I went to see Mr Cleghorn last night to see if I could do anything, but he is almost well, asked me how your Majesty was, thought it a most disgraceful affair keeping you up there, I asked him if he had seen you, said he couldn't do any good, felt rather put out, because you didn't send for him when you first got in trouble, fully expected you would, thought you would have appointed Joe Carter instead of Charley Wilson as your agent as he had lost his position for you, he seems very hopeful things are soon to an end, and so does every body in town.

Hope this will be all right.
