuse heap than what we are experiencing with the Republican murphy, otherwise known as spud. But it is a pity that the Advertiser's granite mountain is tottering and about to crumble to pieces, if pushed a little bit stiff and hard.

The fact that the Republican press is growing weak-kneed in the matter of the renomination of President Roosevelt next year will be a disappointment to the Democrats and a serious blow to Democratic hopes. If Mr. Roosevelt is not nominated the chances are that he will be sidetracked for some man having the confidence of both the East and the West, and then the Democrats will have a tremendously hard fight on their hands. As things were going, they were perfectly satisfactory, but if Mr. Roosevelt is not to be nominated the Democratic party will have to look to its guns.

If General MacArthur really made the statements accredited to him in the Advertiser of this morning in regard to trouble with Germany, either a private conversation was given away by Col. Jones or the General hadhad undue access to a bottle of absinthe. The enthusiasm of General MacArthur over the National Guard is all right, and the fact that it should be built up is also all right, provided the United States government, which is the party most directly interested, foots the bill; but just why MacArthur drags Germany into the thing is hard to fathom. There is about as much chance of war between the United States and Germany as there is of a death grapple between England and Canada.

If a large National Guard is to be kept up here, as suggested by General MacArthur, the United States should most certainly pay for it. The present expense of maintaining a regiment is more than the Islands can stand or should be expected to stand. It is far more than any State of equal population is standing. The Islands must, of course, be protected, either by regular or volunteer troops or both. It is not our fault, however, that we need protection, and we should not be called upon to foot a large bill, beyond our means, to guard against possibilities. Let the United States appropriate $50 per month per company for expenses and a brigade can be quickly organized and kept up here.

An attempt may be made by the Colburn-Ashford crowd to amend the resolutions (regarding Hatch's mission) so as to abuse the Governor and Mr. Hatch.—Advertiser.

Well, if that isn't a whine for you! Perhaps ninety per cent. of the people of this community are agreed that the Hatch mission was a mistake. Whether or not Mr. Carter and Mr. Hatch were prominently to blame for it, we are not prepared to say at this moment. United States District Attorney Breckons, author of the County Act and the man responsible for any defects it may contain, made the suggestion leading up to Hatch's junket and interested others in the project. It seems to us that if there is to be any "abusing" the start should be made on Breckons, a Federal officer, who has already made himself offensive in local politics.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

THE INDEPENDENT 50 cents per month.

C S Weight left for Hilo today on business for Peacock & Co.

S M Damon is entertaining General MacArthur at Mosualua today.

The Mauna Loa will be due early tomorrow morning from Hawaii and Maui.

The bark Albert sailed shortly after 10 o'clock this morning for San Francisco.

Mrs Samuel McKeague and Mrs Pauline Ruttman are ill at their respective homes.

The Japanese Diet opened at Tokio this morning In his speech the Emperor urged peace.

Plans have been prepared for the erection of twelve new cars for the Rapid Transit Company.

A nicely furnished front room and a middle room at No. 9 Garden Lane, are for rent. 2666-1m

George Kunkel has joined the Sanford Company and will leave with it next week to play in New Zealand.

This morning a favorable report was presented in Congress on the proposal to appropriate $250,000 for a revenue cutter to be stationed at Honolulu.

The office of THE INDEPENDENT is in the brick building next to the Hawaiian hotel grounds on Beretania street, Waikiki of Alakea. First floor.

Governor Carter has decided that very little money can be spare for the St Louis exposition and that the exhibit may have to be cut out altogether.

"Safe Investments for the Young Man" will be the subject of an address to be delivered by P M Pond before the Problem club of the Y M C A this evening.

Dr. William A Daniel and Miss Ella Higgins were married last evening at the residence of Mrs Winne, in Alakea street, Rev G L Pearson officiating.

It is understood that General MacArthur denies the story in the morning paper to the effect that he said war between the United States and Germany was likely.

Governor Carter has entered upon his campaign of cutting down expenses. Among the officers that may have to go may be Immigration Commissioner Lansing.

Insanity is the line of defense in the E M Jones case. Schoolmates of defendant testified in court this morning that when a boy he was considered to be weak-minded.

Flags were half-masted in port yesterday out of respect to the memory of the late Captain Calhoun (the elder), formerly of the Archer, who had died in San Francisco early in the forenoon.

A salute of thirteen gun was fired at the naval station at noon today in honor of the memory of the late Admiral Beardslee, official news of whose death arrived in last night's mail. Flags were also set at half mast.

The schooner Ada, which went to French Frigate Shoals to try to float the Constable de Richmont, returned this morning after an unsuccessful mission. She will take on tackle and supplies and then go back for another try.

Cable news has been received that Delegate Kubio, upon advice of F M Hatch, introduced the County Act in Congress today for ratification. That probably accounts for the postponement of the "town" meeting from tonight to tomorrow night.

There were only 69 deaths in Honolulu during the month of November, which is a little more than half the usual number for that month. Credit for much of the improvement probably belongs to the sanitary inspectors, who have been doing excellent work.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

The Helene will sail at 5 o'clock this afternoon for Hawaii.

Manuel F Peters and Miss Lottie Bettencourt will be married on the evening of December 21

The cruiser Tacoma will likely join the Asiatic fleet here, she coming from Mare Island.

The Hongkong Maru, which arrived in port late yesterday, sailed again at noon today for Yokohama.

The Lehua did not get away for Molokai until 9:30 o'clock last night on account of heavy offers of freight.

The Merchants' Association will have a banquet the last of next week, probably on Thursday evening.

Only the president and one member of the Board of Health turned up yesterday afternoon, so that there was no meeting. A meeting will be held this afternoon.

Governor Carter yesterday saw General MacArthur in regard to securing back from the United States government the title to the drill shed property for use as a National Guard armory.

Has No Jurisdiction.

The Supreme Court decided this morning that it had no jurisdiction in the county election contest.

One of the points made was that the proceedings were irregular, in that the law prescribes that only aggrieved candidates may contest elections, while the contest in the present case was brought by C B Maile, who is only a voter.

Another point (and one uncovering a defect in the County Act, to which we have repeatedly called attention) is that the county law prescribes that contests must go before the county court, whereas there is not now a county court nor even a county. The law goes on to provide that the decision must be presented to the supervisors, whereas there are no supervisors and could not be before January 4, 1904, when the county law would become effective.

An effort may be made to get the case before the Circuit Court, although it is argued that that is not nor can it become a county court for the reason that its judges are appointed by the President. There is also the question of whether or not the time the case has been pending on the question of jurisdiction can be deducted from the time after elections allowed for bringing contests. If not, the matter falls to the ground right there.

Aside from the moral aspect there are certain criminal features and on the mainland in almost every State of the Union this is made a penal offense. For the results of this practice we would refer you to the present postal frauds in St Louis and other scandals which are constantly being brought to light throughout the Union. We feel certain that by bringing the matter to your notice at this time that this practice will be stopped before it has been allowed to reach such proportions.

I am, respectfully,

P. R. HELM,
Secretary Merchants' Association of Honolulu.

At the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Merchants' Association yesterday the reply was received from Governor Carter and the correspondence given out. Mr Carter promised to take the matter up.

Honolulu, December 5, 1903.

Hon G W Smith, Vice-President, Merchants' Association, Honolulu.

Dear Sir: I beg to acknowledge the receipt of the communication from your secretary, dated November 27th, calling attention to the fact that employes of the government are selling supplies to the government and bidding on government contracts.

The matter will receive due consideration and I thank you for calling attention to the fact.

Very sincerely yours,

THE BRECKONS-HATCH BILL.

District Attorney R. W. Breckons gives from memory the following as the bill taken from here by Mr Hatch and introduced in Congress yesterday:

An Act to Legalize the County Act of the Legislature of Hawaii and the Election Held Thereunder:

Be it Enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled.

Sec 1 That Act 31 of the Session of 1903 of the Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii, approved by the Governor of Hawaii on April 22, A D 1903, and entitled, "An Act Providing for the organization and Government of Counties and Districts and the Management and Control of Public Works and Public Institutions Therein," is hereby approved and declared to be a law of the Territory of Hawaii, notwithstanding any inconsistancy of its provisions with "An Act to Provide a Government for the Territory of Hawaii," passed by the Fifty-sixth Congress of the United States of America on the 27th day of April, and approved on the 30th day of April, A D 1900.

Sec 2 That the election held in the Territory of Hawaii on the 3rd day of November, A D 1903, under and by virtue of the terms of said Act of the Legislature of Hawaii is hereby legalized.

Sec 3 That nothing in this Act contained shall be in any sense construed to deprive the Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii of the power to alter, amend or repeal the said Act of the said Legislature.

Sec 4 That this Act should take effect from and after the date of the approval thereof.

IAUKEA'S BOND.

The Advertiser figures that C P Iaukea will have to furnish a bond in the sum of $390,000 before taking office, and thinks that he will have difficulty in getting it. The Organic Act says: "The amount of bonds of the Treasurer and Assessor and Tax Collector shall not be less than the greatest amount of money shown by the books of the County to have been in the hands of the officer at any one time during the preceding year."

There was no "county" and no "county assessor" during the "preceding year," and consequently Section 61 of the law referred to cannot be made to apply to the case. Taxes collected by Mr Pratt have all been Territorial taxes, the property of all the Islands, not of any county.

Chapter 13 of the County Act prescribes that the minimum of the Assessor's bonds shall be $30,000, and in the absence of any county statistics, that sum would most naturally be the amount of the bond. It could not be more, for it has not and cannot be shown that the "County of Oahu" has taken in, through the "county" tax collector a larger sum than $30,000 during the "preceding year," or 1903.

And now we know for certainty that there is no law for contesting an election. It's a fine predicament it is that the people and country are land in.

THE MacARTHUR CASE.

General MacArthur, as commander of this military district, had a private military talk with Colonel Jones, commander of the First Regiment, as was his right. His talk was in the nature of cautioning the Colonel as to what should be done in certain contingencies, and of enthusing the Colonel in the matter of increasing the National Guard forces and, incidentally, procuring an armory. Colonel Jones submitted such parts of the talk as he remembered to Governor Carter, which while not improper, was not necessary. Governor Carter gave Colonel Jones' report out for publication, and in so doing betrayed military secrets. The only difference in this case and that of the Dreyfus case is that Carter did not receive pay for the secrets of the military department, and was undoubtedly ignorant of the trouble his indiscretion would cause. General MacArthur will be hauled over the coals by the War Department, and there is bound to be sharp correspondence between Berlin and Washington in regard to the matter, all growing out of a perfectly proper conversation between a commanding officer and a subordinate officer. Carter should quit trying to run a government and go back to football.

"SELECT" WOMEN'S SOCIETY

And so we are to have a new women's society to be called the "Daughters of Hawaii," whose object is "to perpetuate the memory and spirit of old Hawaii and to preserve the nomenclature and correct pronunciation of the Hawaiian language." Only those who were born in the Islands and are descended from residents prior to 1860 will be eligible to membership. From this limitation as well as from the names of those made known, it is another one of the many "select" societies of descendants of missionaries, who have taken upon themselves the right of usurpation as is the custom of that clan, especially when there are yet many of the rightful ones who have the prior right to be known as such by birth, descent and nationality.

We do not for a moment deny that Mesdames Dillingham, Severance, Dickey, Weaver and Jones and Miss Anna Paris have no right to be known as such, but we think they should qualify themselves as the "White Daughters of Hawaii," for all of them were accidentally born here, not because they wanted to, but because they could not help themselves, their parents having come here in the cause of the Gospel. The only rightful daughters are those of pure aboriginal origin and those tainted, and there are many among them better capable "to preserve the nomenclature and correct pronunciation of the Hawaiian language" than their white sisters. And again, we don't think that these accidental white daughters know the Hawaiian modes so as to preserve the purity of the native language intact from gross and vulgar usage, as many of the present day terms have been mere corruptions of Anglicized words and since become merged in the language of the present. But of the past, its purity can only be found in the meles, legends and myths, with their many hidden meanings in which the language is profuse and rich with references and allusions, at times allegorical, mellifluous, resonant and mellow.

Those who do not mix among the natives, but hold themselves aloof in their narrow and select circle, not knowing the Hawaiian code of morality and virtue, cannot know how to preserve the Hawaiian ideal of purity in their language; that province is theirs alone, and not with the white women, who have nothing in common with their aboriginal sisters. As a matter of fact, they hold themselves far above, both in the moral and social sphere, that their native sisters are too timid and backward in pushing themselves forward to an equality with them, and therefore, for that reason, the white women cannot preserve the purity of the Hawaiian language, for the simple reason they don't know it as well.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

If there is to be no justice left in the country, the sooner the people know it, the better. Then, on top of that, the people should guard themselves and provide for ways of overcoming the difficulty. All is not hopeless, but there's much to hope for.

Introducing a bill in Congress and then holding a town meeting to discuss whether or not such action should be taken is something like locking the stable after the horse has been stolen and shipped out of the country. There has been trickery in this Hatch mission business, and most people are on to the coon in the wood pile. This evening's meeting in Progress hall will give an opportunity for open expression, and an opportunity to cable for the horse that was stolen and for the arrest of the thief.

It is certain that the fleet of Admiral Evans will remain in this port until after Christmas. The Solace will not begin taking on supplies until Monday and as these will have to be assorted and arranged for the different vessels, she will probably not sail from the Coast before the last of next week, which will bring her here after Christmas. It will then take several days to distribute the supplies among the ships. Unless something very serious happens on one side of the Pacific or the other we are apt to have the fleet until after the New Year.

Our investigation of the MacArthur interview affair shows that the responsibility for the distortion and publication of a very reasonable, sensible and timely conversation must rest upon Colonel Jones and Governor Carter. General MacArthur urged upon Colonel Jones the importance of a strong National Guard on Oahu, and in doing so called attention to a number of things that might happen in case of a war with some foreign power, mentioning especially the probable situation in case Germany should attack the Monroe Doctrine. General MacArthur's language was strong, it is true, but it was to military men and for military purposes, and was, therefore, perfectly proper. Colonel Jones overstrained the conversation in his report of it to the Governor and Mr Carter committed the unpardonable blunder of giving Jones's report out for publication. The remainder of the blame lies with a yellow newspaper that exploited the matter in a sensational way. On the whole it seems to us that the blame for the tempest is upon the Governor.

Dayton Jones was on the stand in the E. M. Jones case this morning and will go on again this afternoon. He is testifying that his brother was never considered of sound mind. It is now calculated that the case will reach the jury next Tuesday afternoon.

The principal question to come before the "town" meeting in Progress this evening is "Why is Herald whiskey becoming so popular?" The unanimous answer will be: "Because it is the best on earth." For sale by "Pete" O'Sullivan and "Bob" Carlile at the Shamrock, Nuuanu street.

The regular meeting of the Hackmen's Union which was to have been held this evening has been postponed because the members wish to attend the county act meeting. The Union will support the mission of Mr Hatch. Its members apprehend that Congress would adopt the hackmen's clause in the County Act and that the Legislature would probably not reindorse it.

The Sunday school children of St. Clement's church have very kindly been invited by the Y M C A Juniors to be their guests in Association hall, this evening at 7:30 o'clock to participate in the festivities of the Young People's Temperance rally, and it is earnestly hoped that all will attend. Unfortunately this invitation was not received by the Sunday school superintendent in time to announce it in Sunday school so he takes this means of doing so. The meeting of boys which was called for this evening in the parish house will be cancelled.

Leg Amputated.

Manuel Castro, brother-in law of Head Luna Patterson, of Oahu plantation, had his injured leg amputated at the Sanitarium of Dr Noblitt today. The operation was entirely successful. Mr Castro is a young man of 25. Sometime ago he injured his knee and it became necessary to remove the knee cap. It was found necessary, later, to remove the leg. Mr Castro and his family have many friends who sincerely sympathize with them.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Wolter on the Warpath.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:

The insult offered to Germans in this Territory who have taken the oath of allegiance to the U S and have proved themselves loyal citizens is one that calls for the severest condemnation. The insult is also one offered to every American citizen of German birth throughout the whole U S and will be surely resented in such a way which may end in Major-General MacArthur being placed in retirement.

There were a number of men enlisted here and of those five were Germans. Capt Paul Smith of the N G H, was one who was accepted and assigned to a company. Peters was another one and was killed and his body found in the Pazig River. Chas Ott enlisted here and was returned an invalid and died here. Capt H Klemme, also of the N G H, applied to Washington but was not at that time required. Others applied but not needed. There were two others who were from Major Ziegler's Co.

In the face of these facts, how dare MacArthur make such statements.

One more word, when I took the oath of allegiance to the United States I was perfectly sober.

RESULT OF THE TOWN MEETING.

Whereas, certain differences of opinion have arisen in regard to the County Act passed by the last Legislature, and

Whereas, it is desirable at this time that public sentiment should be expressed with regard to the situation, therefore be it

Resolved: that we believe in local control of local affairs and we therefore advocate an immediate test case before the Supreme Court of the Territory.

Resolved: that we appeal to the Bar Association of Honolulu to prepare at once a test case for submission before said court.

Resolved: That in the event of the County Act being declared invalidated that we advocate the immediate calling of the Legislature for the purpose of reenacting a proper County law.

Resolved: that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Governor of the Territory and the President of the Bar Association.

BY MR STEWART.

Whereas, the Governor and other citizens, acting through F M Hatch, Esq. have caused a bill to be introduced in Congress by our Delegate, whose object is to remedy the defects in and remove the cloud from our County Act, and;

Whereas, we favor the immediate establishment of county government and believe that prompt action by Congress will prevent legal complications and governmental confusion, and will save money to the taxpayers; therefore

Resolved: by the citizens of Honolulu in a non-partisan mass meeting, that we hereby approve the said action of the Governor, and indorse the bill introduced in Congress by our Delegate, and appearing in the Honolulu newspapers of today.

Resolved: that this resolution be cabled to our Delegate and the President.

The above resolutions were adopted at the "town" meeting held in the Orpheum theatre last evening, and the latter set was cabled to Washington this morning. Another set of resolutions, condemning the mission of Mr Hatch, was introduced by C W Ashford but was voted down by the "machine."

George W Smith presided over the meeting and was assisted by James L Holt as secretary. The first resolutions, which had been prepared by the special committee, were read by J A Hughes. Mr Thurston made a speech, concluding with an amendment to strike out the section providing for the calling of the Legislature. Speech making then began and continued quite warm for an hour, at the end of which Mr Thurston's amendment was almost unanimously consigned to the dust heap. Both sets of resolutions, as above, were then passed, and the Ashford resolutions were killed.

SATURDAY, DEC. 12, 1903.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

That meeting last night was intended as a non partisan one, but surely, it was very partisan, that is, as far as to what was done there.

Chairman Turrill, of the Democratic Central Committee, got up last night to speak at the citizen's meeting and was called down by W H Hooge and other Republicans with the remarks—"Sit down." Without having said anything much, he did sit down, i. e., he very easily subsided. So much for Republican fairness to gain a just expression of public opinion.

When the War Department gets the report of General MacArthur on the incident of Thursday, it will readily see through the whole thing An investigation will then be started to find out the person guilty of transmitting military secrets to the press. When the party is located there will likely be some warm complaints sent in to the President by the War Department.

Senator Aoki said last night, as a lawyer, that he would be willing to take up the test of the County Act without fee, because he wanted the County Act, and further, because it was the wish of the people and of his constituents. And that further, he, as well as other members of the Legislature, were willing and ready to go to work and pass another and a much better law than the present incongruous mass and jumble. But the resolutions adopted failed to notice him; it should have been passed recommending that he be the attorney to see the matter through, and then everything would be all right in the end.

The "R's" were quite prominent and forcibly used in one Orpheum address last night. It was by Attorney T McCants Stewart, in reference to members of the Bar Association taking up a test case on the County Act with regard to the matter of fees. When first a client visits an attorney in his office, the first thing is a "retainer," followed some time afterwards by a "reminder," and lastly with a "refresher."

There will be a funny thing in Colonel Thomas Fitch's "recollections" in the Advertiser tomorrow morning—an article, by the way, which has already appeared in the San Francisco Call. It is a small story of a court case in Arizona, which, however, is a matter of Irish folk lore and is supposed to have happened about the time Shakespeare was purchasing from a poor scribe the works that made his name famous. The satisfaction the public gets out of the story, as it is told and re-told through generations, is that the witness got his coat, returned and submitted his testimony.

In view of the fact that the bill to ratify the County Act has already been introduced in Congress, and has started on its way, the only sensible thing left was and is to let it take its course. The harm has already been done. We have made jack-ass of ourselves in allowing the Hatch mission, but there is no good reason for making two jackasses of ourselves by at this late date by obstructing the objects of that mission, after the work is well under way. As we said before, the harm has been done and cannot be undone. Congress now regards us as a lot of kids, and we will simply have to grin and bear it.

The Advertiser complains because the Treasurer has not on his paying list as many liquor licenses as has the Federal collector of internal revenue. The morning paper evidently does not stop to consider that soda water shops are considered by the United States regulations as liquor establishments, while they are not so considered under Hawaiian law. A large number of additional licenses are registered by the Federal collector in this way. The Federal collector, with the assistance of his deputies, catches up with most of the "blind" saloons in the Islands and compels them to pay the fee of $20 and $25 each, according as they sell beer or all liquors. The Treasurer has no means of collecting the legal revenue from these people, as it is the duty of the police to look them up, and the police—well, we'll let it go at that.

People here, at Washington and perhaps the world over are losing their heads in this MacArthur affair. The facts of the case are very simple. MacArthur is the commanding general of the department which includes Hawaii. It is his duty to see that every part of that department is properly looked after and protected. Colonel Jones, head of the National Guard, practically, is one of his subordinate officers. General MacArthur, as chief, gave to the Colonel, as the man to remain in charge here, certain advise and added cautions as to what should be done in certain contingencies To impress the importance of vigilance, he called attention to various close places into which the United States has lately been drawn, referring especially to the trouble with Germany in Venezuela. All of this was perfectly proper, and, in fact, was the plain duty of the commanding general. Colonel Jones imparts what he remembers of the conversation to Governor Carter, and that official gives it out—a military secret—for publication! And there you are. Any soldier of any country under the sun will see at a glance that the first man to be blamed is Governor Carter and the second, Colonel Jones, while MacArthur simply followed out the ordinary routine of his duty.

Last night's "town meeting," which Chairman Smith, after he had been elected as such, declared that was not a "merchants' meeting," but that it was one by the citizens, and therefore, a "citizens meeting," was largely a haole Republican mass meeting. Nobody other than Republicans (with three exceptions) were allowed or permitted to speak. And further, it was almost a police men's meeting, as nearly the whole force was there in citizens' attire. On entering and taking their seats as citizens, subservient and pliable to the dictates of those over them, we expected to see Capt Johnson march in with Co. F and his other host of garbage and muck carriers, pumpers and scavengers. The Health and Educational departments failed to turn up en masse, nor were the Road and Water Works bureaus out in force. Col Jones and his companies of warriors and defenders might also have turned up, but they didn't. Had they all come, there might have been a better house other than one of about three hundred American citizens with one-half Hawaiians not knowing what the other was doing.

Quite a hissing sound, like that of snakes, went up when Representative J Kumalae got up and moved to have an interpreter for last night's meeting, but that did not make him wince one bit. It was the Chairman who silenced and subdued him by saying that they were there as American citizen with one language and that there was need of using the duo, holding that there were many there who understood the American language just as well as their own. This czarish ruling somewhat cooling the ardor of one portion of that "citizens meeting," it being impossible for that portion to know and to understand what was going on, with the exception of a "crew" who were led there and made to believe what was being said. Such is one kind of Americanism and Hawaiians should remember nor forget it too easily and readily. White Americans give Hawaiians no quarter and we are being made to know more of the people we have to deal with as well as the truth of the kind of treatment we have always claimed they would "dole" out to us. And last night, we got a taste of it.

Women in Business

Business men often express the opinion that there is one thing which will prevent women from completely filling a man's place in the business world—they can't be depended upon because they are sick too often. It is true that many women are compelled to look forward to times when they are unable to attend to social or business duties. Their appearance plainly indicates their condition and they are reluctant to be seen, even by their friends. Read what a business woman says to such sufferers:

Mrs. C. W. Mansfield, 62 Farrar Street, Detroit, Mich., says: "A complication of female ailments kept me awake nights and robbing away from me. A young lady in my employ gave me a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I took them and was able to rest at night for the first time in months. I bought more and they cured me as they also cured several other people to my knowledge. I think that if you should ask any of the druggists of Detroit, who are the best buyers of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills they would say the young women. These pills certainly build up the nervous system and many a young woman owes her life to them.
"As a business woman I am pleased to recommend them as they did more for me than any physician and I can give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People credit for my general good health to-day."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are for sale by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N.Y. Our new book, PLAIN TALKS TO WOMEN, sent free to any address on request.

In my calm dispassionate consideration of the peculiar conglomeration of truth and falsity, a few thoughts were Hatched in my somewhat bewildered brain.

Why could the County Act egg not be properly Hatched here by the ones who layed it? Because in all their toil they (B)reckons not on the effect of the "evil eye."

What little boy in the nursery rhyme does Governor Carter in two ways not remind you of? Why, the curley haired boy who never prevaricated.

There is one thing that is to Carter's credit, nobody can call him after the Jones McArthur episode, a confidence man.

With an accident as boss and a makeshift holding the lines of our local cart, we Hawaiians are apt to become expert "roughriders."

What biblical character did the Advertiser reporter put you in mind of when he was condensing the vaporings of our lengthy Colonel to the head football expert? Give it up? Why, Daniel in the lion den of course.

Och! Giniral McArthur.
See what you've been afther
Getting all our good Dutchmen
rale mad
By the foorce of your tones
In you're spake to our Jones
That our next war'd be euphonic
With a flavor rale Teutonic
Thus slighting the poor Greasers, too bad.

Now that the County Act has proved to be a model dish of hold-over refuse purposely hashed up so that it could be easily smashed to pieces, we presume that our Jaundiced missionary rulers will insist on our school children on every available occasion using as their rallying call the expression used in New York and all over the Mainland years ago—"Bully boy with the glass eye."

NUFF SED,
MOIKE.

Reduced Rates For Sailors.

The following correspondence has passed between the Merchants' Association and the representatives of the James Neill Company:

The James Neill Co., City.

Gentlemen: At a special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Merchants' Association held this afternoon, it was resolved "that the James Neill Co. be asked to co-operate in any way they see fit with the plans for entertaining the officers and the American fleet during their stay in Honolulu," and I was directed to and take pleasure in notifying you of the action taken.

Very respectfully,
P. R. HELM,
Sec'y Merchants' Association.

The reply of the Neill Co. is as follows:

Honolulu, T H, Dec 12, 1903.

P R Helm, Esq, Sec'y Merchants' Association, City.

Dear Sir: Replying to your favor of yesterday, we beg to state that we are heartily in accord with you in any movement that would tend to promote the entertainment for the squadron expected here.

In furtherance of your wishes and in reference to suggestions made by numerous citizens we shall, beginning with next Tuesday, at which time the fleet will no doubt be here, give performances every night.

In consideration of the occasion, we shall also reduce the prices of admission, not only to the officers and men of the fleet, but to the public at large.

For the balance of the Neill engagement, we shall charge as follows:

Orchestra and dress circle $1 00 instead of $1 50.
Balcony, 50c instead 75c.
Gallery, 25c instead 50c.

Trusting that this will meet with the approbation of your honorable body, we are,

Very respectfully yours,
EDWIN H. NEILL,
J. C. COHEN.

Legislative Pilfering.

The Advertiser interestingly recites the petty pilfering by members of the recent legislature of fountain pens and expensive pen knives. The NEWS would join in the condemnation of such practices but for the fact that the ink with which this editorial is being written is dipped from an inkstand which the writer stole from his desk in the California legislature at the end of the session of 1889 90. However all are not like guilty, and the NEWS urges those who have uncorrupted ink and guiltless pencils to properly denounce the petty larceny of Territorial property.—Maui News.

Small Farming at Olaa.

"Do you know the insects that prey on vegetables are not found up on the new tract in Olaa?" said the Early Riser. "I was talking to a man from that section the other day and he informed me that he had no trouble at all in raising garden truck; he could raise it better than he could cane on account of the shallow soil. I might add that he liked the place so well that he sold out for a few hundred dollars and is going down to Alabama.—Coffee Shop Man In Hawaii Herald.

Building in Honolulu.

MONDAY, DEC. 14, 1903.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Probably in case of war with Colombia, Mr. Governor Carter will send maps of the various landing places in Hawaii and a roster of the National Guard to General Reyes.

If Henry Walker's yacht comes up to the talk he gave the people of Yokohama, it is to be expected that Sir Thomas Lipton's attention will be attracted in this direction. Hot air is cheap in the manufacture, but to get rid of its effects is devilishly expensive. Eh, Henry?

In place of talking to Chinese about a revolution in the Celestial Empire, Dr. Sun Yat Sen ought to get the drop on President Roosevelt's ear. Our strenuous chief executive is just now engaged in the revolution business, and would likely back up any enterprise that would put the horses in the middle of the stream next November.

We heartily agree with the idea of entertaining the men of Admiral Evans' fleet while here. But a'int there a chance to get George W. Smith in somewhere as chairman of a committee? His pose is immense and is a winner. After taking a squint at George W. (R. P., we mean), every sailor in the fleet would come back here at the end of his enlistment and go into small farming. Sure kela—or killer.

The return of Dr. Sloggett to Honolulu to assume charge of the Insane asylum is satisfactory. Dr. Sloggett is an all-round good man, and has always had a foible for the line of work ahead of him. If, when he is completely in harness, he will arrest all the people that disgrace with us and lock them up we will print his picture in The Independent every day a week, free of charge.

Thec oncrete sidewalk of one of Achi's buildings on King street, Ewa of the Palama Chapel, is endangering pedestrians and is as well as a menace generally to the public. The cause is that the middle has caved in and the sides much higher, the same looking almost similar to a sugar plantation cane and water flume. It beang a public danger, those in authority should look into the matter and order the same repaired as soon as possible, particularly the end nearer the chapel.

On account of the greater cost of living the salaries of employes of the Customs houses have been raised $25 each above those paid on the mainland. If so in the Customs house, why not also in the Honolulu postoffice? The men in the latter are in the same boat as were the former before the change mentioned came about. They receive the same money as employes back east, where $1 is 75 cents and less here. Prince Kuhio could probably be able to arrange the thing with the Postmaster-General.

If Mabel McKinley does not hurry up and take her composition, "Anona," out of the hands of the Hawaiian band, it will be worn thread-bare. Berger has kept it going day and night for several weeks, and unless it has the constitution of an ox it must now feel pretty seedy. And in every concert program the piec eis announced as "by request." Who the deuce is this man, woman or child that requests it ? He, she or it should be hunted out by the Insane asylum authorities and disciplined.

A good way to begin financial retrenchment is by cutting out entirely the machinery of the garbage department. In every other city in the United States this work is left to private parties, the health authorities compelling property owners to have their places cleaned up properly. Here in Honolulu a big department is maintained at large public expense, filled by some thirty loafers (four or five men being sufficient) and apparently and really for politically purposes. The politics of the garbage department stinks worse than the refuse its slaves take off. It is high time that the entire syste mwas done away with.

From a military standpoint, Governor George R. Carter should be courtmartialled for giving out the secrets of a conference between General MacArthur, district commander, and Colonel Jones, senior officer of the National Guard. Such a course would not only be in line with a proper enforcement of discipline but is necessary for the protection of the army from the damaging effects of tattlers. As Governor, Mr. Carter is commander-in-chief of the Territorial militia, and is easily reached. Had the same infraction of military practice occurred in Great Britain, France or Germany there would have been a parallel to the Dreyfus case on the boards.

When Mr. Ashford appealed from the Chairman's ruling at the citizens' meeting of Friday night last, relative to putting to vote the committee's report or the Stewart or Ashford substitutes, about 50 or 60 voted to sustain the chair and about 30 against, the rest of the audience (about two-thirds) did not vote either one way or the other. In such a case, the chair has nothing to feel proud of in being sustained in his arbitrariness. It is parliamentary to always first put the amendments or substitutes, but he failed in htat duty, only putting Thurston's amendment to elliminate the calling of an extra session. We are merely pointing this out to show wherein we think the chair was itself out of order.

The election of General Reyes to the head of the government of Colombia means that there will be war or that war will be avoided only by accident. To us in Honolulu it means that Admiral Evans' fleet will hurry away to the south as soon as possible. If war comes it will be an affair that will cause the struggle with Spain to pale into insignificance. It will exceed in bloodshed and expense the Boer war. Certain it now is that Chile, Ecuador and Brazil are actively supporting Colombia, and every South American republic will be in the compact before hostilities have progressed very far. Then there is the probability of European interference. Verily, this is a nice mess into which President Roosevelt has led us.

The objections of the Advertiser to county government form the principal argument in favor of the system. The morning press wants to keep the machinery of public affairs in the hands of a few men, whom it regards as competent, etc. The public, however, does not share in that confidence, and prefers to have its business carried on by men subservient to its vote, will and control. We have too much of one man power, and a change is not only desired but is absolutely necessary. It seems highly inconsistent for the people who overthrew the monarchy for the ostensible purpose of giving the right to control into the hands of the voters to kick over the traces at the first opportunity afforded for that very thing in its safest and best form.

The Land Registration Court, since its creation by the last Legislature, and since appropriations were provided for carrying the same into effect with salaries and expenses, has spent about $3,000 of the Government's money, mostly in salaries. And during the whole time it has been in existence, its receipts have been about $30, or one per cent upon the sum total of what it has already expended. This does not speak very flatteringly for this new land and legal innovation. If this is not another system of grafting imposed upon the people of this country, so as to feed certain political friends at the expense of the taxpayers, we would like to know what it is. Having already spent about $3000 and only turned in about $30 in receipts, with hardly any furtehr business in sight, does not speak well for the Republican Legislature that passed the Land Registration Act, commonly known as the Torrens Act, fathered by Judge Weaver.

We are informed of the peculiar doings of the Public Works department, particularly that part of it under the immediate control of Marston Campbell. Recently "sealed tenders" were advertised by Superintendent Holloway for the construction of certain wharf work in the harbor, and when one intended bidder called to see the specifications, there were none to be had, for the simple reason that there were none ready. This put that intended bidder out. Yet the time for bidding was limited. What was the idea of calling for bids on proposed public works without being prepared with specifications in advance, unless itw as for others to surmise that the work had already been given out in advance without such a necessity, and that the advertising was only to blind the people to a supposed legal conformity, and that no other bidders were wanted. Is that the case? This is only one instance of the kind, and we areg iven to understand that it is the usual way of doing business in that much puffed-up consulting engineering department. What next?

The new sheds over the Oceanic wharf will be completed in a few days, when the work of painting will begin. J E Rodgers, the Eureka paint man, arrived from Hawaii by the last Mauna Loa to complete the work.

May Be Yacht Race.

Henry E Walker, who returned from Japan yesterday, reports that he has practically arranged for a yacht race between Hawaii and Mikado land to take place at Yokohama next year. The gentleman accepting the challenge is a wealthy American resident, and the race will be for a cup valued at $2,500. Mr Walker found the Japanese people wholly indifferent to yachting and he could stir up a little enthusiasm only among the whites. Even then the Yokohamaites had not the nerve to come to Honolulu but were willing to make a try in their own port.

Cruiser Fleet Tomorrow.

The cruiser fleet, in command of Rear Admiral Cooper, passed Midway Islands at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon and should, therefore, arrive here tomorrow. In the fleet are the Cincinnati, Raleigh, Albany, New Orleans and Pompey, the latter being a coal supply steamer. It is not expected that the battleship contingent, with Admiral Evans, will arrive before the last of the week.

WILL TAKE UP THE COUNTY ACT.

The Bar Association, which met in Castle & Cooke's hall yesterday afternoon, decided to at once make a test case of the County Act, in compliance with the wishes expressed by the "town" meeting and to bring the same before the Supreme Court. It was the opinion that this proceeding would not conflict with the mission and work of Mr Hatch. J A Matthewman was appointed to bring the suit and A S Hartwell to defend it. Two other attorneys will be appointed by the President of the Association as counsel to assist these attorneys.

The appointments were made upon a resolution of Judge Hartwell to that end. Judge Stanley attacked the proposition, he holding that the results of Mr Hatch's mission should be awaited before taking any action whatever. This view was supported by McCants Stewart and others, Mr Stewart introducing the following resolution, which, however, was defeated:

Whereas, the Governor has initiated a movement in the matter of the County Act, and

Whereas, this Association should work in harmony with him in dealing with said matter; therefore,

Resolved: That a committee of three be appointed by the President, he to be the chairman thereof, to confer with the Governor upon the said matter, and to report to this Association at its next meeting their recommendation as to how and when this Association should proceed in the premises, and whether it should institute any proceedings at all.

Resolved: That when this Association adjourn, it adjourn to meet in this room, Monday, December 21st, 1903, at 4 o'clock p m.

Building Contracts.

TUESDAY, DEC. 15, 1903.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Mr. Bryan is getting cheerful news from the industrial centers these days. Wages are going down and more strikes are threatened. All the calamity-howlers are getting themselves into campaign trim.—Advertiser.

That's h—l again.

Now that the dengue fever has petered out and the mosquito scare has lost its savor, the Advertiser is trying to persuade the Navy Department that Pearl harbor is filling up with sharks. The yarn is untrue on the very face of it, and just what the morning press expects to get out of spreading it is impossible to fathom.

The organization of a political school among the young Portuguese is more ludicrous than serious. It is true that the young men need a great deal of instruction in civil government as understood in the West, but their disposition to factionalism and division along personal lines will divest the proposition of any real importance We would suggest "Il Busto Bustum" as an appropriate name for the school.

Does anyone think it necessary to wake up everybody in the town with the electric company's whistle every time a steamer is sighted in the middle of the night or the early hours of the morning? A steamer sighted, say at 2 or 3 o'clock, cannot come in until after sunrise, so why not put off the hideous whistle business until daylight? We have heard a good deal of kicking about this matter and are forced to deem the point well taken.

According to Dr. Mays, most men border on insanity. It is doubtful that any persons has been, in the course of a life-time, free from some of the symptoms of insanity described by him, and yet a very large majority are not considered insane. We have our impressions regarding the mental condition of E. M. Jones at the time he shot Mrs. Parmenter and Mrs. Jones, but doubt the propriety of applying far-fetched generalities to the case.

We quite agree with Judge A. S. Hartwell that the County Act is not so seriously defective as to render it inoperative. That it has defects, however, is not to be denied; and the sooner those defects are remedied the better. No time should be lost in getting the matter before the Supreme Court and obtaining a decision. The defects in the law are relicts of one Breckons, United States district attorney, who has a penchant for butting in where he has no business.

The S. F. Examiner has been sold by the Associated Press correspondent here into believing and publishing a canard that the Republicans carried the recent County elections held on November 3rd last, throughout this Territory. As a matter of genuine fact, the Home Rulers carried most of the Counties, with a Republican sprinkling here and there. Kauai was about the only County where the Republicans carried nearly their whole ticket with one exception, that of County Attorney.

Governor Carter made another bad break yesterday in giving out for publication the correspondence between himself and Admiral Terry respecting the alleged poaching by Japanese at French Frigate Shoals. This is a matter that will in all probability lead to diplomatic correspondence between Washington and Tokio, and should have been given out only from the nation's capitol. Mr. Dole was tight-fisted with public news, but Carter seems to have fallen far over the other side of the fence.

Great Britain and Holland demand that Panama assume $15,000,000 of Colombia's debt, which means that your Uncle Samuel will have to cough again. But it is precisely as it should be. If we make a practice of inciting and supporting rebellions, overthrowing governments and the like, we must expect to protect foreign creditors of those governments. There are no two ways about that. The United States will have to foot the bill, and the American people should then charge it up on the account entitled "Republican Blunders."

While the mounted patrolmen are prowling about the city on their beats these dark nights, we think they should be made to carry lights on their horses' foreheads. And not only them, but all horsemen and horsewomen should be treated in the same way. We fail to see any difference between them and hacks, carriages, bicycles and other vehicles used for hire or for pleasure. There's just as much danger from horses that are being ridden as from those being driven, and in the latter case, from those out on a spooning expedition.

With an expenditure of about $3000, already paid out in salaries mostly, and only about $30 received in return as receipts, the Land Registration Court seems at most to be only a grafting machine for the weaving of a "savidge" to become one likely to be "boyd" as a "weaver," wherein and whereby all may take life easy at Government expense. So are the people fooled every time into creating some soft snaps for some uncertain lawyer with an uncertain pay to earn regular salary without as much as doing any hard work for the same.

We would like to ask the authority of the Board of Supervisors of Maui County for fixing the bonds of the assessor and treasurer of that county at more than $30,000. The law prescribes that the bonds shall not be less than $30,000, and anything in addtion must be based upon the amount of money passing through the hands of the respective officers of the county during any given month. As a matter of fact, however, there has been no Maui County heretofore, and consequently no assessor or treasurer through whom money might pass. The Board of Supervisors had the right to fix the bonds at $30,000, and no more.

With the coming of Admiral Evans' fleet, the importance of a good light at the corner of Richards and Queen streets is made all the more apparent. That corner is one of the darkest in town at night, and yet it is one used by most of the sailors from war vessels, who, landing at the naval wharves, come into town by way of Richards street. Superintendent Holloway should have the matter attended to before all of the fleet arrives here.

The General Wood case illustrates the thorough incapacity of President Roosevelt in the important work of making appointments. In this as in other things he allowed his petty, personal bias to get away with the ordinary judgment that any other man would have exercised. Wood's qualifications for the office now held by him consists in his having accompanied Roosevelt in the Santiago campaign. Of course we all know that Roosevelt licked Spain, bringing the haughty Don in humility to his feet; but the President feels that Wood helped him a little and wishes to reward him. The Senate will do the proper thing if it deliberately turns down the appointment. But when a President creates a Governor on account of his football record, he is not apt to overlook a bull-puncher who happens to be his friend.

Bail of Daniel Nuuanu, charged with manslaughter, for choking to death Kaaihue, at Puuloa, on October 25, was yesterday fixed at $10,000.

The McBryde Sugar Co has closed a deal with the Hawaiian Sugar Co. and Gay & Robinson for the use of the surplus water from Hanapepe valley, Kauai.

The money order and registry departments of the postoffice were jammed with people all of the forenoon with Christmas remembrances to be sent away.

Hearing on demurrer in the suit of Kailua, a native woman, against the trustees of the estate of James Campbell, deceased, will take place on Monday next.

The wife and daughter of Major Davis will be expected here in the Ventura tomorrow to meet the officer upon his return in the Siberia from the Philippines.

From and after Thursday, December 24, Judge De Bolt will not hold any more jury trials of this term. All cases remaining upon the calendar on that date will be continued.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

F H Pahia has been appointed administrator of the estate of the late Kahalua under bonds in the sum of $500. The estate consists of a deposit of $507 23 in the Bank of Hawaii.

The Ada failed to get away for French Frigate Shoa's yesterday afternoon on account of trouble among the officers and crew. It is expected that she will sail at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Fire started early this morning in the second story of the building back of Ah Leong's store at Queen and Punchbowl streets, but was put out before the fire department arrived on the scene.

Wray Taylor called upon Bishop Restarick in New York. He stated that he lost his mind in San Francisco and that everything was a black until he arrived in England. Mr Taylor may voluntarily return to the Islands.

The ejectment case of Cecil Brown against J W A Rodhouse, involving two lots in Kaimuki, was decided yesterday in favor of plaintiff as to the property, together with damages in the sum of $300, payable at the rate of $20 per month.

It is figured at the naval station that the battleship part of Admiral Evans' fleet will arrive here Sunday morning. The intention is to have all of the vessels come into port, the Wisconsin having successfully done this on her way out to the Orient.

Coal has been loaded on scows at the naval slips in order that the cruisers due here Thursday morning may take it from both sides. By this arrangement coaling should not take but one day and most of the men will likely be given shore leave on Friday.

Yesterday's Doll Sale.

The lanais of the Hawaiian hotel were filled with big and little humanity yesterday afternoon to take part in the doll fair and sale. Mrs. C S Holloway won the special doll dressed by Mrs James Neill, which was the center of attraction. It brought $52. The function was an immense success both socially and financially.

Sports for the Fleet.

The special committee of the Merchants' Association appointed to arrange a program of sports for the American fleet has been hard at work, and a very elaborate list of events is promised. Besides baseball and football, there will be a water carnival which may be continued in sections over several days. In the latter events both the Healani and Myrtle boat clubs and the Hawaii Yacht club will participate. A great time is promised.

New Jurors.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 16, 1903.

PAU WITH LAND COURT.

So our strenuous Governor has called the attention of Treasurer Kepoikai to the fact that the Court of Land Registration, under whose department the appropriations for salaries and expenses were placed by the last Legislature, has spent over $3000 and turned in as receipts a little over $30, and for the need of retrenchment in that direction. We heartily agree with the Governor that there is urgent need for retrenchment, not only in that new fangled court, but in many other departments and bureaus of the Government, and it is not too late for him to begin the initiative by recommending a reduction in the clerical staff all around.

At present, the time does not warrant the employment of too many clerks and other useless figureheads, unless it be only to draw their sustenance during these hard times, when all the people on the outside are seeking for employment and hardly make enough to sustain their families. Many of these known "parasites" are sucking the life-blood of the country at the taxpayers' expense, and really, during these days of uncertainty, are the best paid men in the whole country, because they are sure of their pay at the end of every month, and that without doing very hard work either.

But to return to the Land Court proposition, as suggested by the Governor to the Treasurer, we think that retrenchment is urgent and immediately necessary, and the Governor had better begin at once. We do not think that the remedy lays with the Treasurer, but it is up to the Governor himself. The appropriations were only placed under the Treasury with no control whatever over their expenditure by its head. Let the Executive recall the appointment of the Judge, and he in turn those under him, and then the job will be done without any further weaving. That's where the whole trouble lays, with the appointing power. Although the present Governor was not responsible for the appointing, yet he was as much, being the then Secretary of the Territory. We think the matter is a small one, and when it is done, all will be over for the present, that is, for the time being, anyway. Why not attempt it, Governor, and thereby show some sincerity of purpose instead of harassing one not of your "official family."

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

With the passing of the Beretania line of the old Tramways Company the last vestige of the mule car service will have disappeared. And, in the words of the up-to-date dentists, it will be a "painless" job.

The American fleet under Admiral Evans is more than welcome at this port. It means business in all lines of trade, and money to the city. The duty of the men aboard the ships is to be orderly, and the duty of Honolulu is to see that good conduct is rewarded by the very best of treatment.

Ten years ago, this week, a Democratic President of the United States tried to right a grievous wrong in Hawaii, but was foiled by an unfriendly Congress and the skillful manipulation of sugar stock in the American Senate. The only satisfaction to be gotten out of events since is the reflection that those oposing the President and boosting annexation are sorry that they did it and wish they had their sugar stock back.

The bill in Congress to annex San Domingo foreshadows another act of piracy that will blacken the once fair name of the United States more than any of the dark deeds that have preceded it. It is even worse than the Hawaiian affair, for with us a part of the community admittedly favored annexation; while with San Domingo the action is taken without consulting any part of the people. It is purely a case of highway robbery for which the American people must one day pay.

Boston city, the Hub of the Universe and the cradle of Hawaiian missionaryism, elected a city ticket yesterday on the side of government by and for the people. The Democratic ticket went in with flying colors, with more than 25,000 votes to spare. The incident is a small one, in one way, but it shows the way the wind is blowing. Republican "strongholds" have been showing themselves to be Republican "graveyards" of late, and the same thing may be expected in the election of next year for President. Then how many lifelong Democrats will there be in Honolulu? The island of Oahu will not be big enough to hold them. Wouldn't it be a fine thing to see old Popcorn, Rat Poison and Football George at the head of a Democratic procession on Fort street?

Mr. Stewart, in his letter published elsewhere, shows that he is laboring under a false impression in regard to our opinion of the legal position of the recently elected Supervisors. We do not admit that they have any legal right to fix the bonds of any county official, but, on the contrary, deny that they have any such authority. In the Maui case, to which we referred, the supervisors have gone ahead and actually fixed the bonds of the assessor and treasurer, and they have fixed them at more than twice the amount indicated in and prescribed by Section 61 of the County Act. This action by the Supervisors of Maui we deem to be illegal, for they have no right to prescribe bonds at this time; but merely admitting for the sake of argument that they had the right to fix the amount of bonds, we maintained yesterday and still maintain that their action was not consistent with Section 61 of the law.

Now and again Governor Carter, like President Roosevelt, does something real sensible. It may be accident, or it may be the result of one of Dr. Mays' insanity symptoms, but it's a fact, nevertheless. Now, this armory matter. The only place for the National Guard armory is on the site of the present drill shed. President McKinley took the property at a time when war was on, and it was not definitely known how much land the War Department would require here. But conditions have changed. The War Department has absolutely no use for the property, while the National Guard has. In going to see General MacArthur with a proposition to get the premises back again, Governor Carter did the correct thing. General MacArthur will submit the matter to the War Department, it will then go to the President and the property will be returned to the Territory for the use of the National Guard, as it should be.

As we understand it the stay of the American fleet here will depend largely upon developments in either the Orient or at Panama. At the latter matters are liable to drag on for months, for diplomatic negotiations move slowly and there will likely be a number of commissions and conferences before the presence of any larger fleet than is now at the isthmus is deemed necessary. That may mean six months. As to the Orient, it is next to certain that if Japan tackles Russia at all—which is not likely—it will not be before next April or May, for it would be the height of folly to attempt to invade either Siberia or Manchuria in the Winter months, and that is just exactly what Japan would be called upon to do. The only chance of war in the meanwhile is the bare possibility of Japan committing some act that would force Russia to invade her territory, but that is too remote to lose sleep over. Sizing the whole thing up, it seems not improbable that Admiral Evans and his fleet will be here several months. The fact that officers of the fleet are bringing their families from the Orient to Honolulu would seem to support that idea.

THE INDEPENDENT 50 cents per month.

Tonight's concert by the band will be at Thomas square.

A meeting of the Board of Health will be held this afternoon.

The Punahous and H A C's will play football Saturday afternoon.

The Ventura was sighted shortly before noon from San Francisco.

The Board of Agriculture will have a business meeting this afternoon.

The jury in Judge Robinson's court met again at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

It is now figured that the Jones murder case will go to the jury tomorrow afternoon.

The total sum of $423 35 was realized from the doll sale at the Hawaiian hotel on Monday.

The schooner Ada got away at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon for French Frigate Shoals.

The band played on the Pacific Mail wharf this morning as the big battleship Kentucky was coming in to her wharf.

Boston, the nest of the missionaries, went Democratic in the city election held yesterday by a majority of 26,000.

The Honolulu Iron Works put in the lowest bid for piping for the Polipoli water works on Maui, their figure being $1200 96.

Judge De Bolt granted a divorce to George Hiram, alias George Kalikookalani against Ellen David on the ground of adultery.

General MacArthur will be a guest at the banquet of the Merchants' Association at the Hawaiian hotel next Saturday evening.

The Miowera arrived off port last night from the Colonies, almost a day ahead of time, and came in this morning. She sailed again at 2 p m.

Mrs H C Brown, secretary of the Y W C A, sustained a sprained ankle in a runaway accident yesterday afternoon while returning from Wahiawa.

Judge De Bolt signed a decree in the suit of Albert Barnes vs. Charles R Collins for dissolution of partnership and an accounting between the parties.

The office of THE INDEPENDENT is in the brick building next to the Hawaiian hotel grounds on Beretania street, Waikiki of Alakea. First floor.

Lorrin Andrews and W O Smith have been added to the committee of the Bar Association to bring the contest case in regard to the County Act in the courts.

In the case of Gus Schuman vs. W S Withers, assumpsit in the sum of $1,000, Judge Robinson has decided in favor of the plaintiff, there being no appearance on the part of the defendant.

Roosevelt Command of Spanish war veterans will give a smoker at San Antonio hall in Vineyard street tomorrow evening. A very attractive program has been prepared by the committee having the affair in charge.

Drs Wayson, Hodgins and Miner were called by the prosecution in the Jones case today to rebut the opinion of Dr Mays, as an expert, that the defendant was insane when he shot Mrs Parmenter and Mrs Jones.

Tung Fook Sing vs. Sing Kee Co, which had formerly been continued for the term, was discontinued by C W Ashford for plaintiff before Judge De Bolt yesterday as the debt had been paid. W A Whiting was attorney for defendant.

James Carty has taken an appeal from Judge De Bolt's decision against him as plaintiff and in favor of B T White as defendant. This is the case in which charges for driving Senator Morgan of Alabama around appear in defendant's setoff.

Admiral Evans' Fleet Arrives.

The American fleets commanded by Admirals Evans and Cooper arrived off port at about 9:30 this morning. The Kentucky, the flagship of Admiral Evans, led the procession while approaching port. She proceeded to the Waikiki side of the channel entrance. The battleship Wisconsin moved over Waikiki of the Kentucky and the battleship Oregon came up on the Ewa side. Following the battleship fleet came the cruiser fleet under Admiral Cooper, led by the New Orleans, the flagship of the quartette.

Following Admiral Cooper's flagship came the Raleigh, the Albany and the Cincinnati. The cruiser fleet came to anchor in their order on the Ewa side of the channel. A steam launch was first sent ashore from the Kentucky to confer with Admiral Terry in regard to entering port. The recommendation went back that the fleets come in.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the Kentucky turned her nose toward the channel and came in. She was piloted by Captain Rodman, and Captain Niblack superintended the work of docking. A detachment from the Iroquois handled the hawsers and another detachment acted as marine guards on the wharf. The vessel was safely moored.

Thousands of people lined the waterfront to see the fleet and to witness the entrance of the big Kentucky into port. Many feared that she would ground or have a mix up with the wharf, as she is by considerable odds the heaviest vessel that ever entered the channel; but there was no trouble whatever. She was placed alongside Naval wharf No. 1 and began taking coal at once from both sides.

The Oregon and Wisconsin will coal next and the New Orleans and cruiser fleet will follow. The two supply ships of the fleet have not yet arrived but will likely get in during the afternoon.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Mr. Stewart on Bonds of County Officials.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:

I read the Independent daily, and like the quick, clear, clean-cut manner in which it discusses public questions; and I find especially interesting its editorial discussions of legal questions. It seldom fails to strike the nail on the head. But it hits off in its reference last night to the fixing of bonds by the Board of Supervisors of Maui County. It concedes too much in saying that, "the Board of Supervisors had the right to fix the bonds at $30,000, and no more."

We have no "Board of Supervisors" anywhere in this Territory. The persons elected supervisors do not take office until January 4th, 1904. (See County Act, Section 471) They then organize as a board, and then they acquire jurisdiction over the bonds of other county officers, and not until then (see County Act, Section 473).

The supervisors elect, like the other gentlemen elected to county offices, will remain private citizens until January 4th, next; and they have no present right to fix bonds in any amount.

THURSDAY, DEC. 17, 1903.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Upon reading the message of President Roosevelt to Congress, one is inclined to wonder which one of his office clerks wrote it. The fellow, whoever he was, was evidently out late the night before.

Honolulu regrets that the men of Admiral Evans' fleet may not have shore leave until Sunday, but the additional time will enable the Merchants' Association and sporting organizations to perfect their plans for giving officers and men a good time.

It seems to us that the men in Admiral Evans' fleet might be given liberty of evenings. During the day they have their hands full with the work of coaling, but there can be no good reason for keeping the "off" watch aboard tonight, tomorrow night and Saturday night.

For the information of a number of people who have called the matter into question, we will state that the total number of men on the men-of-war in port is 2,969. This does not include cooks, servants and passengers. The men on the two supply ships are also not included. With the supply ships and the Solace, which will arrive Christmas day, the total number of men will be close to 3,500.

The Associated Press on the Mainland is to be congratulated upon seeing through the MacArthur story upon its receipt at San Francisco, and stopping it until the General could be heard from. MacArthur's version of the thing is not yet known here, but it is safe to say that his explanation was entirely satisfactory to the Government, and that the gentleman giving out an account of a proper military conference between a commanding officer and his subordinate officer will be invited to rise and tell "how it happened."

R. A. Jordan is anxious that Saturday, the day after Christmas, be also made a holiday. It is probably a good idea. Saturday is a half-work day anyhow, and coming, as it will, between Christmas and Sunday, it will be something like a thorn between the roses. There will, as a matter of course, be no business in the stores, and it might be just as well to continue the Christmas fun on into Saturday with a program of sports and music by the several bands now here. The Merchants' Association is the proper body to act in the matter.

What would one think of a man elevated to the position of chief of a departmental bureau from the clerkship of said bureau, and after serving as such chief for some time, tendering his resignation, expecting thereby to be favored and be reappointed, but was not so reappointed, and is reported to be seeking reappointment as clerk of the same bureau under another appointee, who may thereby force out one that he himself appointed and who had served under him? In our own opinion, we think him a very small man and unprincipled.

"Gentlemen of the fleet, enjoy yourselves. The town is completely surrendered to you, and if you don't see what you want, ask for it."—Bulletin.

Nay, nay; not on your life! We cannot for a moment believe that our contemporary is sincere and eager to surrender the freedom of our city to the fleet, to a lot of men liable to get rowdy, and so forth. Should they get it into their heads to demand the freedom of our homes, are we to surrender them also? We wonder whether the Bulletin's editor would be so patriotic as to throw open the hospitality of his hearth to any Tom, Dick and Harry of these Johnnies that have now come here? Not us.

Now, here's a time when Iwilei should be in full blast, with about 5,000 men off the fleet, they must go somewhere for recreation after their sea voyage. But our goody-goody people did not want it, and here we are, through the Bulletin, offering to these Johnnies the complete surrender of the city, and if they don't see what they want, to just ask for it, and we wonder who'll give them anything for the asking, unless it be the police. This is not the first time we've had so many of them here, but we've had them, during the war, when transports stopped here on their way to the Philippines, and the many reminders they left behind them here for certain unfortunate ones to remember them by are not yet quite forgotten, nor the many doctors' bills some parents had to stand good for, for certain indiscretions, lack of judgment and lots of the forbidden pleasures, with all the incidentals following. There's a limit to all things, and here is one wherein we have had enough. Propriety demands that we don't have a repetition, unless it be for pies (Chinese made) and lemonade only. But Iwilei we should have, particularly at this time.

Again in the matter of the Land Court, we somewhat erred in saying that it was up to the Governor, but of course he could put an oar in if he desired to, for the Court could never have been established if the appointing power did not exercise its prerogative. But now the whole matter is up to Judge Weaver himself, who has now gone to Hilo, and retrenchment should begin with him. We believe the Governor could be of some assistance in that line, should he desire to interefere there instead of pestering Treasurer Kepoikai, who has no control whatever over the appropriations, although they were placed under his department.

The fault of the Land Court has been, it began business with too much flourish by the appointment of many employees and with the payment of large salaries, without first knowing how much business it was able to bring in. The system was a new one here, but time should have been given it to become popularized instead of forcing a new fangled idea down the throats of people. And further, the salaries were too high, to begin with, instead of beginning at a slow pace and increasing them as the work increased. The Torrens system of land titles may be all right, but the people were not ripe for it to begin with, and that's where the rub came in.

The cranks that brought about the closing of Iwilei will, we believe, have an object lesson of their folly within the next few weeks, with much more to follow. Sensible people were agreed that the place was a protection to the city. The logic of the thing, with them, took the place of silly sentiment, and it must be said to the credit of High Sheriff Brown that he viewed the question in its broader light. This fleet may be followed by others, and certain it is that it will be followed from time to time by large number of soldiers. What are they to do? The question will be answered in many a home. Iwilei should not be encouraged, but for the safety of the community it should be—tolerated.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Admiral Evans called on Governor Carter at 10 o'clock this morning.

Prince and Princess Kawanankoa entertained Admiral Evans and staff at dinner last evening.

The wedding of Dr C B High and Miss Lucy Roth will take place at Central Union church this evening.

A nicely furnished front room and a middle room at No. 9 Garden Lane, are for rent. 2866-1m

The bark Snow and Burgess arrived off port yesterday for orders and upon receiving sailed for Manila.

Admiral Evans this morning received orders to leave Honolulu between December 25 and 30 for Manila.

"Jimmy" Scanlon, a noted light-heavyweight of Australia, has challened the winner of the Weday-Barry fight for a go.

The nomination of A L C Atkinson to be Secretary of the Territory was confirmed by the Senate at Washington this morning.

Officers of Admiral Evans' fleet were yesterday invited to become guests at the annual dinner of the Merchants' Association Saturday evening.

The office of THE INDEPENDENT is in the brick building next to the Hawaiian hotel grounds on Beretania street, Waikiki of Alakea. First floor.

In the Federal court yesterday Judge Dole sentenced Kuribara to imprisonment for two years for importing a woman for immoral purposes.

Treasurer Kepoikai today passes the 42nd milestone of his existence. THE INDEPENDENT extends to him its congratulation, wishing him many happy returns of the day.

There are four splendid bands in the fleet of Admiral Evans. Concerts on the decks of the Kentucky, the Wisconsin and the New Orleans this morning were listened to by large audiences of town people.

Word has been received that Bishop Restarick has raised over $10,000 towards purchasing a site for Iolani College, now being carried on at the old Armstrong homestead, lately used as the Punahou Preparatory.

Mrs Shaw, the part-Hawaiian woman who has been doing up several of our money brokers, departed yesterday on the Miowera for Victoria under an assumed name. Now her friends are easy, but what of her dupes?

Probably the largest quantity of mail for the same number of days ever brought to Honolulu came in the Ventura yesterday. There were 333 bags of it, of which 71 were registered. This is considered a great deal for six days.

Dimond's Christmas opening last evening was a great success. A big crowd was attracted by the music to the neighboring sidewalks. Manager Berndt states that the store will be kept open every evening until after the holiday season.

Police officers were today placed at each end of Mililani street, to prevent the passing of vehicles on that thoroughfare. Every time a dray, wagon, etc, passes that way, the noise interferes with the hearing of the Court and jury hearing the Jones murder case.

Mrs Frank N Parker, wife of the manager of the Woodlawn Dairy and an aunt of B F Dillingham, died yesterday afternoon, after an illness of a month, at the age of 73. The funeral will take place from the late residence on Alexander street at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Lieutenant Victor Blue, who has been to Honolulu many times and has numerous friends here, is aboard the battleship Kentucky. He is the officer who understood the dangerous mission of locating the Spanish fleet at Santiago, necessitating a walk of some sixty miles through the lines of the enemy.

The American Fleet.

During yesterday afternoon all of the ships of Admiral Evans' fleet came into port. The battleship Wisconsin followed the Kentucky and docked at naval wharf Number 2. Then the Oregon, which is the lightest of the battleship contingent but draws more water, came in and anchored in the stream. She was followed by the flagship of Admiral Cooper, the New Orleans, which took a position across the makai end of naval wharf Number 1 and the Pacific Mail wharf. The other vessels anchored in naval row near the Oregon. Coaling began on the Kentucky, Wisconsin and New Orleans at once and has been kept up steadily ever since. The vessels are being loaded from both sides to expedite the work. It is expected that all will be coaled by Saturday night and on Sunday the men will be given their first shore leave. After that there will be "liberty" every day.

Honor Ka-ne's Memory.

At its meeting yesterday the Board of Health adopted the following resolution in regard to the death of S K Ka ne:

"Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God in his infinite wisdom to call from among us S K Ka-ne, member of the Board of Health, Territory of Hawaii; be it therefore,

"Resolved, That we the members of the Board of Health, individually and as a body, feel the loss sustained by this Board to be unspeakable.

"That we mourn him not only as a respected co-worker but as a true friend of every member of the Board.

"That we deeply appreciate having had the benefit of his legal knowledge and wisdom in many of our deliberations and of having enjoyed the advantages of personal contact with our deceased member of this Board; further be it

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent with our deepest sympathy to his bereaved family.

"That a copy of these resolutions be duly spread upon the minutes of this Board in meeting assembled."

Panama Affair At Nation's Capital.

WASHINGTON, D.C. Nov. 30:

Over half the membership of the House of Representatives has returned to the bosom of its constituency to await the date for the opening of the regular session of Congress Hardly a quorum of members of the House is adjourning over three days at a time and waiting for the Senate to do something, the chief topic of conversation among them is the Panama situation. There is but one single note among the democratic chorus, and that is condemnation of the administration for its act of piracy against Colombia. They say that if any European power, or all the powers of Europe combined, had done to us what we have done to Colombia, the American people would be resolute for war. There would be a universal demand for the shedding of the last drop of American blood, and the spending of the last American dollar to bring back the seceding state and restore the integrity of the Union. It is well to bear this in mind if Colombia's excitement is to be understood. In the eyes of her people we have ceased to be a great, free and liberty-loving Republic. We have become a robber power and have adopted for our rule of conduct the brutal maxim that might makes right. In their eyes we are lost to all perception of justice and sentiments of chivalry and deaf to every appeal that is not addressed to our material interests: They say that this piratical foray, which disgraces us before mankind, has been made by President Roosevelt without warrant in law or excuse in necessity. He has trampled on the treaty under which we guaranteed the sovereignty of Colombia over the Isthmus, and is continuing to defy the plain mandate of the Spooner Act. That statute provides that if the President cannot get from Colombia permission to dig the canal on reasonable terms and within a reasonable time he shall turn to Costa Rica and Nicaragua and conclude a treaty for the construction of the canal by that route. The people demand an Isthmian canal; the vote in the House in favor of the Nicaragua route was practically unanimous, but the bill was held up in the Senate and the Spooner substitute adopted to placate and deceive the people with the delusion that a canal was to be built, but it was to be one which, if built, would be of no practical use, could never antagonize the railroad interests, and the men on the inside would get the benefit of the rise in the price of Panama bonds. Several birds were killed with the Spooner stone.

The persistent enemies of any Isthmian canal, the transcontinental railroads, apparently have accomplished their object and have succeeded in forcing upon the government the adoption of the Panama route, well knowing that if the work

DOLE WAS SAFEST MAN

The Independent, since its inception over eight years ago, has always opposed Dole while in the conduct of the affairs of this country from the overthrow in 1893 up to his retiring from the gubernatorial chair last month, but we always believed that he was the Hawaiians' best friend during all those trying years. When he broke his oath of office and became one with the revolutionists ("forcible minds," according to Judge Hartwell's estimation) and was chosen as head of the propaganda, it was the best thing that ever happened to the people of the country in which he first saw the light of day, by accident of course. He was always conservative, and as such he maintained it during those years of political strife for supremacy, when feeling ran high at times to such a tension almost beyond his control, but he always maintained his stand and carried his point.

Had the revolutionists chosen another person as head of the junta in 1893, the Hawaiian people, we are certain, would have fared worse than they have. Those who urged the "rub-it-in" policy, championed by Dr. Wood, "Rat Poison" Smith, Emmeluth, Bolte, Cooper, Abies and a few other hotheads, akin to the bloated Water G., who was imported to do the Hawaiians up for good and forever, it was Mr. Dole who stepped in the breech and prevented the carrying out of such an infamous act on their part towards the rightful sons and daughters of the soil. His conservativeness, although he then broke his official oath as a Justice of the Supreme Court as well as his oath of fealty to the Queen, always saved the day to the people and the cause of their beloved country, knowing no other country but this insular speck in mid-ocean.

To him alone as President of the Provisional Government and of the Republic of Hawaii, and finally as Governor of this American Territory, are the Hawaiian people indebted for the preservation of whatever rights belonged to them, which the hotheaded revolutionists wished to carry to the farthest extreme by disfranchising them those inalienable rights as sons of the soil. But of course, he was not himself nor did he have all the say, for he was merely the tool and the instrument in the hands of such unscrupulous fellows as L. A. Thurston, W. O. Smith, Judge Hartwell, F. M. Hatch and the likes. Had it been either A. Francis Judd, L. A. Thurston, W. O. Smith and a few others, we might now be telling a different tale.

Now he is above and beyond them in a different sphere of influence. As Federal Judge, we hope that he will shake off the bigoted coil of their influence when, at one time, during his official life of the past ten years, he could not say that he was himself. But in his present position, he should soar above party and factional strife and struggle and far beyond the bickerings, gibberish and peccadilloes of his once narrow circle, and in the administration of his judicial service to his parental country, he should temper mercy with equity and justice and meet severity with wisdom and forbearance, treating all who may come before him, irrespective of color and class, as of the one family of humankind.

It was a month ago yesterday when he took the oath of his new Federal position, which we hope he will not so lightly break as he once did when wearing the ermine, in order to become the head of the revolutionary junta of missionary descendants. But that has gone by and is of the past; now we must look to the present and the future; and in this latter case, we herewith tender him our paeon of praise, weak and insignificant as it may be, for what he has been to the people of the land of his accidental birth. For the rest, we leave to posterity to record for and against him.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

One of the things that might make the stay of the American fleet here pleasant on both sides would be, in addition to aquatic and athletic sports, a program of fistic events. All of the war vessels have excellent fighters aboard and in every class. There are men in numbers fitted to meet any local pugilist, and an evening of ring events could be easily pulled off. The idea is commended to the committee having the matter in charge.

It is stated that when the American fleet was sighted the other day, Governor George R. Carter chartered a boat and went out to meet the boats but was refused the privilege of boarding any of them. The act of going out was undignified in the first place, it being the universal custom for visiting army or navy officers to call first upon the Governor. Then it was a particularly "strenuous" act, and showed the nerve of our Governor. But perhaps George was trying to arrange a football game with the fleet and we will let it go at that.

The test case brought by Treasurer Kepoikai to determine the validity of the County Act in certain matters should be made to extend to the Act as a whole and should be decided as soon as possible. If the court is going to consider only one, two or three points at a time there is no telling when a complete determination of the questions before the people will be reached. Let the matter be completely threshed out and speedily.

President Roosevelt's reciprocity treaty with Cuba was simply a bid for the Wall street and New England vote in the next election. It was a good card, if New York is to be the pivotal State, but it may, after all, result in killing enough votes in the beet districts of the West to more than offset New York. The effect upon the South will not amount to much one way or the other, as Mr. Roosevelt has already hung himself in that part of the country.

What do the sugar planters of Hawaii, who have been so strenuously shouting for Roosevelt, now think of the President? He has given to Cuba a treaty that will make that country the greatest sugar producing spot on earth, and will reduce the price all over. Other countries are to demand the same treaty, under the most favored nation clause, and will probably get it. The President has struck a death blow to the sugar interests of Hawaii in order to gain the good will and support of the Sugar Trust.

Our remarks of yesterday in regard to Iwilei created quite a stir in certain circles. We have only to add that the proposition is one of common sense. Iwilei is a necessary evil. Young men coming here, whether in the army or navy, are going to satisfy the demands of nature. They naturally prefer to do so in quarters where no harm will follow, but if that opportunity is denied them they will resort to other sources. It is there that the danger comes. This is a serious matter. We understand conditions and the situation thoroughly, and say now and will continue to say, that the closing of Iwilei was a mistake and that it or some similar place should be provided.

The Advertiser says: "There are plenty of good men to be found in the party for road work and if it is given them to do they will labor very hard in the next campaign and cement the organization; and Home Rulers, getting nothing, will see a very practical reason indeed to enlist in the Republican party." How is that for a scheme of coercion? It will be well for every Home Ruler to cut out the sentence and paste it in his hat for future reference. If the political faith of a man is to compose his qualifications for office in the Republican party, there is hardly any reason why the same rule should not apply in the Home Rule-Democratic party in the outside counties and on Oahu after the election of next year.

That a man with Wray Taylor's chances of embezzling a large sum of money should skip away to England with scarcely enough to land him there is absurd on the face of it. That he intended to embezzle anything will be doubted by all who knew the man, and his statement that he became unconscious in San Francisco and did not know what he was doing until he found himself in England will be believed. Mr. Taylor left property here valued at far more than his alleged shortage, and besides held a good Government position that was worth far more than the small sum he is charged with having taken away. Common sense and rumor are at variance on the proposition, and we believe that the appearance of the facts will disclose a different state of things from what has been supposed.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

THE INDEPENDENT 50 cents per month.

The schools begin their Christmas vacation today.

The China, from San Francisco, was sighted before noon.

The Federal Grand Jury has been excused by Judge Dole until January 4.

Kawaiahao Sunday school will have its Christmas tree exercises this evening.

Mr Hosmer, who has been appointed chief forester of the Islands, will arrive here in January.

The Spanish war veterans had a glorious time at their annual smoker in San Antonio hall last evening.

Bill Huihui, the Hawaiian lightweight, has challenged a fighter in the American fleet for a fistic bout.

Governor Carter will entertain naval and military officers at his home on some evening of next week.

A nicely furnished front room and a middle room at No. 9 Garden Lane, are or rent. 2666 1m

The H A Football League will begin its series of games the day after Christmas, to continue until March 19.

Lord & Belser have been awarded the contract for the storm sewer on the Iwilei road. The contract price was $3,000.

A second combined concert by the Kentucky and Hawaiian bands will be given at the Hawaiian hotel Monday evening.

Five hundred Japanese laborers are reported to be on strike at Hutchinson plantation, Hawaii, on account of objection to the head luna, Mr Mann.

The band from the Kentucky and the Hawaiian band will play jointly at the Hawaiian hotel during the dinner of the Merchant's Association tomorrow evening.

James H Thompson, for a long manager of the Anchor, will open a beer saloon tomorrow afternoon on Richards street below Queen. He will probably call it the Kentucky.

The office of THE INDEPENDENT is in the brick building next to the Hawaiian hotel grounds on Beretania street, Waikiki of Alakea. First floor.

The Literary Circle of the Kilohana Art League will will hold a meeting Saturday afternoon, December nineteenth, at three o'clock. Dr Mary Roberts Smith will address the club on "Household Administration." The following ladies will pour tea: Mrs S Kinney, Mrs W M Graham, Mrs Philip Dodge, Miss Clarke.

Tomorrow's Football.

There's more speculation about town over the outcome of the football game tomorrow between the H A C's and Punahous than has been shown for many years past over any game. The "wise ones" don't know or in other words are not willing as yet to put up any money, so even are the chances, though there are enthusiastic "hot air" backers of both teams with cash to burn.

Mr Woods has been putting in a great deal of time coaching his ends until they have come to that perfection that it is doubtful if Punahou will be able to work her strong card, end runs. If this can be done the H A C's, with their tremendous weight in the line, should find difficulty in holding Punahou with no gain.

Mr Babbitt, who has been coaching the Punahous has had much to contend with. Capt Anderson been unable to don his suit since the Artillery game, and such men as Marcellino, Johnson, Duisenberg, Forbes, Bush and Campbell have been laid up with injuries. This cripples the team to such a considerable extent as to worry Punahou's "Financial Backers."

Will Not Contest.

In view of the contest of the County Act brought by Treasurer Kepoikai, the Bar Association has decided not to begin a suit requested by the "town" meeting, believing that the Treasurer's case will bring up and settle the points at issue. The following resolutions were adopted by the Association yesterday:

Resolved, That a suit having been brought by the Treasurer against the Superintendent of Public Works and the Superintendent of Water Works, of the Territory, to test the validity of the County Act, it appears inexpedient at this time to bring another suit or action on the part of the Bar Association.

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Association state to the attorneys for Treasurer Kepoikai, and also to the Attorney General, that if either side desires assistance in prosecuting or defending the suit to test the validity of the County Act, the Bar Association will stand ready to render assistance.

High-Roth.

The wedding of Dr Clifford B High and Miss Lucy R Roth took place in Central Union church at 8:30 o'clock last evening, Rev Wm M Kincaid officiating. Emmett May gave the bride away, and Miss Ethel Angus was bridesmaid, Emil C Peters attended the groom, The church was filled with friends of the popular young people. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's mother. Mr and Mrs High are spending their honeymoon at the Nuuanu valley residence of G H Robertson.

Argument Begun.

Argument before the jury in the E M Jones murder case began this morning. A G M Robertson, for the defense, took the floor first and spoke until 1:15 this afternoon. He is being followed by E C Peters, for the Government. It is not thought that the court's charge will be reached before tomorrow morning.

With the Fleet.

The Kentucky, Wisconsin and New Orleans have finished coaling and are now cleaning up and painting. They will be followed at once by the other vessels of the fleet.

The coal steamer Pompey, which belongs to the fleet, arrived in port late yesterday.

shall be commenced no man now living will ever survive long enough to see its completion, even if it should prove practicable, which, in the opinion of the best engineering talent, is doubtful.

In pursuing the course he has in this matter the President of the United States, in the person of Theodore Roosevelt, has accomplished several things, and all of them reprehensible in the highest degree. He has played into the hands of the worst enemies of any canal, he has played the game of the Senatorial grafters and "gray wolves," he has violated the plain letter of the law on the statutes which he is sworn to execute, he is aiding and abetting secession in a sister Republic, he is upholding revolution in Panama, he is seeking to transform himself from a constitutional President into an irresponsible dictator, and, in the language of the venerable Senator from Alabama, Mr Morgan, "he has performed the Caesarian operation on Colombia and taken a live republic from her womb." These are things for the people of this country to remember.

GEN. WOOD AND SAN DOMINGO.

WASHINGTON, D.C. Dec. 4:

There is a lot of comment here and considerable amusement that the erstwhile army pill peddler, Gen Leonard Wood, should at the psychological moment, when he is being toasted over the Senate gridiron break out and get into the hero class by butchering several hundred practically inoffensive Moros over in the Philippines on the pretext that they have become obstreperous. From the way the dispatch reads he must have his friend, the ex-convict Bellairs, still acting as his press agent. It seems that after five days' fierce fighting in which several hundred Moros were killed, there was only one American slightly injured. Although our men were repeatedly ambushed, yet only the "niggers" got hurt. Shade of Washington! Those Moros must have been armed with corn stalks, pop guns or paper bags. In the language of Shakespeare: Rats!

That story is so thin that a drunken Indian could read a Dutch almanac through it.

The truth is that General Leonard Wood is up against it good and hard, and his patron and slapstick playmate in the White House has sent him word to get busy. He has got busy by lying or by doing worse. This story is a fake or he is guilty of practically murdering a lot of unarmed savages. It may be a combination of both.

General Wood may be confirmed by the Senate as a Major General in the Army and thus "do" a lot of really deserving men out of a just promotion. If he is he will know more than he does now, but he will not be as pretty.

The Panama deal is still a topic of political discussion here, and the democrats are as determined as ever to make it an issue in the next campaign. If they do they will show up one of the most stupendous outrages ever attempted by this government. From the looks of things this will be supplemented by another attempt on the part of this republican administration to grab San Domingo. The recent trouble down there have made things ripe for the deal that a few men in this country have been trying for years to pull off. It is not generally known, but nevertheless it is the truth, that the bonds of San Domingo, the negro republic, to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars, are owned in this country and are controlled by Senator Matt. Quay, of Pennsylvania, and his copartners in the grafting game. If this government takes over the island of San Domingo, those bonds, which cost the purchasers about twenty-five cents on the dollar, will be worth par. They, therefore, will make some three hundred per cent. profit. The game is worth the candle. Look out for developments in San Domingo.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Mainland papers are already discussing the matter of annexing all of Central America. That is the natural outcome of events that began with the overthrow of Colombia in Panama. The taste of blood has been had, and the party in power wants more. It will take a Democratic administration a long time to amend the injustice and straighten out the errors of Mr. Roosevelt's government.

The Independent was the only paper that said, when the exchanges were given to the four banks to bring the loan money here, that the same would get here before or about Christmas. One of the banks has already paid in full and a second has deposited a part of its pro rata with the Treasurer. All our other contemporaries said that the money would not be here until after New Year's.

The local banks having received notice from New York that the loan bonds money had been paid into the hands of their correspondents, the cash is immediately available here for the purposes for which it was intended. Therefore, public works of every kind requiring attention at this time may go ahead. It is all up to Superintendent Holloway to set the wheels of business in motion. Of course the holidays may interfere a little, but the public has a right to expect "something doing" after New Year's Day.

Bishop Restarick states that the President is favorable to the idea of admitting a limited number of Chinese field laborers into the Islands under proper restrictions. If they are admitted under the terms of the law recently forwarded to Congress, there cannot be any local objection. Under that law the Chinese are required to engage in manual labor in the cane fields, and absolutely nothing else. When they decide to leave the cane fields they must return to China. With the other restrictions proposed every line of desirable labor is protected.

News was received from Washington this morning that Secretary of War Root had decided to drop the MacArthur case. It was also stated that full thur case. It was also stated that full Honolulu. Reading between the lines, it now looks like the War Department has discovered the real culprit in the affair and will recommend to the State Department that that gentleman be disciplined. We pointed out at the time of the occurrence that General MacArthur would be completely exonerated, for he was perfectly in line with his duty, and the person to be censured was the one that had given out military secrets for publication.

Deputy Attorney General Peters, while addressing the jury in the Jones murder case yesterday afternoon, stated that there were three daily papers that gave out all the news pertaining to the shooting of Mrs. Parmenter and her daughter, Mrs. Jones. He did not state them by name, but only left an inference. In this connection, we may state that two members of the jury were formerly on the staff of The Independent, and therefore, no other paper was there represented by past connection or otherwise. We wonder whether he knew that there was a Bulletin to herald the discovery of a new Star in an Independent space in the firmament of an Advertiser.

The jury, in its wisdom, has acquitted Edward M. Jones of the charge of murdering Mrs. Parmenter. Before that body were all the facts in the case. The twelve men have been convinced that at the time of the tragedy the murderer was not in his right mind, or it may be that the prosecution failed to prove murder. Expert opinion was very strong for and against this theory. The opinion of the public is divided on it. The case is a peculiar one. No one feels it in his heart to punish an insane man for his insane acts, but the community must be protected. If Jones is not insane he should have been made to suffer for his crime; if he is insane the place for him is in the asylum for such unfortunates.

When a man in this or any other country cannot get along with citizen labor, he had better overhaul himself to find out the trouble. J. O. Lutted, of the New England Bakery, tells the Builders & Traders Exchange that he cannot deal satisfactorily with citizen tinners and other workmen, and has found it necessary to employ Chinese instead. The facts of the matter are that citizens cannot work quite so cheap as Chinese, and Mr. Lutted is playing a three-ball game with labor. What would the proprietor of the New England Bakery say if the citizens of the town patronized Chinese bakers because they sold bread, pies and cakes cheaper than he? "Dot vould be a tiamond of anudder color, eh, Jackey?"

It can hardly be possible that President Roosevelt is unaware of the fact that, by the provisions of the Constitution, the right of declaring for war or peace, and the making of treaties with foreign powers, is expressly limited to Congress; yet by his style of dealing with the little pop-gun Republicans in Panama and Bogota, one would imagine he fancies himself an absolute potentate. This is one of the natural—and very lamentable,—results of elevating men to high and responsible positions, on the mere supposition that their induction into office will develope in them qualifications with which they have not been endowed by nature. The event never justifies the expectation.—The Irish American.

An officer of the American fleet now here says that the present cruise was undertaken merely for the purpose of giving Russia and Japan a free hand. A few days before orders were received to leave, there were forty-four war vessels in Yokohama harbor, fourteen of which were British and seventeen American. It was represented that these fleets served to encourage the Japanese in their war spirit and to discourage Russia. The British vessels were suddenly ordered south, to Hongkong and Singapore. Right on top of that American gunboats were ordered to Manila, and the battleship and cruiser contingent sent to Honolulu. This may be a correct explanation of happenings.

Tomorrow morning will see the city of Honolulu filled with American sailors. They have been on the sea for from eleven to fourteen days, and in the bay of Honolulu four days more. They will have nowhere to go and nothing to do. How different and more satisfactory to them would it be could they get into the various resorts about town and enjoy their first day on shore. But, no, the missionary bar is against them. They must content themselves with the Chinese soda water joints and the scenery. It does seem that in cases of this sort the saloons might be allowed to keep the back doors of their places open for a part of the day for the benefit of the visitors. It is our hospitality that visitors want; not our closed portals and Quaker frowns.

Honolulu will not be able to witness baseball contests between her teams and the visiting fleet, and all on account of L. A. Thurston, owner of the Advertiser and, incidentally, the partner of the Devil. It was purposed to have two games tomorrow afternoon. Three bands from the battleships were to be in attendance. The proceeds were to go into prizes for the regatta events next Saturday. Two of the three trustees of the Baseball Association in town were willing that the baseball park be used. But Thurston, the remaining trustee now here, sat down on the proposition and bluffed the other two into his way of thinking. In denying the request Mr. Thurston informed the committee that it could not use the baseball grounds but might play at Kapiolani park. In other words, he was willing that they break his straight-laced, missionary conception of a properly conducted Sabbath day but it should not be done on his premises. This is admittedly an unusual occasion. A great fleet is here, and tomorrow is the only chance the baseball teams have to get together on account of the local men having to work Christmas week. The program would have been a great treat to Honolulu and something that the entire fleet would have enjoyed and appreciated. But, no; Thurston objected; the city must be denied an innocent and pleasant pastime, and the Islands receive a black-eye for its hospitality in the conception of every man in the Navy.

A Mother's Responsibility

A great responsibility rests upon mothers at the time their daughters are budding into womanhood. If your daughter is pale, complains of weakness, is "tired out" upon slight exertion; if she is troubled with headache or backache, pain in the sides; if her temper is fitful and her appetite poor, she is in a condition of extreme peril, a fit subject for that most dreaded of all diseases—consumption. If you notice any of these symptoms lose no time in procuring

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

They will assist your daughter to develop properly and regularly; they will enrich the blood, strengthen the nerves, and all danger of consumption and premature death will be averted.

Mrs. John Tansey, of 130 Baker Street, Detroit, Mich., says: "We had a serious time with my daughter. She did not have any serious illness but seemed to gradually waste away. Our doctor called the disease by an odd name which as I afterward learned, meant lack of blood.

"We finally found a medicine that helped her. After three months' treatment her health was so greatly improved you would not have recognized her. She gained in flesh rapidly and soon was in perfect health. The medicine used was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I have always kept these pills in the house since and have told many mothers about them. They have effected some wonderful cures."

—From the Evening News, Detroit, Mich.

All the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves are contained, in a condensed form, in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They are a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood, and restore the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of whatever nature.

Dr Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold in boxes (never in loose bulk) at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

TURNED OUT IN THE NIGHT.

No Reason Assigned, Only to Pack and Get.

About a fortnight or more ago, two motherless lads were were unceremoniously turned out of the Kamehameha Boys School in the dark and made to wend their way into town, for doing a certain alleged breach in the discipline of that institution, although they were not students there, but only boarders. The lads were brothers whose father is one of the leading Hawaiian Congregational pastors on the big Islands, and this treatment was accorded them without his knowledge nor with the knowledge of their relatives in the city. It is said the breach was a very small affair, but it seemed to have been a large one in the eyes of those supposed Christian instructors.

They were formerly students in the institution created by a Hawaiian chiefess, but lately they have attended school at Oahu College (Punahou). While attending school elsewhere, they boarded and lodged at Kamehameha, under some special arrangement entered into by their parent and the faculty, with the consent of the trustees, so we are given to understand. Under this understanding, they were allowed certain privileges, one of which was their being permitted to study their lessons of different nature and character from those they had been used to do at this semi-Hawaiian institution in a separate apartment by themselves and away from the rest of the boys. And moreover, they were boarding there, not on charity, but on pay, so says our informant.

One evening while the lads were in their apartment studying their lessons, one of the teachers, not the principal, came and told them to go and study their lessons with the rest of the boys. For being so told without any apparent cause, one of the boys answered that there they had been in the habit of studying, and to go to the apartment with the others was an impossibility, because their studies were entirely different, and that further, they were too noisy. This may have aroused the teacher's ire, for he went off, presumably to report to the principal. Nothing further happened that evening.

They attended school the morning after and returned late in the evening. Then, after their return and while studying as usual, the principal came in and told them to pack and get out. They remonstrated, not once, but more, and received the one answer—to pack and get out. This they did and left the school at dusk, arriving at their uncle's house after 7 o'clock while he and his family were having supper, and much wonder and surprise was expressed at such an unexpected and uncalled for treatment by one who is supposed to be a Christian.

It is here surmised that the trustees were seen about the matter by the principal and that they lent ears to such tale without making an investigation for, and thereby satisfy, themselves. The lads went to school, as usual the next day, and after school, they went after their boxes And during this time, they were again approached by the principal, and were accused of reporting the matter to the trustees. They denied the impeachment, but were not believed, finally ending in their packing off their duds with them to their uncle's home.

The father was written to and he arrived here recently. He failed in the attempt to reconcile matters, and he returned to his pastorate last Tuesday. And in summarizing the whole matter, the boys never saw any of the trustees; the trustees took the word of the principal without giving the lads a hearing, and that their turning out at dusk was most unchristian. But the institution was created by the wealth of a Hawaiian chiefess for the good of her people, yet baoles are enjoying the benefits of a good and easy living. Instead of being Christian teachers, they do readily believe otherwise and become opposite to their supposed teachings.

It is even said that after they had been turned out, someone complained to the Punahou faculty that they were bad boys, and it is said that the latter felt surprised, because it was known that the boys were good and studious. Probably that is the way of some people, who try to make much out of a mole hill.

Founder's Day.

This is Founder's Day with the Kamehameha Schools. Special cars, eight in number, took the pupils of the schools (boys, girls and preparatory) up Liliha street and dismounted at Judd street. In one car was the Hawaiian band, which played airs on the way up. A line was there formed, the band leading, followed by the girls, all in white, the preparatory, in white and black, and the boys in their gray uniforms. The procession moved along Judd and up Nuuanu to the Mausoleum, where they held their usual annual ceremony of respect to the deceased Chiefess and founder, decorating her tomb with beautiful flowers in the meantime.

Unexpected that Happened.

After much solemn discourse and patient inquiry the Grand Jury at Honolulu has discovered that "graft" has been one of the systematic and highly successful elements of activity in the Hawaiian Legislature. One would suspect from the flutter of the press of the Islands that a discovery of something foreign to affairs legislative had been made. The unexpected happens when no "graft" is found.—S F Call.

But, no, the missionary bar is against them. They must content themselves with the Chinese soda water joints and the scenery. It does seem that in cases of this sort the saloons might be allowed to keep the back doors of their places open for a part of the day for the benefit of the visitors. It is our hospitality that visitors want; not our closed portals and Quaker frowns.

Honolulu will not be able to witness baseball contests between her teams and the visiting fleet, and all on account of L. A. Thurston, owner of the Advertiser and, incidentally, the partner of the Devil. It was purposed to have two games tomorrow afternoon. Three bands from the battleships were to be in attendance. The proceeds were to go into prizes for the regatta events next Saturday. Two of the three trustees of the Baseball Association in town were willing that the baseball park be used. But Thurston, the remaining trustee now here, sat down on the proposition and bluffed the other two into his way of thinking. In denying the request Mr. Thurston informed the committee that it could not use the baseball grounds but might play at Kapiolani park. In other words, he was willing that they break his straight-laced, missionary conception of a properly conducted Sabbath day but it should not be done on his premises. This is admittedly an unusual occasion. A great fleet is here, and tomorrow is the only chance the baseball teams have to get together on account of the local men having to work Christmas week. The program would have been a great treat to Honoluluand something that the entire fleet would have enjoyed and appreciated. But, no; Thurston objected; the city must be denied an innocent and pleasant pastime, and the Islands receive a black-eye for its hospitality in the conception of every man in the Navy.

A Mother's Responsibility

A great responsibility rests upon mothers at the time their daughters are budding into womanhood. If your daughter is pale, complains of weakness, is "tired out" upon slight exertion; if she is troubled with headache or backache, pain in the side; if her temper is fitful and her appetite poor, she is in a condition of extreme peril, a fit subject for that most dreaded of all diseases—consumption. If you notice any of these symptoms lose no time in procuring

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

They will assist your daughter to develop properly and regularly; they will enrich the blood, strengthen the nerves, and all danger of consumption and premature death will be averted.

Mrs. John Tansey, of 130 Baker Street, Detroit, Mich., says: "We had a serious time with my daughter. She did not have any serious illness but seemed to gradually waste away. Our doctor called the disease by an odd name which as I afterward learned, meant lack of blood.

"We finally found a medicine that helped her. After three months' treatment her health was so greatly improved you would not have recognized her. She gained in flesh rapidly and soon was in perfect health. The medicine used was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I have always kept these pills in the house since and have told many mothers about them. They have effected some wonderful cures."

—From the Evening News, Detroit, Mich.

All the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves are contained, in a condensed form, in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They are a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood, and restore the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of whatever nature.

Dr Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold in boxes (never in loose bulk) at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

TURNED OUT IN THE NIGHT.

No Reason Assigned, Only to Pack and Get.

About a fortnight or more ago, two motherless lads were were unceremoniously turned out of the Kamehameha Boys School in the dark and made to wend their way into town, for doing a certain alleged breach in the discipline of that institution, although they were not students there, but only boarders. The lads were brothers whose father is one of the leading Hawaiian Congregational pastors on the big Islands, and this treatment was accorded them without his knowledge nor with the knowledge of their relatives in the city. It is said the breach was a very small affair, but it seemed to have been a large one in the eyes of those supposed Christian instructors.

They were formerly students in the institution created by a Hawaiian chiefess, but lately they have attended school at Oahu College (Punahou). While attending school elsewhere, they boarded and lodged at Kamehameha, under some special arrangement entered into by their parent and the faculty, with the consent of the trustees, so we are given to understand. Under this understanding, they were allowed certain privileges, one of which was their being permitted to study their lessons of different nature and character from those they had been used to do at this semi-Hawaiian institution in a separate apartment by themselves and away from the rest of the boys. And moreover, they were boarding there, not on charity, but on pay, so says our informant.

One evening while the lads were in their apartment studying their lessons, one of the teachers, not the principal, came and told them to go and study their lessons with the rest of the boys. For being so told without any apparent cause, one of the boys answered that there they had been in the habit of studying, and to go to the apartment with the others was an impossibility, because their studies were entirely different, and that further, they were too noisy. This may have aroused the teacher's ire, for he went off, presumably to report to the principal. Nothing further happened that evening.

They attended school the morning after and returned late in the evening. Then, after their return and while studying as usual, the principal came in and told them to pack and get out. They remonstrated, not once, but more, and received the one answer—to pack and get out. This they did and left the school at dusk, arriving at their uncle's house after 7 o'clock while he and his family were having supper, and much wonder and surprise was expressed at such an unexpected and uncalled for treatment by one who is supposed to be a Christian.

It is here surmised that the trustees were seen about the matter by the principal and that they lent ears to such tale without making an investigation for, and thereby satisfy, themselves. The lads went to school, as usual the next day, and after school, they went after their boxes And during this time, they were again approached by the principal, and were accused of reporting the matter to the trustees. They denied the impeachment, but were not believed, finally ending in their packing off their duds with them to their uncle's home.

The father was written to and he arrived here recently. He failed in the attempt to reconcile matters, and he returned to his pastorate last Tuesday. And in summarizing the whole matter, the boys never saw any of the trustees; the trustees took the word of the principal without giving the lads a hearing, and that their turning out at dusk was most unchristian. But the institution was created by the wealth of a Hawaiian chiefess for the good of her people, yet haoles are enjoying the benefits of a good and easy living. Instead of being Christian teachers, they do readily believe otherwise and become opposite to their supposed teachings.

It is even said that after they had been turned out, someone complained to the Punahou faculty that they were bad boys, and it is said that the latter felt surprised, because it was known that the boys were good and studious. Probably that is the way of some people, who try to make much out of a mole hill.

Founder's Day.

This is Founder's Day with the Kamehameha Schools. Special cars, eight in number, took the pupils of the schools (boys, girls and preparatory) up Liliha street and dismounted at Judd street. In one car was the Hawaiian band, which played airs on the way up. A line was there formed, the band leading, followed by the girls, all in white, the preparatory, in white and black, and the boys in their gray uniforms. The procession moved along Judd and up Nuuanu to the Mausoleum, where they held their usual annual ceremony of respect to the deceased Chiefess and founder, decorating her tomb with beautiful flowers in the meantime.

Unexpected that Happened.

After much solemn discourse and patient inquiry the Grand Jury at Honolulu has discovered that "graft" has been one of the systematic and highly successful elements of activity in the Hawaiian Legislature. One would suspect from the fluster of the press of the Islands that a discovery of something foreign to affairs legislative had been made. The unexpected happens when no "graft" is found.—S F Call.

A Waterloo Anecdote.

A Mr Creevey who met the Duke of Wellington in the Public park at Brussels, not long before the battle of Waterloo, asked the Duke somewhat indiscreetly what he thought the chances of the forthcoming contest were likely to be and the Duke replied, no doubt with many expletives which are omitted:—"No, I think Blucher and I can do the business." Then seeing a private soldier of one of the infantry regiments enter the park, gazing up at the statues and images. "There," he said, pointing at the soldier, 'it all depends upon that article whether we do the business or not." 'Give me enough of it and I am sure."

THE WITHDRAWAL OF CLEVELAND.

WASHINGTON, D.C. Dec. 4:

The letter of Grover Cleveland absolutely declining to be considered as a candidate for the Presidential nomination on the democratic ticket is causing much comment here and the attempt of the people who were touting Cleveland to make Judge Parker, of New York, the residuary legatee of Cleveland, has had exactly the opposite effect on the leaders of the democratic party here, that they expected and hoped it would. It has shown up those people as opposed to the true principles of the party. As was stated in this correspondence some months ago, the attempt to tout Cleveland was simply an effort on the part of the reorganizing element of the party in the east to feel the pulse of the people. They had no idea that Mr Cleveland would stand for renomination, but they wanted to see how far the people would stand for the idea.

After they had worked it as far as they desired, they would bring out the real man behind the movement a man who is entirely satisfactory to Wall Street interests. It seems that Judge Parker is the man. The democratic leaders in Congress are laughing at the efforts of these people to stampede the democratic party to a man who is the choice of the men who manipulate stocks and bonds and all the new-fangled get-rich-quick games that originate in the Maelstrom of Money. They say that if that is the game of those people, they will have none of Judge Parker in theirs. They see no difference in a republican and a man who is acceptable to the Wall Street gang in the democratic party. They say we may as well have a republican in the White House as a man who has to go to the Wall Street interests and get the money with which to elect him, and who must make ante-election promises in order to get it. In consequence of this feeling the stock of the Hon William Randolph Hearst as the candidate of the democracy in the next contest, the only man so far mentioned for the nomination who is not dominated by that gang of commercial pirates, who hate him cordially, has gone up several perceptible points.

FIGHT FOR ALL.

Dropping in at the Bishop Memorial chapel, at Kamehameha School grounds, last Saturday evening, where Founder's Day exercises were being held as is usual, we happened to be just in time to hear the latter half of an address by the Rev. O. P. Emerson on "Pitfalls and Solid Grounds," which turned out to be a semi-political address by a political parson.

While he was thus making his delivery, our memory reverted back to January 7, 1895, when the first gang of thirteen political prisoners (rebels, in other words) was being marched through the streets from the Station House to Oahu Prison, in the afternoon about 2 o'clock, guarded by police and citizen volunteer soldiers with guns, and amongst the latter was this same parson packing a gun and marching along with the prisoners. And now, to think that he should advise young Hawaiians, boys and girls, on such topics, is, in our opinion, an insult to them and other Hawaiians in the audience present. We think he cannot intelligently advise them, for he has not been through many "pitfalls," but has mostly remained on "solid ground," to be sure. He was telling the young people what were "pitfalls," i. e., as far as his knowledge and experience were, and what was the "solid ground" on which to stand and make one's mark and success in life.

One of the things he advised, which was so indelibly imprinted and impressed in our mind, was that they were to fight the battle of life, not only and alone for Hawaiians, but for all. They were to "fight for Asiatics, for Americans and for Polynesians; fight for all." But he failed to advise them in what to do, in order to maintain the fight, after they left school other than "to look above and beyond them," and this without the wherewithal to keep it up. The sum and substance was, to look higher to where there is that heavenly peace and happiness, and not to look in the depths below to where there is weeping and gnashing of teeth. It was the same old teaching that his father and others before him had taught, and today the Hawaiian is minus nationality and independence. And that, further, that while they (Hawaiians) looked above, their country was being stolen from under them inch by inch, and today they are without it, almost akin to being a stranger in his own home.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

A large retail dry goods merchant told us the other day that he was doing a good holiday business, considering the dullness of the times and of the shortage of ready cash among purchasers. This may be only in one case, but what of the rest?

In view of the explanation by Wray Taylor, the circumstances surrounding his disappearance from the country and the fact that his indebtedness to the Government has been fully satified, it is plainly and only proper that the incident should be allowed to drop where it is.

From present indications, this coming Christmas will be the poorest one we've had for many years. We know of several who will be unable to provide as sumptuously this time as they have been accustomed to do in the past. Being not as affluent, they will have to make the best of it and be content with what they have.

The only difference we can see in the Kepoikai contest of the County Act and the contest proposed by the Bar Association is that the former is likely to move faster in that it has a head to it. Kepoikai will press his case, while in the case of the Bar Association it was something like the forty men that started in to skin a minnow. The County Act matter should be taken up and decided as quickly as possible, and the shortest route just now is the best route.

The San Francisco Call, commenting upon the MacArthur affair, says that military secrets should not be communicated to tattlers. Precisely so. The next time the commander of this military district wishes to communicate cautionary advice to one of his understrappers he should gag, muzzle and handcuff him and leave him in a cave somewhere for two weeks or so. At the same time he should be certain that Governor Carter is away on the other islands.

Nearly every Oriental dry goods store about the principal business parts of the city are announcing, in large lettered signs, that they are doing either a "great clearance sale," "grand reduction sale," "grand closing out sale," or a "big cut sale, 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. off," etc. Are these sales really so? No, they are only following in the footsteps of their white brethren, having learned of prominently placing before customers how they have marked down the prices of goods. On the whole, they are only fakes, and they are faking as fakirs of the trade.

In agreeing or disagreeing with the verdict in the Jones murder case, the public must remember that the jury had before it all the facts presented by the prosecution. The jury was acceptable to the prosecution as well as the defense. As we understand the matter, the prosecution failed to show conclusively to the jury that Jones shot and killed Mrs. Parmenter. There was not only a "reasonable doubt" but an "extremely reasonable doubt" left if the strict letter of the evidence was followed, and the public has every reason to believe that it was. Leaving out the question of insanity, there was nothing to show that Jones did the shooting except his own statement to the police and the statement of Mrs. Parmenter, both of which were ruled out by the court. What is to be done in a case like that?

The action of the First National Bank in paying over its proportion of the loan funds in advance of the actual receipt of the money from the East is to be commended for two very good reasons. First, it showed that the bank was up to business and deals promply in business matters. Second, it showed that the bank is disposed in every possible way to help the Government forward and to promote as rapidly as possible the beginning of the works of a public character planned by the Legislature. The bank is to be heartily commended. And while on the subject, we may also remind the public that it was Cashier Cooper that secured from the Government at Washington the endorsement of the Hawaiian bonds, making them as good as United States bonds, and making all the success that George R. Carter had while on the mainland in the bond matter.

The police did a thing yesterday that will give Honolulu a black eye as a hospitable town all over the United States. Yielding to the importunities of sailors, who had been aboard ship for weeks and were the guests of the city for the first day, certain saloon men entered their places, with sailors that they had met, and endeavored to make our Quaker Sunday a little cheerful for them. In every case the saloon men were pounced upon by the police and in two cases arrests were made. We, too, like Mr. Thurston, are not in favor of a "California Sunday." We want no Bremerton here. But we do want common sense. There were ashore yesterday nearly 1,500 men from the visiting ships. They had been aboard ship for weeks. Where did they go? What did they do? We'll tell you: They bought Jersey lightning from Chinese soda water stands, and blind tigers which pay no license, while the legalized saloons, that pay a heavy license, and are in position to afford proper entertainment to the visitors, were compelled by the police to keep closed as tight as a drum. This may be one idea of entertaining visitors, but it is not the business and common sense idea.

Cuban Reciprocity And Democrats.

WASHINGTON, D.C. Dec. 4:

Some people affect to believe that because a few democrats refused to be bound by the action of the democratic caucus on the Cuban reciprocity bill, that there is such a schism in the party ranks in Congress that it will hamper the work of the party in this Congress. Nothing can be further from the truth. The party will be a unit on all measures affecting the integrity of the party during this regular session, and whenever their able leader, John Sharp Williams calls on them they will line up. The few men who did not vote with their party were impelled to vote as they did because they were under instructions from their respective constituencies to vote against Cuban reciprocity. The policy of the democratic party in the Cuban reciprocity vote was as I had outlined it some time ago in this correspondence. The democrats did all they could to get an amendment to the bill taking the differential from refined sugar, which would have reduced the price of sugar to the consumers in this country, but which would have been a blow to the Sugar Trust. This the republicans would not allow, and a brutal republican majority brought in a rule not to allow any amendments to be introduced and gagged the democratic minority. We placed them on record by a yea and nay vote on their old gag rule and that is as far as we could go. We were then compelled to vote for the bill reducing the tariff on raw sugar twenty per cent or go on record as against tariff reduction, when it is well known that is what we are asking for all the time. If we had not done so we would have been on the defensive in the next campaign when we demanded tariff reduction in our platform and from the stump.

Some comment has been made here about the able editorial of Mr William Randolph Hearst in the New York American, in which he disagreed with the democratic majority about voting for the bill after the republicans refused to take the differential from refined sugar. Mr Hearst is right from his standpoint. He knows, we all know, that this bill simply makes a present to the vicious Sugar Trust of about $8,000,000 a year, as the Sugar Trust is the only importer of raw sugar in this country, and as is also well known, Mr Hearst is the most unrelenting and implacable foe of the criminal trust in this country, and can see nothing good in any bill that will feed them. He is right, and this sort of bill is no way to reduce the tariff. That is all very clear to his enlightened vision, and he also understands how it was that the democratic amendment to cut the trust out of this present was voted down by the republican party by refusing to take the differential from refined sugar, but it would be rather embarrassing to a democratic speaker in the next campaign to try to explain all this to the average audience when he was suddenly asked the question, why the democratic party refused to vote for a reduction of the tariff on sugar when given the opportunity. When any party is compelled to explain its attitude it has weakened its case before the people. The only way we will ever get real tariff reform without helping some trust and give the people the full benefit of it is to elect a democratic President and Congress.

TUESDAY, DEC. 22, 1903.

It is rather odd, but the Republican papers have not wondered whether or not W. J. Bryan is touring Europe on a free pass. Sic 'em, 'Tiser.

One thing that may make or mar the fistic program at the Orpheum is the little matter of decorum. A great deal of keen rivalry has sprung up between the crews of the different ships over the fights, and this may lead to trouble between the hot-heads. The men of the fleet should remember that clean sport and a fair deal is what the Honolulu public wants, and that that will be better all around.

The meeting of the Oahu board of supervisors this afternoon is a move in the right direction. It will be easily possible, by these meetings, to have the whole scheme for putting the county system into effect before the appointed day so that no time need be lost. Of course the acts of the board will not be legal, but it will be a very easy matter to legalize them by an endorsement as a whole as soon as the supervisors take office on January 4.

The Home Rulers have everything to gain and nothing to lose by joining the Democratic party. To them it will mean more money for campaign purposes and better material to select from for offices. The latent power of the Democratic party in Honolulu is far greater than the Home Rulers or the Republicans imagine; but so long as the Home Rulers hold aloof and put up weak men, just so long will the Democratic vote be scattering.

The scheme of Mr. Conradt to stock the island of Kahoolawe with sheep should meet with every encouragement. Waste places of this sort can easily be turned into valuable grazing tracts. Honolulu consumes an immense amount of mutton, and the more that can be raised the power the prices will probably go. The local supply is by no means sufficient to meet the demand, so that there should be a certain market and good profits in the industry for its enterprising promoter.

We wish to compliment the Hawaiian Star upon its enterprise in initiating a colored, comic supplement to its regular Saturday issues. This is the first time the scheme has been tried here, and brings local newspaperdom a step nearer to a metropolitan basis. Saturday's comic supplement to the Star was a pleasing and satisfactory addition, and the fact that the supplements are to be continued will, we feel sure, be hailed with delight, especially by the younger folk.

As there is money in the loan bill for deepening Honolulu harbor and an item is before Congress for the same purpose, it is pretty safe to say that the harbor will be deepened. It seems to us, however, that the central government, which owns the harbor up to the outer wharf line should pay for any dredging that may be carried out; and if money is expended for such a purpose the Superintendent of Public Works should make reasonably sure in advance that it will be returned to the Treasury.

The Advertiser and Star are in convulsions over the verdict in the Jones case. Our contemporaries are evidently laboring under a misapprehension of an important part of the facts. Evidence to convict was never presented to the jury, the attorneys for the prosecution making out the weakest of a weak case while the attorneys for the defendant made out a strong case and scored at almost every point. If there was a miscarriage of justice the blame would seem to rest with the kindergarten attorneys from the Attorney-General's department.

While war between Russia and Japan is to be devoutly hoped for, if for no other reason than that the latter get a thorough trouncing, actual hostilities are not likely before the Spring. Japan would not dare invade either Korea or Manchuria in the Winter, or, if foolhardy enough, would never get out again. Her sage heads of government realize the dangers of such a campaign and are shaping their policies to stave off operations until warm weather comes again. There is another reason for delay and that is the increasing promise of a compromise. War need not be expected until well on into next year, if then.

There would be genuine sympathy for J. W. Springston on account of his pilikia in connection with the Ewa road contracts were it not for the fact that he employed Japanese to do his work. The day has gone when the citizen public can sympathize with Japanese employers, particularly when they are fulfilling public contracts and insist upon employing coolies in place of voting labor." Mr. Springston wittingly violated the spirit of a rule established by the last Legislature, and must suffer the consequences. The only thing the public can conscientiously regret in the matter is that other coolie drivers cannot also be hauled over the coals the same way.

When L. A. Thurston was first approached, privately, last week in the interest of Sunday baseball between the American fleet and the Honolulu players, he declined to consent to the use of the new ground for the purpose. It was then suggested that he leave town for the day and take Sheriff Brown with him. Mr. Thurston was tickled by this proposition, but stated that he had previously made an engagement with Admiral Evans for Sunday and could not get away. He was very sorry. How's that for high? Our snow-coated partner of the Devil was willing to have Sunday baseball in the new baseball park provided he could be clear of the law's fingers in case of trouble.

We understand that Governor Carter intends to call the Legislature together at a very early date for a very important object or objects. One of these will likely be the County Act, which is admittedly faulty. Another—if there is another—is probably legislation to remedy the financial crisis into which the Republican Legislature has plunged us. Both matters are of vital importance, and the sooner work upon them is begun the better for the country at large. For the present, at least, we believe that Governor Carter is strongly supporting county government; but he is being vigorously opposed by Boss Thurston and his crowd. Will the young Executive stand up for the people, or will he bend the knee to God Thurston, as did Governor Dole? The next few days will tell.

In criticizing the police yesterday for keeping sailors out of the saloons on Sunday, we did not mean that the officers of the law were without the bounds of their duty. On the other hand, we admit that they were following out the instructions of the Legislature. But the case was an exceptional one, and one in which a little common sense should have been used. The town was full of sailors, who are the guests of Honolulu. It was impossible for those in the habit of taking strong refreshments to obtain a thing except at places illegally conducted, and in Chinese joints where the vilest of stuff was being sold. Had the sailors been allowed to enter the back doors of saloons and enjoyed themselves, the police merely seeing that there was no disorder, no harm could have come of it and the visitors would have gained a far better impression of Honolulu hospitality. It is almost a certainty that had the Legislature been in session and witnessed the conditions of last Sunday, the law would have been forthwith amended to such an extent that exceptions would have been possible in all such cases as the one to which reference is made.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

THE INDEPENDENT 50 cents per month.

Miss Prescott's paper, The Honolulu Times, was issue today.

Kaumakapili Christmas exercises will be held on Christmas evening.

The Builders and Traders' Exchange will hold a business meeting this evening.

J W Springston has assigned his Ewa road contract to John De Fries and James A Low.

The High Schools defeated the Y M C A's at indoor baseball last evening by a score of 15 to 12.

J C Cohen's fistic program between naval and local pugilists will likely come off Christmas Eve.

Clerk J A Thompson, of the local court, will go to Kauai tonight to act as stenographer for the Circuit term.

A meeting of the Oahu board of supervisors for preliminary organization will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

If Saturday is made a holiday, the forenoon will likely be given over to aquatic sports and the afternoon to baseball.

The British ship Alice A Leigh, from Newcastle to San Francisco with coal, put in here yesterday for provisions.

The public ministrel show of the war fleet now in port will take place on Naval wharf No 2. No date has been fixed.

The American fleet will finish coaling today after which all the men except those on active duty will be granted shore leave.

Governor and Mrs George R Carter entertained at their Liliha street house last evening in honor of the officers of the navy and army.

Judge Gear departed unexpectedly by the Siberia late yesterday for San Francisco. Judge Robinson will take up and finish his cases.

The Eagles of Honolulu will entertain the Eagles on the visiting fleet in Waverley hall tomorrow evening. The function will be in the way of a smoker.

The office of THE INDEPENDENT is in the brick building next to the Hawaiian hotel grounds on Beretania street, Waikiki of Alakea. First floor.

Charles Lambert is the new manager at the Anchor saloon, James E Thompson having retired to take charge of his own place on Richards street near the market.

The Salvation Army has planned an immense program for Christmas week. Camp meeting will be held nightly and a big Christmas dinner to the sailors is to be served.

Officers of the American fleet will give a reception to the people of Honolulu on board the Kentucky and Wisconsin after Christmas, Monday will probably be the day.

"Pete" Sullivan and "Bob" Carlile at the Shamrock saloon, on Nuuanu street between King and Hotel, have made special arrangements to promptly serve their guests from the American fleet and at the same time to properly take care of their regular customers.

Estate Matters

Mrs Isabella McC Jones has rendered her fifth annual account as guardian of her four minor children. Receipts on account of income were $3,159.31 and payments $2,975.49, leaving a surplus of $183.82. This, added to the value of real and personal property in the inventory makes the total value of the estate $56,201.37.

Henry Smith, administrator with the will annexed of the estate of William H McGregor, has filed his final account. Receipts were $1,832.80 and payments $495.36, leaving a balance of $1,337.44.

A Prominent Visitor.

Rev Father Lackay, a Spanish Jesuit priest, was a passenger by the Siberia yesterday for St Louis, where he goes on an important mission in connection with the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. He comes from Manila, where he has been stationed in Catholic church work for many years. Besides he is a director of the observatory at Manila and a scientist of recognized ability. While here he was the guest of Father Valentin at the Catholic Mission. At St Louis he will erect a raised map of the Philippine group, showing in relief every one of the 1,100 islands composing the archipelago. This map will be 100 by 60 feet in size, and an observary will be arranged so as to give visitors an almost perfect birds-eye view of the islands. Thirty-two cases of material for the construction of the plaster cast went through in the Siberia.

Catholics' Christmas.

A grand program has been arranged by Bishop Libert and Father Valentin for the observance of Christmas in the Catholic churches. The first service will be at 12 o'clock Christmas Eve in Waikiki chapel. At 4:30 Christmas morning service will begin in the Cathedral Cathedral in the city and will consist of three masses. At the 10:30 mass Miss Campbell will sing a solo and there will be a splendid musical program.

Through the kindness of Manager Ballentine cars will leave at 1 o'clock Christmas morning, running to Fort street, for the accommodation of those attending the service in St Augustin's chapel.

Will Be Square Sport.

Paddy Ryan, referee of the coming fistic bouts in the Orpheum theater, said this morning: "I intend to see that everything in connection with the fights is on the dead square. Whether it be sailor, white civilian or native, the best man will get the decision. Of course I am an old sailor myself, and have probably had more to do with sports in the Navy than any man in Honolulu; but that will not influence me at all. I am out for clean sport, and that is just what the crowd at the Orpheum may expect to see."

Stock Breeders' Officers.

At the meeting of the Hawaiian Live Stock Breeders' Association held yesterday the following officers for the ensuing year were elected: Julian Monsarrat, president; A W Carter, vice president; A F Judd, secretary; R W Shingle, treasurer; Committeemen: E A Knudsen, for Kauai; H M von Holt, for Oahu; A M Brown, for Molokai; L von Tempsky, for Maui; Robert Horner, for Hawaii.

Passengers Arrived.

Per S S Siberia, December 21, from the Orient for Honolulu: Mrs Admiral P H Cooper and maid, Miss D B Cooper, Master L B Cooper, Mrs Thomas Washington, child and nurse, Mrs H B Wilson, Miss Ruth Wilson, Mrs M S Guest and child.

A FEW NEVERS.

Never fail to occupy two seats when you have paid for only one seat in a car or somebody may sit at your side who may not be congenial.

Never use bad language—in private.

Never fail to bully women, children, horses and dogs, for they cannot fight back.

Never fail to unload your ill temper on some good natured, easy-going friend, for he won't resent it.

Never use "dress" for "gown" and "frock," for "dress" is so homely and old fashioned, and "gown" and "frock" show you to be at the rear door, at least, of the smart set.

Never read the Bible all day, every day, or you will have no time for Hall Caine.

Never fail to "dear" your wife or husband in company, or you will be thought a genuinely married and mated couple,

Never fail to thank the man who gives you his seat in a car, for a "thank you" is what he gives up for, and not because you are a woman and need it more than he.

Never think that blood does not tell, for it tells more tales than Shakespeare, Balzac, Dickens and Hugo combined, and leaves, unlike them, nothing to the imagination.

Never fail to open your mouth in company to ejaculate if you are lacking in ideas or real knowledge.

Never be a sham, or, if you must be one, keep it to yourself—don't give your secret to even the darling of your waistcoat, for if you can keep the painful fact from her you can hide it from the world.

Never condemn a book on the first reading, nor a play or comic opera on the night you first hear and see it, if the author is "great," for he has given perhaps a month to the work which you have the impudence to condemn in a day or a couple of hours.

Never forget that the "rooster" is bound to be "roasted," the "knocker" "knocked," the slanderer slandered, and that chickens come home to die.

Never try to look like a famous man, nor to imitate his eccentricities, but be yourself, no matter how you and others suffer.

Never fail to look at yourself in every plate glass window that you pass or friends will begin to think that self love is not one of your cardinal virtues.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 23, 1903.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

So far as at present known, the men of the fleet are well behaved. Of a rumpus created in a local saloon on Saturday night, it was by landsmen, although there were sailors present but were not concerned in the affair.

A mule fell into the culvert on Hotel street extension between Punchbowl and Alapai streets Monday night and was taken away in a very badly injured condition. Hadn't Governor Carter better send somebody to Washington to see if Congress won't have the culvert closed?

Where is all that promised prosperity? We hardly see any of it during these days. Once upon a time, during the campaign of 1902, it was publicly stated on the stump that if the Republicans were elected, prosperity would surely follow. They were elected and prosperity has been a long time coming. It is still not yet in sight.

If the Hawaiian Electric Company gets through the strain of the holiday evenings without a breakdown it will establish a record for which Manager Gartley may well feel proud. For many years the machinery has seemed unable to stand the extra burden, but of late the service has been exceptionally satisfactory and great hopes are entertained for the hardest season.

Prof. Alexander's trip to Kauai, which terminated this morning, was a success in more ways than one. He located the island of Niihau to the minutest point and the estray will soon be properly charted. The next thing accomplished was the location of bases on Kauai for land surveys, which will be of benefit, not only to the Territory but to the plantations and private property holders.

The objection is made by military men that if the present site is chosen for the National Guard armory the regiment will have no place to meet while the new building is being erected, or, say, one year. The idea was to not only ask that the drill shed be returned, but the entire property originally occupied by the National Guard, or, in other words, drill shed, grounds and the old barracks. By this arrangement the Guard would have fairly good temporary quarters, pending the erection of its new home. Far better this than spend $30,000 for new grounds.

Sailors of the American fleet are complaining that certain restaurants and lodging houses have put up prices on them. One of them states that last night he was charged $1.50 for an article in a restaurant that was plainly marked 75 cents on the bill of fare. When called to task about it the proprietor said that the meat companies had raised prices since the fleet had been here, making the extra charge necessary. This statement of the sailor was confirmed by a number of his companions. The matter is one for the Merchants' Association to look into.

There is one thing for which Manager Ballentyne is to be heartily commended by the citizen laborers of Honolulu. Although employing hundreds of men, and some of the work not always sought by citizen workmen, Mr. Ballentyne has admitted only citizens or those eligible to become such upon his pay-rolls, except in rare cases of track scraping and the like, work that only a Jap will do. Considering the number of men employed, and the temptation to save money by employing Asiatics, the record of Mr. Ballentyne in this particular matter is all that could be desired.

While working on his scheme for retrenchment, Governor Carter might give his attention to the pilot house. Some years ago when there were many more vessels than now (the present big steamers having killed the sailing traffic) there were three pilots only, and they each received $200 a month. There are now four pilots, with a staff of helpers, and the salaries have been gradually increased until they now are $300 per month each. If three pilots were enough five years ago, two should be enough now, and to meet the requirements of the times, their salaries should be set back to the former figure.

The mule cars of the Hawaiian Tramways Company were retired altogether from the streets this morning. Their career is interesting. The system was started on January 1, 1888, and the start was a great public event. At that time the fine electric cars of today were a very remote possibility, and there were probably few who believed that in sixteen years the whole thing would be changed. Numerous attempts were made by the old company to establish electric traction but everyone failed. During its career the mule system was frequently in hot water but finally sold out for what was considered a good figure.

Congress has put the "Busy Day" sign out in front of F. M. Hatch and his foolish mission, and as The Independent pointed out at the time, we have made a great big jackass of ourselves. The lesson, though, is a healthy one. Congress has not the time nor the inclination to interfere in our little local affairs, and, moreover, desires that the Territory retain all the home rule belonging to it. That is eminently proper and just. It is to be hoped that the lesson will strike home to the two or three gentlemen who secretly tried to negotiate a county act with the national legislature on lines best suited to them.

Didn't we tell you, and weren't we right in saying that now was the appointed time of having Iwilei opened to the fleet and to the public? Because certain merchants wished to entertain certain friends that they had picked up from the visiting fleet, and the "necessary evil" being the bone of contention, they were swooped down upon by the police and taken to the Station house. They were all whites and only one with a slight native taint. Had Iwilei been opened, although it is still extant surreptitiously, there wouldn't have been any such trouble. A seaport town without such a place is an anomaly these days.

The despatch from Washington to the effect that Mr. Wu has requested the American Legation at Pekin to use its influence with the Empress Dowager in the interests of a larger army is extremely fishy. What right has the United States Minister to interfere with or even suggest anything in regard to the Chinese army? And is Mr. Wu, the ablest diplomat of China, ignorant of the fact that such a request would be highly impertinent, in that it would involve international questions? Our idea is that the despatch was manufactured in Washington, and was sent out by the administration to test the pulse of the people on another land-grabbing coup in the Orient.

The success or failure of a fistic program depends upon the management. Under capable management there need be no trouble of any sort and vice versa. The fact of the mill being pulled off in a section of saloon premises cuts no material figure. If there is good management at the pavillion of the Favorite saloon Thursday evening there will be no trouble. With bad management, however, there might be trouble if the fights were brought off anywhere—in the Hawaiian Opera House, or, if you please, in Central Union church. As we understand it Mr. Cunningham intends to close off his saloon from the pavillion, which will greatly lessen the principal chance of drunkenness in the place. But, as we said before, it is all in the management. With proper management fights may be pulled off, with as little danger of trouble, on a saloon counter as in the office of the High Sheriff.

If it decides to fix the bonds of Assessor Iaukea at $300,000, the Board of Supervisors will have acted arbitrarily, without the support or even sanction of law, and plainly for the purpose of throwing the man chosen by the people for this important post out of office. After prescribing that the bond of the assessor shall not be less than $30,000, Section 61, Chapter 13, of the County Law, says: "The amount of bonds of the Treasurer and Assessor and Tax Collector shall not be less than the greatest amount of money shown by the books of the County to have been in the hands of the officer at one time during the preceding year." Where are these "books of the county?" Where is this tax assessor of the "County of Oahu" who has held $300,000 of the peoples money in his hands during 1903. A bond of $30,000 would be 30,000 as much as the "County of Oahu" has possessed during the year.

BY AUTHORITY.

WATER NOTICE.

In accordance with Section 1 of Chapter XXVI. of the laws of 1880:

All persons holding water privileges or those paying water rates are hereby notified that the water rates for the term ending June 30, 1904, will be due and payable at the office of the Honolulu Water Works on the 1st day of January, 1904.

All such rates remaining unpaid for fifteen days after they are due will be subject to an additional ten per cent.

All privileges upon which rates remain unpaid February 15, 1904, (thirty days after becoming delinquent), are liable to suspension without further notice.

Rates are payable at the office of the Water Works, in the basement of the Capitol Building.

Lookout Charlie is Hot-Foot After Pilot Sanders.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:

Will you kindly permit me a few lines in your valuable columns? Mr Sanders, it appears to me you are a deep sea pilot. Are you aware that there is something more important demanded of you than to bring a steamer to the wharf? I presume it would no credit to you if you knew what to do when you get on board of a vessel. I bet one hundred dollars. If I take you in hand before our superiors, the honorable sirs, them that takes risks on bottoms, I make it harmonious, i. e., interesting, for all you know about how to handle a ship. Christmas is near, and the money is intended for an appealing cause. I wish our superior will be so kind as to give you permission to play to my hand according to your weighty occupation. It is nothing but proper for you to accept mine proposition. Seems to me you are very busy I don't suppose it would be known if you do Paris till the Panama canal is built as the telephone connection did not suit you Maybe this conundrum will suit you. Like yourself I am a public servant.

Eagles Welcome Visiting Brothers.

Honolulu Aerie, 140, Eagles, entertained themselves and visiting brothers from the American fleet last evening and right royally was the thing done. The reception and entertainment was held in Waverley hall, which had been appropriately decorated in national colors and the emblems of the Order. Despite the inability of a number of Eagle sailors to leave ship, the detention of most of the local Eagles at business (on account of rush of holiday trade) and the numerous counter attractions in the city, there at least 150 jolly, good fellows present, and they made the best of a most excellent extemporaneous program.

President Julius Asche had general charge of proceedings, though the program at once took an easy, informal swing which was kept up until after midnight. He was ably assisted by Colonel McCarthy, who is the present district deputy; Vice President Simpson, Conductor Asche and other officers of the lodge. Messrs Mayfield, Lunggren, Moldenhauer and others were alert in waiting upon the visitors and giving them a good time. Pipes, tobacco, cigars and cigarettes in ample quantities were passed around at frequent intervals. Salads, sandwiches and delicacies made up a very acceptable collation, and foaming glasses set off that feature of the program to perfection.

Music was furnished by a splendid native orchestra. The program, aside from the features of the smoker, consisted of songs, speeches, sketches and specialties. It is impossible in a short review to give the names of all the participants and an account of their truly excellent work, but suffice it to say that there was not a faulty or bad feature in the whole list and every number was received with rounds of applause. Colonel McCarthy, President Asche, Vice President Simpson and other officers of the Aerie delivered the formal speeches of welcome, all of which were interesting and more or less witty. If there was a chief entertainer, the palm was probably won by Mike Patton, who was recalled time after time. His specialties were extremely good, keeping the house in a roar of laughter all the time, Another leading entertainer was J F Forster, an Eagle from the fleet, who sang a number of songs and gave several minstrel specialties that were hard to beat.

The affair ran smoothly along until midnight when it began to break up gradually. Every one present had had a good time, and the visitors congratulated the local Eagles for the success of the entertainment and thanks them for the good time afforded them. Though not so elaborate as many of the receptions of the local Aerie, the function was one of the clearest cut and most enjoyable yet held.

An interesting feature of the evening was a statement by President Asche, which showed that the Aerie is growing in numbers, in finances and in its power for good, In order to enlist at once a class of good men the entrance fee has been fixed at the low rate of $10. As soon as the desired number has been taken in, the fee will be advanced to a much larger sum.

The entertainment committee last night consisted of the following: T E Simpson, Harry Juen, A Lunggren. Julius Asche, Jr. and "Dick" Mayfield.

CHRISTMAS.

Tomorrow will be Christmas, the day of days to children and most grown-up folk. The day has a significence all its own, and that significence manifests itself in every land in which the name and words and works of the Man of Nazareth are known. To the child and youth it is the one day upon which the eye is fixed for twelve months; it is enjoyed to the full when it arrives, and the grief over its departure is appeased only by the joy it leaves behind. To the older folk it brings memories of the sweetest and most lasting kind. It takes man and woman alike, back to the morning of life—to the snowy fields, barren trees creaking in the ice-laden winds, the sleighs, big New England dinner and the old house party; to similar scenes and experiences in England and Germany; or to the green hills, the shadows of the palms, the scented valleys, the music, the flowers ,the songs, the leis, the presents, the Christmas tree and the thousand other things of Hawaii. It is a day of joy and gladness; a day of happiness and of making others happy.

The essence of the Christmas meaning is found, however, in the joy to be derived from making others happy. Persons less fortunate than oneself should be looked after, and the knowledge of bringing a gleam of the Christmas spirit into their lives and conferring some happiness is well worth its cost. In some cases gifts may best serve the purpose, but in most a smile, a hearty hand-shake and a kind word may be all that is required to lighten the heart. In Honolulu we are handicapped by not having so many of life's good things as in the days of old, and elements of discord of various species have come in to mar the Christmas as we knew it in the past. But let us do the best we can.

The Independent will not be issued tomorrow, so will take this opportunity of wishing all of its friends as well as all of those with whom it is forced to disagree, betimes, a very merry and most happy Christmas.

The scheme of asking the central government to take over and operate the leper settlement as a national charge is a grave question, but there are good points on both sides. There would certainly be an immense saving to the Territory, and the unfortunates at the settlement would be better cared for, for the first reason that where Hawaii is able to spend dollars the United States would spend hundreds.

We admit that the lights asked for by Judge Dole, Sam Parker and others on the Diamond Head road are badly needed, but they are not so much required as are lights in other parts of the city. Any man acquainted with the town at all can think of several populous centers without lights. The Diamond Head locality referred to is occupied by only a few residents and a few summer homes. Is it right to keep important residence sections in darkness while an out-of-the-way, country road is supplied with lights to humor a few of the "elect" of the family compact?

The Jones case is a plain one to anybody that will stop to think and will listen to reason. As in all cases the jury was instructed to deliberate strictly upon the evidence. The jury was one satisfactory to both sides and each man had declared himself to be wholly unbiased. The prosecuting attorneys failed, however, to present such evidence as convinced them beyond a reasonable doubt that Jones shot and killed Mrs. Parmenter. A doubt was left. However positive The Independent along with many people in the community may feel that Jones committed the crime, we are not the jury and the fact that Jones is the murderer was not shown to the jury.

Had the Legislature intended that the bonds of the assessor of Oahu should be $300,000 it would have said so. It plainly left it, however, for the first year to $30,000, intending that after that the bonds should be arranged upon a basis of the sums passing through his hands. It was not necessary nor business for Assessor Fratt to have had as much as $300,000 in his hands at any one time in November of this year. The amount should never have been allowed to run over $30,000, or, with the treasury just across the street, over $10,000. If Pratt really had $300,000 in his possession at a time it is well that the public did not know it or there would have been a big kick. However, the intention of the Legislature is plain. The law-makers figured that a bond of $30,000 was all sufficient for the first year, and provided for the proper adjustment of future bonds.

Four citizens having property in a suburban district through which runs the isolated Diamond Head road, which is seldom used except on Sundays, have signed a petition to the Board of Public Works for at least three large lights in their alley. Two of the men, Mr. Dole and Sam Parker, seldom occupy their Diamond Head residences, and the latter does not need the lights anyway as his house fronts on the illumination provided in the park by the Rapid Transit Company. There are in town many dark places that require lights a thousand times more. Attention has already been called to the dark corner of Queen and Richards streets, which is now being used nightly by sailors from the visiting fleet and has to be used frequently by soldiers and passengers. Kamehameha IV Road and Kalihi road are both in darkness, yet both are thickly inhabited while the residents of the Diamond Head district referred to can be counted on the fingers of one's hands.

The report received from experts by Dr. Jared Smith on cottons grown at the local experiment station are interesting in that it shows the great possibilities for the industry in the Islands. Previous experiments have shown, however, that the cotton giving most promise of success here is the straight Sea Island. Samples of this cotton sent from Honolulu to Liverpool, Amsterdam, to various manufacturing centers in the United States and to Japan some years ago were pronounced of a superior quality, superior, in fact, to the Georgia and Florida product. Uplands cotton raised here grades about the same as the same product of the mainland as to fineness and strength of fiber, though a greater length can be obtained in the Islands. For some cause hard to determine at this time, theEgyptian cotton loses its fineasss of fiber and staple here. Of at least a dozen varieties of cotton tried here in the past few years, the Sea Island has proved the best, and, in fact, Hawaii seems to be a natural homet or it.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

THE INDEPENDENT 50 cents per month.

Saturday's reception on board the Kentucky will be an invitation affair.

The Alameda will be due to arrive early tomorrow morning from San Francisco.

The band gave a special Christmas concert at the Queen's hospital this afternoon.

Christmas tree exercises were held in the Christian church last evening. W G Hall presided.

W F Reynolds, the lawyer, will leave this afternoon for Kauai to remain a year or more.

James Williams has been made captain and Pat Gleason manager of the H A C baseball club.

Another entertainment will be given at the Young hotel for the officers of Admiral Evans' fleet.

Both of the boat clubs will keep open house during the progess of the athletic sports on Saturday.

The Island Curio store is sending out to its patrons neat souvenir holiday cards of Island sceneries.

Both the Hawaiian and Kentucky bands will play in the roof garden of the Young hotel last evening.

The steamer Kauai towed the Ke Au Hou from the Garden Isle to Honolulu. The latter's shaft was broken early in the week.

The Parker ranch has been awarded the contract for supplying beef to the Molokai settlement. The price is 1 1-4 cents higher than last year.

The office of THE INDEPENDENT is in the brick building next to the Hawaiian hotel grounds on Beretania street, Waikiki of Alakea. First floor. *

The transport Solace arrived about 8 o'clock this morning from San Francisco with ammunition, other supplies and mail for the fleet of Admiral Evans.

The steamer American sailed at 5:30 last night for Kahului where she will load 500 tons of sugar. This will give her 3,500 tons, which she will take direct around the Horn to New York.

Hiram, the young son of Mr and Mrs Henry De Fries, died at the family residence on Punchbowl street about 11:30 last evening after an illness of several weeks. He was born September 28, 1895.

County Contest Case.

The County contest case, which should have been started five months ago and settled before the election,got under way this morning when copies of a writ quo warranto were served upon the heads of the Government departments. The matter will come before Judge De Bolt as soon as possible for a pro forma decision, in order that the Supreme Court may take it up shortly after Christmas. Matthewman and Hemenway will present the writ and Judge A S Hartwell will defend the validity of the County Act. Following are the grounds of the writ:

(a) That said County Act provides for elective boards of a public nature, instead of boards appointed by the Governor, as required by the provisions of said Act of Congress.

(b) That said County Act requires certain appointive Territorial officials, as for instance, the Superintendent of Public Works, to surrender to certain elective county officers, as required by the provisions of said County Act, the care and custody of public property entrusted to the charge of such appointive Territorial official under the provisions of said Act of Congress.

(c) That said County Act contains two subjects, in violation of the provisions of said Act of Congress.

(d) That the ayes and noes were not taken at the third reading of said County Act, in conformity to the said Act of Congress.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Selfishness and Snobbishness in Advertising the Country.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:

The holiday issue of the Paradise of the Pacific was a great number from an artistic point of view, although the facial cuts of many of our "only" prominent white citizens were badly placed and some not clearly printed; but the reading matter for such a number was out of keeping with the times and the country.

But what I particularly wish to point out is that it contained not a picture of any of the prominent other than whites, making outsiders believe there never were any Hawaiians worthy of having their pictures reproduced, unless it be the usual naked ones of fishermen, sea bathers, etc.

Among the military officers, only one part-Hawaiian face was noticed, although there were other Captains worthy of being placed among their white brethren instead of a handsome lieutenant, a gin-slinger in our many saloons.

This monthly periodical expects to receive or is receiving a handsome "subsidy," if I mistake not, from the Territory, and that subsidy was placed in the appropriation bills by Hawaiian votes mostly, not white votes solely, and in its holiday issue it attempts to slap Hawaiians in the face.

I merely point this out for Hawaiians to remember it by when favor should be again asked in a year from now. This, I consider, a slight to them and should not go unnoticed.

And further, Hawaiians are in the majority and the whites only a small fraction. But it may be that those faces appeared therein paid for placing them in that galaxy of prominent citizens. If they did, all credit is due the enterprising proprietor in making them "dig."

But from the standpoint of your correspondent, Mr Editor, I think it altogether selfish and very snobbish. This is yet the Hawaiians country, not these pap fed snobs from nowhere and unknown.

If that isn't advertising the country with a vengeance, I'd like to know what is. It is a kind not intended by the lawmakers.

Yours truly,
KANAKA.

Honolulu, Dec 24, 1903.

Tomorrow's Fights.

Tomorrow night's fights in the Orpheum theater promise to be the most interesting ever pulled off here, and certain it is that there will be the largest crowd that ever attended a pugilistic mill in this city. The big event, the bout between Weday and Barry, is the one is causing the most speculation. In the city Weday is the favorite, while on the war ships there is any amount of Barry money. Barry really looks to be the better man, but the same has been said of other victims of the sturdy little Weday. There will be an immense turnout from the fleet to witness the battles. Paddy Ryan, formerly a naval man and leader of eleau sport, will be the referee.

SPORTS DURING CHRISTMAS.

Sports were fast and furious during Chrismas Eve and Christmas Day. They included football, baseball, fistic carnivals some boating, excessions, etc. Every effort possible was made to give the visitors from the fleet a good time, and the sailors themselves greatly aided in making the programs what they were.

FIGHTS AT ORPHEUM.

A big crowd thronged the Orpheum theater last evening to witness the bouts between local and sailor pugilists. As a whole the program was fairly good, though some of it was patently fake. Paddy Ryan was the referee and he did the work up to the handle. There was some dissatisfaction with his decision in the Wagner-Ronchetto fight on the part of the men of the New Orleans, but those close to the stage saw that the ruling was fair. Wagner did all the leading in the fight, which, if it had been an even shake at the end, would have given him the decision. But in addition to that the Kentucky man had the fight on ordinary, everyday points.

The fights between Miller and McKenna and between Silva and Spawn both resulted in draws. The former was no good but in the latter there was some pretty lively sparring.

Both of the big fights resulted in lay-downs, and were, to a large extent, raw. Bill Huihui had a sore finger and could not meet Ward. Kid Delile, the quick little fellow from Camp McKinley, stepped into the breach, however, and volunteered to meet the sailor. Things ran along merrily for three rounds when Kid got the jab on the slats that was to be expected and laid down like a good fellow. A flash of ozone with a brandy chaser, and Kid had lived to fight another day.

The fight between Mike Patton and Dave Barry simply had to be one way, as Barry must meet Jack Weday on New Year's Eve. Had Barry lost in the go with Patton his name would have been pants in the big bout. Patton stood up four rounds and showed himself to be a scrapper of the first water in his class. His work was clean and heavy, but he was getting so much the best of his man that he had to lay down when the scrap was just getting interesting.

Except for some little grumbling among men from the New Orleans, which was not justified by the facts, the crowd went away satisfied.

AT THE FAVORITE.

One of the neatest, cleverest and most satisfactory pugilistic programs ever pulled off in this city was witnessed by a fairly good audience at the Favorite Club Thursday evening. There was good management and excellent order, only one act of obstreperousness being committed but the offender was promptly suppressed. All of the events resulted in draws, and the decisions were entirely satisfactory. In the minor fights there were evidences in each mill of a determination on the part of both contestants to score a knock-out if possible.

The main event, the fight between

COUNTY CONTEST CASE.

The county contest case is resolving itself into a proposition that will encompass the ideas of L. A. Thurston and will, if not safely guarded, defeat the real will of the people. It is plainly the intention of those doing the loudest howling to defeat county government. It is plainly the intention of those projecting the contest to knock out the county bill. They are urging a contest of the kind now under way in the belief that it will result in the County Act being knocked to smithereens and that the old system of "compact" rule will continue to prevail. No other motive can be discerned beneath the shallow veneer of this "strenuousness" of the opposition in getting the question before the court.

To summarize, the Supreme Court (or two members of it) belong to that faction that is opposed to county government and will do everything in its power to defeat it. Two men, both of whom are supposed to be in favor of county government, were appointed to attack the law, while the man selected to defend the County Act is notoriously a friend of Thurston and opposed to county government. Just where the people get off in this thing can readily be imagined.

REPUBLICAN VIEW.

(The editorial below, from the Argonaut, of San Francisco, is reproduced for the purpose of showing to what extremes the Republican organs are going in supporting Mr. Roosevelt's imperialistic campaign. The meat of the article is that "might makes right,' a theory that has held with a certain part of the human race from time immemorial, but which has survived only in commonwealths over which the money power held general or absolute sway.)

Politically considered, a strange, anomalous, and altogether unsatisfactory condition of affairs exists in the new, so-styled "Republic of Panama." Nominally, there is there a duly established government having authority. Actually, the United States is master of the Isthmus. Nominally, the Republic of Panama is a state risen of its own strength. Actually, it could not exist a single day were the strong, supporting arm of the United States withdrawn. As a matter of co' fact, the members of the Panama junta are but marionettes manoeuvred by a string which ends in the back room of the State Department, Washing, D. C.

Such a condition of affairs is, we say, unsatisfactory; in time it will become intolerable. "Nine poor men will sleep on a pile of straw, but no country is large enough for two kings," says an ancient proverb. And Panama is far too narrow to support two governments in harmony. Between the fiery little Spanish officials and the American engineers and officers who will be constructing the canal there are bound to come conflicts of authority and wretched squabbles, if not worse. In a country where, as Mr. Roosevelt points out, there have been fifty-three revolutions in half a century, worse may reasonably be expected.

In th etreaty just rattled with Panama we guarantee its independence; promise to defend it against all comers; agreb to clean the streets, alleys, and back yards of its cities; to make health resorts out of pestholes; to furnish Colon and Panama a pure water supply; to give the government special telegraph and telephone rates within th ecanal strip; to allow free passage through the canal of Isthmian vessels; and furthermore to hand over to Panama ten millions of dollars in cold cash, and to pay a rental of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars a year for ever and ever. Amen.

And why? Why should we do all this for a foreign nation, an alien people, in additio nto conveying upon it the inestimable blessing of there building a two-hundred-million-dollar canal? Why should we guard foreign shores and clean foreign cities. If we are going to perform these elementary governmental functions for Panama, why should we not do all the governing? Why let these Latin upstarts struts around in gold braid with tin swords while we do all the hard work? In short, what is the use of nursing and perpetuating so puerile and palpably an absurdity as the "Republic of Panama." It as Senator Morgan avers, we have by a Caesarian operation taken Panama alive from the womb of Colombia, hadn't we better now adopt the orphan child? Panama is not now and can not be in fact "independent." She is absolutely "dependent." To speak of Panama's "independence" is mere jugglery with words. Why, then, should we play the childish play of "make believe?" Why not just annex the Isthmus? Why not make those 31,571 square miles an integral part of the territory of these United States of North and Central America? Then we would have to pay over no ten millions in gold. Then we would have to dig up no two hundred and fifty thousand dollars annually. It would be a clean-cut, straightforward, forthright, practical solution of an evasive and hypocritical situation.

And nobody would object. The nations of Europe would view our action calmly—benignly, in fact. It would make no difference to Colombia; she has irrevocably lost Panama anyway. And in this country only the soured anti-imperialists would squirm and howl. Yet even they could not allege injustice in the act. No san person will contend that the "junta" can better govern Panama than can the United States. Already there is incipient revolt against the junta. What assurance have we that it can properly perform even the few governmental functions left to it? We have been freely calling the Colombian officials thieves, robbers, highwaymen, what not. Are Panama officials, who were late Colombian citizens, likely to be any better? Ought we, in justice to the inhabitants of th eisthmus, to let the Isthmus be governed by this mushroom government? Is it good, sound sense to pay over to the revolutionists ten millions of dollars, when it is more than likely to be stolen or squandered? To what citizen of any country should we do a positive injustice were we to assume control of the Isthmus of Panama? That is a question worth an answer.

But beyond all this, it is Manifest Destiny! Is not the Anglo-Saxon race the predestined mastero f the world? Since, in the dark backward and abysm of time, the reluctant Romans sailed away from British shores, has there been a pause in the world-battle which shall surely end in the triumph of the Northman, the defeat of the Latin? Is not Spain, ancient and decrepit, losing her dominions? Is France a good colonist? What are the possessions of Italy beyond the Mediterranean? Contrariwise, are not the English dominant in Southern Asia and Africa? Do they not hold Egypt, where Napoleon once trod conqueror? Whato f Canada? Australia? Has the United States not successively wrested from Latin races, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, California, Porto Rico, Cuba, the Philippines? And shall this world-advance pause at little Panama? When we have swallowed the camel of suzerainty, shall we strain at the further gnat of absolute possession?

By Thor and Odin, no! Let the Stars and Stripes wave over Panama. It is our manifest destiny; it is our plain duty!—Argonaut.

is sometimes caused by overwork, either mental or physical. There are many other exciting causes, such as exposure to cold, excesses, emotional influences, etc. The approach of the disease is generally gradual. Frequently the first warning is a vague feeling of headache, vertigo and muscular weakness.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

restore the nutrition of the nerves and have cured many cases of paralysis when all other remedies and methods of treatment have failed. The record of this remedy entitles it to a thorough trial.

Perhaps there is no man better known in the city of Lawrence, Kansas, than Mr. G. H. Snyder. To a reporter Mr. Snyder related a wonderful story. He said:

"I am now seventy years of age. About three years ago I experienced a coldness or numbness in the feet, then creeping up my legs until it reached my body. I grew very thin in flesh, my appetite was very poor and I did not relish my food. At last I became so bad I was unable to move about. I consulted several distinguished physicians, one telling me that I had locomotor ataxia, another that I had creeping paralysis. I took their medicines but they did me no good and I continued to grow worse.

"One day a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I immediately commenced their use, throwing all other medicines away. Before I had finished my first box I found that they were benefiting me. I used twelve boxes in all and was perfectly cured."
—From the Journal, Lawrence, Kan.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after-effects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, all forms of weakness either in male or female.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all dealers, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 (they are never sold in bulk or by the 100) by addressing Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Sports in the harbor began at 1:30 this afternoon and will continue until about 5. An excellent program was made up, and a goodly sum of money for prizes was collected by the committee, with W W Harris at the head.

Father Valentin Watched.

About 1 o'clock of Christmas morning, after the midnight service out at Waikiki, members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, of this city, presented the Rev Father Valentin with a neat plain 14 karat gold watch. As soon as the Father came out of the church, he was called and asked to go to the hall in the rear, and there he was taked by surprise by Mr W F Erving presenting him with the watch with a neat little speech, saying that "as he needed watching, they were going to watch him" on behalf of the society, he being its chaplain. Being very much surprised, Father Valentin took the proferred token, thanking the society's thoughtful members for thinking of him and for presenting him with such a beautiful present. "Although he was not an Irishman, he hoped to become one as good as any some day."

Those in the presenting and watching party of Hibernians consisted of W F Erving, John Maguire, M J Carroll, John Layng, F D Creedon, J W McDonald, John Sheehan and J J Sullivan.

Dick Douglas says: "Say, Kopp, we'll have a goos";
We'll each dig two, and sure, tomorrow noon,
We'll make Rome howl and likewise let things loose."
Kopp says: "Sure, Dick" and dug his two,
And Dick says, "Yes, we'll treat the boys;
There's Pete and Bob and me and you
And others that real fun enjoys."
Dick said some more, and then went out.
The goose was bought and in the pot
It was a sizzling; and somewhere about
The hungry hour of noon the usual lot
Had gathered 'round, each fellow thinking hard
About the goose; but the joke is that old Dick,
At that same moment played his card
And ate the goose—wan't that a trick?

Midnight Mass.

At St Augustin's Chapel, Waikiki, at midnight of Christmas eve, services were held by the Rev Father Valentin. The little chapel was fairly and comfortably filled by worshippers from the city as well as from the immediate vicinity. During the mass, the choir sang some pretty pieces and communicated. A sermon was preached and a collection taken up, the services ending a little before 1 o'clock. Late cars brought in the city visitors.

Wrong Tree, Brother.

General MacArthur has been added to the long, inglorious list of American officers who have permitted their mouths to get the better of their discretion It appears altogether clear that too much of tongue practice and too little of gun practice has constituted an important part of the education of our men of war.—S F. CORRESPONDENCE.

Mr. Meyer Explains in Regard to a Street Brawl.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:

Having figured in a street row on Saturday night, and fearing that my friends may receive exaggerated reports of the affair, I wish to give my side of it through your columns. I was returning home shortly after 11:30 o'clock and upon reaching the rear door of the Merchants Exchange saloon on King street I saw the Japanese helper dragging a deeply intoxicated native from the place. The man was so drunk that he was as limber as a rag and fully as helpless. He was dragged out by the arms, his head bumping upon the floor with each jerk. My friend and I stopped to witness the proceeding. When outside the Japanese rolled the helpless carcass against the side of the house and, then, taking up a hat began to beat the poor fellow in the face. It was then that I interfered. Approaching the Japanese I ordered him to desist, and told him that I would thrash him if he did not. I meant what I said. The noise attracted a number of sailors and others from the saloon and a large street crowd gathered. The bartender came out and accused myself and my friend of interfering with his business, which, as any one can see, was not the case.

When the police arrived the Japanese was, I believe, arrested but latter released on some dicker made between the police and the bartender. My opinion is that outrages of this sort should be followed up and the scoundrels participating in them severely punished. The man in charge of the saloon probably had the right to eject the man (whom he made dead drunk, however) but he certainly had no right to allow his servant to beat him outside and to take the part of the savage when two passers-by attempted to shield the helpless fellow.

That is a plain statement of the affair, and I believe my friends will understand my position as well as the motive that led me into the trouble.

FRITZ MEYER.

WHO IS TO BLAME?

Over a week ago the Rapid Transit Co. stopped its proposed extension on Beretania street at the down grade beyond Miller street, going towards Punchbowl and the Alapai rise further along. The reason for this stoppage was, so we are informed, because it was found that the grade at this particular point was far too low. All work was stopped at this section, but pushed on beyond Alapai toward Punahou way.

Since stopping this work, the Government has been called upon to make the grade comformable to the needs of the Rapid Transit Co. And why so? Is the Government then to make the grades to suit this corporation at the taxpayers' expense? For years the grade at this particular spot has been left unattended and unnoticed by the Government, but property holders have been forced to go to the expense of making sidewalks and maintaining curbs as called for by law, and all this at their own cost and expense. And now to have all this done away with, at the dictates of a corporation, is to impose a fresh hardship upon the property holders and taxpayers living on that public thoroughfare. Should they, or will they, stand up for such an imposition? It is for them to protest.

For years back the cross-section of Beretania and Punchbowl streets have been, at every time a rain storm came on, a regular ditch and swamp hole, making the place a malaria-breeding place. Now they are working night and day to put in a storm sewer at Government expense, all for the benefit of the same soulless corporation. People have heretofore asked for it, all to no purpose; but now, at the instance of the corporation in question, we understand Marston Campbell goes into the work with a will and with real and genuine energy and interest, all, it is said, for the purpose of accommodating and being on the good side of Lorrin A. Thurston. In other words, the people will surely get what they want quicker if they could only get the Rapid Transit tracks to come their way, so it seems by the way this particular section is at present receiving attention. And who'll pay for it all? The people, to be sure!

EMPLOYED NON-CITIZENS.

It has just come to our notice that the pilots of this port requisitioned the Superintendent of Public Works for a new boat and that the same be built right here on the spot, so that they could see to it and the work be under their eyes as it progressed along. We understand that they recommended the work to be done by a certain Mr. Johnson, a well-known expert boat builder, but when it got to Marston Campbell, he had the work given to Walker, also a boat builder. This giving of the work may seem to be all right and looks innocent enough, but our kick is yet to follow. Mr Johnson is a resident of over twenty years in this country, has property interests besides a family, is an American citizen and employs whites and natives as his helpers. With the other, we need not say further than that he is not yet a citizen and employs nothing but Japanese helpers. How came it that Mr. Campbell gave this job to a non-citizen who employs only Japs as against a citizen, who the pilots recommended, knowing the man and what he can do well, and who employs other citizens? We would like to know what there was in it for him. If this won't jar any American citizen, we would like to know what will? And this in direct contravention of the spirit and feeling frequently expressed by the last Republican controlled Legislature. It was a direct slap to the legislators.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

A word to Kuhio: The people want appropriations, but they also want any old scheme that will do away with centralized government—a one man power—and will place the control of public affairs in the hands of the people.

The fact that a fleet carrying only 3000 men can produce a food famine in Honolulu in two weeks shows to what extremes the city and the island may be reduced in case of war and a siege. It is highly pertinent to inquire what Honolulu would do if shut out from communication with the mainland for three or four months? The extremely wealthy would live, of course, but how would the middle and lower classes in the financial scale weather such a contingency? The question is a serious one. It is another blessing (?) of annexation.

Christmas was one of the liveliest the merchants of Honolulu have ever had. The causes are several. Plantations that went into debt two, three and four years ago for machinery, etc., are getting out of the hole and dividends are in sight. Then public improvements, with the turning loose of a million dollars in a short time, had the effect of restoring confidence, and people whose money had become nervous "loosened up." That's it in a nutshell.

If the County Act is illegal because it was not properly passed on third reading, how about the Loan Act, which was passed in precisely the same way? Watch out, gentlemen. Knock the County Act on the third reading score and you place the Loan Act in the same boat—and where will your public improvements go? The signature of the President cuts no figure whatever in the case, as the illegality of the Act would carry it down in spite of everything else. This is a warm fire we are playing with.

The departure of Admiral Evans' fleet will be regretted, not alone for the amount of money it has distributed in the city, but for the entertainment it has afforded in many ways. It must be said at all hands that for the number of men it contained there has been a remarkable absence of disorder. The men have been well behaved, and leave Hawaii with a clean record and the best wishes of the people at large. Admiral Evans may rest assured that if he comes back again with the same class of men composing his present fleet the latchstrings of Honolulu will be on the outside.

Only just recently has the Island of Niihau been properly located by Prof. Alexander, since he become under Federal pay and control. And what has he been doing all these years since the Survey Department was established as a governmental paid bureau? He's been grafting and living off the generosity of the former "hated and despised" Hawaiian Government. Such was the easy life in the tropics in those good old days, the days when they grew fat, lazy and affluent, when he and the other missionaries were ruling in all their glory as well as living off the fat that the land then produced. Now, it is a different story.

Marston Campbell wants to remain in office at $250 a month, so we are told, but we are given to understand that his former bluff of resigning or of being elsewhere employed will not work. Time will soon tell whether Superintendent of Public Works Holloway will hang on to the tail of his nightgown as Cooper did. He recently had a petition signed by business houses as having confidence in his ability, probably because he was an easy game for them to prey upon (about 1½ dozen signatures, and five of them were non-citizens). He's foxy, you bet you, but he's easily seen through. Try another trick, for "the Campbells are coming" "through the rye."

A contemporary suggests that Governor Carter and District Attorney Breckons are both creatures of Roosevelt, the next Republican convention. The matter is a very small one, but it seems to us highly improper for appointees of a rival candidate in the field for nomination to accept delegateships in a convention. Carter and Breckons are both creature sof Roosevelt's generosity. They are under obligations to him for the honors conferred upon them, and it cannot be expected that they could do otherwise than support him. In order that Hawaii may get a free expression in the convention in regard to the Presidential nomination, men without strings on them should b esent forward. The situation may change in the convention itself, bringing about developments to show that Roosevelt is not the man to be desired by Hawaii, but with Roosevelt machinery already dominating the Hawaiian delegation it would be impossible to do anything.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

THE INDEPENDENT 50 cents per month.

Mrs P F Ryan is quite ill at her home in Kalihi.

Admiral Evans' fleet is scheduled to sail at 5 a m tomorrow for Guam and Manila.

On Christmas Eve the Yokohama Specie Bank presented employes of the postoffice with souvenirs.

The Doric arrived this morning from San Francisco and the Coptic this afternoon from Yokohama.

Bishop Restarick preached to the men aboard the battleship Kentucky at 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

In Saturday's baseball game the Kamehamehas defeated the team from the Wisconsin by a score of 7 to 5.

A farewell reception and dance will be given officers of Admiral Evans' fleet at the Young hotel this evening.

The transport Sheridan will be due here next Sunday from Nagasaki with the 28th Infantry on board.

Gerard Barton will give an organ recital at the German Lutheran church this evening, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The funeral of the late Hiram De Fries took place yesterday afternoon. Interment was in Kawaiahao cemetery.

Racing between boats crews of the visiting fleet attracted many town people to the waterfront Saturday afternoon.

In the baseball game at Kapiolani park yesterday afternoon, the Good Eyes defeated the Young Stars by a score of 12 to 6.

The office of THE INDEPENDENT is in the brick building next to the Hawaiian hotel grounds on Beretania street, Waikiki of Alakea. First floor. *

While in the east Bishop Restarick was informed by the Secretary of War that the Artillery companies might be removed from here and replaced by infantrymen.

Spreckels & Co's bank has turned over $200,000 of the loan bonds money, and the Bank of Hawaii has advanced $50,000 more. This makes a total of over $550,000 already paid in.

In a drunken brawl in Puuoui yesterday afternoon, John Edwards shot and severely wounded his brother-in-law, a half Chinaman named Mauna. The bullet took effect in the right leg. A woman was at the bottom of the pilikia.

Will Sail Tomorrow.

Admiral Evans has decided to take his fleet out tomorrow for Manila. He was given the discretion by the War Department of sailing this week or waiting later, but on account of rather serious developments in the Orient he has decided that the safest and most proper scheme is to get a little nearer the scene of probable happenings. The fleet will sail direct for Guam and will there receive orders whether to go to Yokohama, China or Cavite, the present idea being, however, that the latter will be the port to which the fleet will make.

Reception by Officers.

The reception on board the flagship Kentucky and the battleship Wisconsin Saturday evening was one of the most brilliant social events of the season. Honolulu's four hundred, as well as a large number of visitors, attended. Both ships were appropriately decorated and excellent programs for the entertainment of the guests were arranged and carried out on both. The events consisted of excellent band music, dancing and refreshments.

Kauai Court Term.

Lihue, Kauai, Dec 26—The December term of the Circuit Court of the Fifth Circuit under the last laws of the legislature opened on Wednesday morning last at 9:30 o'clock Judge J Hardy presiding, M F Prosser, by special commission, is acting on behalf of the government as Deputy Attorney General.

After the opening of the Court the roll of Grand Jurors was called and the following gentlemen were present to serve during the term: Chas Aki, G Winter, A Dallas, W G Smitq, F Doiken, L A Delanux, A Bompke, Lawrence Mundon, Wm Hastie, W E Kerr, A Kruse, R L Wilcox, O Blackstad, H Froelich, H Helfers, V Hermanson.

Immediately after the grand jurors were sworn in the court charged the grand jury after which it proceeded with the calling of the calendar of both the criminal and civil cases.

The following cases have been disposed of to date: Territory vs. Paul Thon, robbery, defendant failed to appear, the court ordered upon motion of Mr Prosser that bench warrant issue for the arrest of said Paul Thon; Territory vs. Ah Chun, gaming, bail forfeited; Territory vs. Kea, using threats, noile pros; Wm O Smith vs. Charles Blake and L M McKeague, assumpsit, judgment against defendant by default; Makuaole (k) Kaailua (w) and Lahela vs. Ako, summary proceedings, plea of defendant to the jurisdiction, sustained; W B Opuuui Kua vs. Lukela Aka, ejectment, discontinued; Pacific Vehicle & Supply Co. vs Yoshida, assumpsit, appeal withdrawn; Kapiolani Estate vs. Territory, ordered transferred to the First Circuit by consent of counsel; Urabe vs. Sasaki Kumikichi, assumpsit, appeal withdrawn.

All the civil cases triable by jury not otherwise disposed of have been continued until the next March Term of the Court.

The case of the Territory against Walter A Wright, has been specially set for next Wednesday, December 30, at which time John W Cathcart of Honolulu who is defending Mr Wright, will arrive.

The Court has announced that civil jury cases will not be taken up after the end of the year unless the county officials give assurance that they will guarantee the payment of expenses if the term is continued next month.

The grand jury made their final report today and were excused for the term.

KAUAI NOTES.

Christmas passed off very quietly on Kauai.

The Lihue boys are talking of getting up a baseball team and challenging the Kapaa boys to a game which will take place on New Year's day. William H Rice will captain the Lihue boys.

WHO IS TO BLAME?

Over a week ago the Rapid Transit Co. stopped its proposed extension on Beretania street at the down grade beyond Miller street, going towards Punchbowl and the Alapai rise further along. The reason for this stoppage was, so we are informed, because it was found that the grade at this particular point was far too low. All work was stopped at this section, but pushed on beyond Alapai toward Punahou way.

Since stopping this work, the Government has been called upon to make the grade comformable to the needs of the Rapid Transit Co. And why so? Is the Government then to make the grades to suit this corporation at the taxpayers' expense? For years the grade at this particular spot has been left unattended and unnoticed by the Government, but property holders have been forced to go to the expense of making sidewalks and maintaining curbs as called for by law, and all this at their own cost and expense. And now to have all this done away with, at the dictates of a corporation, is to impose a fresh hardship upon the property holders and taxpayers living on that public thoughfare. Should they, or will they, stand up for such an imposition? It is for them to protest.

For years back the cross-section of Beretania and Punchbowl streets have been, at every time a rain storm came on, a regular ditch and swamp hole, making the place a malaria-breeding place. Now they are working night and day to put in a storm sewer at Government expense, all for the benefit of the same soulless corporation. People have heretofore asked for it, all to no purpose; but now, at the instance of the corporation in question, we understand Marston Campbell goes into the work with a will and with real and genuine energy and interest, all, it is said, for the purpose of accommodating and being on the good side of Lorrin A. Thurston. In other words, the people will surely get what they want quicker if they could only get the Rapid Transit tracks to come their way, so it seems by the way this particular section is at present receiving attention. And who'll pay for it all? The people, to be sure!

EMPLOYED NON-CITIZENS.

It has just come to our notice that the pilots of this port requisitioned the Superintendent of Public Works for a new boat and that the same be built right here on the spot, so that they could see to it and the work be under their eyes as it progressed along. We understand that they recommended the work to be done by a certain Mr. Johnson, a well-known expert boat builder, but when it got to Marston Campbell, he had the work given to Walker, also a boat builder. This giving of the work may seem to be all right and looks innocent enough but our kick is yet to follow. Mr Johnson is a resident of over twenty years in this country, has property interests besides a family, is an American citizen and employs whites and natives as his helpers. With the other, we need not say further than that he is not yet a citizen and employs nothing but Japanese helpers. How came it that Mr. Campbell gave this job to a non-citizen who employs only Japs as against a citizen, who the pilots recommended, knowing the man and what he can do well, and who employs other citizens? We would like to know what there was in it for him. If this won't jar any American citizen, we would like to know what will? And this in direct contravention of the spirit and feeling frequently expressed by the last Republican controlled Legislature. It was a direct slap to the legislators.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

A word to Kuhio: The people want appropriations, but they also want any old scheme that will do away with centralized government—a one man power—and will place the control of public affairs in the hands of the people.

The fact that a fleet carrying only 3000 men can produce a food famine in Honolulu in two weeks shows to what extremes the city and the island may be reduced in case of war and a siege. It is highly pertinent to inquire what Honolulu would do if shut out from communication with the mainland for three or four months? The extremely wealthy would live, of course, but how would the middle and lower classes in the financial scale weather such a contingency? The question is a serious one. It is another blessing (?) of annexation.

Christmas was one of the liveliest the merchants of Honolulu have ever had. The causes are several. Plantations that went into debt two, three and four years ago for machinery, etc., are getting out of the hole and dividends are in sight. Then public improvements, with the turning loose of a million dollars in a short time, had the effect of restoring confidence, and people whose money had become nervous "loosened up." That's it in a nutshell.

If the County Act is illegal because it was not properly passed on third reading, how about the Loan Act, which was passed in precisely the same way? Watch out, gentlemen. Knock the County Act on the third reading score and you place the Loan Act in the same boat—and where will your public improvements go? The signature of the President cuts no figure whatever in the case, as the illegality of the Act would carry it down in spite of everything else. This is a warm fire we are playing with.

The departure of Admiral Evans' fleet will be regretted, not alone for the amount of money it has distributed in the city, but for the entertainment it has afforded in many ways. It must be said at all hands that for the number of men it contained there has been a remarkable absence of disorder. The men have been well behaved, and leave Hawaii with a clean record and the best wishes of the people at large. Admiral Evans may rest assured that if he comes back again with the same class of men composing his present fleet the latchstrings of Honolulu will be on the outside.

Only just recently has the Island of Niihau been properly located by Prof. Alexander, since he become under Federal pay and control. And what has he been doing all these years since the Survey Department was established as a governmental paid bureau? He's been grafting and living off the generosity of the former "hated and despised" Hawaiian Government. Such was the easy life in the tropics in those good old days, the days when they grew fat, lazy and affluent, when he and the other missionaries were ruling in all their glory as well as living off the fat that the land then produced. Now, it is a different story.

Marston Campbell wants to remain in office at $250 a month, so we are told, but we are given to understand that his former bluff of resigning or of being elsewhere employed will not work. Time will soon tell whether Superintendent of Public Works Holloway will hang on to the tail of his nightgown as Cooper did. He recently had a petition signed by business houses as having confidence in his ability, probably because he was an easy game for them to prey upon (about 1½ dozen signatures, and five of them were non-citizens). He's foxy, you bet you, but he's easily seen through. Try another trick, for "the Campbells are coming" "through the rye."

A contemporary suggests that Governor Carter and District Attorney Breckons are both creatures of Roosevelt, the next Republican convention. The matter is a very small one, but it seems to us highly improper for appointees of a rival candidate in the field for nomination to accept delegateships in a convention. Carter and Breckons are both creature sof Roosevelt's generosity. They are under obligations to him for the honors conferred upon them, and it cannot be expected that they could do otherwise than support him. In order that Hawaii may get a free expression in the convention in regard to the Presidential nomination, men without strings on them should b esent forward. The situation may change in the convention itself, bringing about developments to show that Roosevelt is not the man to be desired by Hawaii, but with Roosevelt machinery already dominating the Hawaiian delegation it would be impossible to do anything.

ROOSEVELT MUST HAVE HANNA.

WASHINGTON, D.C. Dec. 12:

The recent visit of Senator Hanna to the White House at the invitation of the President, and the two hours' conference between the two, has caused much comment here concerning the relations existing between the two, and the possibility of a break in the former apparently cordial feeling. I am in a position to say to the readers of this correspondence that there will be no break in those relations on account of the opposition of Hanna to the confirmation of General Leonard Wood or for any other reason now apparent. The President is now in the mood to stand anything from Hanna if it is not openly humiliating. Mr Roosevelt just now is engaged in the delectable occupation of eating humble pie. He wants Hanna and he needs Hanna, and he is going to keep him if soft words and conciliatory actions will prevail. Roosevelt does not look on Hanna's campaign against Wood as anything directed toward the White House, and rather admires Hanna for standing by his friend Rathbone. The President thinks Perry Heath should retire from the secretaryship of the Republican National Committee, and he thinks Hanna should ask Heath to retire, for he well knows that Heath is not going to retire unless he is asked to do so by Hanna.

If Hanna does not ask Heath to retire, and he is not going to do so, then the President will again eat humble pie and make no outcry. Hanna will win again, just as I said he would in this letter last week. The President is not trying to fight with Hanna because he knows he cannot afford to fight with Hanna. Hanna could not pick a fuss with Theodore Roosevelt now if he tried ever so hard. The editorial in the Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune, one of the strongest republican organs in the State of Ohio, and one of Hanna's perfonal organs, which appear last Saturday, and which warned the faithful of the republican party that they could not win with Roosevelt as the candidate next year has set the tongues of both sets of politicians here to wagging furiously. It has caused something of a mild sensation coming from the source it did, and many people affect to believe that it was inspired by Hanna. People on the inside, however, know that Hanna had nothing to do with it. It was simply the outcropping of Roosevelt's growing unpopularity, and many leading democrats who believed some time ago that Roosevelt was the strongest man the republicans could nominate now are very much worried because they are afraid he will not be nominated. They need not be alarmed. Roosevelt will be nominated all right and Hanna knows it. There is nothing now beyond some miraculous political contingency that can head off the fixed program.

And Hanna will be in the band wagon if the President has to take a pack rope and cinch him to the front seat. They are scared at the White House—scared and nervous—for fear Hanna may get away, and he won't get away if there are enough nets to hold him, or unless he uses an axe, and the President in his present frame of mind will stand considerable mangling before he lets go of the Warwick from Cleveland, Ohio.

NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH.

Richard Harding Davis's account of the revolutionary movement here in 1893, which the Advertiser this morning reproduced, is not "mangled," nor has the popular author misrepresented Hawaii one title, and that what he saw through his spectacles (not "jaundiced" as claimed) is "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth." His version is substantiated by a pamphlet, published in 1897 by the proprietor of this paper, entitled "Historical Truths," which has never as yet been denied nor refuted by any of the revolutionary historians, prominent amongst them being Prof. Alexander, Rev. Sereno E. Bishop, L. A. Thurston, W. O. Smith, Judge Hartwell, W. R. Castle and others of that ilk. Copies of that pamphlet are yet extant and to be had for 25 cents by applying for them at this office, and in it is contained the facts leading up to the overthrow, detailing the conspiracy that led to the overthrow of the Monarchy, also showing the over-prompt recognition of the Provisional Government by the American Minister Stevens. The late Major Wodehouse, the British Minister Resident, was not the first to recognize the new regime. We can unfold more of that damnable conspiracy, if need be, than what the morning paper can well afford to deny facts and the truth of the case is plain. The Blount report is a mere [illegible] and is not sufficient to deny the facts as presented by Commissioner Blount's report.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

We understand that since the fleet left this morning, the supply of crepe has all been nearly exhausted by noon to-day that the price of that article has gone up accordingly. The only kind of crepe left is marked "U. S. N., and that's white.

What claim has District Attorney Breckons upon this country? None whatever. He is not even a taxpayer here. Better send him to purgatory, or else, to perdition, for bringing trouble upon us with regard to the County Act that he is responsible for drawing. He's an over-estimated man. Better drop him.

Again we say that if Governor Carter is honest in his purported policy of reducing expenses he should start in by cutting out the garbage department and allowing private parties to do the work performed by it. The garbage department as at present run is merely a political machine, operated at large public expense.

The failure of the Neill season here was not, we think, due to an improper appreciation of the company, but rather to the fact that the visit was inopportune. Christmas time in Honolulu is, as a rule, fraught with innumerable programs, and the population is not sufficient to stand for all that is going on. There has been no lack of appreciation of Mr. Neill and his entertainments, but the city has been unable to spread its patronage out over so wide an area as has appeared before it in the past few weeks.

The danger to Hawaii in the matter of maintaining herself began with annexation. Prior to that time there was no danger of war or of a siege. We are now placed in the position of a buffer to the Pacific coast of the mainland, and will have to stand the strain of any war or trouble in the Pacific Ocean that may come up between the United States and any foreign power. There are no two ways about that. In any war between the United States and another power Hawaii will be the center of activity on this side of the world.

The American fleet weighed anchor this morning and left for other climes in the broad expanse of the Pacific. Many were the tear-dimmed eyes from our society belles on shore after the leave takings had been gone through with, some even going so far as to exclaim: "The best fellow I ever met is now gone never to meet or see him again." It was real bad; the sight was heart-rending and pitiful to behold. That's probably one of the aftermaths of the fleet's visit here at this time of the year, and we hope they'll come again and much oftener in the future.

From Maui comes the news that the Republican Central Committee of that Island met some time last week and endorsed three men for Circuit Judge. The first choice fell to Judge, now Treasurer Kepoikai, second choice to Judge Kaulukou and third choice to Judge Dickey. Messrs. Coke and Case were not even thought of in the shuffle. Our hope is that Kepoikai will not be too easy a mark to change his present position for the judgeship, for we sincerely wish that he remain here with us much longer and see the fight out that he made with Governor Carter before he became the de facto ruler of this Territory. In the other instances, we fail to see why Maui should go beyond its confines to look for material. Knowing that Judge Dickey is Maui born, he is now as much foreign to it as any other malihini "not to the manner born."

Maui has two residents who are aspiring for the position of Circuit Judge. They are, we understand, J. L. Coke and D. H. Case, both attorneys of Wailuku, and that they have already sounded the Bar Association on the matter, so we are informed. For ourselves, we fail to see what claims they have upon this country just at present. Let both of them reside here long enough and make their mark. It is of the same complaint as we made with reference to the judges of the First Circuit Court, all are Johnnies-come-lately, and we don't want any more of them.

It is impossible to understand why J. W. Pratt, collector of taxes, allowed $394,000 to accumulate in his office during the second week of November. That is a big sum to be left lying around outside of the treasury, particularly as the treasury is almost within a stone's throw of the tax office. Mr. Pratt is under bonds in the sum of $20,000, and yet held in his hands nearly $400,000 of the people's money! We do not intimate for a moment that he could have been tempted to misuse the situation, but the principle of the thing is wrong. He should have deposited his receipts every morning in the treasury, where they belonged.

The decline in the production of cotton, the immensely increased demand and the unprecedented advance in prices should be of great interest to Hawaii. In this Territory we have the soil, the climate and can produce the cotton demanded by the commercial world in larger quantities per acre and at less expense per bale than any other country. The crop is less expensive than cane and is more certain in its returns. It would be easily possible to figure ahead for the succeeding year the profits from cotton, while such would be impossible in sugar. Cotton just now is the most promising auxiliary industry that the Islands could possibly take up.

Our purist contemporaries who have been crying hoarse over what they termed "legislative grafts" have not for once raised a hue and cry against the Senate for th eway it disposed public funds at the end of the regular session. That was a clear case of graft and doing away with money after its legitimate expenses had been paid and the Senate for the way it disposed public anything deserves censure, that one action of our immaculate Senate is one, and the grand jury should be called upon to investigate it. But the late Federal grand jury did not make a move to do it, and, if need be, the Territorial grand jury should not overlook it. No, no; they don't want that; only those against Hawaiians. Didn't we always hold that their game was to discredit Hawaiians, anything and everything to down them, never mind the cost and consequences following.

Ex-Superintendent of Public Works Cooper's patent cast-iron pipes used as vent holes for the city's sewer system are not as successful as was at first expected they would be. These sewer escapes should be declared by the Board of Health as public nuisances, and if not so declared, orders their being made much higher by the addition of two or three more joints, as the case might be. In many instances, as they are now installed, when the sewers are not regularly flushed and the foul gas finds its means of escaping, any draft or light breeze would immediately send the same into the nostrils of near-by residents. This is the case along King street and other parts of the residence portions of the city where they are installed and we think that they should at once receive remedial attention by Superintendent Holloway. Now, here's a chance of doing something for a long suffering public.

In protecting the Republic of Panama the United States is depriving Colombia of the principal asset upon which European financiers loaned large sums of money to the Bogota government. In other words, the United States is wrestling, by dint of power, from Colombia the canal property, without which the South American republic would probably never have been able to borrow a dollar. It may be better for Colombia, better for Panama and better for the commercial world that matters shaped themselves as they have, but where are the capitalists of Germany, France and other European countries to get off? Are they to lose their well-meant investments because President Roosevelt wants a canal through Panama? It is a business and moral proposition that if the United States chooses to deprive Colombia of the only tangible asset she has in the world, the United States should pay the debts contracted upon a basis of that asset.

The Independent, during the last Legislature, strongly opposed the items of "incidentals" appearing in the various appropriation bills, because therein laid the means of covering "a multitude of sins." We are given to understand that various officials are having paid their private hack rides for themselves, their wives and their families, and instead of paying cash, orders are given upon their clerks. The Legislature never, for one moment, intended that such should be the case, after allowing these head officials liberal salaries. Here are cases that the Auditor should not pass, but in the case of Treasurer Kepoikai, Judge De Bolt held that he must first seek the advice of the Attorney General before instituting any suit against another department of the Government, and therefore, his requisition for attorneys retainer and costs of filing the suit was refused by the Auditor upon the advice of the Attorney General. This seems funny practice to our way of thinking, but those hack fares and extra attorney helps are allowed.

WATER NOTICE.

In accordance with Section 1 of Chapter XXVI. of the laws of 1880:

All persons holding water privileges or those paying water rates are hereby notified that the water rates for the term ending June 30, 1904, will be due and payable at the office of the Honolulu Water Works on the 1st day of January, 1904.

All such rates remaining unpaid for fifteen days after they are due will be subject to an additional ten per cent.

All privileges upon which rates remain unpaid February 15, 1904, (thirty days after becoming delinquent), are liable to suspension without further notice.

Rates are payable at the office of the Water Works, in the basement of the Capitol Building.

County of California.

In his speech before the Senate on December 12, urging the adoption of his Cuba annexation resolution, Senator Newland made bold to say that he wanted Hawaii to be annexed to California as a county. This should be very comforting to the local gentlemen who howled in 1898 for Newland's annexation resolution. Following is the part of the Senator's speech referring to Hawaii:

"This is a part of the proper expansion of the Republic, the traditional expansion of the Republic, not the modern expansion of the empire over countries in distant seas. Hawaii is a military outpost in the Pacific controlling our defensive line. Why should we have her? She occupies such a position as she would if she were only a hundred miles from San Francisco, and practically protects the entire coast from foreign invasion. No fleet can sail from the Orient and reach the Pacific coast without coaling, and with Hawaii in our possession the ships of such a fleet would be derelicts upon the ocean before reaching our shore. And so as a matter of economy and of wise administration and of wise adjustment of the boundaries of this country we have taken Hawaii into the Union as a Territory with a Delegate. She has today the position of an infant State, is in a trasitional stage toward statehood, not, perhaps, independent statehood; BUT I TRUST THAT SOME METHOD WILL BE FOUND IN THE FUTURE TO INCORPORATE HER IN THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA AS A COUNTY, and thus give her that representation in the Union to which every foot of ground over which the American flag floats is, in my judgement, entitled."

Battle Hymn of Panama

From no mountain height of freedom
Was our glorious flag unfurled,
And we sought no grandstand plaudits,
Firing 'shots heard round the world.
Times have changed since gory heroes
O their fights for country bragged
Mid no war shouts rose our standard,
But our courage never flagged.

For we sat in secret conclave
When we built us up a state.
Sons of freedom, cool and cautious,
Subtle, keen, and up-to-date;
Laid our wires with skill artistic,
Planning 'gainst untimely slips,
With much faith in business methods
And an Uncle who has ships.

No long list of dead and wounded
Glorifies our virgin scroll,
Though against the constitution
We set out for freedom's goal;
But we've shown how modern heroes
Free from wild, unseemly hate,
Can, without undue excitement,
Build republics while you wait.

"These are the absolute facts in this matter," said this democratic leader in the State of New York, "and the people ought to know them. If the people want a New York man we have much stronger men than Judge Parker, who, aside from his weakness at the polls above demonstrated, is the creature of David B Hill, and is as acceptable to the trusts and the Wall street gang as is Grover Cleveland himself, and it is from that source that the Parker boom receives strength enough to walk. Personally I entertain the opinion that William Randolph Hearst is the strongest man in the State of New York, and will make a greater race before the people than any other man we could name."

An interesting figure who will go down in American history as the man who made the only unanswerable silver argument ever delivered on the floor of the Senate of the United States, is the Hon John P Jones, of Nevada, who for the past thirty years has represented that State in the Senate. Since his retirement from the Senate I have had many inquiries from all parts of the country, from his admiring friends, as to his whereabouts, and what the old gentleman was now doing. I am now able to furnish the information based on a personal interview with the gentleman himself. I met him the other day and he said to me that he had retired permanently from politics and would devote the balance of his life to mining industries and to teaching the people of the country the greatness of his State of Nevada as a mining country, and which in his opinion is the greatest in the world. He says that the recent gold strikes in the State have been the most wonderful of any yet discovered, and that they will eclipse the great Comstock Lode, which turned out more than $600,000,000 of the precious metal. He said that for the purpose of working for the mining interests of his State he had opened offices here in Washington in the Colorado Building, with Major D B Harrison, of New York, in charge. He said that thousands of dollars were annually wasted on fake mining schemes by the people of the country who were misled by conscienceless promoters. It was his intention, he said, to prevent this as far as lay in his power, by giving the people who desire to correspond with him, correct information concerning the mining properties of his State. He is again actively engaged in the mining business himself, being vice-president of the New England Tonopah Mine and Annex, at Tonopah, Nevada, and has associated with him some of the wealthiest men in the country. He considers Tonopah the greatest mining camp ever discovered in Nevada. The old gentleman is hale and hearty and bids fair to live yet many years of usefulness.

It is nearing the blessed holiday season of the year when it is meet and proper that we should think of those who deserve our consideration and send to them in remembrance a gift that will warm the cockles of the heart. Most people recognize this and are glad to comply with the dictates of the heart in this regard. In strange contrast with the

The Independent wishes all of its friends a most happy New Year and a prosperous twelve-months. The year now at its close did not bring to most of us all that it might. It brought, on the other hand, disappointments, failure of excellent and worthy plans, and in some cases grief of a degree that is unfortunate but that all must one time or another bear. It was a bad year in a business way. With the American fleet in port and the usual rush of Christmas trade, most of our merchants and business men pulled up a little at the end; but taking the year as a whole, and the people as a whole, 1903 cannot be regarded as a year that one could be very anxious to repeat.

But it is not the past that we have to consider. The soul of promise is ever in the future. Let us grasp tomorrow as a new day, a new future, a new prospect; and make every day count for something. The coming year holds out an excellent promise to Hawaii. There will be work for the worthy workmen; cash for the tradesmen and men catering to public patronage; and more of life's comforts in the home. What more can we ask? Let us all cheer up, as it were, and enter upon the new year with a determination on the part of every man that he will make a record of the best kind in 1904; that he will be worth more to himself, his family and his country than he had in 1903; that he will be worth more to himself, his family and his country than he had in 1904; that he will be worth more better man and a more useful citizen.

But we did not start out to preach a sermon. The point is this: The coming year will open with everything in favor of the man who wants to work for the interest of himself and our common country. Let us open it with the usual good cheer, and then let every shoulder go to the wheel. The result will certainly be that 1904 will be the banner year in many respects to Hawaii.

The Independent wishes every man, woman and child in Hawaii a happy New Year and prosperity during all of the next 365 days.

HOME RULERS FLUKED.

In order to have a case or a cause of action heard outside of term time, the parties must first stipulate that the same may be heard out of term by submitting certain matters or things bearing upon the whole cause. This stipulation must be a unanimous one, if one or both sides have more than one party each, and not one by a majority only.

The above course is what has been done with the County Act test case now going on before the Supreme Court in vacation, not in term. A stipulation was gotten up and signed by those concerned in the Territorial Government, on one side, and the members of the County Board of Supervisors on the other side, agreeing as a unit, not as a majority only. This had the effect of immediately bringing the matter to the Court's attention out of term, its next lawful term being on January 11 next. Had one or more supervisors declined to sign that stipulation, the matter could never have been brought up now till the regular term time, and County Government would then have been a fact. But at the present time, it is still being weighed in the balance and the result is doubtful and looks somewhat gloomy, its fate being uncertain.

Should the Supreme Court declare the County Act to be invalid, where would County Government, the Board of Supervisors and the rest of the recently elected officers be? They would be where the chicken got the axe, or, in other words, not in it. Their positions would then be null and void, and the wishes of the people defeated. Knowing that a bill of ratification has been introduced in Congress, and Congress having adjourned and taken its holiday recess to convene again on January 11th next, the same day as the opening of the Supreme Court, there was no present need of any urgency, unless it is already a foregone conclusion that the Act will be surely knocked out before the installation and organization of the rule of the people on January 4th, next Monday.

For the sake of argument, if the law should be declared invalid, those recently elected will have to be shelved, and where would the people come off? Had the Home Rule supervisors-elect seen the matter in the same light as we see it, no such case could have been brought up, and on the coming 4th of January they would all be in power. After once getting into power, it would be a hard matter to unseat a once established. But the Home Rulers failed to see it; they knew more and all about it, not even heeding the advice of their friends nor the dictates of their party, for, since their election, they have kicked over the traces and have become unruly. They listened to the soft, pleading voices of those who have no use for them and they were roped in the meshes of their entanglements. If any trouble should follow, they have themselves to blame, for they brought it on themselves, knowing that their party is pledged to see County Government established, and not only established, but through to its ultimate acceptance by the people, regardless of the consequences that may overcome it in the future.

NO JOBS FOR LEGISLATORS.

We hold that a member of the Legislature is an official debarred by law from holding any other public trust during his incumbency as a legislator. No such officer can be employed, even as a county paid official, and the attempt of the Republican majority of the Board of Supervisors to endorse Representative Henry C. Vida for Road Supervisor of this county, which it did at its meeting last night, is to defeat and belittle the law by making it inoperative and of no force and effect. While Mr. Vida is yet a legislator, we think he is not a proper person to fill the place. We have nothing against him personally, but in the name of decency, let him desist from chasing after the job, and as well those who wish to repay him for political services. Better bide his time and don't be too eager to gain a job.

HELD PRIVATE CHEQUES.

Assessor Pratt turned over to the Treasury on November 16th last a little over $327,000, being the accumulated collection of five days, and out of that total, we are given to understand, was about $270,000 in uncertified personal bank cheques. These personal cheques, although they represented cash, made payable to the order of the Treasurer, was not actual cash, and therefore, Kimo Palaka or Palaki did not have as much cash in hand at one time as has been claimed by the morning oracle and its stellar tail-piece, for Jim must have been "palaka" and got "palakied" off. More than 75 per cent. of the total amount received ($394,649.92) in those five days consisted of these personal cheques, which was reported as $271,010.79 (to be exact). But where was the actual cash?

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Instead of the mouse going to the mountain, the reverse was the case which happened yesterday afternoon in Government quarters. After the cumbersome Board of Health had adjourned meeting, the members, including certain underlings and followed by two scribes, marched over in a body to the Executive Chamber of His Serene Mightiness, the Strenuous Kidgy. All having filed in with the exception of the scribes, and on being espied by His Strenuousness at the portals to his sacred chamber, they were bluntly and gruffly told that their presence was not desired, and the members of the press slunk away like whipped curs. They meekly left His Excellency with him at the next football tourney. Whoop-la, he's "a Daniel come to judgment."

If a tax collector can at will hold back the revenues coming into his office, he could arbitrarily fix the amount of bonds of his successor at an impossible and preposterous figure. In other words, he could, as J. W. Pratt did after his defeat in the election, accumulate three or four hundred thousands of dollars and thus make a bond out of the question. The principle is entirely wrong.

Japanese are being employed by the Park Commission out at Kapiolani Park in clearing and beautifying that breathing place of the people. And why?—may we ask. These are being employed under one white man, an expert landscape gardener, purposely imported from Scotland; but we believe he is not responsible, and the responsibility is with the Commission. Why are not natives and other citizens employed? There are many idle ones out that way, but they must have cheaper men upon whom to spend the $1000 a month appropriated by the Legislature.

Cattle that are permitted by their owners to roam and graze on a public thoroughfare should not be allowed to remain there long of a night. But where are those appointed by the Department of Public Works to take up estrays? Go any evening out towards Kalihi and up Liliha street, and cattle will be found roaming and grazing at large. If cattlemen cannot look after their cows, then the Government should have them impounded. They are a menace to travel, although domesticated, and especially to the electric cars by ambling along and about the tracks, and no blame can be attached if a few are killed, as has been the case on Liliha street.

Governor Carter is on the right tack in getting after the Board of Health in regard to expenses. If there is a bureau of this Government that is beautifully extravagant it is the Board of Health. It is not at the Molokai settlement nor the Insane Asylum that money is being wasted. It is in the machinery of the office and the system of inspectors. When Mark Twain characterized the Hawaiian Government as a Great Eastern in a sardine box he had probably focused his telescope on the Board of Health of 1903. We honestly believe that the office and purely Honolulu machinery of the Board of Health could be run for one half its present cost. The jobbery in the Board of Health is exceeded only by the rottenness in the garbage department.

WATER NOTICE.

In accordance with Section 1 of Chapter XXVI. of the laws of 1880:

All persons holding water privileges or those paying water rates are hereby notified that the water rates for the term ending June 30, 1904, will be due and payable at the office of the Honolulu Water Works on the 1st day of January, 1904.

All such rates remaining unpaid for fifteen days after they are due will be subject to an additional ten per cent.

All privileges upon which rates remain unpaid February 15, 1904, (thirty days after becoming delinquent), are liable to suspension without further notice.

Rates are payable at the office of the Water Works, in the basement of the Capitol Building.

To Cut Expenses.

Members of the Board of Health held a conference with Governor Carter yesterday afternoon on the subject of expenses of the bureau. The Governor insisted that expenses must be cut down, even if some of the offices had to be abolished and there should be doubling up of duties in others. The Board subsequently, in open council, considered the matter but arrived at no conclusion.

Kauai Court Term.

Lihue, Dec. 29.—The following cases have been disposed of in the Circuit Court since last Saturday:

Santiago, pleaded guilty to assault and battery with a weapon obviously and imminently dangerous to life, and was sentenced to two years' imprisonment at hard labor.

Nishimoto, embezzlement, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to six months' imprisonment at hard labor.

William Charman, Henry Charman and William Charman, Jr, charged with assault and battery on J K Farley, were tried by a jury and found guilty. Each of the defendants was fined $30 and costs.

Koakano Opeka, charged with burglary in the second degree, was tried by a jury and found not guilty. In this case Charles Blake, of Koloa, lately admitted to practice in all the courts of the Territry, appeared for the defendant and succeeded in getting his client off.

Phillipo Cruz, charged with stealing a watch, was tried and found guilty by a jury and was sentenced to six months' imprisonment at hard labor. Another charge against this defendant was nolle pros'd.

Ramond Rodrigues, burglary second degree, was found guilty and sentenced to 12 months' imprisonment at hard labor.

Ernande, assault with a weapon obviously and imminently dangerous to life, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to be imprisoned at hard labor for the term of one month.

There now remain on the calendar three criminal cases and it is expected they will be completed by Thurs-actions of most people is that of the great United States Steel Corporation, known all over the earth as the steel trust. Last year about this time they gave to their workmen a Christmas present by allowing them to buy preferred stock in their corporation at 82½, which today is selling at 52½, thus losing for their men over thirty dollars a share on what they bought. At this Christmas they have reduced the wages of all their men, about 150,000, about twenty per cent, thereby taking out of their pockets about $12,000,000, and just at this time when the cost of living is thirty per cent. higher than at any time for years. Such is the Christian feeling of this gigantic monopoly. When will the people elect a democratic administration and Congress that will swat this giant? They may expect these things until they do.
